Clemson Facilities

Clemson has some of the finest facilities in the nation. Death Valley, home of the Tigers, is the ninth largest on campus stadium in the nation. It has been the home site for the Tigers since 1942 and in 1995 also served as the home of the NFL's Carolina Panthers. Clemson has ranked in the top 15 in the nation in home attendance every year since 1983.

Clemson's strength training facility is among the largest and most modern in the nation. The recently remodeled 14,000 square foot facility is part of the new McFadden Building complex at the Jervy Athletic Center. The McFadden Building, which is in its second year, houses all the needs for the Clemson football team.

Vickery Hall is a two-story 27,000 square foot building in the center of campus that houses all of the Tiger athlete's academic needs. It has 11 classrooms, 28 tutorial rooms and over 50 personal computers. It was the first building in the nation constructed for the purpose of academic enhancement for student-athletes.

Dedication

FRANK HOWARD, THE LEGEND

The 1996 Clemson Football Media guide is dedicated to Frank Howard, the Legend of Clemson football. The College Football Hall of Famer, who served Clemson for 30 years as head coach and 42 years as a coach or athletic director, passed away on January 28, 1996.

There is no more fitting dedication for this media guide because every tradition, landmark victory and accomplishment documented in this text has some link to "The Bald Baron of Barlow Bend."

On the Cover: We are celebrating the Centennial of Clemson Football and what better way to capture 100 years of tradition than by documenting the greatest stadium entrance in all of college football. Clemson has been running down the hill since 1942 when Death Valley first opened. Clemson is wearing "Turn Back the Clock Uniforms" on the cover, their garb for last year's epic battle with Georgia. Clemson also plans to wear the unique attire in the home opener against Furman, who was Clemson's first opponent in 1896. The photo was taken by Jim Moriarty of Southern Pines, NC.

Clemson Centennial Scrapbook

Walter Riggs

Walter Riggs was the father of Clemson football. He coached the first football team, not only because he had football experience, but he was one of only two people on campus to have seen a game prior to 1896. In fact, all but one of Clemson's players had not seen a game before they played in the first contest. Riggs went on to become the President of Clemson University, one of the few men in college sports history to go from football coach to President.

Off on the Right Foot

Clemson's first team practiced on October 5, 1896 and won its first game 23 days later with a 14-6 conquest of Furman. Charlie Gentry scored Clemson's first touchdown in history, a five-point play in those days. The Tigers went on to a 2-1 record that first year and in fact, did not have a losing campaign in their first 12 seasons.

Vet Sitton

Vet Sitton is well known for his baseball prowess (see above photo as a member of the 1908 Pirates). But, Sitton was one of Clemson's first football stars. He was an All-Southern end in 1903, one of four All-Southern selections for the Tigers on the 1903 Tiger team that played for the Championship of the South.

Timeline

Sept. 30, 1896—A small crowd gathered in one of the barrack's rooms and discussed the advisability of organizing a football association and to devise some means of getting a coach. The organization known as the Clemson College Football Association was perfected and the following officers elected: President F.G. Tompkins, Secretary and Treasurer C.W. Gentry, Manager T.R. Vogel, Temporary Captain R.G. Hamilton. A committee of three was appointed to consult professor Riggs as to management of a football team and to ask his aid as coach.

October 5, 1896—Practice began on the Clemson College campus on a 50x200 foot field in front of the college.

October 28, 1896—Clemson played its first intercollegiate football game, defeating Furman, 14-6, at Greenville, SC. This was the first time that many of the Clemson players had seen a full-sized football gridiron.

November 21, 1896—Clemson defeated Wofford by the score of 16-0. When the team arrived back on campus that night, the cadet corp along with faculty members led the team around in a buggy led by a torchlight procession and proceeded to go all over the campus. With this win, Clemson claimed the state championship.

November 10, 1897—Clemson defeated South Carolina for the first time and won the school's second state championship. A total of 2,000 spectators witnessed the 18-6 victory. Clemson, took an early 5-0 lead when South Carolina's Lee Hagood fumbled on the Gamecock's 31-yard line and Clemson's W. T. Brock caught the fumbled ball in the air and raced 30 yards for a touchdown.

November 10, 1899—The football association stood on a very weak financial basis. The organization could not even afford to hire a coach. W.M. Riggs agreed to coach the Tigers for free.

December 8, 1899—John Heisman was hired as head coach.

October 22, 1900—The Tigers defeated Wofford, 21-0. Actually, Clemson scored many more points, but a pre-game agreement between the teams stated that every point Clemson scored after the first four touchdowns would not count. No one could keep an accurate count after Clemson scored its first 21 points after six minutes into the game elapsed. All touchdowns

Clemson made were called back and the ball given to Wofford deep in Clemson territory on such penalties as running over a Wofford tackler.

November 29, 1900—Clemson's 35-0 win over Alabama allowed Heisman's team to finish the season undefeated with a 6-0 record. This was Clemson's first undefeated team and was the only team to win all of the games in a season until the 1948 squad went 11-0.

October 5, 1901—Clemson opened the season with a 122-0 win over Guilford, the most points scored in Clemson history. The Tigers averaged 30 yards per play and a touchdown every minute and 26 seconds. The first half lasted 20 minutes while the second half lasted only 10 minutes. Legend has it that every man on the Clemson team scored a touchdown in this game.

October 30, 1902—Col. Charles S. Roller Jr., who was football coach of Furman, was the only referee for the Clemson-USC game. Bronco Armstrong, a famous Yale player and official, was to be the umpire but was in a railroad wreck on the way down and it was impossible for him to get to the game in time. Not a single penalty was

The First Bowl Team

While Clemson had a perfect record (6-0) in 1900, it was the performance of the 1903 team that brought Clemson its greatest respect in the South in the early days of Tiger football. Clemson and Cumberland met for the "Championship of the South" in what amounts to Clemson's first postseason bowl game. John Maxwell, Clemson's first all-conference player, scored on a 100-yard kickoff return to provide the key play for Clemson in an 11-11 tie.

OK Pressley

Clemson's first great player of national renown was a center. O.K. Pressley was a mainstay of Clemson's teams of the late 1920s. He led the 1928 team to a then school record eight wins and after the season he became Clemson's first All-American. He turned in perhaps the most legendary performance in Clemson history in his senior year against South Carolina. On the bench with a hand injury for the first period, he overcame the pain and made consecutive tackles for loss on four straight plays to change the momentum of the game and lead Clemson to victory.

John Heisman

Heisman, the man they named the trophy after, coached at Clemson between 1900-03. His 19-3-2 record is still the best in Clemson history on a winning percentage basis. He invented the "Hidden Ball Trick," the double lateral, and the "flea flicker" play. In his four years as head coach he defeated South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, North Carolina, Auburn, Tennessee, Georgia Tech, and N.C. State, among others.

called in the game. A riot between Clemson and USC fans broke out the night after the game. Officials at both colleges called off the football series between the two schools. Clemson and USC did not meet again in football until 1909.

November 27, 1902—Clemson played in the snow for the first time in a game against Tennessee. The Tigers won the game, 11-0, and claimed the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association crown.

October 10, 1903—Clemson 29, Georgia 0—First 10 minutes of the game, Clemson fumbled the ball three times. After the game, the Georgia team made a deal with the Clemson team. They would give the Clemson team a bushel of apples for every point Clemson would defeat Tech above the score Clemson made against the Georgia. The score turned out to be Clemson 73, Georgia Tech 0. Apples were plentiful around Clemson that winter—44 bushels.

October 17, 1903—Clemson defeated Georgia Tech 73-0. Clemson rushed the ball 55 times for 615 yards, still a school record, while Tech ran the ball 35 times and collected 28 yards. The second half was shortened to 15 minutes.

October 28, 1903—The Tigers defeated N.C. State 24-0 in Columbia, SC at the fairgrounds. One incident that delayed the game's start was the fact that the sideline spectators, in their eagerness to see each play, crowded in front of the grandstand and on the field. Twenty minute halves were played owing to the fact that the field had to be given to the racing association at 12:45 p.m. Even these short halves could not be played out and the time limit was up when 16 minutes of the second half had been played. Heisman married Evelyn Barksdale in Columbia after the game.

November 26, 1903—One day after Tech's deadline for its offer had expired, Heisman wired Georgia Tech's president Lyman Hall, that he would accept the institute's offer of $2,250 per year plus 30 percent of net receipts to coach its athletic teams.

Sept. 30, 1904—Clemson began practice under a new Head Coach Shack Shealy, who was at one time a great football player. He played varsity ball six years, four at Clemson and two at Iowa State. He is still the only Clemson graduate to coach the Tiger football team.

November 11, 1905—The Clemson-Auburn game was called on account of darkness.

Clemson won, 6-0.

November 29, 1906—Clemson's first forward pass occurred in a 10-0 win over Georgia Tech. Powell Lykes dropped back to kick, but instead made a forward pass of 30 yards to George Warren.

September 28, 1907—The cadets of Clemson College braved wind and rain at Bowman Field to witness the Tigers in their earliest season opener to date. Clemson met Gordon Military Academy from Georgia on a muddy field. Clemson was playing under new Coach Frank Shaughnessy, a former Notre Dame star who to this day holds the Notre Dame record for the longest run.

November 4-9, 1907—Clemson played three games within a week's time. Clemson lost to Auburn 12-0 on November 4, and lost to Georgia in Augusta, GA on November 7. The Tigers barely made it back in time to play Davidson at Clemson on November 9, and lost 10-6.

April 1, 1908—Tiger football hopes of the 1908 season were shattered on this day, not by what happened in spring practice, but what 300 students did as a college prank on April Fool's Day. The cadets were expelled

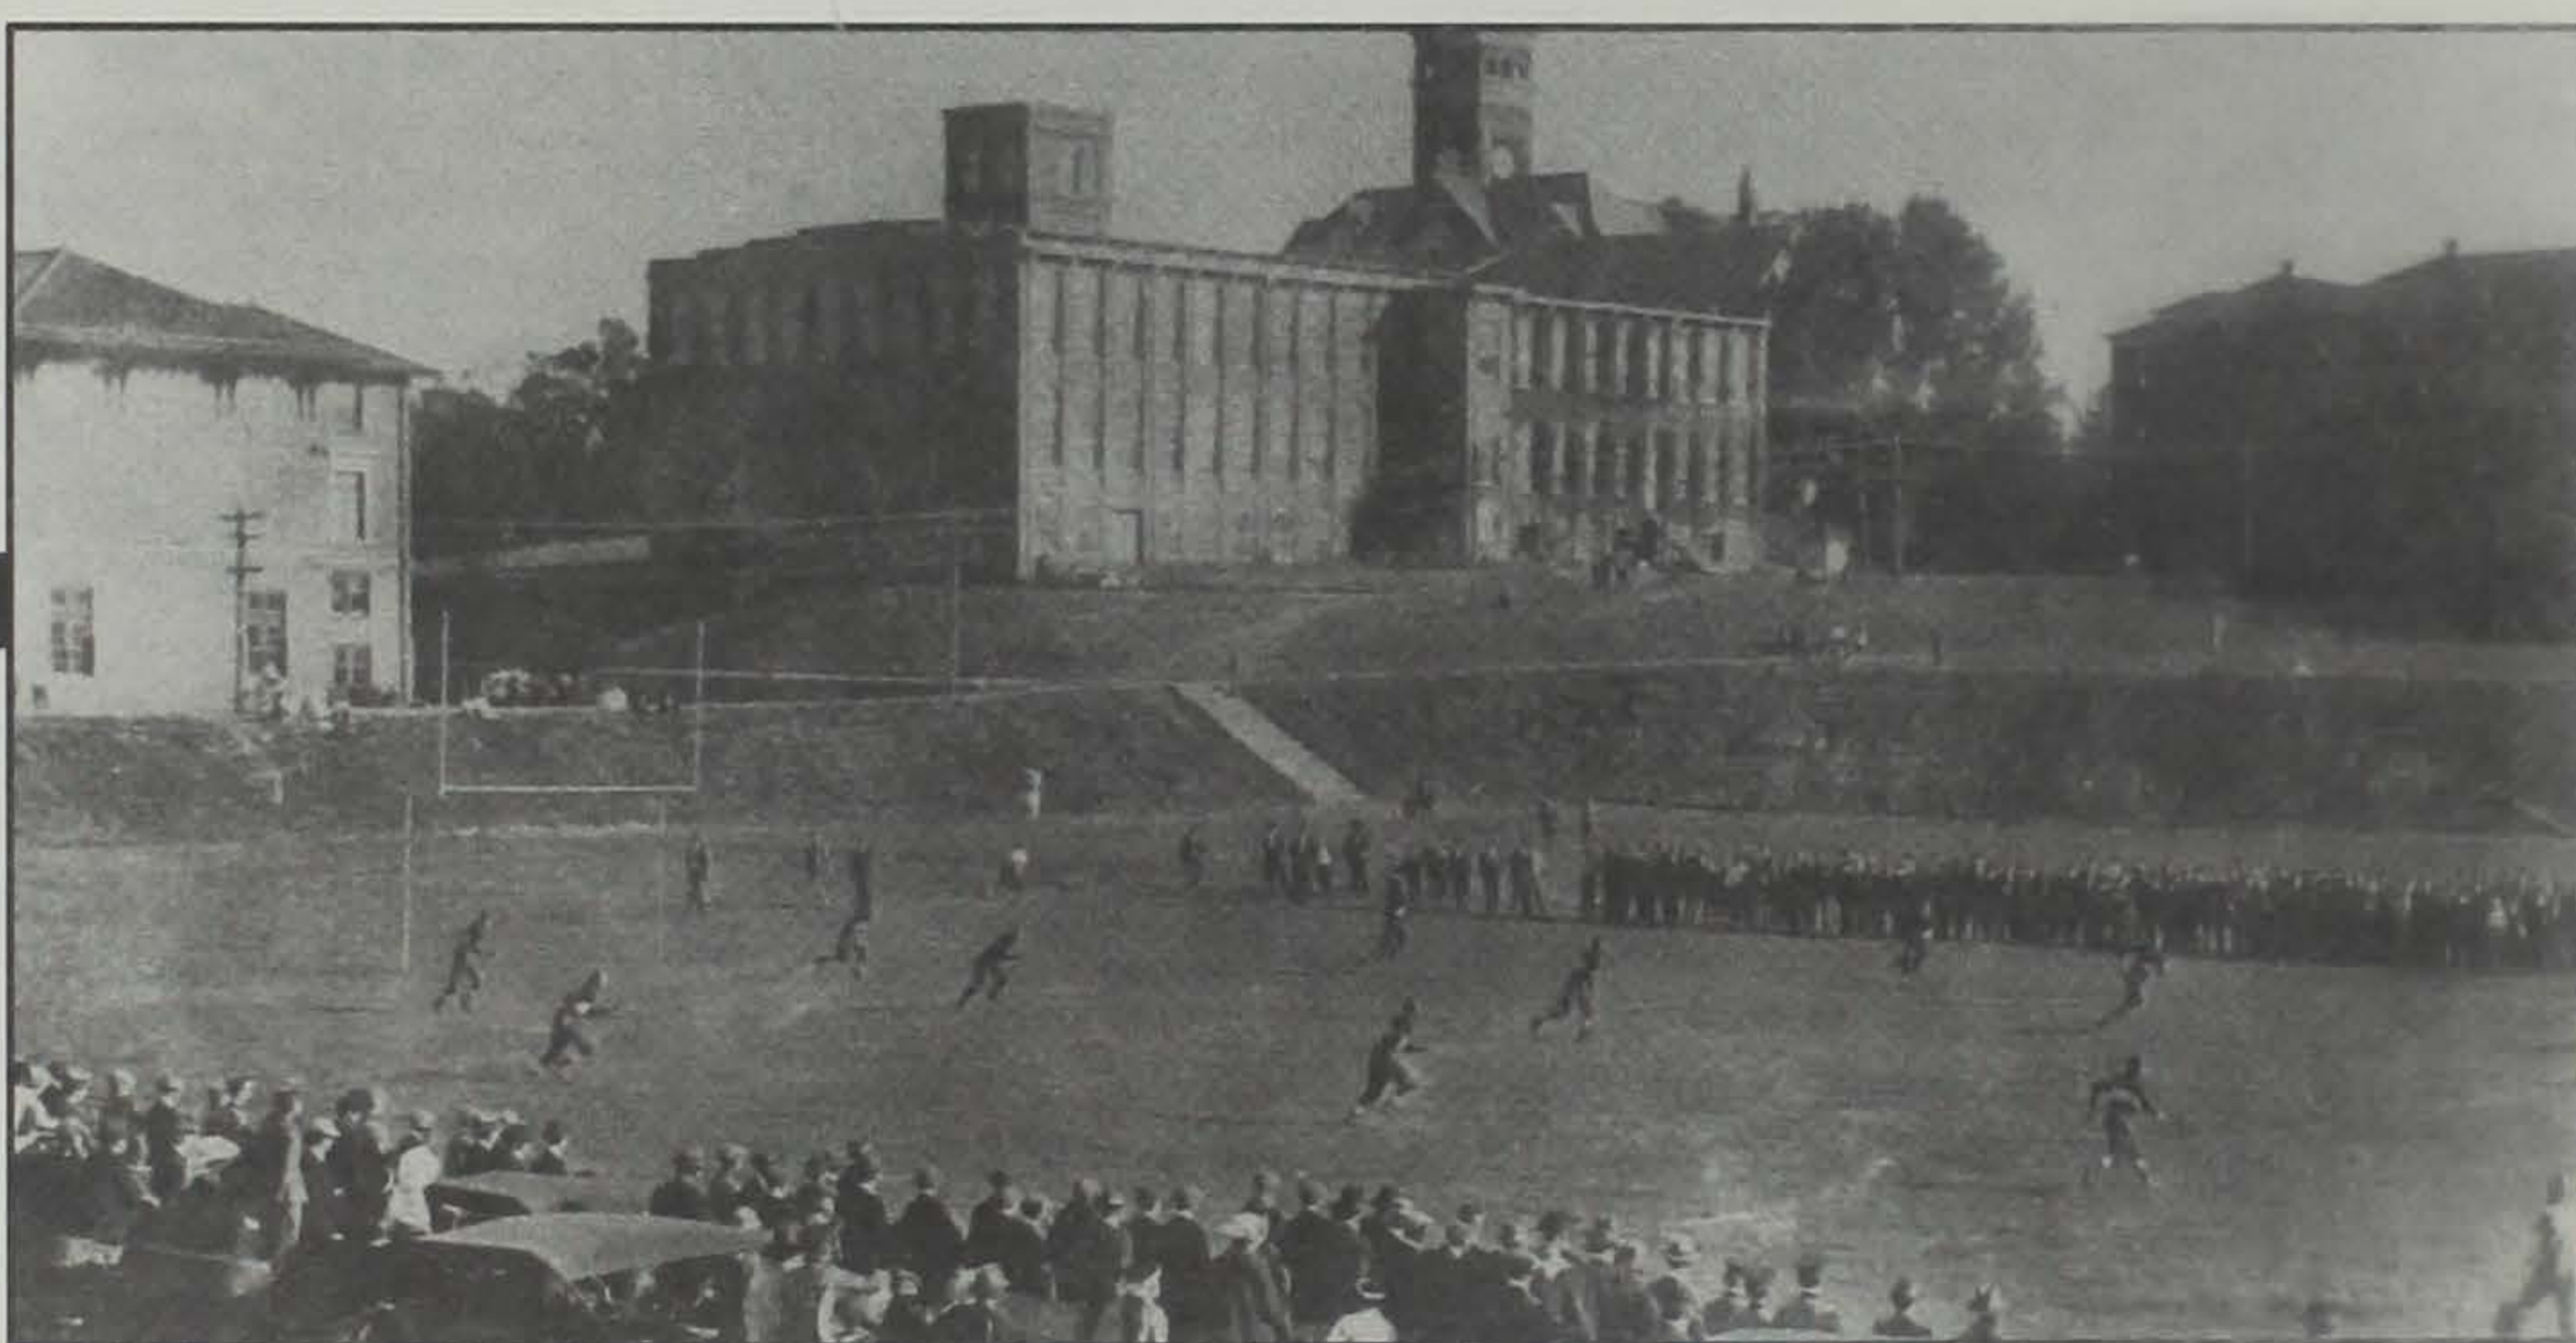

Bowman Field

Bowman Field was the home of Clemson football from 1898 to 1914. Clemson's first two years and seven games were played on the road. The Tigers defeated Bingham in their first home game in history by a 55-0 score. The Tigers scored 11 touchdowns that day and W.C. Forsythe kicked 11 extra points, a record that still stands today. R.T.V. Bowman, an assistant coach for Clemson and the man for whom the field is named, helped referee the game that October 20th day. Clemson played 29 home games at Bowman Field, and posted a 19-8-2 record, a 69 percent winning record. The Tigers outscored their opposition 567-114 in those 29 games.

Riggs Field

Riggs Field was dedicated on October 2, 1915. The Tigers and Davidson battled to a 6-6 tie that day, but Riggs Field would become the best home field in Clemson history. The Tigers posted a 57-16-6 record on Riggs Field between 1915 and 1941 and the 76 percent winning mark is the best among Clemson's three home sites. Auburn was the only team to beat Clemson more than twice at Riggs field during that time and the Tigers more than tripled the opposition (1538-469) in scoring during those 79 games in the facility. It is the current site of the Clemson soccer stadium.

for removing a Civil War cannon from the town square of Pendleton, four miles down the road from campus, and bringing the cannon back to Clemson. Many of the football stars, as well as many future star players, were among those who were expelled.

Oct. 9, 1915—The Tigers traveled to Knoxville, where they won fame by defeating the defending conference champion Tennessee, 3-0. Bill Harris drop-kicked a 20-yard field goal for the only score of the game in the fourth quarter. Tennessee was the defending champions of the S.I.A.A.

October 13, 1917—Clemson downed Furman 38-0, as the Tigers' Stumpy Banks scored five touchdowns, a record that still stands today.

November 16, 1918—The University of South Carolina athletic authorities provided the use of their stadium to Clemson and the Citadel for their annual game. South Carolina was playing at Furman that day and the field was not going to be used by the Gamecocks. The reason the game was played at Columbia instead of Charleston or Clemson was that the military officials from both Clemson and The Citadel would not allow players to be absent from any military duties due to athletic events. Since the game was played in Columbia both the Clemson and Citadel cadets and football teams would be able to make the trip to Columbia and return to duty on time. Clemson's John O'Dell scored for the game's only tally as the Tigers won the game, 7-0. Both teams made it back to their campuses before their passes expired.

December 27, 1926—Josh Cody was named head football coach at Clemson.

September 19, 1928—Clemson began this season with new uniforms. The Tigers wore a brilliant orange jersey for the first time, with black composition cloth stripe on the front with purple numbers.

December, 1928 - O.K. Pressley, a center, was named third-team All-American by the Newspaper Enterprise Association. He was Clemson's first All-American in any sport.

May 6, 1929—Josh Cody, Clemson head coach, was presented with a new automobile that afternoon as a gift from alumni, faculty, students, and friends of the college. A special collection was taken up to purchase the new Buick. The presentation ceremony was staged in front of Tillman Hall.

October 17, 1930—Maxcey Welch scored five touchdowns (all rushing) in Clemson's 75-0 win over Newberry. Welch and Stumpy Banks are the co-holders of that Clemson touchdown scoring record.

March 13, 1930—Josh Cody signed a new contract to stay at Clemson through the 1932 season.

November 26, 1930—Josh Cody announced that the Furman game the next day would be his final as head coach of the Tigers.

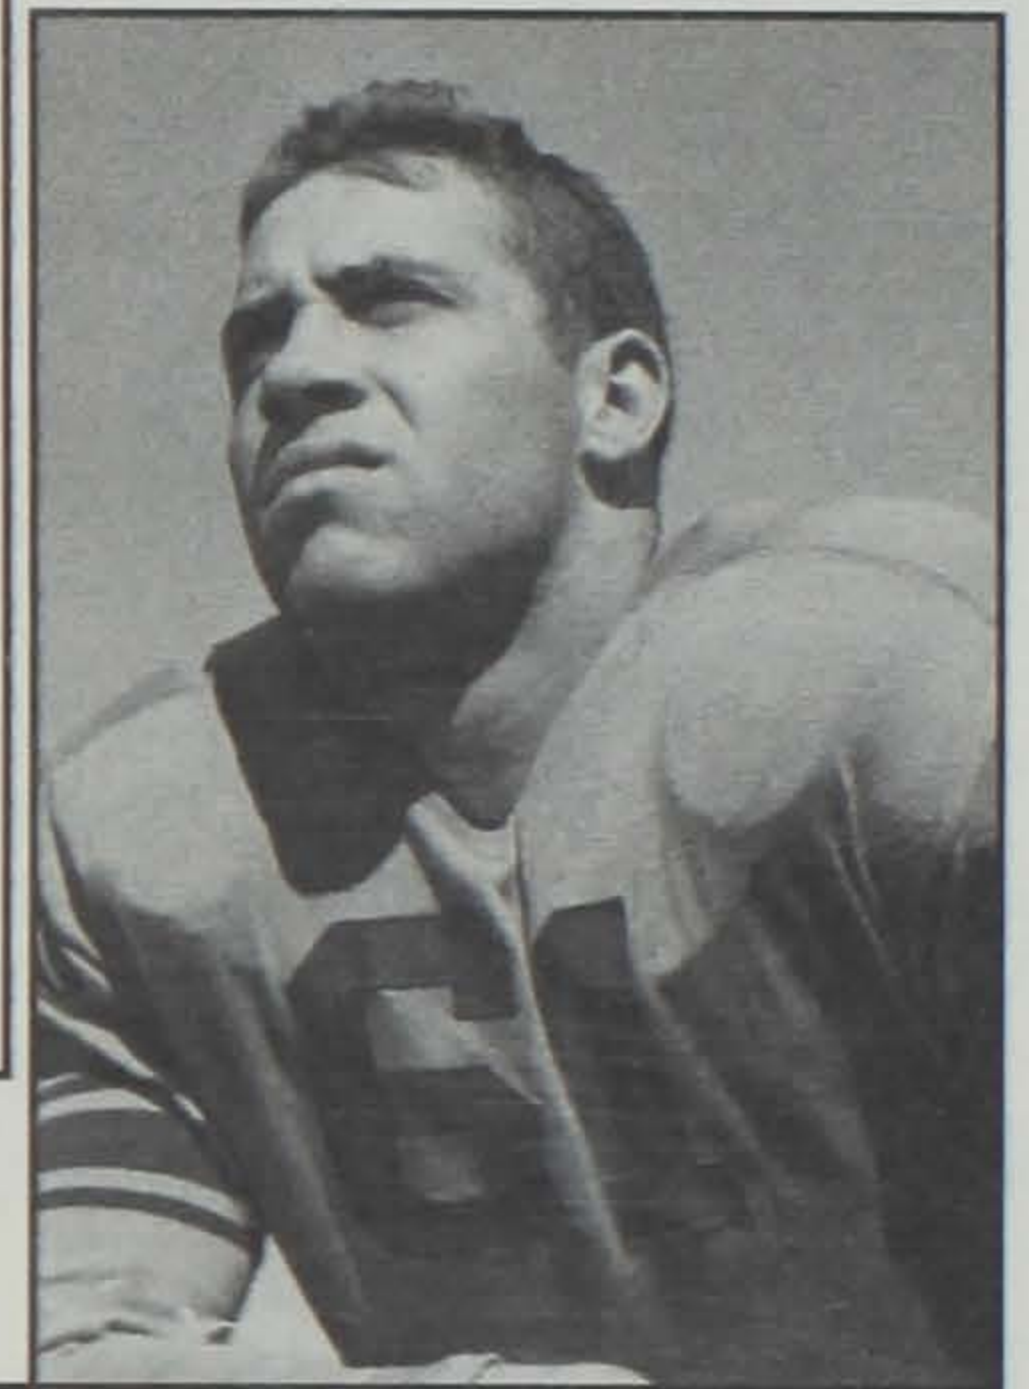

November 27, 1930—Clemson defeated Furman 12-7 at Furman to conclude the Tigers third straight eight-win season, the only eight-win seasons in Clemson history between 1896-1930. The 1930 Tigers concluded the season with an 8-2 record and posted four shutouts. In fact, only Tennessee and Florida scored over a touchdown against the Tigers in this season.

November 29, 1930—The Tiger student newspaper published an extra edition about Coach Cody, hoping to convince him to remain as head coach. Cody had become a popular mentor because of his record 29-11-1 record, including a perfect 4-0 mark against South Carolina, the only coach in

Hall of Fame Staff

Three former Clemson coaches are in the College Football Hall of Fame and two of them were on the Clemson Coaching staff between 1931-39. Jess Neely was the head coach and Frank Howard was his top assistant. Joe Davis and Bob Jones are also in the photo at left and were keys to the staff that set the foundation for the success Clemson has achieved over the last 60 years.

Charlie Timmons

While Banks McFadden received much of the notoriety as a triple threat back on the 1939 team, it was Charlie Timmons who was the top rusher for the season with 556 yards. The sophomore gained 115 yards in the defensive struggle against Boston College. He was a sophomore in 1939 and went on to score 77 points in 1941, the most points scored by a Tiger over the first 54 years of Clemson football.

Rupert Fike

Fike is considered the founding father of IPTAY. The resident of Atlanta was the driving force behind the organization. By the end of 1935 he had signed up 185 members, and Clemson was off and running as the nation's leader in this now multi-million dollar field. Fike served as President of IPTAY for 20 years.

George Fritts

Fritts was the first three-time all-conference player in Clemson history. He was an all-conference choice as a lineman in 1939, joining Joe Blalock as the first sophomore all-conference player at Clemson. Fritts went on to play in the NFL with the Philadelphia Eagles in 1945, the first Tiger lineman to play pro football.

Clemson history to have a perfect ledger against the Gamecocks.

January 2, 1931—After reconsidering his decision for over a month, Cody made his resignation final.

January 17, 1931—Jess Neely was named head football coach at Clemson. He is the second consecutive Vanderbilt graduate to coach the Tigers. Cody had been a 1917 graduate of Vandy and Neely was a member of the class of 1923. In fact, eight of the last nine Clemson head football coaches were graduates of current SEC schools.

October 16, 1931—Clemson suffered a surprising 6-0 loss against The Citadel in a game played in Florence. After the game, Neely, Captain Frank Jervy and others met in a car outside the stadium to discuss ways Clemson could help its football program get back on track. The meeting started the ball rolling towards the establishment of the IPTAY Foundation. Clemson would score just three touchdowns and win just one game during the 1931 season.

October 14, 1933—Clemson played at George Washington in a 0-0 tie. This was the first time Clemson had ever played under the lights. Fans followed the game on a grid graph in Tillman Hall at the Clemson chapel. A grid graph was an electrical machine that was marked off like a football field. Lights were so arranged on the graph that every possible play was flashed on the board. The lineups of both teams were written on the sides and the man carrying the ball on each play had a light flashed by his name. Another light representing the runner moved along the board in the same direction and for the same distance as the runner.

August 20, 1934—IPTAY, the nation's first scholarship fundraising organization, was founded. Dr. Rupert Fike, a cancer specialist from Atlanta and Clemson class of 1908, wrote Jess Neely a letter documenting the formation of the organization. "Last night we had a little meeting out at my house and organized the IPTAY Club," Fike wrote. "The purpose (of IPTAY) shall be to provide financial support to the athletic department at Clemson and to assist in every other way possible to regain for Clemson the high athletic standing which rightfully belongs to her."

The organization was first established as a secret organization and initial membership dues were set at $10 a year. Many had suggested that $50 be the minimum donation, but Fike's foresight thought it would be best to get as many Clemson supporters involved as possible, so he established the $10 minimum.

The excitement about the organization carried over into the 1934 season and the Tigers ran to their first winning season since 1930. Clemson had gone 0-5-1 against Furman and South Carolina in those years, then defeated both teams in 1934.

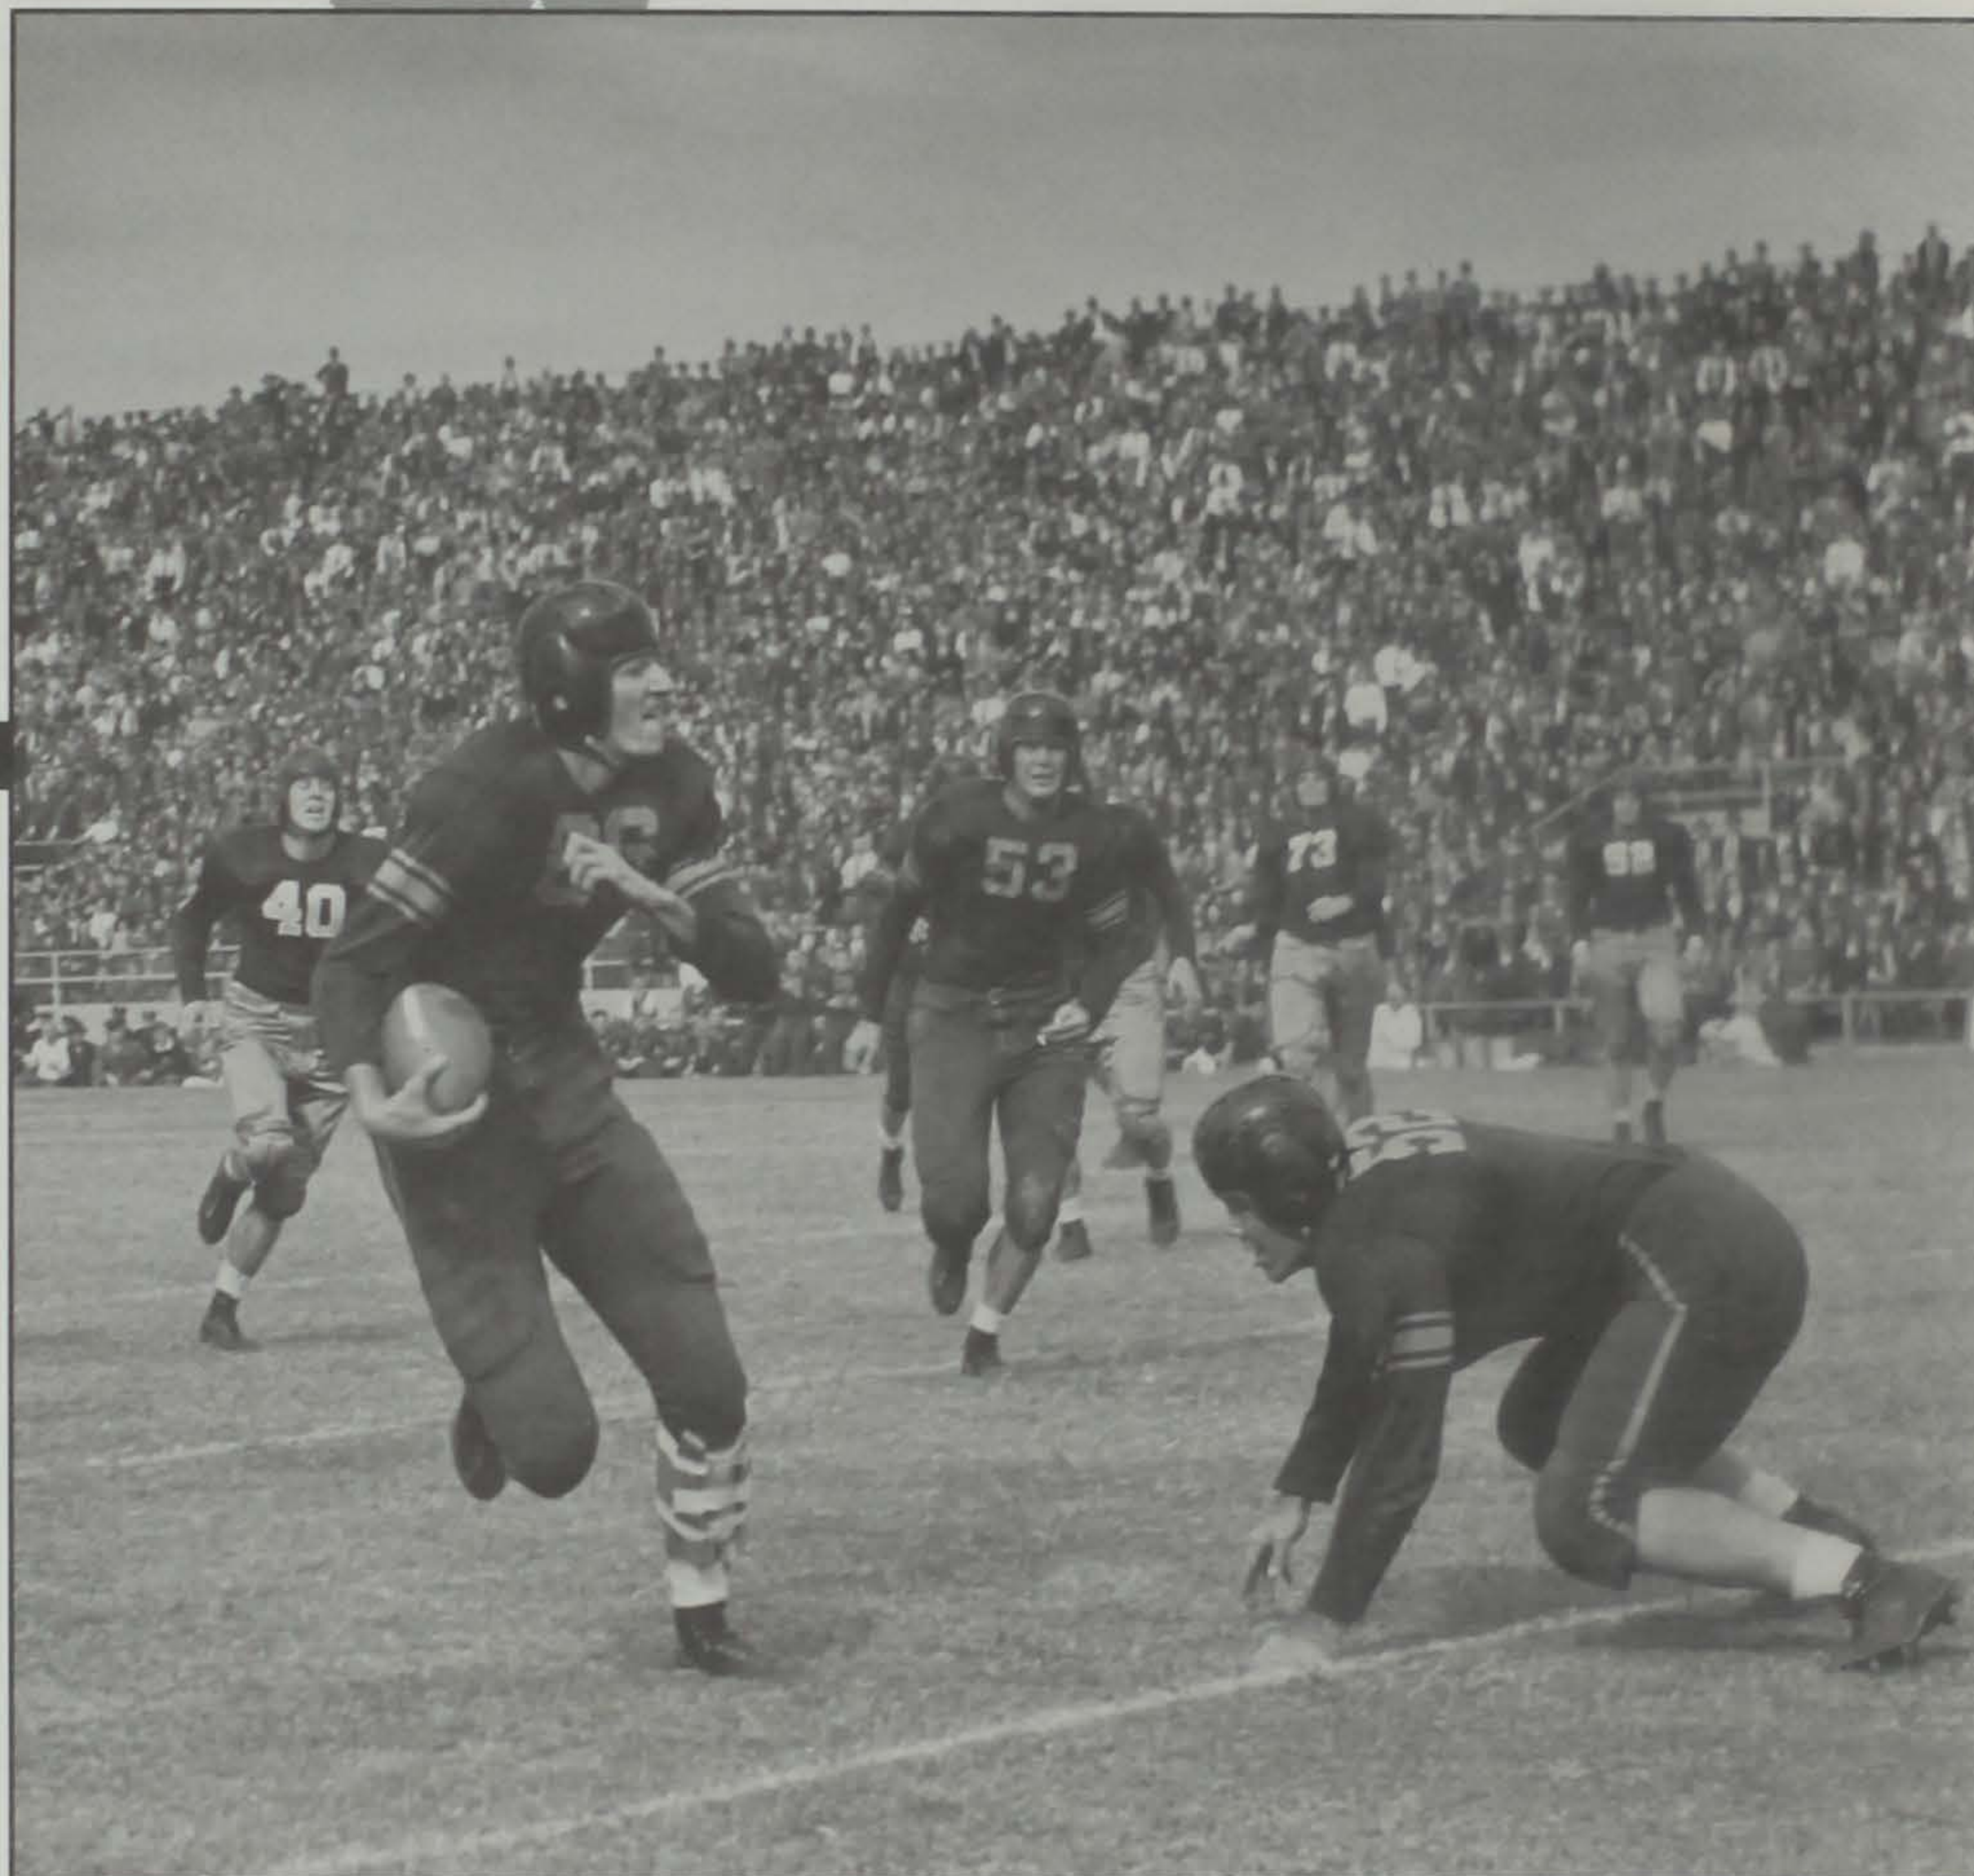

November 19, 1935—Clemson held its first night football practice. Two powerful floodlights were installed at the practice fields. The Clemson coaches wanted more practice time with the players and that was the reason the lights were brought in. The extra practice did not pay off however, as Clemson lost its final game that year to Furman, 8-6.

November 17, 1937—Clemson defeated Florida in Gainesville by a 10-9 score. Don Willis scored Clemson's only TD of the game on a one-yard run that culminated a 65-yard drive on Clemson's opening possession. Later Clemson gave up a safety and a touchdown, so Florida led 9-7 heading into the fourth period. But, the Tigers drove 60 yards late in the game and Ben Pearson booted a 27-yard field goal to win the game.

At the time, it gave Clemson a 4-4

Banks McFadden

No one has come down the pike before or since. That is a common way of describing a great player and it extends to Banks McFadden. At 6-3 and nearly 200 pounds, McFadden was an unusual site for a star running back. That is big for a running back by today's standards. The native of Great Falls, SC, was the original triple threat player. He was a standout passer, runner, defender, and kicker. Clemson's first AP All-American was also Clemson's first All-American basketball player. On top of all that, you couldn't ask for a more dedicated Clemson man who continues to represent his university with pride. Clemson's recently completed football building bears his name...as it should.

record in 1937, but it proved to be a program builder, much as Clemson's win over South Carolina in 1980 did. The Tigers posted to a 22-2-2 record over a 26-game period that started with that win at Florida. Clemson's only losses in that 26-game period were to Tennessee in 1938 and Tulane in 1939. Tennessee ended the 1938 season with a 10-0 record and ranked second in the nation, while Tulane ended the 1939 season with an 8-0-1 mark and fifth in the country.

November 5, 1938—Clemson scored with big plays in a win over George Washington, 27-0. The Tigers scored three touchdowns on plays of at least 65 yards, the only time in history Clemson has had scoring plays of that distance in the same game. Banks McFadden ran 70 yards for a score on the first Clemson play from scrimmage. Later, Shad Bryant scored on a 65-yard punt return and on a 65-yard run off a lateral. George Washington actually had more firstdowns, 15-13, yet lost by 27 points.

September 23, 1939—Banks McFadden ran 90 yards for a touchdown in Clemson's 18-0 win over Presbyterian. It is still the longest run in Clemson history. McFadden had a career high 173 yards in 15 attempts on this day.

September 30, 1939—Clemson suffered its only loss of the season to a revenge minded Tulane eleven. The Tigers had beaten the Green Wave the previous year by a 13-10 score. This season, however, Tulane defeated Clemson 7-6. Despite the loss, it was a game that brought acclaim to Clemson for its ability to play so close with the team that would end the year ranked fifth in the nation. McFadden was all over the field on this day, throwing for Clemson's only touchdown and defending enemy passes from the secondary. His punting kept Tulane bottled up in their own territory. He had 12 punts for 504 yards, including a record six punts of at least 50 yards. Unfortunately he was involved in what proved to be the deciding play of the game as his extra point attempt after Clemson's only touchdown was blocked.

October 19, 1939—Clemson outgained South Carolina 402-90 in a 27-0 thrashing of the Gamecocks. Banks McFadden threw for 85 yards and rushed for 76 in just 14 attempts.

October 26, 1939—Clemson showed it was a deep enough team to win without All-American Banks McFadden, who missed the Navy game with an injury. Shad Bryant had a 40-yard run for a score in Clemson's 15-7 win at Annapolis.

November 3, 1939—Clemson won in the Washington DC area for the second straight week, defeating George Washington on the road, 13-6. Bryant had 127 yards on the ground and scored Clemson's only touchdown. The game was played on a Friday evening.

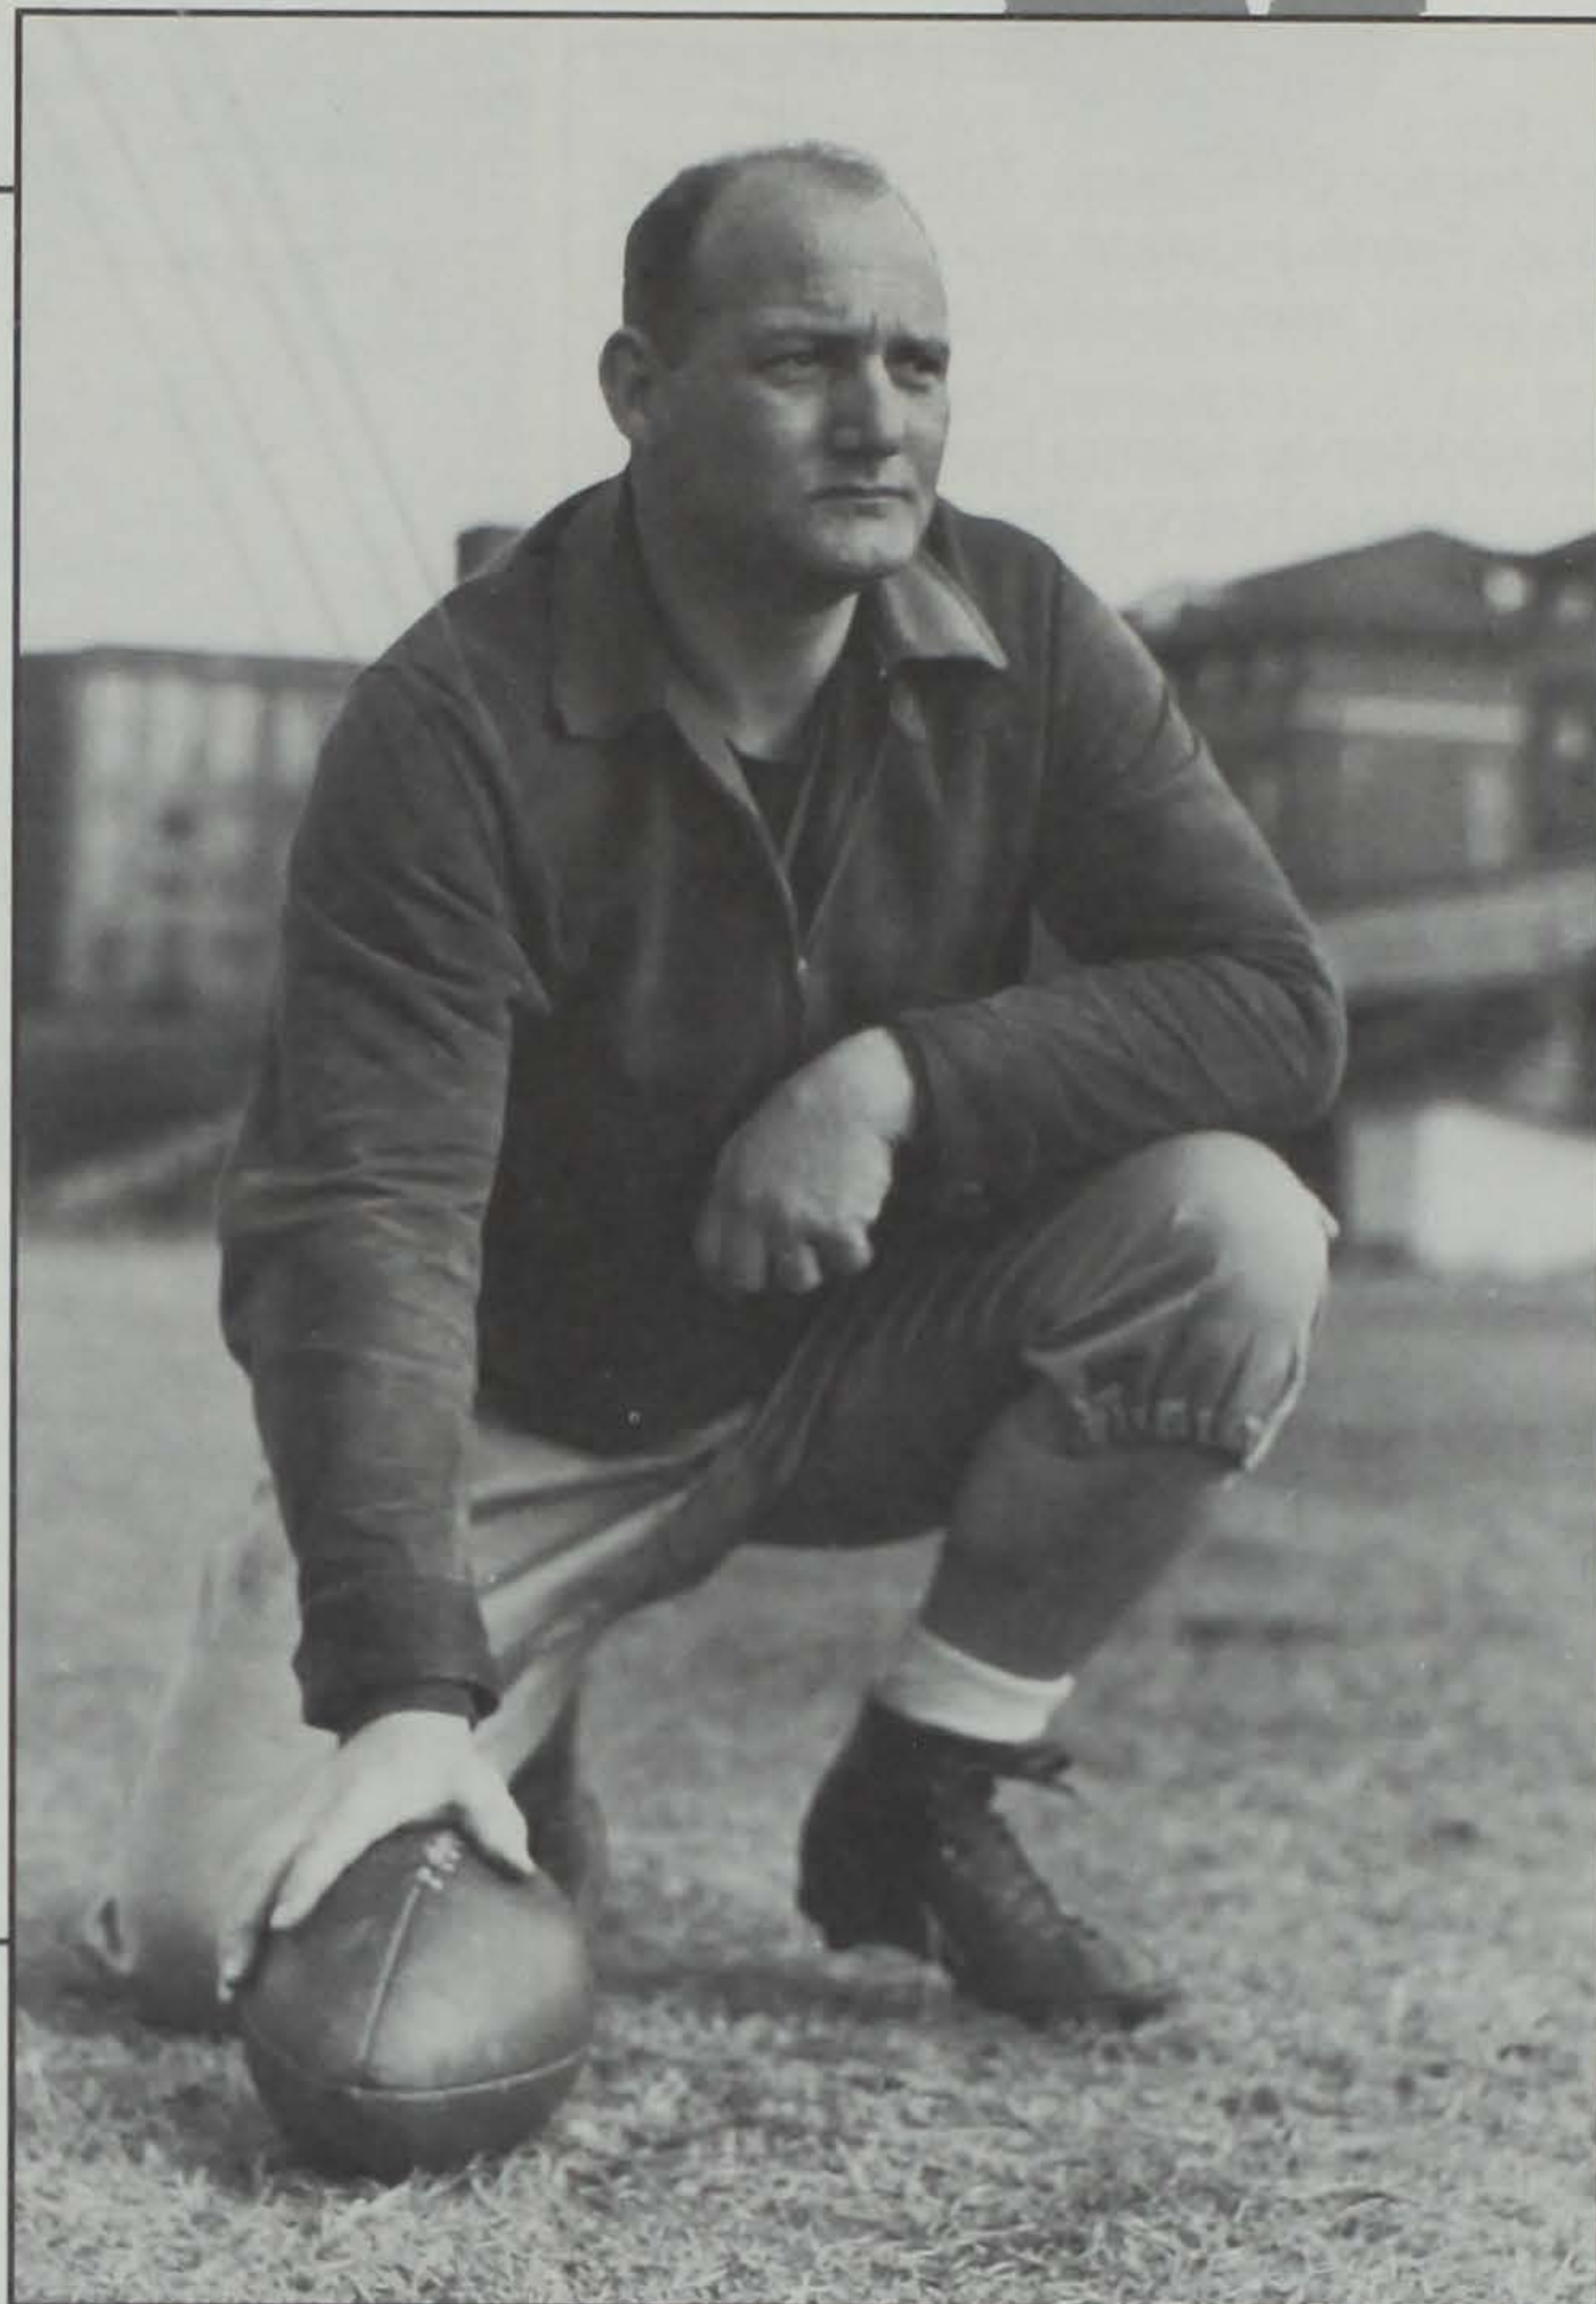

November 11, 1939—McFadden completed just four passes against Wake Forest, but three were to Joe Blalock for 105 yards, the first 100-yard receiving game in Clemson history. It was the final home game for McFadden and the rest of the Tiger seniors.

November 13, 1939—Clemson was ranked in the Associated Press poll for the first time. The Tigers soundly defeated Wake Forest 20-7 to run its record to 6-1 and that led to the ranking. Clemson had 33 poll points on that November 13 ranking and one first-place vote out of the 85 votes in the poll that week. Clemson remained ranked in the top 20 over the next three weeks and each week Clemson had exactly one first-place vote.

However, in the final poll that year, even though Clemson had run the table to finish 8-1 in the regular season, that individual failed to vote Clemson number-one,

Frank Howard

The man seconded his own nomination for Head Coach. Need we say more! The legendary Frank Howard took over as Clemson head coach in 1940 and held the position for 30 years. He guided Clemson to six Top 20 seasons, eight conference championships, 100 conference victories, 165 overall wins and eight bowl games. He was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1989. Despite all those accomplishments, he might be best known for his wit and charm with media.

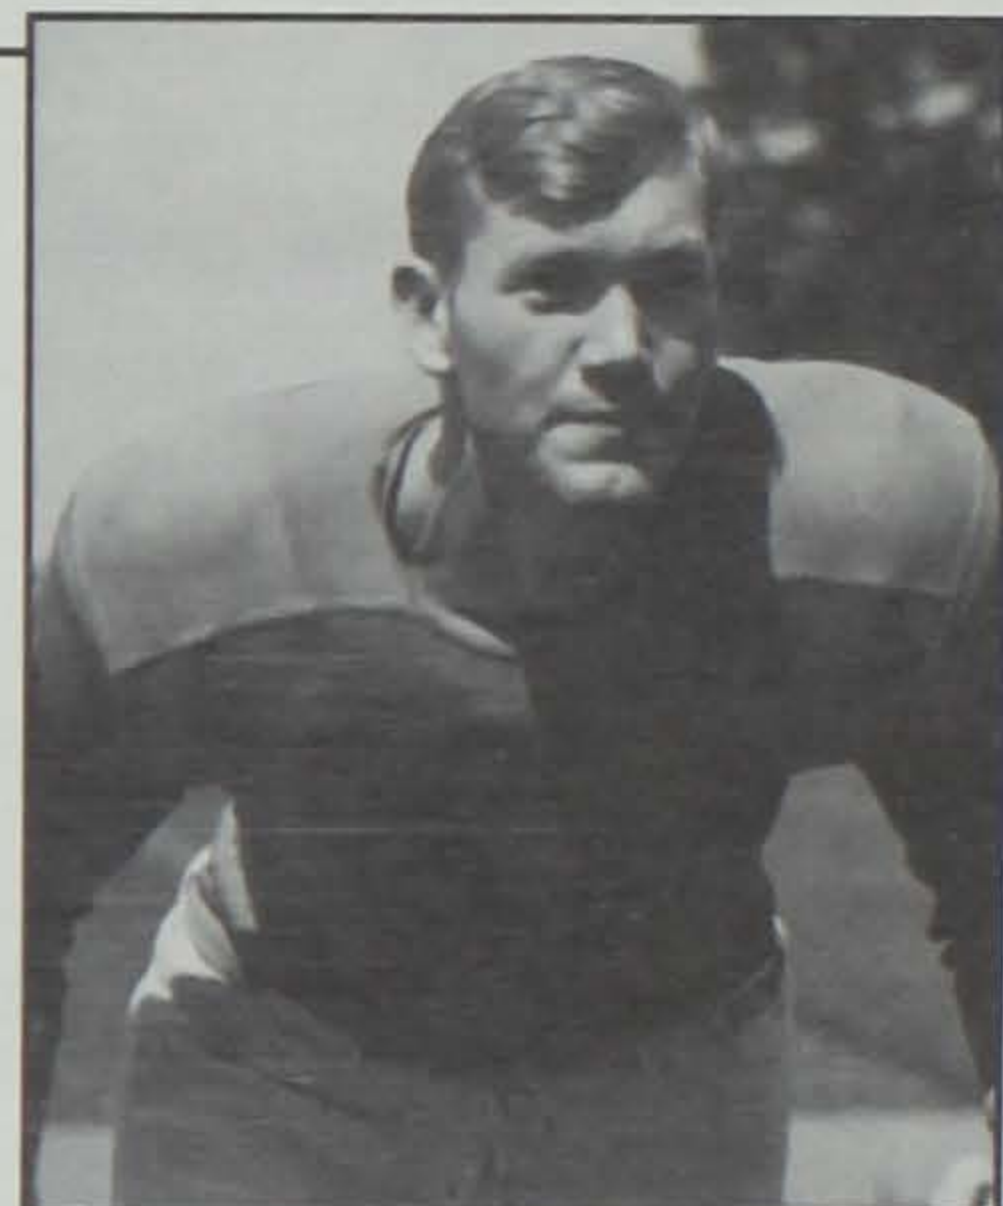

Joe Blalock

While Banks McFadden got a lot of attention in 1939, Blalock was Clemson's first two-time All-American, still the only two-time All-American receiver in Clemson history. He averaged 20.34 yards per catch in an era when passing was taboo, and that is still the best average in Clemson history. This charter member of the Clemson Hall of Fame is still in the top five in Clemson history in career touchdown receptions.

Ralph Jenkins

Jenkins might have been Clemson's top lineman of the 1940s. The center was a second-team All-American in 1945 as a junior, then an injury allowed him to play in just four games in 1946. He was a starter in 1943-44-45 and was later a 14th round draft pick of the Pittsburgh Steelers. He was inducted into the Clemson Hall of Fame in 1995.

as the Tigers did not have a first-place vote in the December 11 poll, which was the final poll that year.

November 18, 1939—Clemson won away from home for the fourth straight time, a 21-6 win over Southwestern University, which is now Memphis State. McFadden and George Floyd combined for 126 yards rushing on just 10 rushes.

November 25, 1939—Clemson concluded its 8-1 regular season with a 14-3 victory over Furman. Shad Bryant ran for 94 yards and gained 75 more in punt returns. McFadden scored two touchdowns and had 10 punts for a 42-yard average, intercepted a pass and completed a pass.

December 8, 1939—Clemson accepted a bid to play in the Cotton Bowl. It is Clemson's first postseason bowl game appearance. Clemson did meet Cumberland in a postseason "Championship of the South" game in 1903, but it was not considered an established bowl.

December 11, 1939—Clemson ranked 12th in the final poll by the Associated Press, Clemson's first appearance in a final season AP poll. The Tigers had 112 poll points, just behind Boston College, who had 120.5

poll points for 11th place. Clemson would defeat Boston College in the Cotton Bowl, but the AP did not have a poll after the bowls. In fact, for whatever the reason, the AP did not have a final poll after the bowls until after the 1968 season. Thus, Clemson actually would have had a much higher ranking by today's standards if there would have been a poll in January of 1940.

December 15, 1939—Banks McFadden was named a first-team All-American by Associated Press and a third-team selection by United Press International. He was the first Clemson player honored by the AP. Later that year he was named the Nation's Most Versatile Athlete for 1939. Earlier in the year he had led Clemson to the 1939 Southern Conference Championship in basketball, still the only postseason championship in Clemson history.

January 1, 1940—In Clemson's first bowl appearance, it defeated Boston College 6-3. Charlie Timmons scored the game's lone touchdown from two yards out and rushed for 115 yards. Banks McFadden keyed the defense with four pass deflections of Boston College passes and he also averaged 43 yards punt. Boston College drove to the Clemson eight with three minutes left, but Shad Bryant and McFadden knocked away third and fourth-down passes to save the day for the Tigers.

"Clemson is every bit as good as they were cracked up to be," said Boston College Coach Frank Leahy, still the second winningest coach in college football history on a percentage basis. "We lost to a great team, one of the best I have ever seen. I have the satisfaction of knowing that while we were beaten, the game wasn't lost on a fluke."

January 10, 1940—Jess Neely resigned as athletic director and football coach to accept the head football coaching job at Rice University. Neely had inherited a $47,000 deficit when he arrived in 1931 and earned Clemson $100,000 during his tenure and left Clemson with $57,000 in the treasury. His overall record at Clemson was 43-35-7. He would be inducted into the college football Hall of Fame in 1971.

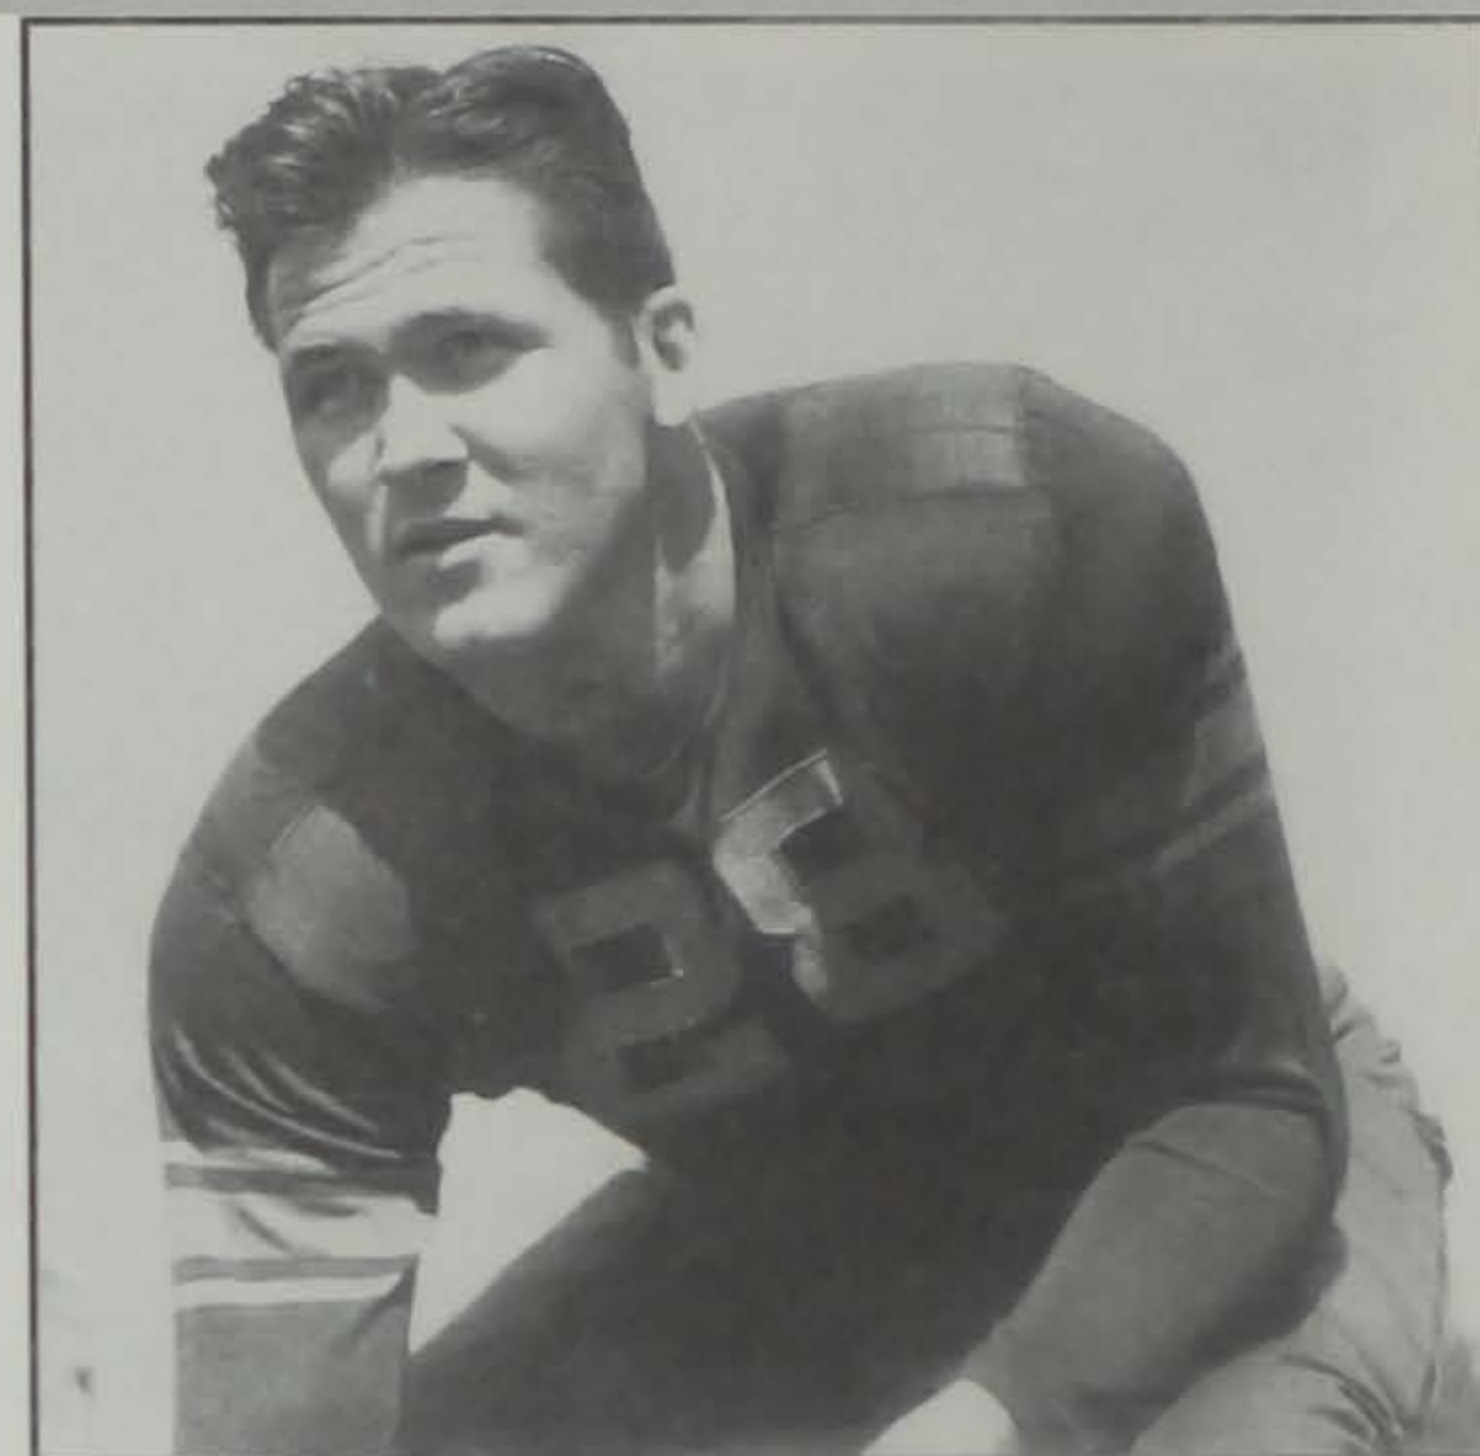

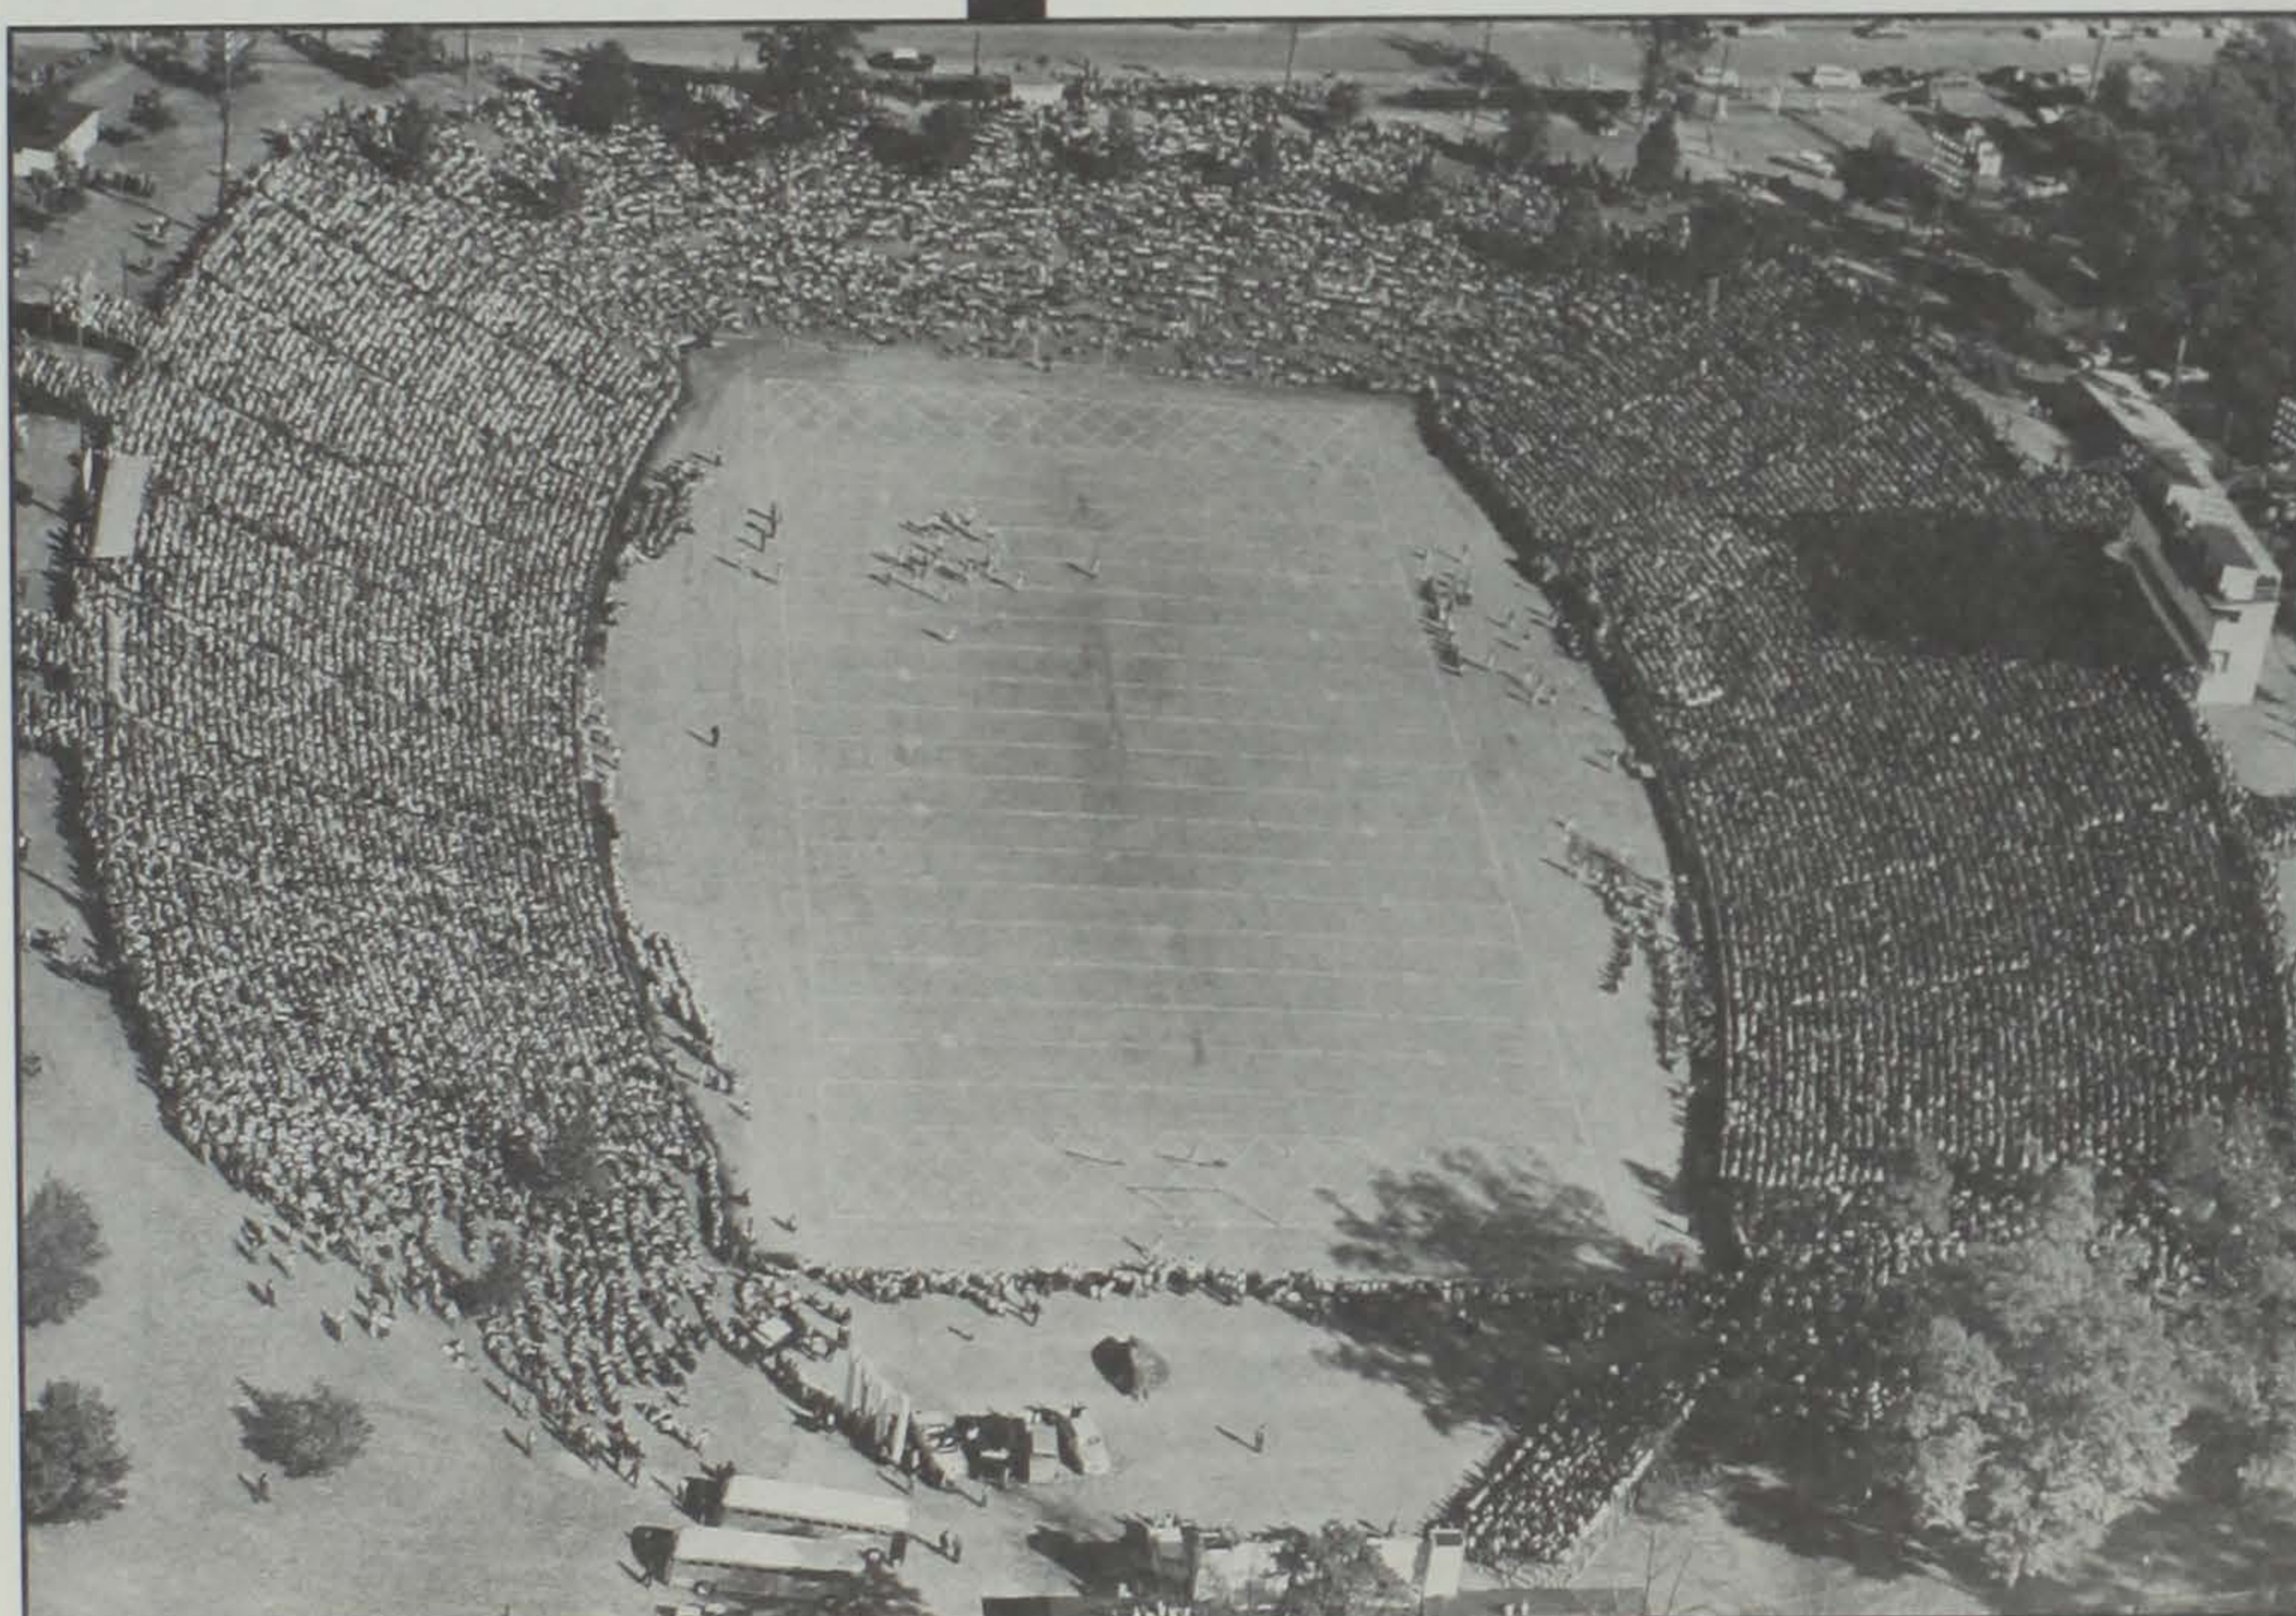

January 11, 1940—Frank Howard was named head football coach. At the Athletic Council meeting that day, Howard was nominated for the position by Professor Sam Rhodes, a council member. When a call for a second was asked, Howard, standing in the back of the room, said: "I second the nomination." It is perhaps the only recorded time in history a coach has sec-

Death Valley

September 19, 1942 was opening day at Clemson Memorial Stadium. The facility had been in the works nearly a year and it was a proud Frank Howard who welcomed Presbyterian College and Tiger Fans that day. Butch Butler was the star for Clemson, gaining 192 yards rushing in the 32-13 victory.

September 19 is a great day in Clemson history. In addition to it being the anniversary day for Death Valley, Clemson has an 8-0-0 record on this date in history, the only date that has a perfect slate. Among the wins on the date is the 13-3 victory over fourth-ranked Georgia in 1981, the highest ranked win in the history of Clemson football.

Butch Butler

ended his own nomination for head coach.

July 25, 1940—Banks McFadden accepted a bid to play in the College All-Star game against the Green Bay Packers on August 29. He scored one of the two touchdowns for the College All-Stars.

September 1, 1940—Banks McFadden signed a one-year contract to play with the Brooklyn Dodgers professional football team. He led the NFL in yards per carry in that 1940 season, but did not like the bright lights of New York and returned to Clemson.

September 21, 1940—In Frank Howard's first game as head coach, Clemson scored on the first offensive play as George Floyd reversed around left end and raced 18 yards across the field untouched for a Clemson touchdown. The Tigers went on to a 38-0 win over Presbyterian.

October 12, 1940—Clemson shutout Wake Forest 39-0 in Clemson's second game of the season at Riggs Field. It was Clemson's third shutout in the first four games of the Howard era. It was the last home game of the season for the Tigers, who would go on to win the Southern Conference title even though seven of the nine games were on the road.

October 24, 1940—Frank Howard won his first game as head coach in the rivalry with South Carolina. The Tigers were victorious 21-13 thanks to five interceptions by the Clemson defense. Howard coached in 30 Clemson-South Carolina games. Incredible as it may seem, both Clemson and South Carolina scored exactly 411 total points in those 30 games.

October 28, 1940—It didn't take Howard long to get the Tigers into the nation's top 10. With the 5-0 start the Tigers earned 136 poll points and ranked number-10 in the nation, Clemson's first top 10 ranking in the AP poll. Two writers actually ranked Clemson number-one.

November 23, 1940—Clemson won the Southern Conference football title with a 13-7 victory over Furman. Ed Manness led the way for the Tigers with 136 yards rushing in 18 attempts. It was the first of eight conference championships for the Tigers under Frank Howard.

October 6, 1941—Work began on Memorial Stadium. The chore of cleaning, digging and leveling the site as well as cutting large trees and clearing underbrush was supervised by Frank Howard. A pipe was also installed for drainage under the field.

October 11, 1941—Clemson defeated Boston College at Fenway Park, 26-13. Joe Blalock scored two touchdowns as Clemson overcame a 6-0 deficit after the first period. BC outgained Clemson 363-281, but Clemson came away with the victory.

October 23, 1941—Booty Payne became the first Clemson player to pass for over 200 yards in an 18-14 loss to South Carolina. He completed 9-16 passes for 202 yards in the contest. It was one of just three 200-yard passing games by a Tiger in the decade of the 1940s.

November 15, 1941—Clemson defeated Wake Forest, 29-0, in the last game at Riggs Field.

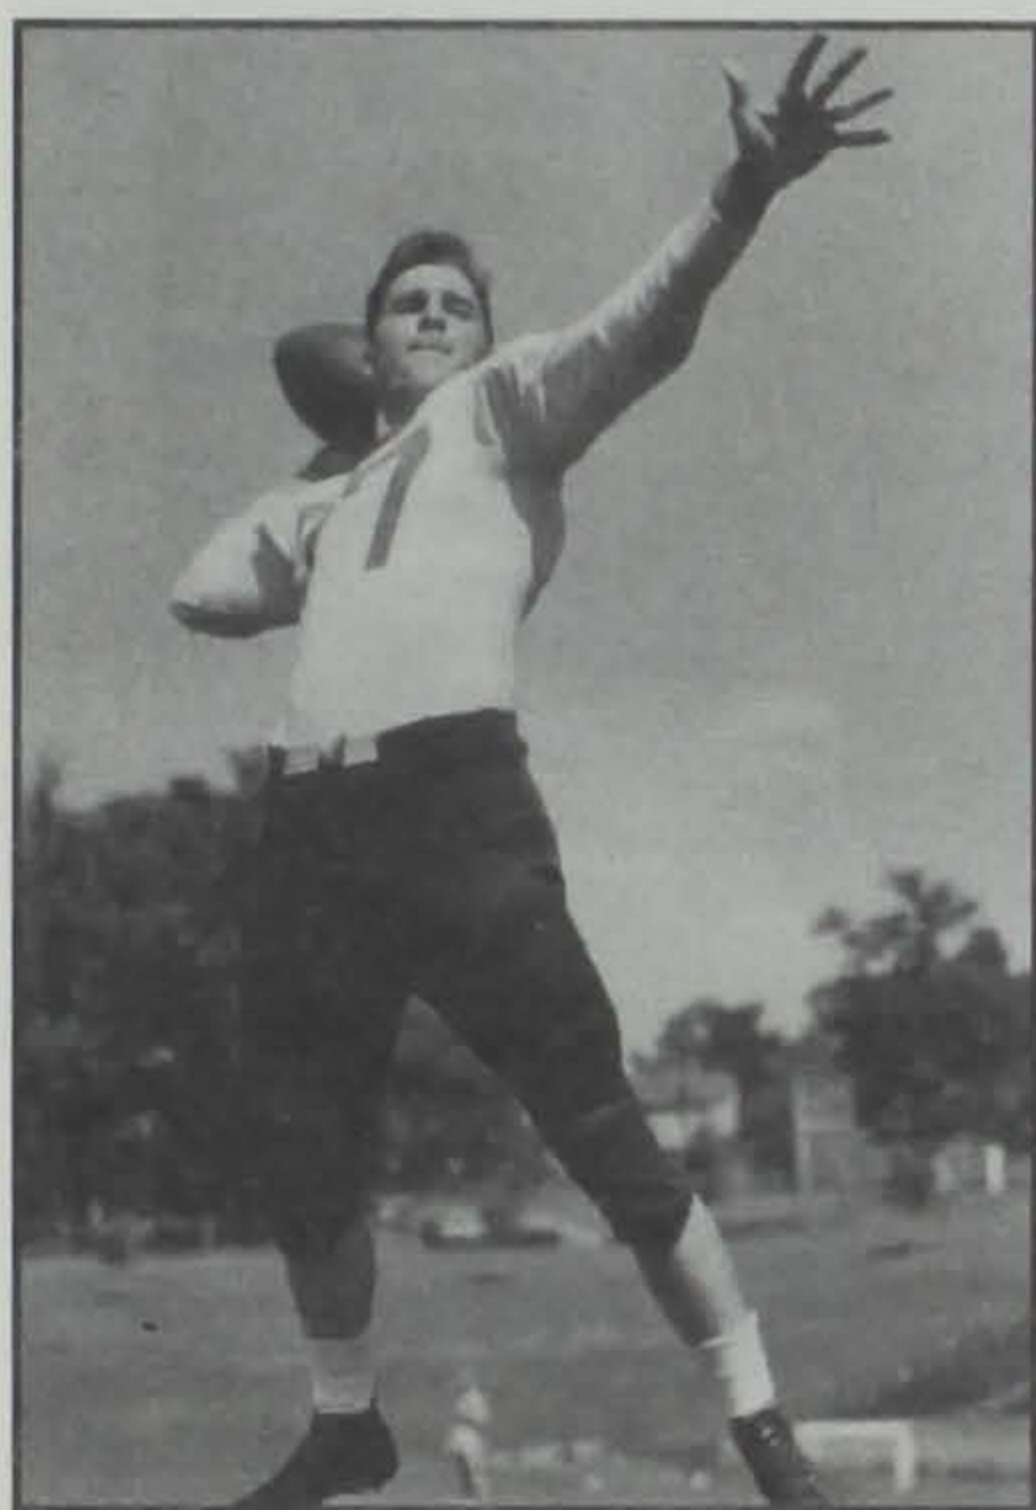

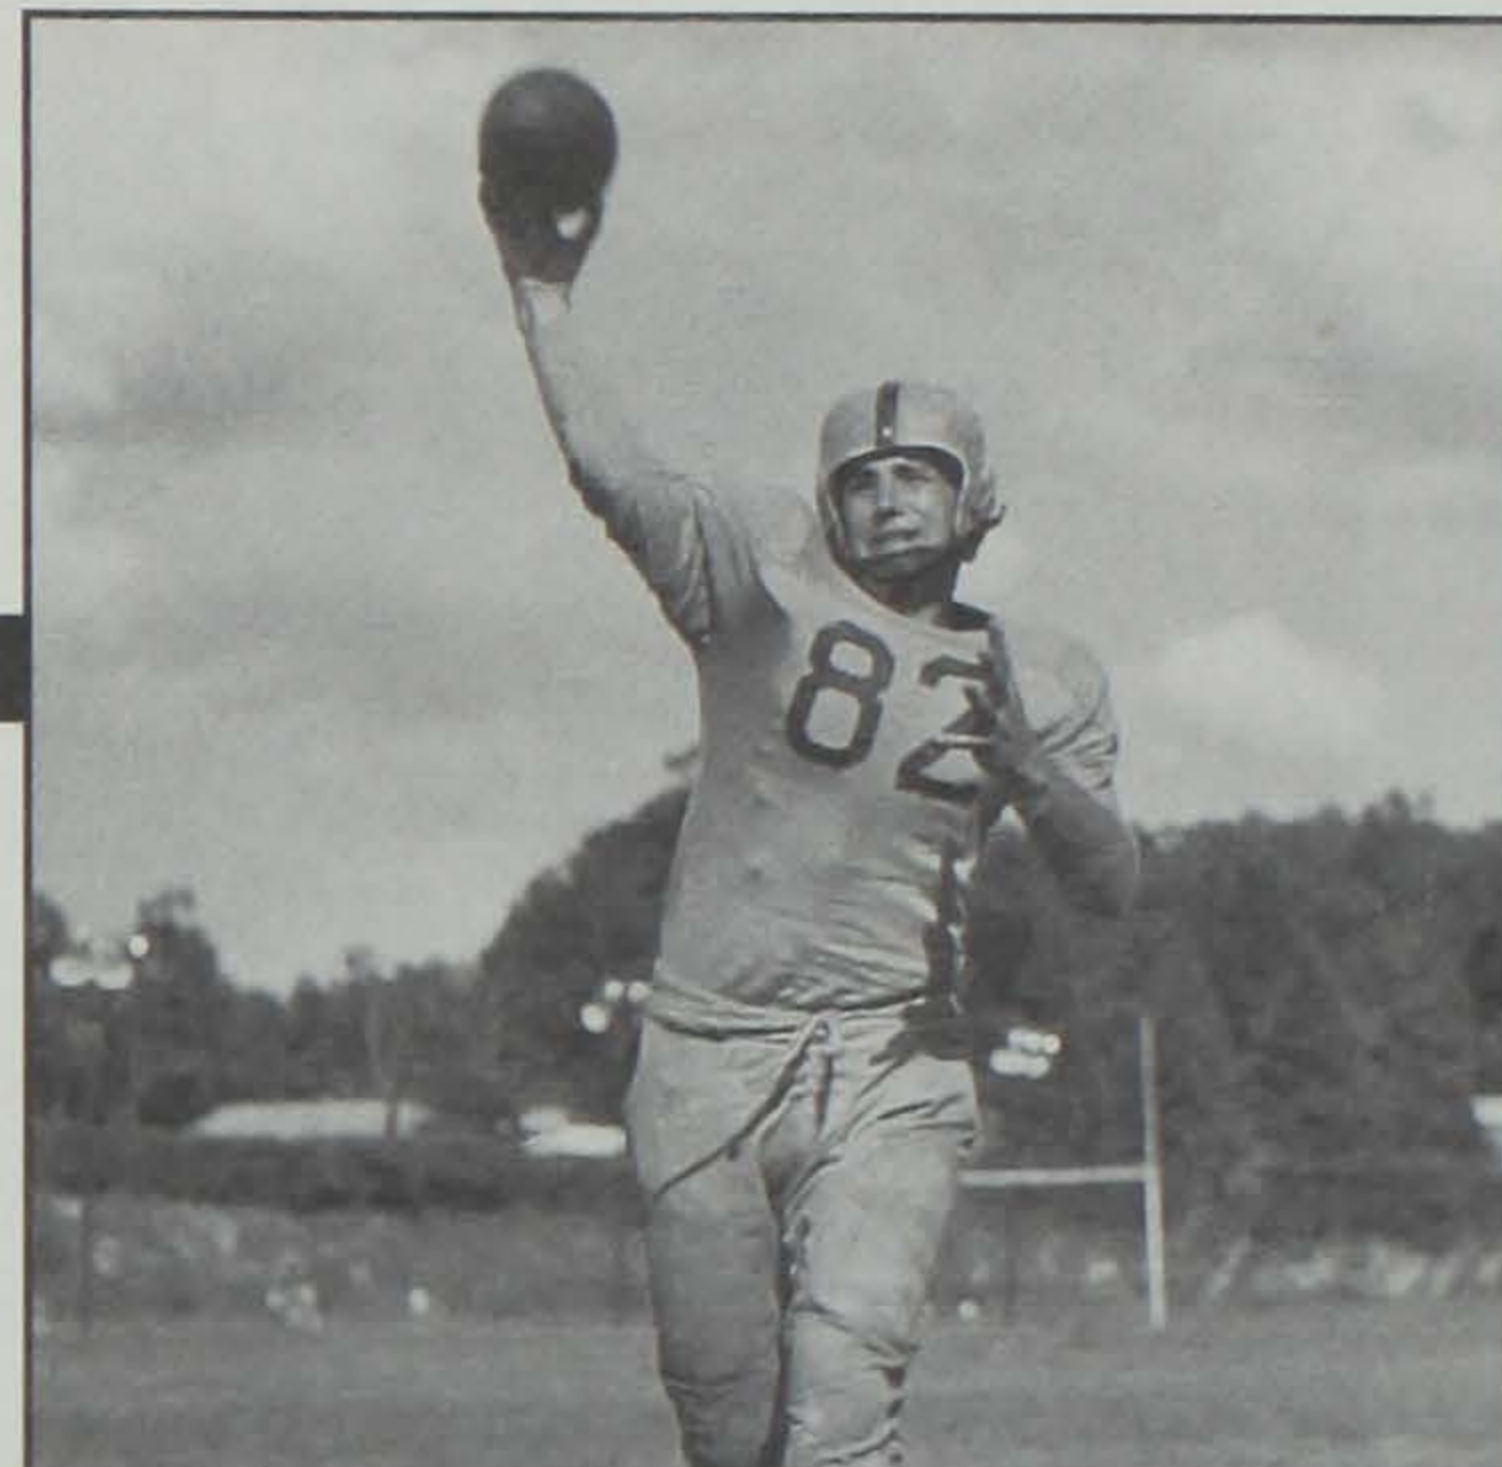

November 22, 1941—The Tigers put on the greatest rushing defense exhibition in Clemson history, holding Furman to -21 yards rushing in a 34-6 victory in Greenville. Charlie Timmons scored three touchdowns and added four extra points in his final game as a Tiger. The 22 points scored rank sixth best in Clemson history for a single game by an individual. But, Timmons was not the leading rusher in the game as teammate Sid Tinsley picked up 127 yards on just seven attempts.

Clemson 24, Missouri 23

Clemson's 1948 season is still a cornerstone of Tiger football history. A team laddened with sophomores, ran off an 11-0 record, the only 11-0 team in college football that year. Fred Cone (left) and Ray Mathews (right) were two of the young players who provided a spark for a Clemson team that outscored the opposition 274-76. Both were mainstays of the 1950 Clemson team that was also undefeated.

The 1948 season culminated in an exciting victory over Missouri in the Gator Bowl. A record crowd watched Jack Miller (with Jim Miller holding at bottom) boot a fourth-quarter 32-yard field goal that proved to be the winning points.

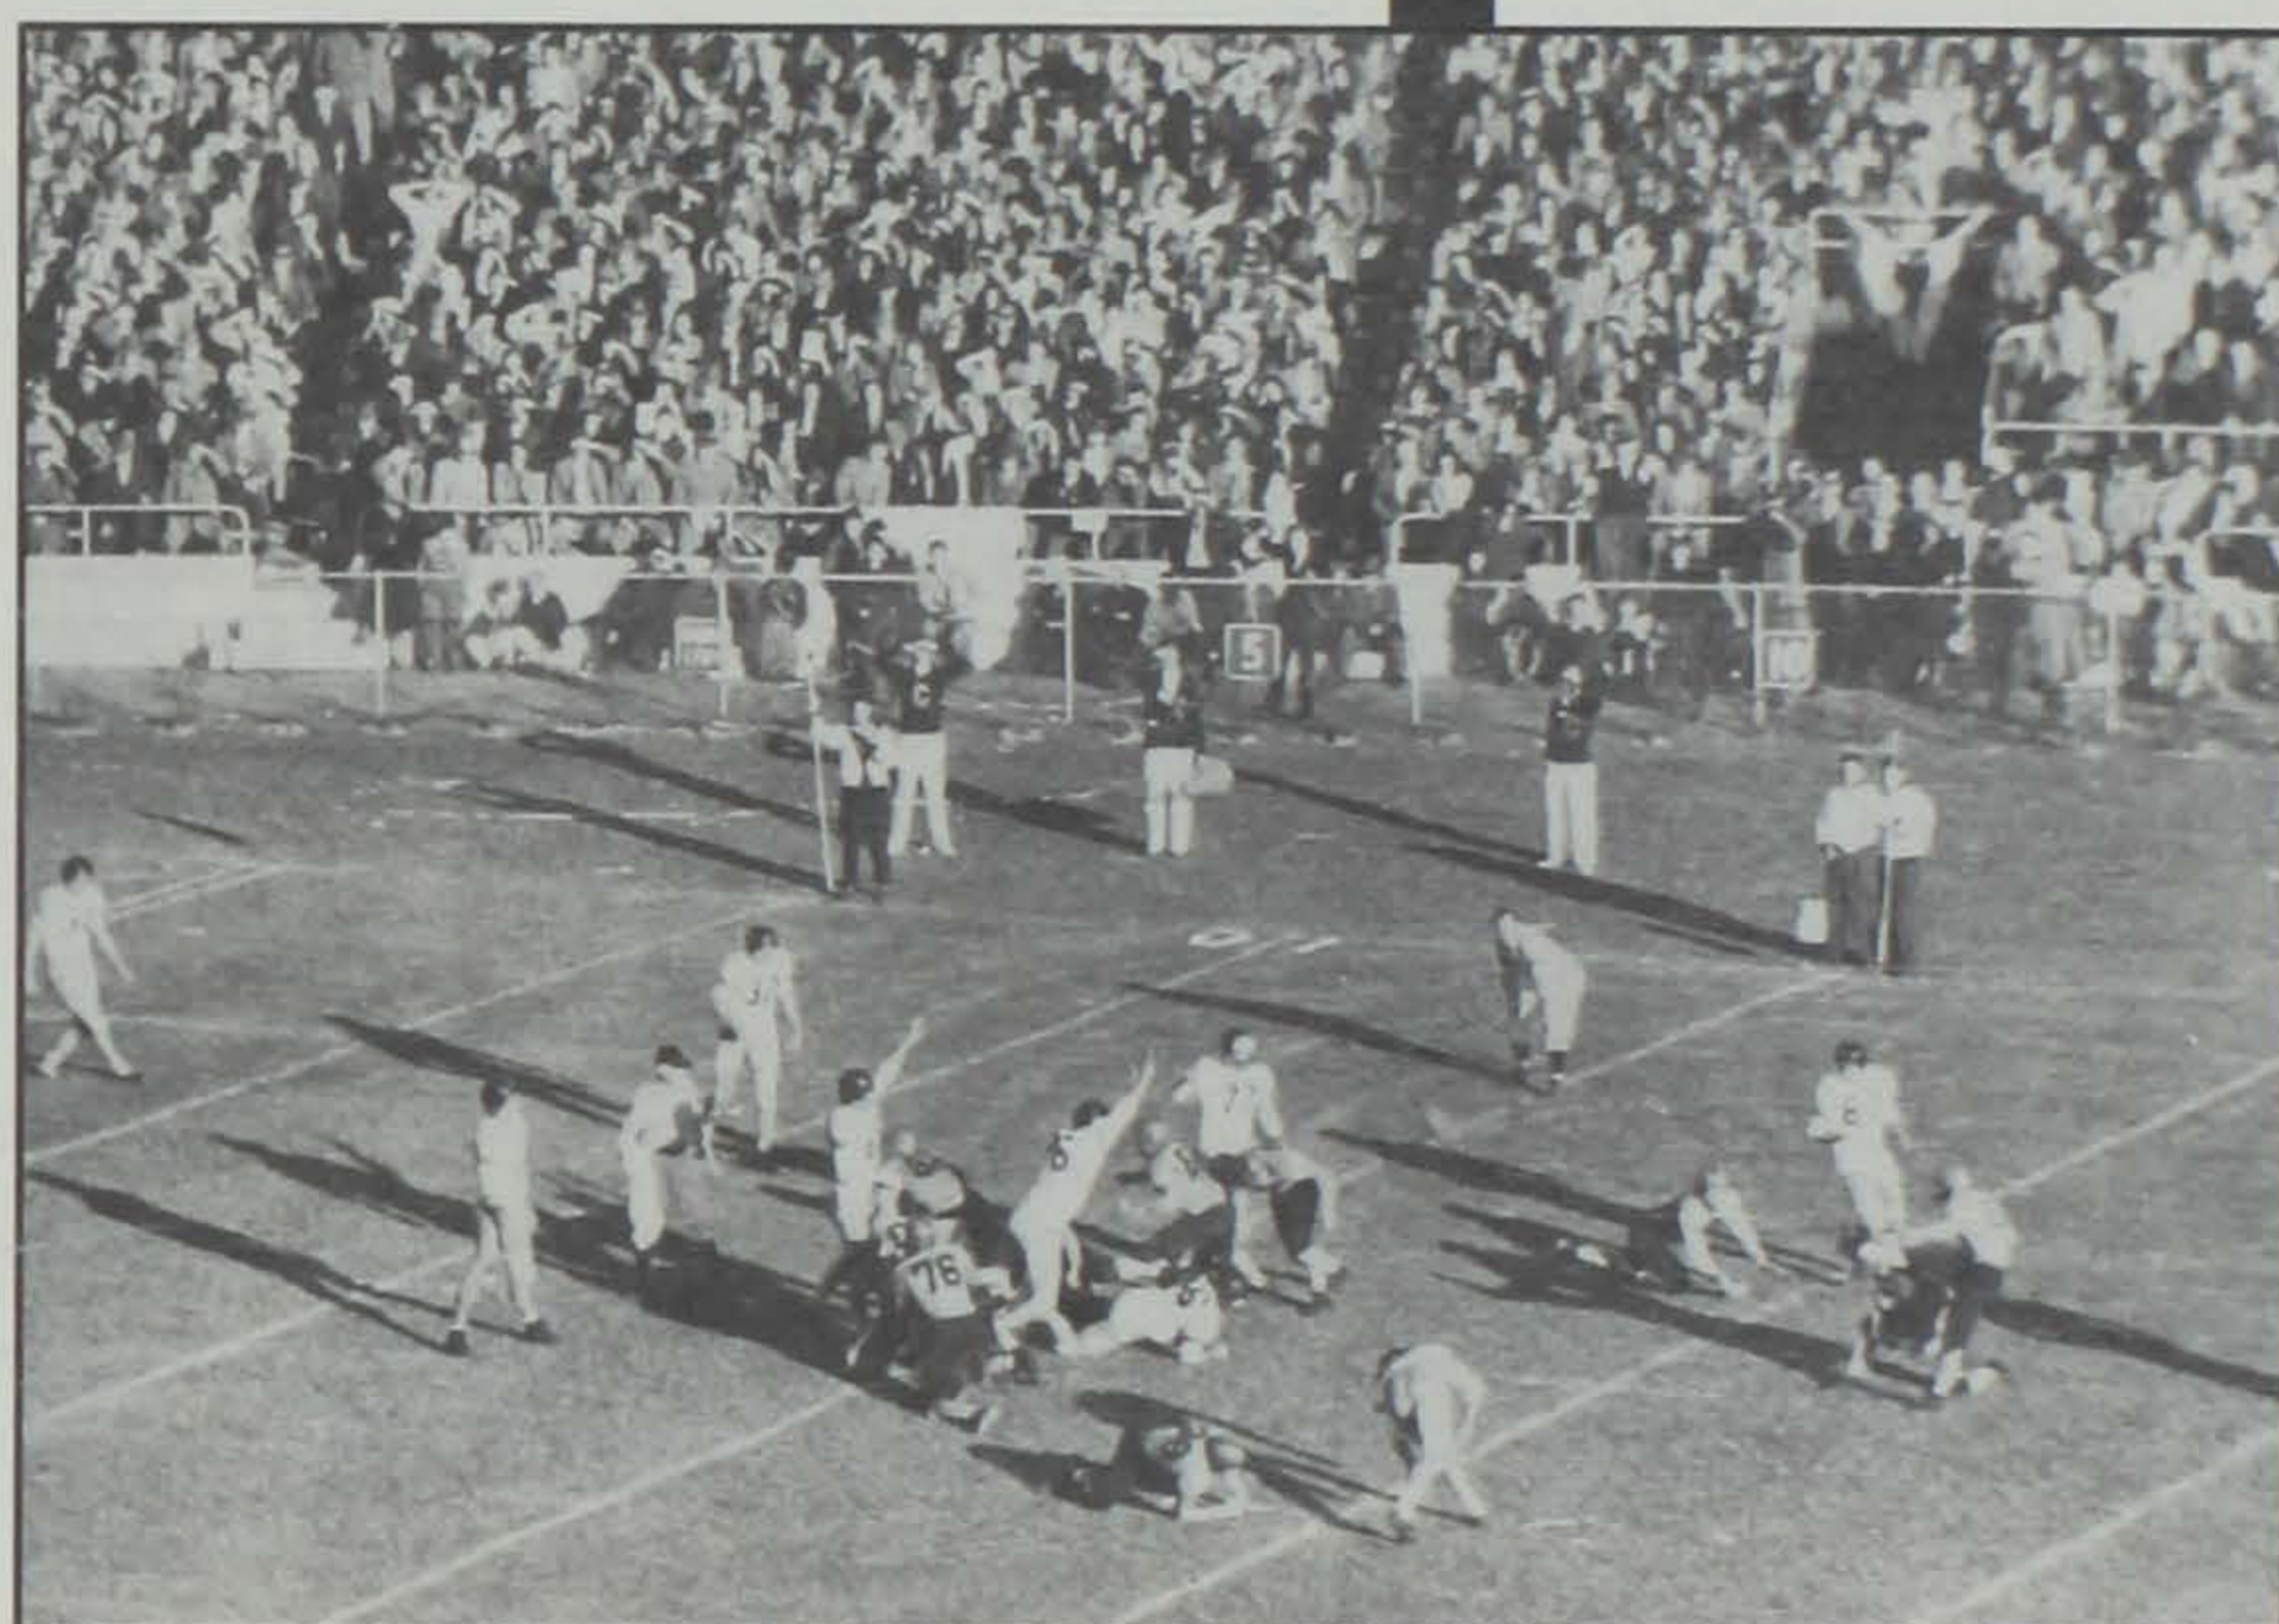

Bobby Gage

After reading our account of the 1930s, you might think Banks McFadden was the greatest all-around football player Clemson has ever seen. That is probably true, but a look to the stats tells us Bobby Gage is on his tail.

Gage did everything, his stats in the Clemson press guide take up over an inch of copy. He passed for 2,448 yards, rushed for 1,309, had 10 interceptions, average 23 yards a kickoff return, 11 yards a punt return, threw 24 touchdown passes, and he even punted 126 times. He still holds many Clemson records, including the single game total offense mark (374 vs. Auburn in 1947).

September 19, 1942—Clemson Memorial Stadium opened, and the Tigers ran down the hill for the first time. Butch Butler gained 192 yards, as the Tigers opened the new stadium in front of 5,500 with a 32-13 win over Presbyterian. It was the most yards rushing by a Tiger in the decade of the 1940s. High school students were admitted for 25 cents, while servicemen were allowed in for 50 cents.

September 25, 1943—World War II took virtually all of Clemson's veteran players and the Tigers started nine first-year freshmen at the 11 positions in a 13-12 loss to Presbyterian. Clemson had just a 2-6 record this season with no one older than a sophomore playing in a game as the armed services took Clemson's entire junior and senior classes.

October 19, 1944—First rain at a Clemson-USC game since 1896. Despite the conditions, Sid Tinsley rushed for 146 yards in 22 carries to lead the Tigers to a 20-13 victory.

September 22, 1945—Fourteen Clemson backs netted 516 yards in a 76-0 win over Presbyterian. Freshman Bobby Gage led the Tigers with 144 yards, including 88 on a touchdown run, the longest run from scrim-maged by a Tiger in the decade of the 1940s. The Tigers had 11 rushing touchdowns in the game, still a Clemson record.

October 24, 1946—The Clemson vs. South Carolina game was played under unusual circumstances. Counterfeit tickets had been printed and 10,000 more people than the capacity showed up for the game. Fans stormed the gates and stood on the sidelines, even on the field at the opposite end of the field when the game action was taking place. Coach Howard recalls fans standing next to him on the sideline telling him what plays to run. South Carolina won on this bizarre day, 26-14.

September 24, 1947—Clemson flew to Boston College on an Eastern Airline DC-4. This marked the first time that a state football team had flown to a football game. The quicker traveling did not help, however as Boston College defeated the Tigers, 32-22.

November 8, 1947—Clemson began a 15-game winning streak, the longest in school history, with a win over Furman, 35-7.

November 22, 1947—Bobby Gage ran for 141 yards and passed for 233 as he led Clemson to a 34-18 win over Auburn. Gage threw four touchdown passes and had 374 yards total offense to his credit, both still Clemson records. Hank Walker was Gage's favorite receiver as he pulled in 10 passes for 148 yards. It is still the second most receptions in a single game in Clemson history and the yardage total is the sixth best. It was the first time in Clemson history and one of just five times overall that the Tigers have had a 100-yard rusher, a 100-yard receiver and a 200-yard passer in the same game. The Clemson defense was also outstanding, holding Auburn to -9 yards rushing.

June 1, 1948—Frank Gillespie was named the Southern Conference athlete of the year. Gillespie played football, basketball and baseball during the academic year and is still the only Clemson athlete to be named a conference athlete of the year.

September 25, 1948—Clemson defeated Presbyterian 53-0 in the first night game at Clemson. Clemson also defeated N.C. State, 6-0, in a home night game the following week.

October 2, 1948—Gage continued his All-America triple threat season by returning a punt 90 yards for a touchdown in Clemson's 6-0 win over N.C. State at Death

Undefeated in 1950

Clemson posted its second undefeated season within a three-year span when it finished with a 9-0-1 record. Four players had as much to do with the success as any. Ray Mathews was an all-purpose player who still ranks among the best in Clemson history in all-purpose running. Wyndie Wyndham is still regarded as one of the hardest hitting linebackers in Clemson history. Fred Cone was, "the best player I ever had," said Frank Howard, and Jackie Calvert was an All-America safety.

Game Winning Safety

The most famous tackle in Clemson history probably took place in the 1951 Orange Bowl. Clemson trailed Miami (FL) 14-13 with six minutes left when second-team middle guard Sterling Smith broke through the line to tackle Miami's Frank Smith for a safety and a 15-14 Tiger lead.

Glenn Smith

One of the oldest records on the Clemson books is touchdown receptions. Glenn Smith caught 18 between 1950-52, a record that still stands today. He averaged 22.6 yards per catch and caught six scoring passes in the 1950 season.

Valley. To this day it is still the longest punt return in the history of the stadium by a Clemson player.

October 21, 1948—A 14th-ranked Clemson team defeated South Carolina 13-7 in Columbia. Captain Phil Prince was the hero for the Tigers as he blocked a South Carolina punt with just 4:15 left in the contest. Oscar Thompson recovered it at the 11 and ran it in for a touchdown, giving Clemson the 13-7 lead.

November 6, 1948—Bobby Gage put on the greatest passing exhibition in Clemson history in a 41-0 win over Furman. He completed 9-11 passes for 245 yards and two touchdowns. His efficiency rating of 310.7 is still a Clemson record for a minimum of 10 attempts. He averaged an incredible 22 yards per attempt, a record by far in Clemson history. The defense was just as effective, holding the Paladins to -12 yards in total offense, still the best total defense effort in Clemson history for a single game.

November 22, 1948—The Tigers were ranked number-nine in the AP poll, their highest ranking in history. Eight voters ranked Clemson number-one in the nation.

November 27, 1948—Clemson accepted a bid to play in the Gator Bowl after it beat Auburn 7-6 in a hard fought game played in Mobile, AL. It was Clemson's first bowl bid since the 1939 season. Ray Mathews scored on a one-yard run with just 6:35 left to give Clemson its only lead of the game.

November 29, 1948—Clemson ranked 11th in the final AP poll. Again Clemson suffered from not having a poll after the bowl games. Clemson won another regular season game, then defeated Missouri in the Gator Bowl to close a perfect season. But, these wins were not reflected in the final ranking. The AP did not have a post-bowl poll until 1968.

December 4, 1948—Clemson closed out its perfect regular season with a 20-0 win over The Citadel in a game played in Charleston. The December 4 date is the second latest regular season game in Clemson history. The 10th ranked Tigers did not allow The Citadel to make a first down in the game, the only recorded time in Clemson history that the Tigers did not allow a first down. The Bulldogs also failed to complete a pass in the contest.

The victory was Clemson's sixth road win of the year, a record that still stands for road wins in a season. Only two Clemson teams have had a perfect road record since 1948 and that was the 1981 National Championship team and the 1995 Tigers.

December 6, 1948—Frank Howard was named Southern Conference Coach of the Year, his first of three Coach of the Year selections in his career.

January 1, 1949—The Tigers won the Gator Bowl by a 24-23 score over Missouri. Fred Cone scored two first-quarter touchdowns for the Tigers as Clemson raced to a 14-0 lead. After Missouri tied the game, Gage threw a nine-yard scoring pass to John Poulos, a play that completed an 80-yard drive. Jack Miller's 32-yard field goal in the fourth quarter proved to be the winning margin. Missouri would score a late touchdown to come within 24-23. But that was the final score. You could not go for two points in those days, so Missouri did not have the opportunity to tie the score after their touchdown that took place with less than five minutes left. Both teams had exactly 298 yards of total offense in the game.

Clemson closed the season with a perfect 11-0 record, the only team in college football with 11 wins that year and one of just three with a perfect record. Notre Dame and Michigan were both 9-0-0 that season, but did not play in a bowl game.

Kissing Big Thursday Goodbye

For the first 57 games of the series, Clemson always traveled to Columbia to play arch-rival South Carolina. Most of those contests were played on a Thursday in October. The final game of the contract that called for Clemson to play every year in Columbia was played in 1959 and the Tigers took the game, 27-0 behind the 9-10 passing of Harvey White.

Bill Mathis

Mathis was an All-ACC back who was one of Clemson's best all-around players in the decade of the 1950s. He went on to a career with the New York Jets and became the first Clemson player to win a Super Bowl Championship ring.

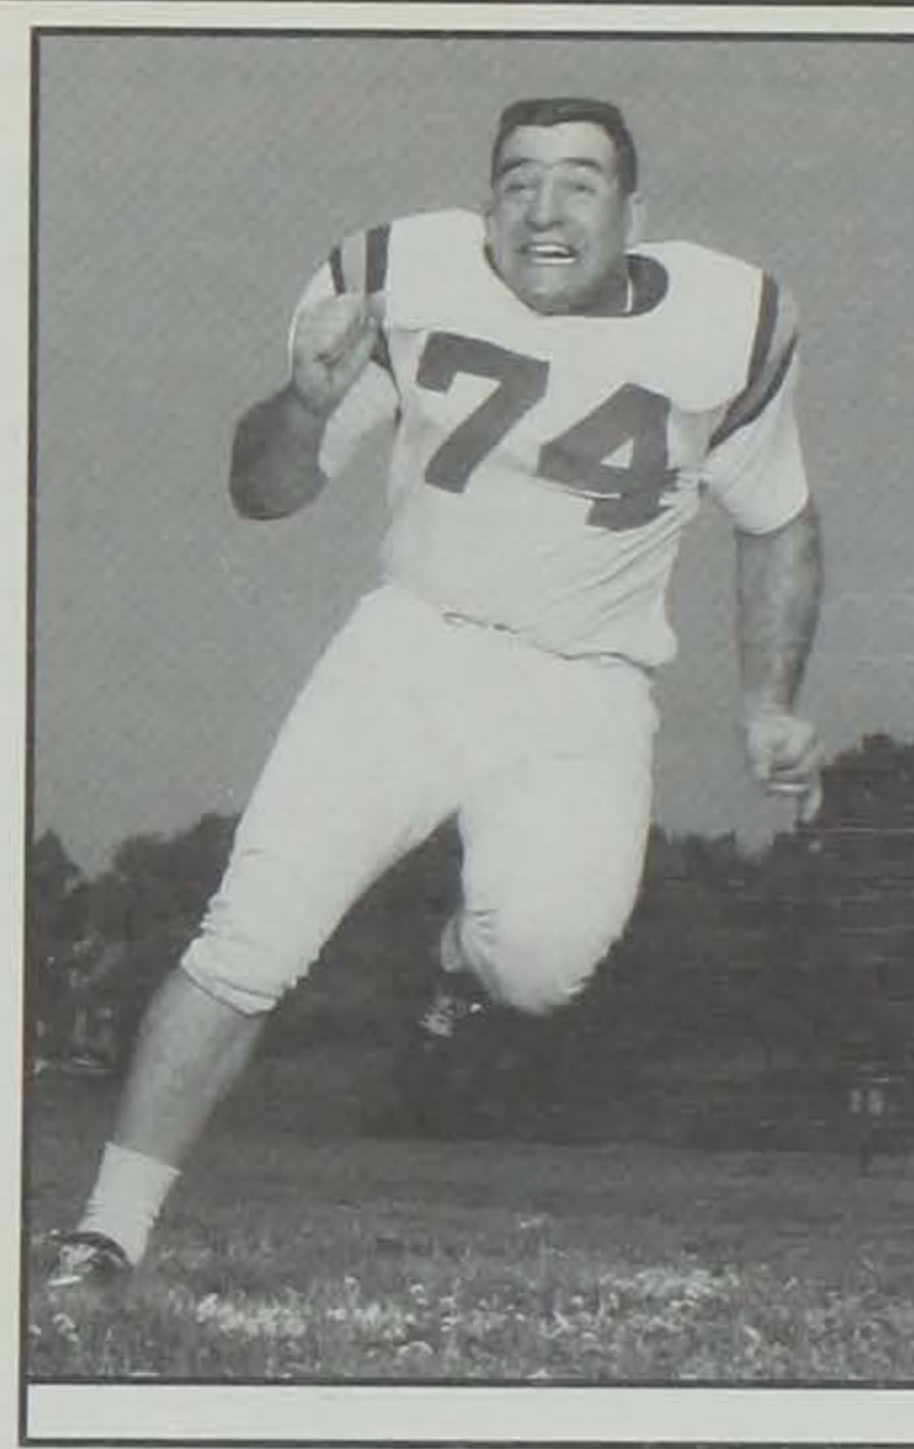

Harvey White

Harvey White was a reliable quarterback who was All-ACC as a sophomore in 1957, Clemson's first All-ACC quarterback. He had a passing efficiency rating of 154 in 1957, still second best in Clemson history.

Lou Cordileone

Big Lou Cordileone of Jersey City, NJ, became the first Clemson player in history to earn first-team on the field and academic All-American honors in the same year.

November 26, 1949—Clemson closed out the decade of the 1940s with a 20-20 tie against Auburn in Mobile, AL. Clemson had just 4-4-2 record but closed 2-0-1 over the last three games, giving the program momentum heading into the 1950 season.

September 30, 1950—Clemson defeated Missouri 34-0 in the second game of the season. The Tigers of Columbia, MO had been ranked in the preseason top 20. Three Tigers rushed for at least 100 yards for the Tigers, the second straight game Frank Howard had three 100-yard rushers in the same game. It has happened just four total times in Clemson history.

October 7, 1950—Clemson recorded its third straight shutout to open the season with a 27-0 win over N.C. State in a home night game. Wyndie Windham again led the Clemson defense in tackles in this game and according to legend knocked out N.C. State players on three consecutive plays in this game.

October 28, 1950—Clemson defeated Wake Forest in Winston-Salem in a battle of top 20 teams, 13-12. Clemson lineman, Bob Patton, blocked the extra point in the final minute to preserve the victory for Clemson. It is the only time in Clemson history that a Tiger has blocked a kick on the last play of the game to give Clemson a victory.

November 28, 1950—Clemson accepted a bid to play in the Orange Bowl.

January 1, 1951—Clemson appeared in the Orange Bowl for the first time and squeaked out a 15-14 win over Miami to complete an undefeated season. Sterling Smith's tackle of Frank Smith in the end zone gave Clemson a safety with under six minutes left in the game and the Tigers the victory. Don Wade also had two interceptions in the contest for the Tigers. It was Clemson's second undefeated season in the last three years for Frank Howard's Tigers.

November 27, 1951—Clemson accepted a bid to play in the Gator Bowl. This was done against the wishes of the Southern Conference, who had made a rule its members could not go to a bowl game. Clemson and Maryland (who also accepted a bowl bid) were given sanctions. The two teams were told they would not be allowed to play any other conference teams in 1952. This resulted in teams leaving the Southern Conference and forming the ACC.

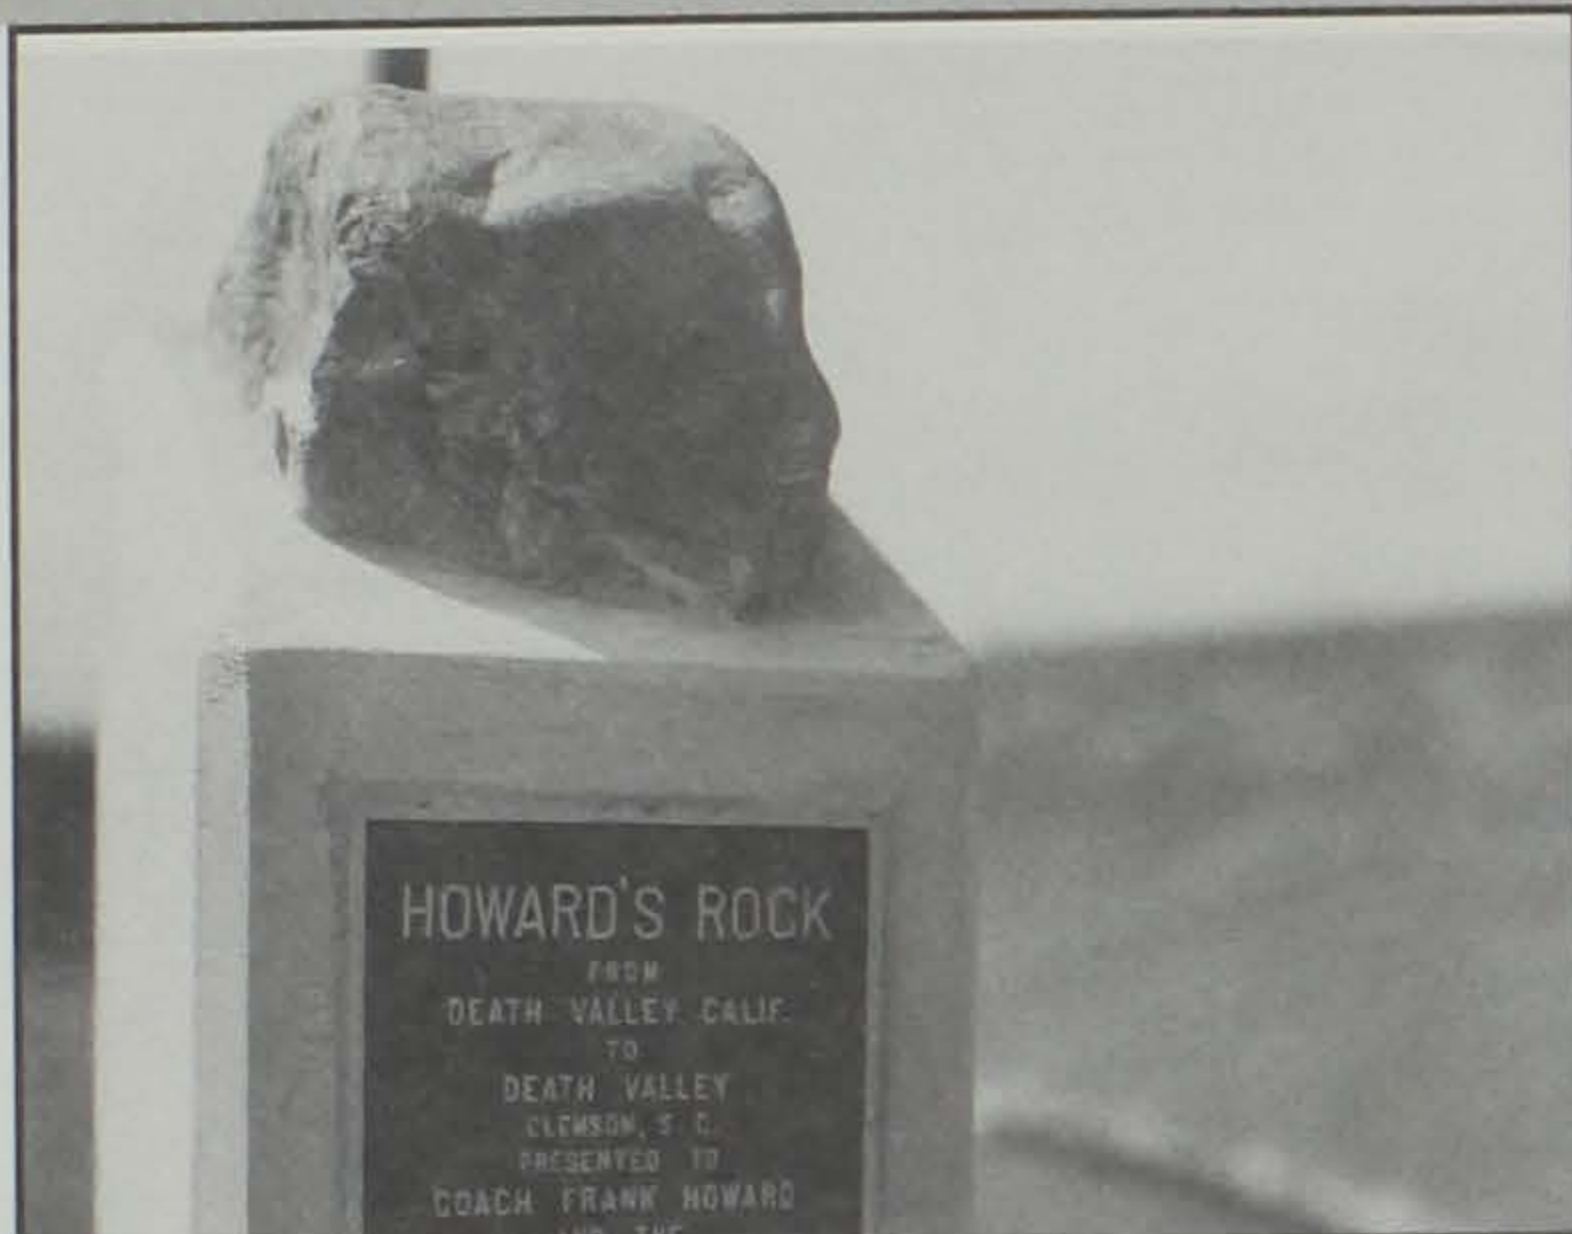

November 8, 1952—Don King, making his first and only career start at tailback, rushed for 234 yards on 33 carries in Clemson's 12-12 tie at Fordham. The performance is still a record for a Clemson freshman and still stands as the third highest single game total in Clemson history. King was substituting for an injured Clemson tailback and returned to quarterback the next week. He never played tailback again.

May 8, 1953—Clemson joined the Atlantic Coast Conference.

October 31, 1953—Clemson won its first ACC game in history, 18-0 over Wake Forest in a contest played at Clemson.

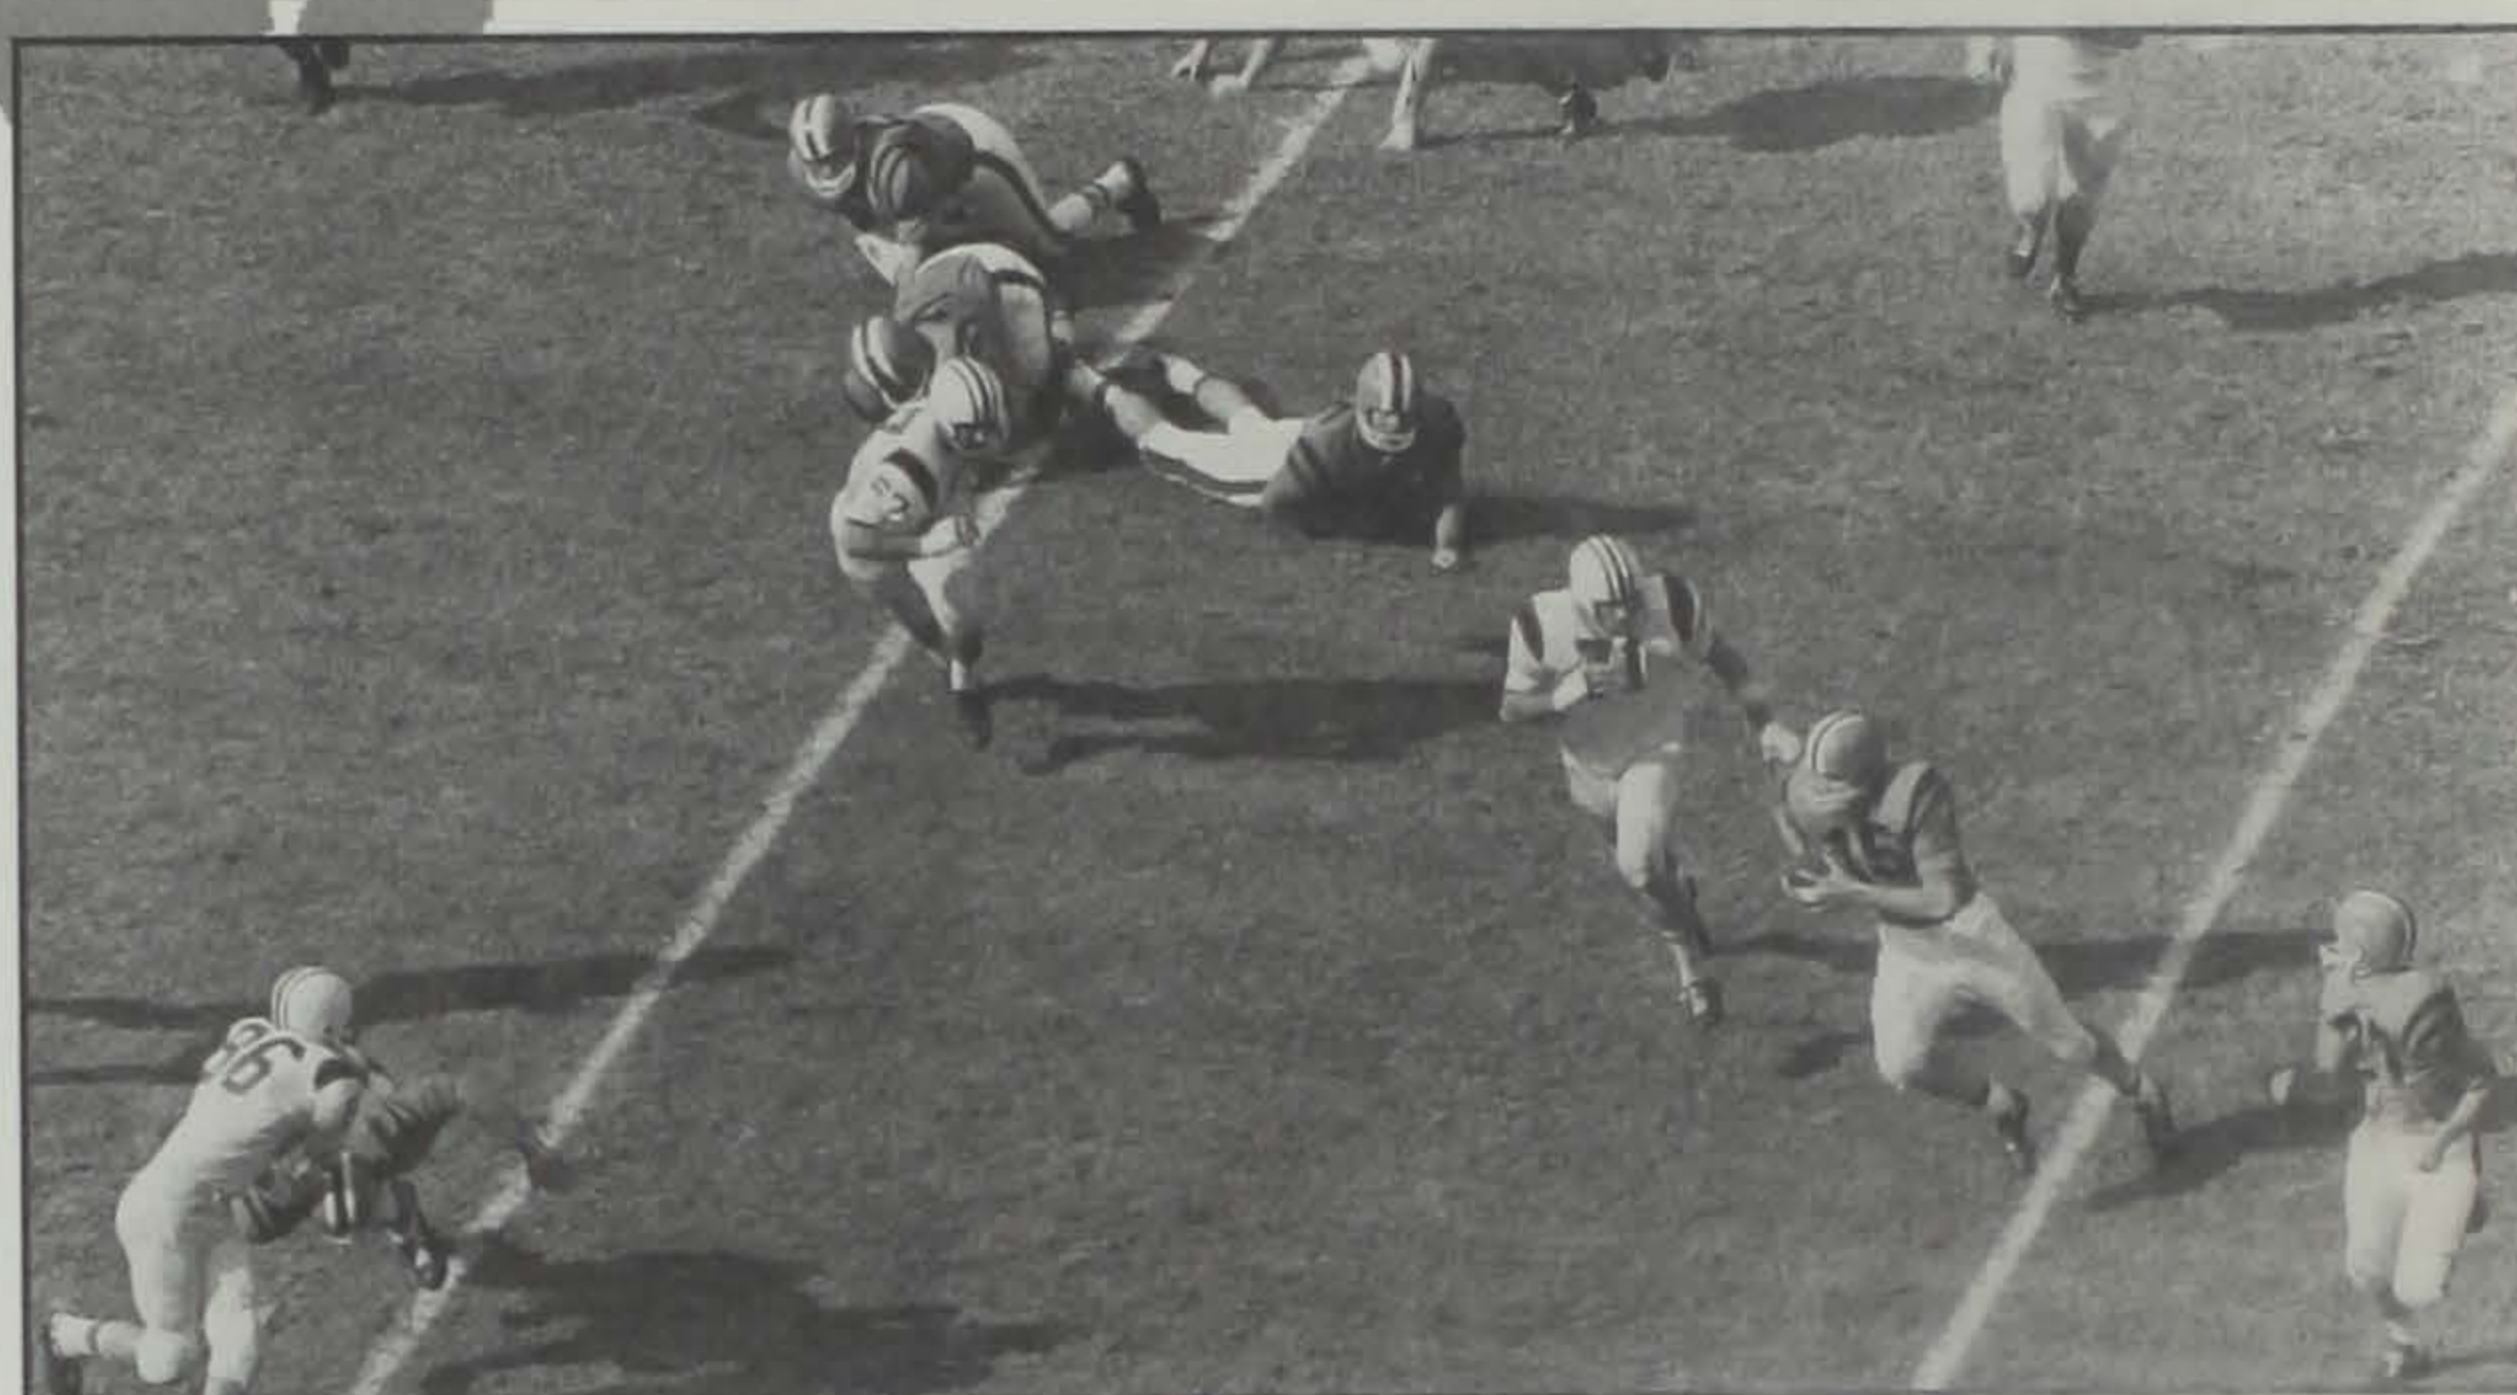

October 9, 1954—Clemson upset 14th ranked Florida in Jacksonville, 14-7.

November 16, 1956—Vice President Richard Nixon was in attendance at the Clemson-Miami football game on this date. Surrounded by security from various agencies, a loud explosion sounded and alarmed the body guard along with the Vice President. To everyone's relief, it was discovered that it was just the cannon fired off by a Clemson cheerleader when Clemson kicked off. The eighth-ranked Hurricanes defeated the Tigers 21-0 in the game played at Miami, FL.

Howard's Rock

While the Tigers had run down the hill since 1942, Howard's Rock was not installed until 1966. It was the brainchild of then IPTAY Executive Secretary Gene Willimon who retrieved the rock from Frank Howard's office.

South Carolina Comes to Clemson

On November 12, 1960, South Carolina finally came to Death Valley for a football game. The Tiger won the much anticipated game 12-2.

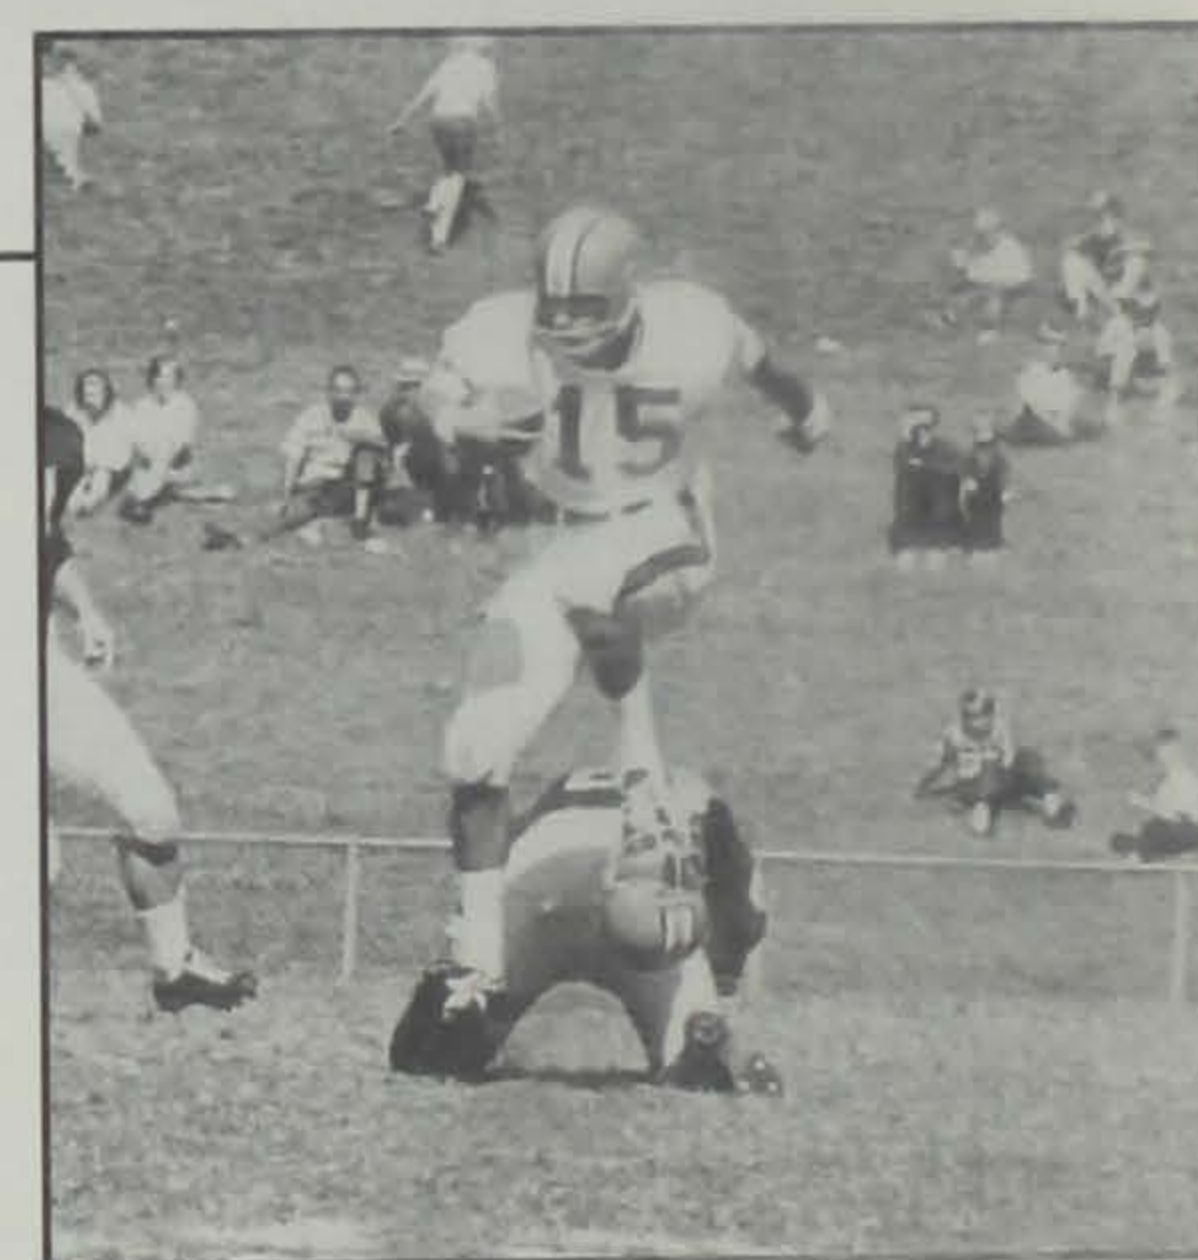

Buddy Gore

No running back was as dominant or reliable in the 1960s than Buddy Gore. He was the ACC Player-of-the-Year in 1967, Clemson's only ACC Player-of-the-Year in the decade of the 1960s. His 1,045 yards rushing in just 10 games in 1967 set a conference record.

Clemson 40, Virginia 35

The first time Howard's Rock was present for a game in Death Valley its mystical powers became omnipresent. Clemson overcame an 18-point deficit with 17 minutes left to defeat Virginia.

November 24, 1956—Clemson defeated Virginia 7-0 at Clemson to clinch the Tigers first ever ACC Championship.

December 1, 1956—Clemson clinched an Orange Bowl berth with a 28-7 win over Furman at Clemson.

January 1, 1957—Colorado defeated Clemson 27-21 in an exciting Orange Bowl in Miami. Clemson had trailed 20-0 at the half and Frank Howard threatened to resign at halftime. But, the Tigers came back to take a 21-20 lead in fourth period, only to see the Buffalos score late to win the game.

March 25, 1957—It was announced that Clemson and South Carolina would play at Clemson on November 12, 1960 ending the 61-year old state classic, Big Thursday.

September 20, 1958—Clemson ran down the hill on a rug for the first time. The rug was officially given to Clemson on this date before the Clemson-Virginia game by W.W.Pate, Sr., president of Wunda Weave Company. It measured 104 feet long and was 13 feet wide. Also at this game, Clemson's first expansion of Memorial Stadium was used for the first time. Memorial Stadium was expanded from 20,000 to 38,000 seats.

September 27, 1958—Clemson defeated North Carolina, 26-21, as Frank Howard picked up his 100th collegiate coaching win. Doug Cline scored on a two-yard run with 2:52 left to give Clemson the victory. It was one of four times in 1958 that Clemson scored a touchdown in the last quarter to win the game. Also the scoreboard at the east end of the stadium was used for the first time. The scoreboard had an added feature, as the Tiger above the scoreboard still wags his tail after each Clemson touchdown.

October 6, 1958—Clemson was ranked eighth in the country, the highest ranking in Clemson history, at that time.

October 11, 1958—Clemson kept its top 10 ranking alive with a 12-7 win at Vanderbilt. Harvey White scored the game winner on a three-yard run with three seconds left to win the game. It is the latest game-winning touchdown in Clemson history.

November 19, 1958—Clemson defeated N.C. State 13-6 and won its second ACC title in three years.

November 29, 1958—Clemson accepted a Sugar Bowl bid to face the number-one team in the nation, LSU.

December 24, 1958—It was announced that Clemson would take the rug the Tigers used to run down the hill with them to the Sugar Bowl. The rug weighed 527 pounds.

December 27, 1958—Clemson announced it would wear navy blue jerseys with wide numerals front and back. Orange helmets with a white stripe from back to front in the center would also be worn to give a contrasting color for the nationwide television coverage of the game.

January 1, 1959—Number-one ranked LSU and Heisman Trophy winner Billy Cannon defeated Clemson 7-0 in the Sugar Bowl. Cannon, a halfback, threw a touchdown pass to give LSU and Paul Dietzel the national championship clinching victory. It was the first time Clemson had ever played the number-one team.

September 19, 1959—Clemson defeated North Carolina in Chapel Hill, 20-18 in a battle of top 20 teams. The Tar Heels were ranked 12th in the preseason poll.

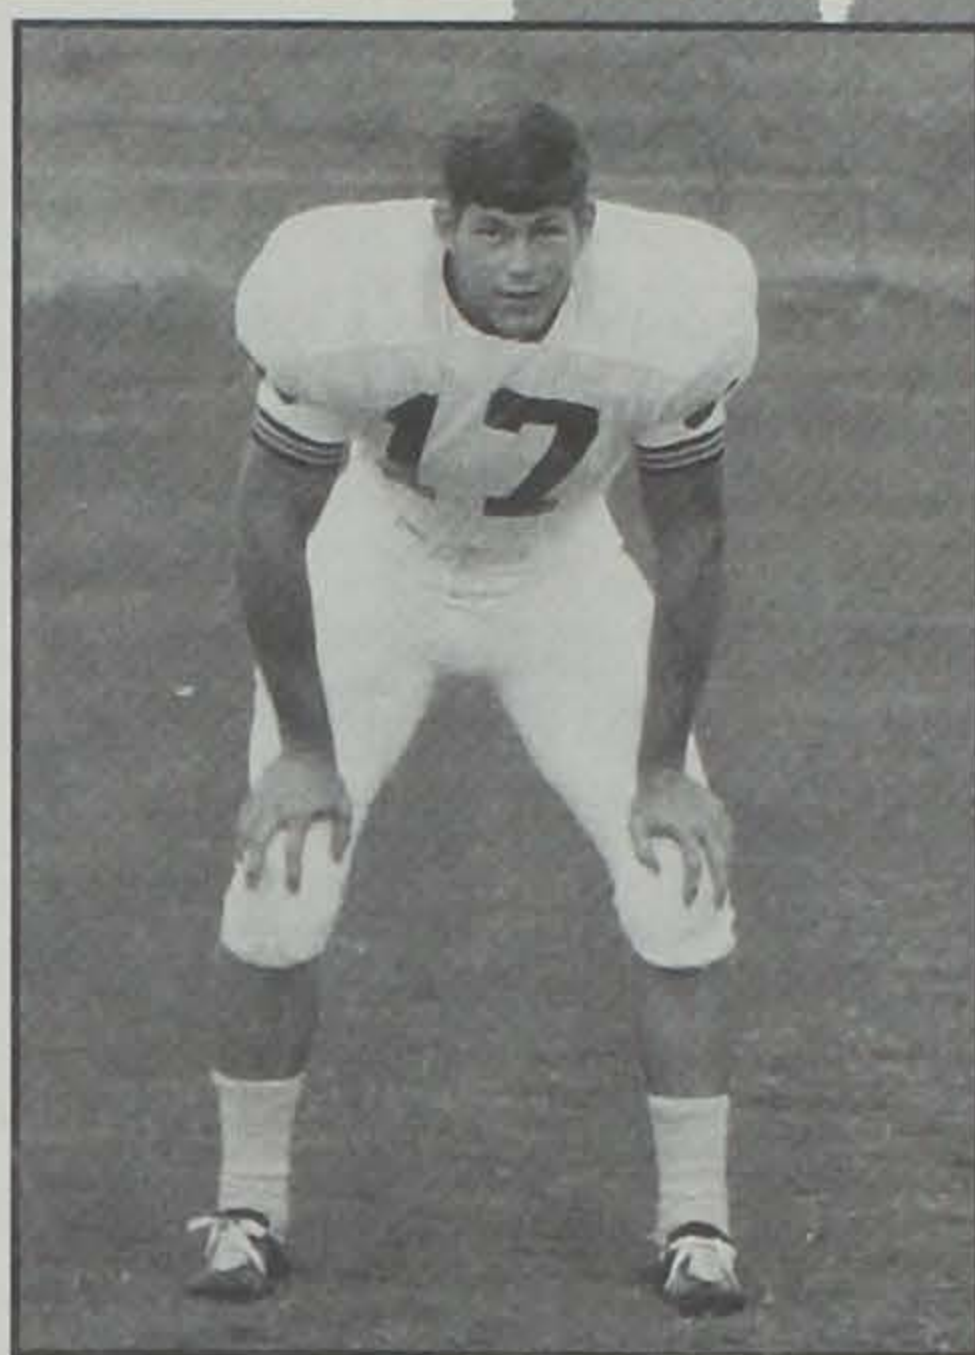

October 22, 1959—Clemson won the last Big Thursday game by defeating South Carolina, 27-0. Harvey White was on target all day, hitting 9-10 passes for 162 yards and two scores. Clemson fans tore down

Jimmy Addison

Jimmy Addison was one of the top all-around student-athletes in Clemson history. He was known as "The Needle" for his accurate passing on the field and he was also an Academic All-American off the field.

Charlie Waters

Charlie Waters was a record setting wide receiver during his Clemson career, in fact he still holds the receptions/game mark for a season. He went on to an All-Pro career as a defensive back in the NFL with the Dallas Cowboys.

Larry Hefner

One of Clemson's top linebackers of the early 1970s was Larry Hefner. He went on to a six year career in the NFL.

Howard Retires

Frank Howard retired after the 1969 season. One of his last great wins was a triumph in Atlanta against Georgia Tech and his players carried him off the field. He remained on staff as Athletic Director until 1971. He was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1989.

and two scores. Clemson fans tore down the steel goal posts which were set in concrete following the game.

November 21, 1959—Clemson defeated Wake Forest 33-31 for Clemson's second ACC title in a row. George Usry scored on a one-yard run with 4:24 to go to give Clemson the triumph.

December 19, 1959—Clemson defeated TCU in the Bluebonnet Bowl, 23-7. The Horned Frogs, led by All-American and future Dallas Cowboy Bob Lilly, were ranked seventh in the nation entering the game. The victory was also the 300th in Clemson history.

October 1, 1960—The west stands were used for the first time, as Clemson defeated Virginia Tech, 13-7.

October 8, 1960—Clemson defeated Virginia 21-7 and used special pants for rain protection in this game. After the contest Clemson sent the pants to Greenville and allowed Furman to use the pants for a game that night against William and Mary. Furman Head Coach Bob King said, "after those big Clemson boys got out of them some of our guys had a hard time making them stay up and we had to tape the legs of the pants for several players." The pants beat two teams from Virginia on the same day.

November 12, 1960—Clemson defeated South Carolina, 12-2, in the first ever appearance for South Carolina at Clemson.

November 11, 1961—A team resembling Clemson entered the field prior to the meeting with South Carolina. They did a few serious calisthenics and then started dancing to band music. The team was actually members of the Sigma Nu Fraternity of South Carolina. Clemson students entered the field and worked some of the imposters over. Finally state police brought order to the field.

October 13, 1962—Hal Davis raced 98 yards with a kickoff return for a touchdown against Georgia, the last time a Tiger would return a kickoff for a score for 25 years.

November 17, 1962—Clemson upset Maryland as Rodney Rogers kicked a 23-yard field goal with 84 seconds left in the game.

November 24, 1962—Clemson defeated South Carolina seven days later as Rogers kicked a 24-yard field goal with 1:31 left. The Clemson Tigers wore blue jerseys in this game, the ones that were used in the Sugar Bowl game. Clemson claimed the 20-17 victory when South Carolina quarterback Dan Reeves was sacked deep in Clemson territory on the last play of the game.

October 12, 1963—Clemson and Georgia tied 7-7, but the main item of interest was the strange weather. A hail storm hit at 2:50 p.m. and caused temperatures to plummet from 84 degrees to 57 degrees in 45 minutes. Almost an inch of hail poured in a 20-minute period and the game was delayed. Clemson blocked two field goal attempts to preserve the tie.

November 23, 1963—The South Carolina-Clemson game was postponed due to the death of President Kennedy.

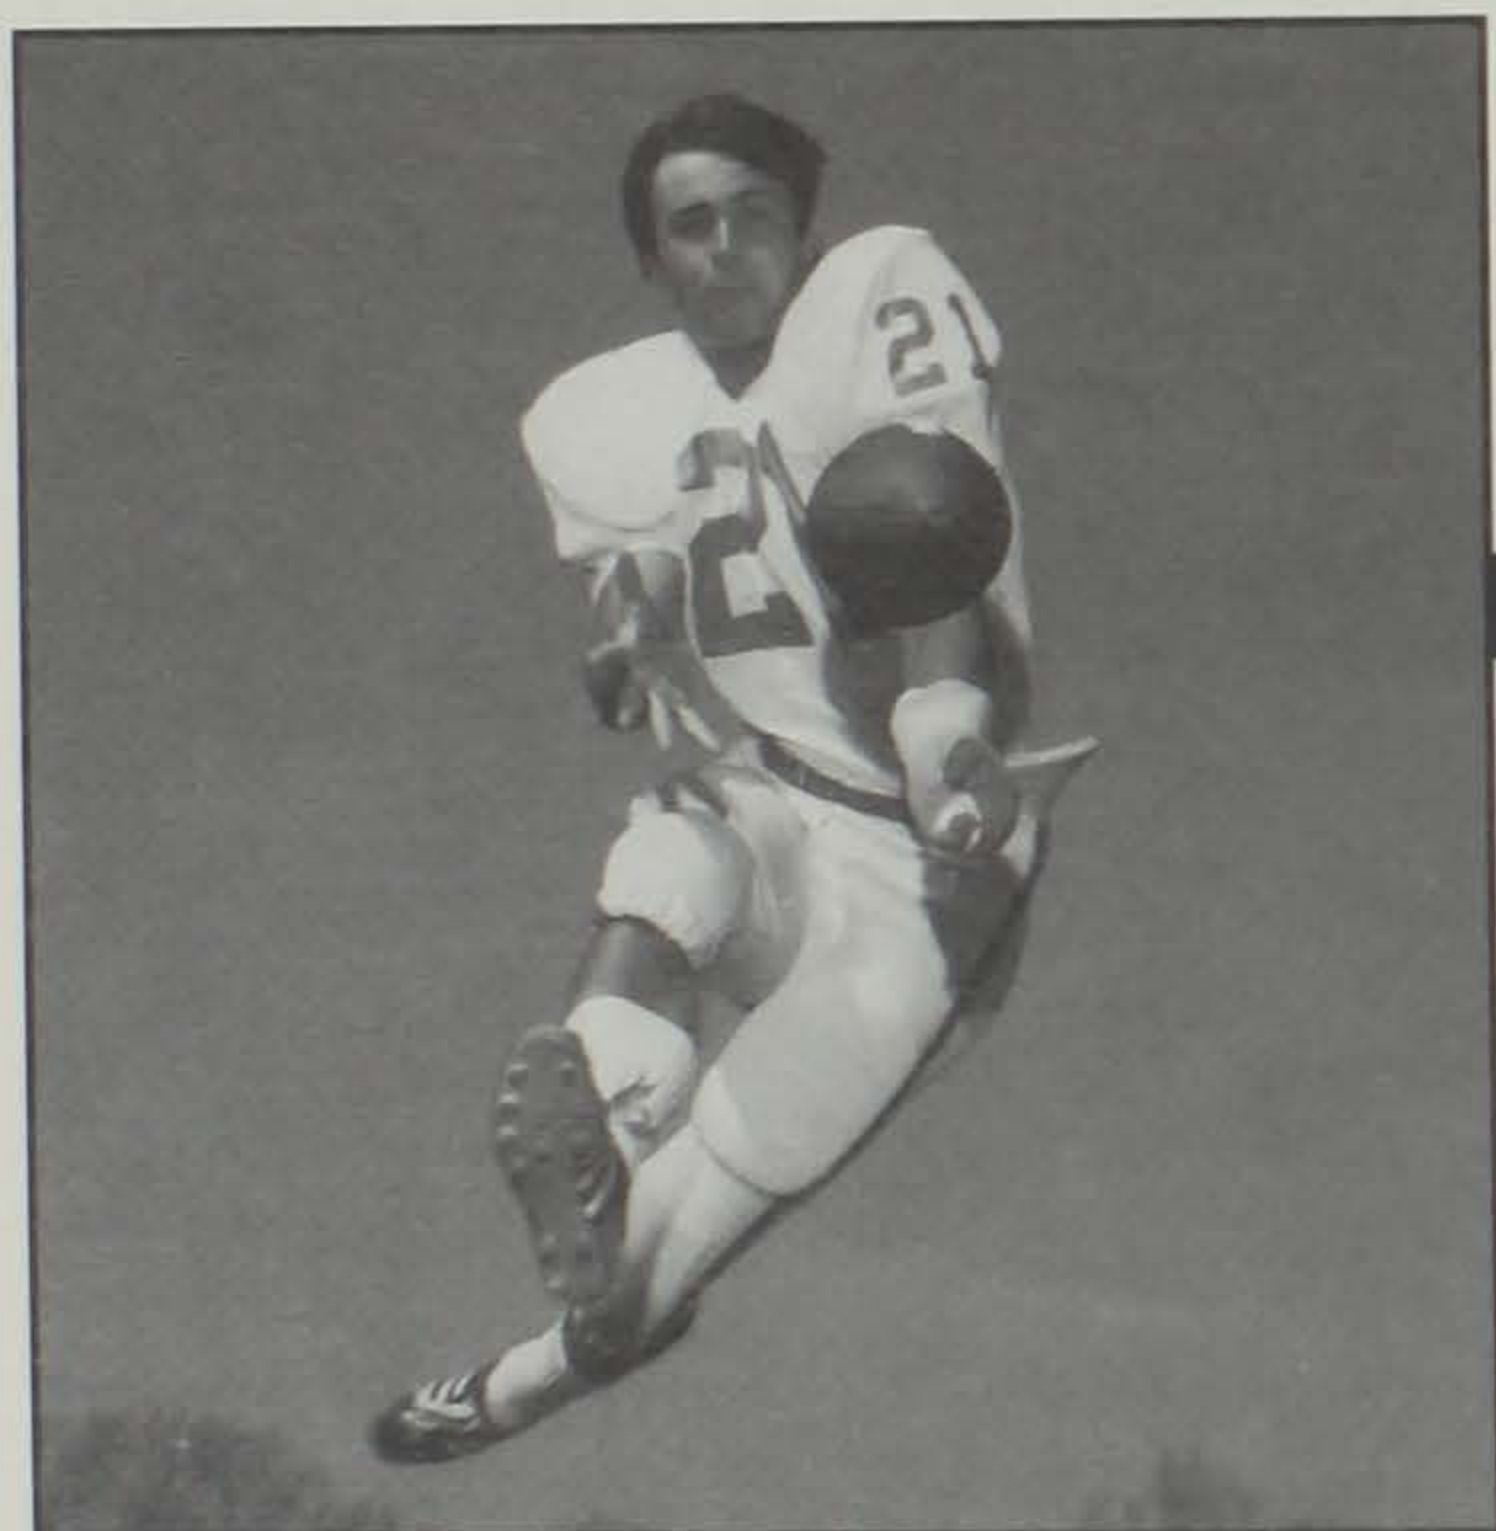

November 28, 1963—Clemson defeated South Carolina on Thanksgiving Day, 24-20. It was the fifth win in a row for the Tigers to close the season.

November 6, 1965—Two Clemson single game records were established in a 17-13 loss at North Carolina. Thomas Ray became the first and still only Tiger to throw for 300 yards in a game when he completed 21-43 passes for 323 yards. His star receiver, Phil Rogers, caught 11-129 to set the single game reception record.

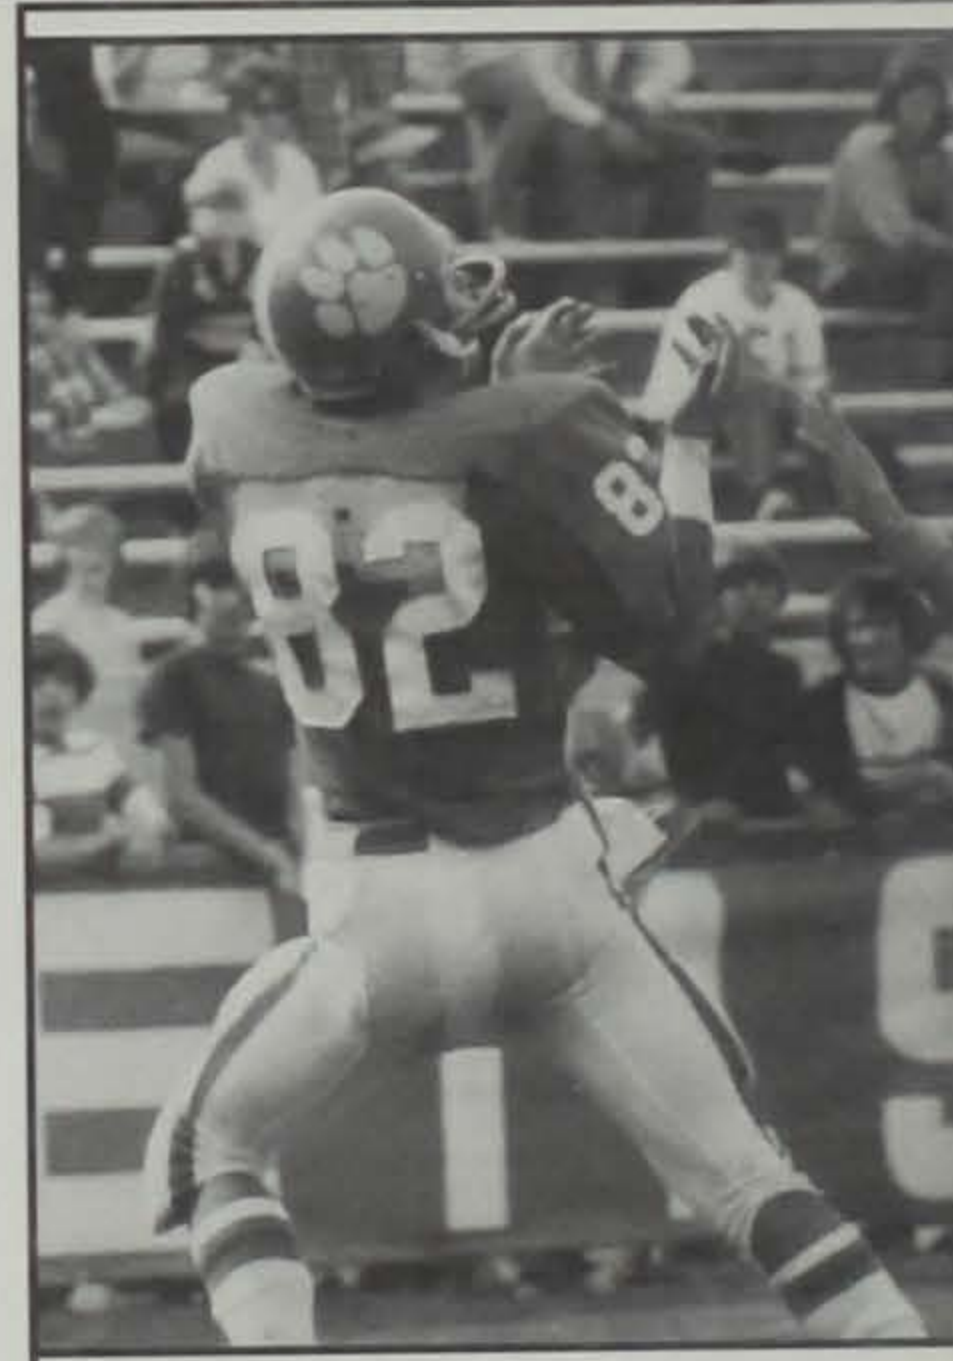

Bennie Cunningham

Clemson's only two-time first-team All-American at tight end is Bennie Cunningham. The native of nearby Seneca went on to a stellar career with the Pittsburgh Steelers that included a pair of Super Bowl Championships.

Don Kelley

Kelley was a top performer as a defensive back and a receiver in the early 1970s. His most celebrated day took place in 1970 against Maryland when he set an ACC record with 223 return yards in one game. Some teams don't get that total today for an entire season.

Clemson 32, Virginia 27

Clemson took a thrilling five-point victory over Virginia in 1973 behind the receiving of Jim Lenz, whose catch at left won the game with just two minutes remaining.

September 24, 1966—First game in which Howard's Rock was present at Death Valley. Clemson downed Virginia, 40-35 in one of the most exciting games in the history of the facility and adding to the legend of Howard's Rock. Clemson trailed 35-17 with just over a quarter remaining in the game, but rode the passing of Jimmy Addison to keep its perfect record alive against Virginia. Addison was 12-19 for 283 yards and three touchdowns, including a 74-yarder to Jackie Jackson with 3:49 remaining that proved to be the game-winner. His passing efficiency in that game is still a Clemson standard.

October 22, 1966—Clemson traveled to Los Angeles to play Southern Cal for the first time. This was the longest trip for a Clemson football team at the time. The Trojans, who won the Pac-Eight that year, won the Rose Bowl and finished in the top 10 in the final poll, defeated Clemson 30-0. Clemson visited Universal Studios prior to the game and had their photos taken with many of the television stars of the era.

November 12, 1966—Frank Howard won his 150th game and clinched at least a tie for the ACC title with a 14-10 win over Maryland. Clemson won the ACC outright the next week with a 6-1 record. Clemson was 0-3 outside the league in 1966, and all three of the games were against top 10 teams (Georgia Tech, Alabama and Southern Cal).

November 26, 1966—Clemson downed South Carolina to win the ACC, 35-10. A key touchdown in the game was scored by Tiger offensive lineman Harry Olszewski, who picked up a mid-air fumble and ran 12 yards for a touchdown. No Clemson offensive lineman has scored since.

September 23, 1967—Clemson started the tradition of rubbing Howard's Rock when running down the hill. Clemson responded with a 23-6 win over Wake Forest.

October 28, 1967—Alabama and Bear Bryant came to Clemson to face Frank Howard's Tigers before a sellout crowd at Clemson. Bryant's team won the close game, 13-10.

November 18, 1967—Clemson painted its shoes orange for the N.C. State game and the Tigers upset the 10th-ranked Wolfpack, 14-6. Clemson clinched a tie for the ACC championship with the victory, the sixth and final ACC title of Frank Howard's celebrated career. The Tigers had to get the orange paint from eight stores in the area. N.C. State's defense had worn white shoes all season and that was the reason for the ploy.

November 25, 1967—Clemson beat South Carolina 23-12 to claim the ACC Championship. Buddy Gore broke the ACC single season rushing record with 1,045 yards and finished the season eighth in the nation in rushing.

September 28, 1968—Richie Luzzi returned a missed Georgia field goal try 108 yards (100 officially) for a Clemson touchdown, the longest play in Clemson history.

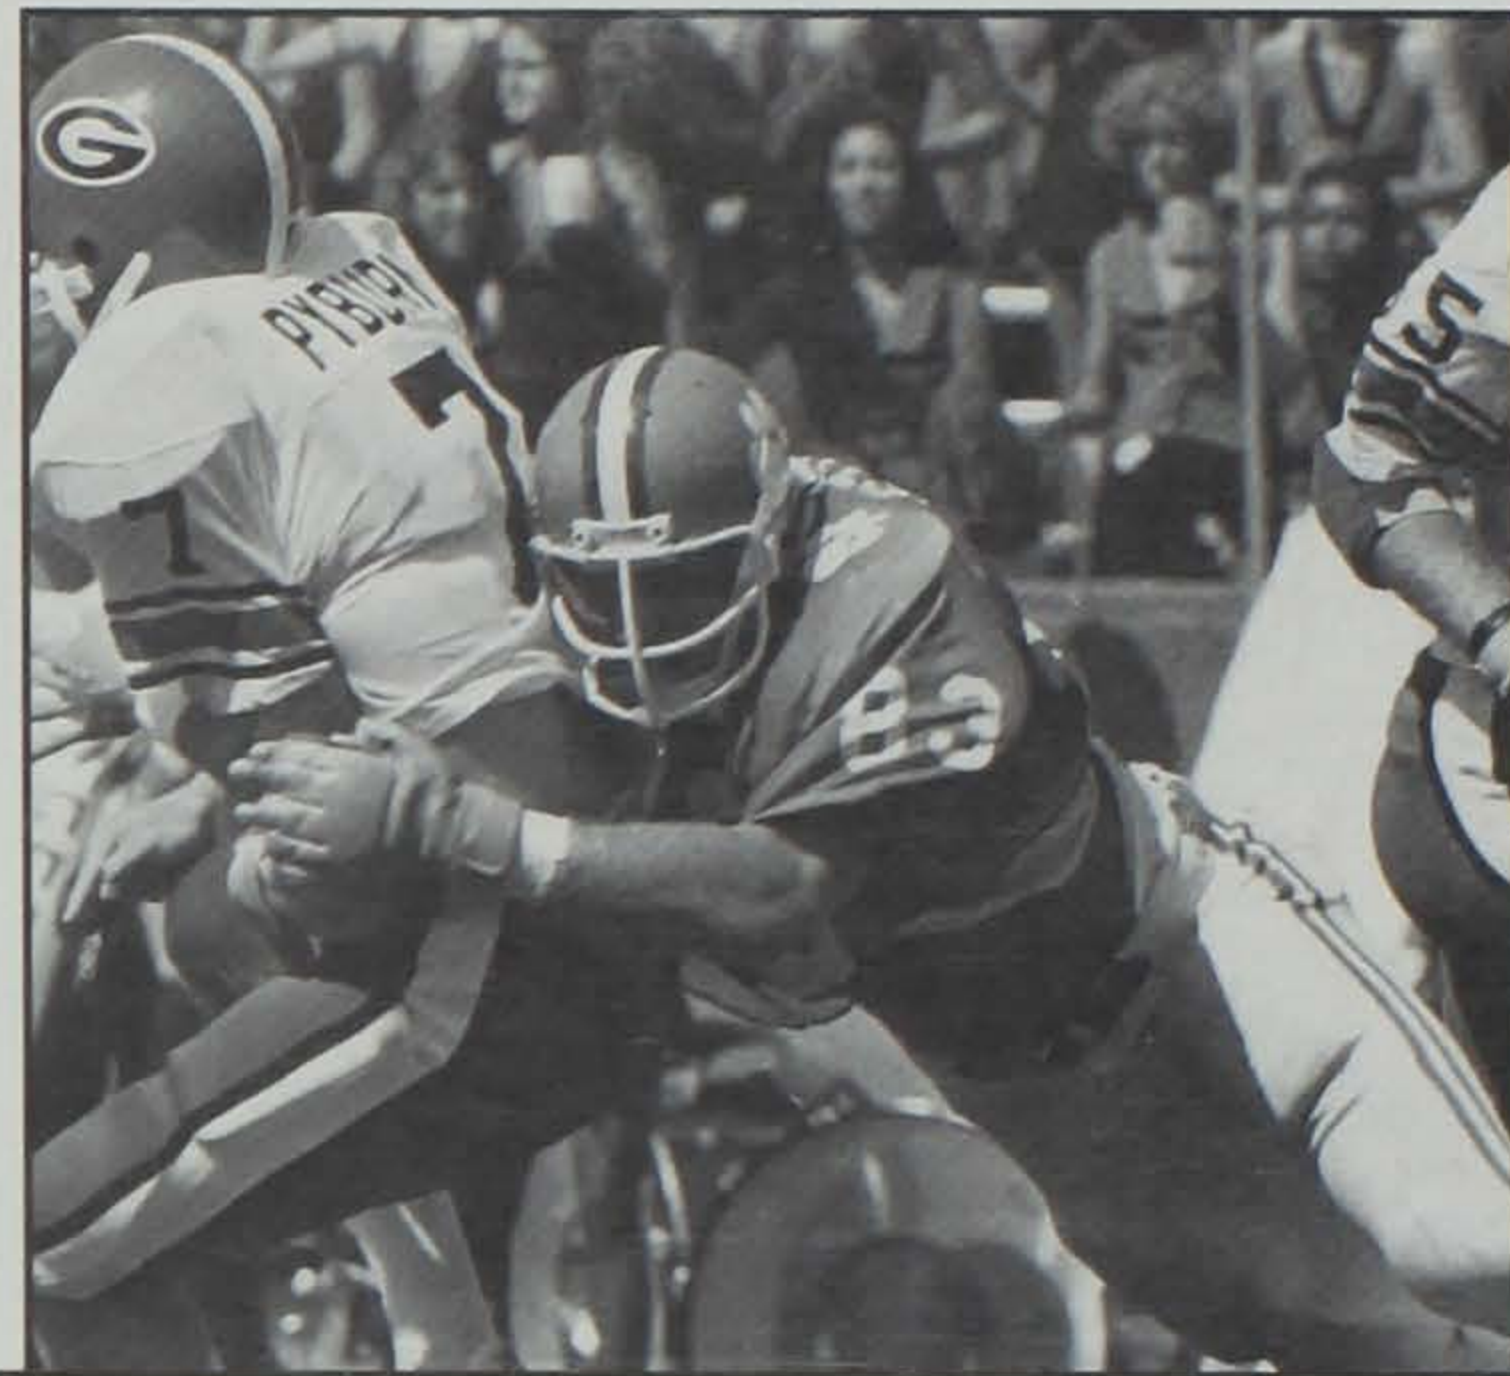

October 25, 1969—Danny Ford was one of the Alabama captains for the Clemson-Alabama game at Clemson. Bob Hope was in town for a homecoming show that night. Bear Bryant's team defeated Clemson, 38-13. Clemson lost by a sizeable margin, but moved the ball consistently. In fact, Clemson had a 200-yard passer, 100-yard rusher and 100-yard receiver for just the fourth time in its history, yet lost by 25 points.

November 1, 1969—Frank Howard won his last game as a Clemson coach in Death Valley with a 40-0 win over Maryland. It is still Clemson's largest margin of victory against the Terps.

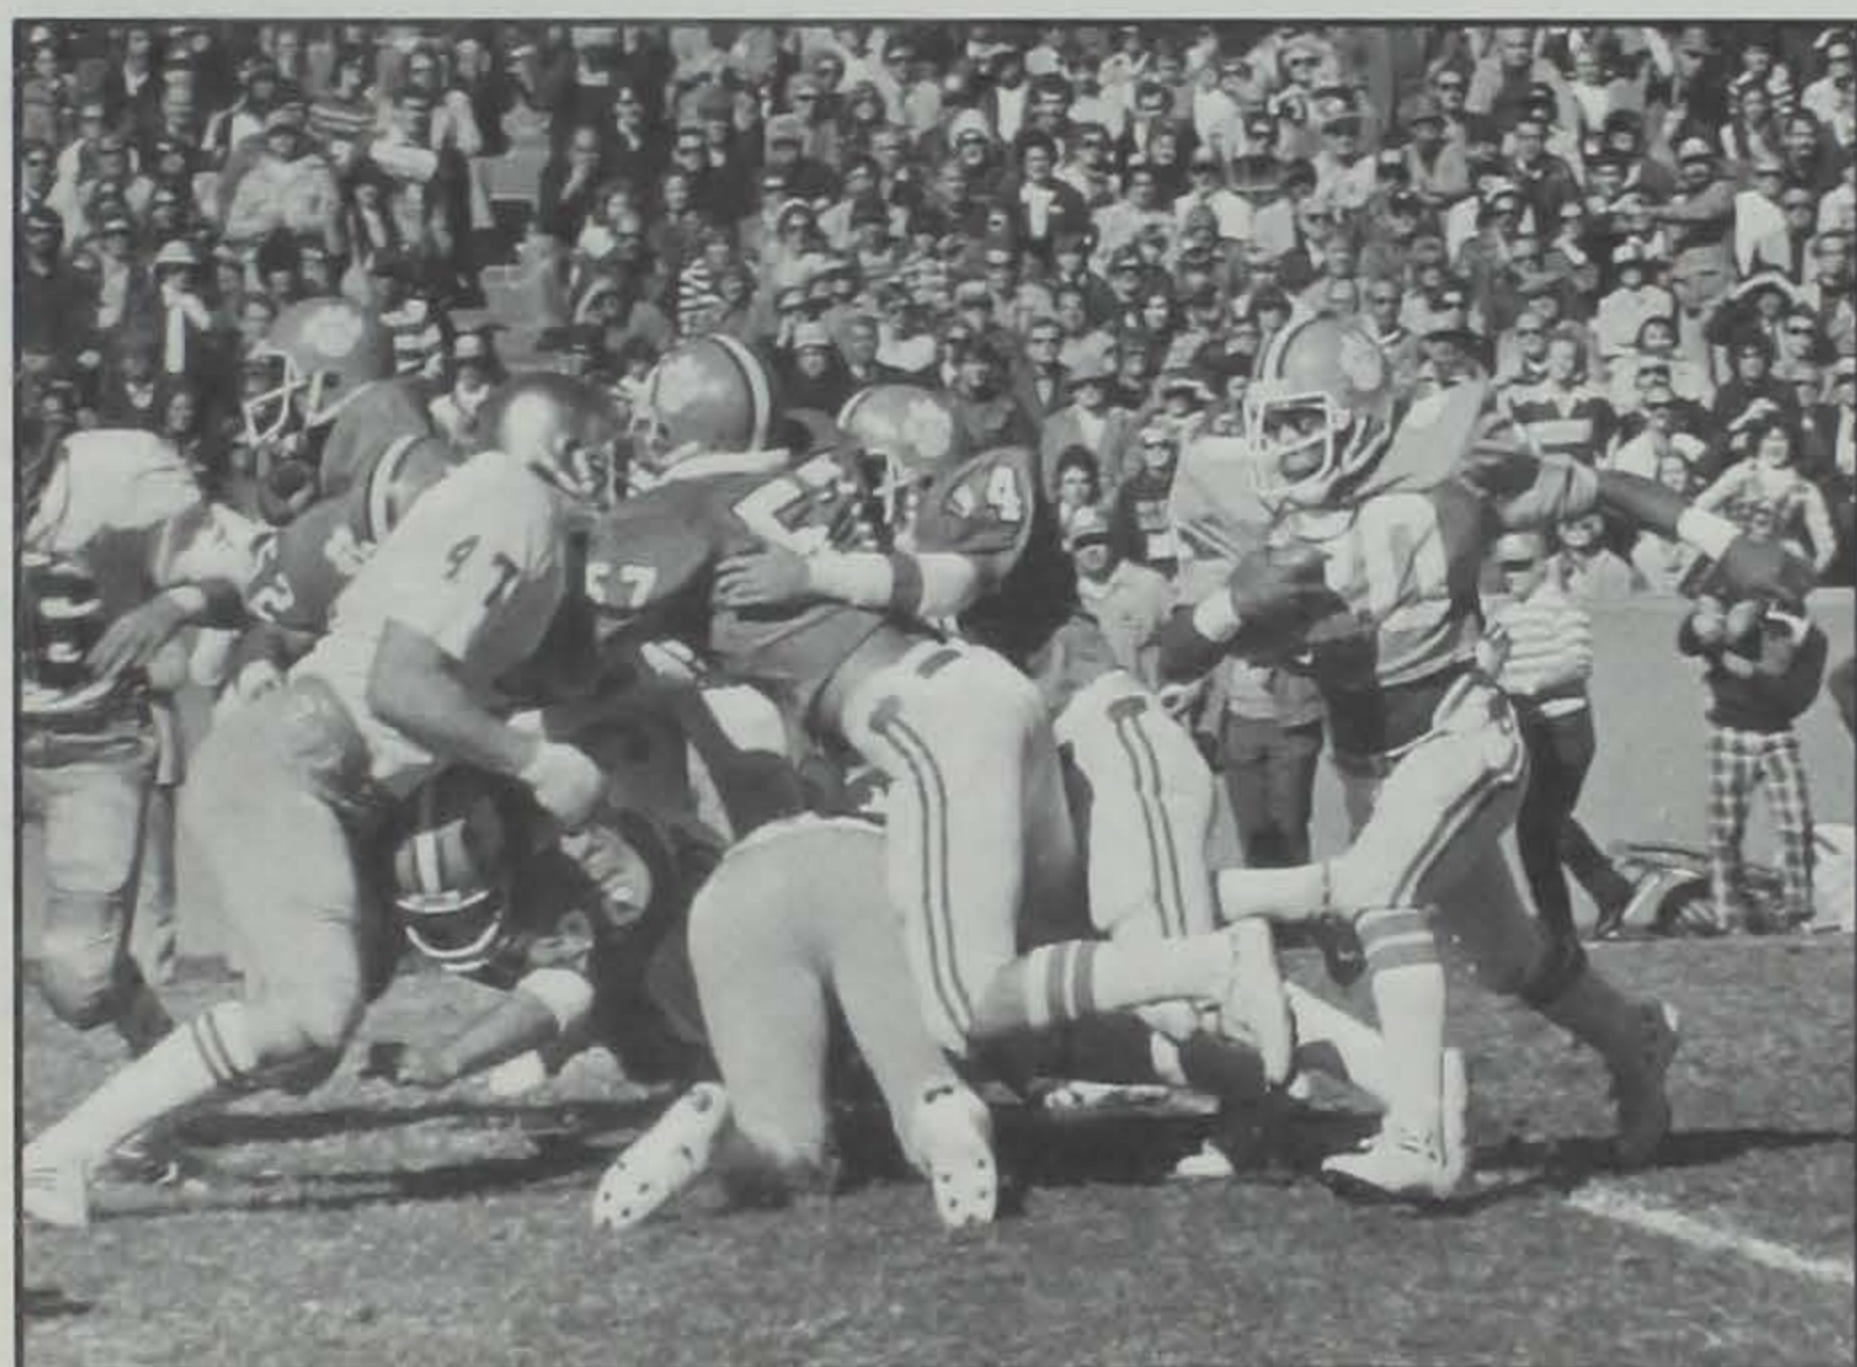

Bostic Brothers

Clemson football had a resurgence in the late 1970s and the Bostic Brothers were keys to the dramatic improvement. Joe was a two-time All-America guard, while Jeff was a center and guard in his three years with the varsity. They went on to combine for 24 seasons in the NFL.

Jim Stuckey

Jim Stuckey was a stalwart of Clemson's defensive lines of 1977-78-79, three bowl seasons. He is still Clemson's career leader in tackles by a defensive lineman and was recently inducted into the State of South Carolina and Clemson Halls of Fame.

Notre Dame Series

Frank Howard was famous for having a national schedule. One of his last acts as athletic director was to schedule a home and home series with Notre Dame. The contests were epic. Notre Dame, with Joe Montana at quarterback, defeated Clemson in Death Valley 21-17 on the way to a National Championship. Clemson won the rematch behind the 26-yard scoring run by Billy Lott in 1979 in Notre Dame Stadium.

December 10, 1969—Coach Frank Howard resigned from football coaching duties, but remained in the capacity of athletic director. Howard had first come to Clemson in 1931 as an assistant under Jess Neely.

December 17, 1969—Hootie Ingram was named head football coach.

July 21, 1970 — Clemson announced the use of a new logo - THE TIGER PAW. With the aid of Henderson Advertising Agency, the Tiger paw became the new trademark of Clemson athletics.

October 31, 1970—Don Kelley had the greatest return game in ACC history when he gained 223 yards on interception and punt returns in a 23-11 Clemson victory. He had a record 167 yards in punt returns, including an 85-yarder for a touchdown, and also had a 56-yard interception return for a score. He is the only Tiger to have a punt return and interception return for a TD in the same game.

October 9, 1971—Hootie Ingram gained his only win over a ranked team as Clemson coach when the Tigers defeat Duke 3-0 in a defensive struggle at the Oyster Bowl in Norfolk, VA. Duke was ranked 14th in the nation entering the contest.

November 27, 1971—Eddie Seigler became the first Clemson kicker in history to boot a field goal of at least 50 yards. His 52-yarder was important in the 17-7 Clemson win.

December 5, 1972—Hootie Ingram resigned as Clemson football coach, and Red Parker was named as his replacement.

September 28, 1974—Georgia Tech made its first appearance in history at Clemson. For years Clemson had always gone to Atlanta for the series. Clemson won the contest 21-17.

October 5, 1974—Clemson defeated Georgia in Death Valley, 28-24, giving Clemson consecutive wins over Georgia and Georgia Tech in the same season for the first time since 1914.

November 16, 1974—The Playing surface of Memorial Stadium was named Frank Howard Field. This day also featured the longest play in Clemson history, a 97-yard touchdown pass from Mark Fellers to Craig Brantley. Clemson defeated Virginia, 28-9.

November 23, 1974—Clemson defeated South Carolina, 39-21 to close a perfect 6-0 season in Death Valley. Ken Callicutt had 197 yards rushing and 55 more receiving to key the Clemson attack. It was a Clemson record for all-purpose rushing at the time. South Carolina players wore two different color helmets in the game as the Gamecock seniors wore black helmets and the rest of the team wore white. Willie Anderson had 21 tackles from his middle guard position, still a Clemson record for an interior lineman. He was named Sports Illustrated National Player of the Week.

November 21, 1976—Clemson scrimmaged before the game at an adjacent practice field and warmed up there until game time before a 28-9 upset of South Carolina.

December 1, 1976—Charlie Pell was named head football coach.

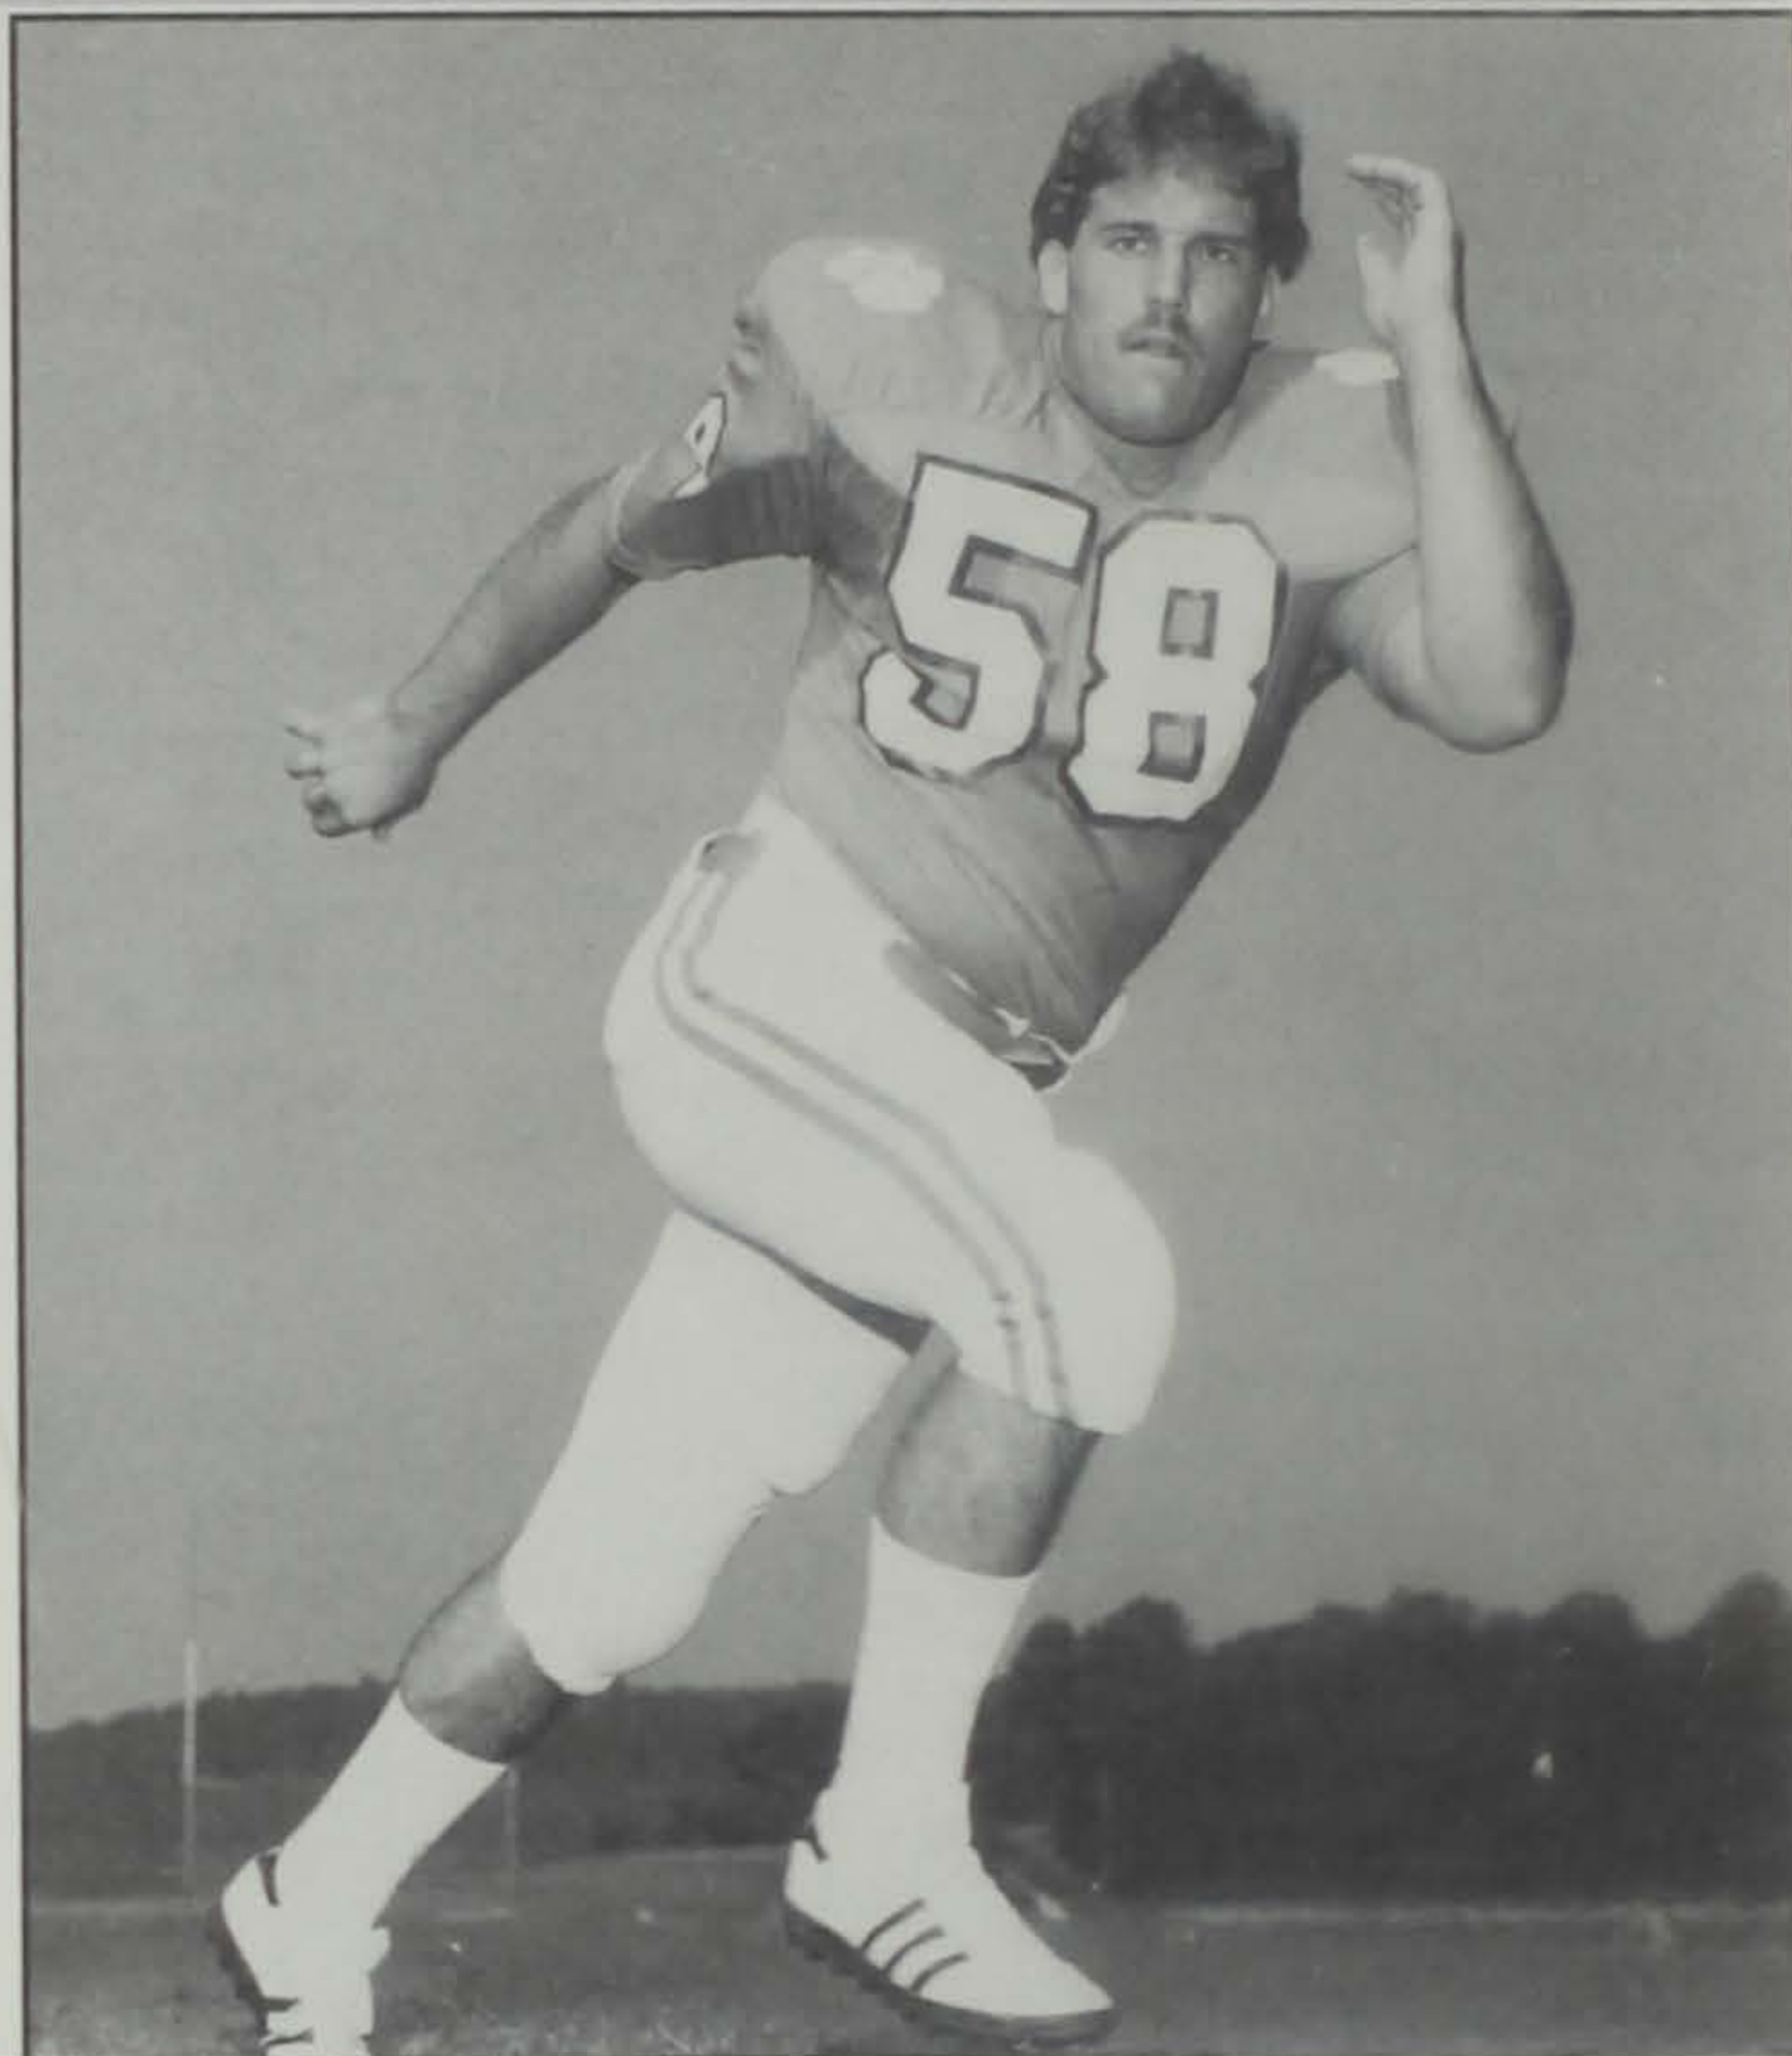

September 17, 1977—Clemson defeated Georgia 7-6 and this marked the first time that Clemson had won in Athens since 1914.

November 12, 1977—Fifth ranked Notre Dame, led by quarterback Joe Montana and 25 other players who would eventually play in the NFL, defeated Clemson in Death Valley 21-17. It was the closest game for the Irish in the last nine games of the sea-

Steve Fuller

Clemson had one of its greatest seasons in 1978. The 11-1 Tigers finished the season sixth in the nation thanks to the guidance of ACC Coach-of-the-Year Charlie Pell and assistant head coach Danny Ford. Steve Fuller was a coach on the field. He was a first-team Academic All-American and third-team on-field All-American.

Charlie Bauman

Twenty-seven years after second-team middle guard Sterling Smith provided a game-winning play in a bowl game, Charlie Bauman turned the trick in the 1978 Gator Bowl. Bauman intercepted an Ohio State pass with two minutes left to give the Tigers a 17-15 victory. It was the only interception of his career and it touched off frustration from Ohio State coach Woody Hayes, a frustration that would lead to the end of his coaching career.

Jerry Butler

Jerry Butler was a first-team All-America receiver in 1978 when he caught a record 58 passes from Steve Fuller. He was the fifth pick of the NFL draft the following spring, the second highest selection in Clemson history.

son. Notre Dame won the national championship that year. A total of 38 players who participated in this game went on to play in the National Football League. The list included both quarterbacks, Montana and Steve Fuller, who both won Super Bowl Championships.

November 19, 1977—A 20-yard pass from Steve Fuller to Jerry Butler with just 49 seconds to play enabled Clemson to squeeze past South Carolina 31-27. The Tigers had led 24-0, then South Carolina came back to take a 27-24 lead prior to the final Clemson drive. The win earned the Tigers a trip to the Gator Bowl.

September 16, 1978—Clemson won its 100th game in Death Valley with a 58-3 win over the Citadel. Steve Fuller was a perfect 9-9 passing in the contest, an all-time Clemson record for consecutive completions. Clemson was a record 15-17 passing in the contest and set a school record for team passing efficiency.

November 18, 1978—Clemson clinched the ACC championship with a thrilling victory over Maryland in College Park. Steve Fuller hit touchdown passes of 87 yards to Jerry Butler and 62 yards to Dwight Clark. The game also included a 98-yard run by Maryland's Steve Atkins, the longest run in history against the Tigers.

November 25, 1978—Clemson fans used the south upper deck for the first time in Clemson's 41-23 win over South Carolina. At the time it was the largest crowd ever to see a game from Philadelphia to Birmingham. Clemson had three backs gain over 100 yards rushing in the game for the first time since 1950. The victory also clinched Clemson's first 10-win season since 1948.

November 28, 1978—Steve Fuller finished tied for sixth place in the Heisman Trophy voting, and he received 19 first-place votes.

December 4, 1978—Charlie Pell resigned as Clemson coach.

December 5, 1978—Danny Ford, offensive line coach for the Tigers, was named as Pell's replacement. He became the head coach at age 30, the youngest Division I head coach in the nation.

December 10, 1978—It was announced that Danny Ford would be the Tigers' coach in the Gator Bowl game.

December 29, 1978—Clemson defeated Ohio State 17-15 at the Gator Bowl in Danny Ford's first game as head coach, and Woody Hayes' final game at Ohio State. The winning touchdown was scored by freshman Cliff Austin. He would score another important touchdown three years later against Nebraska. Charlie Bauman made the key play with an interception of an Art Schlichter pass at the Clemson 24 with just two minutes left. He ran the return out of bounds on the Ohio State sideline and was punched by Hayes.

May 3, 1979—All-American Jerry Butler became the fifth pick of the 1979 NFL draft when he was chosen by the Buffalo Bills. This was the highest selection of a Clemson player since the 1939 season when Banks McFadden was the #3 selection of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

September 22, 1979—Clemson won its 400th game in history with a 12-7 victory over Georgia.

November 16, 1979—Clemson won at Notre Dame behind Obed Ariri's three field goals, 16-10. The Irish had taken a 10-0 lead in the first half, but Ariri's field goals and a 26-yard touchdown run by quarterback Billy Lott proved to be the difference. It was just the third time in the last 40 years that Notre Dame's seniors lost their final home

Clemson 27, South Carolina 6

Clemson's journey to the 1981 National Championship began with the final home game of the 1980 season. A 14th ranked and Gator Bowl bound South Carolina team came to Clemson with Heisman Trophy winner George Rogers. Willie Underwood provided the spark with a pair of interceptions, the only two of his four-year career, leading to the 27-6 victory.

Orange Pants Tradition

The 1980 win over South Carolina also featured the unveiling of the Orange Pants. It remained a secret until the Tigers appeared at the top of the hill because injured player Eddie Geathers represented the Tigers at the toss of the coin wearing bluejeans. The Tigers are 29-6 over the years in Orange pants, including 16-1 in games played in November.

game. The next day Ariri kicked the only goal for the Clemson soccer team in an NCAA tournament victory over South Carolina.

October 11, 1980—Obed Ariri booted a 52-yard field goal with six seconds left to give Clemson a 27-24 victory at Virginia. Clemson had trailed by two touchdowns entering the fourth quarter and this is the greatest fourth-quarter comeback in Clemson history. Ariri's boot is also the longest field goal to win a game in Clemson history.

November 8, 1980—Jeff Davis had a school record 24 tackles vs. North Carolina in a head-to-head battle with Lawrence Taylor. The Tigers had the ball inside the North Carolina five with a chance to win, but Taylor sacked quarterback Homer Jordan on third down. Obed Ariri, who led the nation in field goals in 1980 with 23, booted a 27-yarder in the first half to become the NCAA's career field goal leader. The Tar Heels were victorious 24-19, Clemson's last home loss for four seasons and the last time North Carolina has beaten Clemson in Death Valley.

November 22, 1980—Clemson defeated 14th ranked South Carolina 27-6 in a contest that gave the Tigers momentum heading into the 1981 season. Willie Underwood played the game of his life with two interceptions for 101 yards, including one for a 37-yard touchdown. Underwood entered the game, the 47th of his career, without an interception. He was named Sports Illustrated National Defensive Player of the Week. Clemson kept South Carolina Heisman Trophy winner George Rogers out of the endzone.

September 19, 1981—Clemson forced nine Georgia turnovers, most ever by a Clemson opponent, in handing Herschel Walker his only regular season loss as a Bulldog, 13-3. The Bulldogs were the defending national champions and ranked fourth in the nation entering the contest. It is the highest ranked win for the Tigers in the history of Death Valley.

October 31, 1981—Clemson had 756 total offensive yards against Wake Forest in an 82-24 win. The Tigers set 17 school, stadium and conference records in the contest that remains the highest scoring game in ACC history. The Tigers scored 49 points in the first half, then scored on the first possession of the second half. Clemson's final touchdown was scored on a 72-yard run by Craig Crawford, his first carry as a Tiger and the longest touchdown play in Clemson history for a player on his first play. Clemson was 12-12 on third-down conversions and scored 12 touchdowns on the day. The Tigers had a record 536 yards rushing and averaged 8.7 yards per play.

November 7, 1981—Clemson stopped North Carolina, 10-8, in Chapel Hill in the only battle of top 10 teams in ACC football history. Jeff Bryant recovered a fumble in the last two minutes of the game on a North Carolina lateral. Bryant was the only player who realized the play was a lateral.

November 14, 1981—Clemson claimed the ACC championship with a 21-7 win over Maryland. Homer Jordan completed 20-29 passes for 270 yards in the contest. It is the most completions in a game for a Tiger quarterback in a Clemson victory.

November 21, 1981—Clemson finished the regular season with a perfect 11-0 record with 29-13 win over South Carolina. It was Clemson's first perfect regular season since 1948.

November 30, 1981—Clemson was ranked No.1 by AP, for the first time. Clemson moved to the number-one ranking when Penn State wipped Pittsburgh and quarterback Dan Marino, 48-14.

Clemson 13, Georgia 3

A landmark victory during Clemson's drive to the 1981 National Championship took place on September 19, 1981. A swarming Clemson defense forced nine Georgia turnovers, including the fumble (pictured) by Herschel Walker that was forced by precocious freshman William Perry. It was the only regular season loss of Walker's Georgia career and the highest ranked win in Clemson history in Death Valley.

Davis & Tuttle

Leadership was a key to Clemson's national championship season and it was provided by seniors Jeff Davis and Perry Tuttle. Davis led the team in tackles with 175, a record that still stands today, and he was named ACC MVP. Tuttle led the ACC in receiving and was named a first-team All-American.

Clemson 10, North Carolina 8

Clemson won the only battle of top 10 ACC teams in history when the Tigers were victorious at Chapel Hill in 1981. The key play was provided by Jeff Bryant, who pounced on a North Carolina flair pass that was ruled a lateral. North Carolina never saw the ball again.

January 1, 1982—Clemson claimed its first National Championship with a 22-15 win over Nebraska in the 48th annual Orange Bowl Classic. One of the Clemson touchdowns was scored by Cliff Austin, who had been trapped in an elevator for two hours at the Clemson hotel earlier in the day.

January 4, 1982—The issue of Sports Illustrated featured Clemson receiver Perry Tuttle celebrating after his touchdown catch in the Orange Bowl. It was the first time and still only time a Clemson athlete has appeared on the cover of Sports Illustrated while he was a Clemson student.

October 16, 1982—Cliff Austin broke the Clemson record for most rushing yards in a game with 260 in a rout of Duke.

November 27, 1982—Clemson defeated Wake Forest, 21-17 at the Mirage Bowl, in Tokyo, Japan, and also sewed up its second straight ACC title.

January 1, 1983—Terry Kinard was named National Defensive Player of the Year by CBS Sports. He was presented the award during halftime of the Cotton Bowl by CBS announcer Lindsey Nelson. Kinard had led Clemson to a 9-1-1 record, led the team in tackles and interceptions.

April 26, 1983—A record 10 Clemson players were chosen in the NFL draft. The group was led by Terry Kinard, who was the #10 pick of the entire draft by the New York Giants.

September 3, 1983—The north upper deck was used for the first time in a victory over Western Carolina, bringing the capacity to over 80,000.

November 12, 1983—3,000 Clemson students arrived at Death Valley at 7:00 a.m. to blow up 363,729 balloons. The 80,000 fans released the balloons as the team ran down the hill. On the field, Mike Eppley was outstanding with three touchdown passes, and Kevin Mack rushed for 186 yards in his final game in Death Valley. He scored his final touchdown with just one shoe on, as he had lost it during his 56-yard run for a score. Clemson downed the Top 20 Maryland team and Boomer Esiason, 52-27.

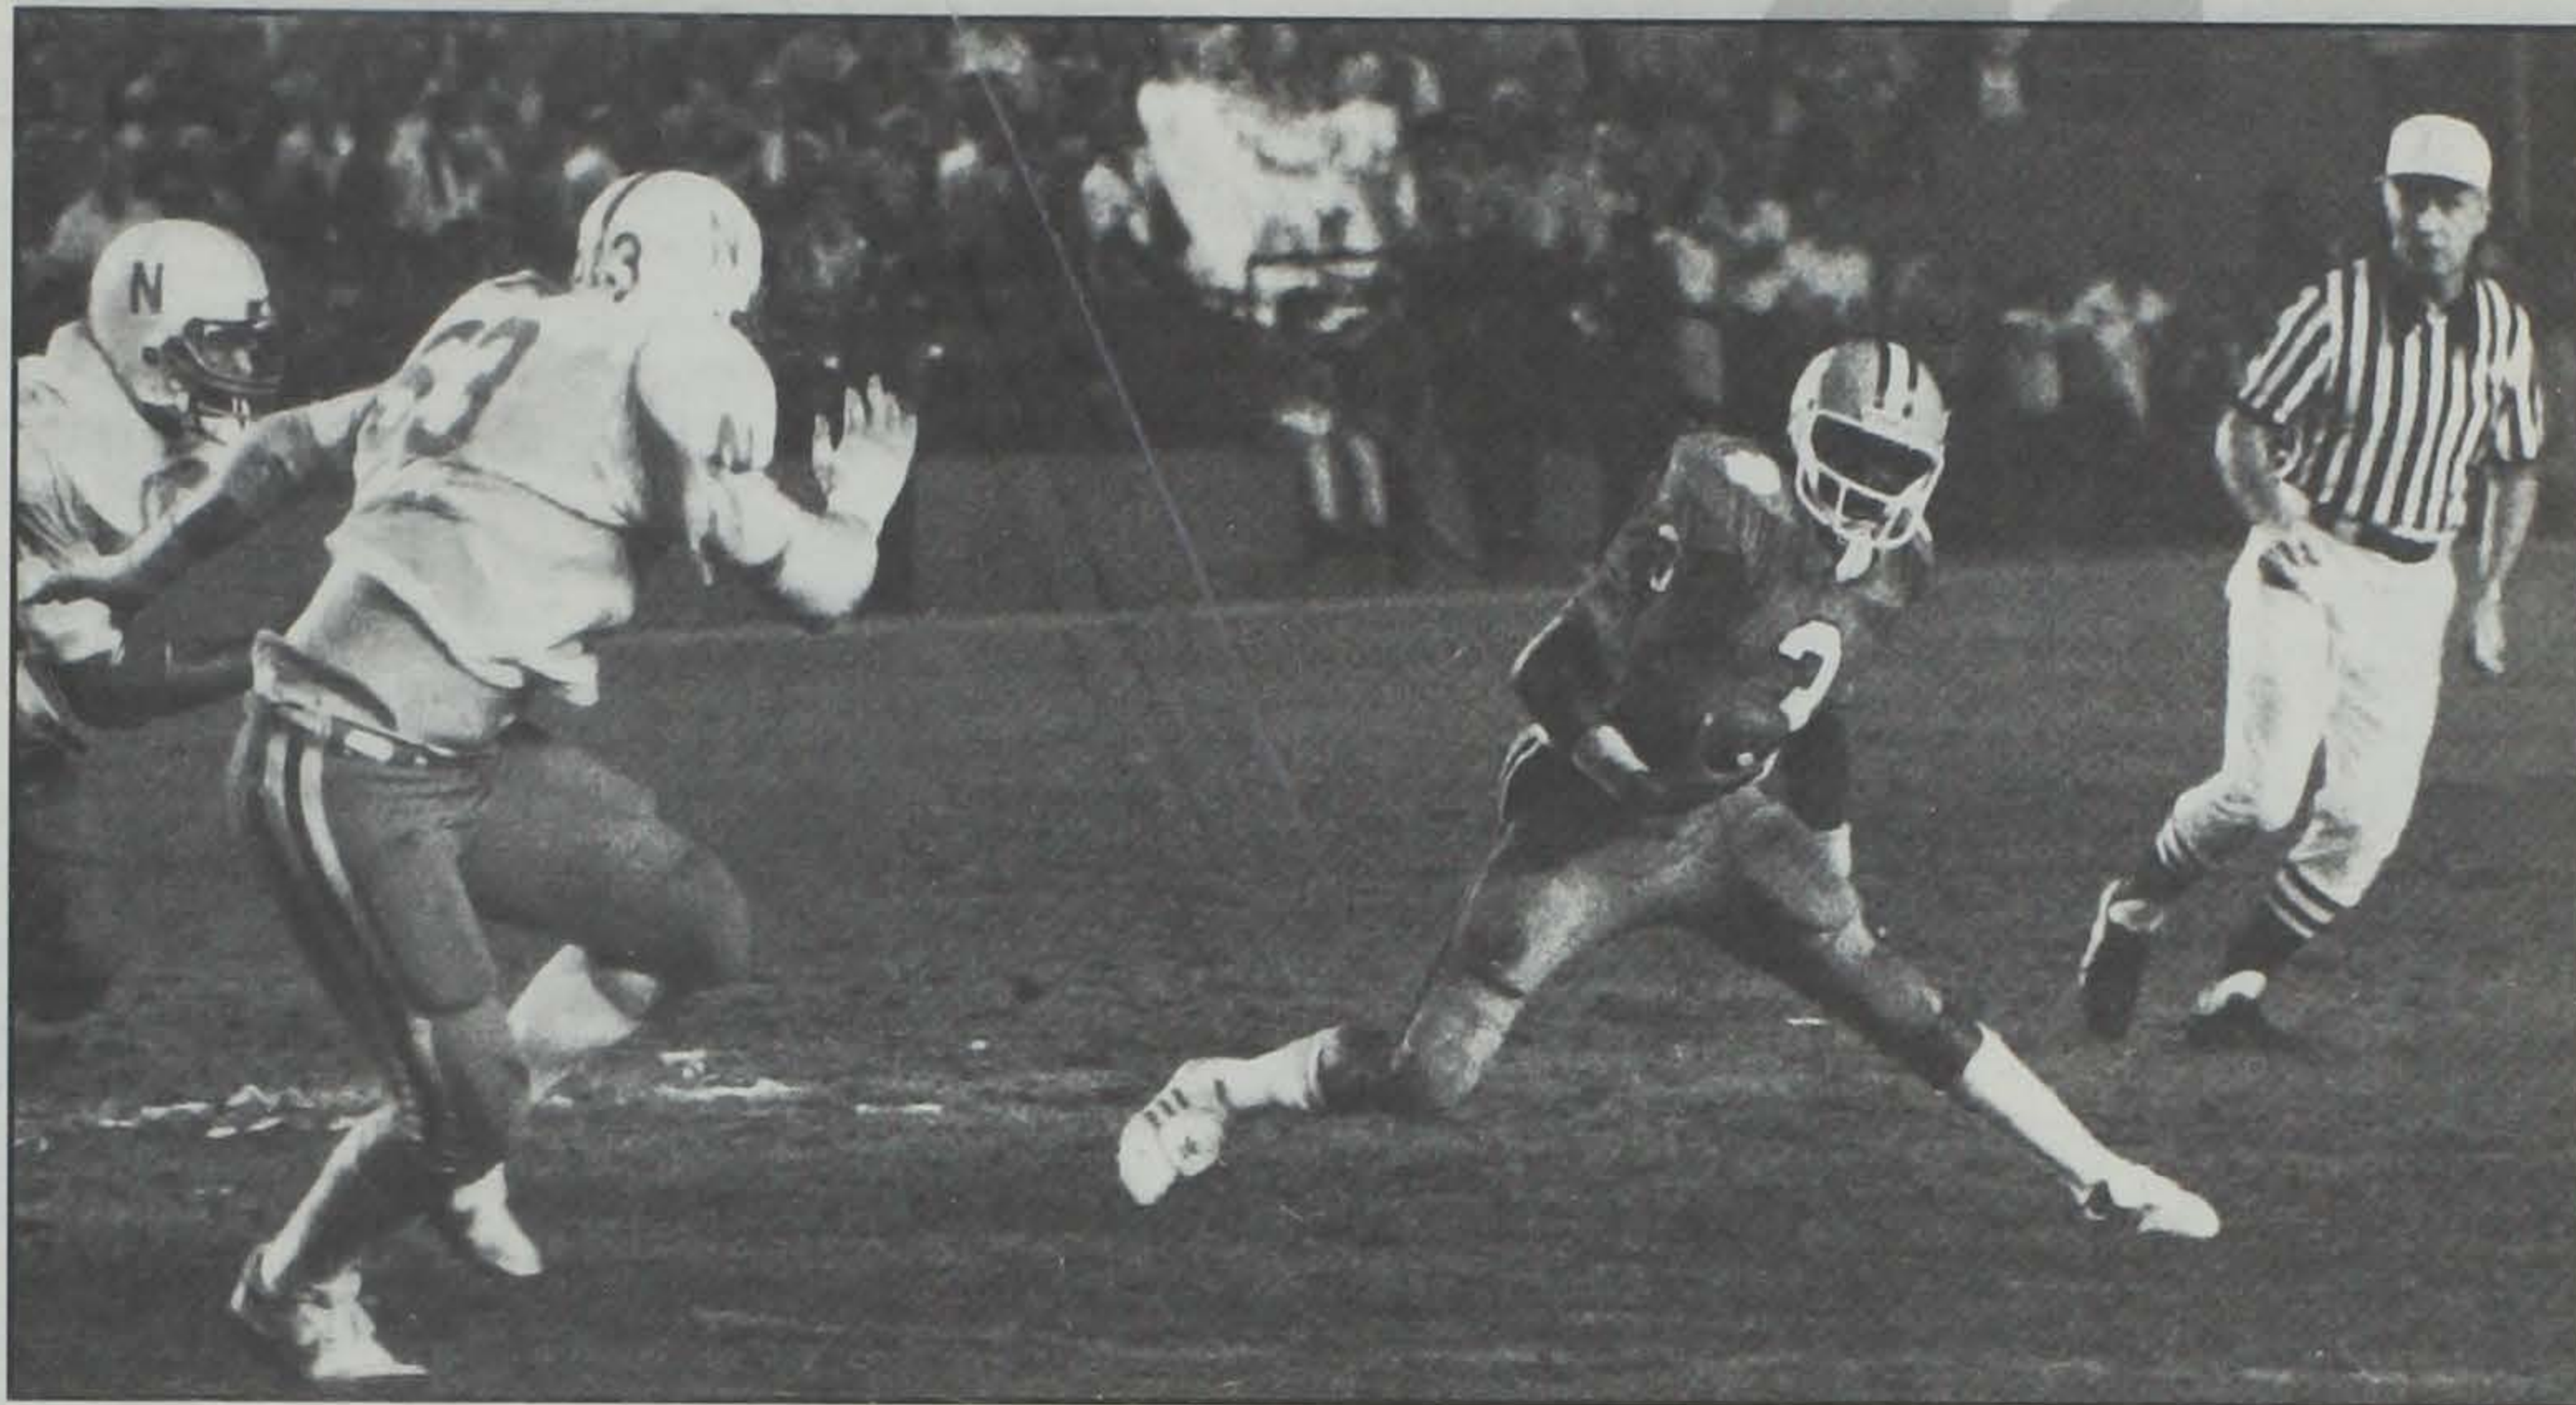

November 19, 1983—Clemson closed the 1983 season with a 22-13 win over South Carolina in Columbia. The game closed a 30-2-2 record for the Tigers over the last three years, the top record in college football.

September 8, 1984—Clemson defeated

Virginia in Charlottesville, 55-0. Virginia ended the year 8-4 and went to a bowl game. It is the largest margin of victory in Clemson history over a team that went to a bowl game. Mike Eppley led the way, hitting 8-14 passes for 172 yards and a pair of scores. The Tigers advanced to number-two in the nation with the victory.

September 22, 1984—Georgia defeated Clemson in Athens, 26-23 on a 60-yard field goal by Kevin Butler with 11 seconds left. Clemson, who had a 20-6 lead at halftime, ran the ensuing kickoff back to Georgia territory and a personal foul was thrown against the Bulldogs after the tackle. But, after a long debate, officials ruled the game had ended when the foul was committed and Donald Igwebuike, who led the nation in field goal percentage in 1984 (17-18) was denied an opportunity to tie the game from 42 yards away.

November 10, 1984—Clemson defeated Virginia Tech 17-10 in the greatest matchup of defensive linemen in Death Valley history. Clemson featured All-American William Perry and Virginia Tech featured Outland Trophy winner and future All-Pro Bruce Smith. Clemson also had freshman Michael Dean Perry, who went on to earn five Pro Bowl selections.

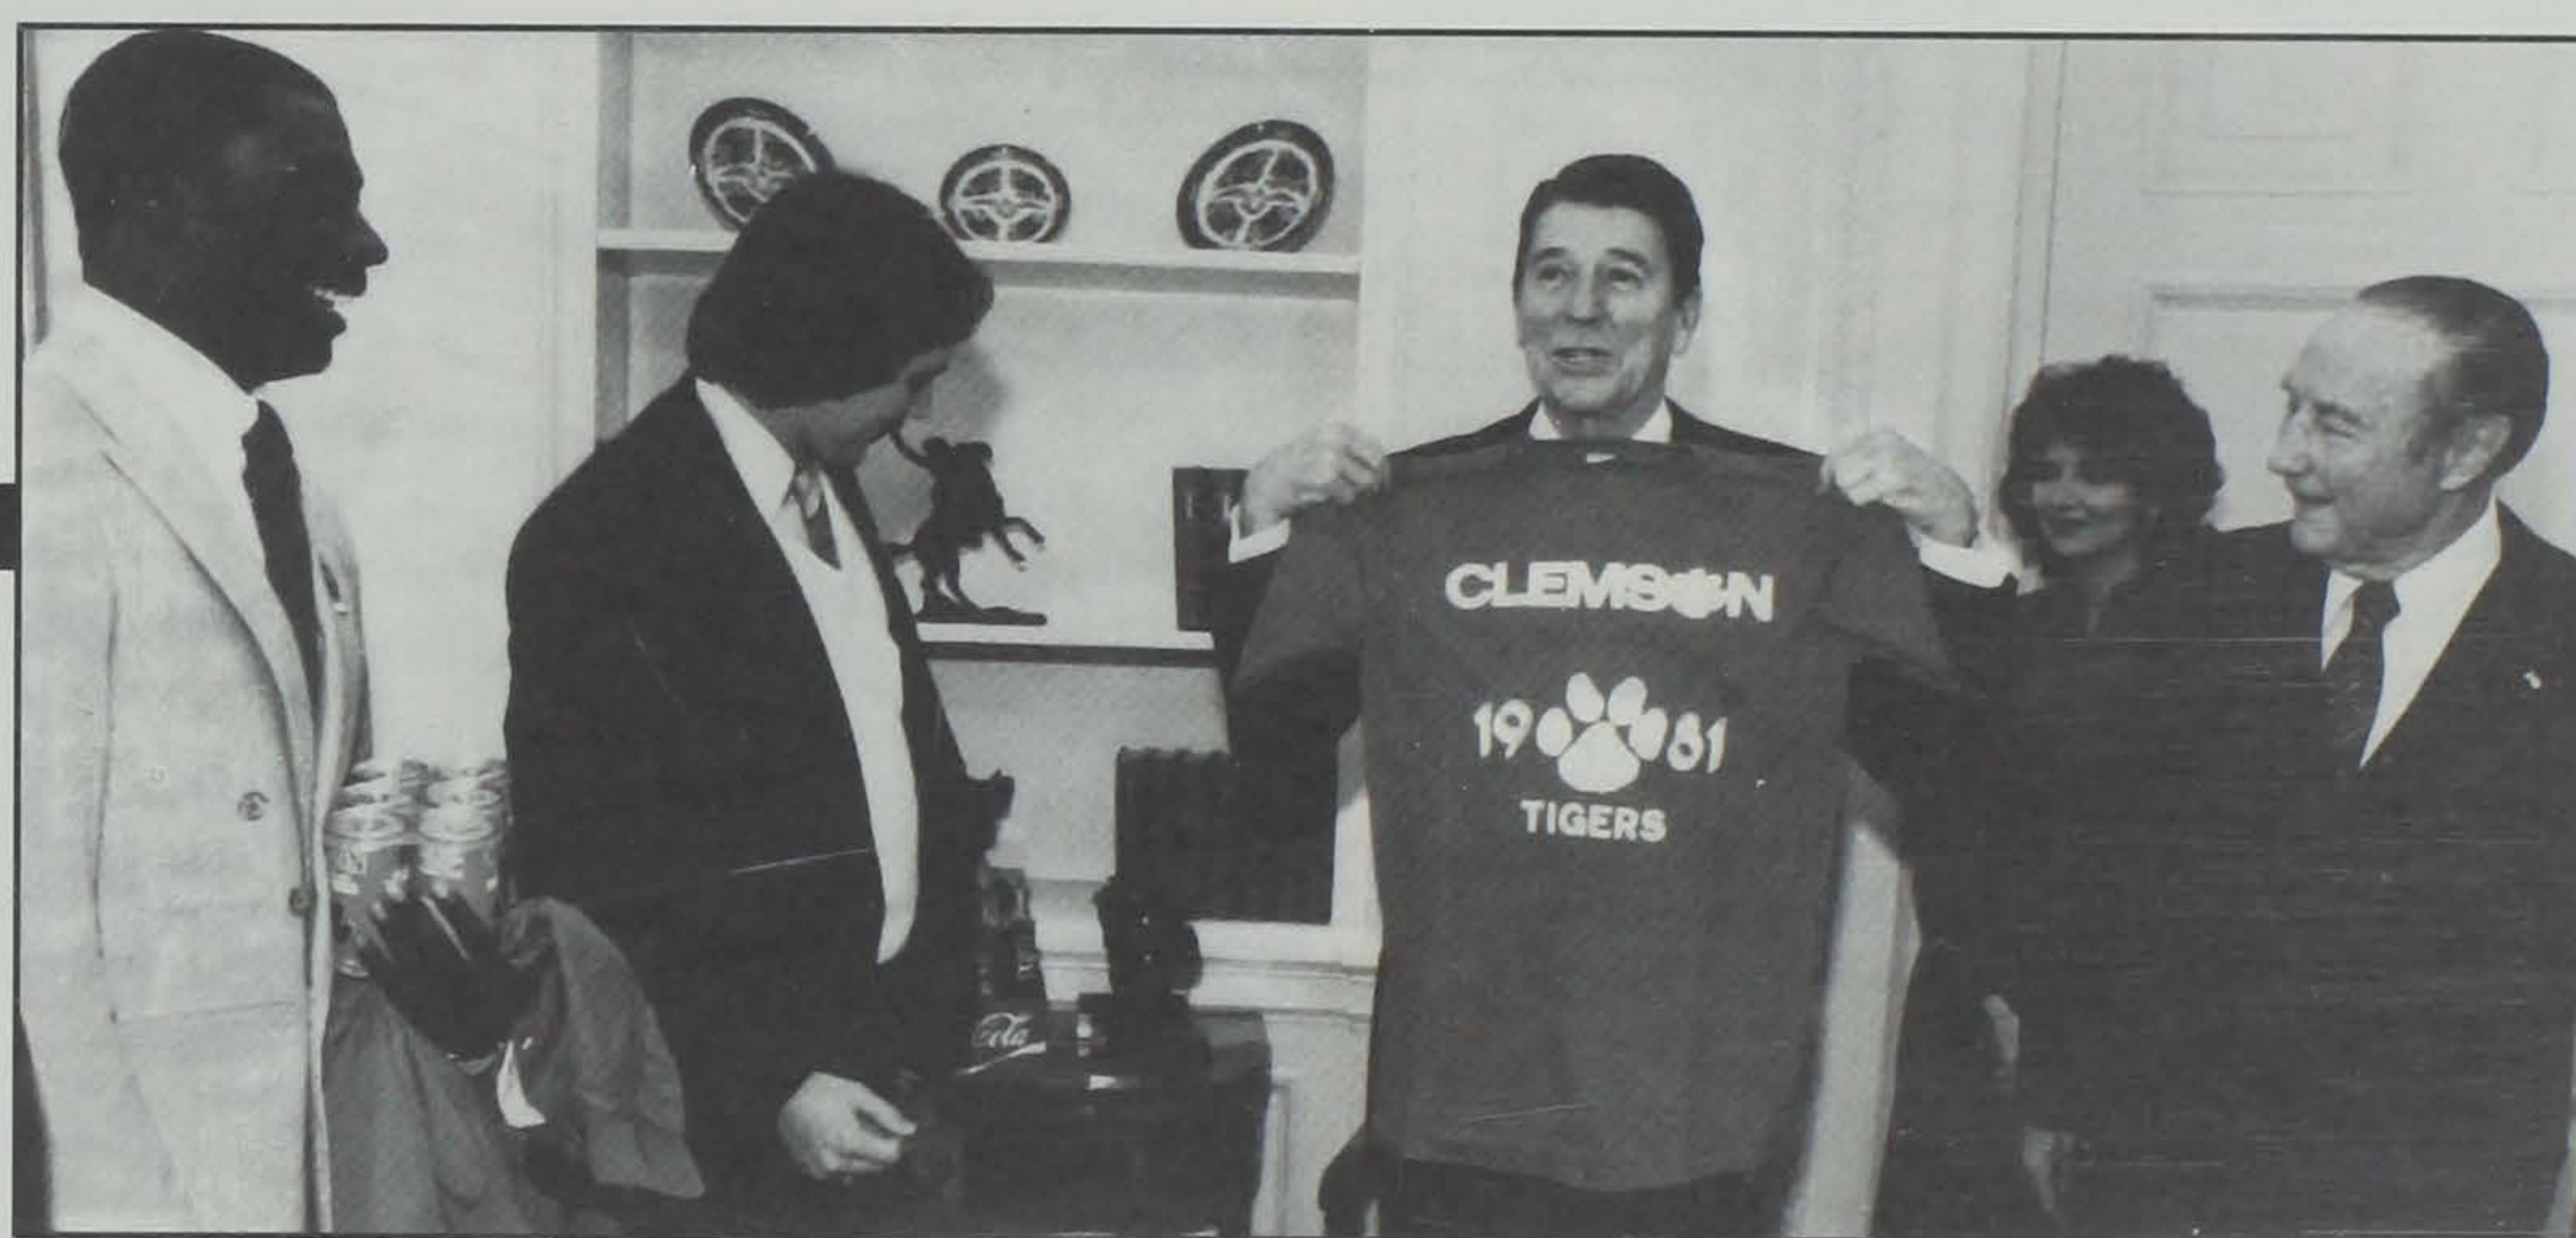

Clemson 22, Nebraska 15

Clemson won its first national championship in any sport with a 22-15 triumph in the 1982 Orange Bowl over Nebraska. Homer Jordan was named the offensive MVP as he passed and ran for 180 yards. Perry Tuttle caught a touchdown pass and Cliff Austin scored a rushing touchdown for the Tigers, who held a Nebraska offense led by Roger Craig, Dean Steinkuler, and Dave Rimington to just two touchdowns.

Tigers Visit the White House

To the victor go the spoils. A few weeks after the Orange Bowl, Clemson received congratulations from President Ronald Reagan. Homer Jordan and Jerry Gaillard represented the Clemson players.

September 14, 1985—David Treadwell showed a forshadowing of things to come with a 36-yard field goal on the last play of the game to give Clemson a 20-17 victory at Virginia Tech in the season opener. Perry Williams had a Clemson record five pass deflections in this game.

September 21, 1985—Clemson and Georgia met in the first nationally televised (CBS) football game from Clemson. The Bulldogs won the game 20-13 thanks to a fourth quarter fumble recovery by offensive lineman Peter Anderson. No offensive lineman has scored a touchdown in a Tiger game since.

November 23, 1985—Clemson defeated South Carolina 24-17, and accepted a bid to the Independence Bowl.

September 20, 1986—Clemson defeated Georgia 31-28, as David Treadwell kicked a 46-yard field goal with no time left on the clock. Athens, GA native Norman Haynes led Clemson in tackles with 14, while Terrance Flagler led the offense with nearly 200 all-purpose running yards.

November 1, 1986—Terrance Flagler scored four touchdowns, two receiving and two rushing and gained 274 all-purpose running yards in Clemson's 28-20 win at Wake Forest. He had an 88 yard run in the contest, the longest of his career. The all-purpose running total is still a Clemson record for an individual.

November 15, 1986—Clemson tied Maryland 17-17 to win the ACC championship, as Treadwell kicked a 20-yard field goal with two seconds left. Both Clemson coach Danny Ford and Maryland coach Bobby Ross, coached the game from the press box due to suspensions imposed by the ACC.

December 27, 1986—Clemson won the Gator Bowl championship with a 27-21 decision over Stanford. Clemson scored all 27 points in the first half, then held on as Brad Muster led a furious Stanford comeback.

January 3, 1987—Clemson was ranked 17th in the nation in the final AP poll, its first final Top 20 ranking since 1983.

September 19, 1987—David Treadwell booted a 21-yard field goal with two seconds left to beat Georgia on national TV, 21-20.

September 26, 1987—Clemson had not returned a punt or kickoff for a touchdown in 17 years, then had one of each in a 33-12 win over Georgia Tech. Donnell Woolford scored on a 78-yard punt return and Joe Henderson on a 95-yard kickoff return. Clemson had gone 999 punt and kickoff returns without a touchdown prior to Joe Henderson's score.

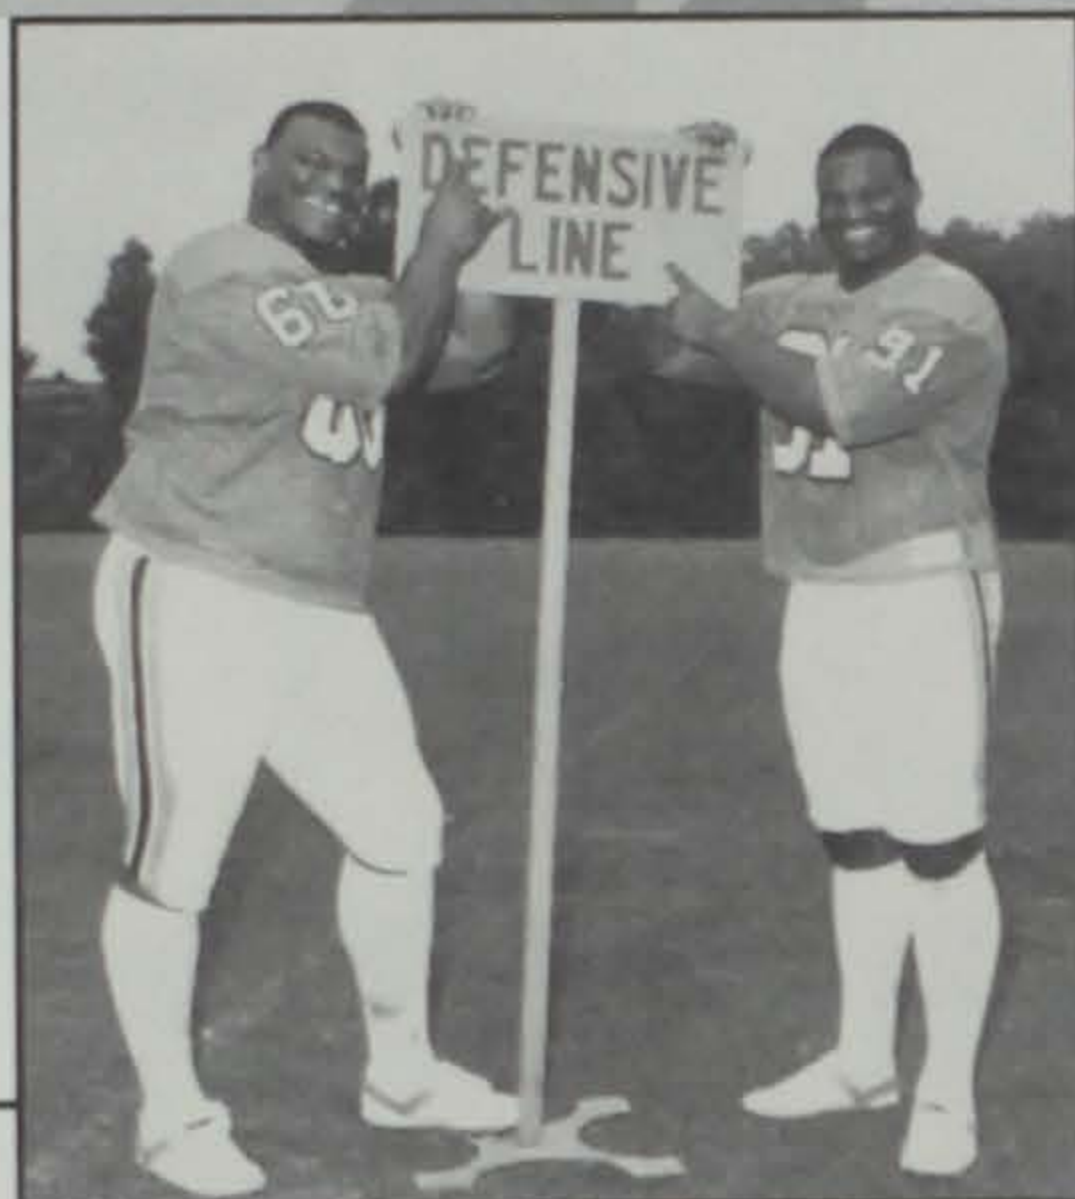

January 1, 1988—Clemson gained 499 yards total offense in handing Penn State its worst Bowl game defeat, 35-10, in the Florida Citrus Bowl. Rodney Williams was named the player of the game as he threw for 214 yards. Terry Allen rushed for 105 and Keith Jennings caught seven passes for 110, giving Clemson a 200-yard passer, 100-yard rusher and 100-yard receiver in the same game for the first time since 1969. Clemson was ranked 10th in the final UPI poll after the victory.

September 17, 1988—Florida State defeated Clemson 24-21 in the "Puntrookie Game" at Death Valley. It was the first battle of top 10 teams in the history of Death Valley. Clemson had Florida State deep in its own territory late in the fourth quarter with the score tied at 21 when Florida State coach Bobby Bowden ran an intricate fake punt play that resulted in Leroy Butler streaking 78 yards to the Clemson three. FSU

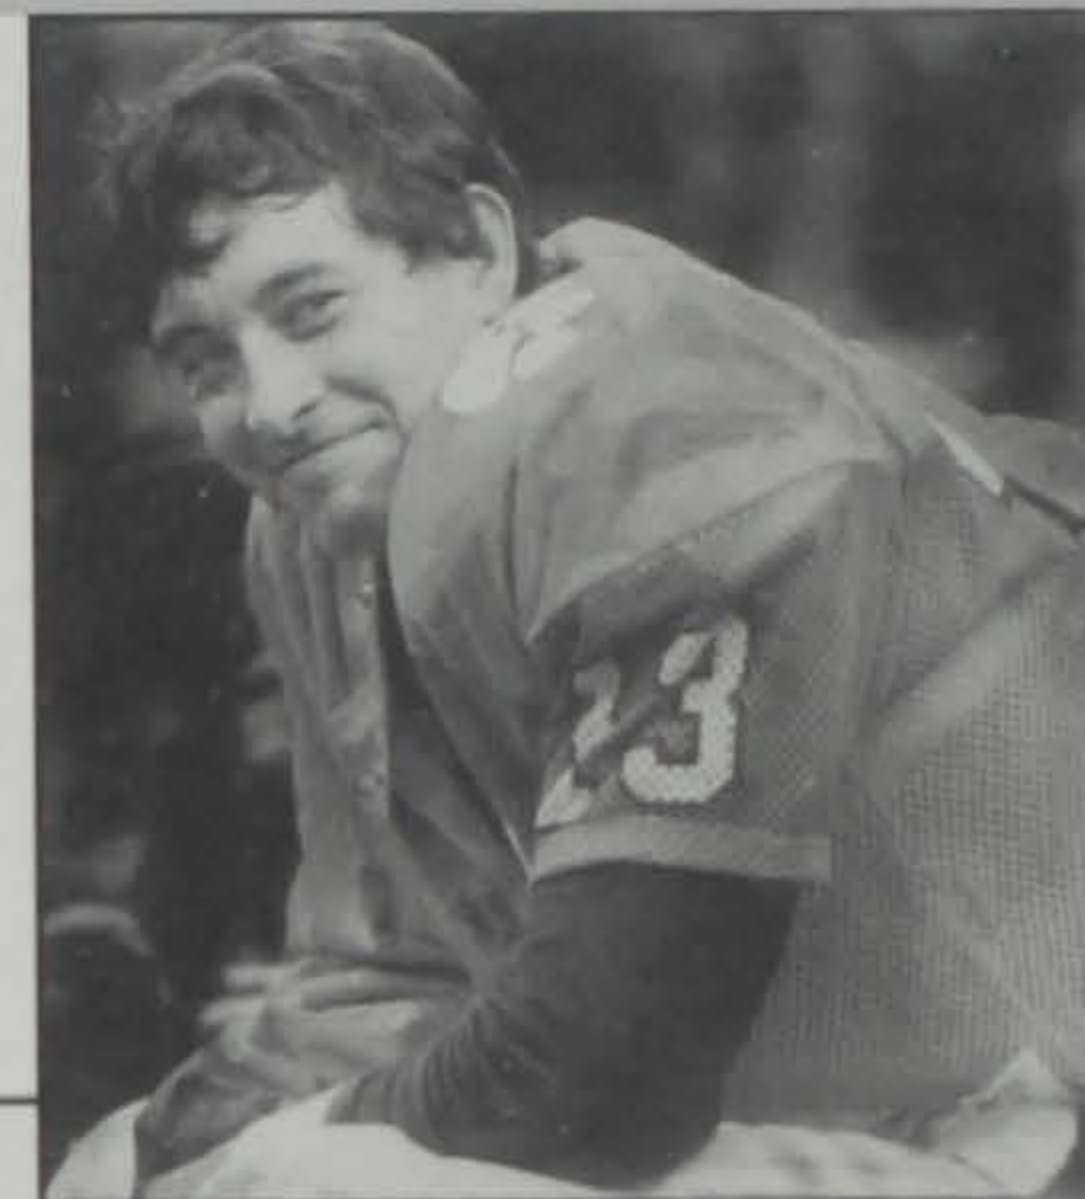

Terry Kinard

Clemson's most decorated football player in the 1980s was Terry Kinard. The two-time consensus All-America safety was a prime reason Clemson lost just one game in 1981-82 combined. He was named National Defensive Player of the Year by CBS and was later named to USA Today's All-Decade Team for the 1980s.

Perry Brothers

The Perry Brothers of Aiken, SC, were the dominant defensive lineman in the ACC in the 1980s. Both earned All-America honors, William in 1982-83-84 and Michael Dean in 1987.

Rodney Williams

The winningest quarterback in Clemson history is Rodney Williams. Clemson's career passing yardage leader posted a 32-10-1 ledger for his four years as a starter.

Safety Celebration

The Clemson-Georgia series in the 1980s was a yearly confrontation of national significance. The two schools won the first national titles in the decade. One of the most thrilling games of the series took place in 1987 at Clemson. The key play of Clemson's comeback victory took place when James Lott and company tackled Georgia quarterback James Jackson in the endzone for a safety.

November 12, 1988—Clemson clinched an ACC record-tying third straight ACC title with a 49-25 win at Maryland. Clemson scored 28 points in the fourth period on just nine offensive plays.

November 19, 1988—Clemson gained revenge for a loss at South Carolina in 1987 with a 29-10 victory over the Gamecocks at Clemson. Rodney Williams was masterful in running the Clemson offensive in his final home game. Williams would end his career with 32 wins as the starting quarterback, still a record for a Tiger quarterback.

January 2, 1989—Clemson became the first ACC team to defeat Oklahoma in a 13-6 Florida Citrus Bowl victory. Clemson held the Oklahoma offense without a touchdown for just the second time in the decade of the eighties. Clemson closed the season with a #9 ranking and became the only school in the nation to win a conference title, a bowl game and rank in the final Top 20 for three straight years. Terry Allen, with 100 all-purpose running yards, was the offensive MVP.

September 9, 1989—Clemson earned a landmark victory at Florida State, 34-23.

The Tigers jumped out to a 21-0 lead behind a 73-yard interception return by Wayne Simmons and a 73-yard touchdown run by Terry Allen. The victory moved Clemson to number-seven in the AP poll and it was the last loss of the season for Florida State, who eventually ended the season ranked third in the nation.

November 18, 1989—Clemson slaughtered South Carolina 45-0, the largest margin of victory for Clemson in the series in 89 years. Clemson outgained the Gamecocks 466-155, and picked up 355 yards rushing. Clemson's fifth-ranked defense forced five turnovers. Terry Allen rushed for 89 yards in the first half, then suffered a knee injury just before halftime and never carried the ball for the Tigers again.

December 30, 1989—The Tigers defeated West Virginia 27-7 in the Gator Bowl. It was Clemson's fourth straight bowl victory and the fourth straight year Clemson concluded the season ranked in the national top 20. The Tigers held West Virginia to just 119 yards passing and forced Heisman Trophy runner up Major Harris into three fumbles. Chester McGlockton sacked Harris in the endzone and recovered the ball for a touchdown. It is the last time a defensive lineman has scored a touchdown for the Tigers. The win gave Clemson 38 wins in a four-year period, an all-time ACC record.

January 18, 1990—Danny Ford resigned as head coach after 11 full seasons. He finished his career tied for first in ACC history in career victories with 96 and he was second in winning percentage. He had a 96-29-4 overall record and 76 percent winning mark. He was the third winningest active coach in the nation at the time of his resignation.

January 21, 1990—Ken Hatfield became Clemson's 22nd head coach. Hatfield had been the head coach at Arkansas since 1984 and took his alma mater to bowl games each of his six seasons.

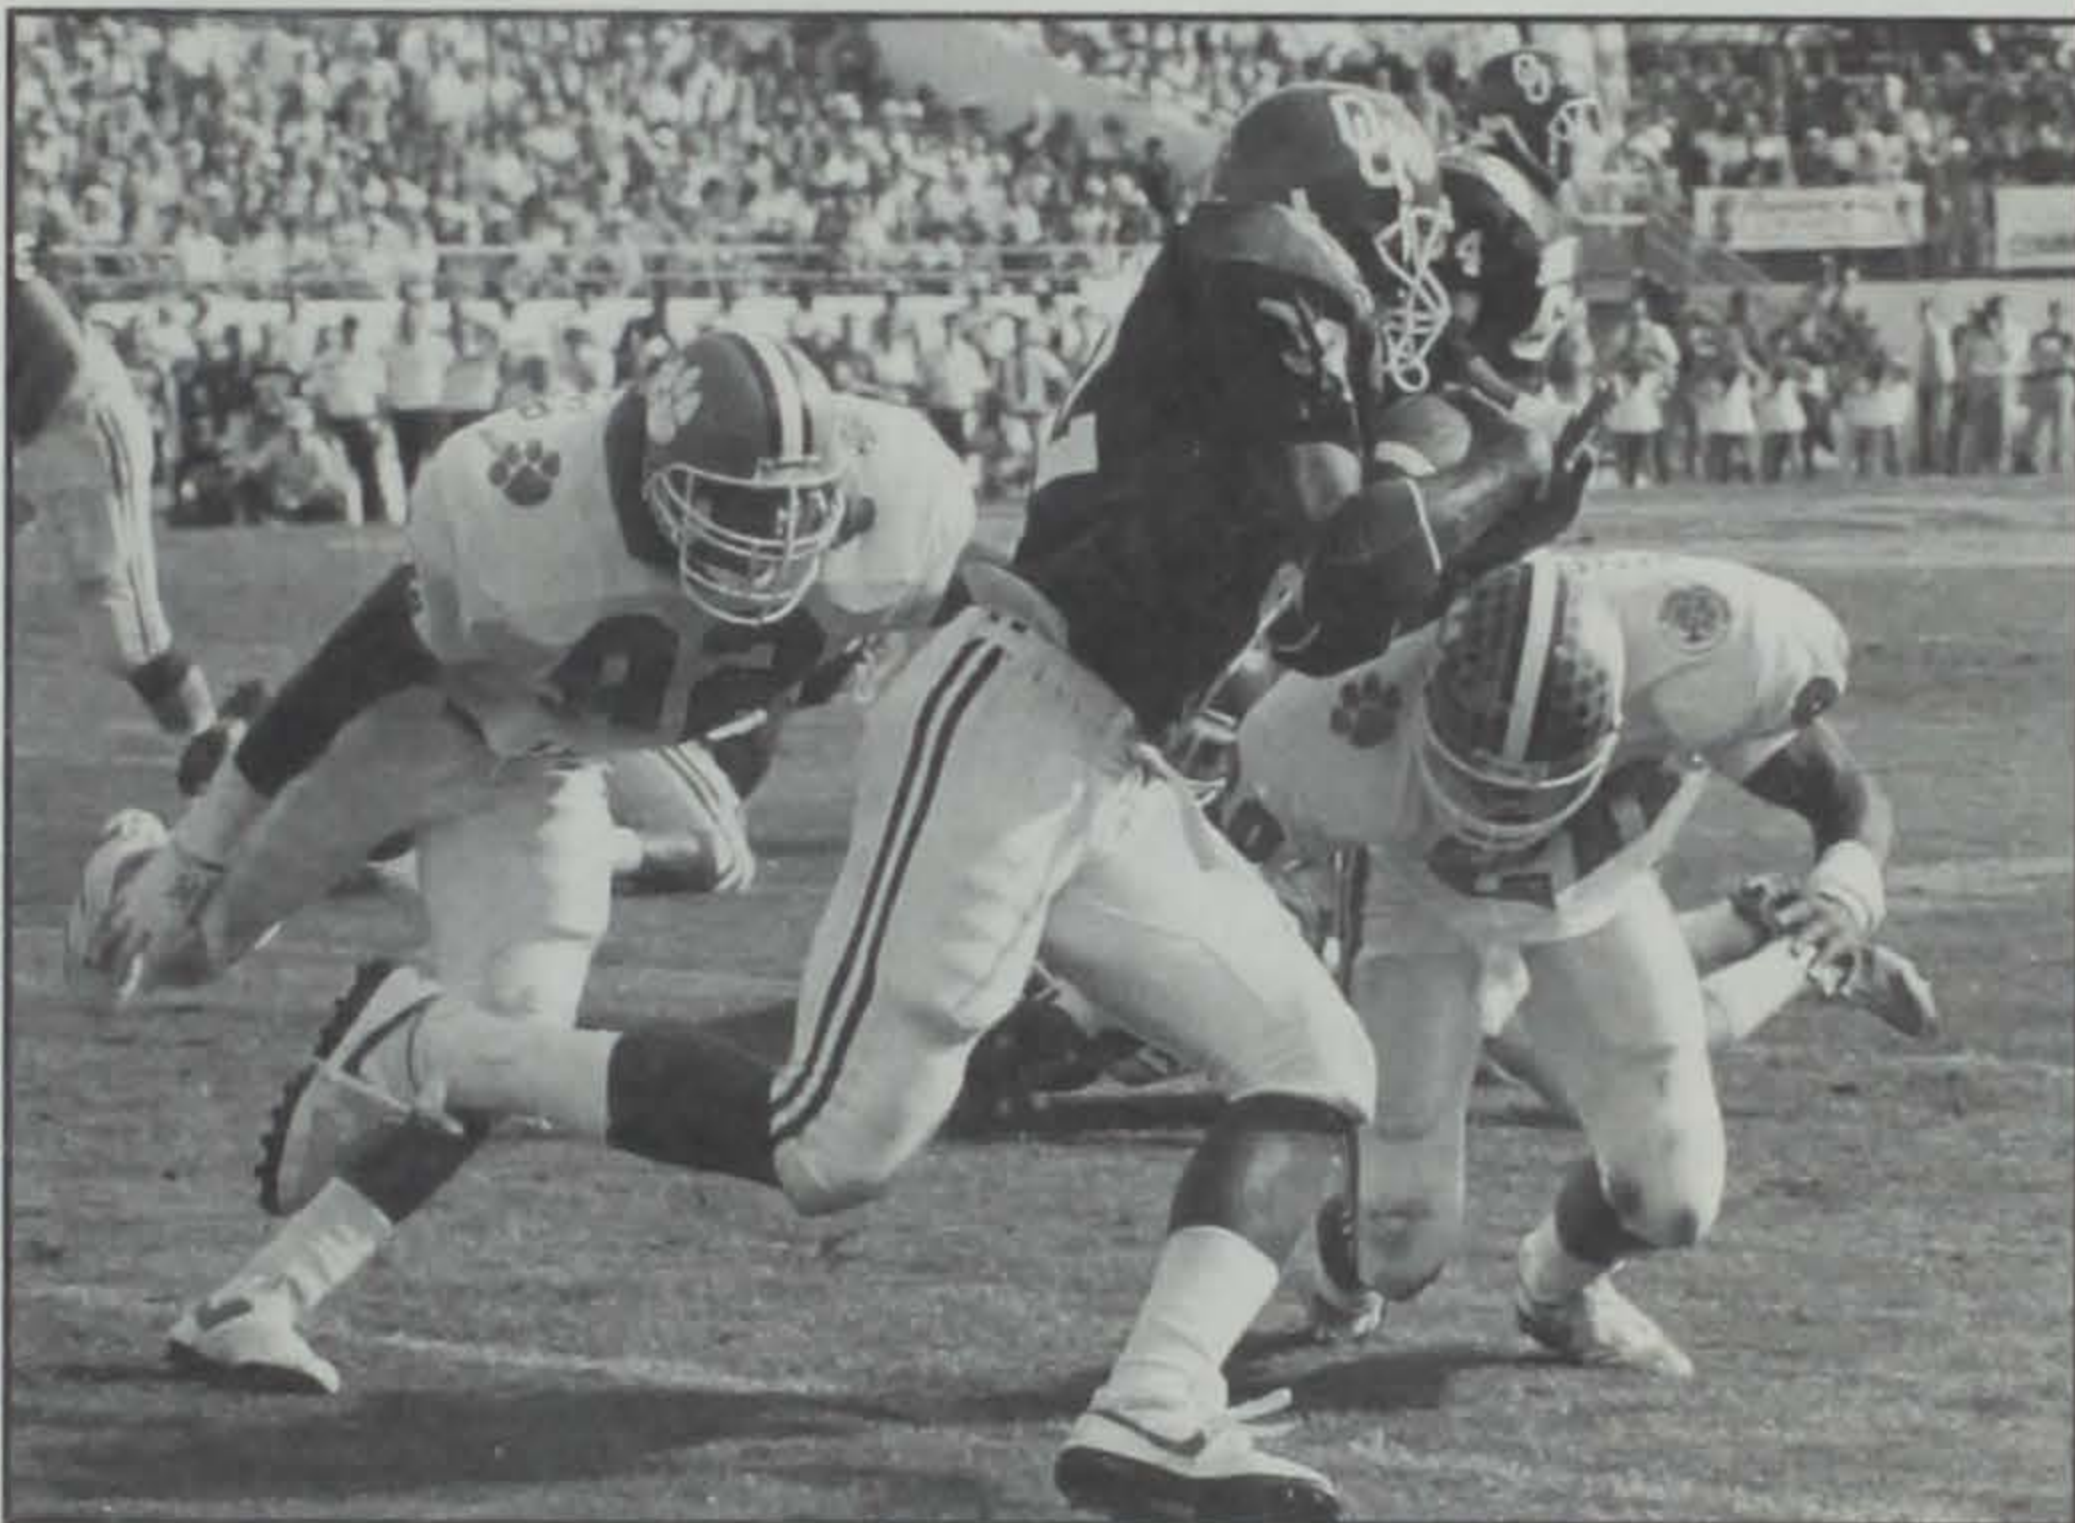

September 1, 1990—Clemson defeated Long Beach State 59-0 in the first game of the Ken Hatfield era. Clemson scored two touchdowns via return, one on an interception return by Arlington Nunn and one on a kickoff return by Doug Thomas. The 49ers were coached by NFL legend George Allen, who was making a comeback as a coach. Unfortunately, the venerable coach who led that team to a 6-5 record, died at the end of the season from pneumonia.

October 13, 1990—Eventual national cham-

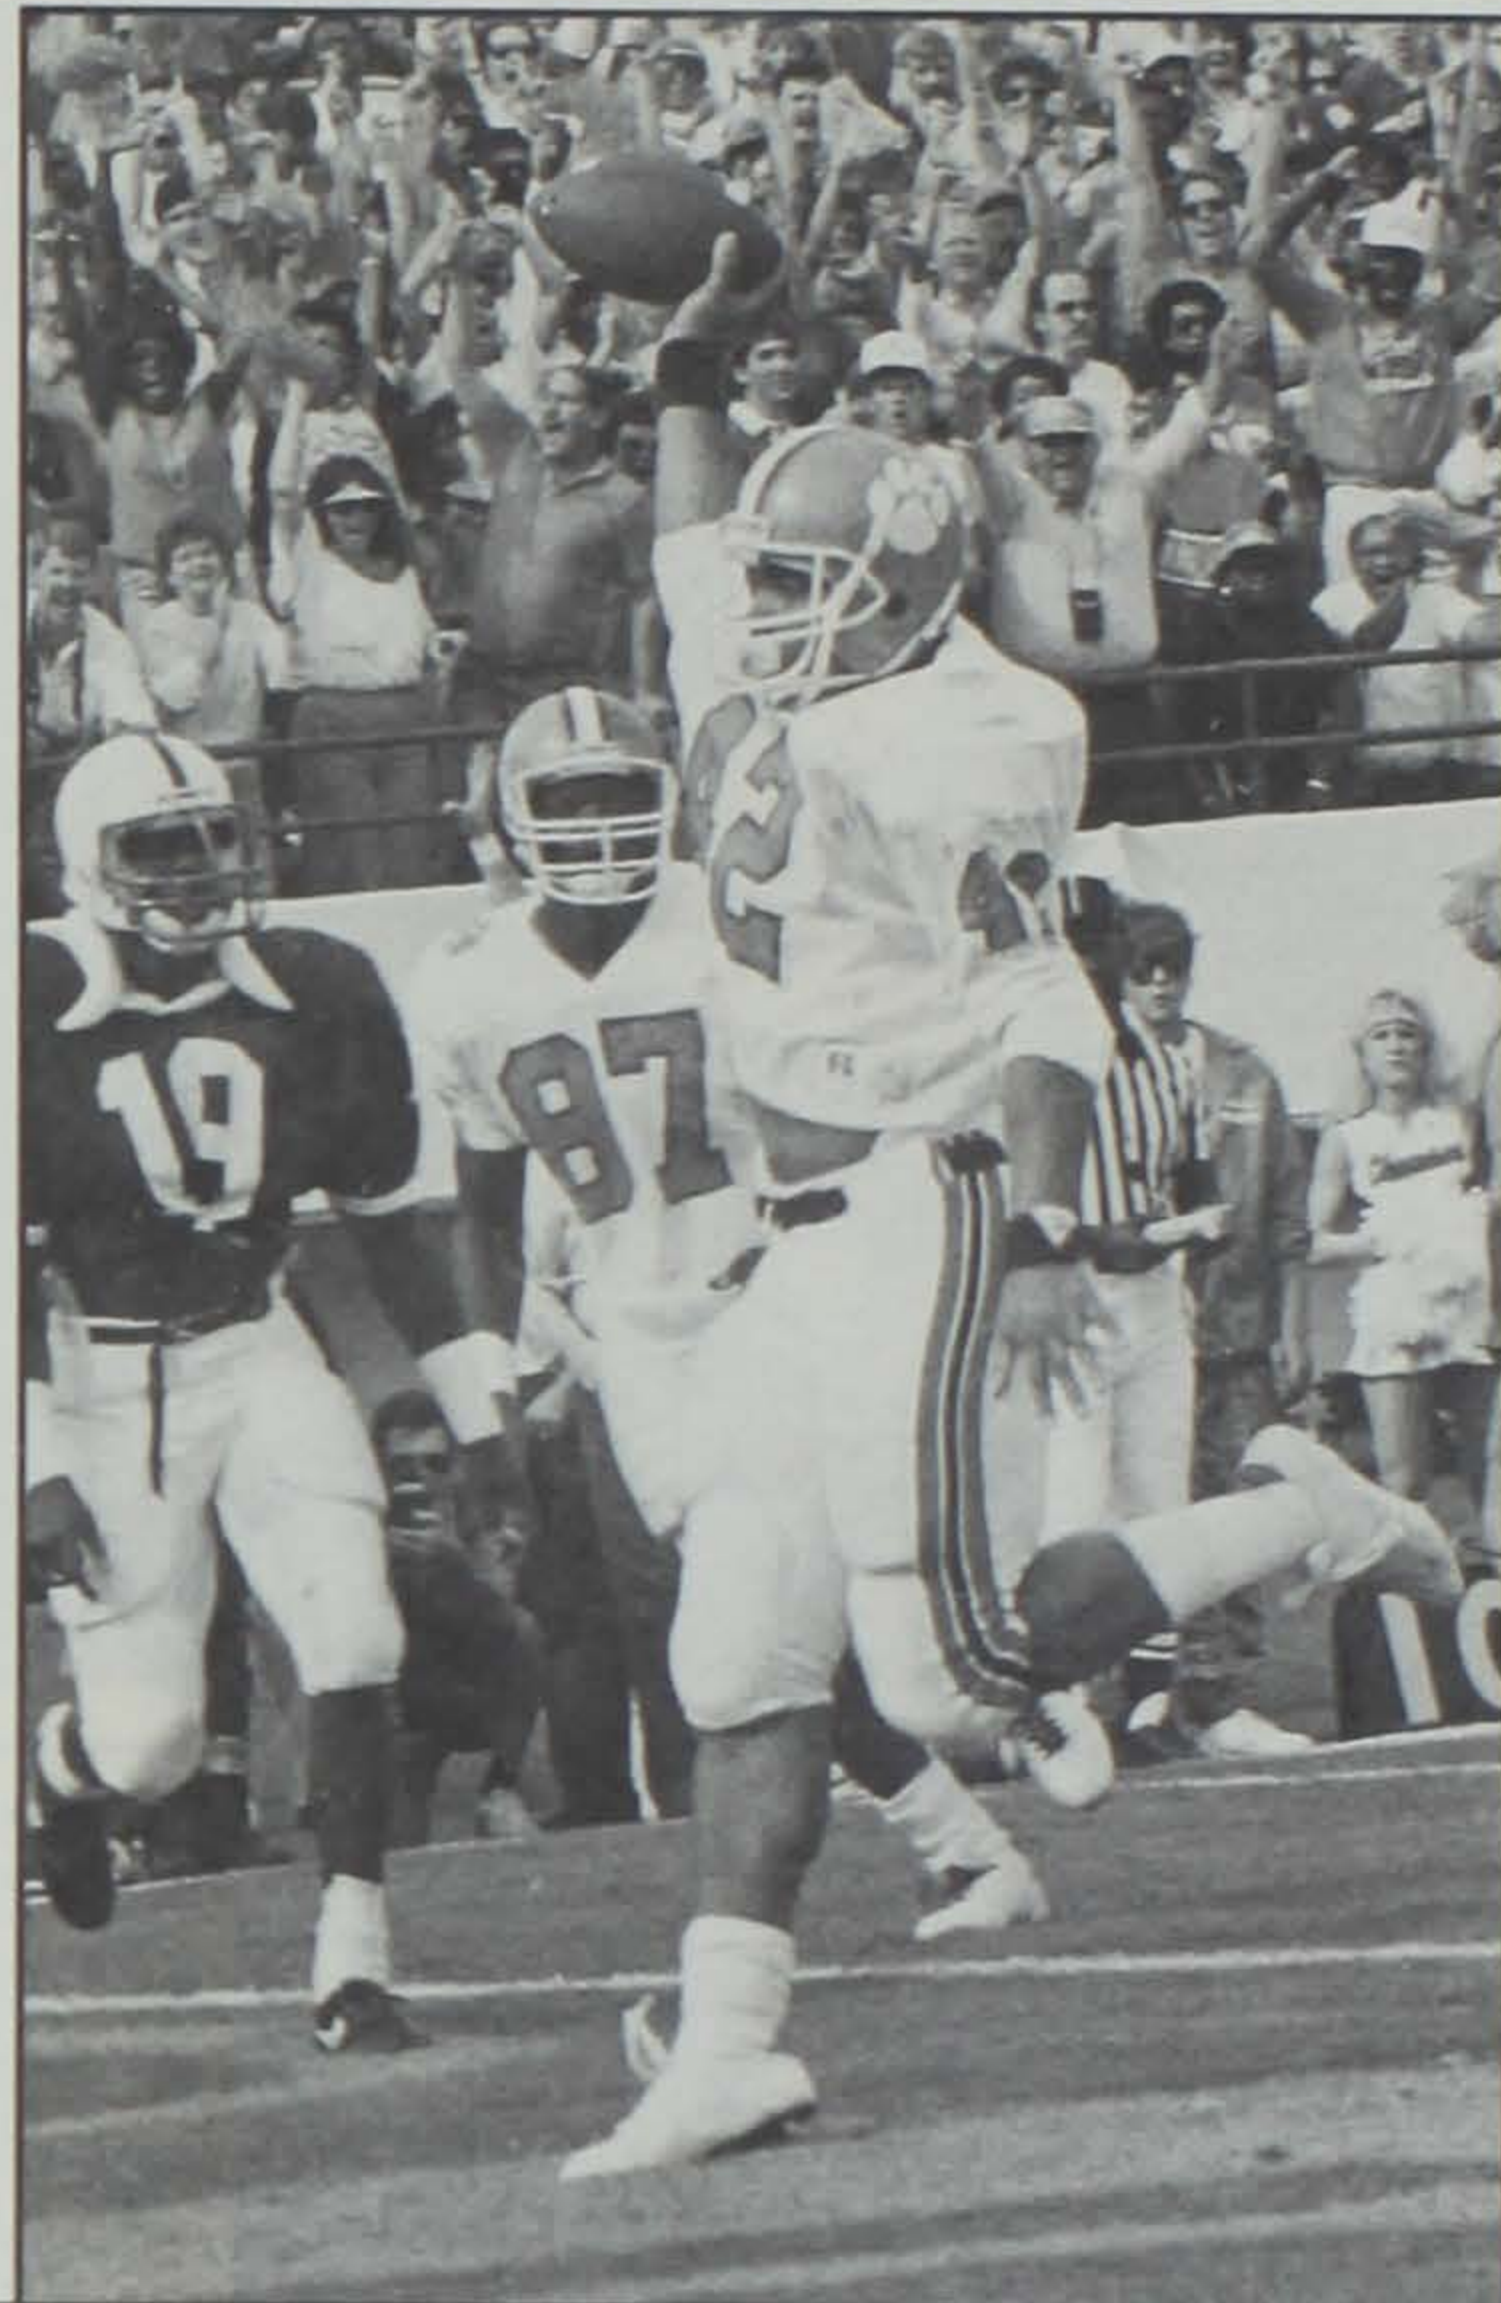

Treadwell Kicks Beat Georgia

Six times in his career, All-American David Treadwell kicked a fourth quarter field goal to win or tie a game. He did it in consecutive years against the Georgia Bulldogs. His 46-yarder on the last play of the game gave Clemson a 31-28 victory in Athens, then he kicked a 21-yarder with two seconds left in the 21-20 win the following year.

Clemson 13, Oklahoma 6

Clemson returned to the national top 10 at the end of the 1988 season with a 13-6 victory over Barry Switzer's Oklahoma team. Clemson's defense kept Oklahoma out of the endzone, just the second time in the 1980s that Oklahoma had failed to score a touchdown. Dexter Davis batted away a Jamelle Holieway pass on the last play of the game to preserve the Citrus Bowl victory.

Clemson 35, Penn State 10

Clemson dominated defending national champion Penn State in the 1988 Citrus Bowl. Tracy Johnson scored three touchdowns to key a Clemson offense that gained 499 yards total offense. Rodney Williams passed for 214 yards, Keith Jennings caught seven passes for 110 yards and Terry Allen had a 100-yard rushing day.

pion Georgia Tech defeated Clemson 21-19 in Atlanta. Clemson rushed for over 300 yards in the game, yet lost to Bobby Ross's team. Chris Gardocki's 60-yard field goal attempt to win the game was just a couple of yards short.

January 1, 1991—Clemson shut out Illinois 30-0 in its first Hall of Fame Bowl appearance. It was Clemson's largest margin of victory in a bowl game. The win elevated Clemson to #9 in the final AP poll and gave Clemson a Top 10 ranking in Ken Hatfield's first year. He was the first ACC coach ever to take a team to a Top 10 ranking in his first year. It was a record 40th win for Clemson's seniors.

October 26, 1991 — Clemson wore purple jerseys for the first time since the 1930s in a 29-19 victory over 10th-ranked (USA Today) N.C. State. The 18th-ranked (AP) Tigers were led by freshman Nelson Welch, who kicked a Clemson record five field goals. Clemson scored its first touchdown on a fake field goal as Rudy Harris ran three yards for a score.

November 16, 1991 — The Tigers clinched their 12th ACC Championship, first under Ken Hatfield, with a 40-7 win over Maryland at Death Valley. DeChane Cameron was 13-23 for 213 yards in leading Clemson to victory in his final home game.

November 23, 1991—DeChane Cameron gained 322 yards of total offense, 206 passing and 116 rushing to lead Clemson to a 41-23 win at South Carolina. Clemson also had a 100-yard receiver in the game, giving Clemson a 200-yard passer, 100-yard rusher and 100-yard receiver (Terry Smith) in the same game for just the fifth time in Clemson history.

November 30, 1991 — Clemson ran its overseas record to 2-0 with a 33-21 win over Duke in the Coca Cola Bowl in Tokyo, Japan. Clemson had to score 26 points in the fourth period to register the victory. It was Ken Hatfield's 100th win as a college coach.

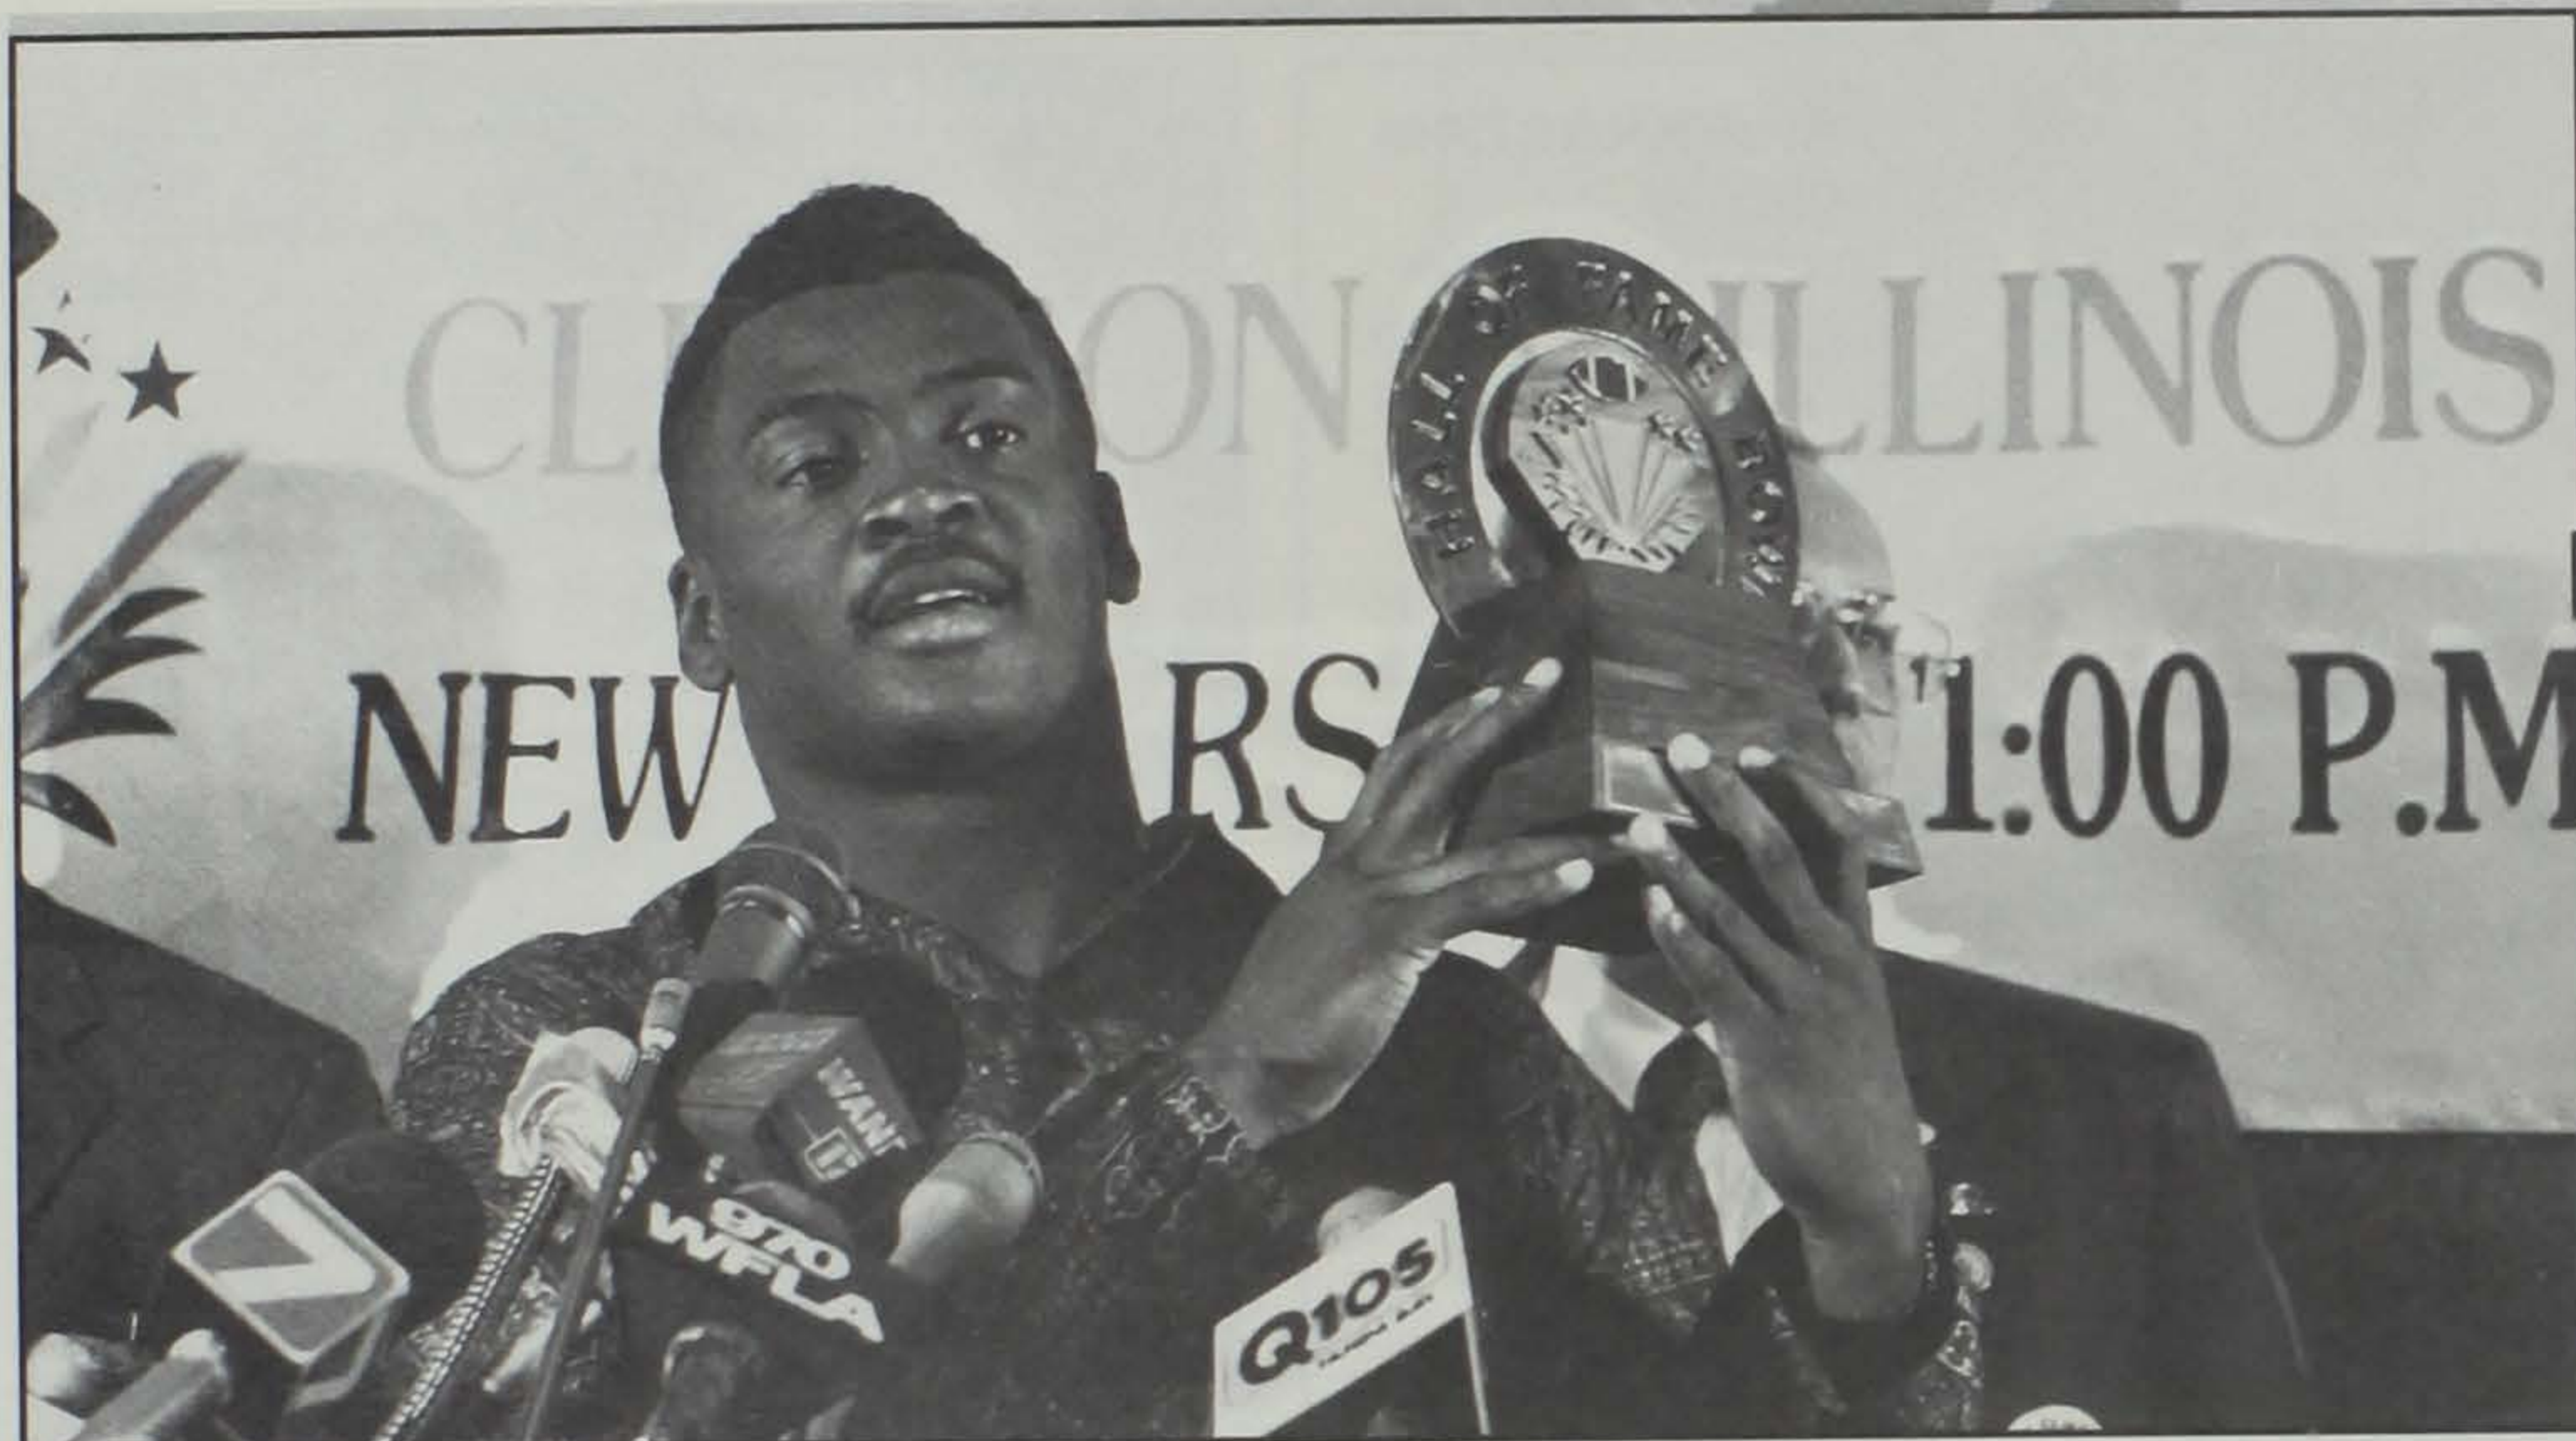

September 12, 1992 — Florida State defeated Clemson 24-20 in the first night game at Clemson since 1956. The contest was televised by ESPN. Clemson had taken a 20-17 lead in the fourth period on a touchdown pass to Terry Smith. The Seminoles led by quarterback Charlie Ward, scored the winning TD in the two final minutes.

October 10, 1992 — Clemson overcame a 28-0 deficit to defeat Virginia in Charlottesville 29-28. Nelson Welch kicked a 32-yard field goal with 52 seconds left to cap the comeback. Quarterback Louis Solomon came off the the bench with the score 28-0 and led the comeback. His 64-yard scoring run just before the half changed the course of the game. The victory over the 10th-ranked Cavaliers was just the third in Clemson history over a top-10 team on the road.

November 7, 1992 — Clemson soundly defeated #18 North Carolina 40-7 at Death Valley, the largest margin of victory for the Tigers over a top 20 team in history. Freshman Patrick Sapp hit 13-23 passes for 205 yards, while Rodney Blunt scored three TDs in leading the Clemson offense. The Tigers controlled the clock for a record 42:58.

September 4, 1993 — Clemson opened the 1993 season with a defeat of UNLV in the first meeting between the two teams. Sophomore quarterback Patrick Sapp posted the sixth-highest passing efficiency mark in Clemson history (235.0) in the game, throwing two touchdown strikes in the 24-14 Tiger victory. But most of the strikes were coming from above, as the game was delayed 17 minutes in the fourth quarter due to lightning. Both teams and most fans cleared the field.

Clemson 30, Illinois 0

Clemson's most dominant bowl performance in history took place in the 1991 Hall of Fame Bowl. Clemson shutout Illinois and got a 14-19 passing performance from game MVP DeChane Cameron. Illinois drove into Clemson territory just three times all day.

Stacy Long

Stacy Long was a two-time first-team All-American in 1989-90. His outstanding drive blocking was a prime reason Clemson ranked in the top 10 in the nation in rushing both seasons.

ACC Champions

Clemson won the 1991 ACC Championship. The key victory took place early in the season, 9-7 vs. defending national champion Georgia Tech. The Yellow Jackets had the game under control until Robert O'Neal forced a fumble to change the momentum of the game.

November 24, 1993 - Coach Ken Hatfield and Clemson University announced a separation, ending Hatfield's four-year career as head coach. Hatfield was 32-13-1 at Clemson and his .707 winning percentage was third in ACC history when he departed.

November 29, 1993 — Tommy West was named Clemson's 23rd head coach and took over the Clemson team heading for the Peach Bowl. West, who spent the 1993 regular season as head coach at UT Chattanooga, became the sixth coach in Division I history to make his head coaching debut for a school in a bowl game and the second coach to ever become head coach for a bowl game after not serving as an assistant at that school during the regular season.

December 31, 1993 — The Tigers scored the latest touchdown to gain victory in a game since 1958, as Patrick Sapp connected with Terry Smith with 0:20 remaining to defeat Kentucky, 14-13, in the Peach Bowl. West experienced his fifth consecutive bowl victory with Clemson, as the Tigers won four straight bowl games during his years as an assistant (1986-89).

September 3, 1994 — For the first time ever, Clemson faced a team coached by a Clemson graduate. Bobby Johnson, an academic All-ACC defensive back for the Tigers and a 1973 Clemson graduate, brought his Furman Paladins to Death Valley. Clemson came away with a 27-6 win. Clemson inducted Frank Howard, Steve Fuller, and Banks McFadden into the Ring of Honor prior to the game.

September 10, 1994 — For the second straight week and the second time in history, Clemson faced a team coached by a Clemson graduate. Mike O'Cain, Clemson class of 1976 and the MVP of Clemson's 1975 team, brought his N.C. State team to Clemson and the Pack prevailed, 29-12. Clemson used the shotgun offense for the first time in this game.

September 17, 1994 — Clemson and Virginia met in the 1,000th ACC football game in history. Virginia won 9-6. Clemson's Andre Carter had three takeaways in the game, just the third Tiger in history to do that.

October 15, 1994 — Nelson Welch became the ACC's career field goal leader with a 47-yarder in the third quarter at Duke. It gave Welch 61 career field goals, breaking the record of 60 held by Jess Atkinson, Scott Sisson, and Obed Ariri.

October 29, 1994 — Louis Solomon set an all-time Clemson quarterback rushing record with 159 yards rushing to lead Clemson to a 24-8 win over Wake Forest at Death Valley. He broke Mike O'Cain's record of 140 yards rushing from the QB position against N.C. State in 1976. Tim Jones became the eighth player in Clemson history to go over 300 career tackles.

November 5, 1994 — Nelson Welch became Clemson's career scoring leader with five field goals and a PAT in Clemson's 28-17 upset of 12th-ranked North Carolina in Chapel Hill. Clemson's defense held UNC to 11 yards rushing. Clemson started an all first-year freshman backfield.

May 15, 1995 — The Banks McFadden building was dedicated. The facility is the home of Clemson football administration and with all the top of the line in facilities for players and coaches.

August 12, 1995 — The Carolina Panthers and the Denver Broncos played the first professional game in the history of Death Valley. The Panthers won the exhibition game over the John Elway led Broncos.

September 17, 1995 — The Carolina Panthers met the St. Louis Rams in the first

Clemson 14, Kentucky 13

Tommy West's first game as head coach was a thriller. The Tigers scored the winning TD with 21 seconds left on a pass from Patrick Sapp to Terry Smith. However, on the preceding play, Sapp threw an interception. But, All-American Stacy Seegars made the only tackle of his career on the Kentucky interceptor, forcing a fumble, which Brent LeJeune recovered, and thus giving Clemson a new life.

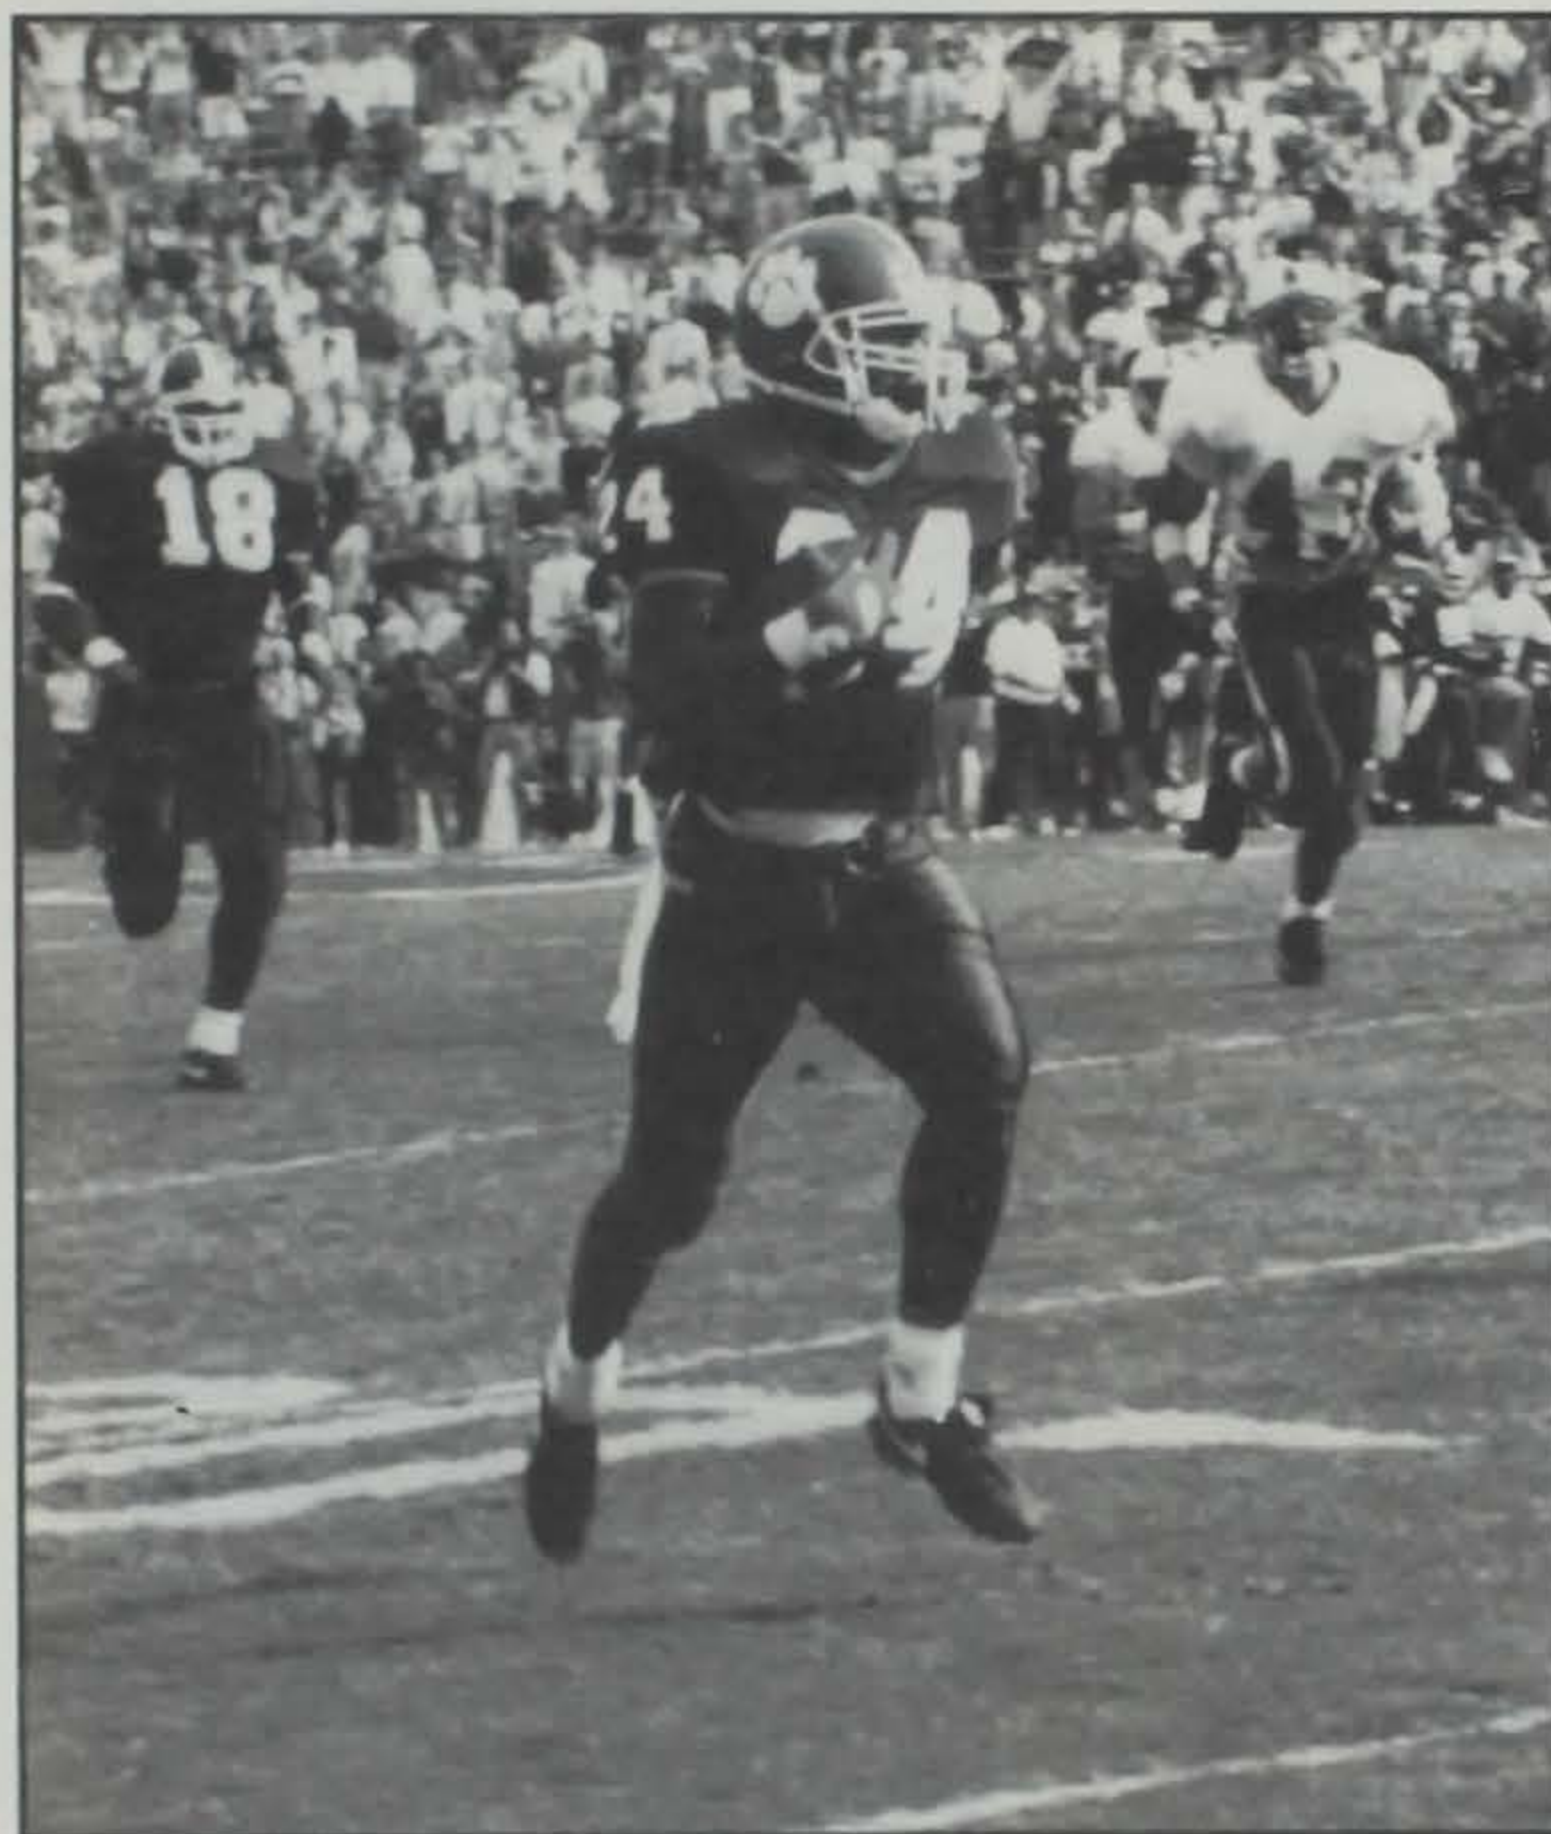

Terry Smith

Terry Smith became Clemson's career reception yardage leader with this 73-yard reception against Virginia in 1993. He also finished his career as Clemson's career reception leader.

Anthony Simmons

The beginning of the second 100 years of Clemson football is in the hands of Anthony Simmons, who became the first defensive player in history to be named UPI National Freshman of the Year. He had 150 tackles as a first-year freshman and was named third-team AP All-American, a first for a position player in ACC history.

regular season NFL game in Death Valley. It was the first of eight regular season games for the expansion Panthers at Clemson Memorial Stadium.

October 7, 1995—Clemson wore "turn back the clock" uniforms for the Clemson-Georgia game at Death Valley. The uniforms were replicas of those worn by the 1939 Clemson team that went to the Cotton Bowl, the first bowl appearance in Clemson history. The contest started at 6:39 PM because Clemson football started in 1896 and Clemson's first bowl team was the 1939 club. Georgia won the thrilling game, 19-17, but that would be Clemson's final regular season loss of 1995. Leomont Evans had 18 tackles in the contest, most ever by a Clemson defensive back, and the Tigers blocked three Georgia kicks, a single game record for blocked kicks by a Clemson team.

October 21, 1995—For the first time in Clemson history the Tigers executed a "Hail Mary Pass" on the last play of a half. Louis Solomon's heave into the endzone from 33 yards out was tipped by Tony Horne and caught by Antwuan Wyatt as the horn sounded ending the first half. Clemson went on to a 17-0 victory, its third straight shutout of the Maryland Terps.

November 4, 1995—Clemson raised its record in orange pants to 29-6 with a pivotal 17-10 victory over North Carolina in Death Valley. Twin brothers Peter and Andy Ford both had interceptions for the Tigers, the first time in ACC history that twin brothers had interceptions in the same game.

November 11, 1995—Two all-time Clemson records were set on the same day in Clemson's 34-17 victory over Duke. Raymond Priester gained 263 yards rushing to break Cliff Austin's Clemson single game rushing mark. All-American Brian Dawkins had three interceptions in the first quarter to set a quarter record and tie the single game mark for interceptions. The game was played in a driving rainstorm in the first half and brilliant sunshine in the second half.

November 18, 1995—Clemson outscored South Carolina 21-0 in the fourth period to defeat South Carolina in Columbia, 38-17. It was Clemson's fourth straight win in Columbia. The victory clinched a bid to the Gator Bowl for the Tigers.

December 10, 1995—The defending Super Bowl Champion San Francisco 49ers defeated the Carolina Panthers at Death Valley. Jerry Rice caught one touchdown pass from Steve Young in the contest that attracted over 75,000 fans.

December 15, 1995—Tiger linebacker Anthony Simmons was named UPI National Freshman of the Year, the first defensive player in the history of the award. Simmons led Clemson in tackles in 1995 with 150, 46 more than any other freshman in school history. He was also named ACC Rookie of the Year and was second in the voting for ACC Defensive Player of the Year.

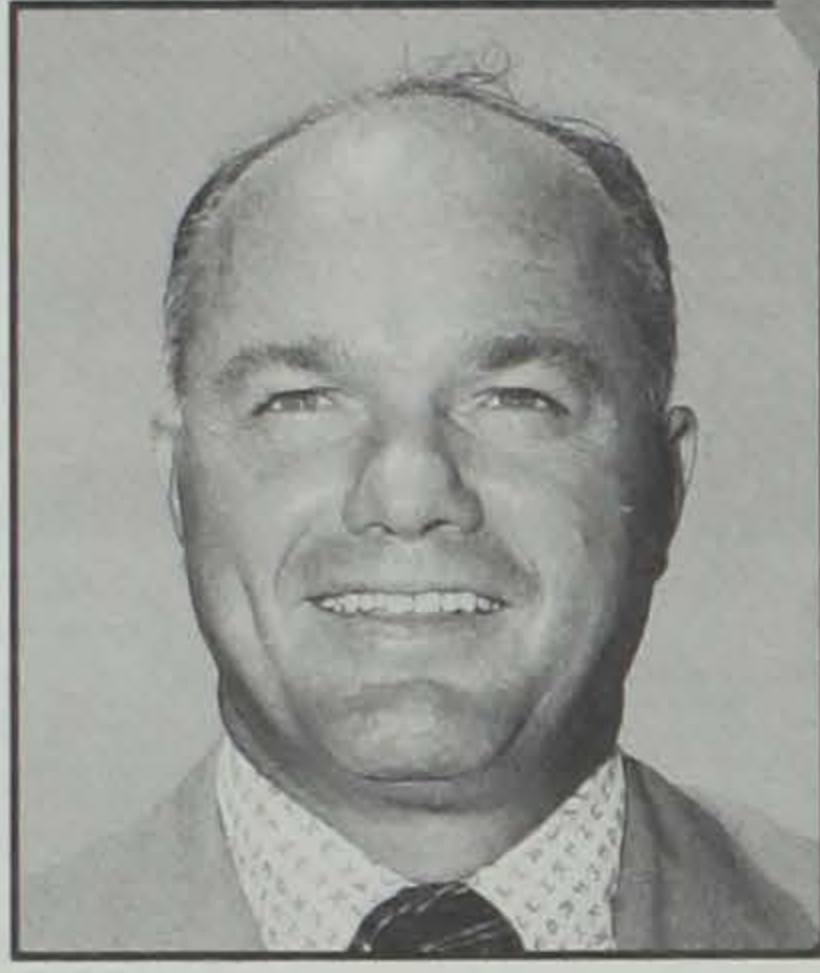

December 17, 1995—The Carolina Panthers defeated the Atlanta Falcons in the 16th and final game played at Death Valley in 1995.

January 28, 1996—Clemson legend Frank Howard, the school's head football coach between 1940-69 passed away at his home in Clemson. Howard, who still had come to his office in the Jervey Athletic Center a month prior to his death, died on the same day as his former teammate and Alabama legend Bear Bryant, 14 years later.

Six members of Clemson's 1981 National Champion team and five members of the Tigers 1940 Cotton Bowl Champions have been selected to the Clemson Centennial Football team. The team was announced Saturday, April 6 by John Seketa, Coordinator of the school's Centennial Celebration of Football.

"We received a great response," said Seketa. "The fans took this seriously by reviewing Clemson's successful tradition of football and they have chosen an outstanding team. We decided to select a one-platoon and a two-platoon team because we wanted to have a representation dating back many years. The team has 21 All-Americans. Everyone on this team made a significant contribution to the heritage of Clemson football."

Centennial Team ballots were first distributed at last year's Clemson vs. North Carolina game. They were also available through the Orange & White and at Coca Cola displays at area BiLo stores.

Of the 35 players chosen to the team, 21 were named All-American, including 19 of the 24 players on the two-Platoon team. Five of the selections were named ACC Player-of-the-Year.

The team continued their excellence at the professional level. Twenty-seven of the 35 honorees played, or are still playing in the NFL, including 21 who played at least five seasons. Six of the selections went on to become Super Bowl Champions, and seven were either All-Pro or played in the Pro Bowl. Eleven were first-round draft choices. Six are currently playing in the NFL and another, Brian Dawkins, was a second round draft choice and should also be in the NFL this year. Dawkins was the only 1995 Clemson student on the Centennial Team.

Seventeen of the 35 players came to Clemson from the state of South Carolina, while five are natives of North Carolina and five are natives of Georgia. Greensboro, NC (Joe Bostic, Jeff Bostic, Jeff Davis) and Sumter, SC (Terry Kinard, Wayne Mass, Dexter Davis) each sent three representatives to Clemson.

Four players off of Clemson's 1981 National Championship defense were named to the team. That list includes William Perry, Jeff Bryant, Jeff Davis, Terry Kinard. Wide receiver Perry Tuttle and punter Dale Hatcher were also Tiger National Champions chosen to the Centennial team.

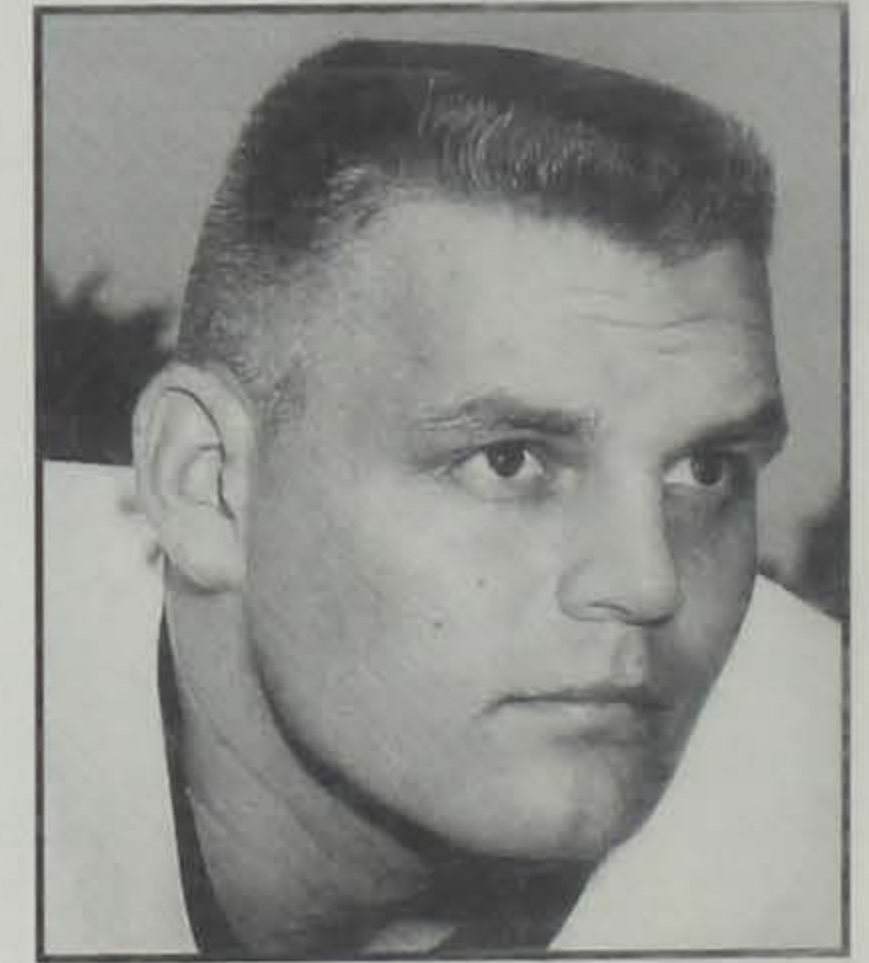

Clemson's 1939 team that defeated Boston College in the 1940 Cotton Bowl, had five of the 11 players chosen to the One Platoon team. The group is led by All-American Banks McFadden, who was chosen as the quarterback/tailback and punter, the only player to make the team at two positions. McFadden, the nation's most versatile Athlete in 1939 and the only athlete in Clemson history to be named an All-American in both football and basketball, was the top votegetter on the Centennial team.

Runningback Charlie Timmons, who scored Clemson's only touchdown in that win over the Eagles, was also chosen. Two-time All-American Joe Blalock, center Bob Sharpe, and offensive lineman George Fritts were also Cotton Bowl Champions named to the One Platoon Centennial team.

Clemson's 1978 team actually had the most representation on the Centennial team.

Ten players from that club, five on offense and five on defense, were chosen to the team. That list includes quarterback Steve Fuller, an All-American on the field and in the classroom, and his star wide receiver, Jerry Butler. The 1978 Tigers posted an 11-1 record and finished sixth in the final AP poll. They ended the season as ACC Champions and defeated Ohio State in the Gator Bowl, 17-15.

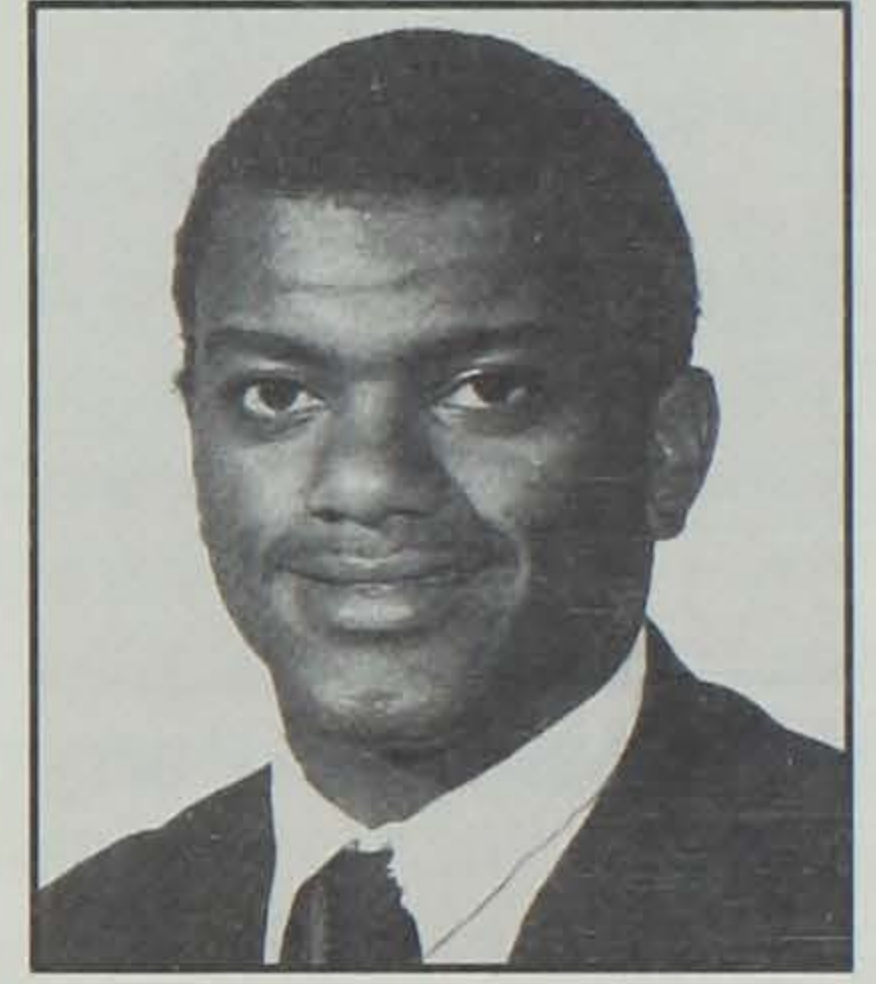

The two-platoon Centennial team features two sets of brothers. Jeff Bostic and Joe Bostic were both chosen to offensive line positions. Joe was a two-time All-America guard for Clemson in 1977 and 1978, while Jeff was an All-ACC performer on three Clemson bowl teams. Joe went on to play 10 years in the NFL, while Jeff played on three Super Bowl Championship teams with the Washington Redskins and played 14 years in the league.

The Perry Brothers, Michael Dean and William, were both chosen on the defensive line. They rank one-two in Clemson history in quarterback sacks, and were All-Americans at Clemson, Michael Dean in 1987 and William in 1982, 1983 and 1984. William remains the only three-time All-American in Clemson history. William was a finalist for the Lombardi Award in 1984 and Michael Dean was a finalist for the Outland Trophy in 1987.

The two-platoon team demonstrates the strength of Clemson's defense over the years. Nine of the 11 players chosen were named All-American at some point in their careers, including Terry Kinard, the only unanimous All-American in Clemson history and the 1982 National Defensive Player of the Year. The four players on the defensive line of the two-platoon Centennial Team, William Perry, Michael Dean Perry, Jim Stuckey and Jeff Bryant, all played at least eight years in the NFL.

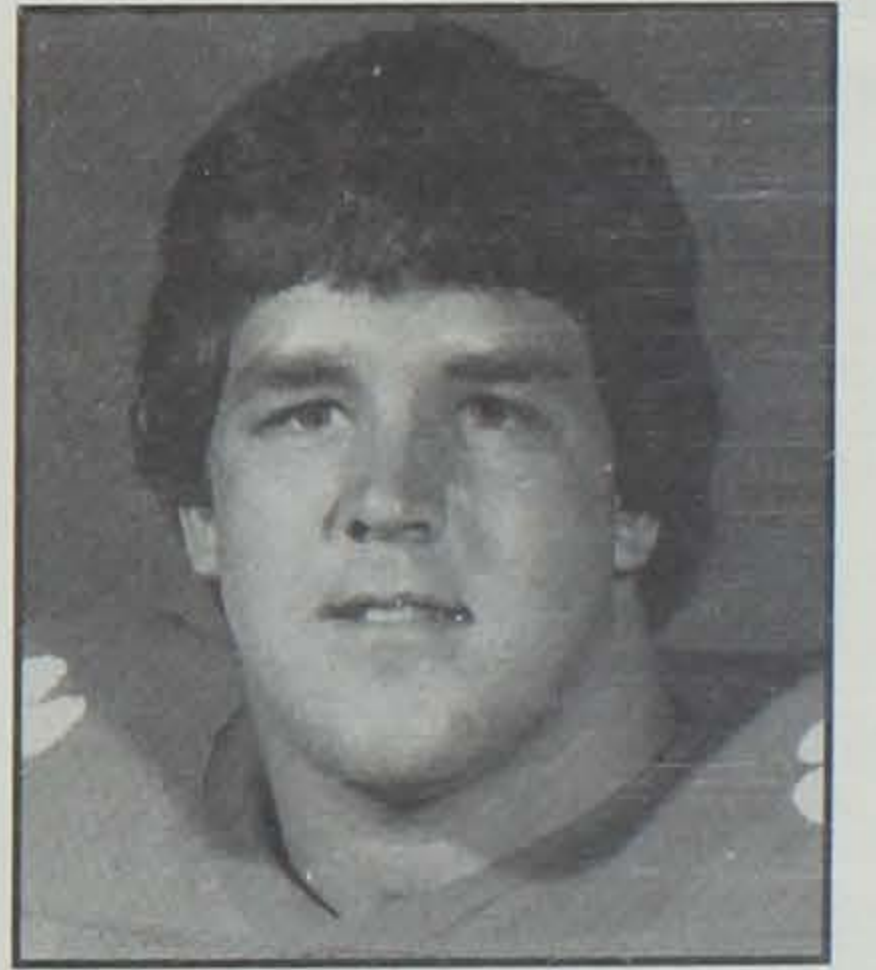

All three former players in the Clemson Ring of Honor were chosen to the team. That list includes McFadden, Fuller and Jeff Davis, the captain of Clemson's 1981 National Championship team who was a first-team All-American and ACC Player of the Year that season.

Hall of Famer, John Heisman

A name synonymous with not only the early years of Clemson football but the collegiate game is John Heisman.

A stern disciplinarian, he expected his players to be of high character and performance both on the football field and in the classroom.

Heisman coached the Tigers in 1900-1903 and was responsible for putting the Clemson name among the annals of the great early collegiate teams.

Heisman was brought to Clemson by a professor and later University President, Walter Riggs. In the spring of 1894, Riggs was a graduate manager for the Auburn football team, and he was responsible for finding a coach for the 1895 season. Riggs wrote to Carl Williams of Pennsylvania, captain of the 1894 team, asking him to suggest a suitable coach. He replied recommending J.W. Heisman, an ex-Penn player, and his coach at Oberlin a few years earlier.

After several weeks, Riggs finally found Heisman in Texas, where he was engaged in raising tomatoes. Having sunk about all of his capital into the tomato venture, he was glad to go back to his old love of football and he readily went to coach at Auburn for $500.00 a year. Riggs later was hired as a professor at Clemson and he hired Heisman at Clemson in 1900. (Riggs started the Clemson football program in 1896 and was head coach in 1896 and 1899).

Heisman began his coaching career at Oberlin in 1892 and lasted 36 years in the profession. His career included positions at Akron, Auburn, Clemson, Georgia Tech, Penn, Washington and Jefferson, and Rice University. He had an overall career record of 185 wins, 70 losses, and 17 ties.

He invented the hidden ball trick, the handoff, the double lateral, and the "Flea flicker." He pioneered the forward pass, and originated the center snap and the word "hike" (previously the center used to roll the ball on the ground to the quarterback).

Heisman took Clemson to a 19-3-2 record in his four seasons. His .833 winning pct. is still the best in Clemson history. He was also the Clemson baseball coach between 1901-1904.

Clemson was a powerhouse during his tenure and was a most feared opponent. His secret was that he depended on smart, quick players rather than large size and brawn.

William Heisman, a nephew of John Heisman often told a story on how his famous uncle stressed academics.

"I remember a story Coach Heisman used to tell me about this famous football player he confronted in the locker room before a big game. My uncle came busting through the door and went over to this guy and said, You can't play today because you haven't got your grades up to par. The player looked up at my uncle and said, 'Coach, don't you know that the sportswriters call this toe on my right foot the million-dollar toe?' My uncle snapped back right quick and said, "What good is it if you only have a fifteen-cent head?"

Another favorite Heisman story was the speech he used to make before a season began. Heisman would face his recruits holding a football. "What is it?" he would sharply ask. Then he would tell his players "a football was a prolate spheroid, an elongated sphere—in which the outer leather casing is drawn up tightly over a somewhat smaller rubber tubing." Then after a long pause he would say, "better to have died as a small boy than to fumble this football."

Heisman broke down football into these percentages: talent 25%; mentality 20%; aggressiveness 20%; speed 20%; and weight 15%. He considered coaching as being a master-commanding, even dictatorial. He has no time to say 'please' or 'mister', and he must be occasionally severe, arbitrary, and something of a czar."

On November 29, 1900, Clemson defeated Alabama 35-0, which allowed Heisman's team to finish the season undefeated with a 6-0 record. This was Clemson's first undefeated team and was the only team to win all of its games in a season until the 1948 squad went 11-0. The Tigers only allowed two touchdowns the entire 1900 season.

Clemson opened the 1901 season with a 122-0 win over Guilford. The Tigers averaged 30 yards per play and a touchdown every minute and 26 seconds. The first half lasted 20 minutes while the second half lasted only 10 minutes. Legend has it that every man on the Clemson team scored a touchdown in this game.

In his third season, on November 27, 1902, Clemson played in the snow for the first time in a game against Tennessee. The Tigers won the game, 11-0, and claimed the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association crown. (An early conference that had several southern colleges and universities as members).

In his final season in 1903, Clemson defeated Georgia Tech 73-0 on October 17, 1903. Clemson rushed the ball 55 times for 615 yards, while Tech ran the ball 35 times and collected 28 yards. The second half was shortened to 15 minutes.

On November 24, 1903 Clemson participated in its "First Bowl Game". Clemson and Cumberland met on this date for the Championship of the South. The contract for the game was drawn up just two weeks before the game was to be played. Cumberland who had earlier defeated Auburn, Alabama, and Vanderbilt was considered to be champion of the southern states of Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Tennessee, and Kentucky. While Clemson was considered to be the best team in Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia.

The game was played on a neutral site, Montgomery, AL. Cumberland and Clemson fought to an 11-11 tie. In this game, John Maxwell scored as a result of a 100 yard kickoff return. After the news came back to Clemson that the game ended in a tie, the students and the local townspeople built a bonfire and paraded around the campus.

John Heisman's 19-3-2 record is still the best in Clemson history on a percentage basis. The man who is honored each year with the awarding of the Heisman Trophy holds the distinction of building the early foundation of Clemson's football tradition.

Hall of Famer John Heisman coached Clemson to its first perfect season.

Hall of Famer, Jess Neely

Neely is 11th in college football history in total victories. He coached Clemson to its first bowl game and first Top 20 season.

Perhaps one of Clemson's most beloved coaches was Jess Neely.

Neely influence and inspiration is still present today as the IPTAY Scholarship Club was founded during his coaching tenure. IPTAY is the lifeblood of the Clemson Athletic Department. It provides funds for athletic scholarships and capital improvements.

Thousands of athletes have benefitted through the IPTAY Scholarship fund since its inception in 1934. That first year of IPTAY, Neely and his staff convinced 160 people to pay $10.00 a year to Clemson, for a grand total of $1,600 the first year, (not bad during the middle of the great depression.)

Neely was head coach at Clemson from 1931 through 1939 and spent the next 26 years at Rice University in Houston.

Neely coached Clemson to its first bowl game, the 1940 Cotton Bowl, where the Tigers capped a 9-1-0 season by beating Boston College 6-3. Clemson ended the season ranked 12th in the final Associated Press poll, its first top 20 season in history. Boston College was ranked 11th going into the game and it was Clemson's first win over a top 20 team in its history. The team featured the play of Banks McFadden Clemson's first Associated Press All-American. Clemson had a 43-35-7 record during Neely's tenure.

Neely coached Rice to four Southwest Conference Championships and six bowl appearances, the last being a trip to the Bluebonnet Bowl in 1961.

During 40 years of college coaching he compiled a record of 207-99-14. Neely is 11th in college football history in victories by a Division I-A coach heading into the 1995 season. For his accomplishments, he was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1971.

Neely graduated from Vanderbilt in 1924, after lettering three years in football and serving as captain of the 1922 team. He coached a year of high school football before returning to his alma mater to obtain a law degree. But he never practiced.

He coached four years at Southwestern College in Clarksville, Tenn. and then went to the University of Alabama in 1928. It was there that he met Frank Howard. Neely brought Howard to Clemson as line coach in 1931. Howard replaced him in 1940 and remained as head coach for 30 years. In 1967, Neely returned to his alma mater as athletic director. He officially retired in 1971, but continued to coach golf until 1981, when he moved back to Texas.

"If I didn't look in the mirror every day, I wouldn't know how old I am," Neely once said. "Working with the boys makes you feel young, I feel that in athletics the boys learn a sense of loyalty and sacrifice and values they don't learn anywhere else.

"They learn to compete and that is what life is all about—it's competition.

"If they make good in football, chances are they'll be successful elsewhere. I like to see that those boys make something of themselves. That is my reward.

"The boys go to college to study and get that degree. Playing football is a side activity. When fellows go to a school first to play football they get an entirely wrong sense of values.

"And when you start them off with the wrong sense, it isn't difficult for them to go astray."

"He was a cool, southern gentlemen, but he worked us like dogs. The workouts were always twice as hard as the games," said Dick Maegle. "There were no superstars, no victory that was better than all the other victories. To him football was a team game and we were all team players." Maegle was the player tackled in a famous episode in the 1954 Cotton Bowl, when frustrated Tommy Lewis came off the bench to stop a certain touchdown. Rice won that game, 28-6.

Neely died at the age of 85 in 1983, but his landmark accomplishments in the 1930s at Clemson contributed significantly to Clemson's outstanding football tradition.

Hall of Famer, Banks McFadden

Usually when one gets out of the spotlight, his accomplishments soon fade and gather dust in some far off corner in the basement or attic.

But not Banks McFadden.

Now 77 and living in retirement in Clemson, Banks looks back with many fond memories and Clemson fans remember him as probably the greatest natural athlete ever to play for the Tigers.

Although he brought great pride to Clemson with his athletic ability, and later with his coaching, McFadden says, "working with the athletes and working for the people whom we had here at Clemson...it's been a tremendous life. It's something I'll never regret and I couldn't have asked for things to be better."

For some of you in the 'Pepsi Generation' who might not have read your Clemson athletic history too well, let us do a little refreshing on the one called "Bonnie Banks."

- * Was named All-American in both basketball (1938-39) and football (1939) the same calendar year.
- * Was voted the nation's most versatile athlete (1938-39)
- * Led Clemson to its first conference basketball championship (1939)
- * Led Clemson to its first bowl game and victory (1940 Cotton)
- * Won three events in State Track Meet in one afternoon, setting records in all three of them. Earlier in the same year placed first in five events in a dual meet, scoring 25 points while the opposing team's total score was 28 points.
- * Was Clemson's first No. one round draft choice (1939 Brooklyn Dodgers)
- * Tied for the longest rushing play in Clemson history (90 yards vs. Presbyterian, 1939)
- * Has the most punts for over 50 yards in a game (six vs. Tulane, 1939) and in a season (22 on 65 punts in 1939)
- * Held Clemson punting record (43.5) for 40 years (1939 to 1979).
- * First Clemson player invited to participate in the College All-Star game in Chicago.
- * Charter member in the Clemson Athletic Hall of Fame
- * Charter member in the South Carolina Athletic Hall of Fame
- * Only Clemson player ever chosen for the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame
- * Highest NFL draft pick in Clemson history (#3 in entire 1940 draft)

That's 15 of his more noteworthy accomplishments, and it wouldn't take too long to dig out twice that many more. But those listed should be enough for the average sports buff to be impressed.

Banks played one year (1940) of pro football with the old Brooklyn Dodgers and led the NFL in yards per carry, but he didn't care at all for the big city life. Grass felt better under his feet than pavement so he returned 'home' and joined the coaching staff of Coach Frank Howard.

Banks coached the defensive backs for one year (1941) before joining the Army Air Corps and spending four years in North Africa and Italy. He was discharged as a colonel. He recalls that "after the war, everything began to blossom out", as far as college football was concerned.

One thing that 'blossomed out' was his marriage to "Aggie" Rigsby of Manning. As it appears sometimes with former athletes, former backs produce girls and he and "Aggie" had four of them—Patsy, Lil, Marcia and Jan. And the grand kids—there are nine of them—five boys and four girls. The McFaddens celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary recently.

McFadden came back to Clemson after his service and was again the secondary coach, this time for four years (1946-49), and then took over as head freshman football coach for five years before returning to coach defensive backs in 1955, a spot he held until Howard retired following the '69 season.

Besides his football coaching years, McFadden also put in a stint as varsity track coach, freshman basketball coach and was for 10 years the varsity basketball coach. Then after Howard resigned as football coach in 1969, McFadden took over the university's intramural department, which he directed for 15 years.

Asked if he had any favorites, McFadden said: "Fred Cone was a very steady player. But I'm not so sure that Joel Wells wasn't the best all around football player that I had the opportunity to work with as a varsity coach. He was one of the best defensive players we had and a mighty fine offensive player. For somebody who could go both ways, Wells stood out.

"When I was in high school, colleges could do almost anything they wanted to as far as recruiting went," McFadden remembers. "Schools didn't have much (scholarship) money to give away, but they did go out and look at people and try to talk them into coming (to Clemson), paying their own way (or what is called a walk-on today.) But there wasn't very much recruiting until '35 or '36. But I believe there were 25 or 30 on my freshman team (1936) who were getting aid." (Note: The Clemson IPTAY Club was founded in 1934).

The Great Falls native came to Clemson in a 6-3 frame and a skinny 165 pounds. Howard, an assistant coach at the time, said that if McFadden had drank a can of tomato juice, they could have used him as a thermometer.

"I can remember the first time I saw him on the practice field," Howard recalled. "He looked like one of those whooping cranes. I thought sure as the devil that Coach (Jess) Neely had made a mistake giving this boy a scholarship. But he proved me wrong."

Clemson had required military when McFadden was playing, but he believes that was a plus. "We were so much a team then, and that's still there. But now the rules allow two different teams (offense and defense) and it causes so much more work. Our people were so close, as are the alumni of Clemson. Our team was just like the student body was then—a very close-knit bunch of people.

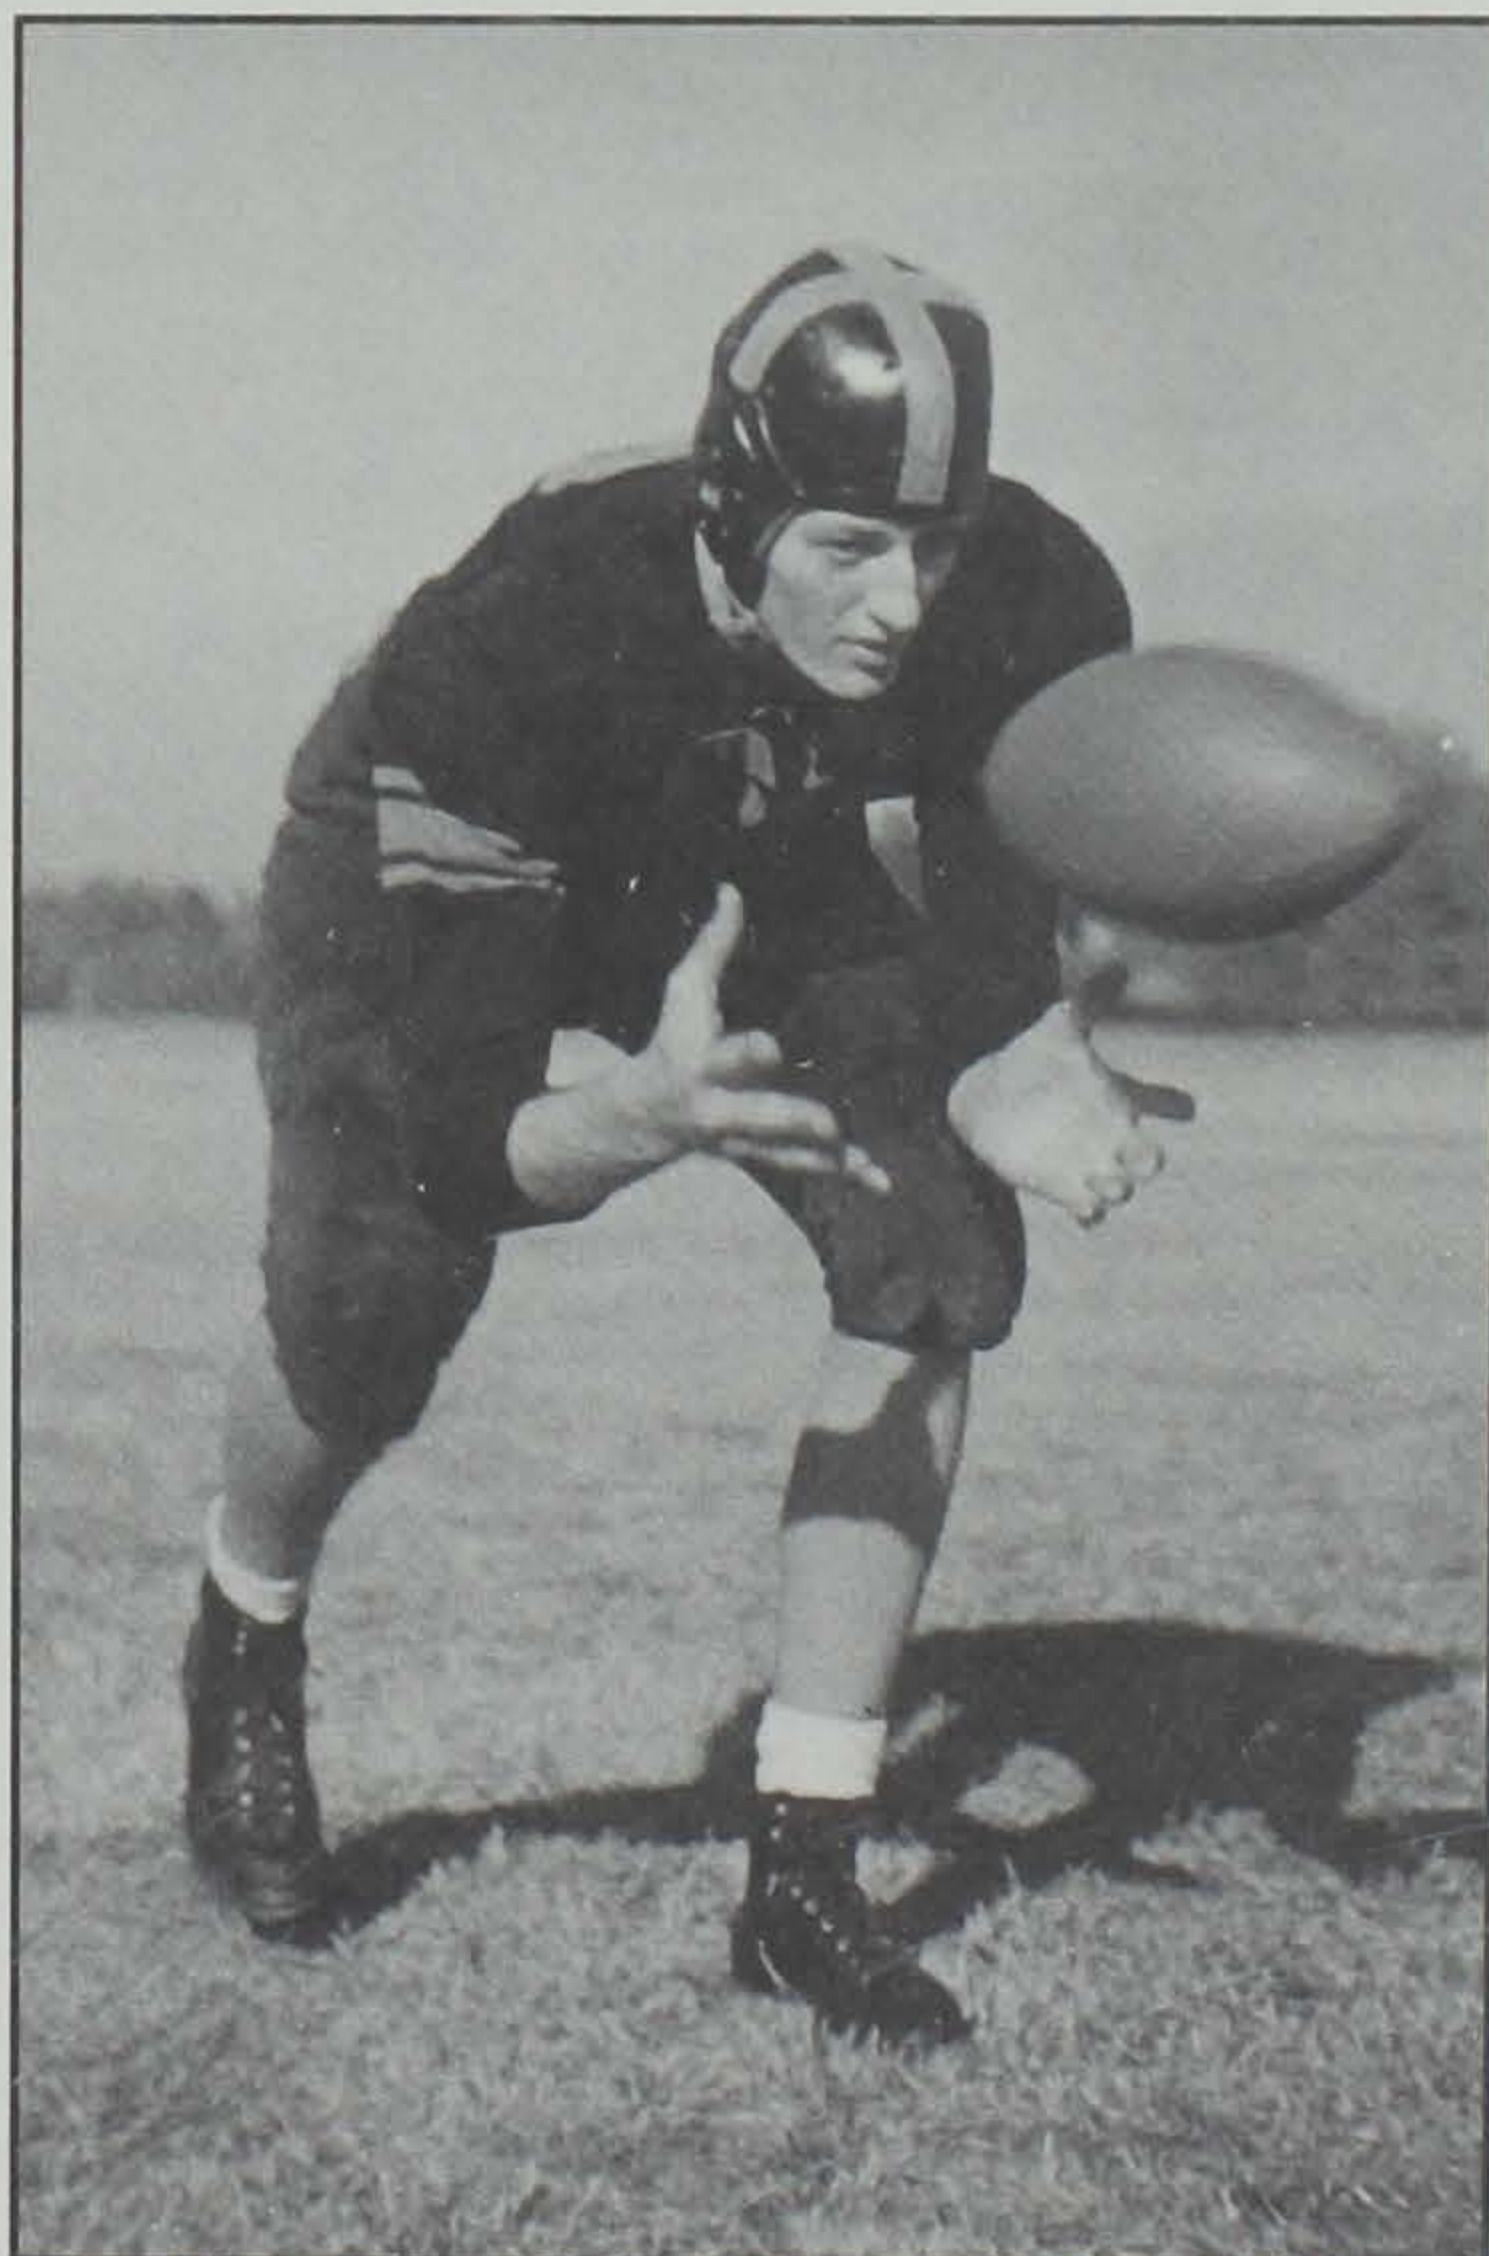

McFadden believes he, "came to Clemson at the right time. I was blessed to have some athletic ability," he recalled. "We had great coaches, had great individuals playing (with me), but we were all playing as a team."

Of all of the honors he received as an athlete, being voted the most valuable player of the 1939 football team was his highest. "To me, when your teammates vote you something," he beams, "then you feel pretty good. That award meant more than anything else (to me)."

This is one athlete where a one-page story in a football guide does not do that person justice...just about enough room for the tip of the iceberg. But if one could use just one word to describe 'Great' (as Howard called him), it would have to be 'competitor,' for he was just that.

And one more thing that the 'Pepsi Generation' can soak in—McFadden is the only Clemson athlete to have both his football jersey and basketball jersey numbers retired. Last year, the Banks McFadden Building at Jervy Athletic Center was dedicated in his honor.

There hasn't been another like him down the pike.

McFadden was an All-American in football and basketball.

Hall of Famer, Frank Howard

An era at Clemson University ended June 30, 1974, when Frank Howard officially retired from the payroll.

Another era ended January 28, 1996, when Howard died at the age of 86 and forever silenced a voice that had been synonymous with Clemson for nearly 65 years. He was the school's best known ambassador.

Although he retired from all official duties in 1974, he never quit coming to the office and he never stopped representing Clemson in a manner which continued to win friends for the place that was so dear to his heart.

Howard retired from coaching December 10, 1969, after 39 years on the Clemson coaching staff, 30 of which were as head coach. He was also athletic director during this time and he kept this position until February 4, 1971, when he was named assistant to the vice president at the university, the post he held when the mandatory retirement age of 65 rolled around.

Shortly after his retirement the Clemson Board of Trustees named the playing surface of Memorial Stadium as "Frank Howard Field" in honor of his long service to the university. It was only the third time that a building or installation had been named by the trustees for a living person. Over the years, Howard has been inducted into the South Carolina Athletic Hall of Fame and the Clemson Hall of Fame (charter member in both), as well as the Helms Athletic Hall of Fame and the State of Alabama Hall of Fame. On December 5, 1989 he joined an elite group in the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame. The ceremonies took place in the Waldorf-Astoria in New York City. He joined former Clemson mentors John Heisman and Jess Neely in the membership.

Howard was also honored in December, 1981, when he was inducted into the Orange Bowl Hall of Honor, along with former Alabama coach, Paul "Bear" Bryant, and Tommy McDonald, a former Oklahoma star. In the summer of 1990 he was inducted into the Gator Bowl Hall of Fame.

Howard stepped onto the rolling hills of Clemson in 1931 fresh from the varsity football ranks at the University of Alabama where he was a first stringer on Wallace Wade's 1930 team that drubbed Washington State, 24-0, in the 1931 Rose Bowl. Howard was known as the "Little Giant" of the Tide's "Herd of Red Elephants."

The bald veteran came to his first coaching post under Jess Neely as a line tutor. "At least that was my title," Howard recalls. "Actually, I also coached track, was ticket manager, recruited players and had charge of football equipment. In my spare time I cut grass, lined tennis courts and operated the canteen while the regular man was out to lunch." Howard was not only track coach from 1931-39, but served as baseball coach in 1943 and his 12-3 record that year is still among the best percentages for a season in Clemson history.

Howard held the line coaching post until Neely went to Rice University as head coach in 1940. When the Clemson Athletic Council met to name a successor to Neely, Prof. Sam Rhodes, a council member, nominated Howard to be the new head coach. Howard, standing in the back of the room listening to the discussion, said: "I second the nomination." He got the job and never left. When he retired as head coach following the 1969 season, he was the nation's dean of coaches, having been a head football coach at a major institution longer than anyone else in the United States. When he retired, he was one of five active coaches with 150 or more victories.

While line coach in 1939, the Tigers' record (8-1) was good enough to merit a trip to Dallas where Clemson met undefeated Boston College under the late Frank Leahy in the 1940 Cotton Bowl. The 1948 mark of 10-0 carried Clemson to the 1949 Gator Bowl and two years later, a 9-0-1 record sent the Tigers to Miami's Orange Bowl (1950). The Country Gentlemen were champions on their first three bowl ventures. Boston College fell, 6-3, Missouri was nipped in the Gator, 24-23 (Howard said this is the best football game he ever witnessed), and Miami felt the Tiger claws, 15-14. The total point spread in these three bowl wins was five points.

The Gator Bowl beckoned the Tigers again in January, 1952, and by being conference champions in 1956, Clemson played in the '57 Orange Bowl classic again. Miami downed Clemson, 14-0 in the second Gator Bowl trip and Colorado led Clemson, 20-0, then trailed 21-20, before finally defeating the Tigers, 27-21, in the second Orange Bowl. The Tigers then played in the 1959 Sugar Bowl and held No. 1-ranked Louisiana State to a standstill before losing, 7-0.

The invitation to play in the first Bluebonnet Bowl in Houston in December, 1959, was the eighth bowl that Howard had been a part of either as a player, assistant coach or head coach. It was the seventh bowl trip for a Clemson team and the sixth in 12 years. Howard says that Clemson's 23-7 triumph over seventh-ranked Texas Christian in the Bluebonnet Bowl was the best performance he had ever witnessed by a Clemson team. Clemson was the first school to play in two bowls in the same calendar year.

The Tigers' victory over TCU was their fourth success in seven post-season appearances. In all seven Clemson was the established underdog.

Howard served on the coaching staff of the Blue-Gray game in Montgomery, Ala., in 1941, 1952, 1959, and 1966; was on the East staff of the annual East-West Game in San Francisco, CA, in December, 1960, and again in December, 1962; and was named coach of the South squad in Miami's 1961 and 1969 North-South game. He coached in the 1970 Hula Bowl, which was his ninth postseason all-star game. While still in active coaching Howard served as one of the rules committee members for a period of three years.

A single wing expert for 22 seasons (including nine as a line coach), Howard changed to the T-formation and its many variations in 1953. Still another major change in the offense was installed in 1965 with the "I" and pro-type set. In his 13 seasons as head coach using the single wing, Clemson won 69, lost 47 and tied 7. In 12 years of "T" teams, the Tigers won 71, lost 47 and tied 4. While using the "I" in his last five years of coaching, Clemson recorded a 25-24-1 record.

In his 30 years of coaching Howard won 165, lost 118 and tied 12. That victory total is still among the top 40 coaches in the history of the game.

In addition to heading up the Clemson football program, Howard also had the job of directing Clemson's entire athletic program, and at the same time, raising all the required scholarship funds. The athletic department was always on a sound financial footing under the guidance of Howard.

The year 1958 was a red letter one for Howard. During halftime of the Spring Game, Howard, his staff and secretaries were given an appreciation day. Howard received a 1958 car while other staff members were presented gifts. That summer Howard and three members of his staff were given a trip to Europe by the Department of Defense to conduct clinics for the Armed Forces in Germany.

Then came the football season and the Tigers presented Howard an 8-2 season, which led to the Sugar Bowl invitation. One of these 1958 wins was the 100th of Howard's coaching career. That came against the late Jim Tatum of North Carolina, a coach Howard had never beaten. And, the Tigers had to come from behind three times to win, 26-21.

Howard was named Southern Conference Coach-of-the-Year in 1948. In 1959 he was named Atlantic Coast Conference Coach-of-the-Year and was accorded the honor again in 1966. His teams won ACC championships six times (1956-58-59-65-66-67) in the first 15 years of the conference. The Tigers were co-champions in 1965. He guided Clemson to the Southern Conference crown in 1940 and 1948.

Howard was born at Barlow Bend, Ala. (three wagon greasin's from Mobile), March 25, 1909. He spent his early days on the farm playing mostly cow pasture baseball

Howard was president of the freshman class at Alabama, was member of Blue Key and president of the "A" Club.

After coming to Clemson, he married the former Anna Tribble of Anderson, SC, (who died May 15, 1996) on August 23, 1933. They were the parents of a daughter, Alice (Mrs. Robert McClure of Gastonia, NC) and a son, Jimmy, of Pendleton. The Howards had three grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Jimmy followed in his dad's footsteps as a football player, only at a different position. The son was regular fullback on the local high school (Daniel) team for three years and was a halfback-fullback for three years on the Clemson varsity. Jimmy gained over 1,400 yards his senior year in high school and scored over 100 points. He graduated from Clemson in June, 1964 with honors, and earned his masters degree in horticulture from Clemson in 1967. He retired as district entomologist with the Plant Pest Regulatory Service at Clemson.

For over three decades Howard was in great demand both as a banquet speaker and a clinic lecturer. Few states have escaped his homespun oratory, which brought the house down on many occasions.

After his retirement, Howard was active in other endeavors. He served as state chairman of the South Carolina Heart Fund drive, was roasted several times on behalf of the Multiple Sclerosis Society, and was active in selling the Kickoff Publication out of Knoxville, TN.

Howard kept his hands in football as he served as the chief recruiter for the Gray squad in the annual Blue-Gray game in Montgomery, AL. The Blue squad recruiter was Don Faurot, who opposed Howard in the 1949 Gator Bowl.

Howard has also been inducted into the Helms Foundation Hall of Fame in San Francisco, CA., is an honorary member of the National Athletic Trainers Association, and is a member of the Hall of Fame of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics. Clemson University also honored Howard once more with the presentation of the Clemson Medallion, which is the highest public honor bestowed by the university to a living person who exemplifies the dedication and foresight of its founders. He was a charter member of Clemson's Ring of Honor at Memorial Stadium in 1994.

Howard, who won 165 games, was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1989.

because there were not enough boys around the community for a football team. Howard says he left Barlow Bend walking barefoot on a barbed wire fence with a wildcat under each arm.

He graduated from Murphy High School in Mobile where he played football, baseball and basketball and served as president of both the junior and senior classes.

After finishing at Murphy, Howard entered the University of Alabama on an academic scholarship provided by the Birmingham News in the fall of 1927, and the 185 pounder played reserve guard his sophomore year. During his junior year he started every game but two, as an ankle injury sidelined him for the two games he missed. Again his senior year he was a regular.

Steve Fuller

Every once in awhile a truly well-rounded individual comes along. Steve Fuller was a scholar, an athlete, and a fine representative of his community. That combination made him one of the most decorated athletes in Clemson history and the reason he was inducted into the Clemson Ring of Honor in 1994. He was also the first Clemson football player in history to have his jersey number (4) retired.

Fuller, a native of Spartanburg, South Carolina, graduated high school with a perfect 4.0 grade point average in a class of more than 800, crowning him class valedictorian. He had offers to go pro in baseball out of high school and had a basketball scholarship offer at North Carolina.

Right away Steve produced a preview of what Clemson fans should expect from him over the course of the next four years. He was named ACC Rookie-of-the-Week in his first collegiate game, gaining 194 yards of total offense against Tulane. During his sophomore year, Steve gained further recognition by being named ACC Back-of-the-Week after the Tennessee game and by being named to the All-ACC Academic Team.

Fuller demonstrated exceptional leadership during his junior and senior years, both on and off the field. Highlights on the field include leading the ACC in total offense for both years and being selected twice as the ACC Player-of-the-Year, the only two-time selection in Clemson history.

Equally impressive were the team accomplishments, as Fuller quarterbacked Clemson to two consecutive Gator Bowls, Clemson's first bowl appearances in 18 years. In 1978 Clemson posted an 11-1 record and ranked sixth in the final AP poll, then the highest final national ranking in Clemson history.

Fuller earned the Gator Bowl MVP Award his senior year (1978). He was the South Carolina Amateur Athlete-of-the-Year during his junior season. The Atlanta Touchdown Club named Fuller the Back-of-the-Year in the South in 1978 and he was also named the South Carolina Player-of-the-Year his junior and senior years.

At the conclusion of his senior season he was also an AP third-team All-American. Another great athletic feat for Steve Fuller included finishing sixth in the Heisman Trophy balloting, the highest finish for a Clemson athlete in history. Likewise, he set several Clemson records (see below). It's no wonder he was a first round draft pick (23rd selection) by the Kansas City Chiefs.

Off the field, Fuller illustrated his joint dedication to academics and community service. He was named to the All-ACC Academic Team for three years and twice named Academic All-American, including a first-team selection his senior year.

Fuller is one of just two football players in Clemson history to be named an on-field All-American and Academic All-American in the same year. He majored in history (pre-law), which was not an easy route to take, and maintained a 3.93 grade point average. His push for excellence earned him an NCAA postgraduate scholarship, the Jim Weaver Award from the ACC, and one of the NCAA's Top Five Awards. He delivered the acceptance response for himself and the four other winners.

He was also presented the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame Scholar Athlete Award, a double that no Clemson player has duplicated since. Extracurricular activities included being a member of the Blue Key, Mortor Board, Tiger Brotherhood, Block "C" Club, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Phi Eta Sigma, Phi Beta Kappa, and Phi Kappa Phi.

Steve Fuller's honors may have collected dust once he left Clemson, but his fame did not. In 1979, he became the first football player and the second athlete in Clemson history to have his jersey (#4) retired. He also became a member of the Clemson Athletic Hall of Fame and the South Carolina Athletic Hall of Fame. In September 1994, Fuller was inducted into Clemson's Ring of Honor along with coach Frank Howard and all purpose back Banks McFadden.

Now, Clemson has bestowed another honor upon Steve Fuller. On April 6, 1996, the Clemson Centennial Team was announced and Fuller was the starting quarterback for this team. He left behind a legacy that few can dare to touch. No doubt, Steve Fuller remains one of the greatest student-athletes in Clemson history, regardless of sport.

Fuller became the first football player in Clemson history to have his jersey retired. He was inducted into the Clemson Ring of Honor in 1994.

Jeff Davis

Even though Clemson's football heritage is 100-years-old, it does not take long to determine the most significant accomplishment in the program's history—the 1981 National Championship. And, along the same lines, it does not take long to single out the most significant team leader of that great accomplishment—Jeff Davis.

When examining Davis's contributions to Clemson athletics in terms of leadership, citizenship and athletic records and awards, it is no surprise that he became the fourth member of the Clemson Ring of Honor prior to the opener of the 1995 season.

The native of Greensboro, NC registered a Clemson record 175 tackles in leading a 1981 defense that set a school record for turnovers forced (41) in a season. He still holds the Clemson career record for caused fumbles (10) and recovered fumbles (8), and the single game record for tackles (24) against North Carolina in 1980.

He played 40 games for Clemson between 1978-81 and had 469 career tackles, 16 passes broken up, 18 tackles for loss, four sacks and four interceptions. He started all 35 games for the Tigers between 1979-81. He was a model of consistency, having registered at least double figures in tackles in 22 of his last 23 games. Overall, he had 30 double figure tackle games in his 40-game career and led the Clemson team in tackles 25 times.

"It is hard to express my feelings on being inducted into the Clemson Ring of Honor," said Davis. "This honor should be spread among my coaches and teammates and all of Clemson who had an impact on my life during my career. No one receives an honor like this without help. I want to thank the good Lord for giving me the ability and the opportunity to come to Clemson."

For his accomplishments in 1981, Davis was named the MVP of the ACC, just the third defensive player in league history to win the award. He concluded the season in grand style with a 14-tackle performance in the 22-15 Orange Bowl win over Nebraska that clinched the National Championship for the Tigers, Clemson's first national championship in any sport. Davis was named the Defensive MVP of the contest.

At the conclusion of the season, Davis was named a first-team All-American by United Press, the Football Coaches Association, the Football Writers Association, the Walter Camp Foundation and the Football News. He was named the Lineman of the Year by the Atlanta Touchdown Club.

"We had purpose. We took everything one game at a time and did not get caught up in the chase for the National Championship. When we started the season, the championship was not a (realistic) goal. We were just coming off a 6-5 season in 1980 in which we all thought we could have done much better."

After clinching the ACC title with a win over Maryland and the state championship with a convincing victory at South Carolina, Davis and his Clemson teammates prepared to meet fourth-ranked Nebraska in the 1982 Orange Bowl, a game that would determine the National Championship.

"We just knew we were going to win that night," reflects Davis, who was nicknamed The Judge by then assistant sports information director Kim Kelly. "I think the first possession of the game was the key because they fumbled and William Devane recovered. That led to a score and that was something we had been doing all year, forcing turnovers and taking over the game. That just told us that this game was not going to be any different than any of the others."

Perry Tuttle, Davis's roommate for four years and also an All-American on Clemson's 1981 National Championship team, recalls that season and Davis's passion for the game. "When we were in the room at night he would talk about the defense and what it was going to do until I fell asleep," said Tuttle. "As the season went on we just started dreaming about what could happen with this team and as we went along everything started to come true."

Davis was a fifth-round draft choice of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in 1982, but proved the NFL scouts wrong by posting impressive numbers in a six-year NFL career. The inside linebacker played in 83 games, 72 as a starter between 1982-87. He led Tampa Bay in tackles three of the six years, including a career high 165 stops in 1984, and served as the team captain for four seasons. He still ranks third in Bucs history in career tackles with 662 and is fourth in caused fumbles with 11.

Davis has been just as successful in life after football. In addition to his employment as the used car manager of Reeves Import Motor Cars in Tampa, FL, he is also in his third year as pastor of Covenant Worship Church in Tampa. He and his wife Joni graduated from Clemson on the same day in 1984 and they are the parents of four daughters and twin boys, who were born this past June.

"One of my main goals in life is to touch the lives of other people and touch them in a positive way. Any time you receive an award like this it means you've been surrounded by great people. I want to thank all the people at Clemson, because no one receives an honor like this without help. I am proud to say I am a Clemson graduate and that I represented the University. Hopefully I have had as positive an impact on them as they have had on me."

Davis became the fourth member of the Clemson Ring of Honor during ceremonies prior to the 1995 Western Carolina game.

Press Information

Entrance to Memorial Stadium

Enter through Gate 13 which is located on the press box (South) side of the field at the southeast corner. If you need to pick up tickets at our press will-call, they will be at Gate 13. Come through Gate 13, and go straight ahead to the elevator, which will take you to the press box.

Press Box

There are two levels to Clemson's pressbox, located in the center of the club level of the South stands. The first level contains the photo deck, a dark room, the outside PA, stadium operations & security, along with booths for field telephones, radio networks, and athletic officials for Clemson. The second level is for the print media, with seating accommodations for 124 members of the working press. This level houses Clemson's famous buffet, and the work room.

Credentials

We appreciate getting these as early as you know your assignment. Requests for working press and photo passes are honored from SPORTS EDITORS of DAILY newspapers and RADIO & TV SPORTS DIRECTORS ONLY. Make request directly to Sam Blackman, Clemson Sports Information Department. There is not room for individual radio stations in the press box, only the two networks of the participating schools. Spouses, dates, non-workers, and anyone 16 years of age or younger, are not permitted in the press box.

Telephone Installation

Our press box is equipped with eight outside phone lines. It is the responsibility of each paper or radio network to make arrangements for telephone lines. Call Zelda Kleister at (864) 656-2601 to order phone lines. There are three phones available at the back of the press box for sending voice reports or for newspapers to transmit photos. There is a dark room on the second level available on a reservation basis.

Postgame Interviews

The team dressing rooms are located beneath the west end zone stands, to your left from the press box. The two SIDs will escort writers wishing postgame interviews to this area with about three minutes showing on the scoreboard clock. The Clemson dressing room is closed to all media, but Coach Tommy West will be in his interview room (Tiger Lettermen's room) and players chosen by media members will be in their interview area (underneath west stands) for postgame comments following a short team meeting.

Weekly Press Conference

Tommy West's weekly press conference will be held on Tuesdays throughout the season. The first session will be Tuesday, August 27th and will be held in the Auditorium of Clemson's McFadden Building, the facility that is adjacent to the Jervy Athletic Center.

The media will interview Coach West between 11:00 AM and 12:00 PM, then meet with Tiger players from 12:00 PM to 12:45 PM. The conference can be accessed by phone. Just call Tim Bourret to access the teleconference.

Player interviews will be held in Vickery Hall on the Clemson campus on Mondays between 10:00 am and 1:00 pm and at the McFadden Building on Wednesdays. No player interviews are allowed after Wednesdays.

1996 ACC TELECONFERENCE

The Atlantic Coast Conference offers a weekly teleconference with each school's head coach on each Wednesday throughout the football season. The teleconferences are scheduled to run from August 28th through November 27th between 11:00 am and 12:30 pm. To access the teleconference please register with Brian Morrison of the ACC office.

Tommy West holds his weekly press conference every Tuesday of 11:00 am at the McFadden Building.

1996 Outlook

Former Marquette basketball coach Al McGuire was the first to make the statement, "The best thing about a freshman is he becomes a sophomore." Clemson football coach Tommy West will be the first to concur with McGuire's statement. And, he hopes the theory continues into an athlete's junior year.

In 1994, West's first season at Clemson, the Tigers started as many as seven freshmen on offense. As a result of the inexperience, Clemson finished last in the ACC in scoring and total offense.

But, in 1995, with sophomores filling five of the starting positions, Clemson made dramatic strides offensively. The Tigers of 1995 showed a 147-point and 20-touchdown improvement, not to mention a 1400-yard increase in total offense and a 500-yard improvement in passing yardage. These figures contributed to the difference between a five-win season and an eight-win season (1995).

The 1995 Tigers had a quarterback (Nealon Greene) who ranked 22nd in the nation in passing efficiency, a fullback (Emory Smith) who ranked 18th in touchdowns, and a running back (Raymond Priester) who ranked 18th in rushing.

"We have as good a group of skill position people as I have been around," said West after Spring practice. "We have two big durable backs and the wide receiver position is talented. We are finally in a position to take what the opposing defense gives us because we have some balance between rushing and passing."

Only one team (1988) in Clemson history has had a 1,000-yard rusher and two 500-yard receivers. That is a legitimate goal for this 1996 Clemson team. The Tigers were no slouch in the projectile area last year, averaging 134 yards a game, 10th best in Clemson history on a per game basis. The Tigers completed 56.7 percent of their passes, second best in Clemson history. One of the most improved players on the Clemson team last year was quarterback Nealon Greene, the only returning starting quarterback in the ACC in 1996.

"Nealon is ready to have a good year. He showed poise this spring and he really knows our offense. We don't put him in a position where he has to win the game every Saturday. When you consider all the experienced quarterbacks this league had last year and where he ranked statistically (2nd in passing efficiency, first in yards per attempt), he had a good year for a sophomore quarterback." In fact, it was the best sophomore passing season in Clemson history.

Directing the offense will be new offensive coordinator Darrell Moody, who had served as the quarterback coach and offensive coordinator at North Carolina the last eight seasons. The Tar Heel offense joined Florida State's as the only two in the league to average at least 240 yards a game in the air and 150 yards per contest on the ground in 1995.

"Darrell Moody is an experienced assistant coach who has worked with many types of offenses," said West when he hired Moody last February. "We want our offense to grow and he can help us continue to move in the right direction. He is an excellent addition to our staff."

While the Clemson offense has seen dramatic improvement over the last two years, the defense has held the course, a course that has included a pair of top 10 rankings in scoring defense in 1994 and 1995. Each of the last two seasons only one team has reached its season scoring average against Clemson. Defensive coordinator Ellis Johnson welcomes back 21 defensive lettermen and 10 different players who have served as starters at one time or another in their careers.

Greene is the only returning starting quarterback in the ACC.

in Brian Dawkins and Leomont Evans, both of whom have a good chance to play in the National Football League. But, Andre Carter was a starter in 1994 and played as much as some starters last year, and Antwan Edwards saw a lot of time as a first-year freshman and is one of the most talented young players we have. Combined with Dexter McCleon and the Ford Twins (Peter and Andy) and we have some experience in the secondary."

Offense (7 Returning Starters, 18 Returning Lettermen)

Clemson returns seven starters from an offense that averaged nearly 400 yards per game during the regular season. Tommy West is pleased to return players who accounted for 82 percent of the rushing yardage, 64 percent of the reception yardage and 95 percent of the completion yards.

"We have some outstanding skill position people returning," said West. "In 1994 we didn't have anyone to even nominate for the All-ACC team. This year I think we have some players who are capable of postseason honors. They are also outstanding leaders of this team.

"We need some help on the offensive line. We lost four outstanding linemen in Will Young (All-ACC, OG), Trevor Putnam (C), Dwayne Morgan (2nd team All-ACC, OT) and Robert Jackson (OT). We have some players returning with experience, but they have not been players we have had to depend on to make the offense go.

"Overall, I think we have the personnel to make another step forward offensively. We made great improvement from 1994 to 1995 and within the 1995 season." The Tigers, who were 5-0 down the stretch of the regular season, averaged 293 rushing yards per game in those five contests and the offense committed just six turnovers during that time.

Quarterback Nealon Greene started all 12 contests during Clemson's 8-4 season. He completed 116-202 passes for 1537 yards and 10 touchdowns. His passing efficiency ranked 22nd in the nation, the first Tiger quarterback in 11 years to rank in the top 25 in the nation in passing. His efficiency was second best in the conference and his 8.05 yards per attempt led the league that featured eight outstanding senior quarterbacks.

Greene had the finest sophomore season in Clemson history and was just 129 yards away from Steve Fuller's single season passing yardage mark. His 56.7 percent accuracy was also a top five figure in Clemson history. The native of Yonkers, NY hit 48-69 passes on the road last year, a prime reason Clemson had its first perfect road record (5-0) since 1981.

"Nealon Greene showed great improvement last year and he is our starting quarterback," said West. "We want him to become a little more consistent. Since he started a good bit as a freshman, people forget he was just a sophomore last year. He has gone from being the least experienced quarterback in the league to the most experienced. And, he is still just a junior."

Backup quarterback Louis Solomon has graduated, so red-shirt freshmen Brandon Streeter and Billy Luckie will compete for the second-team quarterback duty this Fall. Both had good days and bad days in the Spring, never on the same day. Luckie completed 7-9 passes for 183 yards the Saturday before the Spring Game, then Streeter was the top passer in the Spring Game the following Saturday, hitting 5-7 for 106 yards.

The running back position is secure with the return of starters Raymond Priester and Emory Smith, Kelton Dunnican, and the addition of Sam Zanders, who had a solid spring after entering Clemson in January. Priester and Smith combined for 2034 yards and 20 touchdowns a year ago, the most prolific backfield combination in Clemson history in both categories and the top combo totals in the ACC.

"Raymond Priester has his best years ahead of him because he has the right attitude and work ethic. He is going to get better and better, but this year will be a challenge because he will be more of a marked man. He has taken advantage of every opportunity since he has been at Clemson.

"Emory Smith might have been the most improved back in our conference. He has worked hard in the weight room and has given us consistency. That is the biggest difference for Emory between his sophomore and junior seasons."

Priester set a Clemson single season rushing record with 1322 yards and a 5.6 average. He established a single game record with 263 yards in a victory at Memorial Stadium over Duke and set seven records altogether in 1996. The rising junior who was 18th in the nation in rushing last year, had five 100-yard games and also set the Clemson record for rushing yards per game. The second-team All-ACC performer led the conference in rushing with his 117 yard average, just the second Tiger to lead the league since 1967.

Smith gained 712 yards (4.9 per carry) and scored 15 total touchdowns in 1995. He ranked 20th in the nation in scoring and his rushing total was the most by a Clemson fullback since Kevin Mack gained 863 in 1983. The senior's touchdown total tied for the second highest in Clemson history. He had four rushing touchdowns against Wake Forest, the first Tiger to accumulate four rushing TDs in a game since 1950. With another season like 1995 on the books, Smith should join his brother Emmitt in the NFL in 1997.

Kelton Dunnican, who was listed as a second-team senior fullback last year, has another year of eligibility because he missed his entire sophomore season at junior college. He is an outstanding backup to Smith.

Tony Horne and Joe Woods are two returning starters at the wide receiver position. Clemson started three wide receivers over the course of last season, a first in Clemson history. Horne caught 23 balls for 448 yards. His top game came against N.C. State when he caught three passes for 83 yards and two scores.

Woods started 10 games last year and had 10 catches for 122 yards and a touchdown, a 30-yarder that was a key to the North Carolina win. Kenya Crooks is a third wide receiver who has been a starter over the course of a season. The native of nearby Seneca started eight games as a freshman and two last season. He had 10 receptions for 99 yards a year ago. Carl Baker, who caught a scoring pass in his first collegiate game, but suffered a torn ACL in the third game, will also be a factor as a receiver.

When Clemson does go to the tight end set, Lamont Hall is the starter. The junior has not caught a pass in his career, but has been outstanding as a blocker. Clemson threw to the tight end many times in Spring scrimmages and that could be a change in the Clemson attack this year. Wesley Ellis and returning letterman Jason Collins are the other returning players at tight end.

The Clemson offensive line showed considerable improvement between 1994 and 1995, a key reason Clemson averaged 245 yards per game on the ground and ranked fourth in the country in rushing during the regular season. Three of the five starters from the interior have graduated, forcing West to count on some less experienced players during Clemson's centennial season.

"We will have to find a replacement for an All-ACC player in Will Young. He was an excellent leader who had an appreciation for the history of Clemson football. Dwayne Morgan had an all-conference season and Trevor Putnam and Robert Jackson really came on for us last year. All those players have graduated so we have some holes to fill. We have some fine backs, but you have to have the holes for them to be productive."

Junior two-year starters Jim Bundren and Glenn Rountree will be anchors of the offensive line. They are the first tackle-guard combination to start every game together on the offensive line in their freshman and sophomore seasons.

Bundren, a 1996 preseason All-ACC player by Sporting News, was Clemson's top lineman during Clemson's five-game winning streak to end the regular season. He was named the ACC Offensive Lineman-of-the-Week in Clemson's win over Duke, the day Clemson gained over 400 yards on the ground. Clemson's first scholarship football player from Delaware (Wilmington), has started 23 straight games in his career and has 60 career knockdown blocks.

Rountree, a 1996 preseason All-ACC player according to Athlon, is also a junior who is a veteran of 23 straight starts. The 285-pound guard had 40 knockdown blocks last year, second among Tiger linemen and he played more snaps than any other Clemson player (790). The native of Virginia is just the fifth offensive guard in Clemson history to start every game over his freshman and sophomore seasons.

"Bundren and Rountree have to be the leaders of the offensive line," said West. "For our running game to work, they have to be at their best and be leaders for the more inexperienced players. They have shown consistency and a good work ethic."

The center position is held down by red-shirt senior Jamie Trimble. A second-team player behind 1994 and 1995 starter Trevor Putnam, Trimble has played 250 plays over the last two years. He saw most of his playing time early in 1995, but was also a reliable special teams player throughout. Veteran Ed Altman, who missed much of last year with an injury and played in just one game, saw a lot of time at center in the Clemson lost its best players in the secondary due to the NFL draft, but it is still an area of strength with the return of the Ford twins.

Spring and could also be a factor at that position.

Holland Postell (OT) and Matt Butler (OG) hold down the other starting offensive line positions heading into the fall. Both red-shirted 1994, played sparingly as reserves in 1995 and are ready to assume a responsible role this year. Postell played 40 snaps in six games last year, while Butler saw action in 48 snaps in seven contests. Postell, a native of Charleston, was a high school All-American in 1993.

Brent Banasiewicz is also a returning letterman and will challenge Butler for the open starting guard position. Mark Landry, a two-year letterman at tackle who has also served as a snapper, and Zane Lewis a returning letterman at offensive guard, should also challenge for playing time this season. Joedy Mitchell, the only offensive lineman in last year's freshman class, will backup Bundren at tackle.

Defense (5 returning starters, 21 Returning Lettermen)

Clemson does not have an abundance of returning starters on defense, but there are experienced players returning to fill the vacant positions. Five starters, Brett Williams (OLB), Raymond White (DT), Anthony Simmons (LB), Peter Ford (CB) and Dexter McCleon (CB) return to form the nucleus of a unit that hopes to continue Clemson's tradition for defensive excellence.

The Tigers ranked in the top 20 in the nation in three defensive categories and contributed significantly to the team's number-19 ranking in turnover margin by forcing 29 takeaways. The Tiger program has ranked in the top 15 in the nation in scoring defense eight of the last 10 years, including a number 10 ranking last year when Clemson allowed just 16.2 points per game, just nine points per game over the last five regular season games.

"We have an unusual situation in the secondary," said West. "It might be the strength of our defense, yet we have to replace two of the best players we had on the 1995 team in Dawkins and Evans. They were great players for us for four years and they will be missed. But, we also feel Andre Carter and Antwan Edwards are going to do the job."

Dawkins and Evans combined for 10 interceptions last year and 13 takeaways. Dawkins was a second-team AP All-American after he led the ACC and Clemson with six thefts, including a Tiger record tying three against Duke. He was third on the team in tackles with 89 and had a pair of fumble recoveries. Evans ranked second on the tackle chart with 96 and was second in interceptions with four.

Leading the 1996 secondary will be senior Dexter McCleon. The native of Mississippi tied for the conference lead in passes broken up last year with 13. He had 49 tackles and four tackles for loss to go with two interceptions. For his career, McCleon has nine interceptions, one of the highest totals among active ACC players. He had 10 tackles in the win at N.C. State last year and three pass deflections in the win at Georgia Tech.

Peter and Andy Ford will certainly be in the mix as starters at the cornerback or nickel back positions. The twins combined for five interceptions, 12 starts, 63 tackles and eight passes broken up in 1995. Andy started the first five games, but suffered an ankle injury. That moved Peter into the starting lineup for the final seven contests and he responded with 37 tackles and four interceptions.

Andre Carter and Antwan Edwards should hold down the starting safety positions. Carter was a starter in 1994 when he led the team in takeaways and recorded 30 tackles. The former high school quarterback from Camden, SC started just four times in 1995, but made 47 tackles. He saw considerable time as the nickel back last year and played more snaps than some starters. Brad Pope, a former walk-on who tied for the team lead in special teams tackles, will also be a consistent contributor to the secondary. Michael Allen, a tailback last year, has been moved to safety and could be a factor in the secondary because of his all-around athletic talents.

Clemson's most decorated player in 1995 was freshman inside linebacker Anthony Simmons. The 215-pound inside linebacker led the Tigers in tackles with a Clemson freshman record 150, 54 more than any teammate and tied for fifth highest in Clemson history, regardless of class. "You could see it from day one of August practice that Anthony Simmons was going to be a leader of this defense," said West. "He impressed us all with his maturity and his ability to grasp what we wanted to do on defense. He combines speed and mental toughness, certainly two traits you look for in a linebacker."

Simmons was named National UPI Rookie-of-the-Year for 1995, the first Clemson athlete so honored. He was also named ACC Rookie of the Year and was chosen a third-team AP All-American, the first position player in the history of the ACC to make an AP All-America team as a first-year freshman. Simmons led Clemson in tackles in nine of the 12 games and had nine double figure tackle games.

Academic All-American Andye McCrorey and his 83 tackles have graduated off the Clemson defense and Simmons will miss his sidekick. But, Mond Wilson and Chris Jones, two more young and enthusiastic linebackers return. Wilson started once when McCrorey was injured and had a career high 16 tackles in the victory over North Carolina when he was named ACC Defensive Player of the Week. He finished the season with 53 tackles, four behind the line of scrimmage. Jones had 50 tackles to rank seventh on the team. He did not start a game, yet ranked second on the team to Simmons in fewest plays per tackle.

Clemson must replace its top quarterback sack artist of last year, outside linebacker Patrick Sapp. The former Clemson quarterback with an NFL future had 5.5 sacks and 53 total tackles. Tony DeSue and Howard Bartley are listed as starting outside linebackers heading into the Fall. DeSue started the season opener last year at OLB and had 11 tackles for the season, while Bartley has never played in a varsity game after fighting back from reconstructive knee surgery.

Junior letterman Rudy Currie, sophomore letterman O. J. Childress, and red-shirt freshmen Rahim Abdullah and Kendrick Bridges are also candidates for the outside linebacker position. Childress tied for the team lead in special teams tackles last year and had 17 stops for the season.

Clemson returns seven defensive linemen who earned letters last year to man the three interior line positions. West must replace All-ACC tackle LaMarick Simpson, Carlos Plantin set a Clemson record for quarterback pressures in the Duke game.

Curry, Clemson's career leader in starts for a middle guard, and team leader Warren Forney, the 1995 recipient of the ACC's Brian Piccolo Award.

Raymond White is the best of the returning interior linemen. The junior had 48 tackles in nine starts at tackle and recorded four tackles for loss. The quick 255 pounder had at least five tackles in five games during a consistent 1995 season. White will move from tackle to the starting middle guard position this year.

Tony Plantin and Eric Bradford are the first team defensive tackles. Plantin racked up 24 tackles in his sophomore year when he started three times, while Bradford had 22 stops in his first year with the Tigers. The junior college transfer was second on the team in quarterback pressures. Both Plantin and Bradford had 2.5 sacks last year. Brett Williams returns as a defensive tackle after playing outside linebacker last year. He started seven games in an injury plagued season, but did have 27 tackles and five tackles for loss. He leads the team in career tackles for loss entering this season.

Damonte McKenzie, Donald Broomfield and Bernard Randolph are three more returning lettermen who figure to see a lot of action in Clemson's defensive line system that uses liberal substitution. Randolph had six tackles in six games before breaking a leg against Georgia. He was a high school All-American four years ago who has been limited by injury. McKenzie had six tackles, including two for loss as a first-year freshman in seven games, while Broomfield is a converted outside linebacker who hopes to use his quickness to a successful sophomore year on the interior line.

West hopes that his biggest contributor among newcomers this year is Michigan transfer Trevor Pryce. The 6-6, 275-pounder was a part-time starter for the Wolverines in 1993 and 1994 as an outside linebacker. He tied for 10th in the Big Ten in sacks in 1994 and had his best game that season at Notre Dame when he recorded six tackles, including two sacks of Irish quarterback Ron Powlus. "Pryce can be an impact player for us. He can make the big play, as he showed in Spring practice."

Williams has more career tackles for loss than any other active Tiger.

Special Teams

A significant reason for Clemson's trip to a January 1 Bowl game last year was the special teams. Clemson was the only school in the nation to have a player rank in the top 25 in the country in punt returns, kickoff returns, punting and placekicking.

Both kicking chores are open. Kevin Laird is a returning letterman as a punter. The native of Mississippi was the pooch punter for the Tigers over the last half of the season and he did a fine job in this role knocking three of his nine punts inside the 20 yardline.

Clemson has had a first or second-team All-ACC placekicker 10 straight seasons and the Tigers have averaged 15 made field goals per game and a 75 percent field goal percentage during this time. No letterman returns at the position so it is wide open. The leading candidates are walk-ons Mike Brice and David Richardson. Brice did all of the kicking in the spring, as Richardson suffered a sprained ankle and did not participate.

The dismissal of Antwan Wyatt this past July 1, also opens the return positions. Wyatt was the only player in the nation to rank in the top 15 in punt returns and kickoff returns. Antwan Edwards has some experience in both areas, while Tony Horne is capable as a kickoff return player.

Simmons National Freshman of the Year by UPI

Anthony Simmons was named National Freshman-of-the-Year of College Football by United Press International for 1995, the first defensive player in the 10-year history of the Award.

"This is a great honor, something I did not expect," said Simmons, who won the award as a true freshman and competed against red-shirt frosh for the award. "I certainly want to thank my coaches and teammates for their support and all they have done in my development as a player. I know football is a team sport. I wouldn't win this award if we had a losing record or if we gave up a bunch of points on defense in every game. We have had a good defense this year from the defensive line to the secondary and they have as much to do with me winning this award as anything."

Head Coach Tommy West and other coaches were impressed with the freshman linebacker. "You could see from day one of August practice that he was a special player. There was just something about the way he approached practice. He has made some big plays for us this year. He has the combination of being a tough tackler, but he has the quickness to get to the outside."

"It is so rare to see a freshman, especially a first-year freshman come along and do the things he is doing for their defense," said Duke Coach Fred Goldsmith.

"There is no doubt he's an outstanding football player," said Georgia coach Ray Goff. "To be a true freshman and do what he has done on the football field is just remarkable. Clemson has always had great linebackers and he is continuing that tradition. He is going to be a great player."

"Now that guy is our kind of player. He is a linebacker who really can run," said Florida State coach Bobby Bowden after the Seminoles played the Tigers at Death Valley in September.

Simmons had 150 tackles during the year and led the Tigers in tackles in nine of the 12 games. He had a season high 19 tackles in Clemson victories over South Carolina and North Carolina, single game Clemson records for a first-year freshman. Simmons had 54 more tackles than any other Tiger and he led in tackles for loss with 11. His 150 tackles shattered the previous Clemson freshman record of 104 tackles by Ed McDaniels in 1988.

Simmons was the most decorated freshman athlete in Clemson history. He was just the second Clemson football player in history to win a national award. Terry Kinard was named the National Defensive Player-of-the-Year by CBS Sports in 1982.

Simmons, an inside linebacker who led Spartanburg High to the state championship of South Carolina high school football in 1994, was named a third-team AP All-American, the first true freshman position player in ACC history to be honored as an AP All-American. He was also the ACC Rookie of the Year, a first-team All-ACC selection and was second in the voting for ACC Defensive Player of the Year behind North Carolina senior Marcus Jones.

Clemson 1996 Schedule Notes

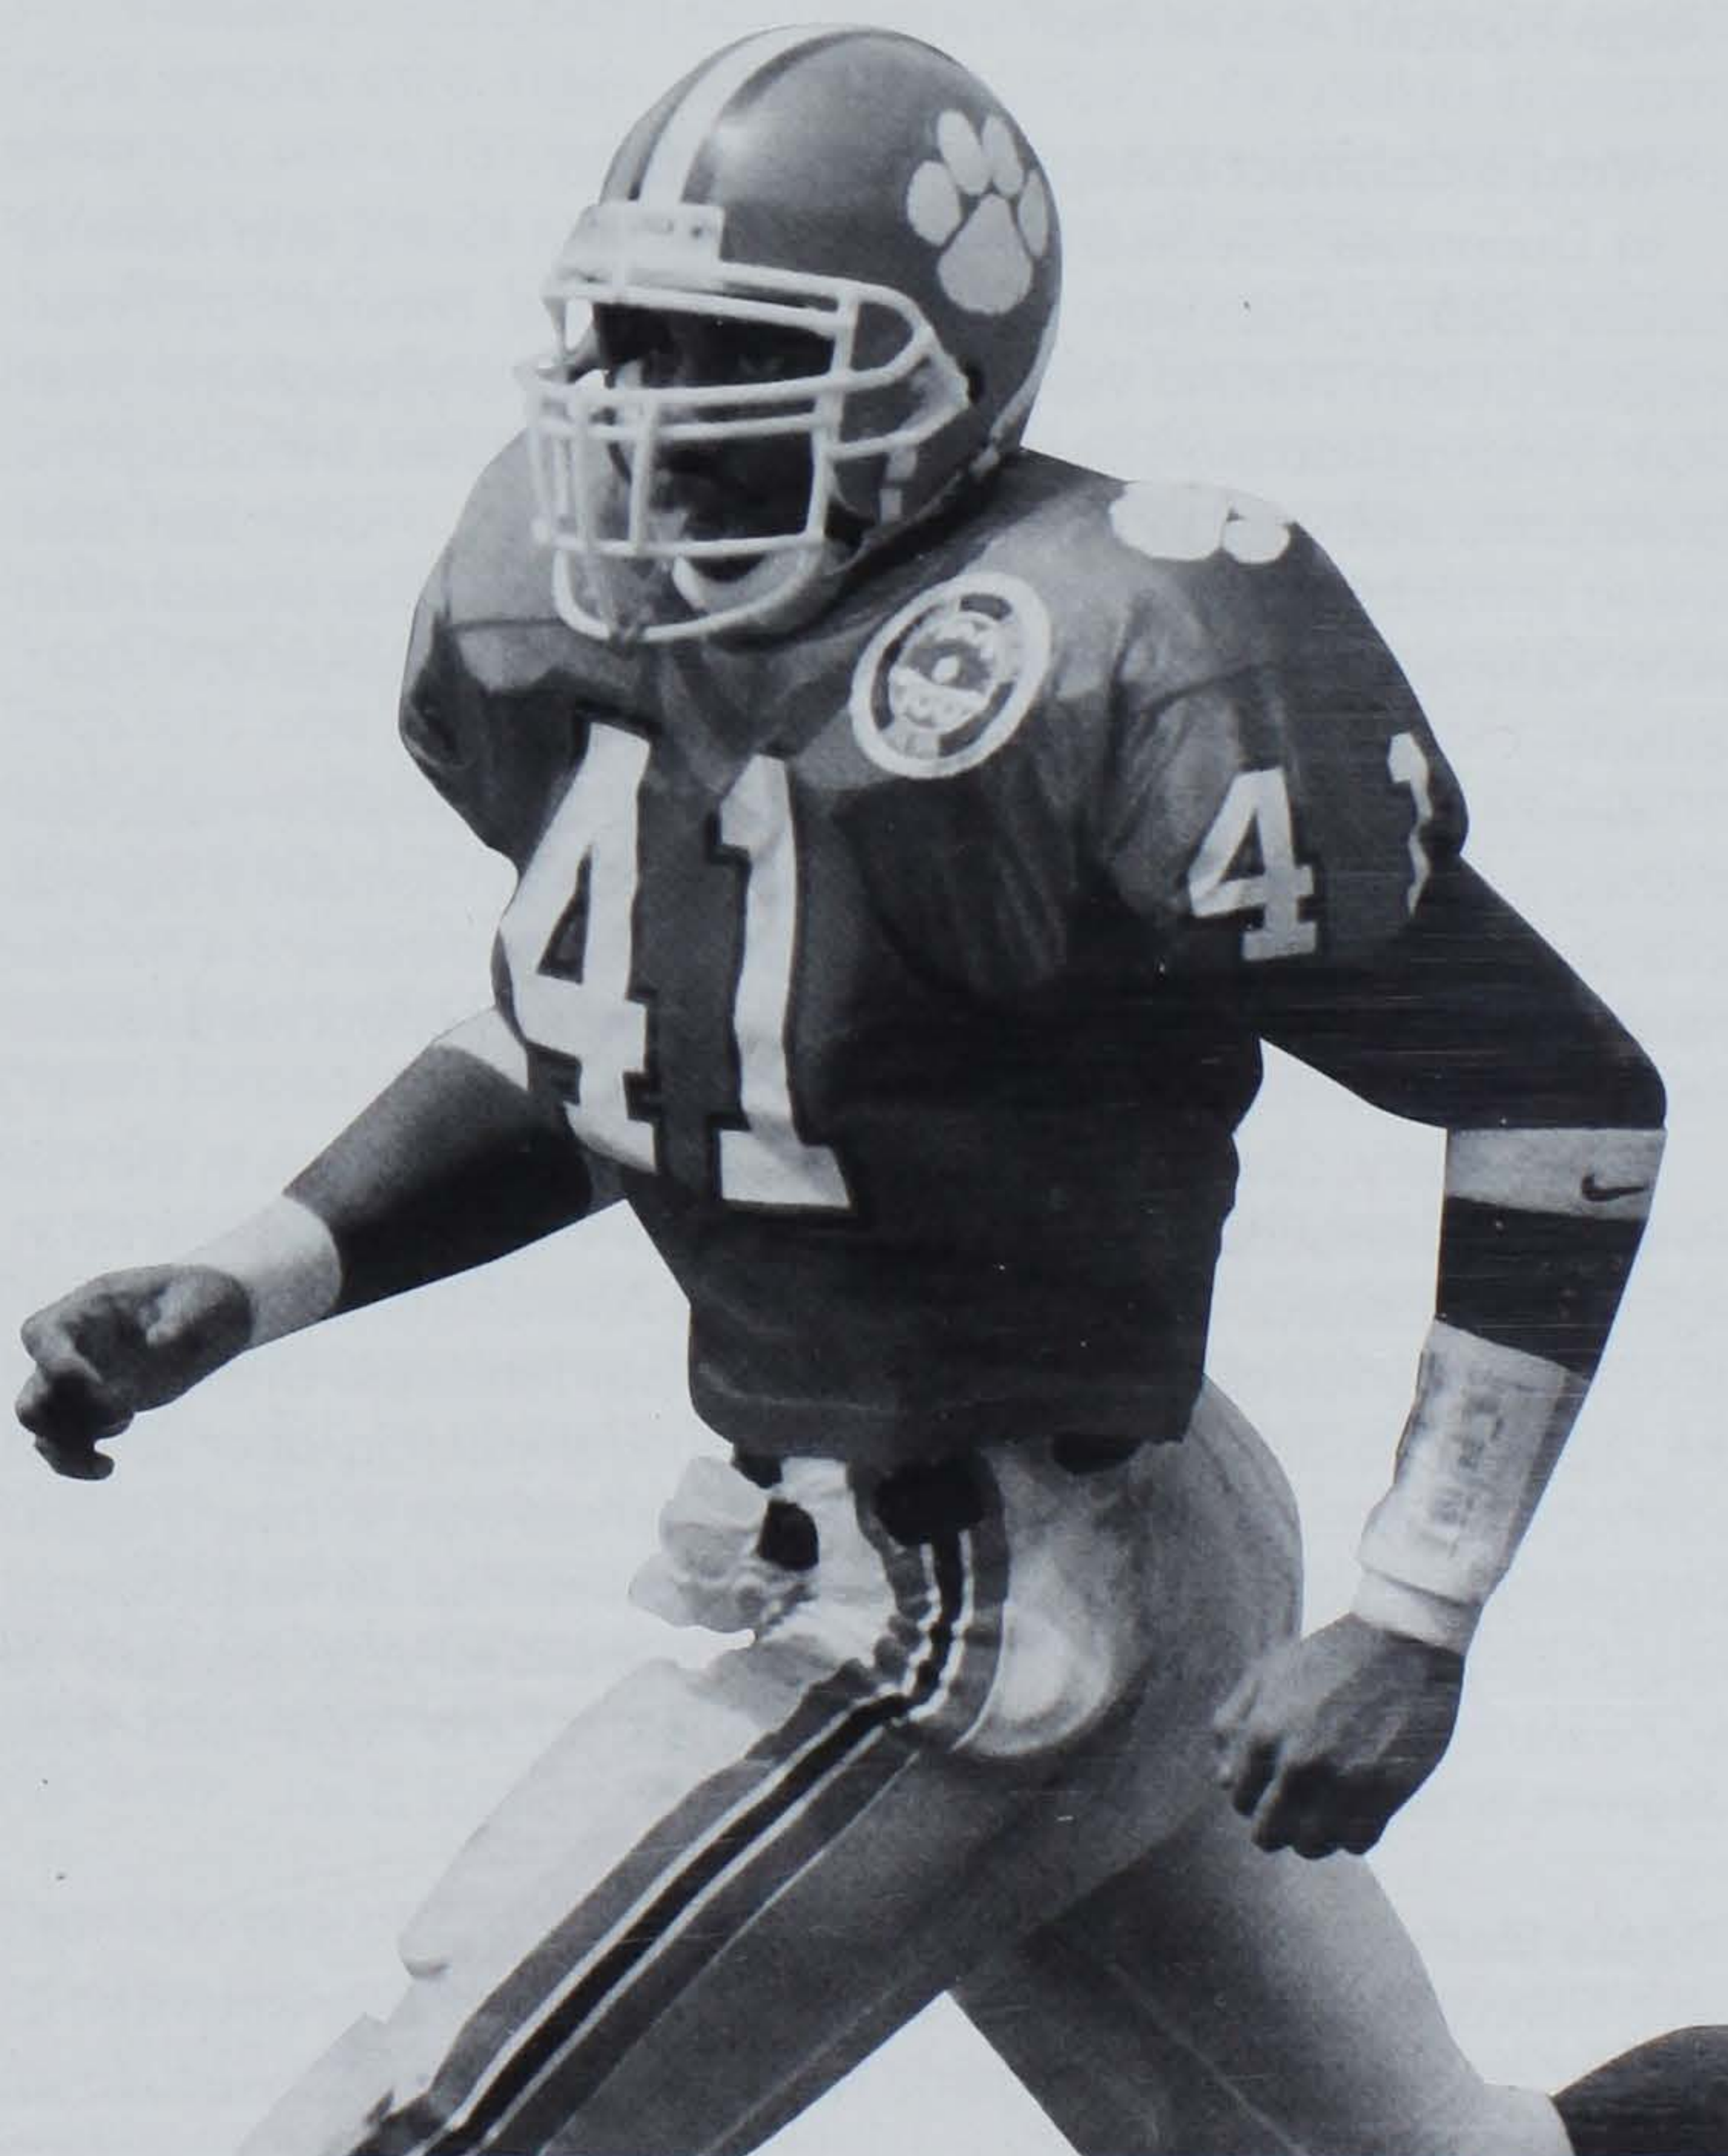

Clemson will open its 1996 football season against an ACC team for the first time since 1977 when the Tigers meet North Carolina in Chapel Hill on August 31, 1996. It is one of four road games for the Tigers within the first six games of the season.

Clemson last opened the season with an ACC team in 1977 when Maryland defeated the Tigers at Clemson, 21-14. The August 31st game at Chapel Hill will be the earliest opener in Clemson history, and the first time Clemson has opened the season against North Carolina since 1959. The Tigers won that game, 20-18 in a battle of Top 20 teams and it was Frank Howard's 100th victory at Clemson.

Clemson's second game of the season and first home game will be against Furman on September 7. Clemson continues its celebration of its centennial of football this year through homecoming and Furman was Clemson's first opponent on the gridiron on October 31, 1896, a 14-6 Tiger triumph.

Clemson was one of eight teams in college football to post a perfect regular season record on the road in 1995 and Tommy West's team will have to continue that type of excellence away from Death Valley early in 1996. Four of the first six games will be played on an opponent's home field, as the Tigers must travel to North Carolina, Missouri, Florida State and Duke within the first six games. It is the first time since 1977 that Clemson has played four of its first six games on the road.

This will be Clemson's first game against Missouri since 1950 and its first trip to the Midwest since the Tigers won at Notre Dame in 1979. Clemson first met the Tigers in the 1948 Gator Bowl. Clemson won that thriller 24-23 to complete a perfect 11-0 season. Two years later, the Tigers won at Missouri, 34-0. Clemson will play at Faurot Field on September 21, 1996. The facility, built in 1926 and currently holding a capacity of 62,000, will be Clemson's only game this year on artificial turf.

Anthony Simmons became the first defensive player in the 10-year history of the award to be named Freshman-of-the-Year by UPI.

Overall, Clemson is 5-4 against teams from the Big 12. The Missouri game will be Clemson's first game against a team from the Big 12 since a 13-6 win over Oklahoma in the 1989 Florida Citrus Bowl.

Clemson will play four of its last five games at home with the only road trip after October 12th being a trip to Charlottesville to meet defending ACC Co-Champion Virginia on November 9. This will be the first time in Clemson history that the Tigers have played four of their last five games at home. The 1996 season concludes with the annual battle between Clemson and South Carolina. This year's contest will be played on Saturday, November 23rd at Clemson's Death Valley.

McCrorey Honored by Atlantic Coast Conference

Clemson graduate student linebacker Andye McCrorey was named one of 13 recipients of a Weaver-James Postgraduate Award by the Atlantic Coast Conference for 1995-96. Each year the league honors male and female student-athletes in all sports for their excellence in the classroom and on the playing field.

McCrorey was one of 13 recipients that were honored at a banquet in Greensboro on April 9. McCrorey was the fourth leading tackler on Clemson's 10th ranked (scoring) defense in 1995. His 83 tackles were a major reason Clemson finished with an 8-4 record and a berth in the Gator Bowl. He also had two quarterback sacks, an interception and three passes broken up last season. He had a season high 14 tackles against Georgia and added nine stops in the victory at South Carolina.

McCrorey already has an undergraduate degree in sociology and has been pursuing a master's degree in the same field. He plans to work for the FBI or the secret service when his academic career is complete. The native of Rock Hill, SC graduated with a career GPA over 3.3 and became the first football player in Clemson history to be chosen to the ACC Academic Honor Roll four consecutive years. In December, McCrorey was named a first-team Academic All-American by the College Football Association.

West's Contract Extended Through 2000

In December, Clemson President Dr. Deno Curris and Athletic Director Bobby Robinson announced that the contract of Head Football Coach Tommy West has been extended through the year 2000. West guided the Tigers to an 8-4 record last year, including five consecutive victories to close the regular season. Clemson was ranked in the top 25 of all polls at the end of the regular season and made Clemson's first January 1 bowl appearance since the 1991 season.

West's Tigers were picked fifth in the 1995 preseason polls, but finished a strong third in the ACC with a 6-2 record, Clemson's highest finish in the league standings since 1991. Included in the 8-4 overall mark was a 5-0 road record, just the Tigers second perfect road record since 1948.

Additionally, Clemson had a record seven players rank in the top 25 in NCAA statistical categories and the team ranked in the top 25 in eight different areas. The Tigers had two All-Americans, four first-team all-conference selections, and four second-team choices. Clemson led the ACC in 10 different categories, including rushing offense and scoring defense. Attendance at Clemson games was up nearly 6,000 per game compared to the year before West started as head coach. Last fall, the football team had its third highest GPA in the last 16 semesters and eight scholarship members of the team had their degrees when the Tigers met Syracuse in the Gator Bowl.

Tigers Made Seventh Trip to Gator Bowl

Clemson made its seventh appearance in the Gator Bowl and its 20th appearance in a bowl game when the Tigers met Syracuse on January 1, 1996.

Clemson has a rich bowl tradition. The Tigers have a 12-8 record in bowl games and the .600 winning percentage is ninth best in NCAA history. Clemson's 12 bowl victories rank in a tie for 14th in NCAA history. Auburn, Ohio State and Washington also have 12 bowl wins. Clemson's first bowl appearance was in the 1940 Cotton Bowl when the Tigers defeated Frank Leahy and Boston College, 6-3.

Leahy, the second winningest coach in college football history, is one of the outstanding coaches Clemson has defeated in bowl play. The Tigers also own a bowl win over Joe Paterno of Penn State (the sixth winningest coach in college history on a total wins basis), Woody Hayes formerly of Ohio State (the 10th winningest coach in college football history on a total wins basis), Barry Switzer formerly of Oklahoma (the 10th winningest coach in college history on a winning percentage basis), Tom Osborne of Nebraska (the 16th winningest coach in college football history on a total wins basis) and Don Nehlen of West Virginia (the ninth winningest active coach in college football).

Clemson Offense Among Best in History

Clemson's offense scored over 300 points and averaged 380 yards per game in total offense in 1995. This was a marked improvement over the 1994 team that finished eighth in the ACC in total offense and scoring. The 1995 team had an average of 379 yards per game in total offense, the eighth best average in Clemson history.

In terms of yards per play, the 1995 edition with a 5.3 average is sixth in history. In terms of rushing average, the 1995 team had a 245.4 figure, 10th best in Clemson history, while the completion percentage of .567 is second best in Clemson history behind the 1989 Tiger team, the last Clemson team to go to the Gator Bowl. Clemson also had 122 total completions last year, sixth best in Clemson history for a single season.

Priester Sets Rushing Records, #1 in ACC

Clemson sophomore tailback Raymond Priester set the Clemson single season rushing record in the South Carolina game and finished with 1322 yards for the season. He broke the single season record of 1258 by Terrence Flagler in 1986. He had a 110-yard average, first in the ACC and 18th in the nation. Clemson had not had the conference rushing champion since 1987 when Terry Allen averaged 86.8 yards per game as a freshman. That is the only time since 1968 that Clemson has had an ACC rushing champion.

Priester had 263 yards rushing against Duke, breaking the single game record of 260 by Cliff Austin against Duke in 1982 at Death Valley. Priester's performance was the seventh most rushing yards in a game in ACC history and the first 200-yard game by a Tiger back in nine years. It was the only 200-yard game by an ACC back last year.

What is especially impressive about Priester is that he did not build up his total with a couple of long rushing plays. He had a 44-yard run to go over the 1,000-yard mark in the second quarter against Duke, then had a 43-yard touchdown run in the third period to give Clemson a 24-0 lead. Those are the two longest runs of his career and the only runs over 31 yards last year.

Priester's 85-yard performance at South Carolina might have been his toughest. He had just seven yards at the half because he pulled a hamstring. He missed the entire second quarter and did not return until five minutes remained in the third period. His presence picked up the team and the Tigers scored 28 points over the last 20 minutes.

Tiger Special Teams Outstanding

The 1995 Tigers might have had the best all-around special teams in Clemson history. The Tigers had a player ranked in the top 25 in the nation in punt returns, kickoff returns, field goals and punting, the only team in the nation with a player in the top 25 in all four categories. Clemson ranked in the top 25 in the nation in punt returns (21st) and kickoff returns (12th) as a team.

Clemson had never had a player ranked in the top 25 in each special teams category in the same year until 1995. In 1983 the Tigers had an individual ranked in the top 25 in kickoff returns, field goals and punting, but did not have a punt return specialist in the ratings.

Antwuan Wyatt ranked in the top 15 in the nation in both punt returns (12.3) and kickoff returns (25.0). He is the first Tiger in history to rank in the top 15 in both statistical categories in the same year. He was 15th in punt returns and 12th in kickoff returns. As far as field goals are concerned, Jeff Sauve made 11 of his last 12 and finished 10th in the nation in field goals per game with 1.4 (15-20). Chris McNally finished 23rd in punting with a 41.8 average. He was second in the conference.

Although there aren't any national stats in this area, the Tigers were also outstanding in covering kicks. The opposition averaged just 17.2 yards per kickoff return last season, second best in the ACC. Clemson's 1952 team held the opposition to 14.7 yards per kickoff return and that is the school record in that category.

Defense in Top 20 in Three Defensive Areas

The Tigers yielded just 47 total points over the last five games of the regular season and jumped all the way to 10th in the country and first in the ACC in scoring defense. The defense allowed just 16.2 points per game last year. Over the five-game winning streak to close the regular season, the opposition has had just 10 drives inside Clemson's 20 yardline.

The Tigers were 18th in rushing defense, 16th in passing efficiency defense and 10th in scoring defense in 1995. Clemson's secondary was outstanding over the last five games and that was a prime reason the Tigers rose to the top 10 in the nation in preventing points. The Tiger defense finished the regular season with 21 interceptions, sixth highest total in the nation.

Every ACC team failed to reach their season average against Clemson, including Maryland and Georgia Tech who scored their season low against the Tigers.

Greene 22nd in Passing

Nealon Greene had a solid all-around season in 1995, his sophomore season as a Tiger. He ranked 22nd in the nation in passing efficiency with a 137.6 figure, the first Tiger since 1984 (Mike Eppley) to rank in the top 25 in the nation in passing efficiency.

Greene threw 10 touchdown passes and had a 57.4 completion percentage. In the two key wins over Georgia Tech and North Carolina in consecutive games he connected on 21 of 30 passes for 308 yards and three scores. Both Georgia Tech and North Carolina were ranked in the top 20 in the nation in total defense entering the game.

Greene hit on 10-13 for 167 yards and two scores against Georgia Tech and was 11-17 for 131 against North Carolina. His 30-yard scoring pass to Joe Woods was Clemson's first score of the UNC game. The Yonkers, NY native had another outstanding game at South Carolina, hitting 9-13 for 171 yards. On the road last year Greene connected on 48-69 passes and has not thrown an interception in his career in road games. He has thrown 139 straight on the road without a theft.

Greene had 1537 passing yards in 1995, fourth best in Clemson history and just 119 yards off of Steve Fuller's single-season record. The Tigers kept the ball on the ground against Duke, so he threw for just 17 yards. But he showed his ability as a runner with 95 yards in 10 attempts. Greene was third on the team in rushing with 359 yards.

While other senior quarterbacks received much of the notoriety in the ACC last year, it was Greene who ranked first in the conference in yards per attempt (8.05) and he was second in the league in passing efficiency.

Clemson one of Eight Perfect Road Teams

The Tigers have won six in a row on the road over two seasons, including five in a row in 1995. All six of the consecutive road wins have been by double digits, 28-17 at North Carolina in 1994, 29-14 at Wake Forest, 43-22 at N.C. State, 17-0 at Maryland, 24-3 at Georgia Tech and 38-17 at South Carolina last year.

Five Tigers were honored by the ACC in 1995.

The Clemson record for consecutive road wins is eight, set between 1978-79 and 1947-48. Clemson's 1978-79 road winning streak was broken at South Carolina, 13-9 on November 24, 1979. The Rice Owls ended Clemson's eight-game road victory streak in 1949.

Clemson has had just five five-game road winning streaks in history including the current streak. There was a five-gamer in 1939, the eight in a row in 1947-48, six in a row in 1950-51, the eight in a row in 1978-79 and the five in a row in 1981.

Clemson has been a good road team over the years, but the 1995 team was the best since 1981 and just the second perfect road team since 1948. The 1948 team was 6-0 and that is the Clemson record for road wins in a regular season. The Gator Bowl was a neutral site game, and is not factored into a road streak.

The 1995 season was an odd season in that Clemson was 5-0 on the road and 3-3 at home. Only one Clemson team since 1942, the year Death Valley was built, has had a winning record on the road and a losing mark at home. The 1962 Tigers were 4-1 on the road and 2-3 at home.

Clemson had a 5-0 road record this year, one of eight teams in the nation with a perfect road record. The other road warriors were Northwestern, Florida, Virginia Tech, Colorado, Nebraska, Oregon and Utah.

Tigers Had Record Eight Blocked Kicks

Clemson blocked three placekicks against Georgia, two field goals and an extra point, the most blocked kicks of any kind in a game in Clemson history. The Tigers had eight blocked kicks last year, a punt, three field goals and four extra points.

The previous Clemson record for total blocked kicks in a season was four, set in 1993, 1989 and 1988. The leader of the Block Party was Leomont Evans, as the senior free safety had three blocked kicks last year, all on placekicks. That tied the Clemson single season record for blocked kicks, as Mitch Belton had three blocked punts in 1989, including two in one quarter against Maryland.

Clemson 4th in Rushing Offense

One of Clemson's most improved areas last year was in rushing offense. The Tigers average 245 yards per game, 4th best in the nation and a significant increase over the 174 yards per game in 1994. Clemson last ranked in the top 20 in rushing offense in 1992 when the Tigers were sixth with an average of 257 yards per game. Clemson ranked in the top 20 in the nation in rushing every year between 1985-92.

Clemson enhanced its ranking against Duke when the Tigers gained 433 net yards on the ground. Raymond Priester led the way with a school record 263 yards. The 433 yards by the Clemson team stands ninth best in Clemson history and best against an ACC team since 1981 when the Tigers had 536 against Wake Forest. The Tigers added 323 rushing yards at South Carolina. In week two the Tigers had 321 on the ground against Florida State, most against the Seminoles since 1990.

Clemson Offensive Improvement

You can see by the chart below that Clemson made a significant improvement in terms of offensive production compared to 1994. The Tigers scored nearly twice as many points and gained over 1,400 more yards than in 1994. Clemson started five freshmen over the course of the 1994 season and started seven in some.

Last year's Clemson team was near the production of the 1991 Tiger team in terms of offense. That 1991 Clemson team won the ACC Championship and is one of just two teams in Clemson history to average over 400 yards per game in terms of total offense in a season. Clemson averaged 403 yards a game and 5.3 yards per play that season to go with a 26.4 scoring average.

Tiger Rushing Defense in Top 25 Again

Clemson was ranked 18th in the nation in rushing defense last year, a prime reason for Clemson's success. The Tigers have ranked in the top 25 in the nation in rushing defense 10 straight seasons. The 1985 campaign was the last time Clemson has not been ranked in the top 25 in the country in rushing defense in the final NCAA stats.

Actually, the Tigers have been ranked in the top 15 in the country in rushing defense nine of the last 10 years, including four top five rankings.

Over the last five years the opposition averaged just 113 yards a game. Twenty-four times during the last 56 games the Tigers have held the opposition under 100 yards rushing, and only five times has a team gone over the 200-yard mark. The opposition has averaged just 3.1 yards per rush.

Dawkins-Simmons AP All-Americans

Clemson defensive players Brian Dawkins and Anthony Simmons were selected to Associated Press All-America teams in 1995. Dawkins, a senior strong safety, was a second-team selection, while Simmons, an inside linebacker, was a third-team selection. Both players were significant reasons the Tigers ranked 10th in the nation in scoring defense and had an 8-4 record last season.

Dawkins ranked eighth in the nation in interceptions with six. He had three in the victory against Duke and his 49-yard interception return for a score against North Carolina was a key in Clemson's 17-10 victory. He ranked third on the team in tackles with 89. For his career, he is fifth in Clemson history in interceptions with 11 and ranks tied for second in takeaways (interceptions plus fumble recoveries) with 15.

Simmons is the first first-year freshman in ACC history to make an AP All-American team as a position player. The only other first-year freshman to do it was Tamarick Vanover of Florida State in 1992, but he was selected as a kick returner. Rhonde Barber of Virginia was a third-team AP All-American in 1994 as a defensive back, but he was a red-shirt freshman.

The native of Spartanburg had 150 tackles last year, 54 more than any other Tiger and he led the team in tackles in nine of the 12 games. Earlier he was chosen ACC Rookie of the Year and first-team All-ACC. He was second in the voting for ACC Defensive Player of the Year.

Clemson was one of 15 teams, the only one from the ACC, to have more than one player on the three AP teams combined. Nebraska had the most with five representatives, three on the first team and one each on the second and third team. Ohio State had four representatives, while Florida, Colorado, Texas A&M, Kansas State, Northwestern and Michigan all had three players on one of the three teams. The teams with two AP All-Americans were Clemson, Virginia Tech, Texas, Penn State, Notre Dame and Tennessee.

First-Year Frosh Make Contribution

Most observers felt Tommy West signed an outstanding freshman class in February 1995. This fact came to fruition last year as West played 11 first-year freshmen, which tied for the most first-year freshmen in Clemson history to see action over the course of a season. In 1985 the Tigers played 11 first-year freshmen over the course of the season.

Anthony Simmons of course led the way and became the first first-year freshman linebacker to start on opening day since John Johnson in 1987. He led the Tigers in tackles with 150 and led Clemson in nine of the 12 games. He is the most decorated freshman in Clemson history as he was named National Freshman-of-the-Year by UPI.

But, there were many other freshmen who made contributions last year. Linebacker Chris Jones ranked seventh on the team in tackles with 50, while Antwan Edwards, a defensive back, was 12th in tackles with 44. O.J. Childress was first on the team in special teams tackles with 13, while Edwards was third with 11.

Priester, Smith Best Running Back Combo

Clemson running back combination Raymond Priester and Emory Smith set a Tiger single season mark for rushing yards by two players. The duo had 2,034 yards, surpassing the 2,031 accumulated by Kenny Flowers and Stacy Driver in 1985. Flowers had 1200 yards that year and Driver 831. Priester and Smith averaged 169.5 yards per game between them last year.

Clemson's Best Rushing Combinations

1978	Lester Brown (1022), Marvin Sims (685)	1707

Tigers Led ACC in Many Areas

Clemson had four players lead or tie for the ACC lead in a statistical category, while Clemson led the ACC in six different statistical areas:

Individual ACC Stat Champions

*Raymond Priester, rushing, 116.9 yards per game (first Clemson rushing champion since 1987 and just the second since 1968).

*Antwan Wyatt, kickoff returns, 25.0 (also ranked 12th in the nation)

*Brian Dawkins, interceptions, 6 in 11 games (tied for ACC lead with Andre Johnson of Maryland).

Team ACC Stat Champions

*Rushing offense, 259.6 yards per game, 4th in the nation

*Pass efficiency defense, 101.1 rating points, 16th in the nation

*Scoring defense, 16.2 points per game, 10th in the nation

*kickoff returns, 22.7 yards per return, 12th in the nation

*Time of possession, 32:22 minutes per game, +4:44

minutes per game more than opposition.

*Third-down conversion offense, .424 (67-158)

Record Seven Tigers in NCAAs top 25

A record seven different Clemson players ranked in the top 25 of nine different NCAA statistical categories last year. The previous high was five different Tigers ranking in the top 25 of five different categories in 1978, a year Clemson finished the season with an 11-1 record and number-six final ranking.

Antwan Wyatt ranked in the top 25 of two individual categories. The junior who led Clemson in receiving last year finished 15th in the nation in punt returns and was 12th in kickoff returns. Other Tigers who ranked in the top 25 of a stat category are quarterback Nealon Greene, tailback Raymond Priester, fullback Emory Smith, punter Chris McNally, defensive back Brian Dawkins, and placekicker Jeff Sauve.

Clemson also ranked in the top 25 in eight different team categories, including four that deal with defensive stats. The Tigers were in the top 25 in rushing defense, passing efficiency defense, scoring defense and interceptions.

Address

If you are mailing something to the Clemson SID office, address it to Tim Bourret, Assistant Athletic Director for Media Relations, PO Box 632, Clemson, SC 29633. The Federal express address (they don't like PO Boxes) is 100 Perimeter Road, Clemson, SC 29633. The Address of Clemson Memorial Stadium is Williamson Road, Clemson, SC 29633.

Alumni, Famous

Who are the most famous Clemson alumni. Certainly, Senator Strom Thurmond, a member of the class of '22 who also ran cross country at Clemson, would have to be among the most famous former Tigers. He holds all the longevity records among US Senators and will attempt to win still another term in the Senate. If he wins in November, he will be 100 years old at the end of the term. He still follows the Clemson Tigers and you never know when he might come by the press box and tap you on the shoulder while the game is in progress.

South Carolina governor David Beasley played baseball for the Tigers in 1976 as a reserve outfielder. He has been known to frequent Clemson baseball games in recent years, including 1995 when he threw out the first ball of the season opener.

A former Tiger who is moving up the famous ladder is Jane Robelot, now with CBS news in New York. Those of us in the Sports Information Office are especially proud of Robelot because she is a former SID office student assistant. Look in some old press guides and you could see Jane in the background keeping stats at basketball games. If you are a collector of video tapes of Clemson games, check out ESPN's telecast of the 1982 Spring Game. Just prior to the game, a young lady runs on the field to stop the game. That's Jane. She was just following instructions from the producer, who was still in a commercial. Most people would have gone to the referee. Jane figured if they couldn't snap the ball, the game couldn't begin. That's Jane, go right to the source.

Now she is in New York as the host of the CBS This Morning Show, weekdays from 7:00 AM to 9:00 AM.

Antonio, John

This man holds a special place in the hearts of Tiger fans and in the pocketbooks of sports marketing entrepreneurs. Antonio invented the Tiger paw, the distinctive logo of the Clemson athletic teams that has become synonymous with this University's athletic success. Antonio was an innovative account executive with Henderson Advertising in Greenville, and prior to the 1970 season, unveiled the Paw as Clemson's new logo. It has shown up all over the country on items owned by Clemson fans. Many institutions with a feline as mascot have used the logo, or an impression of it. The painting of the Tiger Paw on cheeks of Clemson fans has also become popular and imitated at schools all over the country.

Athletics and Academics

The Clemson athletic department provided $2.8 million in financial support to University programs and operations during the 1995-96 fiscal year. The IPTAY Academic Scholarship Fund was the recipient of over $170,000 during the year. The fund was created to help meet the need for more non-athletic academic scholarships to the university.

The IPTAY Academic Scholarship Fund, one of the largest academic endowments at Clemson, surpassed the $2.5 million mark during the 1996 Spring semester. More than 49 students who are not athletes, are benefitting from the fund. The money for the fund comes from several different sources, but it is all raised by activities of the athletic department, including player-of-the-game contributions, as well as matching gift contributions.

Over the last nine years, athletics has contributed more than $12 million in financial support to Clemson University.

Attendance

Clemson ranked 10th in the nation in average football attendance last year with an average of 71,296. It marked the 13th straight year that Clemson ranked in the top 15 nationally in attendance. Clemson has a seating capacity of 81,473, but with standing room we are capable of going over the 85,000 mark. The record crowd was set in 1994 for the South Carolina game when 85,872 attended the game. That is also the all-time record for an ACC game.

Auburn Series

Clemson and Auburn, two Southern Football powers who have not met on the gridiron since 1971, will play a four-year series starting in 2005. The four-year contract will feature two games at Clemson and two at Auburn. The 2005 and 2007 games will be held at Clemson, and the 2006 and 2008 contests will be played at Auburn. All four games will take place on the first Saturday in September and are currently slated to be the season opener for each school in each season.

The teams last met in 1971 when a fifth-ranked Auburn team led by Heisman Trophy winner Pat Sullivan, handed Clemson a 35-13 defeat. Auburn has won the last 11 meetings between the teams. All of those contests were played between 1952-1971.

Clemson's last victory over the War Eagles took place in 1951, a 34-0 Clemson triumph. It gave Clemson five wins in six outings against Auburn between 1946 and 1951. The 34-18 Clemson win in 1947 over Auburn featured the greatest quarterback performance in Clemson history. Bobby Gage threw for four touchdowns and gained 374 yards in total offense, both Clemson single game records. The following year Clemson won 7-6 in Mobile, a key victory in Clemson's drive to a perfect season in 1948.

The first three coaches in Clemson football history were Auburn graduates. Walter Riggs, Clemson's first head coach and later University President, was Clemson's coach in 1896 and 1899 and was an 1893 Auburn graduate. William Williams, Clemson's mentor in 1897, was an 1896 Auburn grad, while John Penton, Clemson's head coach in the fall of 1898, had graduated from Auburn in the previous spring.

Here are Clemson's non-conference games the next four years:

1997	Sept. 6 Appalachian State
	Oct. 4 UTEP
	Nov. 22 at South Carolina
1998	Sept. 5 Furman
	Oct. 3 at Missouri
	Nov. 21 South Carolina
1999	Sept. 4 Western Carolina
	Oct. 2 Missouri
	Nov. 20 at South Carolina
2000	Sept. 30 Texas A&M
	Oct. 7 at Tulane
	Nov. 18 South Carolina

Brothers, Twins

The Clemson football team features twin brothers. In 1993 Andy and Peter Ford became the first Clemson twin brother combination to letter in football. Both made significant contributions as first-year freshmen and they continued their play last year. They played just 15 plays together in 1993, but in 1994 they started the first three games together at the cornerback positions.

In 1995, Andy Ford started the first five games until an ankle injury suffered at N.C. State put him on the bench. Enter Peter, who started the last seven games in his place. Peter is the one with the interceptions (9), while Andy has just one. They combined for three thefts against North Carolina this past year. Until last year it was virtually impossible to tell them apart. Prior to last season they had their right arms tattooed with their uniform number. So, if you run into them, just ask them to roll up their sleeves. Andy is #43 and Peter is #29.

Calhoun, John

This Senator from the state of South Carolina proposed a bill in the house in 1955 making it a state law that Clemson and South Carolina had to meet in football once a year.

Centennial Celebration

Clemson will conclude its Centennial of Football this year on October 19, the Homecoming game with Georgia Tech. Clemson has never missed a season of football since 1896, thus the 100th year was actually the 1995 season. But, Clemson started playing football in 1896, so 1996 is the 100-year anniversary season. So, we just had the celebration cross over the two seasons from homecoming to homecoming.

As part of the Centennial, Clemson fans have selected an all-time Clemson team. The 35 member team is made up of an 11-man one-platoon team and a 24-man two-platoon team. See page 27 of this press guide.

A dinner will be held the Friday evening prior to the September 7 Furman Game. Centennial Team members will be honored that night, complete with a highlight presentation on each player. The team will be introduced prior to the Furman game on the 7th. Furman, was Clemson's first opponent in football in 1896. As part of the Centennial Celebration, Coke is sponsoring a Centennial Team poster which will be given away at the Furman game.

Clark, Dwight

One of the great pro football success stories belongs to Dwight Clark. A Clemson Tiger between 1975-78, the wide receiver was a starter in 1977 and 1978, but still caught only 33 passes for his entire career. He was a key contributor on the 1978 ACC Championship team that was 11-1 and ranked sixth in the final poll, but he was never even second-team All-ACC.

The San Francisco 49ers drafted him in the 10th round in 1979 and he was a surprise squad member in that season. Then Clark and Joe Montana started working together and before you knew it Clark was leading the league in receptions and was a pro bowl starter. He concluded his career as the 49ers all-time leader in receptions with 506, reception yards (6750) and touchdowns (48).

Today, Clark is the 49ers' coordinator of football operations/player personnel. Some of his touchdown receptions weren't as long as that title, but his job does allow him to travel to Clemson now and then to scout the talent level of his beloved Tigers. He brought the 49ers to Clemson last year when the club faced the Carolina Panthers.

Clark is one of two former Tiger gridders now serving as a vice president of an NFL team. Mark Richardson, a letterman outside linebacker for the 1981 National Championship Tigers, is a vice president with the Carolina Panthers.

Clemson, SC

The city of Clemson has a population of about 11,000 fulltime residents. But, on Saturday afternoons in the fall, when over 80,000 fans are in the stands, that population increases significantly. In fact, Clemson moves all the way to the second largest city in the state on home football Saturdays when over 80,500 fans are in the stands.

On those days, only Columbia is larger. Charleston's latest population reading was 80,414, so that is why we have to list the qualifier at 80,500. So, depending on the size of the crowd, Clemson becomes either the second or third largest city in South Carolina on home football Saturdays.

Colors

Clemson's official colors are Northwestern purple (PMS 541) and burnt orange (PMS 165), but many of Clemson's athletic uniforms are predominantly orange and white. Clemson has worn all orange for special games and in 1991 wore purple jerseys with white pants and orange helmets for the N.C. State and California games.

According to legend Clemson used to have a pale purple and gold as the official colors. But, Jess Neely changed that because he wanted uniforms that were more colorfast. It seems that the weather and constant washings were causing the uniforms to fade. So Neely worked with the Clemson school of textiles and developed deeper colors for uniforms, colors that held up under the rays of the sun and the workings of the washing machines.

Conference

Clemson is a member of the Atlantic Coast Conference. The Tigers were charter members in 1953. Prior to that, Clemson was in the Southern Conference from 1921 to 1952. Clemson was in the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association before that, and has been a charter member of every conference with which it has been affiliated.

Conference Championships

Clemson has more ACC titles than any other school, as the Tigers won or shared the ACC title in 1956, 1958, 1959, 1965, 1966, 1967, 1978, 1981, 1982, 1986, 1987, 1988 and 1991. Clemson won the Southern Conference in 1940 and 1948. Clemson tied for the ACC title in 1965 so Clemson has 12 outright and one tied ACC titles.

Country Gentleman

Clemson is famous for its Tiger mascot and pushups after each score. But, the school used to have two mascots. In addition to the Tiger, the school used to have the Country Gentleman, a student dressed in purple tails and top hat, carrying a cane. The Country Gentleman concept came about as a result of references to Clemson made by Greenville News sportswriter Carter "Scoop" Latimer as the Country Gentlemen. Clemson had the two-mascot system between 1954 and 1972.

Death Valley

Name synonymous with Clemson Memorial Stadium. The Stadium was dubbed this affectionate title by the late Lonnie McMillian, a former coach at Presbyterian. He used to take his teams to play at Clemson, and they rarely scored, never mind gained a victory. Once he told the writers he was going to play Clemson up at Death Valley because his teams always got killed. It stuck somewhat, but when Frank Howard start calling it that in the fifties, the term really caught on. It is now in its 54th year.

Many people think the name is derived from the fact that there rests a cemetery outside the fence on the pressbox site of the stadium. But, although it would make sense, the name was first coined by Lonnie McMillian.

Emergency Phone

In case of emergency at Clemson Memorial Stadium, call (864) 656-2999. The Clemson University police number is (864) 656-2222. For health care at the stadium first aid is available at Gates 9, 13, 16 and 20 in the upperdecks.

Esso Club

When you want to cover a Clemson football weekend and capture the true flavor of the entire proceedings you have to make a pit stop at the Esso Club. If this sounds like a combination bar and gas station, well, you're right. They don't sell gas there anymore, but Clemson fans for many years have frequented this famous weekend watering hole. It is a favorite establishment for Brent Musberger, regardless of the network he represents. Clemson fans come from all backgrounds and you will find a representative from the varied backgrounds on any football weekend.

Forney, Warren

Warren Forney, one of the most decorated student-athletes in Clemson history, was named assistant strength and conditioning coach at Clemson University last May. Forney, who completed his eligibility with the Clemson football team last season, is the first full-time assistant strength coach at Clemson.

Forney was a four-year letterman for the Tiger football program between 1991 and 1995. He was a member of three bowl teams and the 1991 ACC Championship team. He was the recipient of the 1995 Brian Piccolo Award, presented by the Atlantic Coast Conference to the ACC's Most Courageous Football Player.

The two-time academic All-ACC selection was the recipient of Clemson University's Algernon Sydney Sullivan Award in 1994. The award honors one Clemson student each year for service to others. He earned his undergraduate degree in 1994 and is scheduled to earn his master's degree in August, giving him two degrees in five years.

Forney was the top reserve defensive lineman for the 1995 Tigers 8-4 team that ranked in the top 20 in the nation in scoring defense, rushing defense and pass defense. He had 20 tackles and led the team in quarterback pressures. He was the third leading tackler on the Clemson team in 1992 when he had 83 stops and nine tackles for loss. He suffered a knee injury in September of 1993 that required reconstructive surgery and was lost for the season. He concluded his career with 142 career tackles and in 41 games.

Goalposts

NCAA regulations stipulate the pipe must be 4" in diameter, must have posts that are 20' or more in height and 18-6 apart. This is the same width as the pros and closer than the 23-4 of previous college years. The crossbar is 10' high. The Clemson student body tore down the goalposts in the end zone with the grass bank after Clemson's emotional 52-27 win over Maryland in 1983, the only time the goalposts have come down at Clemson.

Heisman, John

Yes, the same guy they named the trophy after used to coach at Clemson. You have to go back to the 1900-03 era to find him, but he brought Clemson its first unbeaten season in 1900, a 6-0 ledger. Heisman coached at Clemson for four seasons making an astronomical $1800 a year, the same amount most PGA events pay for a last place finish in an average weekend event.

In 1904 Georgia Tech offered him $2250 plus a percentage of the gate, and he was gone to Atlanta. Clemson should have scraped up the extra money to keep him. With John Heisman as head coach, Clemson beat Georgia Tech 73-0 in 1903, but two years later, with Heisman at Georgia Tech, the Yellow Jackets downed the Tigers, 17-10. Coaching does make a difference.

Homecoming

Clemson will face Georgia Tech on Homecoming on October 19 this year. This is the first time since 1989 that Georgia Tech has been Clemson's homecoming opponent. That was a landmark day, because Georgia Tech upset the Tigers 30-14, the only time in the last 25 years that Clemson has lost a Homecoming game. The Tigers are 22-1-2 since 1970 on Homecoming.

The first homecoming game played at Clemson took place on September 30, 1922 when Centre defeated Clemson at Riggs Field, 21-0. Clemson has celebrated Homecoming every year since 1922 with the exception of the 1930 and 1938 seasons.

Clemson has a 52-17-3 record on Homecoming games over the years, a .742 winning percentage and has outscored the opposition 1519-930 in those previous 71 games. The average margin of victory is 21 to 12.

Hoover, Doc

Assistant Athletic Director and Head Trainer Fred Hoover has quite a streak going. He doesn't let us talk about it that much, but it is worth noting. The 1953 Florida State graduate has now worked 410 consecutive Clemson football games. Ironically, his 400th consecutive game worked on the Clemson sideline was against Florida State, his alma mater, in 1995.

Someone needs to monitor his eating habits because you would certainly think a trainer who hangs around sick people all the time would have gotten ill at least once over the last 37 years. Well, he has been sick at times, but never on Saturday afternoons in the fall. Hoover is number one in the Clemson athletic department in terms of longevity of service.

Hunter, Bill

Dr. Bill Hunter is the man to call if you are doing a story on "Running Down the Hill", the most celebrated entrance in all of sport. Dr. Hunter is still a Clemson resident and was a starter on Clemson's 1942 team, and he was one of the first Tiger players to run down the hill. He still follows the Tigers avidly and rarely misses a home sporting event.

Inflation I

A ticket to the Clemson-South Carolina game in 1896 cost 25 cents. Two thousand people attended the game. This year's ticket for the game in Clemson is $25.

Inflation II

When Clemson first built Memorial Stadium in 1942 the construction cost of the 20,000 seat stadium computed to $7.20 a seat. When Clemson added 15,000 seats with an upper deck over the north stands in 1983 the average cost was $866 a seat.

IPTAY

IPTAY, Clemson's athletic scholarship fund-raising foundation, is one of the cornerstones of the Clemson Athletic Department. The foundation provides the funds for all athletic scholarships and has also been responsible for the funding of many facilities, including Vickery Hall, Clemson's athletic academic advising building.

IPTAY stands for "I Pay Ten a Year", the original name with a meaning derived from the minimum contribution of its donors when the organization began in 1934. It changed to "I Pay Twenty a Year" then "I Pay Thirty a Year." Four years ago the minimum donation was increased to $100 a year. There are currently nearly 20,000 members of IPTAY and the organization raised over $8 million last year.

IPTAY does a lot more for Clemson and its students than pay tuition for athletes. IPTAY also funds band travel, contributes to the improvement of athletic facilities, both varsity and non-varsity, and has established the IPTAY Academic Scholarship Endowment.

Legend I

Frank Howard was known as Legend I around Clemson and he will always be known as The Legend. Clemson lost one of the rocks of its tradition when he passed away at the age of 85 last January 28th. Incredibly, he died 13 years to the day after the passing his former teammate Bear Bryant.

Forney has joined the Clemson staff in the strength training room. He was the recipient of the 1995 Brian Piccolo Award. He played all but one of his 1250 career plays with a helmet. (Photo by Allen Hawes, Greenville News)

Howard was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame on December 5, 1989. He was a member of nine Halls of Fame, posted 165 wins in his 30 years as Clemson head coach and had 96 ACC victories, tied for the second highest total in league history. He captured eight conference titles, took the Tigers to six bowl games and six Top 20 seasons.

Even with these accomplishments, we will most remember his incredible wit, to his final days, and his positive influence on young people, many of whom went on to be successful in fields outside of athletics.

Legend II

SID at Clemson between 1955-88 football seasons, Bob Bradley has officially retired from his SID slot. He has seen 450 consecutive Clemson football games so he is considered the Cal Ripken of football SIDs in America. He has been President of CoSIDA, has been in the Clemson and SID Hall of Fame forever, and is a former recipient of the Arch Ward Award as CoSIDA Man-of-the-Year.

In November of 1988 the press box at Memorial Stadium was named The Bob Bradley Press Box. At his retirement banquet in the summer of 1989 he was presented with an automobile by the Athletic Department (complete with bow at midfield at Memorial Stadium) and the financing for a pontoon boat from his former student workers, the ACC Sportswriters Association, SIDs from around the country and the ACC office.

He still puts in quite a few hours for us (everyday) and actually has scored more baseball games in retirement than he did in his last year as SID. He has also completed two books on Clemson football. Give Bob a call at (864) 656-2114 to purchase an ideal Christmas present.

Linebacker U.

Penn State has long been known as "Linebacker U". But, in recent years Clemson has received notoriety for producing linebackers. Three of the starting linebackers off of Clemson's 1994 team made NFL rosters last year and there are now eight former Clemson linebackers in the NFL, tying for the highest total in the nation with ACC rival North Carolina. Patrick Sapp, second round pick of the San Diego Chargers, should join the list this year.

According to 1995 rosters released by the NFL, Clemson and North Carolina both have eight former linebackers on NFL rosters, while Southern Cal and Penn State both have seven. Nebraska, Ohio State and Notre Dame all have six linebackers in the NFL, while Alabama, Boston College, Colorado and Michigan State all have five.

Overall, Clemson had 22 players who appeared on active NFL rosters last year, one of the top 20 figures in the nation.

Long Journey

Former Clemson All-American Stacy Long finished his long journey to a Clemson degree in August, 1995 when he picked up his diploma during ceremonies at Littlejohn Coliseum. Long played for the Tigers between 1986 and 1990, earning first-team All-America honors in 1989 and 1990. He was one of three finalists for the Outland Trophy in 1990 and was chosen to Clemson's Centennial Team.

We applaud Long's accomplishment because it is not easy to stop chasing the NFL career dream. Long had a frustrating career with the Chicago Bears as he suffered knee injuries from almost his first day of camp in 1991. But, he returned to Clemson after much soul searching and put in the academic time, which culminated with the diploma.

Long is another reason the NCAA graduation rate statistics need revision. Although Long earned his degree, he counts as a non-graduate according to the NCAA statistics summary because he did not earn the degree within six years of his first day of school.

Lost & Found

At Memorial Stadium, if you can't find it go to the Gate 1 information booth. Hopefully someone else did and it will be there.

Medical Facilities

Available during football games under Section J on the South Side, under Section T on the North Side and Section E under South Top Deck of the stadium. There also is one under the North Top Deck.

Memorial Stadium

Here are some height measurements in Memorial Stadium that were determined by Mark Kistler in a survey he performed for a class in 1991.

Height above the middle of the 50-yard-line to:

Top of the South Upper Deck:	159 Feet
Camera Deck on South Side:	92 Feet
Top of the Hill:	27 Feet
Mounted Rock on the Hill:	26 Feet
Top of West End Zone:	47 Feet
Top of Upper Deck, North Side:	177 Feet

It is also interesting to note that the distance from the Rock to the bottom of the hill, or the path the team takes when it runs down the hill is exactly 100 feet. The middle of the field is a foot higher than the back of the end zone at the bottom of the hill. That explains why Death Valley drains well.

Nickname

Clemson's nickname derivation goes back to the turn of the century. In those days many of the players wore long hair due to lack of helmet strength for more head protection. These long manes might have gained Clemson the name lions had it not been for the orange and purple striped jerseys and stockings the players wore. The stripes resembled Tigers.

John Heisman's 1900 team was called the Tigers and Clemson used an insignia of a Tigers head with bared fangs with the motto 'Eat Em Up Clemson. Another theory on the nickname concerns Clemson's first coach. Walter Merritt Riggs came to Clemson to coach the football team in 1896. His previous school was Auburn, which is also known as the Tigers.

Night Games

Clemson has not had many home night games over the years. There have been just 16 overall dating back to a September 25, 1948 win over Presbyterian. The Tigers are 12-3-1 at night over the years, an outstanding record so you might expect administrators to schedule more games at night.

But, for most of the history of Clemson football the school's fan base has reached a circumference of over 300 miles. Realizing this fact, Clemson administrators have attempted to schedule the time of home games to allow fans to make it to the game and back home in the same day.

Clemson did not have a home night game between 1956 and 1991. In 1992 tradition was broken when the Florida State game was televised by ESPN. The novelty of the night game in Death Valley, against a Top 10 opponent, certainly did not hurt attendance. Clemson fans gave a positive response to that night game (even though Clemson lost 24-20). Last year Clemson kicked off its centennial celebration of football with a 6:39 PM start against Georgia.

NFL Connections

Fullback Emory Smith is the brother of Dallas Cowboys running back Emmitt Smith. Between December 31, 1993 and January 30, 1994, the brothers were MVPs of postseason games played in the same facility. Emory was named offensive MVP of Clemson's Peach Bowl win over Kentucky, then a month later, Emmitt was the MVP of the Super Bowl. Last year, a break in the NFL schedule allowed Emmitt to attend the Clemson vs. Georgia Tech game in Atlanta. Emory responded with 26-100 rushing and a touchdown. Emmitt watched from the Clemson sidelines.

Orange Pants

Clemson has won seven games in a row when wearing orange pants...In games Tommy West has been involved in as a Clemson coach, the Tigers are 14-2 in orange pants...Clemson has lost just three games at home in orange pants, all to top 10 ranked teams (South Carolina in 1984, Florida State in 1988 and Florida State in 1992)...Clemson has defeated a top 20 team when wearing orange pants nine times...each of Clemson's two highest ranked wins in history (Georgia and Nebraska in 1981) have been achieved while wearing orange pants...Clemson won each of its first 10 games in orange pants...Clemson won the national championship in orange pants, 22-15 against Nebraska in the 1982 Orange Bowl...The greatest comeback in Clemson history, a 1992 29-28 win over Virginia after trailing 28-0, was achieved in orange pants....Clemson has clinched the ACC Championship four times in orange pants...Clemson's average margin of victory is +13 points in orange pants...Clemson is 16-1 in orange pants in the month of November.

Orange & White

Publication founded by former Clemson Assistant SID Al Adams that is in its 18th season of issue. Al is no longer with the paper, but it is still going strong. To contact the publisher, Phil Batson, call (864) 224-4321. It is now the official publication of IPTAY and replaces the IPTAY report, which dated back to 1952.

Olympians

Clemson was well represented at the 25th Olympic Games in Atlanta this past summer. No less than eleven athletes with Clemson ties took part. The Olympic baseball team featured Clemson starting pitchers Kris Benson and Billy Koch, both of whom were top four selections in the Major League Draft, and catcher Matt LeCroy. The Olympic soccer team featured Imad Baba and Miles Joseph, who were both starters for the Tigers between 1993-95.

Former Clemson women's track star Kim

Graham was a member of the 400 meter team and Gigi Fernandez was a doubles player on the women's tennis team. In men's track, current Clemson sprinter Carlton Chambers was a member of the Canadian Olympic track team, while former NCAA champion Michael Green was a 100 meter man for the Jamaican Olympic team. Cormac Finnerty (5,000 meters, Ireland) and Mark McKoy (110 hurdles, Austria) also competed.

Panthers, Carolina

Clemson was the home of the Carolina Panthers in their inaugural season, 1995. It was a busy year to say the least, but the benefits to the University will be far reaching. The University realized about $2 million to be used toward scholarships and other fiscal benefits that will help Clemson students for many years to come.

Clemson Memorial Stadium was busy last fall. The field took a beating as 16 games were played on Frank Howard Field between August 3 and December 17. A total of 975,534 fans attended the 16 games. That breaks down to 427,776 for six Clemson home games, 441,625 for eight Panther regular season games and 106,131 for two Panther exhibition games. Clemson averaged 71,296 for its six home games and Carolina averaged 54,776 for its 10 games in the facility.

The Panthers will play their home games in their new stadium in Charlotte this Fall. But, it was nice to have the Panthers record setting first year in our stadium. We also enjoyed watching Jerry Rice, Steve Young and some other famous pros enhance the legendary reputation of Frank Howard Field.

Penn's Thin Natural Leaf

Type of chewing tobacco Frank Howard chewed in the forties. When they were pouring the concrete for the stadium in 1942 Howard put a plug in each corner of the stadium, giving it his form of an artistic signature.

Phillips, Jim

"Voice of the Tigers" in his 29th year

providing commentary on Clemson football. Phillips won the Brian Piccolo Award of broadcasting in 1982 when he gave the play-by-play account of the Western Carolina game only five days after back surgery. He recreated most of that game while standing up with a walker. He is also the voice of Clemson basketball and baseball. His voice is in the minds of nearly all contemporary Clemson fans when they recall a memorable Clemson moment. During his Silver Anniversary season (1992-93) Phillips was inducted into the Clemson Hall of Fame.

Press Passes

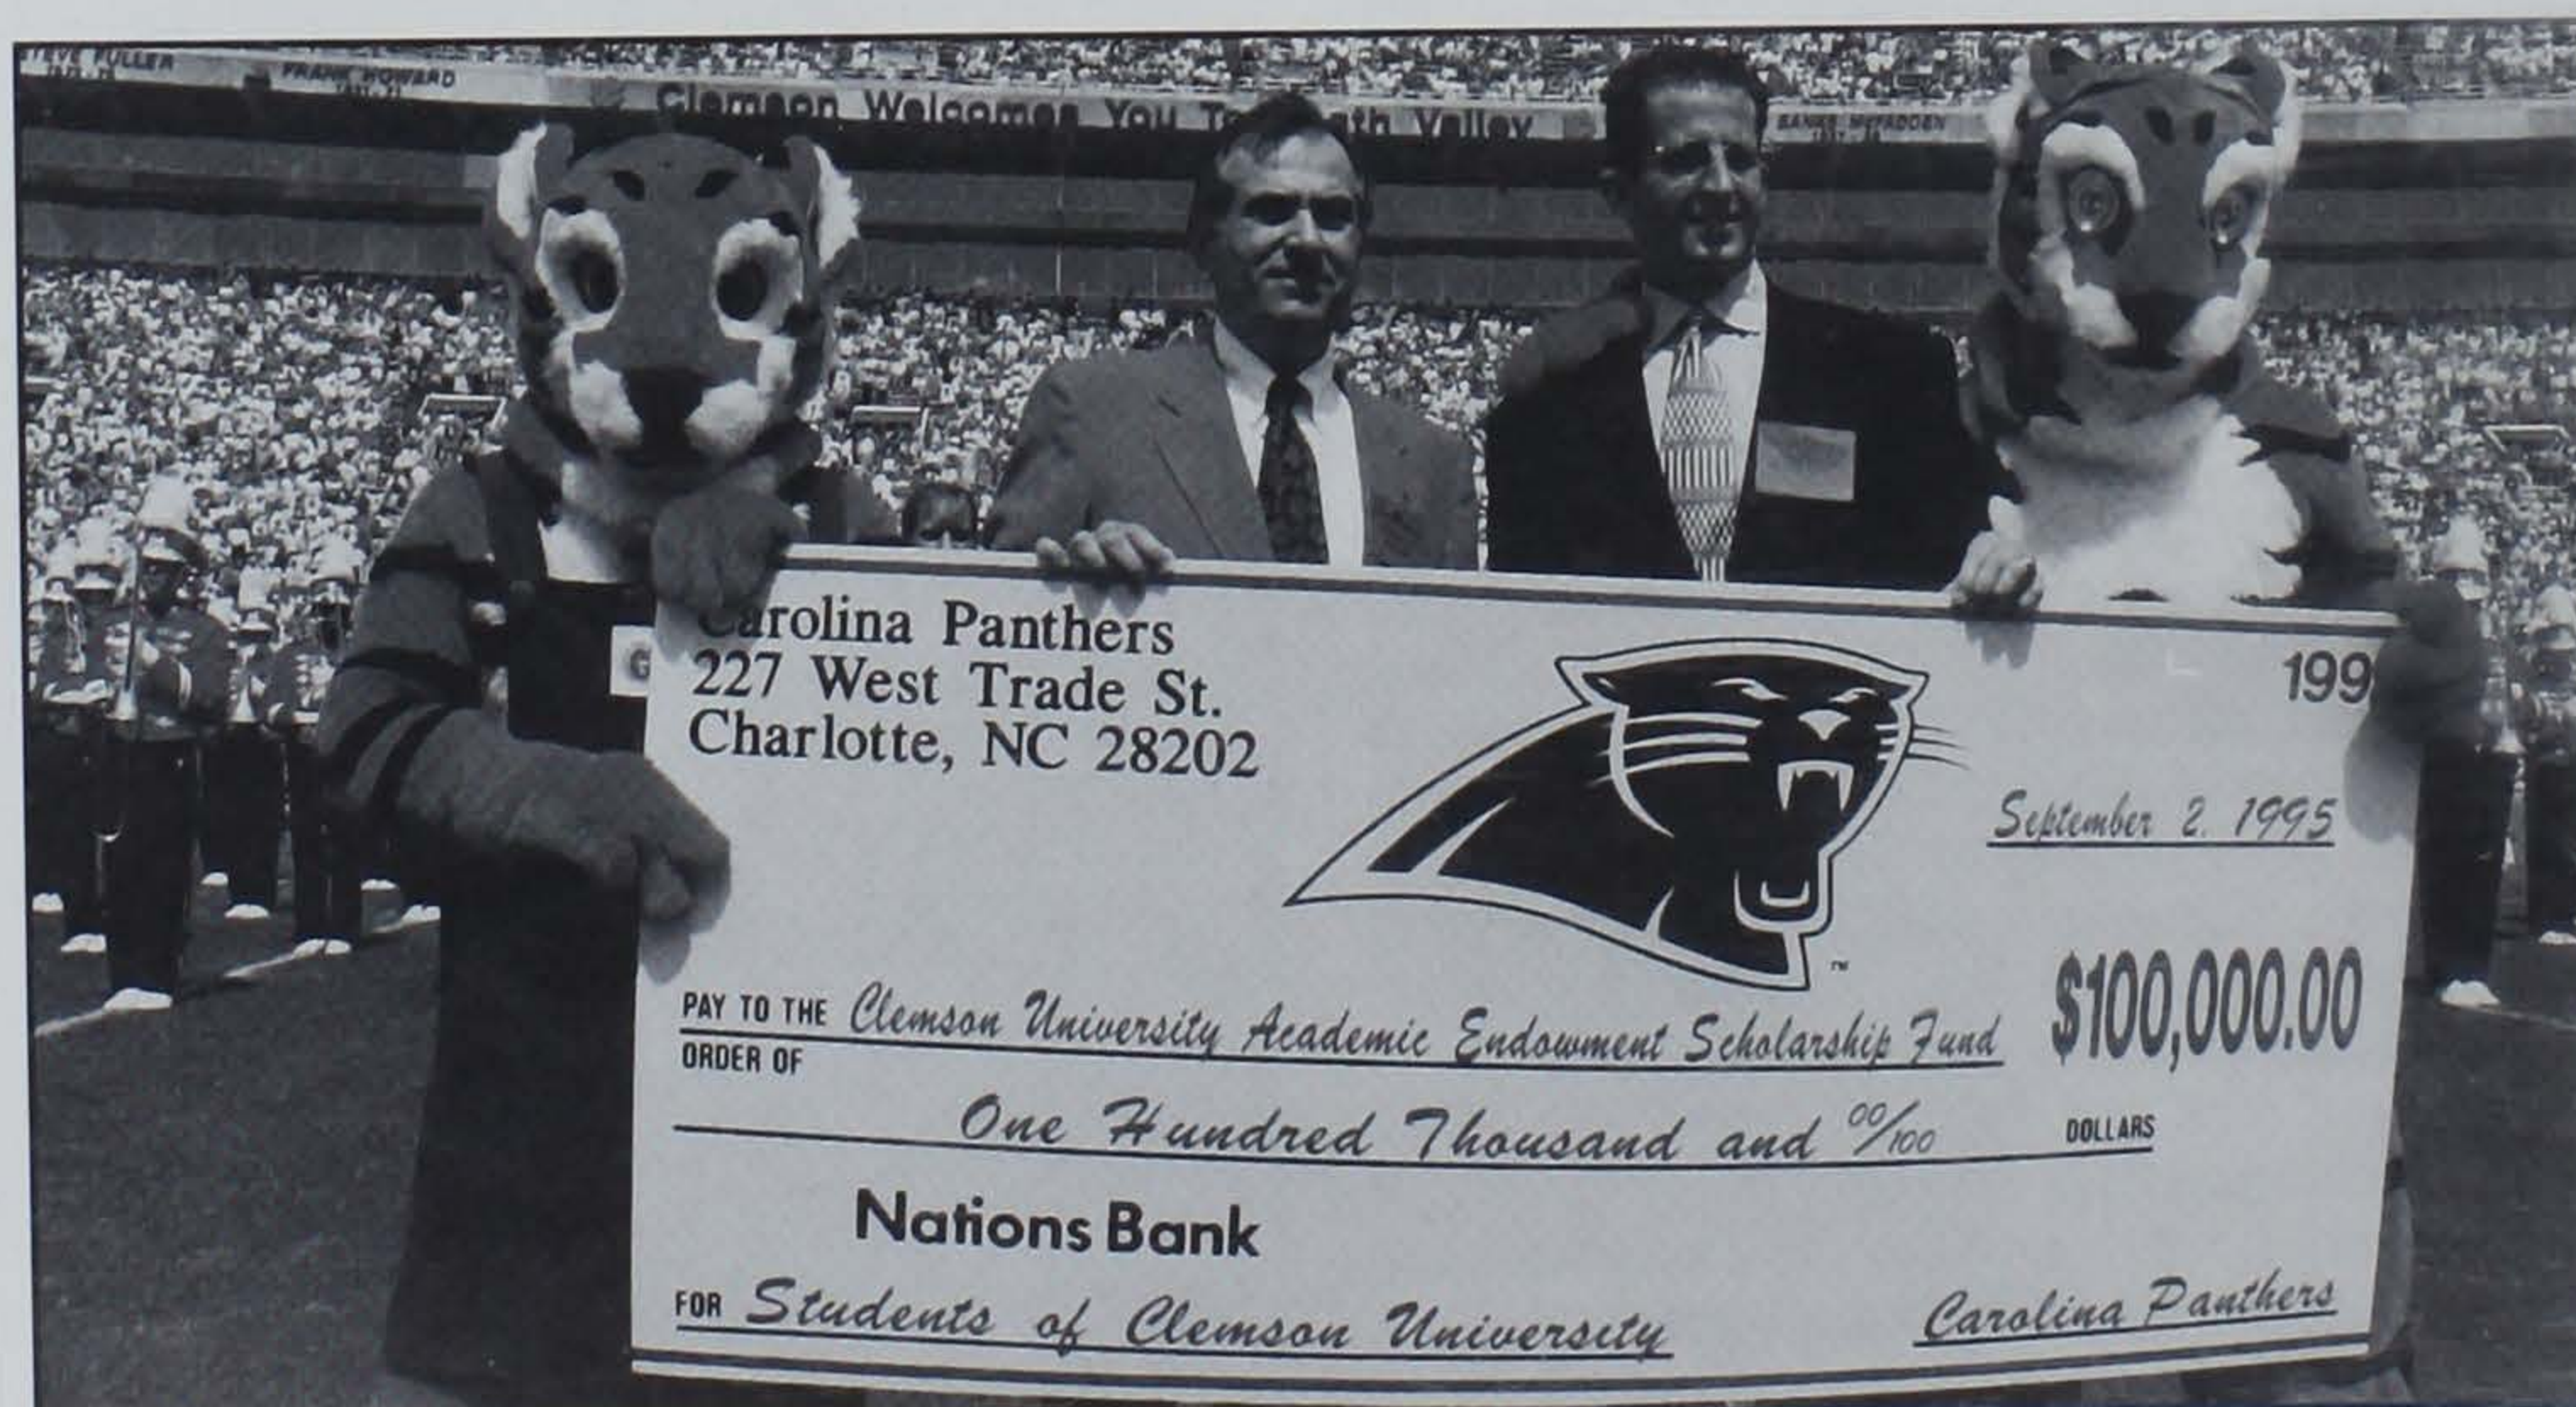

These can become scarce for big games. For all photo, press, TV and parking passes contact Tim Bourret. His number is (864) 656-2114. Please make your requests at least two weeks in advance. Wives and children of media are not allowed in the press box.

Riggs Field

Currently the home of Clemson's national championship soccer program (1984 and 1987), but it was the home of Clemson football prior to Memorial Stadium. The field is named after Walter Merritt Riggs, Clemson's first football coach. He coached Clemson in 1896 and 1899. He had an 8-5 record for those two seasons, but ironically, he never coached a game at Clemson. All of his 13 contests as head coach were played on the road.

Rings

A total of 15 former Clemson players have picked up 22 Super Bowl rings over the years. Jeff Bostic leads the way with three Super Bowl Championship rings. He was the most recent winner, after the 1991 season. Terrence Flagler, Dwight Clark, Bennie Cunningham, Jim Stuckey, and Charlie Waters are the former Tigers with two Super Bowl championship rings. Seven of the last 11 years Clemson has had at least one representative on the Super Bowl Championship team. Clemson has had at least one representative play in the Super Bowl 10 of the last 11 years.

Clemson benefitted from a financial and exposure standpoint by playing host to Carolina Panther games last fall.

Rock, Howard's

When the Clemson team gathers to Run Down the Hill (see Running Down the Hill) the players rub Howard's Rock because of the mystical powers it is supposed to give Clemson players. The rock is mounted on a pedestal at the top of the hill and was given to Coach Frank Howard by a friend (S.C. Jones' 19) who picked it up in Death Valley, CA. The Rock was first placed on the pedestal at the top of the hill on September 24, 1966, a game Clemson won 40-35 over Virginia. The team started rubbing the rock for the first game of 1967, a 23-6 win over Wake Forest on September 23, 1967.

Running Down the Hill

One of the most exciting 25 seconds (about 35 seconds when Clemson dresses 120 players for homecoming) in college football from a color and pageantry standpoint. After Clemson's last warmup the team retreats to the home dressing room located under the West Stands. At about 12:50 (for normal 1:00 P.M. game), the team boards two buses and drives around the periphery of the stadium to the east side of the field. After everyone is properly collected, the cannon sounds, Tiger Rag is played and Clemson charges down the hill (exactly 100 feet top to bottom) and onto the field. It is one of the most celebrated entrances in sport. The Tigers have done it for every game since 1942, except for 1970, 1971 and four games of the 1972 season. In all, the Tigers have run down the hill 249 times heading into 1996.

How in the world did the tradition of running down the hill start? There is no long involved explanation, it used to be the quickest way to get to the field. When the stadium was built in 1942 the football lockerrooms were up the street in Fike Fieldhouse.

When the players were finished getting dressed they used to walk out the front door and walk down the street to "The Hill". Coach Howard continued the tradition when lockerrooms were finally built inside the stadium because Clemson fans used to get so fired up when they gathered at the top of the hill. That's when the buses came into use to spend the trip from the lockerroom to the other side of the stadium. Clemson now has a record of 181-61-7, a .739 winning percentage, when they run down the hill. Clemson is 6-9 (40 percent) when it doesn't use the hill as its entrance. Coach Tommy West did not want to change the tradition with stats like that.

Section GG

This is the green grass section of the hill, which is located in the East Stands. (See Running Down the Hill.)

Skyboxes

The prime location to watch a Clemson football game. Memorial Stadium is one of just a handful of on-campus college stadiums to have private executive suites. Clemson has more executive suites than any other on-campus stadium in America (108 total, with 74 available for sale to individuals and corporations) and the average cost, including an average of 22 tickets, is $18,000 a year.

The suite is completely furnished with 22 theater seats, has a stereo system, kitchenette, closed circuit TV, maid service, meals, program and is completely temperature controlled. Fans have their choice of piping in crowd noise, the PA system or the Clemson radio network.

Telephone Installations

To order phone lines for a broadcast or a telephone by your seat in the press box or to order phone lines for a radio network broadcast call Zelda Kleister at Clemson Telecommunications (803) 656-2601.

Tie Breaker

For the first time in Division I history, a tie-breaker will be used to decide college football games this year. The procedure is the same used by lower divisions in play-offs. Teams will flip a coin after regulation and alternate possessions from the 25-yard-line at the same end of the field. The team that's ahead after an equal number of possessions from 25 yards out wins. If a team doesn't score in four downs, it can retain possession by getting a first down.

A defensive player can win the game by returning a fumble, interception or blocked kick the length of the field to the other end zone. But, if the player is tackled inside the 25-yard-line, the ball reverts to the 25, where his team's offense starts its possession.

Clemson has had 45 ties in its 100-year history, with the last taking place in 1991, a 20-20 deadlock with Virginia.

Tigerama

World's largest pep rally, this is one of the best examples of Clemson spirit. The Friday night before Homecoming about 40,000 people come to Memorial Stadium for a combination pep rally, beauty pageant, fireworks display and skit presentation. This is not to be confused with Barnyard Burn, which is something special for South Carolina home games. It involves a bon-fire that torches a chicken coop. It is held the Friday night prior to the South Carolina game and takes place in the parking lot outside the stadium.

Tiger Mascot

The Clemson Tiger just celebrated its 40th anniversary last year. The mascot is one of the most celebrated in the nation. Many mascots do pushups after each team's score, but it was the Clemson mascot (Zack Mills in 1978) that started the tradition. Mike Bays serves as the Tiger Mascot and this will be his third year in that job.

In 1993-94 the Tiger Cub, emblematic of the Tiger Cub Club, was started. This smaller Tiger gets into just as many mischievous circumstances during a Clemson football weekend. Here are a smattering of Tiger pushup records:

Quarter:	187 by Ricky Capps vs. Wake Forest, 1981
Game:	465 by Ricky Capps vs. Wake Forest, 1981
Away Game:	251 by Ricky Capps vs. Wake Forest, 1981
Bowl Game:	105 by Martin Lowry vs. Penn State, 1988 Citrus Bowl
Season:	1124 by Zack Mills, 1978

1996 Spring Review

Twelve different defensive players were involved in 13 tackles for loss to highlight Clemson's 1996 Spring Scrimmage at Death Valley last April 6. The White team, or the offense, won the game 17-0, but it was the Orange team, the defense, that had the more impressive numbers.

For the first time since Tommy West has been Clemson's head coach, the Tigers were not divided into equal teams for the Spring Game. "We just didn't have the depth to have a Spring Game," said West. "We don't have the depth on the offensive line at this point to have a competitive situation."

"Overall, this was the best Spring practice since I have been at Clemson. We saw some players improve at important positions. We still have a lot of work to do, but progress has been made."

The Clemson offense had just 75 net yards rushing on 52 attempts. The passing game had 196 yards on 10-22 passes, but was sacked seven times for 46 yards.

Balance was the hallmark for the defense. Walk-on linebacker Darius Rapley was the top tackler in the scrimmage with eight stops, while sophomore All-American Anthony Simmons had seven tackles and one of the 13 tackles for loss recorded by the Tiger defense.

The defense recorded seven quarterback sacks, two by senior Eric Bradford, who had four total tackles. Bernard Randolph, returning after he missed half of the 1995 season with a broken leg, had six tackles and a tackle for loss. Rahim Abdullah was the leading tackler among the outside linebackers with six, including a tackle for loss. O.J. Childress was also outstanding from the outside linebacker position with four tackles, a seven-yard sack, a caused fumble and a recovered fumble. Andy Ford, a senior cornerback, had the only interception and returned it 31 yards.

"This should be a good defense, but I am not going to say it will be the best we have had," said West. "We still have some holes to fill and improvement to make. Trevor Pryce has a chance to be a dominant player for us. He is a 280-pound tackle who can run. We saw progress this spring from our young outside linebackers, but we need someone to step up this fall like Patrick Sapp did last year."

Reserve backs Anthony Downs and Brandon Streeter were the top offensive players. Downs had eight rushes for 45 yards and a touchdown, while Streeter was 5-7 for 101 yards. Starting quarterback Nealon Greene hit on 5-12 passes for 95 yards. Billy Luckie was 0-3 passing in the Spring Game, but had been 7-9 for 183 yards in the March 31 scrimmage.

Joe Woods was the top pass catcher with 3-81, while Tony Horne speared 3-41. "I am really excited about our four wide receivers," said West. "They are as good a group of receivers as I have coached. They catch the ball very well and they are also outstanding blockers."

West also had good production from his kicking game. Field goal kicker Mike Brice made a 37-yard field goal in his only attempt. He had booted a 51-yarder in the April 2 scrimmage. Punters Kevin Laird (8 punts, 40.5) and Corey Morrell (3-43.7) also had fine days.

West said he would not name a number-two quarterback behind Nealon Greene until the Fall. "Brandon Streeter had a good day, but it has gone back and forth between he and Billy Luckie all Spring. Last Saturday, Luckie was 7-9 (for 183 yards) and Brandon had three turnovers. Today, it was Streeter's day. However, both players have shown improvement and are a lot closer to being able to help us."

Spring Game Stats

Clemson Personnel Update

Since the end of the 1995 season here were some personnel developments with the Clemson program.

*Running back Lamont Pegues, Clemson's leading rusher in 1994, announced he was leaving Clemson at the end of the Spring semester. He was not involved in Spring practice.

*Defensive back Undre Williams announced he would transfer to Florida A&M at the end of the academic year.

*Fullback Kelton Dunnican was granted an additional year of eligibility and is listed as second-team fullback behind Emory Smith. Dunnican was listed as a senior last year, but he was injured during his second season of junior college and never played in a game. Thus, he has an additional year and 1996 will be his final season.

Brent Banasiewicz was moved from offensive guard to center at the beginning of Spring practice.

Michael Allen was moved from running back to strong safety on the third day of Spring practice.

Brett Williams was moved from outside linebacker to defensive tackle at the beginning of Spring practice.

Raymond White and Damonte McKenzie were both moved from defensive tackle to middle guard at the beginning of Spring practice.

Kendrick Bridges was moved from tight end to outside linebacker at the beginning of Spring practice.

*Inside linebacker John Thompson suffered a torn ACL during the second week of Spring practice.

*Outside linebacker Rudy Currie suffered a strained neck in the April 4 scrimmage and did not play in the Spring game. He should be fine for the fall.

Wayne Moore suffered a dislocated elbow two weeks into practice and did not play in the Spring game.

Carl Baker practiced on a limited basis last Spring after suffering a torn ACL in the second game last year. He did not play in the Spring game.

Glenn Rountree suffered a sprained knee in the scrimmage on April 3 and did not play in the Spring game.

DoMarco Fox (SS) and Sam Zanders (RB) entered Clemson in January and went through Spring practice. Both are freshmen and are listed as first-year freshmen in 1996.

Streeter completed 5-7 passes for over 100 yards in the Spring Game.

Tommy West

Tommy West entered his second year at the helm of the Clemson football program with success on his mind, and success is what he achieved. In 1995, West guided the Tigers to an 8-4 season, a third-place finish in the ACC standings, and a January 1 bowl game.

Using 1994 to institute his philosophies and game plan, the Tigers and West came prepared for the 1995 football season and good things happened in Clemson football again. West coached the Tigers in his second bowl game, the 50th annual Gator Bowl, a January 1 bowl game. For the second straight year, the Tigers showed marked improvement as the season progressed and the young team won its last five regular season games, four of them by at least 17 points. His Clemson teams are now 5-1 in the month of November.

West's Tigers were picked fifth in the 1995 ACC preseason poll, but thanks to the third best offense in Clemson history (400 yards per game), and a defense that ranked 10th in the nation against scoring (16.2), Clemson finished third in the ACC standings with a 6-2 record, its best league finish since the Tigers won the ACC title in 1991.

The 1995 campaign was truly one in which Clemson excelled in every area. The Tigers ranked fourth in the country in rushing (260 yards per game), yet also led the ACC in yards per pass attempt (8.07). Defensively, Clemson rated in the top 20 in the nation in rushing defense (122.0), passing efficiency defense (101.1), and turnover margin (+0.73). In terms of special teams, Clemson was the only school in the nation to have an individual ranked in the top 25 in punting, placekicking, punt returns, and kickoff returns.

Tommy West was named head coach of the Clemson Tigers on November 29, 1993. Less than a month later he already had a bowl victory on his ledger, a 14-13 triumph in the Peach Bowl, Clemson's sixth bowl victory in an eight-year period.

With his win as Clemson head mentor in the Peach Bowl, West became the sixth coach in NCAA history to make his debut with a program in a bowl game. However, he was just the second coach in history to make his debut in a bowl game without previously coaching his new team as an assistant coach earlier in the season.

In his first full season, West guided the Tigers to a 5-6 record, and it was a season that showed week-by-week improvement. The '94 club, which featured the youngest Clemson offensive unit in 50 years, finished with a number-one ranking nationally in turnover margin, a landmark ranking in Clemson football history. The Tigers were ranked as high as 21st in the USA Today poll, and finished the season with three wins in its last four outings, including a decisive conquest of #12 North Carolina in Chapel Hill.

West's defense ranked 14th in the nation against the run and 17th in scoring defense. The aggressive unit forced 29 turnovers and was one of the most reliable in the nation inside the redzone.

West also recruited one of the most impressive and productive freshman classes in Clemson history. Eighteen freshmen lettered in 1994, most for a Clemson rookie class since the 1940s. At times, the Tigers started seven freshmen on offense, including five first-year freshmen at the "skill positions." Last winter, he and his staff recruited a second consecutive top 20 class according to most recruiting services.

West was a mainstay of a Clemson coaching staff that led the Tigers to a 69-20-4 record and six Associated Press Top 20 finishes between 1982-89.

During West's first tour of duty with the Tigers as an outside linebacker coach, Clemson played in five bowl games (winning four) and claimed four ACC Championships, including three in a row from 1986-88.

Clemson had a 44-10-1 record against ACC competition during his first era on the Tiger staff, an 81 percent winning mark. Additionally, five of those Clemson teams ranked in the top 15 in the nation in rushing defense and scoring defense, and three ranked in the top 12 in the nation in total defense.

Clemson's 1989 defense ranked fifth in the nation in total defense, rushing defense and scoring defense and West's outside linebackers had a lot to do with that success. His top four outside linebackers that year all played in the NFL in 1995.

Levon Kirkland (Pittsburgh Steelers), Wayne Simmons (Green Bay Packers) and John Johnson (New Orleans Saints) were starters in 1994 in the NFL, and Ashley Sheppard (Minnesota Vikings) was a top reserve. All were prominent players last year. Simmons was a first-round draft pick, Kirkland and Johnson second-round selections and Sheppard was a fourth-round choice. In addition to the four players listed above, Andy Headen (New York Giants) and Terence Mack (St. Louis Cardinals) are former Tigers West helped guide to an NFL career.

West began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Tennessee (his alma mater) in 1977. He coached one year of high school football at White County High in Sparta, TN in 1978, then became an assistant at Mississippi in 1979. For the 1980 and 1981 seasons he served as an assistant coach at Appalachian State.

After his career at Clemson (1982-89), West became the running backs coach at Tennessee. During that 1990 season Tennessee won the Southeastern Conference and captured the Sugar Bowl with a win over Virginia. The Volunteers scored a school record 442 points that year and averaged over 410 yards a game in total offense, 205.7 rushing and 205.4 passing. He served as Co-Defensive Coordinator at South Carolina in 1991 and 1992.

In 1993 West took over a UT-Chattanooga team that had won just two games in 1992. He doubled that total in 1993 and guided the Mocs to one of the landmark wins in school history, a 33-31 win over #1 ranked Marshall. He concluded the regular season with a 45-42 victory over Furman. Ironically, his first regular season game as Clemson coach was a victory over Furman.

West earned three letters in his four-year career at Tennessee (1972-75). The Vols played in three bowl games and were ranked in a final Top 20 in three seasons. He was the co-captain of Tennessee's 1975 football team and played in the Blue-Gray All-Star game that same year.

He began his college career as a running back, but saw most of his playing time as a tight end. He caught 37 passes for 575 yards in his career with the Vols, including 16 passes for 233 yards as a senior. As a junior he caught an 81-yard pass from Condredge Holloway, still the longest non-scoring play in Tennessee history. He earned a bachelor's degree from Tennessee in 1976 and was drafted by the Tampa Bay Buccaneers that same year.

West played two years (1974-75) of baseball at Tennessee and had a career batting average of .305. He hit .367 in 1975 and was named All-SEC Eastern Division. Rick Honeycutt, a major leagueer for 15 years, was West's teammate on that 1975 Tennessee team that finished 32-16.

West was a multi-sport standout in high school. He was an outfielder in baseball, a guard in basketball and a running back in football. In 1972 he was named a High School All-American in football and was a fifth-round draft choice in baseball by the Chicago Cubs. Willie Randolph, who went on to an All-Star career with the New York Yankees, was one of 77 future Major League players drafted after West in the regular phase of the June 1972 draft. He played his prep football at Gainesville High in Gainesville, GA for Coach Bobby Gruhn. He was an all-state back as a junior and was also named to the All-Southern team.

Born Thomas Cleveland West on July 31, 1954, he is married to the former Lindsay Watkins of Forest City, NC. The couple has one son, Turner, 8.

West Comments

What do you think of the overtime rule?

"I like it. It will change the way we coach the game at the end, but overall it is for the best. As long as we have to win six Division I games to get to a bowl it will always be beneficial to have overtime. A tie hurts both teams, it is treated like a loss when it comes to qualifying for a bowl game.

"I look back on how it would have changed our approach at the Virginia game in 1994. We were tied 6-6 with a few minutes left and had the ball deep in our own territory. We tried to move the ball and threw an interception. If we could have run out the clock and played for overtime, we would have had a much better chance of winning the game.

"I like the format, more than the pro rule. With the pro rule it puts a big advantage on who wins the toss. If it is a high scoring game and you win the toss, you can go down and score without the other team getting a chance. With the college rule, at least if the first team scores the other team has a chance."

What are your views on players leaving early for the NFL?

"I think it has taken away from the quality of play, but you really can't blame either side. I don't think you can blame the NFL and you can't blame the player. The economics of the situation are just too great.

"Some people complain about players leaving college. But, if your son was a mechanical engineering major and he was offered $500,000 to work for a firm after his junior year I think it would be hard to pass up."

What has been the most rewarding aspect of your first two years?

"I have been happy with the toughness we have developed on this team. The work ethic has improved over the last two years and I think they have developed a good team first attitude. I think the players are becoming "Clemson Tough" something we talked about when I was here before. The players are also developing a pride in playing for Clemson."

Do you prefer to be ranked in the preseason polls?

"It certainly means more to be ranked at the end of the season, but being ranked in the preseason is certainly a positive for your program.

"For us, it is another sign of progress in the program. We were picked fifth in the conference last year and weren't in anyone's top 20. This year we have been in many top 20 preseason polls, even a top 10. It shows we have made progress and that people feel confident about your program.

"A lot of coaches don't like to be ranked in the preseason because it adds pressure. But, at Clemson you are suppose to win every game, so it doesn't add more pressure. The expectations are always high."

What are the selling points of the Clemson program?

"The Clemson people are the number-one selling point of our program. That includes everyone from the school president to athletic director Bobby Robinson through our supporters and the student body.

"Bobby Robinson certainly gives us the opportunity to be a first-class organization. Financially, we have the money to do what is necessary for our student-athletes to be successful in every phase athletically and academically.

"We have a great winning tradition and we have great traditions at Clemson. We have won a national championship, have more league championships and top 25 seasons than any program in our league. We also have the great traditions of running down the hill, Howard's Rock, Tigerama etc. Gameday at Clemson typifies the color and pageantry of college football."

What are the long term goals of this program?

"We would like to be a program that plays on New Year's Day consistently. We don't want to be real good team one out of five years, we want to be considered a team that will be playing on New Year's Day every year. The key to doing that is playing consistently throughout the season."

What coaches had a big influence on you in your youth?

"I've learned from every coach I've played and worked for. I probably had the greatest Little League Baseball Coach ever in a guy named Ted Ivey. I was blessed to have grown up in Gainesville, GA, it was a great community where we had good coaches. There was a lot of emphasis on sports in Gainesville, but they had things in perspective. I also had a lot of respect for Coach Bobby Grohn (high school football coach). I've known him for 20 years and he has been a big influence on me."

Did it take you a long time to decide to come back to Clemson?

"Not at all! Clemson is certainly a special place to me. Lindsay and I started our married life here, our first eight years together were spent in Clemson. There couldn't be a better place for me. There was no decision involved. When you work at a place for eight years and you really enjoy the people and the environment, it makes an impression on you. There is just something special about Clemson."

What were you like as a kid?

"When I was growing up I thought about sports everyday. It depended on what time of the year it was, whatever was in season, that is what I played. If it was baseball season I played baseball, if it was basketball season I played basketball and so on. Today it seems there is more for kids to do, so they don't play the game as much. Maybe the stakes are higher because there are billions of dollars involved, but to me it was a game when I was growing up and it is still a game."

When did you first think about being a coach?

"The first time I thought about going into coaching was when I was being recruited. No one really asked me about what I wanted to do after I finished playing until the recruiting process. When you are in high school you think you will play forever. I love the competition, I love the college atmosphere. I can't see myself in any other field right now."

Does your experience as a Division I player at Tennessee help you coach Division I players today?

"I don't think you have to play at a major college to be a good coach. Having played at a major college allowed me to associate with outstanding coaches, but my personal opinion is that there are more outstanding high school coaches than there are college coaches. We spend a lot of time with high school coaches in the recruiting process and we run into some outstanding people. I have a lot of respect for high school coaches, especially the ones in this area."

Would you be in favor of a college football playoff?

"I'm not totally against a football playoff, but I love the bowl games and the bowl system. There are some problems with the bowl structure right now. I don't think we should have 15 games in three days or six games going on at the same time."

"The big question is what is best for college football. Is a playoff best for college football, or is it best for the top four or five programs? I am not for an eight-team playoff at the end of the year and everyone else stay home."

"I like the bowl structure, even though there are some controversies at the end of the year. Basketball is different because they can play four times in 11 days. But, at the end of the year, there is just one winner."

Who are some athletes you admire?

"The guy I have a lot of respect for is Nolan Ryan. He stood the test of time. I admire people who can be successful for more than one or two years. Jack Nicklaus was 46 when he won the Masters, Arnold Palmer was competitive for 30 years and Muhammed Ali was a great champion for many years."

"The thing about Nolan Ryan was his work ethic. He thought about baseball 365 days a year, he had to pitch that long at that level."

Les Herrin

Asst. Head Coach/Defensive Line
Western Carolina '71

Les Herrin is the dean of football coaches at Clemson. The assistant head coach is in his 12th season with the Tigers. In addition to his administrative duties as assistant head coach, he is Clemson defensive line coach. Herrin has moved to the opposite side of scrimmage for the second straight year. He was Clemson's defensive line coach from 1989-94, then became offensive line coach in 1995.

The 48-year old native of Waycross, GA, has coached under three different head coaches (Danny Ford, Ken Hatfield, Tommy West) at Clemson, one of just three assistants in Clemson history to do that. He is the only member of the current staff who was on Clemson's 1981 National Championship coaching staff.

Herrin's leadership ability was evident at a young age when he was named captain of the football team in his playing days at Western Carolina. Herrin was also the team MVP as a senior and Defensive MVP as a junior. Herrin earned his B.A. degree in Education from Western Carolina in 1971 and his Master's degree in Health and Physical Education the following year.

After serving as defensive coordinator at Appalachian State in 1980, Herrin joined the Tiger staff in 1981. In the national championship season (1981), he coached inside linebackers. One of those linebackers, Jeff Davis, was the ACC MVP that year and went on to be captain of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers. Davis was honored last year by his induction into the Clemson Ring of Honor. Herrin also coached 1989 All-Pro linebacker Johnny Rembert of the New England Patriots in his first tour of duty at Clemson. In his first two seasons at Clemson, the defense ranked in the top 10 in the nation in rushing and scoring defense.

After brief stints at East Carolina and North Carolina, Herrin returned to Tigertown as defensive line coach where he continued to produce hard nose gridders. In 1989, Clemson ranked fifth in the nation in rushing, scoring, and total defense. In 1990, the Tiger defense led the nation in total defense and was second in rushing and scoring defense.

In 1991 Clemson won the ACC championship and Herrin's talented group had a lot to do with that. The players he coached on an everyday basis included Chester McGlockton, current two-time All-Pro with the Oakland Raiders. Brentson Buckner,

1993 All-ACC tackle who played with the Pittsburgh

Steelers in the Super Bowl last year, and first-team All-American Rob Bodine, who led the nation in tackles for loss, were all members of that team.

Through the 12 years he has been at Clemson the Tigers have won four ACC titles, played in six bowl games, had six top 20 seasons and seven years in which the team has won at least eight games. "Coach Les Herrin has had a lot to do with this program's success dating to the national championship season," said Tommy West. "He has coached some outstanding players and been a part of a lot of great victories."

Herrin and his wife Shirley have a son, Deke, who is currently a wide receiver at Western Carolina. He played against the Tigers in Death Valley last season.

Ellis Johnson

Defensive Coordinator/Outside Linebacker
The Citadel '75

Ellis Johnson enters the 1996 season, his third at Clemson, as the Defensive Coordinator. The former linebacker coach of the 1992 Alabama National Championship team takes over as the sole Defensive Coordinator after serving as a co-coordinator in 1995. Johnson will also handle the roll of coaching the outside linebackers in '96.

"I have confidence in Ellis Johnson," said West. "He has a lot of experience and has been a coordinator previously in his career. He did an outstanding job with our defense as a co-coordinator last year and we want to continue at that level of excellence."

With the 44-year-old Johnson as a co-coordinator, the 1995 defense ranked 10th best nationally in scoring defense, 16th in passing efficiency defense, and 18th in rushing defense. In fact, each of the two seasons he has been at Clemson the Tigers have finished in the top 20 in the nation in those categories.

Johnson's background includes South Carolina flavor, as he received a secondary education degree from The Citadel in 1975, which was the same year he began his coaching career at The Citadel. He then took the assistant coaching position at Gaffney (SC) High School in 1976. In 1979, he moved down I-85 to Spartanburg (SC) High School, where he was an assistant coach. A year later he was named to the head coaching position at Spartanburg High School.

In 1982, Johnson returned to The Citadel as the linebacker coach. He was named head coach at Gardner Webb in 1983, where he served for a year. In that year, he guided his team to the number-one ranking in NAIA District 26.

In 1984 he moved to Boone, NC to become the defensive coordinator and inside linebacker coach at Appalachian State. Johnson moved across the state in 1985 to East Carolina to become the outside linebacker coach and recruiting coordinator. In 1988, Southern Mississippi named him its defensive coordinator. That team played in the Independence Bowl.

From 1990-1993, he coached outside linebackers at Alabama. Johnson helped lead the 1992 Alabama team to the National Championship. That year, the Crimson Tide led the SEC in every defensive category, and led the nation in total defense and rushing defense. He helped coach the Alabama defense that defeated Miami in the 1993 Sugar Bowl for the national championship. Alabama went to three bowls in his three years with the school, the 1991 Fiesta, the 1992 Blockbuster and the 1993 Sugar.

In December, 1993, Johnson was named outside linebacker coach at Clemson. In 1995, he became co-defensive coordinator and coached the defensive line. That line featured All-ACC tackle Lamarick Simpson. Those over-achieving down linemen were a key to Clemson's rushing defense that allowed opponents just 125 yards per game. Over the years, he has coached many other outstanding players, such as NFL All-Pro Dino Hackett and Antonio Langam, who have gone on to successful professional careers.

This year he will coach the Clemson outside linebackers, the youngest and most inexperienced position on the Clemson football team. It will be a challenge for Johnson, but he is a coach who thrives on challenges.

Johnson and his wife, Tonya.

Darrell Moody

Offensive Coordinator/Quarterbacks
N.C. State '70

Darrell Moody is in his rookie season at Clemson, but he is certainly no rookie when it comes to the ACC. As a player or a coach, he has been affiliated with the league in some capacity for most of the last 30 years. Clemson's first-year offensive coordinator came to Clemson after eight seasons at North Carolina. He will be the Clemson quarterback coach in addition to his coordinator responsibilities.

Moody, who turns 48 on Sept. 4, graduated from Asheboro High School in North Carolina in 1966. He earned a B.A. degree in Economics from N.C. State in 1970 and went on to earn his Master's degree in Vocation and Industrial Education from the same institution in 1974.

Tommy West says of Moody, "We are excited about Darrell and his family joining our staff. He is a great addition because of his years of experience in football coaching and in recruiting, especially in this area of the country. He has been around winning programs everywhere he has been. Darrell will help our offense continue to grow."

Moody was a football and baseball player at N.C. State during his career. A quarterback on the gridiron, he also was a member of N.C. State's 1968 College World Series baseball team, the only CWS team in N.C. State history.

Moody has been coaching at the Division I level for the last 23 years. After two years at the high school level at his alma mater, Asheboro High, he was named as a secondary coach under Lou Holtz at North Carolina State in 1973. In 1974, he was the head coach of the Pack junior varsity.

In 1975, Moody became the offensive backs coach and the quarterbacks coach at Southern Mississippi. The next year he moved back to N.C. State to coach the defensive backs, his only season as a defensive coach in his 23-year college career. Moody moved back to the offensive side of the field in 1977 (through 1979) as he was named the offensive backs coach and quarterbacks coach at North Carolina State. Altogether, the Pack played in four bowl games during his career at N.C. State.

In 1980, he followed Bo Rein to Louisiana State. The head mentor died in a tragic plane crash, but Moody was retained when LSU hired Bill Arnswanger. Moody remained with the program for four seasons. During that era LSU played in the 1983 Orange Bowl against Nebraska. In 1984, he became the Assistant Head Coach at Appalachian State along with the duties of offensive backs and quarterbacks coach.

In 1985, he became the offensive coordinator at Tulane under Mack Brown, the beginning of an 11-year coaching relationship between Brown and Moody. He coached quarterbacks and running backs during his three years in New Orleans. Tulane played in the 1987 Independence Bowl, its first bowl appearance in 10 years.

In 1988 Moody followed Brown to North Carolina. From 1988-95, Moody was the offensive coordinator in Chapel Hill and the Tar Heels played in bowl games his last four seasons.

In those 23 years as an assistant coach, he has tutored great players. Two of the top five running backs in North Carolina State history (Ted Brown and Billy Ray Vickers) and two of the top five backs in LSU history (Dalton Hilliard and Garry James) played under Moody. North Carolina backs Curtis Johnson and Leon Johnson flourished under his system and gained 1526 yards and scored 17 touchdowns in 1994. He also coached current NFL star Natrone Means. The offense that Moody directed in 1995 was the only Atlantic Coast Conference team besides Florida State to average over 240 yards passing and 150 yards rushing per game.

Moody Summary

Coaching Experience: High School - Assistant at Asheboro High School (1971-72). College - secondary coach at NC State (1973); junior varsity coach at NC State (1974); offensive backs and quarterbacks at Southern Mississippi (1975); defensive backs at NC State (1976); offensive backs and quarterbacks at NC State (1977-79); offensive backs at Louisiana State (1980-83); assistant head coach/offensive backs and quarterbacks at Appalachian State (1984); offensive coordinator at Tulane (1985-87); offensive coordinator/quarterbacks at North Carolina (1988-89); offensive coordinator/offensive backs (1990-95); offensive coordinator/quarterbacks at Clemson (1996-present).

Richard Bisaccia

Yankton College '83

Richard Bisaccia is the coach of one of the top running back groups in the country. Clemson's rushing attack finished the season averaging nearly 260 rushing yards per game (fourth best in the nation) and 4.6 yards per carry. Bisaccia, the youngest coach on the Tiger staff, wears many hats at Clemson as he also handles the special teams and serves as the recruiting coordinator. His special teams unit was the only one in the nation to have an individual rank in the top 25 in field goals, punting, punt returns, and kickoff returns in 1995.

Bisaccia graduated from New Fairfield High School in New Fairfield, CT. He earned his degree in health and physical education from Yankton College in 1983. While at Yankton College, Bisaccia was a four year starter and the team captain from 1980-83. The Philadelphia Stars of the United States Football League signed him as a free agent in 1983.

Bisaccia's first coaching job was as the offensive coordinator at Wayne State (NE) in 1983. After five years at Wayne State, he moved to South Carolina for a six-year career. In 1989, Bisaccia became the volunteer assistant coach for defensive ends at South Carolina. In 1991, he was named the tight ends coach, then was promoted to running backs coach and special teams coach at South Carolina in 1992. He held that role for the 1992 and 1993 seasons. Clemson came calling in December of 1993 and named Bisaccia as its running backs coach, and has also been instrumental in the special teams and recruiting process.

In his young coaching career, Bisaccia has coached in three bowl games. In 1988, he helped the Gamecocks to the Liberty Bowl. In his debut as a Tiger assistant, he coached in the 1993 Peach Bowl victory over Kentucky. One of his players, Emory Smith, caught a 57-yard pass reception to set up the game winning touchdown in the final minute. Bisaccia also coached in the 1996 Gator Bowl against Syracuse.

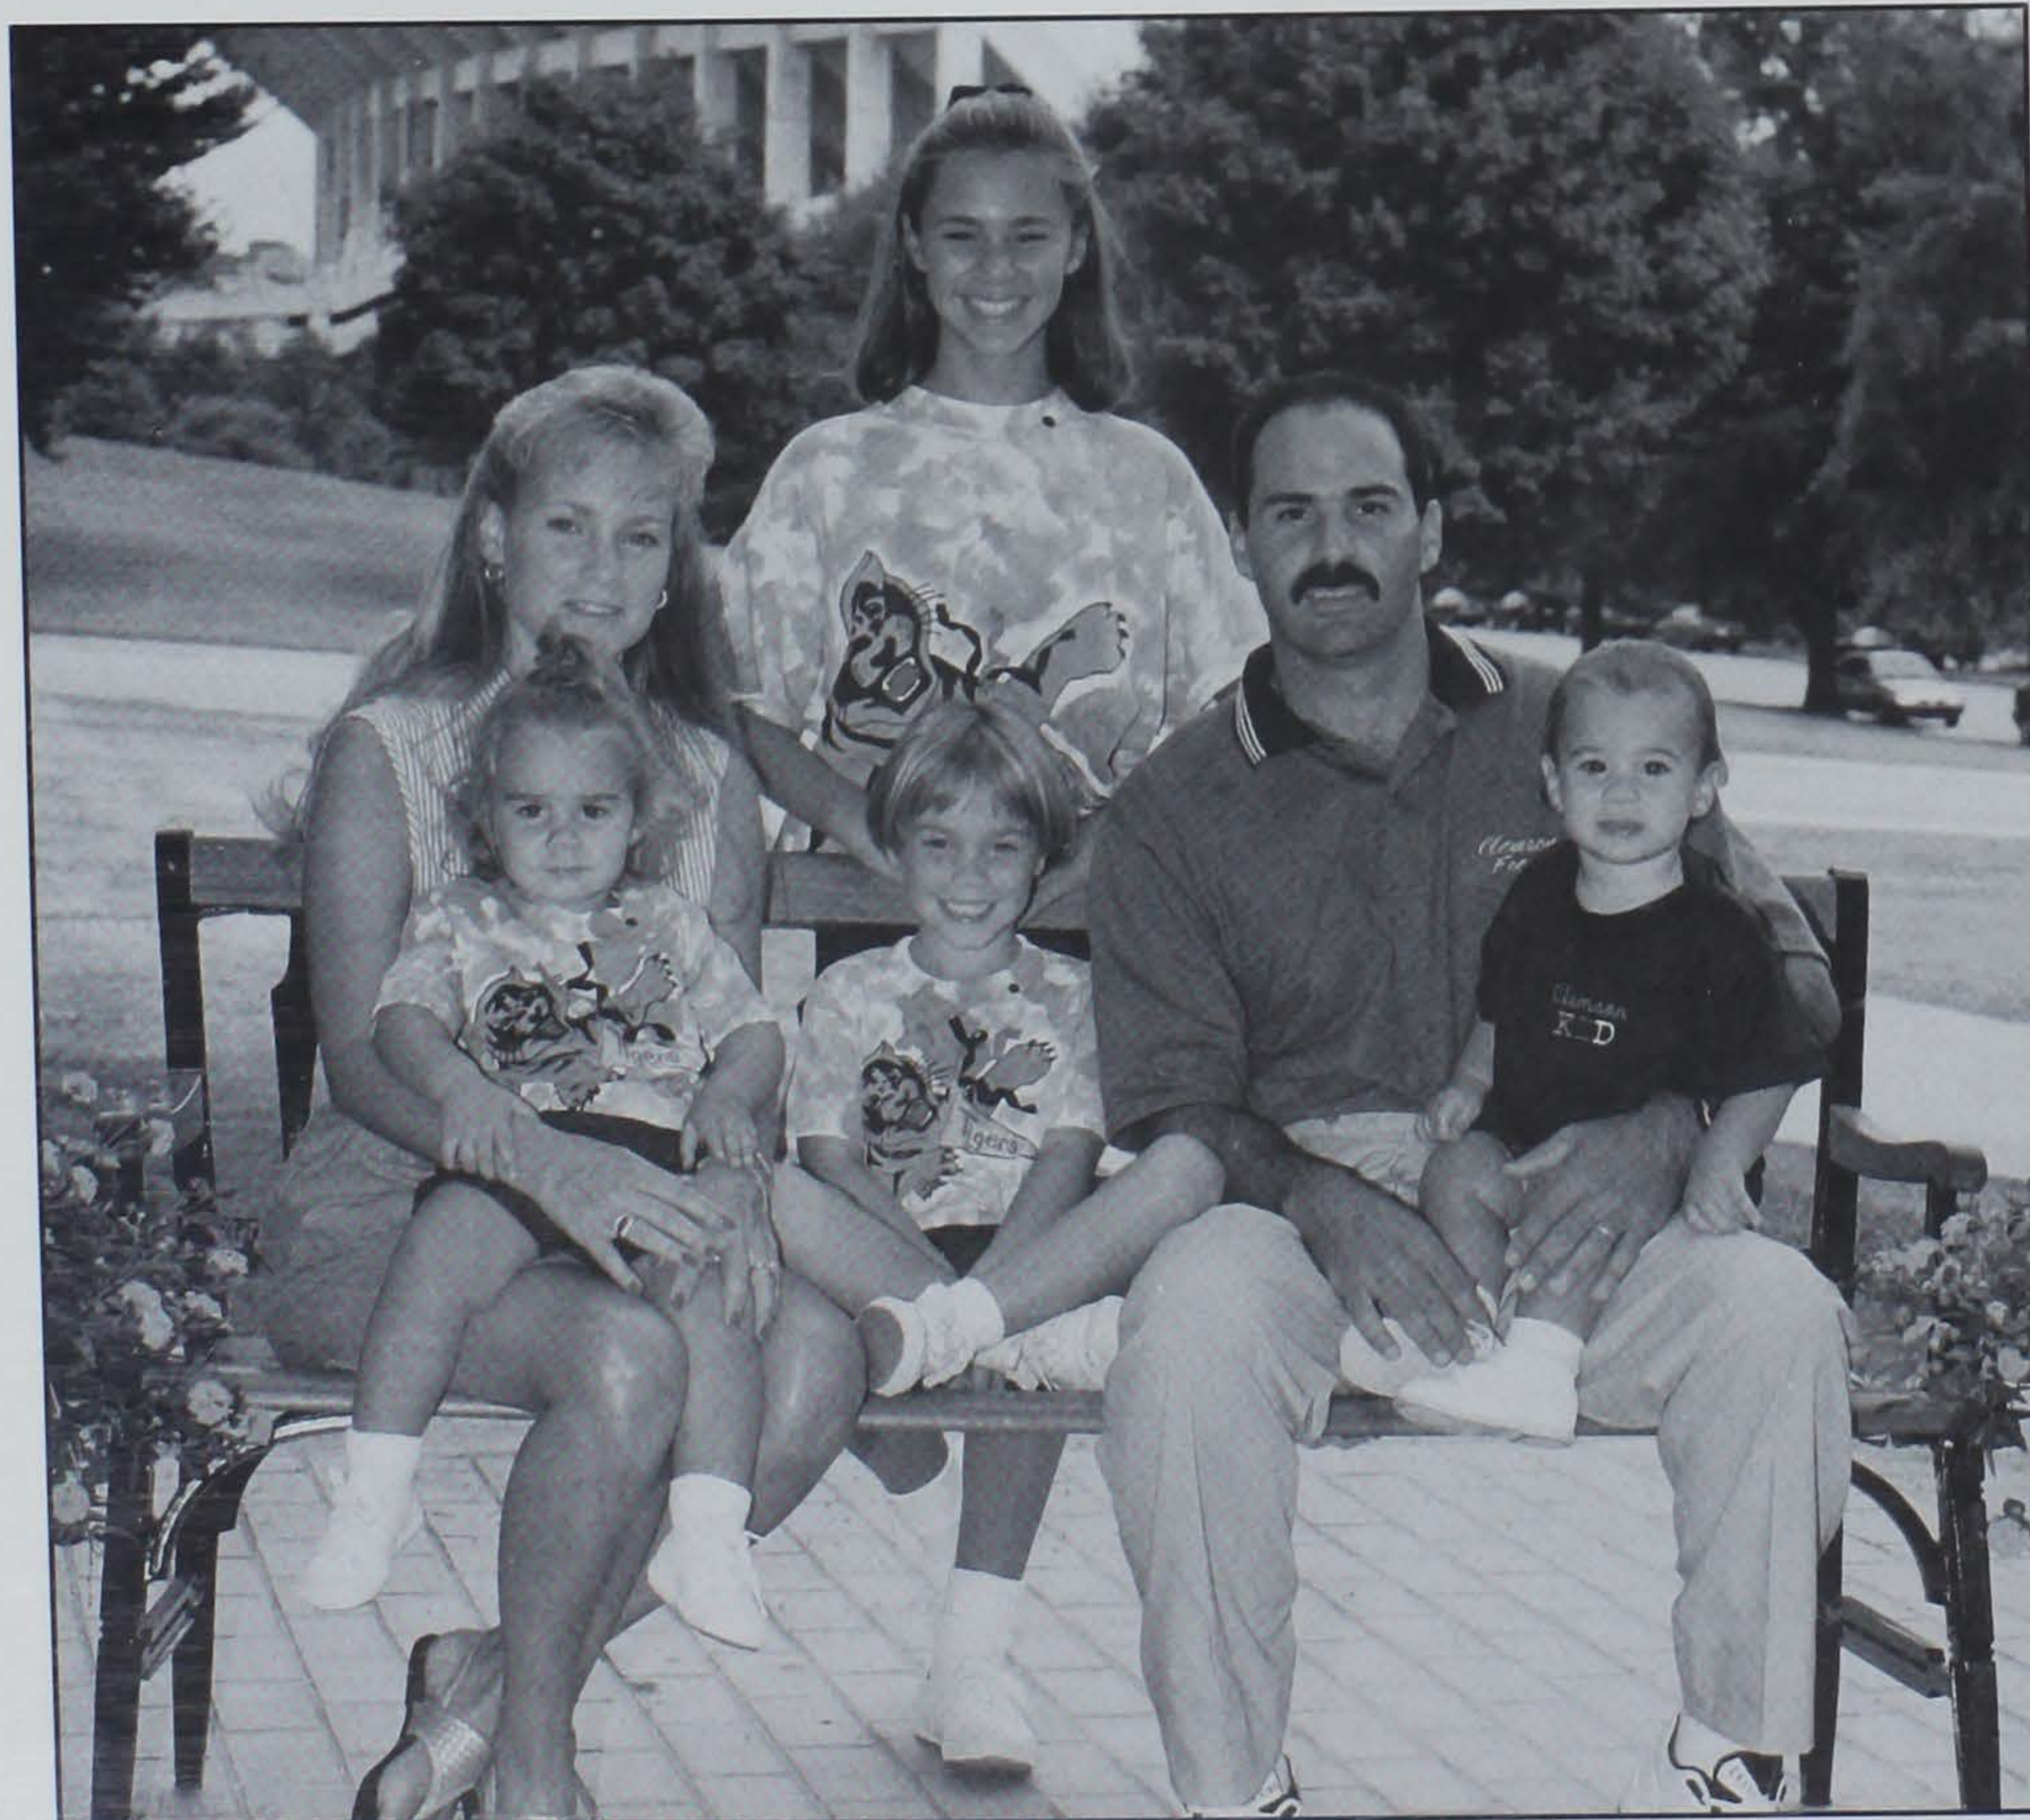

As evidence to his coaching success, Clemson drastically improved its running game since he came to the Tiger program. Bisaccia coached the Atlantic Coast Conference's leading ground gainer in tailback Raymond Priester in 1995. Priester's 1322 yards rushing, 5.6 yards per carry broke Terrence Flagler's record of 1258 yards.

He has also molded fullback Emory Smith, who led the team in touchdowns in 1995 with 15, into one of the most feared and toughest runners in the country. Smith rushed for 712 yards in 1995 for a 4.9 yards per carry average, which is an amazing statistic considering all of his rushes are up the middle and between the tackles.

Smith and Priester combined for 2,034 rushing yards in 1995, the highest figure ever by a Clemson starting backfield. Bisaccia is an outstanding teacher, especially when it comes to holding onto the football. Clemson has just 16 lost fumbles in two seasons, including a national low of two in 1994. Many of those 16 fumbles have not been by running backs.

The 36-year old native of Yonkers, NY, is married to wife, Jeanne. Bisaccia holds the distinction of having the most children among the Clemson coaches. The couple has three daughters: Michele (11), Elizabeth (6), and Madeline (3); and one son: Richard (2).

Bisaccia and his wife, Jeanne, and children Michelle, Elizabeth, Madeline, and Richard.

Charles Harbison

Defensive Backs
Gardner-Webb

Charles Harbison enters the 1996 season, his second at Clemson, as the coach of a talented group of defensive backs. He came to Clemson in 1995 after serving as a defensive backs coach at UTEP.

The 36-year-old native of Shelby, NC graduated from Crest Senior High School in Boiling Springs, NC. During his high school career he ran track and was a top player on the football team.

Harbison received a bachelor's degree in business administration from Gardner-Webb College. While attending Gardner-Webb, he was a standout in both track and football as a defensive back. After his collegiate career, he was drafted by the Buffalo Bills and played with the Bills in 1982.

Harbison tried his hand at the United States Football League, playing for the Breakers, 1983 in Boston and 1984 in New Orleans. In 1985, it was back to the NFL, where he played with Buffalo for two more seasons.

"We are excited to have Charlie Harbison as one of our coaches. He grew up in this area and is familiar with this part of the country in general and Clemson football in particular. He has experience at many levels of the game and did an outstanding job with our secondary in his first season. The players look at him as a coach with professional experience."

Another reason for the respect he has from his players is the level of accomplishment by the Tigers last year. The Tigers ranked sixth in the nation in interceptions with 21 and most of those were captured by players coached by Harbison. Brian Dawkins earned second-team All-America honors, while Leomont Evans was an All-ACC player. Both were chosen in the NFL draft last April.

Harbison's first coaching experience came in 1983, when he was the defensive backs coach for Gardner-Webb. He remained with that program for two seasons. After his playing days were over, he reentered the coaching ranks as linebacker coach in 1988 at East Lincoln Senior High School in North Carolina.

In 1990, he moved on to the pro ranks, this time as a linebacker coach for the Charlotte Barons of the MLFS. In the spring of 1991 he stayed at the pro ranks, but switched leagues, by becoming the defensive backs coach and special teams coach for the Raleigh-Durham

Skyhawks of the World League of American Football. In the fall of that year, he coached defensive backs at Lincolnton Senior High School. Harbison coached defensive backs for the Carolina Cougars of the PSFL in the spring of 1992.

In the fall of 1992, he returned to Gardner-Webb for two seasons as the wide receivers coach. In '92, Gardner-Webb played in the NAIA championship game and was the South Atlantic Conference champion with a 12-2 record.

Harbison then tried his hand at the Arena Football League in the spring of 1993, his third different professional league, coaching defensive backs and wide receivers for the Charlotte Rage. In the spring of 1994, he was the defensive coordinator and defensive backs coach for the Rage.

Harbison made his debut at the Division I level in the fall of 1994, coaching defensive backs at Texas-El Paso. Up to that point, Harbison had coached eight different teams in less than four years.

But, he has found a home at Clemson and was a major reason the Tigers played in a January 1 bowl game in his first season with the program.

Harbison and his sons, Charlie and Stedman.

Harbison Summary

Reggie Herring

Inside Linebackers
Florida State '81

Reggie Herring enters the 1996 season, his third at Clemson, as the inside linebackers coach. The former starting linebacker at Florida State has been a part of 14 bowl teams in his career, three as a player and 11 as a coach. Herring came to Clemson after a stint at Texas Christian and is looking forward to coaching a talented core of inside linebackers, including UPI's 1995 National Freshman of the year Anthony Simmons.

Herring graduated from Florida State with a B.S. in criminology in 1981. He was a three-year starter for the Seminoles at linebacker, the position he has played or coached for the last 19 years. Florida State posted a 38-6 record in his four years and made three bowl trips, two to Miami for the Orange Bowl and once to Orlando in the Citrus Bowl.

In the 1980 season he was voted an AP All-American. He was also inducted into the Florida State Hall of Fame in 1989. He combined with current Clemson wide receivers coach Rick Stockstill to lead the Seminoles to the 1981 Orange Bowl, a narrow defeat against Oklahoma. Herring also was a team leader, as he served as the team captain in 1980. He played on three Florida State teams that finished the season with a top 15 AP ranking, including a number-six finish in 1979 and number-five finish in 1980. Those were the first two top 10 finishes in the Bobby Bowden era at Florida State.

As a coach, the intense and motivational Herring started his career in 1981 as a linebackers coach at Oklahoma State. He became a full time coach his first year out of college a rarity in the profession. He served as a Cowboy for five years. The program went to the 1981 Independence Bowl, the 1983 Bluebonnet Bowl and the 1984 and 1985 Gator Bowls.

For six years starting in 1986, he was a linebacker coach at Auburn where he worked under Pat Dye. Auburn went to the 1987 Citrus, the 1988 Sugar, the 1989 Sugar, the 1989 Hall of Fame and the 1990 Peach Bowls during his career with the War Eagles.

In 1992, he was named defensive coordinator and linebackers coach at Texas Christian, where he served for two seasons. Herring seized the opportunity to come to Clemson in December of 1993 when he was named the inside linebackers coach. "The chance to work for Coach West, the chance to work at a University with such a great tradition academically and athletically was too attractive to pass up," said Herring. "On the field Clemson has a national reputation for excellence defensively and I want to be a coach who further enhances that tradition."

"Reggie does an outstanding job with our inside linebackers," said Tommy West. "He does a great job motivating his players and they know their assignments. Reggie had that toughness as a player and he has been able to instill that quality in his players."

Herring has already coached in two bowl games for the Tigers, the 1993 Peach and the 1996 Gator. In his first full season, 1994, he coached Tim Jones and Mike Barber. Jones was a first-team All-ACC pick and Barber made the Seattle Seahawks roster last year.

In 1995, Herring coached a successful crop of inside linebackers led by third-team AP All-American and UPI National Freshman of the year Anthony Simmons. Herring's other inside linebacker, Andy McCrorey, was no slouch either as he was finished fourth on the team in tackles with 83 tackles and was named first-team CFA Academic All-American team.

Herring Summary

Herring and his wife, Lisa, with children Caroline and Adam.

John Latina

Centers & Guards
Virginia Tech '79

John Latina enters the 1996 season, his third at Clemson, as the offensive centers and guards coach. The former Virginia Tech offensive lineman who once played in Death Valley against Clemson joined the Tiger staff after a successful career at Kansas State. Latina will share the duties of the offensive line this year with the addition of coach Mac McWhorter.

Latina received four letters at Virginia Tech as an offensive lineman from 1975-78. He earned his bachelor's degree in 1979. "I feel we have one of the top offensive line coaches in the nation in John Latina," said Tommy West. "I have known him and respected his coaching abilities for a long time. He knows the game and is an outstanding recruiter."

Latina's coaching career began immediately after his playing days were over. In 1979, he was an assistant coach at his alma mater in Blacksburg, and he coached the Gobblers in the 1981 Peach Bowl. He then moved to Pittsburgh for the 1982 season where he worked with an outstanding Panther team quarterbacked by Dan Marino. The team amassed a 9-3 record and played in the Cotton Bowl.

In 1983, Latina was named as the offensive line coach at Temple. There, he coached the offensive line that blocked for first-team All-American Paul Palmer, who was the nation's leading rusher. After six years in Philadelphia, Latina went out west to Manhattan, KS, to coach Kansas State. For five years he was the running game coordinator and offensive line coach. His offensive line helped to lead the Wildcats in 1993 to the Big Eight lead in passing, averaging 245 yards per game. In 1991, Kansas State set a school record with 4,231 yards in total offense, including 1,756 yards rushing, the most by a Kansas State team in 10 years. The 1992 Kansas State team played in the Copper Bowl, just the second bowl appearance in Wildcat history.

Latina arrived at Clemson as the offensive line coach in December of 1993 when Tommy West was named Clemson coach. He has already coached the Tigers in two bowl games, the 1993 Peach and the 1996 Gator.

The 1995 Clemson team, in particular the running game, was a direct product of Latina's coaching. Will Young was named to the Atlantic Coast Conference first-team. His offensive line opened up the holes that allowed Raymond Priester and Emory Smith to amass over 2,000 yards on the ground, setting a record for combined rushing yards by a starting backfield in Clemson history. Clemson ranked in the top five in the nation in rushing and the line allowed just 15 sacks in 12 games for the 8-4 season.

Latina should receive much credit for the Clemson improvement in terms of total offense since his arrival. He inherited an offensive line devoid of returning starters in 1994. The team made nearly a 1000-yard rushing improvement from 1994 to 1995 and doubled their rushing touchdown total. This year he has another young group, led by junior Glenn Rountree, a pre-season All-ACC performer.

Latina with wife, Michele, and sons John, Jr. and Michael.

Latina Summary

Playing Experience: A four-year letterwinner at Virginia Tech as an offensive guard (1975-78).

Education: Received a bachelor's degree from Virginia Tech in 1979.

Personal Data: Born September 18, 1957. He and his wife, the former Michele Veltre, have two sons John Jr. (12) and Michael (9).

Bowl Participation: As a coach - 1981 Peach Bowl, 1982 Cotton Bowl, 1993 Copper Bowl, 1993 Peach Bowl, 1996 Gator Bowl.

Mac McWhorter

Offensive Tackles/TE
Georgia '74

Mac McWhorter, most recently an offensive line coach for Georgia's record setting offenses of the past five years, was named an offensive line coach at Clemson last Spring. McWhorter, 45, and a native of Atlanta, GA, will coach Clemson's tackles and tight ends.

"Mac McWhorter brings a lot of experience in a variety of offenses and, like coach (Darrell) Moody, will continue to help our offense move forward," said Head Coach Tommy West. "He is an enthusiastic coach who will help our offensive line continue to improve. Coach McWhorter worked with the four wide receiver set at Georgia when Eric Zeier was the quarterback, but we also saw the outstanding running game at Georgia last year.

Over the last five years Georgia set school records in many categories. The 1992 team established a Bulldog record for yards per rush for a season with an average of 5.6 yards per carry. The 1993 team completed 63 percent of its passes, a school record. The 1994 team completed a record 25 touchdown passes and set a school mark for total offense with 5135 yards, an average of 467 yards per game. The 1992 Georgia team led the SEC in rushing and the 1994 Georgia squad led the conference in passing. Both teams led the league in total offense.

McWhorter graduated from Therrell High School in Atlanta, GA in 1969. There, he was the team captain his senior season. He also ran track. McWhorter attended Georgia and received a bachelor's degree in education in 1974. He was a four-year letter-winner at Georgia as an offensive player, and was an All-Academic Southeastern Conference performer in 1972 and 1973.

In 1973, he was an AP All-Southeastern Conference offensive guard and Honorable Mention All-American in '73 as the permanent offensive captain of the Bulldogs. In 1973, he also had the highest grade point average on the football team. Georgia played in the 1971 Gator Bowl and the 1973 Peach Bowl during his career.

McWhorter began his coaching career as an assistant coach at Duluth High School in 1974 and went on to become an assistant coach at Douglas County High between 1975-78. He was the head coach at Villa Rica High in Georgia in 1979. He was named Carroll County Coach of the Year that season.

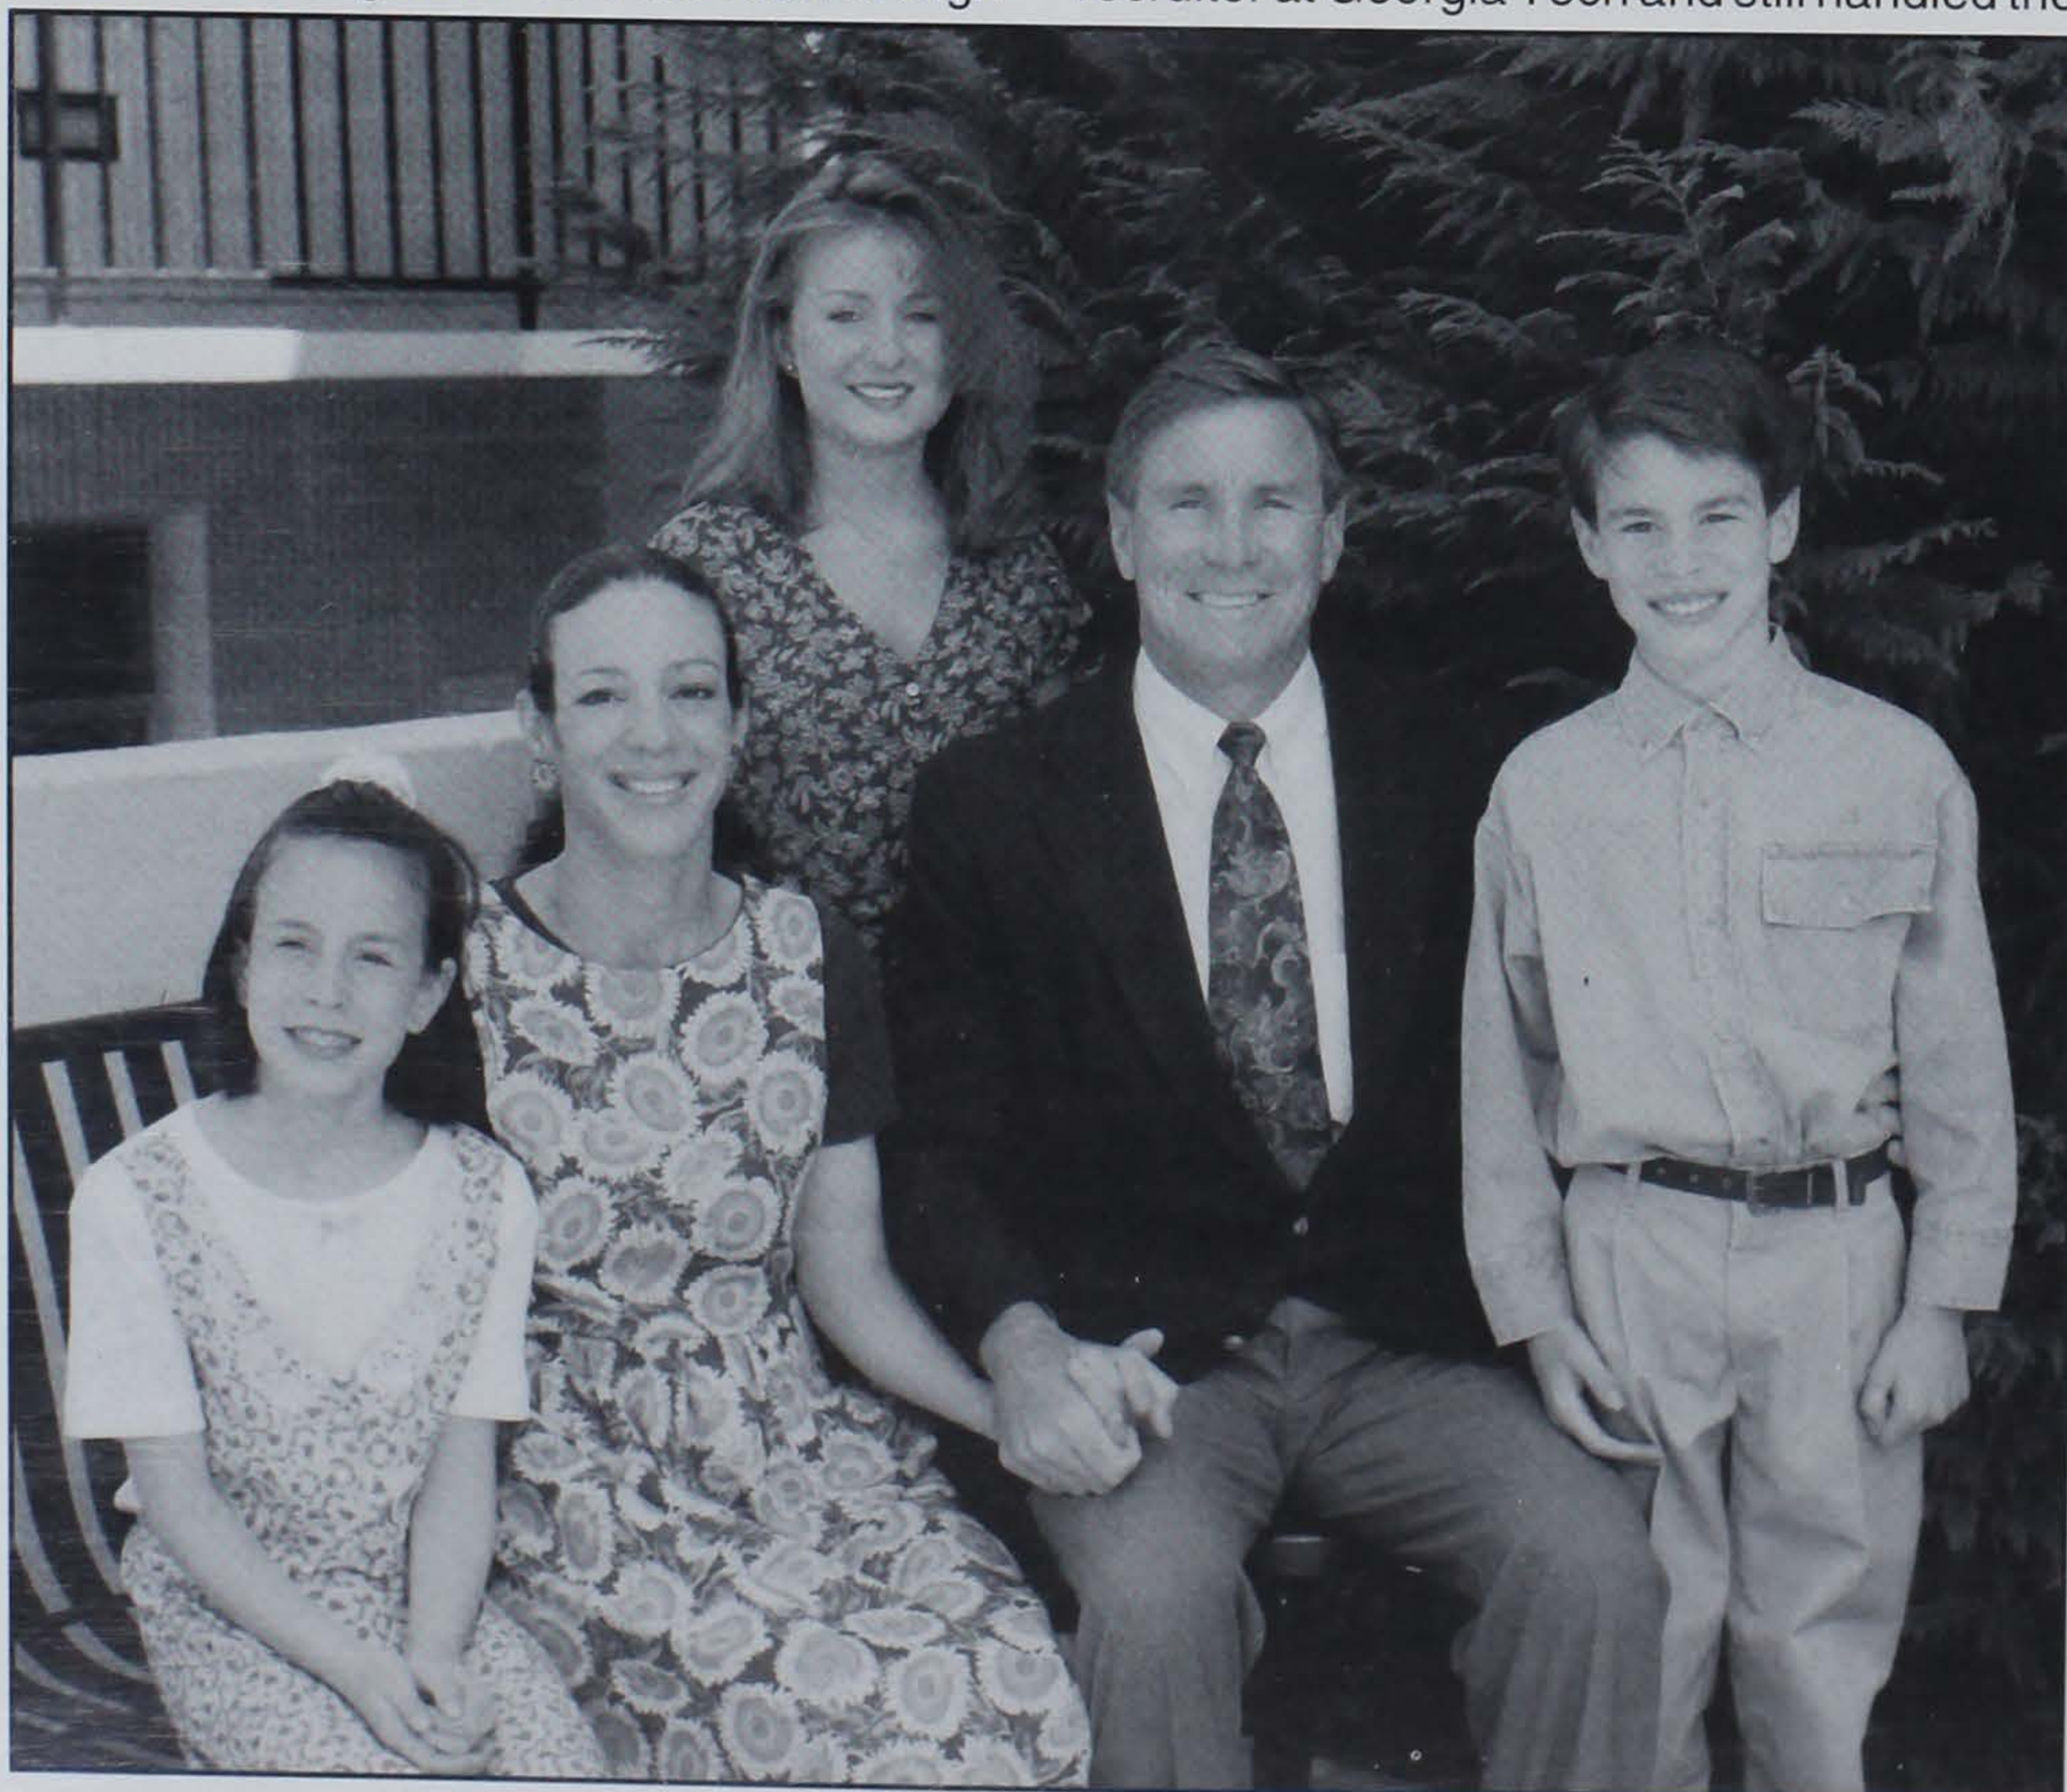

McWhorter jumped to the college ranks in 1980, when he was named to the Georgia Tech coaching staff. From 1980-81, he coached receivers and was the special teams coordinator. From 1981-82, he was an assistant coach who handled the offensive line and the special teams. In 1982, he became head recruiter at Georgia Tech and still handled the offensive line. From 1983-85, McWhorter, was an offensive line coach for the Yellow Jackets. In 1985, he was named the Assistant Head Coach, and handled operations and the offensive line. The Yellow Jackets played in two bowls when he was in Atlanta, the 1985 All-American Bowl and the 1986 Hall of Fame Bowl.

He then moved across the border to coach at Alabama in 1987, where he was the Assistant Head Coach and coached the offensive line under Bill Curry. That team was ranked in the top 20 and played in the Sun Bowl. In 1988, McWhorter became the Administrative Assistant to the Head Coach and was the offensive line coach.

In 1989, McWhorter took his first head coaching position at the college level when was named the Head Coach at West Georgia College. McWhorter joined the Duke coaching staff in 1990 as an offensive line coach and director of football operations.

After two seasons in Durham, he returned to his alma mater, Georgia, in 1991 to coach the offensive line and tight ends. He was also director of football operations in Athens. He remained with the Bulldogs and Ray Goff for five seasons, three of which ended in bowl games.

McWhorter and his wife, Rebecca, have three children, Kasay, Katie, and Hamilton.

McWhorter Summary

Coaching Experience: High School - offensive line at Duluth HS (1974-75); offensive coach/offensive line at Douglas County Comprehensive HS (1975-76); offensive coordinator at Douglas County Comprehensive High School (1976-79); head coach at Villa Rica High School (1979-80). College - Assistant coach/offensive line at Georgia Tech (1980-87); assistant head coach/offensive line at Alabama (1987-88); assistant coach/offensive line at Alabama (1988); head coach at West Georgia College (1988-90); assistant coach/offensive line at Duke (1990-91); assistant coach/offensive line and tight ends at Georgia (1991-95); assistant coach at Clemson (1996-present).

Playing Experience: A four-year letter-winner at the University of Georgia as an offensive lineman.

Education: Received a bachelor's degree from Georgia in 1974.

Personal Data: Born June 17, 1950. He and his wife, Rebecca, have two daughters, Kasay and Katie, and a son, Hamilton.

Rick Stockstill

Wide Receivers
Florida State '82

Rick Stockstill enters his eighth consecutive season at Clemson as an assistant coach. He has experience as a wide receivers and quarterbacks coach at Clemson. His contributions in terms of on-field coaching and recruiting are significant reasons Clemson has been to bowl games in five of his seven seasons with the program.

Stockstill graduated from Fernandina Beach High School in Fernandina Beach, FL, in 1977. After graduating from Florida State in 1982 with a B.S. degree in physical education, he immediately went into coaching. "I was always interested in coaching," Stockstill states. "By the time I got to high school I had decided that I wanted to go into coaching. I think any athlete who grows up in a coaching family has a head start on the field." Stockstill played for his dad at Fernandina Beach High School.

As a member of Bobby Bowden's first recruiting class, Stockstill earned three letters, made three bowl trips, and was selected to play in two all-star games after his senior season. In 1981, Stockstill was named an Honorable Mention All-American by the Sporting News. He helped Florida

State to two Top 10 final AP rankings and wins over perennial powers in Notre Dame, Pittsburgh, Ohio State, and Nebraska in his career. He teamed with current Clemson linebacker coach Reggie Herring to lead the Seminoles to the first two top 10 rankings of the Bobby Bowden era.

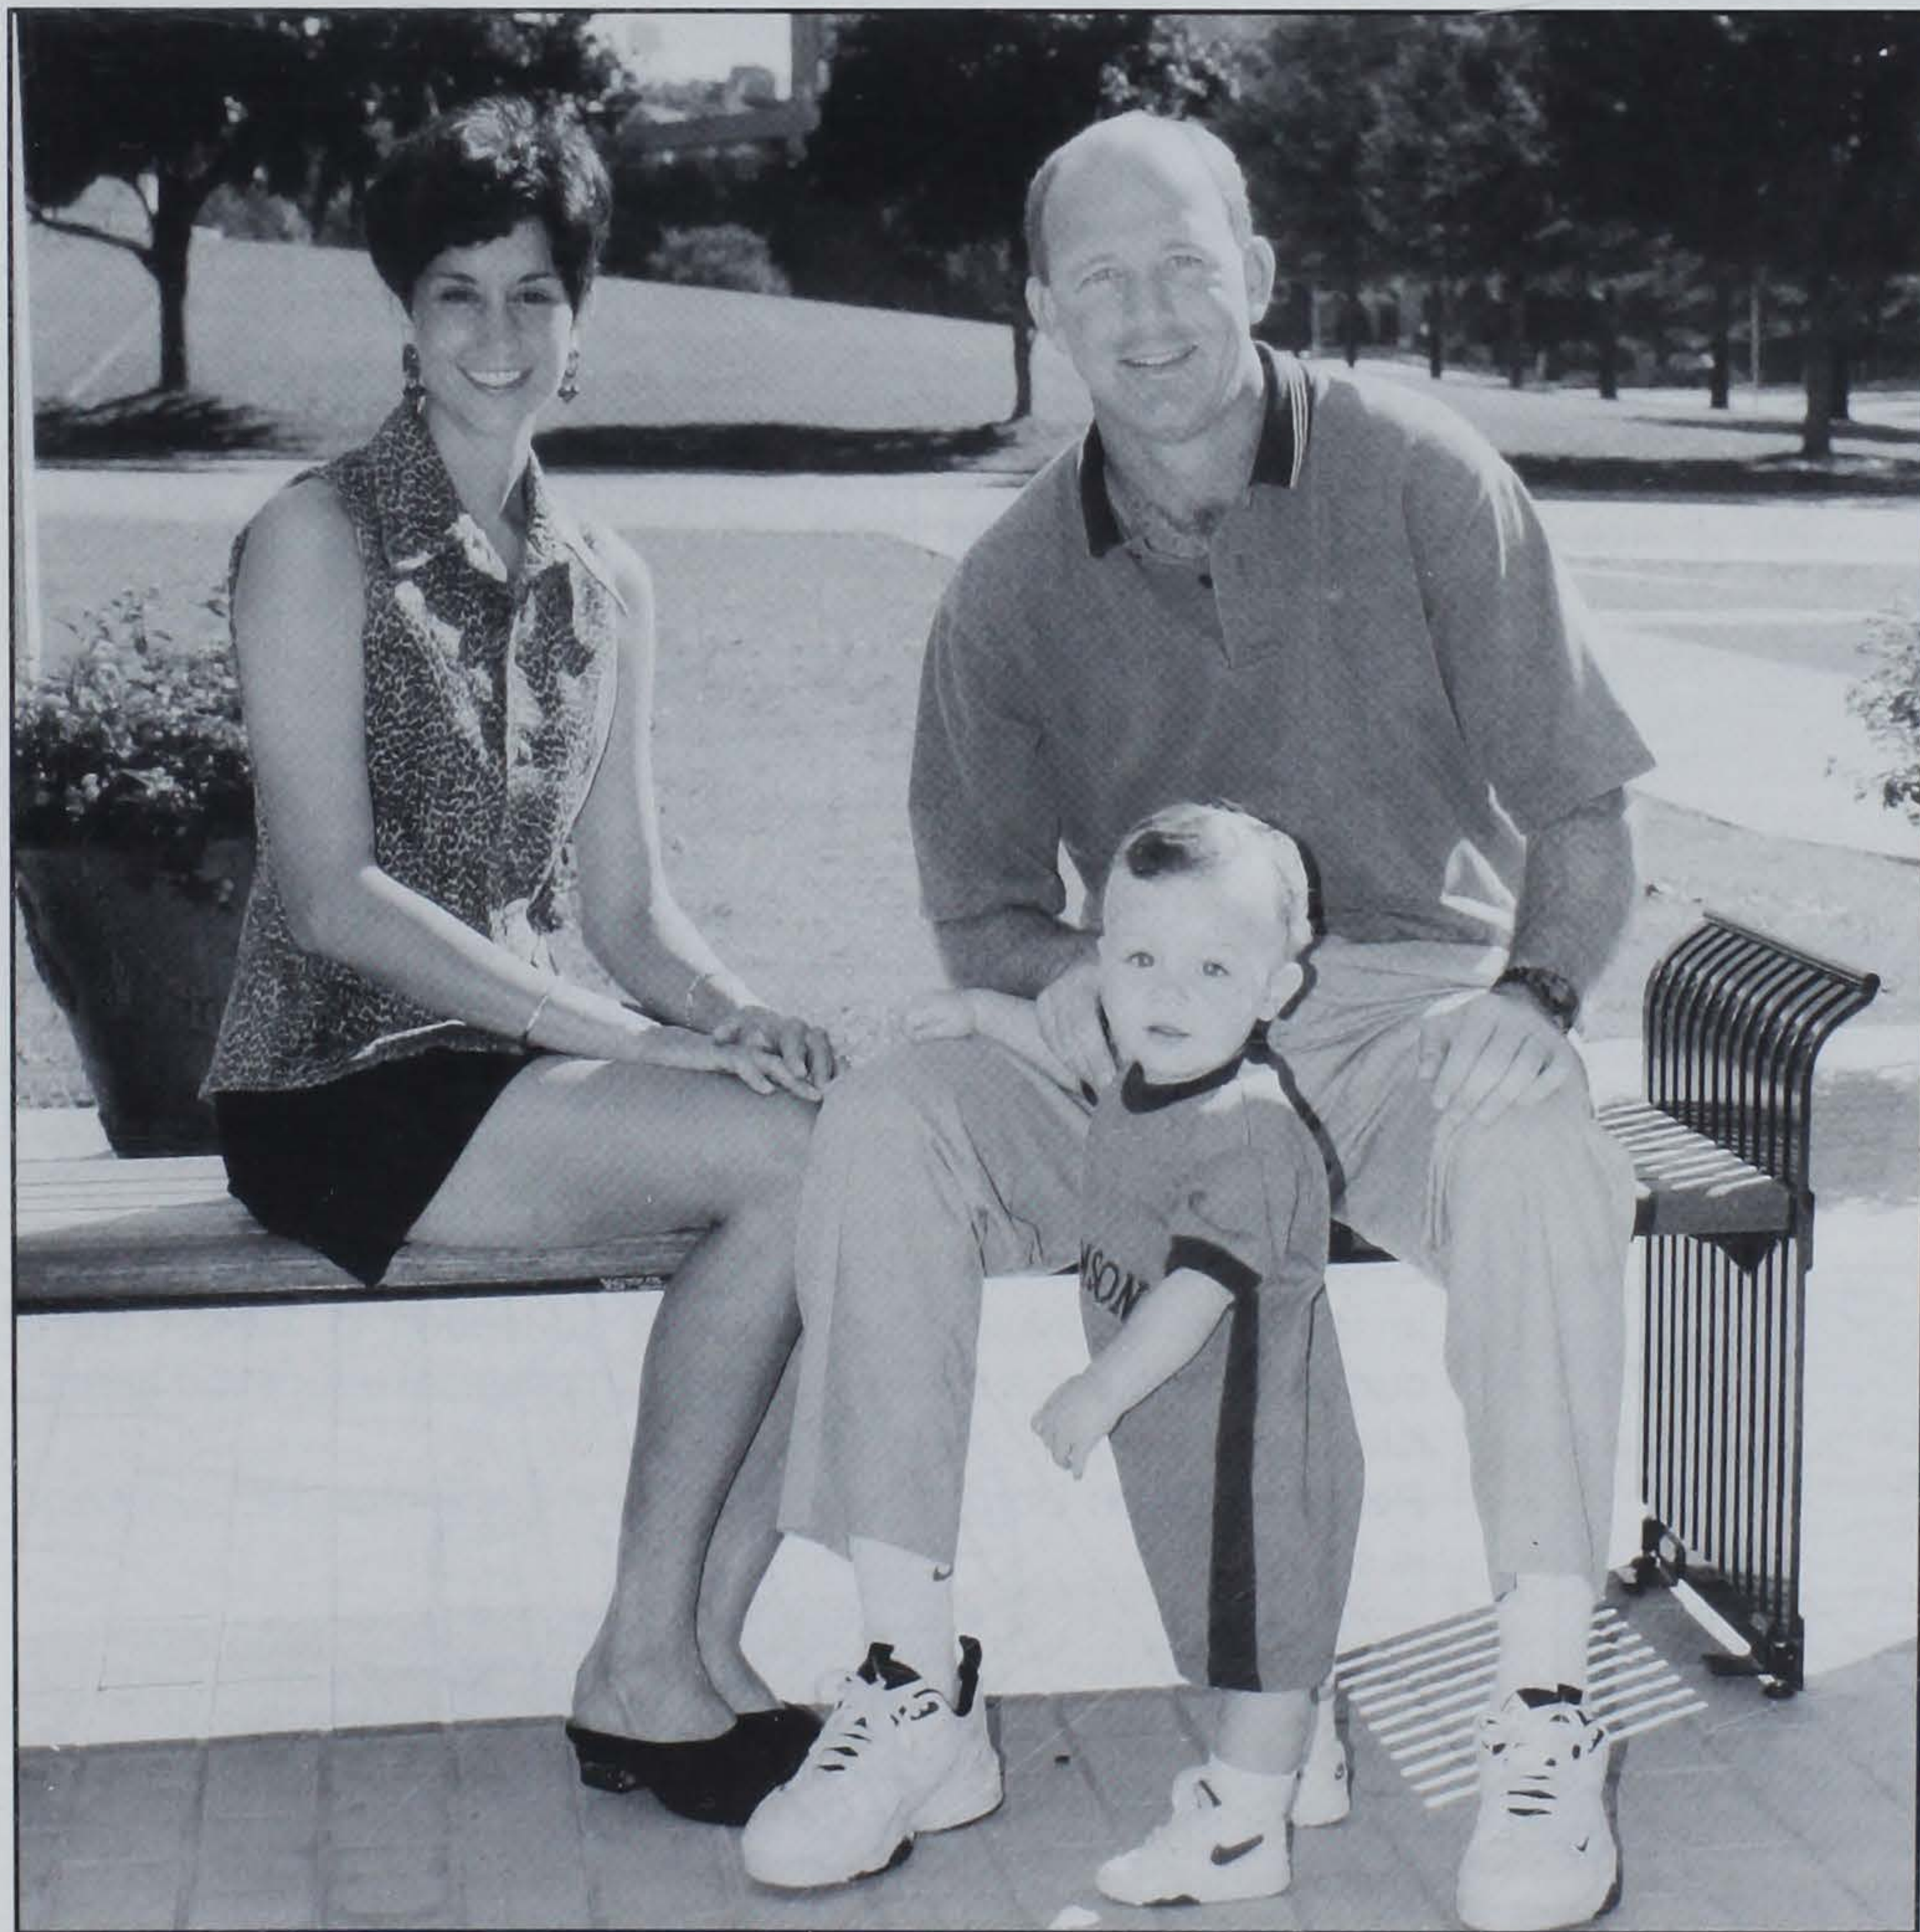

His first coaching job was at Bethune-Cookman where he was the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach from 1983 to 1984. In 1985, he moved to Central Florida to become the Assistant Head Coach and wide receivers coach. After four years at Central Florida, Stockstill came to Tigertown in 1989, as the quarterbacks coach, a position he had for four years. In 1992, he was the passing game coordinator and in 1993, he was the co-offensive coordinator and the wide receivers coach.

As a player, Stockstill was a part of the 1977 Tangerine Bowl, 1980 Orange Bowl, and 1981 Orange Bowl with Florida State. He also participated in the 1982 East-West Shrine Bowl and the 1982 Japan Bowl All-Star games. As a coach, he was on the staff that led the Tigers to a victory over West Virginia in the 1989 Gator Bowl. Stockstill coached the Tigers against Illinois in the 1991 Hall of Fame Bowl and in the 1992 Citrus Bowl against California. He helped to lead Clemson in a come-from-behind victory in the 1993 Peach Bowl against Kentucky. He also coached in the 1996 Gator Bowl against Syracuse.

In his first year (1989) as quarterbacks coach at Clemson, he helped lead Clemson to a single-season record for completion percentage (60%). In 1991, the offense led by DeChane Cameron, the all-time winningest quarterback in Clemson history in terms of percentage, led the Atlantic Coast Conference in total offense. He also co-coordinated the #6 offense in Clemson history in 1995.

Although Stockstill never played a game in Death Valley, his brother, Jeff, played for the Tigers from 1979-82. His father, Joel, coached at Georgetown College in Kentucky and in high schools in Ohio and Kentucky before moving to Florida. "My dad was a high school and college school, so I grew up in a coaching family," says Stockstill. "My dad was the biggest influence on my life and I owe everything to him. He helped me understand what it takes to prepare to be an athlete and a coach."

Rick and his wife, Sarah, have one son, Brent.

Stockstill Summary

Dr. Deno Curris

Midway through his first year as president of Clemson University, Constantine W. "Deno" Curris addressed a faculty meeting by saying that he truly felt like a freshman at times—"excited to be here, but sometimes not sure exactly where I am." But by year's end, Curris had earned the ultimate compliment when an alumnus said,

"When I talk to him about Clemson, I feel like I'm the newcomer."

Curris hit the ground running when he became Clemson's 13th president on May 22, 1995. Among his early accomplishments were fine-tuning the academic reorganization of 1994 by adding a fifth college, establishing benchmark institutions to give students, parents and the public a way to measure Clemson, and setting out to fill key appointments.

Other high priorities included acquainting himself with the history and culture of Clemson, advocating Clemson's legislative goals in Columbia, and meeting members of the "Clemson Family" throughout the state and nation.

He also assumed a national leadership role of his own, being named to the Kellogg Commission on the Future of State Universities and Land Grant Colleges, and becoming Chairman of the Board of Directors of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities.

Before coming to Clemson, Curris served as president of the University of Northern Iowa for 11 years and as president of Murray State University in Kentucky for 10 years before that. His presidencies at both universities were periods of growth and advancement, and he sees Clemson as another institution well-positioned to move ahead.

"Clemson has effected significant organizational and program changes to position the university and its students for the 21st century. Our task in the years ahead is to use this foundation and to build Clemson into a strong university with national stature and visibility," he said.

To help build Clemson's reputation and stature, Curris outlined three goals for the coming year.

First, in order to improve the educational program, Curris established a committee to define what makes the Clemson experience unique.

"I believe this definition is a necessary first step in building Clemson's reputation for the quality of our education programs and the capabilities of our graduates.

Second, he has established a goal of $50 million annually in competitively-awarded federal research funding—which would be roughly a 30 percent increase.

The third major goal is recruiting the university's future—the brightest young faculty, the most promising professional staff, the best undergraduate and graduate students.

Meeting challenging goals is a Curris trademark. At Murray State, he oversaw extensive campus renovations and improvements, including a student center which was later named for him. At UNI, he led the school in raising admissions standards and implementing a more rigorous comprehensive general education program. UNI gained national recognition in many programs during the period and was cited in 1993 as one of the best educational values among public universities by U.S. News & World Report.

Curris received a bachelor's degree, magna cum laude, in political science from the University of Kentucky, a master's in political science and public administration from the University of Illinois, and his doctorate in higher education from the University of Kentucky.

When his schedule permits, Curris enjoys gardening, fishing and reading. He is married to Jo Hern Curris, a tax attorney and author, and they have a son, Robert Alexander, and a daughter, Elena Diane.

IPTAY

IPTAY is widely regarded nationally as the father of Athletic Fundraising. It all started in 1934 and from a private meeting of a small group of Clemson supporters has sprung an organization that raised over $8 million last year. The organization plays a major role in ensuring that all 18 of the varsity sports at Clemson are given the maximum amount of scholarships offered by the NCAA.

The organization also has helped finance facilities that help student-athletes on and off the field. Vickery Hall is a 27,000 square foot facility that houses the tutoring and advising programs for student-athletes. It is a major reason Clemson student-athletes have had their highest cumulative GPA on record for three consecutive semesters.

While IPTAY is primarily concerned with athletic fundraising, the mission of Clemson University has not been overlooked. The IPTAY Academic Scholarship Endowment was created to help meet the need for more academic scholarships for non-athletes who are highly qualified academically. The IPTAY Academic Scholarship Fund is presently the largest scholarship endowment of its kind at Clemson, providing $2.8 million in funds, currently helping 34 students at Clemson.

IPTAY Executive Director George Bennett has continued to keep Clemson among the best in the nation in terms of fund-raising by the establishment of the IPTAY Endowment Program. In April of 1994, he kicked off the beginning of the endowment of positions program at the 85th birthday celebration for former Clemson Coach Frank Howard. The endowments are secure with a $100,000 donation paid over a five-year period.

"This is a chance to broaden the horizons of IPTAY," said Bennett. "It gives an individual or a group of people an opportunity to endow a position that meant something during their college playing days, or to honor a person at a position. The money being endowed is going to secure our future as the interest is used to carry on our program forever."

"Fans interested in seeing IPTAY and Clemson athletics succeed down the road now have the perfect means to do that. They can create endowments that can't be touched whereby, only the support will continue. Thus this is a way to ensure that the programs they are in favor of are continued."

The first endowment was for the head football coach position to honor the legendary Frank Howard. Howard coached football at Clemson 39 years, 30 as the head coach. During his tenure the Tigers won 165 games, 100 of which were against conference foes. "Former players and friends of Coach Howard made donations over the cost of attending the celebration program and that was enough for the endowment. Their gifts were a way of permanently thanking Coach Howard for all that he did for Clemson."

"Following Coach Howard's birthday party we began to look for an individual to help us support and promote the program and Bill Hudson's name came up. He was an outstanding player at Clemson who has been equally successful in the business world. We went to him and explained the program and its goals and that we were looking for his leadership to help get the program going, and he accepted."

Hudson responded favorably. "Clemson has been good to our family and I have been fortunate in business, which allowed me to be involved in this program," said the former Clemson tackle. "Two of my brothers, my son, and I came to Clemson on a scholarship. The entire family is grateful so I put the endowment of the tackle position in the family's name."

Hudson, a 1956 graduate, was a three-year letter winner at tackle who played professionally for the Montreal Alouettes, the San Diego Chargers, and the Boston Patriots. He earned Pro Bowl honors in 1962. His brother Bob was also a lineman at Clemson who lettered four straight years and played over 10 years professionally.

"We have a foundation in academics and it is something special to get a letter of thanks from a student who received a scholarship through our donation," said Bill. "That's a great feeling so we were willing to do a similar thing for the athletic department. The permanency of this is what makes it so important, it will be around much longer than I am. Future generations of my family will be able to enjoy and contribute to our endowment."

Mr. Hudson sees this program growing into a large part of Clemson's athletic funding. "When other people see information on the endowment program and learn what it is about this program will grow. Success builds on success. People who are looking to honor a friend or family member now have a great means to do that."

Besides the Hudson's family endowment four other football endowments were made and one managers position was created in

Position Endowments

Friends and Former Football Players endowed the Head Football Coach's Position to honor Coach Frank Howard.

The Bill Hudson Family endowed a Tackle Position.

Mr. and Mrs. David Merritt endowed a Wide Receiver Position In Honor Of Perry Tuttle.

An Anonymous Donor Endowed Football's Single Wing Right Guard Position To Honor Dean Walter Cox.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Dalton endowed the Manager's Position for the Men's Basketball Program.

David and Stanley Riggins endowed the Quarterback Position.

Leighton Cabbage endowed a Defensive Back Position on the Football Team to honor Jimmy Ness.

John T. Mundy endowed a Forward Position on the Men's Basketball Team.

The Mahaffey Brothers endowed the Center Position on the Men's Basketball team in honor of their parents.

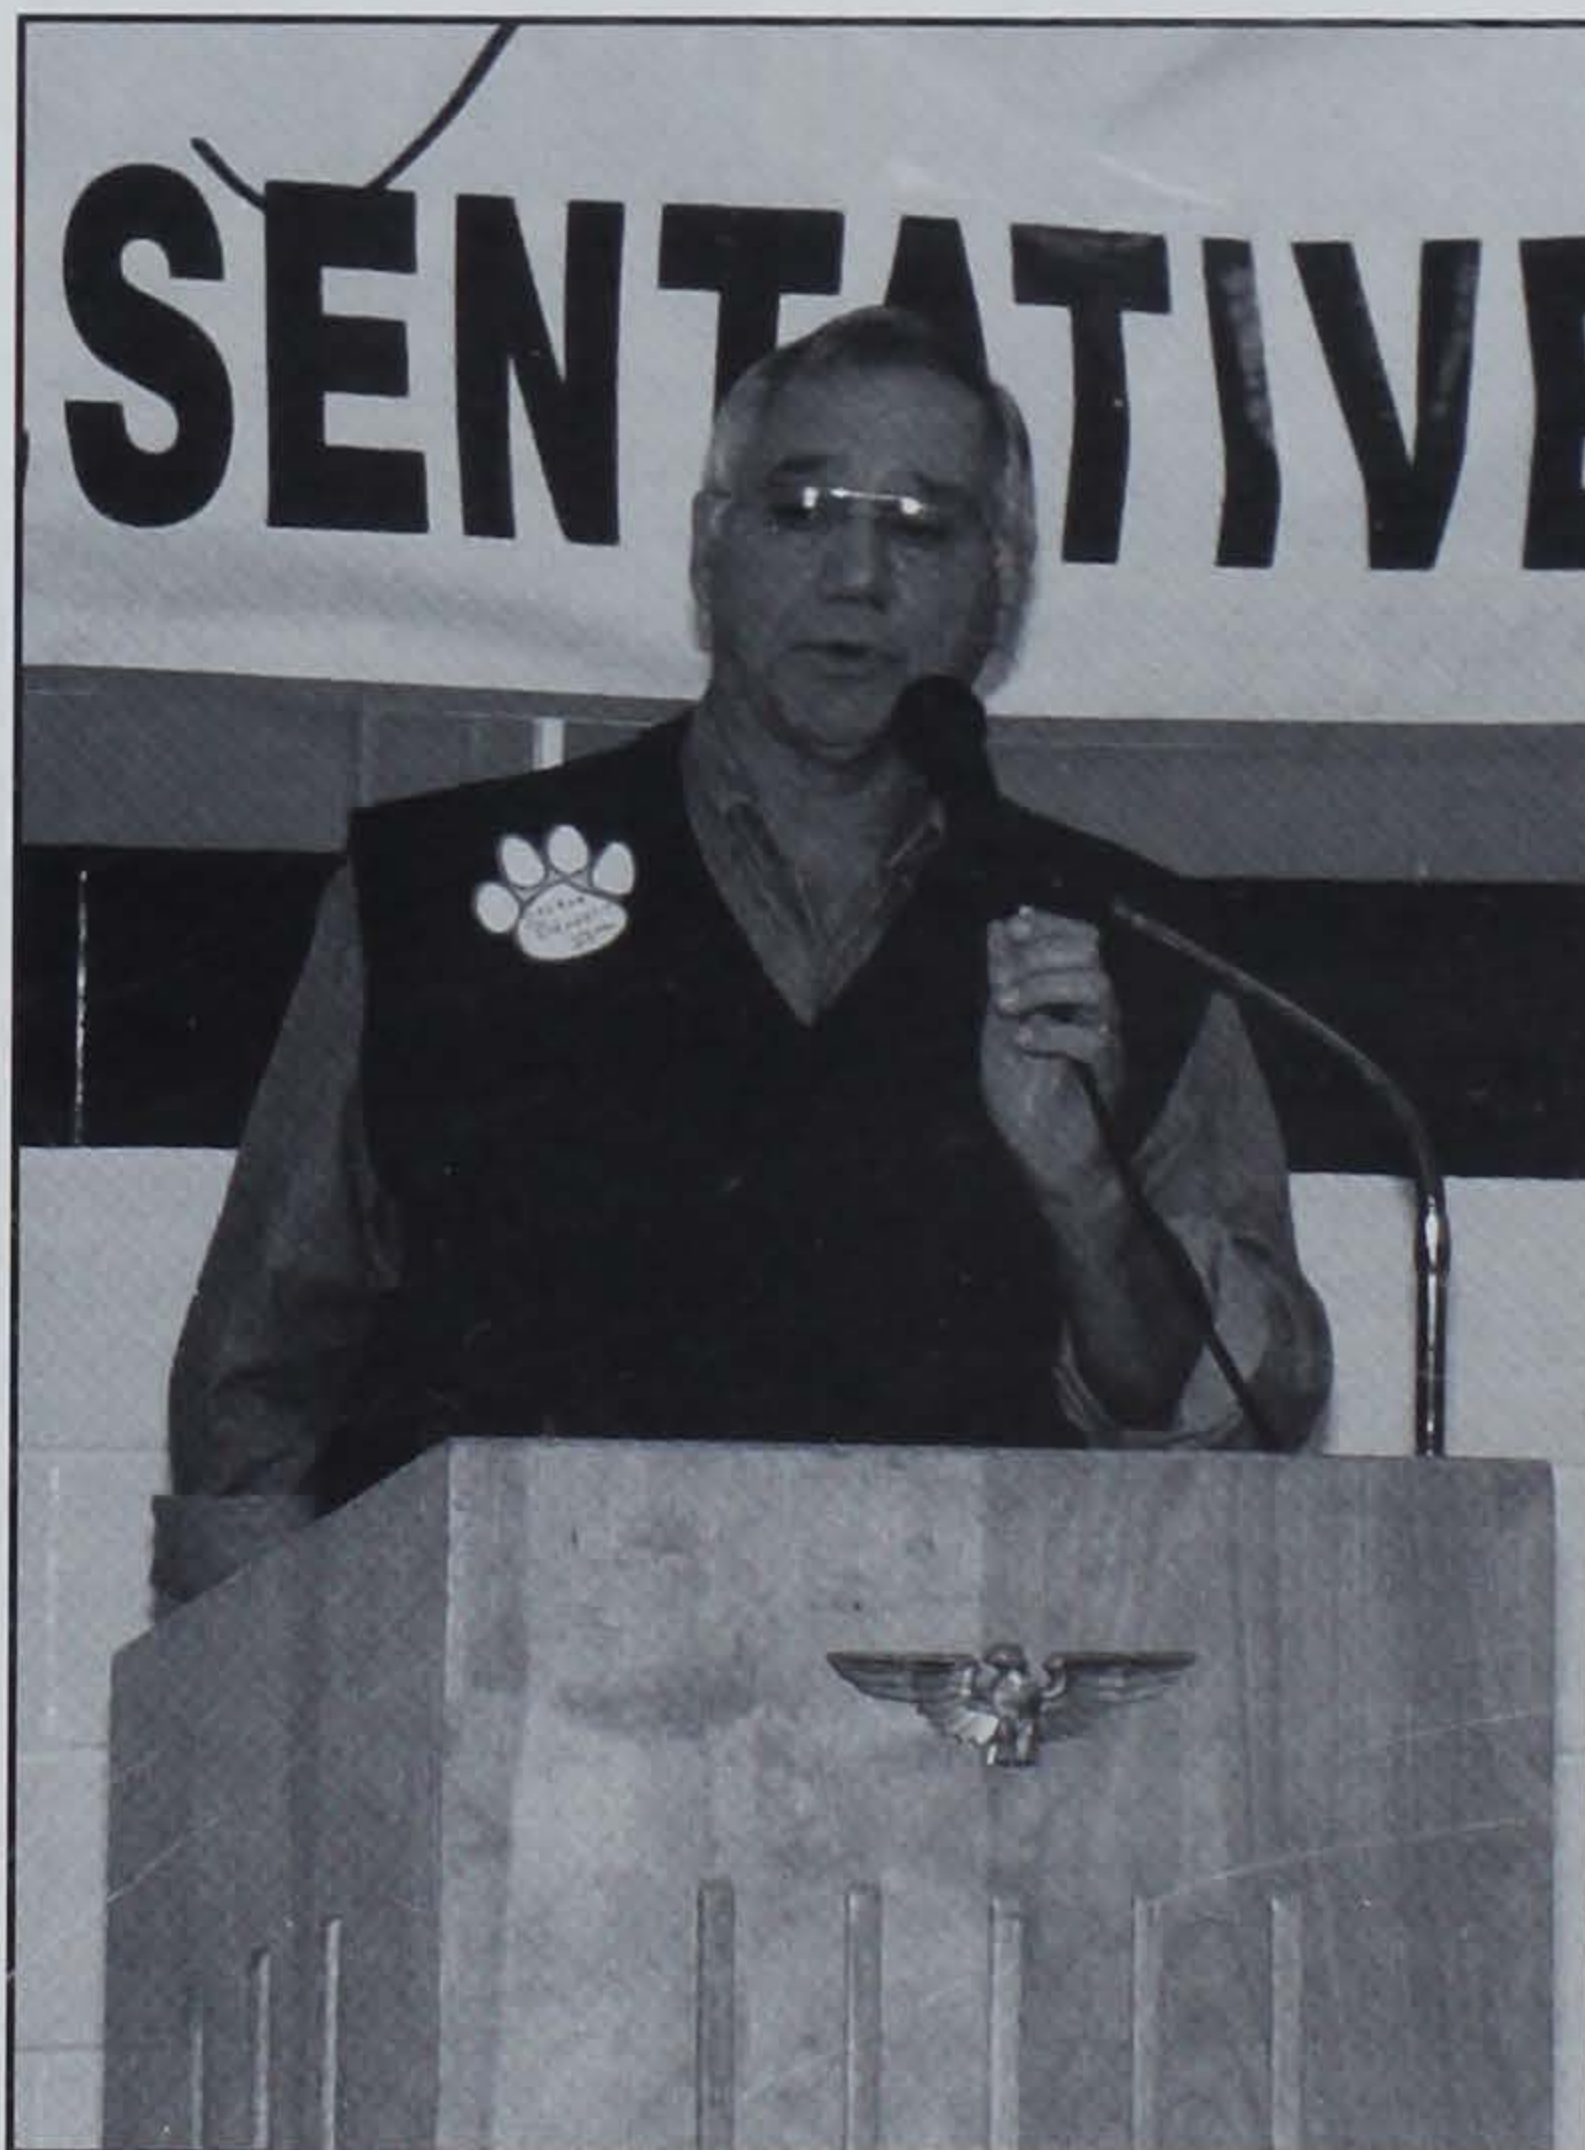

Mark and Barry Avent endowed the Head Coach's position for Men's Basketball to honor Rick Barnes.

Sam and Kitty Pringle endowed the Point Guard Position on the Lady Tigers Basketball Team.

Dr. and Mrs. Bill Howiler endowed the Third Base Position on the Tigers Baseball Team.

Billy Poe endowed the Wingback Position on Clemson's Single Wing Football Team.

Bill and Bess Cecil Endowment for Coordinated IPTAY and Architecture Scholarships And Fellowships.

George Bennett is the Executive Director of IPTAY.

the first year. Now there are over 15 positions endowed. The goal of the program is to get every position endowed. "From the free safety to the number three player in women's tennis, we hope to have every position endowed," said Bennett.

"We will likely use the Avenue of Champions as a physical place to honor these people further for the positions they have endowed. That will have plenty of space, so we will be working to have as many endowments across all of our sports."

"The personal satisfaction that they helped Clemson University, specifically the Athletic department, and that they are securing its future are the main reasons for becoming involved."

And with more involvement Clemson will have a very secure future for generations to come.

IPTAY Administrators

George Bennett
Executive Director

George Bennett says the wheels are off and that he has thoroughly enjoyed being back at Clemson these past two years. Bennett returned to Clemson on February 14, 1993, and as he says, "The second time around is definitely better." He thanks Athletic Director Bobby Robinson for giving him another chance to try to do a better job for Clemson.

A 1955 Clemson graduate, Bennett was an Assistant Athletic Director for Business at Clemson for eight years (1971-79), and his final two years, he was the Executive Secretary of IPTAY. Under his leadership, annual contributions to IPTAY doubled to more than 2.3 million and memberships increased from 9,800 to 15,000.

In 1979, Bennett left Clemson to become the Associate Athletic Director for Financial Development at Vanderbilt University. Bennett initiated programs for the Commodore Club that resulted in memberships going from 650 members to more than 6,000 and contributions increased from $275,000 in 1979 to over $2.2 million in 1986. Bennett also was instrumental in raising funds to rebuild the Vanderbilt Football Stadium. In 1984, Bennett was named the National Athletic Fundraiser of the Year at the National Conference of Athletic Fundraisers.

In April, 1986, Bennett was named the Athletic Director at Furman University. During his time at Furman, the football team won the National I-AA Championship. Bennett returned to Nashville, TN, in 1989, where he served as the Vice-President for Development at Baptist Hospital.

Bennett has twice been honored by Clemson. He is a member of Clemson's Athletic Hall of Fame and, in 1986, he received the Alumni Association's Distinguished Service Award.

Bennett's civic responsibilities have been numerous. In Clemson, he has served as President of the Chamber of Commerce and has been President of the Clemson Sertoma Club. He has been a member of the Board of Governors of the Chamber in Nashville. He held a similar position in Greenville. He and his wife, Nancy, served as co-chairs on two United Way Campaign Cabinets in Nashville. The Bennetts have also been active in the churches in their communities and have worked mainly with college students. Bennett is a member of the Greenville Executive Sertoma Club.

Bennett's ties to athletics at Clemson date to his undergraduate days. As a varsity cheerleader for three years and head cheerleader his senior year in 1954, he asked his father to buy a small cannon and thus began the tradition of firing the cannon after a touchdown was scored. During his college years, Bennett was President of Blue Key, The CDA, and served as a class officer. He has continued his association with Tiger Brotherhood.

Bennett's current projects with IPTAY are the expansion of endowments to name positions on athletic teams and the proposed "Avenue of Champions."

A native of Columbia, SC, he and his wife, Nancy (who has a Master's degree from Clemson) have been married 36 years. They enjoy activities with their two children, Jeff and Bonnie and their families. Their grandchildren are Tiger Cubs--Megan (9), Bennett (5), Brooks (4), and Augusta (2).

Bert Henderson
Assoc. Executive Director

Bert Henderson is in his 11th year with IPTAY. His diverse background with Clemson University dates back to 1978 when he began his career as a trainer with the Athletic Department. He began full-time employment under Fred Hoover in 1980 and served as basketball trainer from 1982

-84. He handled all travel arrangements and a majority of the administrative duties for Clemson basketball.

In 1984, he joined the Clemson Alumni Association where he was instrumental in setting up Clemson clubs and also coordinating away game headquarters. In April, 1985, he rejoined the Athletic Department as IPTAY's first Associate Executive Secretary.

Henderson demands excellence and his record shows that he does not settle for less in fund raising. He has been instrumental in IPTAY's 230 Life members as well as working with a number of donors in establishing endowments, trust, and wills. As Clemson begins a new Capital Campaign, he will work closely with the Development Office to insure a successful campaign.

Henderson's duties also include working with the staff of the Orange and White. He is also the advisor for the IPTAY Student Advisory Board (ISAB). This thirty member group serves as a liaison between students and the Athletic Department. He has been the driving force behind the newly created Collegiate Level of the Tiger Cub Club program. Henderson is also involved with the Clemson Clubs and has numerous other duties in the administration of IPTAY.

Henderson is a 1978 graduate of Mars Hill College. He earned a master's degree from Clemson in administration and supervision. He is married to the former Lee Ann Hudson, and the couple has two children, Amy Lee (9/23/86) and Kimberly Ann (6/13/89).

Bob Mahony
Assoc. Executive Director

Bob Mahony started with IPTAY as an associate executive director in February of 1989. He is a 1976 graduate of Clemson with a bachelor of science degree in building construction. He had been involved in commercial and residential construction in Columbia and the upstate since graduation.

In the summer of 1977, he began a career in construction with Bagnal Builders, a residential builder in Columbia. From 1981-1985 he was employed by McCrory Construction, also in Columbia, where he gained experience in commercial construction. Following a return to Bagnal Builders from 1985-87, he moved to the upstate where he worked with Trehel Corp. of Clemson and Hudson Construction of Seneca.

Mahony lettered in baseball at Clemson from 1974-76. He was a walk-on pitcher for coach Bill Wilhelm's baseball team in 1974. He later earned a full scholarship and was co-captain of the 1976 team that participated in the College World Series in Omaha, Nebraska. That team also won the ACC regular season and tournament. Following his career at Clemson, Mahony spent a short time with the Baltimore Orioles organization. For the past eight seasons, he has provided the color commentary on the Clemson baseball radio network.

His duties with IPTAY include the coordination of the IPTAY County Chairmen and Representative appointment and award programs. He is also involved in coordination of IPTAY's involvement in the spring Clemson Club meetings.

Mahony is married to the former Robin Ann Lawrimore, a 1976 graduate of Clemson. The couple has two children, Robin Allison (9-1-80) and Marion Leigh (9-3-85). Bob has two brothers, Glenn and David, who are also graduates of Clemson and his mother was Clemson's Mother-of-the-Year in 1981.

Administration

Dr. Cecil Huey Faculty Representative

Dr. Cecil Huey was named the Clemson Faculty Athletics Representative in December of 1992. As such, he is the University representative to the NCAA and the ACC. The professor of Mechanical Engineering on Clemson's campus is a member of the university's Athletic Council and was its chair at one time, was a faculty senator, and was a member of Clemson's self-study committee on intercollegiate athletics for the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. He is involved in the selection of coaches, certifications of athletic eligibility, other on campus athletic affairs, and continues his full-time faculty position.

Huey won the university's Class of '39 award for excellence, one of the top faculty awards offered at Clemson. The award recognizes distinguished faculty representing the highest achievement of service to students, the university, and the community.

Huey won the university's Class of '39 award for excellence, one of the top faculty awards offered at Clemson. The award recognizes distinguished faculty representing the highest achievement of service to students, the university, and the community.

Huey's association with Clemson is not solely in an academic light, although he earned his bachelor's, master's, and doctoral degrees in mechanical engineering from the university. Huey was an athlete during his undergraduate years with the Tigers. He was a member of the ACC champion mile relay team that posted a time of 3:14.2 in 1964. The outdoor track team finished second in the conference championship that year.

Huey is a member of the American Society for Engineering Education, the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, the Society for the History of Technology, and the Society for Industrial Archaeology.

Bobby Robinson Athletic Director

The Clemson athletic program's commitment to excellence begins with Athletic Director Bobby Robinson. The program has been on the rise in just about all forms of athletics in recent years. Robinson's commitment to success in competition, academics and facilities has been the key to the level of distinction that the program has maintained during his 11 years as the director.

Clemson had another successful season on the field in 1995-96. A record nine Clemson teams were chosen to the NCAA team championships and 15 teams out of a possible 18 participated in postseason events. Seven different teams were ranked in their sport's final top 20. Clemson was the only school in the nation to have a team in a bowl game, the NCAA basketball tournament, and the College World Series.

It was also a landmark year academically. Clemson had a record number of student-athletes earn a spot on the ACC Academic Honor Roll, including Tiger football player Andye McCrorey, who was named a first-team CFA All-American. Every athletic team had over a 2.2 team GPA for the year and five teams posted all-time record team GPA's for a semester.

The teams combined for a 2.57 GPA for the year, highest on record.

Under the direction of Robinson, the athletic department continues to support the university. Over $2.8 million has been contributed to the athletic academic scholarship fund; and band travel equipment, uniforms, and many other projects are funded by the department for the overall benefit of the student body.

Robinson graduated from Furman with a B.S. degree in business and political science in 1968. He was the president of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity chapter at Furman. Robinson came to Clemson in 1970 to work in the housing office and after three years, he moved across campus to serve as an administrative assistant in the athletic department.

After serving the athletic department in various capacities, he became business manager in 1975. Two years later he was named assistant athletic director, and in 1980 he became associate AD. He held that title for six years, and his area of responsibility moved to primarily football and basketball. The native of Columbia became Athletic Director in March of 1985.

While serving his administrative duties, Robinson found time to coach the Clemson golf team between 1975 and 1983. During his time as the head coach, Clemson won its first ACC title in golf and three times the Tigers participated in the NCAA Tournament. In 1983, his final season as the head coach, he guided Clemson to a number-five finish.

Robinson has served on the NCAA golf committee, the CFA Board of Directors, the Division I-A Certification Committee, ACC Long Range Planning Committee, ACC Booking Office Committee, ACC Committee on Infractions and Penalties, ACC Gender Equity Committee, ACC Golf Committee, and ACC Committee to Study Football in the 1990's. He currently serves on the NCAA Special Events Committee.

Dwight Rainey Senior Associate Athletic Director

When there is success in college athletics, experience is almost always a key factor. Senior Associate Athletic Director Dwight Rainey is an example of success gained from a wide variety of experience.

Rainey is in his 22nd academic year with the Clemson University Athletic Department. For the past 12 years, he has overseen scheduling and administered other duties involving the football and men's basketball programs. He is also in charge of the Clemson weight room, equipment room, and sports information.

While football and basketball may be the two highest profile sports at Clemson, the 16 Olympic sports have also enjoyed enormous success. Rainey is the point man for those sports and oversees their day-to-day operation. The 1995-96 sports year was quite a success for those in the olympic sports. There were seven top-25 finishes. Thirteen of the 16 teams advanced to postseason play. Five different teams posted winning percentages of 70 % or better.

The success of the 1995-96 academic year should come as no surprise. In his 13 years overseeing the Clemson Olympic sports program, Clemson has been in the top-25 in the nation in the All-Sports Poll seven times.

Prior to moving into administration at Clemson, Rainey served as Bill Foster's top assistant in the men's basketball program for 13 years, five at UNC Charlotte and eight at Clemson. One of Rainey's coaching highlights was the 1979-80 Clemson team that finished with a 23-9 mark. That squad advanced to the Final 8 of the NCAA Tournament, the furthest a Clemson men's basketball team has advanced in the NCAA tournament.

Rainey has also had experience outside of college athletics. Between 1967 and August of 1970, he worked with a division of the Chrysler Corporation in Atlanta, GA.

Rainey earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in business administration from Shorter College in 1967 and a Master's degree from UNC Charlotte in 1972.

Rainey is married to the former Cheryl Dye, a native of Paris, MO. Cheryl has a daughter, Jenna (12).

Van Hilderbrand

Associate AD/ Ticket Manager

Any Tiger fan who has ever needed tickets or parking for a Clemson athletic event will recognize the name of Van Hilderbrand. He has served the Clemson athletic department for 20 years and is in his 11th year as an associate/assistant athletic director. He is in charge of the ticket office and supervises all parking administration and also works with game day operations.

Hilderbrand is certainly familiar with the athletic department. He started his association there as a student employee in the office during his college career, 1970-74. In 1976 he filled the newly created position of assistant ticket manager, and in 1980 he was named Athletic Department Ticket Manager. In 1985 he was made an assistant athletic director.

Demand for tickets to Clemson athletic events is at an all-time high and it is Hilderbrand's responsibility to distribute the tickets to the thousands who attend the games. Hilderbrand and his staff sell more football season tickets than any other school in the ACC. Clemson has been in the top 15 in the nation every year since 1983.

In the 13 years since Hilderbrand took the job as ticket manager, he has distributed more season tickets than ever before for football and basketball. He has met the challenge by keeping up with the technology of the profession. Clemson has used a computerized ticket system since 1986.

Hilderbrand worked as athletic supervisor for the Greenwood Recreation Department for two years after graduation, and in 1976, he returned to Clemson.

Hilderbrand graduated from Clover (SC) High School in 1970. He was the school's all-time leading scorer in basketball until 1993, when current Tiger gridder Lamont Hall broke his mark. Hilderbrand earned his degree in parks and recreation administration from Clemson in 1974. The 42-year old is married to the former Diane Harris of Clover and they have two children, Van Jr., who was born December 31, 1979, the day Clemson met Baylor in the Peach Bowl, and Lee Elizabeth, who was born October, 1985.

In his spare time, Hilderbrand enjoys golf and working with the Boy Scouts.

Robert Ricketts

Associate AD/ Chief Financial Officer

Keeping the expense accounts of such a vast operation as the Clemson athletic department in order is no easy task, but Associate Athletic Director Robert Ricketts is well qualified for the job. Ricketts is in his 11th year in the department and his 19th year with the university.

As associate athletic director in charge of business operations, Ricketts handles all purchasing and expense accounts. This job is old hat to Ricketts who spent nine years working for Clemson in auditing and accounting departments. During these nine years, one of his main duties was the audit for the athletic department. He worked in the University's financial management division in accounting control and payroll benefits between 1976 and 1977, then worked in the internal auditing division and as an auditor between 1977 and 1980. In 1980, he was named an audit supervisor, a position he held until February of 1985. Thus, he has seen all sides of his job.

Ricketts earned an associate arts degree from Anderson College in 1969, and a business administration degree from Erskine College in 1971. He is also a 1967 graduate of T. L. Hanna High School in Anderson. After his graduation from Erskine, he entered merchandise management with the J.C. Penney Company of Greenville and Anderson. He worked for that company between 1972 and 1976, until he began his career with the University on May 28, 1976.

The native of Anderson has also completed the College Business Management Institute at the University of Kentucky. He is a member of the College Athletic Business Managers' Association and the Institute of Internal Auditors. Ricketts has previously served as secretary of the Clemson Recreation Advisory Committee for six years.

Ricketts and his wife, Kathey, have two children, Chesley (17) and Lindsey (13). His wife is employed in the Payroll/ Benefits Office at Clemson University.

Linda White

Associate AD/Senior Women's Administrator

On July 9, 1992, the Clemson Athletic Department lost a fine coach, but gained an outstanding administrator when Linda White, the winningest volleyball coach in Clemson history with a 138-81 career mark, assumed the position of Assistant Director of Compliance/Senior Woman's Administrator. In 1993, White was promoted to Associate AD and retained her title as Senior Woman's Administrator.

White represents Clemson at all university, conference and NCAA functions in the role of Senior Women's Administrator. She serves as the co-chair of the ACC Volleyball and Track committees and is a member of the NCAA Volleyball Committee, ACC Gender Equity Committee, and NCAA Regional Women's Soccer Committee. She represents the athletic department at NCAA events, submits bids to host NCAA events and coordinates the events if Clemson is awarded the bid. Clemson played host to the NCAA Tournament in tennis, women's basketball, men's soccer, and baseball in 1995-96. She has managed eight NCAA events in her career. White also serves as event manager for many home sporting events, coordinates facility improvements, coordinates summer camps, serves as the department's recruiting coordinator, and oversees the Courtesy Vehicle Program.

White came to Clemson in 1986 as the head volleyball coach. She led the Clemson squad to six consecutive 20-win seasons. White coached at least one All-ACC player five of her six years at the helm of the Clemson program, while two of her former players were named Academic All-Americans.

Prior to her stint as volleyball coach at Clemson, White was a successful basketball and volleyball coach at Wando High School in Mount Pleasant, SC for 14 years. In 1982, she was named National Volleyball Coach-of-the-Year by the National High School Coaches Association.

White earned her undergraduate degree from Winthrop College. She earned a M Ed in Administration and Supervision from Clemson in August of 1988. She is married to Roger White.

Steve Nelson Associate AD/ Compliance

Steve Nelson became an Associate Athletic Director at Clemson in August of 1994. Nelson serves as the director of the university's compliance program. He also has duties reviewing contracts and monitoring gender equity, minority enhancement, and Title IX issues.

As the director of compliance, Nelson works out of the athletic department and reports to both President Deno Curris and Athletic Director Bobby Robinson. Nelson's responsibilities include implementing rules education programs for coaches, student-athletes, boosters, and other individuals associated with the athletic department; maintaining and applying procedures for compliance with NCAA, conference, and university rules, and serving as a liaison with the NCAA and conference offices on rules-related matters.

Nelson came to Clemson from the NCAA office, where he served as an enforcement representative from 1989 to 1994. In that position, he was involved with examining institutional compliance programs; identifying eligibility, enforcement and eligibility issues, and interviewing student-athletes and coaches in connection with several NCAA investigations.

Nelson earned his bachelor's degree in economics from Macalester College, St. Paul, MN, in 1979. He graduated Magna Cum Laude and captained the men's basketball team. Twice he was named an all-conference selection.

He received a juris doctorate degree in 1985 from the University of Iowa College of Law. While in law school, he served as an editor for the Iowa Law Review. Nelson was engaged in the private practice of law for three-and-one-half years prior to his career with the NCAA. In addition to his law practice, Nelson worked as an advisor on employment and marketing issues for the Cedar Rapids Silver Bullets of the Continental Basketball Association in 1988 and 1989.

Fred Hoover Assistant Athletic Director/ Head Trainer

Much of the credit for getting the Tigers on the field should go to Fred Hoover, who has completed 37 years as head trainer for the Tigers. The 66 year-old Hoover is responsible for the prevention, treatment and rehabilitation of injuries to Clemson's athletes. In addition, Hoover, who was named assistant athletic director in the summer of 1983, is a consultant for purchasing athletic equipment, supervising the medical staff, making travel arrangements, supervising the athletic training room and directing the training table.

A native of Jacksonville, FL, Hoover graduated with a BS degree in physical education from Florida State in 1953. He served as trainer at his alma mater for two stints, 1952-53 and 1957-58, before coming to Clemson in 1959. He has never missed a Clemson football game, working 410 in a row heading into this year.

Professionally, "Doc" Hoover has held just about every administrative post with the National Athletic Trainers Association, including national president, and he is an affiliate member of the American Orthopedic Society for Sports Medicine.

In 1981, Hoover was enshrined in the Citizens Savings-Helms Athletic Foundation Hall of Fame for his work.

In the spring of 1982, he was named a consultant to the South Carolina Medical Association— Medical Aspects of Sports Committee. He is also past chairman of the NATA National Symposium Committee and is currently chairman of the South Carolina Board of Certification for Athletic Trainers. Hoover is also a member of the Clemson Hall of Fame and is past president of the South Carolina Trainers Association. In October of 1990, Hoover was named an Honorary Member of the Clemson Alumni Physicians society.

In 1983, Hoover was the recipient of the Distinguished Service to Sports Medicine Award given by the American Orthopedic Society for Sports Medicine. In 1987, he was awarded the South Carolina Hall of Fame Distinguished Service to Sports Award. In 1994, the South Carolina Trainers Association created the Fred Hoover Award. It is presented for excellence in athletic training.

Hoover is married to the former Elva Cook of Mt. Vernon, IL, and the Hoovers have two children, Catherine, a 1980 Clemson graduate who is married, and Bryan who also graduated from Clemson and is now in Sports Marketing at East Tennessee State University. The Hoover's have one grandchild, Andrew Cole.

Tim Bourret
Asst. AD/Sports Information & Public Relations

Tim Bourret is in his eighth year supervising the SID office, his fourth as an Assistant Athletic Director, and his 19th with the Clemson University Athletic Department. He first came to Clemson as assistant SID under Bob Bradley in September of 1978 and was elevated to an associate SID position in July of 1980.

The 40-year old Bourret has edited 82 award-winning brochures in his career, including 26 that have dealt with Clemson football. Last year Clemson's football program series was voted fifth in the nation by CoSIDA.

In 1992, the Clemson football guide and football program were both ranked in the top-five in the nation, making Clemson the only school in the nation that could make that claim. The press guide was ranked first, while the program series was fifth.

Bourret also has considerable radio experience, play-by-play and color. He has been the color voice of Clemson basketball since the 1980-81 season and served in the same capacity for Clemson football between 1982 and 1988. He gave up his football radio work to supervise the Clemson pressbox when Bob Bradley retired in 1989. He was also the play-by-play voice of Clemson postseason baseball between 1980-89.

Bourret is a native of West Hartford, CT and 1973 graduate of Northwest Catholic High School. He was an all-conference baseball player in high school and played in the 1973 American Legion World Series.

Following in his father's footsteps, Bourret earned his undergraduate degree from the University of Notre Dame in business administration in 1977. He also earned his master's degree in communication arts from Notre Dame in August of 1978.

Bourret worked as an undergraduate and graduate assistant under Roger Valdiserri in Notre Dame's office for three years, where he was assistant editor of Notre Dame's 1977 football programs. The program series won Best in the Nation that year. He also served as commissioner of the school's famed "Bookstore Basketball Tournament" for three years, including the year it was featured in Sports Illustrated.

Tim Match
Marketing & Public Affairs

Tim Match was named Associate Athletic Director for Marketing and Public Affairs in 1996. Match, a native of Arlington, Ohio, is responsible for implementing the athletic department's sports marketing, sponsorship and licensing program.

The 1985 graduate of Bowling Green State University is also responsible for all post season football games and is the liaison for the athletic department with the Clemson Radio Network and the Clemson Coaches Television Show Network. He also serves as game manager for the Clemson football and men's basketball games as well as oversees the Memorial Stadium Executive suite program.

Prior to his return to Clemson, Match participated in an internship at the University of West Florida in the athletic department. He then moved on to Clemson where he worked in the sports information office.

After receiving his master's degree in PRTM with an emphasis in micro-computer management, he became the assistant sports information director at the University of Virginia. While at UVA, Match worked with the men's soccer, women's basketball, football and men's basketball programs. He returned to Clemson in 1989 as an associate sports information director, working directly with the men's basketball program, as well as editing the football and men's basketball programs for three seasons.

In 1988, the 32-year-old Match married the former Sharon Yoder of State College, PA. She is a 1984 graduate of Penn State and received her master's from Clemson in 1987. They have a son, Benjamin (2).

Bill D'Andrea
Assoc. Athletic Director/
Director of Student-Athlete
Enrichment

Bill D'Andrea is in just his seventh year as the Director of Student-Athlete Enrichment, but has been a part of the Clemson family for much longer.

Prior to being named as the Director of Student-Athlete Enrichment D'Andrea, 45, served as the Tiger offensive tackles coach from 1986 to 1989. He also served as the Clemson football recruiting coordinator in the spring of 1991. D'Andrea's ties to Clemson go back even further as he served as a graduate assistant for the Tiger football program in 1982 and 1983. He continues to serve as Executive Secretary of the Tiger Letterman's Association.

As Director of Student-Athlete Enrichment, D'Andrea oversees the day to day operations of Vickery Hall, Clemson's student-athlete enrichment program. This position covers three areas: academic progress of the student athlete, personal growth of the student athlete, and student-athlete career assistance. It would be hard to argue with the success of Vickery Hall under D'Andrea. In the spring semester of 1996, Clemson athletes enjoyed tremendous semester in the classroom with 153 athletes, managers and trainers earning a 3.0 or better, a school record for one semester. Clemson student-athletes had a 2.57 GPA in the Spring of 1996, also a Clemson record.

D'Andrea, a Morgan, PA native, received his undergraduate degree in criminal justice from Indiana State in 1973, and earned a master's degree in education from East Carolina in 1975.

James Earle
Asst. Athletic Director/Career Enhancement Coordinator

James Earle, the Career Enhancement Coordinator at Vickery Hall, is in his second year in that position, but has been associated with Clemson for at least 12 years.

As the Career Enhancement Coordinator, Earle is in charge of teaching marketability to student-athletes. He instructs athletes as to the intricacies of searching for summer jobs, internships and practicums, he teaches them about the functionality of resumes and teaches interview techniques. He works with postgraduates and enters into the community to assist Tiger student-athletes with their job pursuits.

In 1996, Earle added new responsibilities to his repertoire within the Vickery Hall program. He takes over the academic advising of the men's track program.

Earle is both a former player and coach of the Clemson Tigers. The Easley native began his tenure with Clemson in 1984 as a strong safety and outside linebacker. He continued his education with the Tigers, received his master's degree in 1991, and acted as a graduate assistant coach in the process.

He moved on to Easley High School after receiving his master's in Guidance and Counseling and from there followed current head football coach Tommy West to UT-Chattanooga for a year before returning to his alma mater as the Tight Ends coach under West's direction.

Earle had a professional football stint with the Pittsburgh Steelers out of college in 1988, after leading Clemson in tackles. He was also named the nation's #6 outside linebacker by the Sporting News in 1987 and was an honorable mention All-ACC choice by the Associated Press while he played for the Tigers.

David McClain Head Equipment Supervisor

David McClain is in his third year as Equipment Supervisor. He had been Clemson's Assistant Equipment Manager for three years.

McClain served as a student manager for four years at Clemson in the mid-1980s. He was named the Student Manager-of-the-Year three times. During 1989-90 and 1990-91, he served as the assistant equipment manager at Duke University. He worked with two Duke basketball teams that advanced to the Final Four. In 1991-92, he returned to Clemson as the assistant equipment manager, and became Head Equipment Supervisor in August of 1994.

McClain has worked at seven bowl games in his career as a student, assistant, associate, and head equipment manager and has worked for four teams that have attended the NCAA basketball tournament and three that have attended the College World Series.

McClain is a 1988 graduate of Clemson and he earned his degree in industrial education. He married the former Lisa Perry in May, 1990, and the couple has two daughters, Ashley (3), and Kristin, (1).

John Seketa Assistant Athletic Director/ Promotions Director

What's left for someone who has worked numerous national, regional, and conference championships during his first decade at the same school?

Let's start with the 1996-97 season and the recognition of the All-Centennial Football team as we continue our celebration of the first 100 years of Clemson football. Follow this with salutes to the first ever ACC Basketball Championship won by the Lady Tigers, the College World Series Final Four participants, the Clemson Tiger, and the scheduling of appearances of the mascot, who last year finished in third place in the UCA National Mascot National Championships.

Year 11 in the promotions and game management business will be just as jammed for Seketa as the previous 10 years have been with more t-shirt giveaways, coordination of pre-game and halftime appearances, the hosting of the women's ACC soccer tournament, and hopefully, several NCAA events.

In addition, Seketa is involved with the training of student workers who continuously update the eight electronic message centers on Clemson's campus (worth $1.5 million). The new era of game management has the Athletic Department using the Game Ops Commander for specialized music at numerous athletic events.

Prior to arriving in Clemson, Seketa was the promotions director at Eastern Illinois University where he promoted all sports. In 1985, he staged a Make-Believe TV Football Game between Eastern Illinois and Western Illinois with ESPN, which was cited in the New York Times. After one year at Eastern Illinois, Seketa headed to the sunny south and Clemson for the 1986-87 academic year.

Seketa is a March 1981 graduate of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. After receiving his Bachelor's degree in business administration, Seketa worked as a computer operator for three years for the Shell Oil Company in Wood River, Illinois. His work in athletics began at Western Illinois where he attended graduate school followed by an internship at the University of Illinois.

Gary Wade Head Strength and Conditioning Coach

Entering his 12th season as Director of Clemson's Strength and Conditioning program, Gary Wade brings a wide range of experience to Tiger Strength Training.

Wade served as the assistant strength coach at the University of Nebraska from 1976 to 1979 while working on his undergraduate degree in education, and his graduate degree in exercise physiology. Working with Boyd Epley, Director of Nebraska's Husker Power Program, and the Nebraska Strength Training Staff, Wade became one of the founding members of the National Strength and Conditioning Association (NSCA).

While at Clemson, Wade implemented the dedication awards for each of the Tigers' 18 sports. He has worked to give Clemson athletes the opportunity to become members of the All-America strength teams by nominating suitable athletes each year.

In 1980, at age 24, he became the Detroit Lions' first strength and conditioning coach. During his five seasons in the NFL, the Lions went to the playoffs twice and won the NFC Central in 1983. He received much credit for the Lions' immediate improvement as Head Coach Monte Clark took pride in Wade's work and results on the field.

In his 11 season at Clemson, nine of Wade's assistants have become head strength and conditioning coaches at the collegiate level.

Wade, who was born in Nebraska City, NE, earned 10 varsity letters at Weeping Water HS. He was all-conference in football for three seasons and was second-team all-state his senior year.

Wade is married to the former Andree' Langlais.

Clemson Sports Program

Overall

*Clemson was the only school in the nation to participate in a bowl game, the NCAA men's basketball Tournament and the College World Series. This marked the second time in history Clemson participated in all three in the same academic year (1979-80).

*Fifteen of Clemson's 18 teams participated in postseason play, including nine of a possible 10 team invitations to NCAA postseason tournaments or bowl game. The nine teams who advanced to postseason play as a team were football, men's basketball, women's basketball, men's soccer, women's soccer, men's tennis, women's tennis, golf, and baseball.

*Seven different teams, including four spring sports teams, finished in the top 20 of their respective polls or NCAA Tournaments.

*All 11 of Clemson's teams that have regular season dual meets or games had a .500 record or better and 10 of the 11 had a winning percentage of .600 or better.

*Eleven of Clemson's 18 teams were ranked in the top 25 of their respective polls at one time or another in 1995-96.

*Ten different Clemson teams had an All-American in 1995-96 and seven different teams (out of a possible 11) had wins over a top 25 team.

*Clemson had its best year ever in terms of television exposure. Seven different sports appeared on regional or national live television a total of 41 times in 1995-96.

*The 1995-96 academic year was also a showcase year for Clemson's athletic facilities. Clemson played host to NCAA Tournament events in men's soccer, women's basketball, men's tennis and baseball.

Clemson has now played host to 33 different NCAA Tournaments in six different sports over the years. Additionally, Clemson was the host of the Carolina Panthers of the NFL in 1995.

*Clemson was also a big year for former Tigers. A total of 21 former players played in the NFL, 22 former players were in professional baseball (including four in the major leagues) and five more alums played in the NBA.

Team Accomplishments

*The Clemson baseball team won 51 games, the NCAA Atlantic Regional and advanced to the College World Series. The Tigers won two games in Omaha and thus advanced to the Final Four, the furthest Clemson has ever gone in the NCAA Baseball Tournament. The Tigers won 13 games over top 25 teams, including a victory over number-one ranked Alabama at the CWS.

The Tiger baseball team featured outstanding pitching, leading the nation in ERA with a 3.02 mark. Clemson became just the second school in the history of the major league baseball draft to have two players chosen within the first five selections. Kris Benson was chosen number-one by Pittsburgh and Billy Koch was the fourth selection overall by Toronto. Clemson had five pitchers chosen within the first 10 rounds of the draft.

*The Clemson football team won its last five regular season games, including a 21-point win over arch-rival South Carolina, and was selected for the 1996 Gator Bowl on January 1. It was Clemson's first appearance in a January 1, coalition bowl game since the 1991 season. The Tigers finished in third place in the ACC standings, two spots higher than the preseason prediction, and just one win away from tying for the ACC title.

A record seven Clemson players appeared in the top 25 of various NCAA statistics rankings. As a team, Clemson was fourth in the nation in rushing, sixth in interceptions and 10th in scoring defense. Clemson was the only team in the nation to have a player ranked in the top 25 of all four special teams categories.

*The Clemson men's basketball team was chosen for the NCAA men's basketball Tournament in March, its first appearance in the event since 1990. The Tigers defeated four top 25 teams, its second highest total for a single season in Clemson history. The Tigers were ranked in the top 25 for six straight weeks at one point, reaching a high of number 16 on January 8, 1996.

Among the ranked wins was a 14-point victory over a sixth-ranked Wake Forest team, the highest ranked win by an ACC team in 1995-96. The highlight of the season took place in the ACC Tournament where Clemson upset 19th-ranked North Carolina 75-73 on a dunk by Greg Buckner with less than one second left. It was Clemson's first ever victory over the Tar Heels in the ACC Tournament.

*Clemson's women's basketball team had a landmark season, winning the first ACC basketball championship in the school's history. Clemson defeated Duke for the championship and Virginia in the semifinals. It was the third time Clemson had beaten the top 10 Cavaliers in 1995-96.

Jim Davis's team recorded five top 25 wins in the season that featured 23 victories, second highest total in Clemson history. In winning the ACC Tournament, Clemson placed a record four Lady Tigers on the all-tournament team. The group was led by tournament MVP Laura Cottrell.

*Clemson's women's tennis team concluded another top 20 season. The highlight was the Eastern Regional championship in a tournament played at Columbia, SC. Clemson had to defeat top 20 South Carolina and Georgia teams in consecutive matches to qualify for the round of 16 at the NCAAs. Clemson won both matches by 5-4 scores. Chuck Kriese's men's program also advanced to the NCAA regionals.

*The men's and women's soccer team both advanced to the NCAA tournament and both were ranked in the final top 20 of their respective final polls. It was the second straight bid for the Lady Tigers, quite an accomplishment for a program in just its second year.

The Clemson men's team was ranked fifth in the final poll and advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament. Trevor Adair's team recorded a pair of top 10 road wins in 1995, at North Carolina (2-1) and at Santa Clara (1-0).

*The Clemson swimming program posted its best combined record in seven years. The men were 8-3 and the women were 7-3. The Lady Tigers were ranked for three weeks during the season, the first top 25 ranking for a Clemson swimming program in seven years. Bruce Marchionda's team defeated South Carolina in both the men's women's events for the first time since 1989.

*The Clemson men's track team finished 17th at the NCAA outdoor meet. The team had seven different athletes win All-America certificates in nine different events at the national meet held in Eugene, OR. The Lady Tigers also competed in the NCAAs in indoor and outdoor track and were finished 33rd indoors and 45th outdoors.

*The Clemson golf team advanced to the NCAA national tournament for the 15th straight year and finished the season ranked 14th in the country. The team had three All-Americans in Charles Warren, Richard Coughlan and Joey Maxon. Maxon finished ninth at the NCAA Tournament at Chattanooga, TN and Coughlan was 16th, just the third time in Clemson history the Tigers had two in the final top 20 of the event.

Individual Accomplishments

Kris Benson was Clemson's most decorated athlete of 1995-96 and perhaps the most acclaimed athlete in Clemson history.

Benson was named College Player of the Year and was the first selection of the major league draft.

Benson became the second athlete in Clemson history to be named National Player of the Year. He was honored by Collegiate Baseball, Baseball America and the American Baseball Coach's Association. Additionally, Benson became the first athlete in Clemson history to be the first pick of any professional draft.

Jerome Robinson was 8-16 with two home runs in the NCAA Atlantic Regional and was named the MVP of the event. He also had a slugging percentage of 1.000 and had 11 RBIs.

Anthony Simmons was named the National Freshman of the Year by United Press International. The Tiger linebacker was also named ACC Rookie of the Year and a third-team All-American by Associated Press, the first ACC first-year freshman in history to be named an All-American by that organization as a position player.

Raymond Priester set the Clemson single game and single season rushing records in 1995. He had 263 yards against Duke in November and accumulated 1322 yards for the season, also a new mark. He set seven Clemson rushing records overall.

Brian Dawkins was named a second team All-American, finished sixth in the nation in interceptions and was a second-round draft choice of the Philadelphia Eagles. He was named National Defensive Player of the Week when he had three interceptions in one quarter against Duke.

Wolde Harris led the Tigers in scoring with 51 points and 21 total goals. He had seven game winning goals and became Clemson's career goal scoring leader during the 1995 season. The first-team All-American concluded his career with 76 goals.

Laura Cottrell became Clemson's second ACC Tournament MVP in history. The junior had 10 points and 12 rebounds in the championship game victory over Duke and had 14 points and 16 rebounds in the semi-final victory over Virginia.

Wendy Henson became a women's swimming All-American in her freshman year. She finished 12th in the 200 free to claim All-America honors, the first Lady Tiger to win All-America honors since 1992.

Sophie Woorons advanced to the semi-finals of the NCAA individual women's tennis tournament, just the second Lady Tiger in history to do that. She was named the MVP of the Atlantic Coast Conference and posted a 31-11 overall record. She was named an All-American.

Treshell Mayo was an All-American indoors and outdoors for the Lady Tiger track team in 1995-96. She finished fifth in the 200 meters at the indoor meet in Indianapolis and sixth in the same event at the outdoor meet in Eugene, OR.

Carlton Chambers pulled off the All-America double at the NCAA outdoor men's track meet at Eugene, OR as he finished fourth in the 100 meters and sixth in the 200 meters.

Academic Accomplishments

Andye McCrorey, a starter on Clemson's football team, was named a first-team Academic All-American by the CFA. McCrorey, a graduate student in sociology, also was a recipient of the ACC's Weaver-James Award for outstanding performance in the classroom and on the field.

*Starting third baseman Paul Galloway, a second-team All-ACC player on the first, completed his eighth straight semester of 4.0 in the classroom and was named to the ACC Academic Honor Roll for the fourth straight year. He is just the third Tiger in history to be a four-time selection in baseball.

Kris Benson, Matt LeCroy, Sophie Woorons, Dana Quick, Mitch Sprengelmeyer, and Bruce Li were named All-American in the field of competition and to the ACC Academic Honor roll in the classroom.

*Clemson student-athletes combined for a 2.57 GPA in the classroom in the spring semester of 1996, the highest figure on record. A total of 124 student-athletes made the academic honor roll, the second highest figure on record.

*Every Clemson athlete team achieved at least a 2.0 for the year, and four teams achieved their highest team GPAs on record.

Clemson University

Tillman Hall

Money Guide's 1996 issue of "Your Best College Buys Now," ranks Clemson in the top 30 nationwide and the top 10 in the southeast among the nation's best college values.

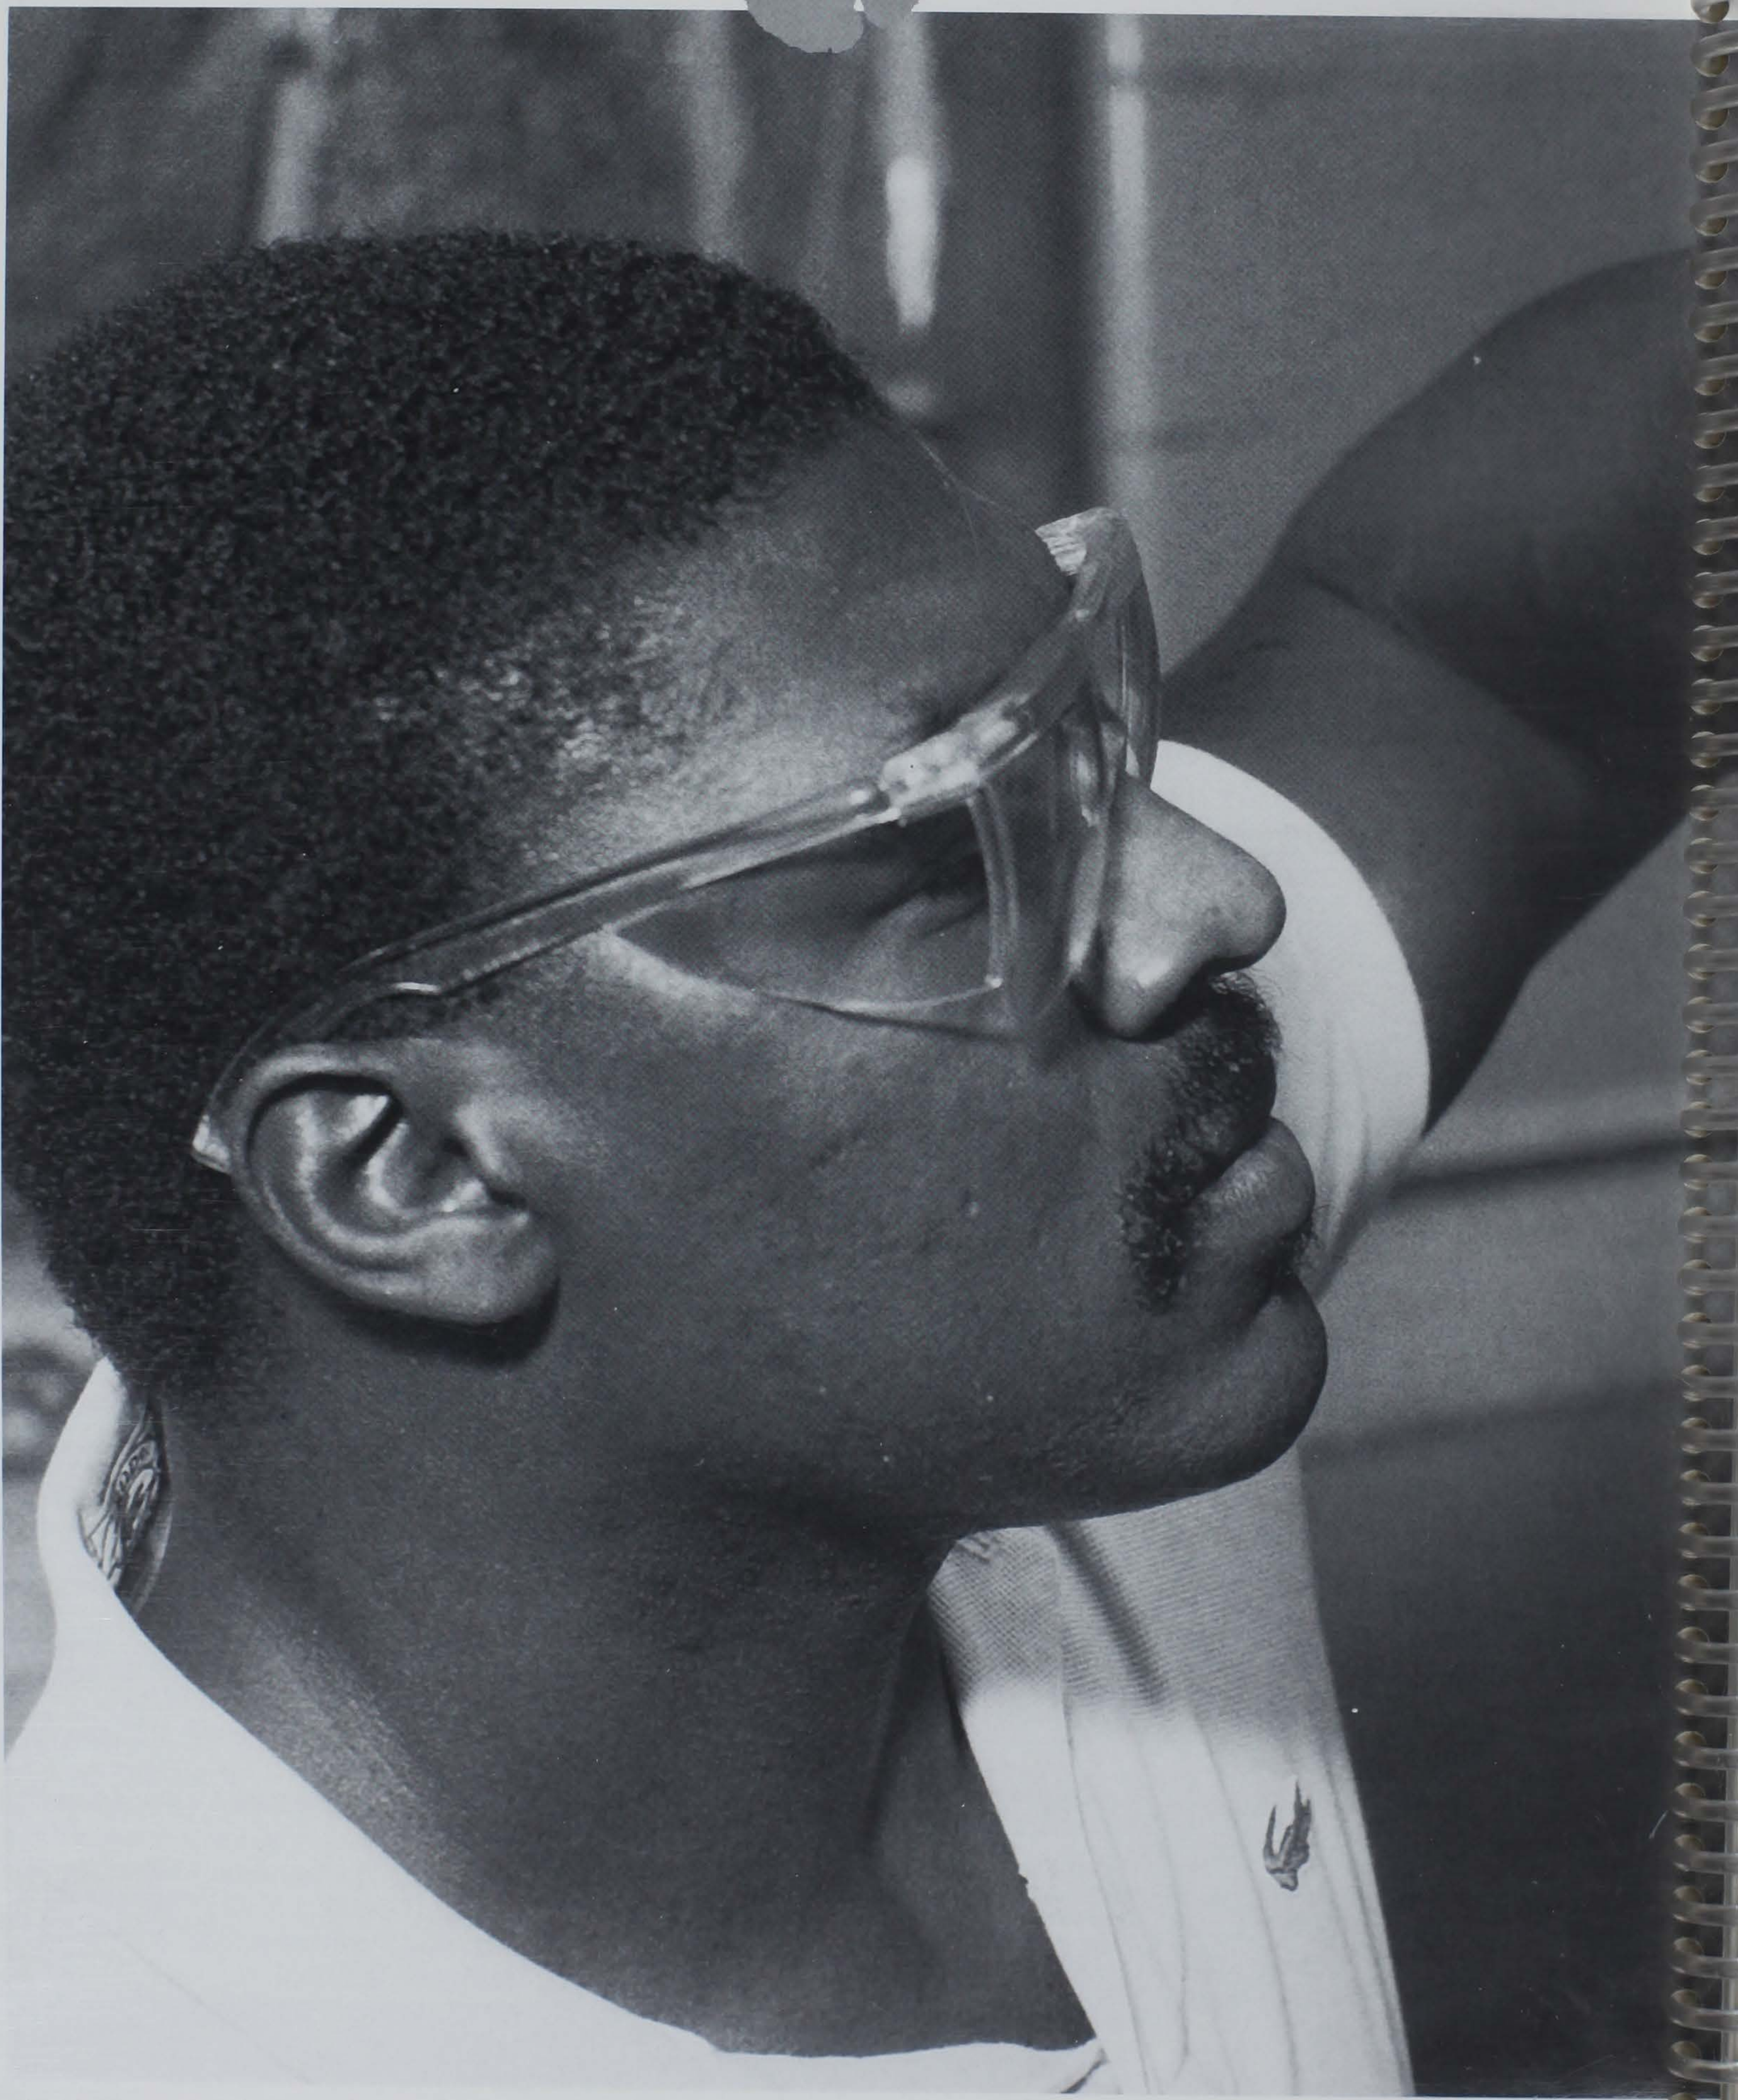

*Clemson features a diverse curriculum, there are 73 undergraduate degree programs.

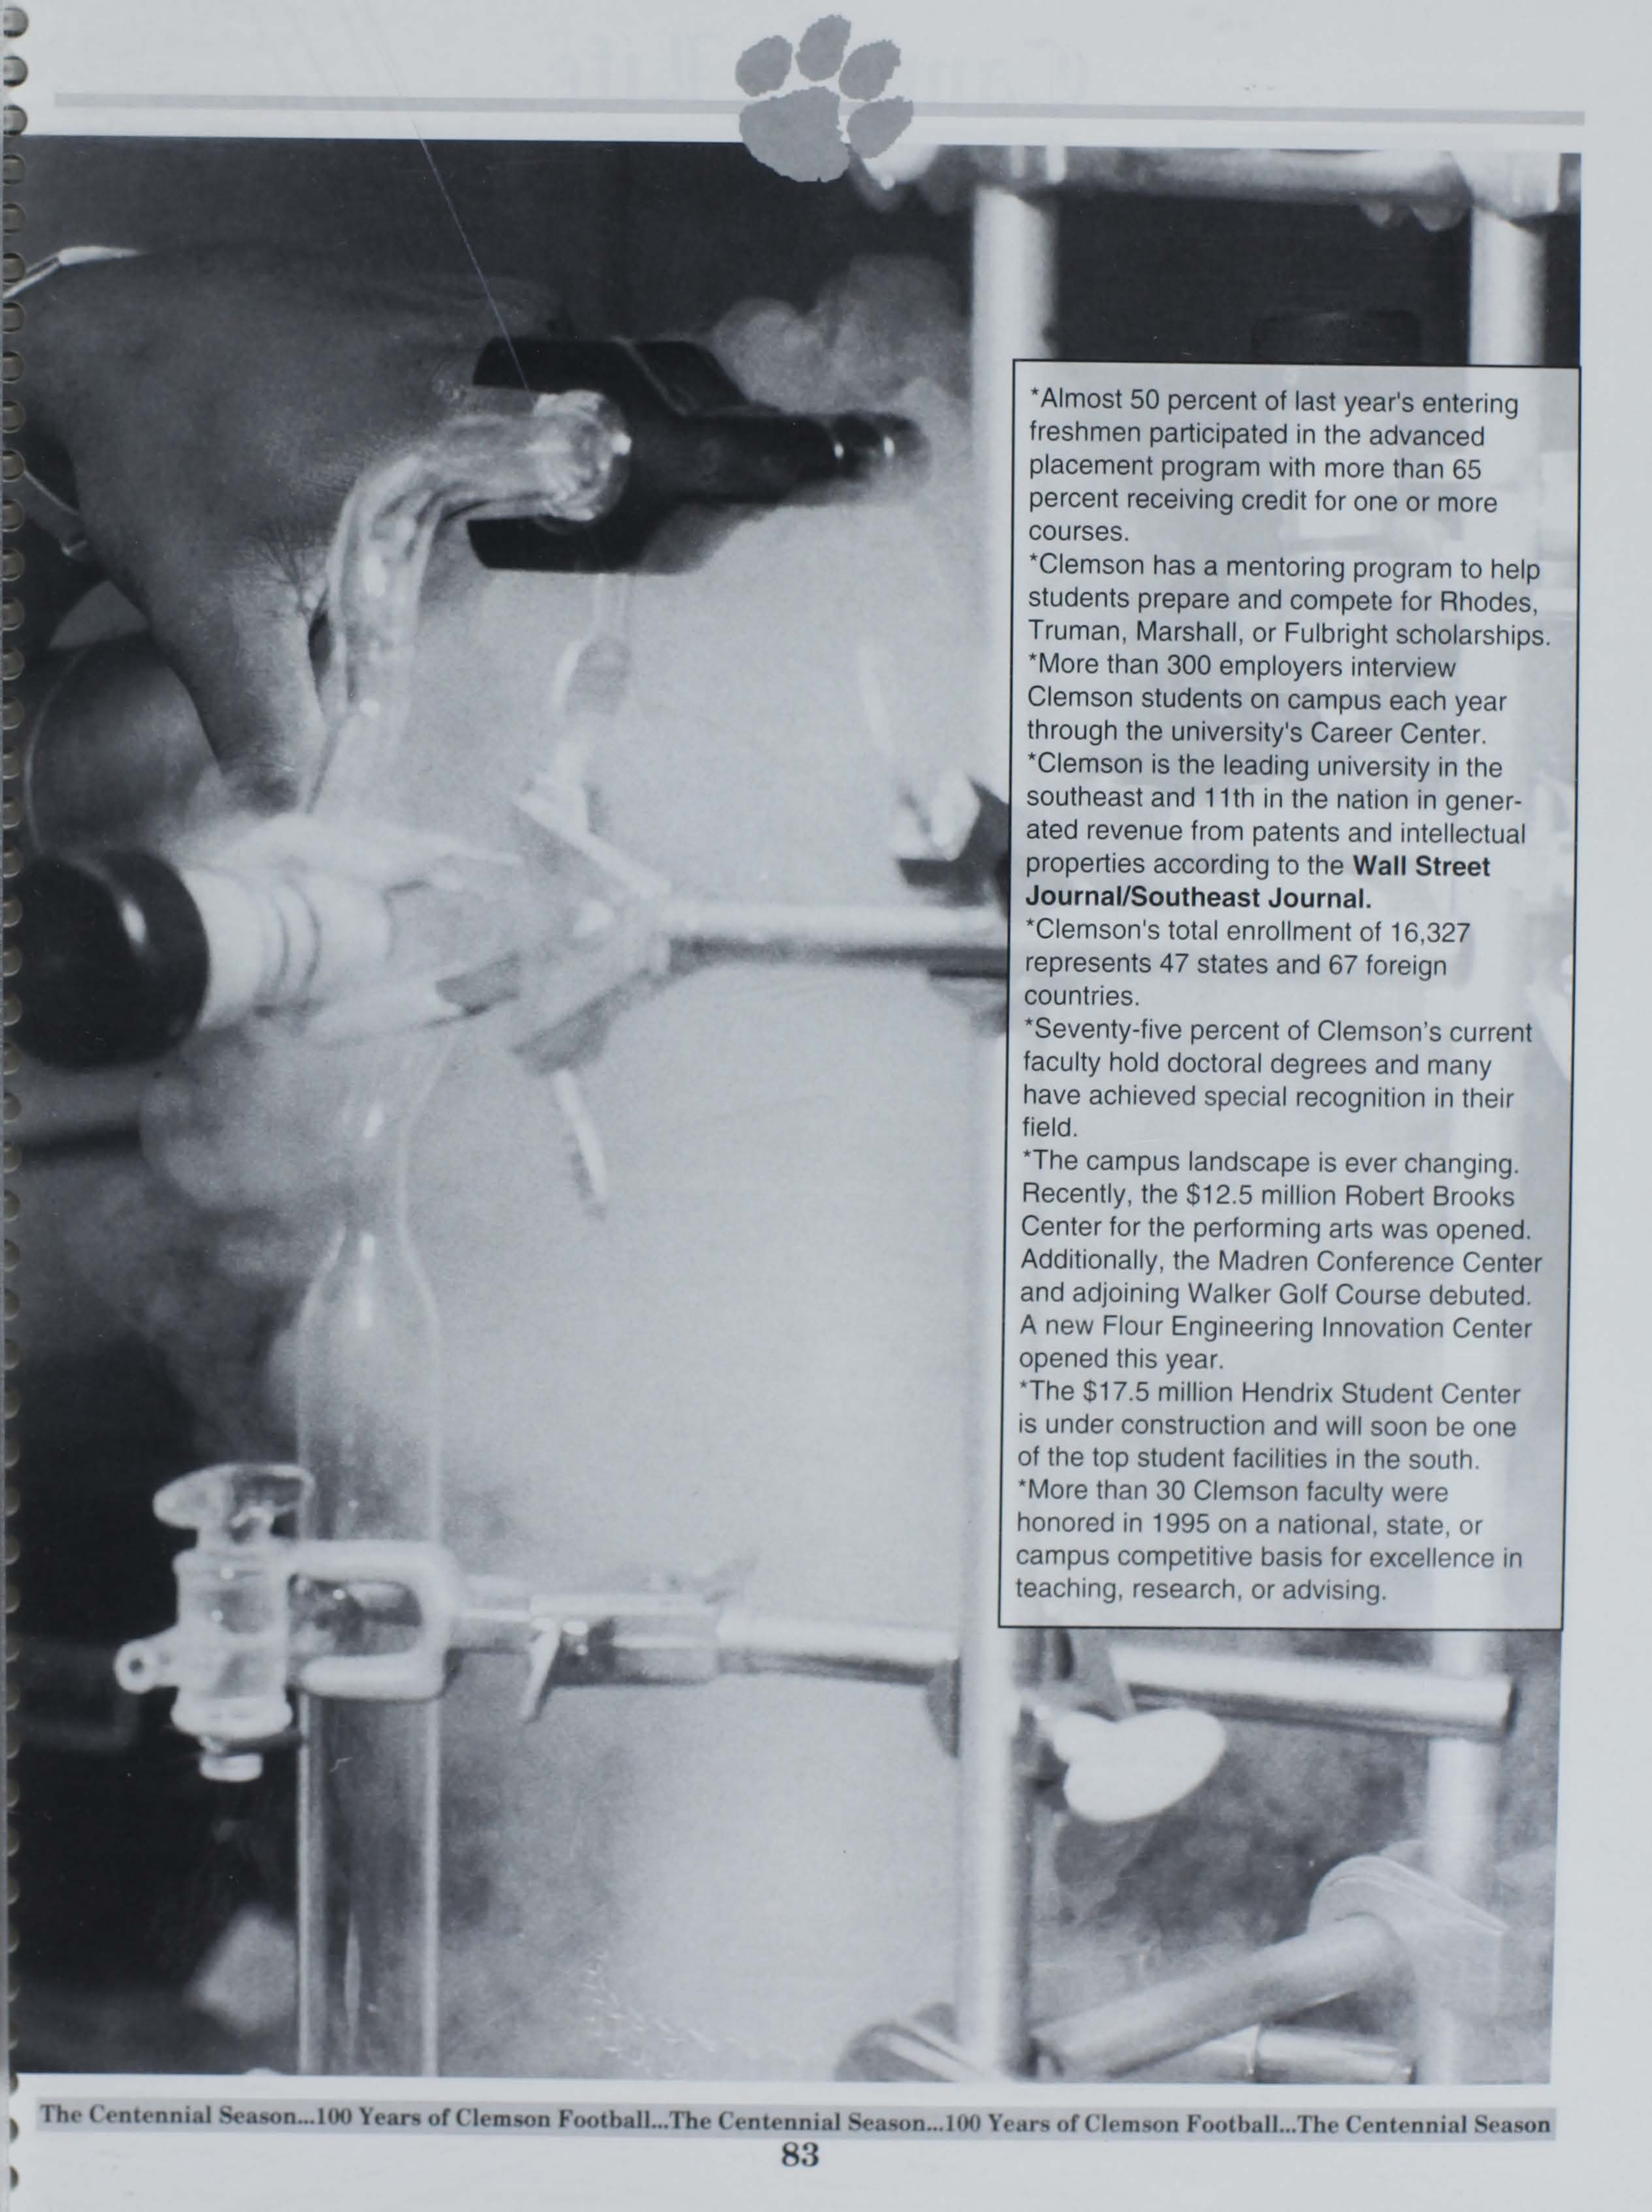

*There is plenty of room for individual attention in the classroom, Clemson features a student to instructor ratio of 18/1 and an average class size of 25 students.

*Campus features 1400 acres of rolling hills on what once was the plantation of former US Vice President John C. Calhoun.

*Clemson opened in 1893 with 446 students as an all-male military school. In 1955 it lost its military school heritage and became a civilian co-educational college. It was re-named Clemson University in 1964.

*Clemson features a competitive student body, and thus a degree that has meaning. Thirty-one percent of Clemson's freshmen class ranked in the top 10 percent of their high school class and the average SAT of entering freshmen was 1140.

*Almost 50 percent of last year's entering freshmen participated in the advanced placement program with more than 65 percent receiving credit for one or more courses.

*Clemson has a mentoring program to help students prepare and compete for Rhodes, Truman, Marshall, or Fulbright scholarships.

*More than 300 employers interview Clemson students on campus each year through the university's Career Center.

*Clemson is the leading university in the southeast and 11th in the nation in generated revenue from patents and intellectual properties according to the Wall Street Journal/Southeast Journal.

*Clemson's total enrollment of 16,327 represents 47 states and 67 foreign countries.

*Seventy-five percent of Clemson's current faculty hold doctoral degrees and many have achieved special recognition in their field.

*The campus landscape is ever changing. Recently, the $12.5 million Robert Brooks Center for the performing arts was opened. Additionally, the Madren Conference Center and adjoining Walker Golf Course debuted. A new Flour Engineering Innovation Center opened this year.

*The $17.5 million Hendrix Student Center is under construction and will soon be one of the top student facilities in the south.

*More than 30 Clemson faculty were honored in 1995 on a national, state, or campus competitive basis for excellence in teaching, research, or advising.

Campus Life

Whether its walking to the Agriculture Sales Center to have a milkshake or taking a stroll through the Botanical Gardens or even taking part in a pick-up basketball game at Fike Recreation Center, there are plenty of activities for Clemson students when they are not in the classroom.

The campus is in a picturesque setting in upstate South Carolina. It is surrounded by mountains and Lake Hartwell, which borders the west side of campus and is in walking distance of Littlejohn Coliseum. The beach area on campus provides a relaxing setting for study, recreation, and reflection.

Clemson has more than 230 student organizations that are active on campus, including 23 social fraternities and 14 social sororities. There are organizations related to every course of study. For students who enjoy writing or photography, the Tiger, the campus newspaper, TAPS, the university yearbook; or the Chronicle, the student variety magazine, are available. For those who are interested in broadcasting there is a student-operated radio station, WSBF-FM, broadcasting news, information, and music 24 hours a day.

Located in the University Union are the offices of the student government. Student government gives students the opportunity to influence campus policy. Also in the University Union is the campus entertainment center. There are lounges, bowling alleys, video games, billiard tables, and Edgar's all located at the campus entertainment center. A new student union is currently under construction and should be completed in 1997.

Fike Recreation Center has a host of opportunities for students to let off steam through physical activity. Inside Fike is an eight-lane swimming pool, a diving tank, two gyms used for basketball and other activities, various weight lifting facilities, and room for aerobics. Outside Fike are several spacious fields used for the extensive intramural program and for student enjoyment. There are indoor and lighted outdoor tennis courts across the street from Fike at the Hoke A. Sloan Tennis Center.

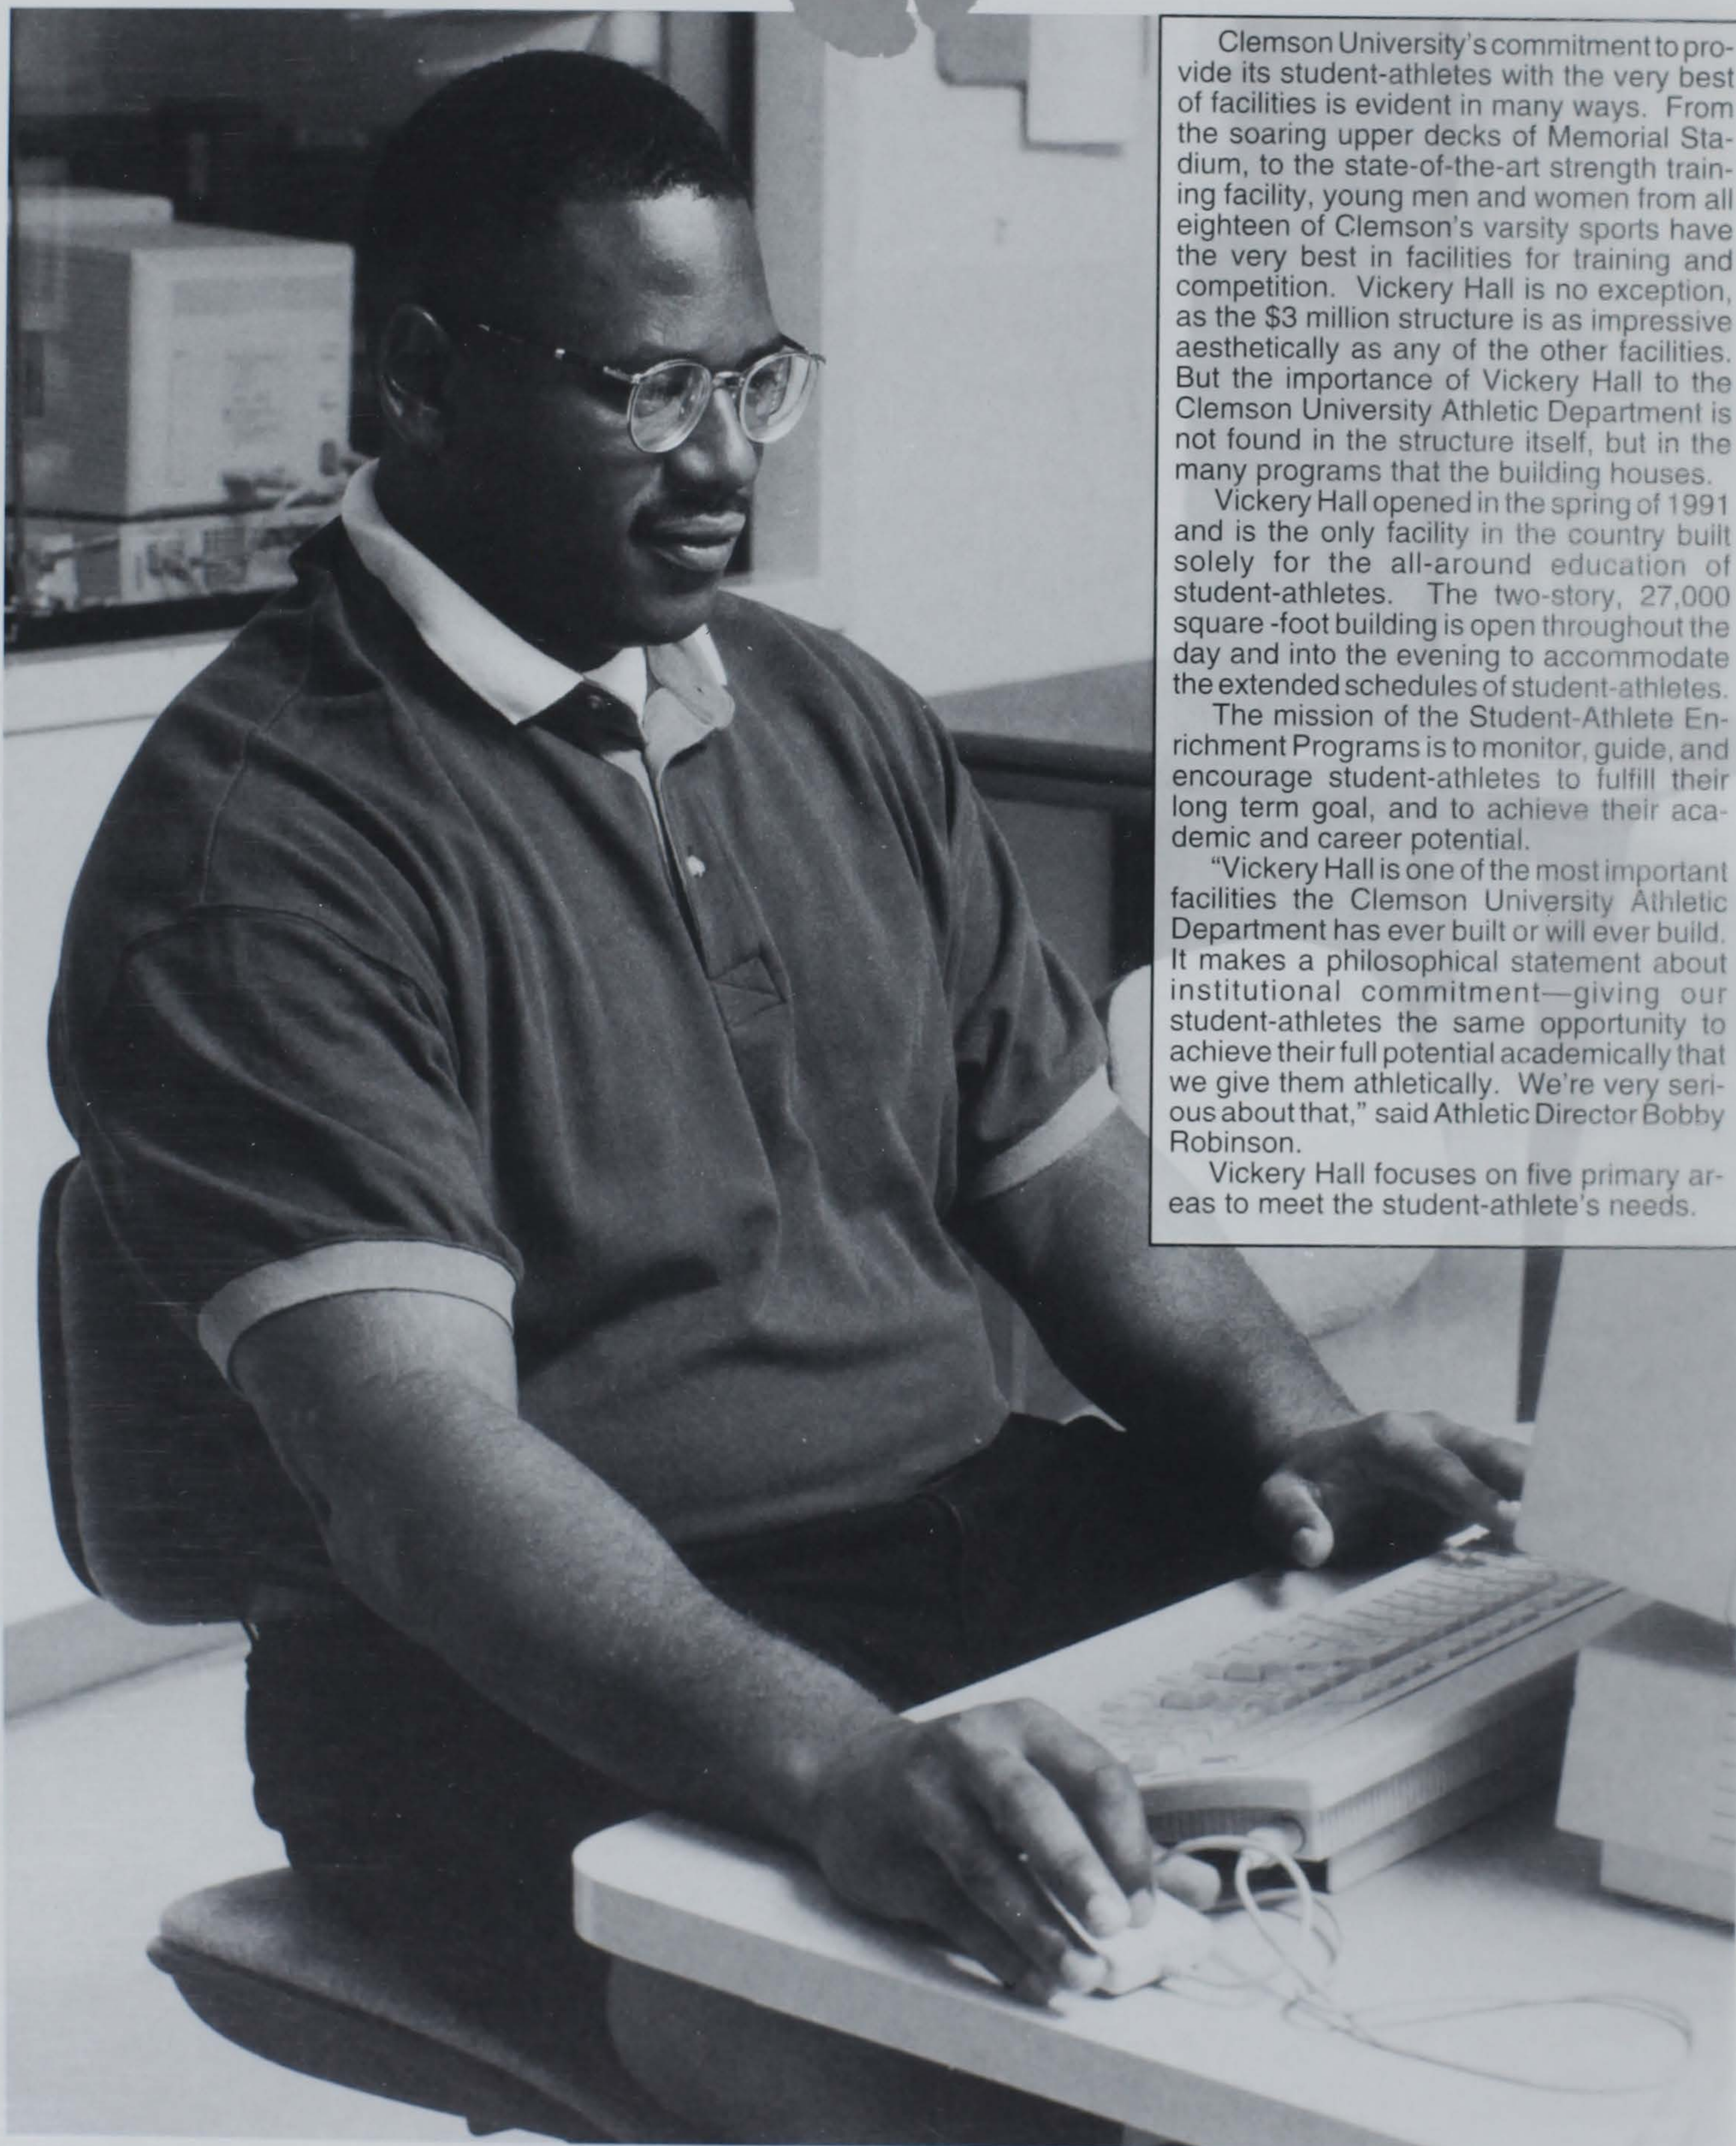

Mick Jagger, Elton John and Billy Joel have all performed at Death Valley in recent years.

Clemson's new Walker Golf Course and Madren Conference Center are two of the exciting new additions to the Clemson landscape. The golf course features the Tiger Paw 17th hole.

Vickery Hall

Clemson University's commitment to provide its student-athletes with the very best of facilities is evident in many ways. From the soaring upper decks of Memorial Stadium, to the state-of-the-art strength training facility, young men and women from all eighteen of Clemson's varsity sports have the very best in facilities for training and competition. Vickery Hall is no exception, as the $3 million structure is as impressive aesthetically as any of the other facilities. But the importance of Vickery Hall to the Clemson University Athletic Department is not found in the structure itself, but in the many programs that the building houses.

Vickery Hall opened in the spring of 1991 and is the only facility in the country built solely for the all-around education of student-athletes. The two-story, 27,000 square-foot building is open throughout the day and into the evening to accommodate the extended schedules of student-athletes.

The mission of the Student-Athlete Enrichment Programs is to monitor, guide, and encourage student-athletes to fulfill their long term goal, and to achieve their academic and career potential.

"Vickery Hall is one of the most important facilities the Clemson University Athletic Department has ever built or will ever build. It makes a philosophical statement about institutional commitment—giving our student-athletes the same opportunity to achieve their full potential academically that we give them athletically. We're very serious about that," said Athletic Director Bobby Robinson.

Vickery Hall focuses on five primary areas to meet the student-athlete's needs.

Warren Forney earned two degrees during his playing career and now has full-time employment with the athletic department. He made good use of the facilities at Vickery Hall.

Academic Support

Clemson's Student-Athlete Enrichment Programs have provided one of the best academic support and advising programs in the nation.

The Academic Counselor performs a variety of duties to track academic progress. Their duties include providing assistance in registration and priority scheduling, contacting faculty, personally checking classes, recording information, counseling sessions with student-athletes, providing diagnostic testing, and directing career aspirations.

The academic support goals are to improve academic performance, assist student-athletes to become goal oriented, and promote all student-athletes to maintain good scholarship, and promote independence in the academic arena.

Tutoring

One of the most prestigious programs that has received recognition essential to the growth of Vickery Hall is the tutorial program.

The Student-Athlete Enrichment Program has been granted a Level 1 certification from the College of Reading and Learning Association, International Tutor Certification Program. Of the one hundred programs certified by CRLA, the Clemson Student-Athlete Enrichment Programs is one of two student-athlete programs in the country to achieve this Level 1 distinction.

Having tutor certification will enable student-athletes to be provided the highest quality of academic assistance possible. Approximately eighty tutors are hired to provide academic support in the many subject areas offered.

Computing Facilities

The Department of Student-Athlete Enrichment Programs has recognized the need for students to have access to high-quality computing equipment and has made a commitment to provide the student-athletes at Clemson with the largest computer lab in the country. Located on the first floor of Vickery Hall is the Department of Student-Athlete Enrichment Programs' Microcomputer Laboratory. The lab is open seven days a week, for 16 hours on Monday through Thursday, and limited time on Saturday and Sunday. During exam periods the lab hours are extended.

The lab staff consists of graduate students, many of whom are pursuing advanced degrees in computer science. Lab staff members are available for tutoring of any Computer Science course, as well as the many management, engineering and business courses that deal with personal computers. Student-athletes may also arrange tutoring sessions outside normal lab hours any time during the school year.

The Student-Athlete Enrichment Program is committed to providing state-of-the-art computing facilities. Seventeen new computers have recently been purchased and an additional purchase of 15 new computers is slated for the next academic year. A new computer lab has been constructed and make a total of 40 computers available for student-athletes.

All computers feature comprehensive software packages that enable student-athletes to complete assignments successfully. All computers are fully connected to the internet allowing for access of computers throughout the world for research and communication.

Career Assistance Program

The Student-Athlete Career Assistance Program is one of the most important programs provided by the staff of Vickery Hall. The philosophy of this program is to provide student-athletes with job searching skills and strategies, internships, practicum experience as well as summer employment. These programs are designed to address specific career opportunities through a program that uses each year to gain information on the student-athletes.

By using the resources available to the University, Alumni Center and the Athletic Department, former Tiger gridder James Earle is working to establish a network of businesses, companies, and executives who will help assist with The Summer Employment Assistance Program. The program's main goal is to provide the student-athlete with job experience and a work history, which he or she can apply to his or her academic discipline.

The Long Term Career Assistance Program, also coordinated by Earle, will be coordinated from the academic colleges, the Placement Center, and through the Athletic Department contacts. This program is designed to better prepare the student-athlete for full-time employment and will focus on resume writing and interview techniques.

Personal Growth Program

Another aspect of Clemson University's commitment to help student-athletes reach their potential in all areas of their life—academically, athletically, and socially, is the personal growth program. This particular area of student development is designed to enhance and support the lives of student-athletes during their enrollment in college as well as in their life experiences after graduation.

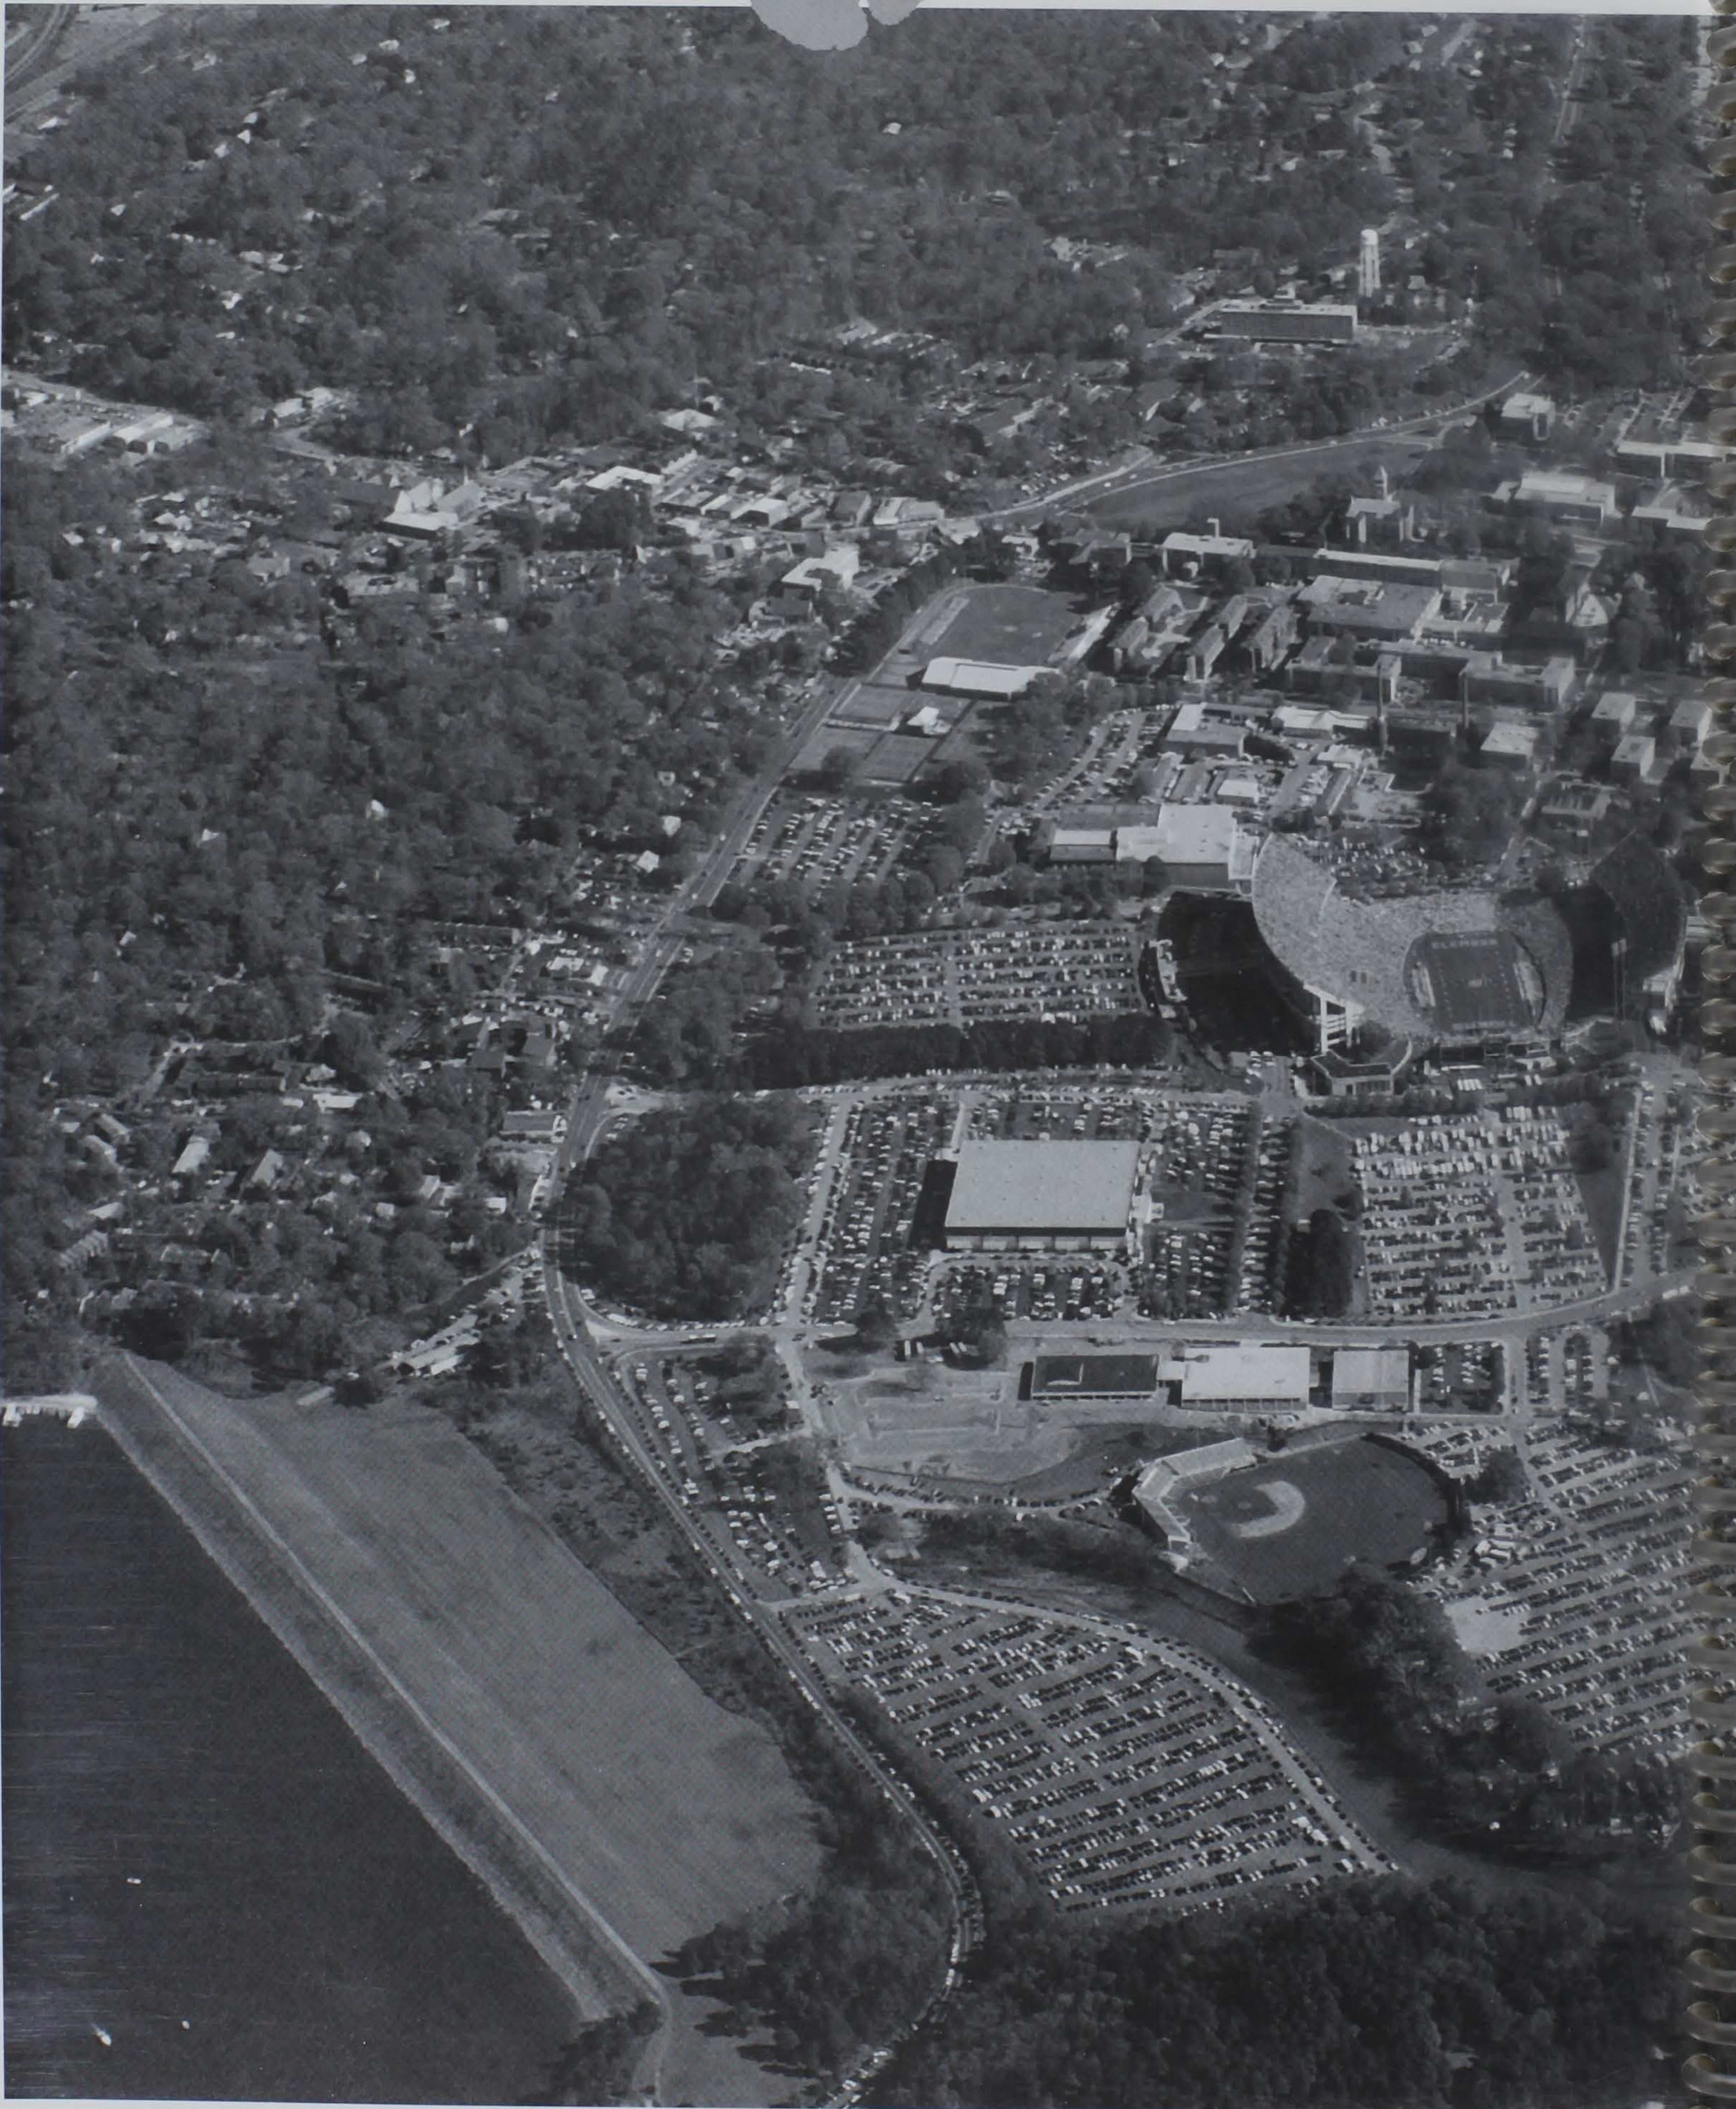

The Vickery Hall Staff realizes that student-athletes have more obligations than a regular college student. The personal growth program seeks to eliminate some of the stresses of adjustment to the higher level of academics and athletics. It is the group's special task to assist the student-athlete by creating a finely tuned balance of all areas to ensure success in obtaining a Clemson University degree, by supporting successful athletic practice and competition, enhancing personal growth, and helping with the transition to life after college.

The purpose of the Personal Growth and Development Program is to assist the student-athlete in making a successful transition into his/her university and athletic life. These programs will provide the student-athlete the opportunity to examine and explore issues and topics pertaining to his/her values, personal health and wellness, behavior, and goals. The specific topics will encompass both general transition issues and specific athletic issues as well.

Clemson has one of the largest staffs in the nation devoted to student-athlete enrichment.

The Centennial Season...100 Years of Clemson Football...The Centennial Season...100 Years of Clemson Football...The Centennial Season

The signs on the side of the highway as you enter the Clemson city limits say "Clemson: In Season Every Season." From the point of view of most Clemson graduates, the seasons this slogan speaks of are football, basketball, baseball, etc. But a drive through town in the middle of spring, when the azaleas and dogwoods are in full bloom, or a walk through campus in October, when the trees are blazing in the brilliant colors of autumn, will leave little doubt that Clemson is indeed in season, every season.

Nestled in the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains and caressed by the shores of the beautiful Lake Hartwell, Clemson is located in the northwestern corner of South Carolina, two hours north of Atlanta, GA, and two hours southwest of Charlotte, NC.

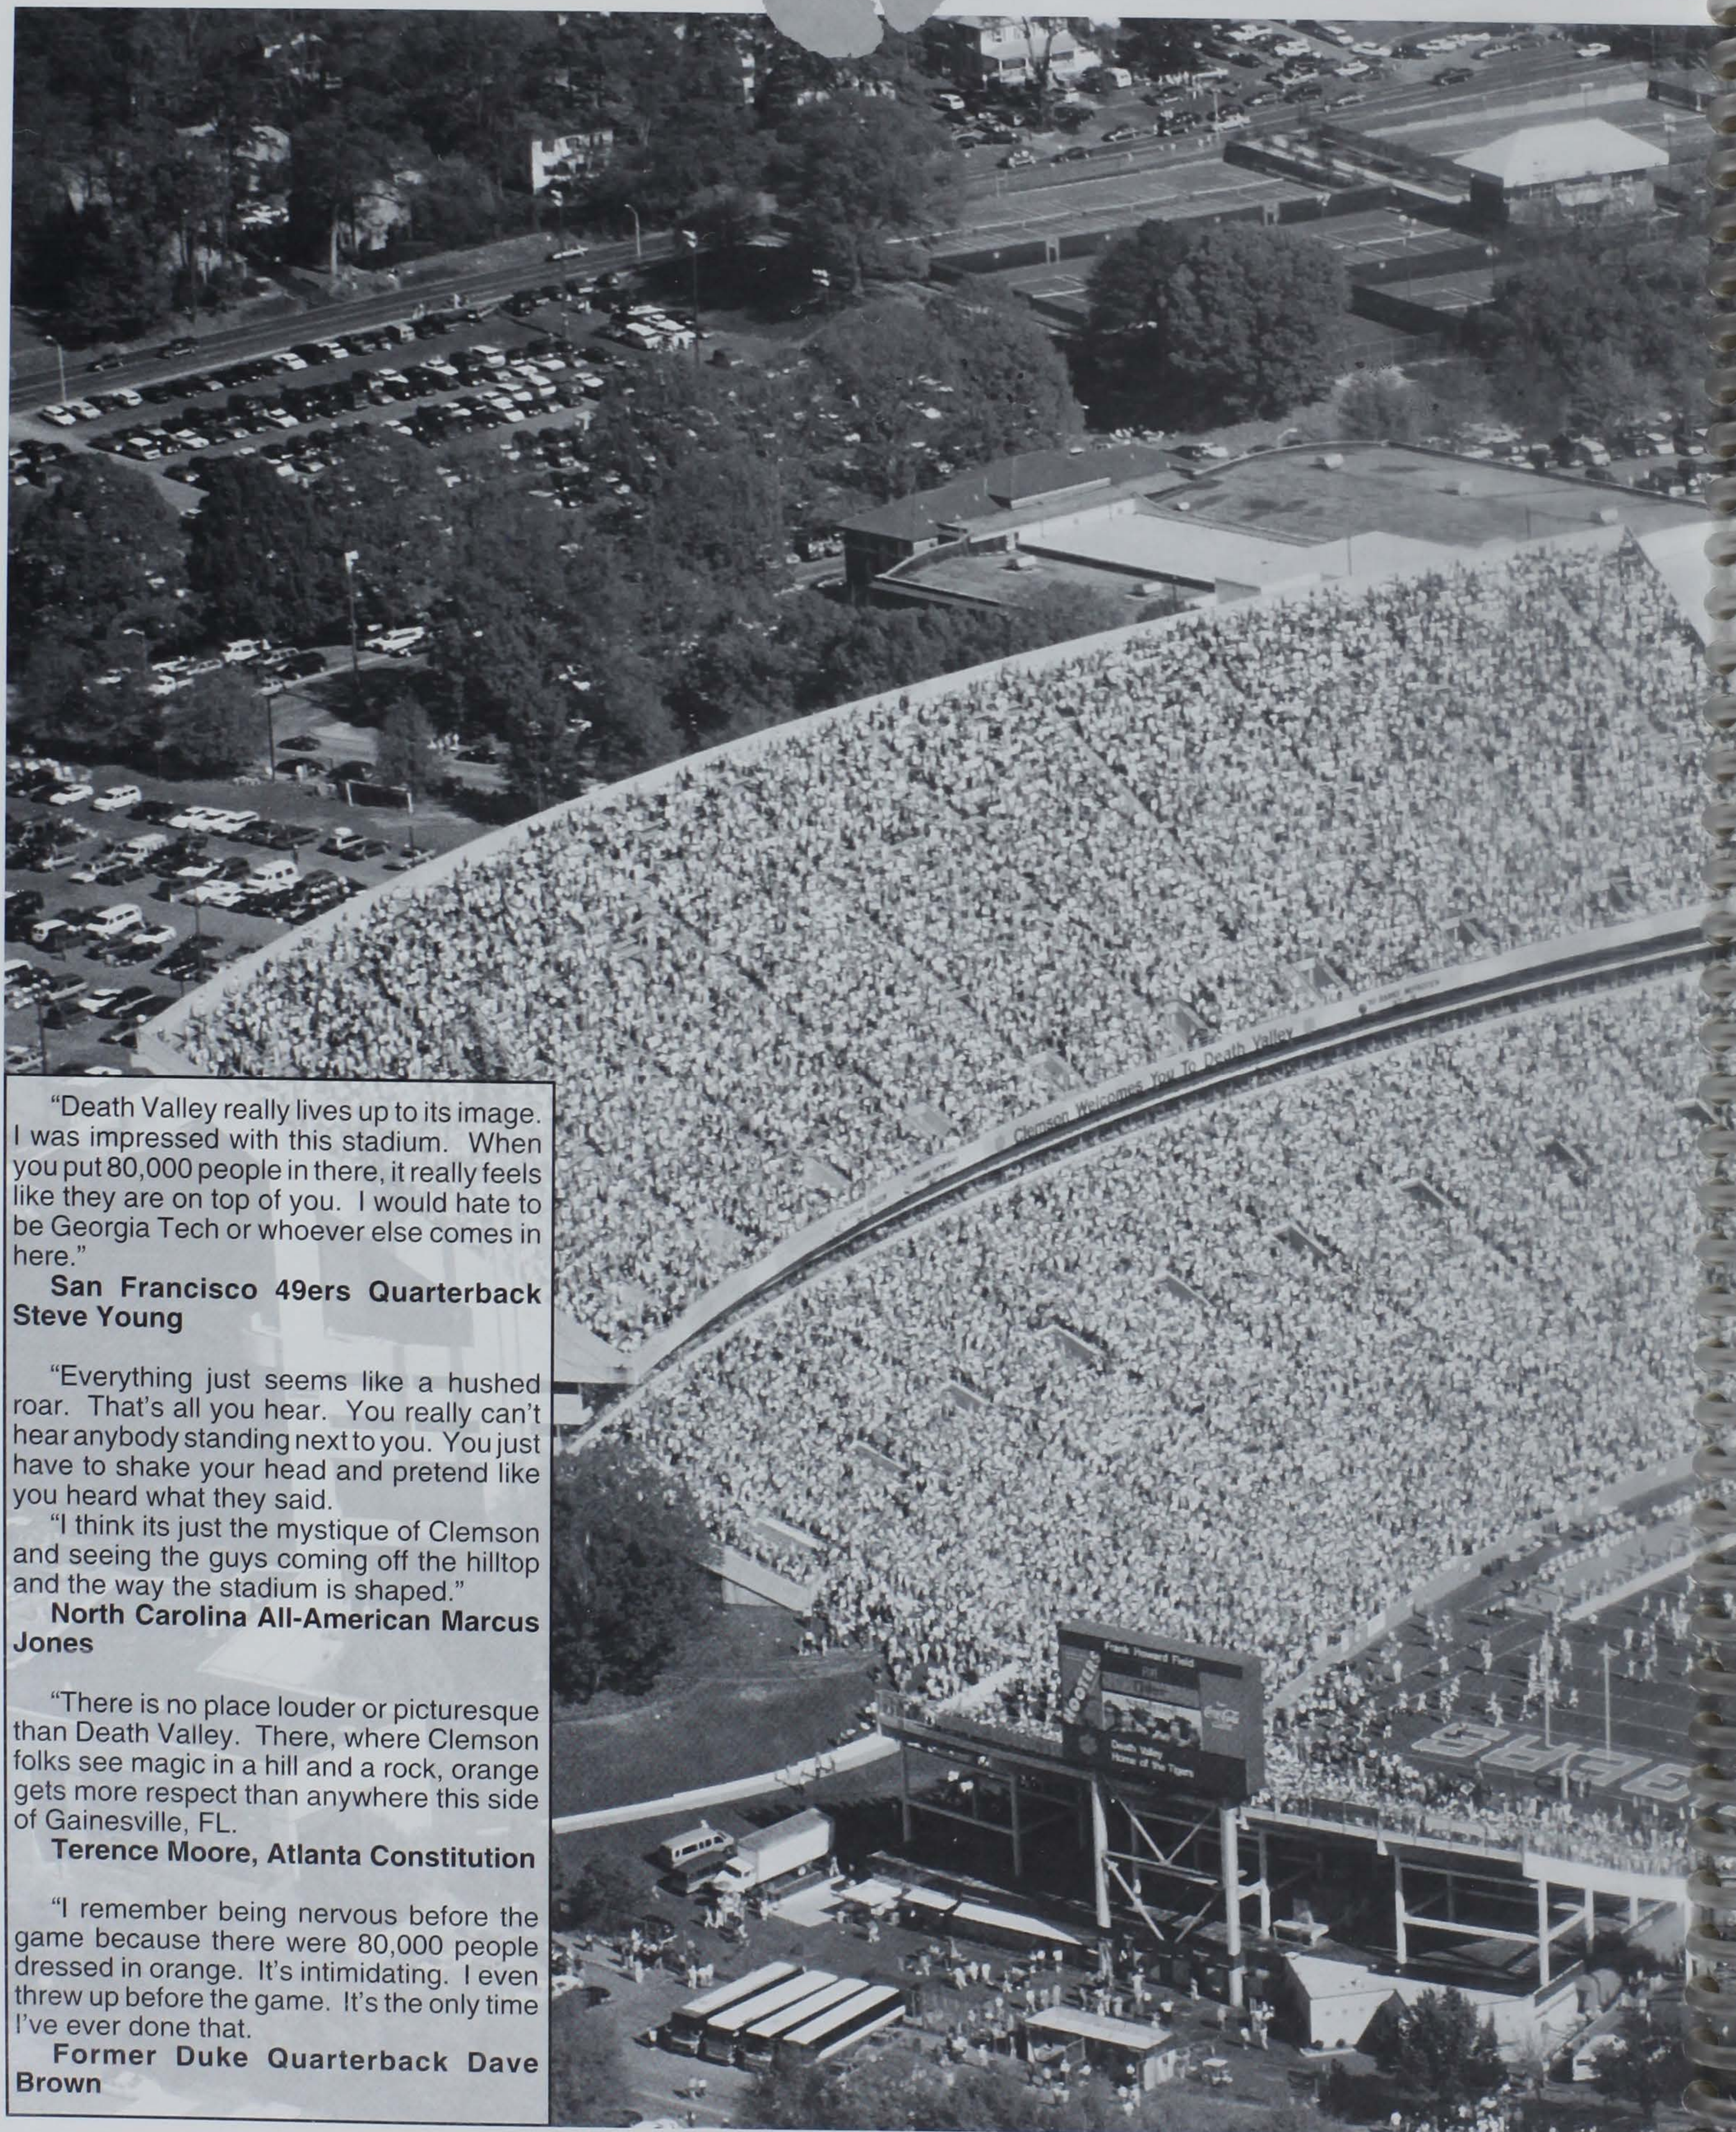

The area boasts a great variety of restaurants, ranging from the downtown barbeque and hamburger spots, to the historic Liberty Hall Inn and Calhoun Corners. Any palate or budget can find something to his or her liking, as over 50 eating establishments are located in the Clemson/Pendleton/Central area. The area adopts Clemson Fever, as Tiger Paws are omnipresent on local billboards and entrances.

The mild climate of the foothills lends itself to many outdoor activities throughout the year. Clemson has excellent and ample facilities for tennis and golf, fishing, swimming or hiking, white water rafting, and various other pursuits.

And, when one wants to leave Clemson, they don't have far to go to find whatever they are looking for. Professional sports are only a couple of hours away in Atlanta and Charlotte. Clemson was the home of the NFL's Carolina Panthers for eight regular season and two exhibition games in 1995.

For sun and fun, it's an easy interstate drive to the coast of South Carolina, to Hilton Head Island, Myrtle Beach, or even historic Charleston. All kinds of water sports are right at the campus' back door, as a 926-mile shoreline borders the edge of campus. And for those who enjoy cooler climates, the mountains of North Carolina are only an hour's drive away.

Memorial Stadium

"Death Valley really lives up to its image. I was impressed with this stadium. When you put 80,000 people in there, it really feels like they are on top of you. I would hate to be Georgia Tech or whoever else comes in here."

San Francisco 49ers Quarterback Steve Young

"Everything just seems like a hushed roar. That's all you hear. You really can't hear anybody standing next to you. You just have to shake your head and pretend like you heard what they said."

"I think it's just the mystique of Clemson and seeing the guys coming off the hilltop and the way the stadium is shaped."

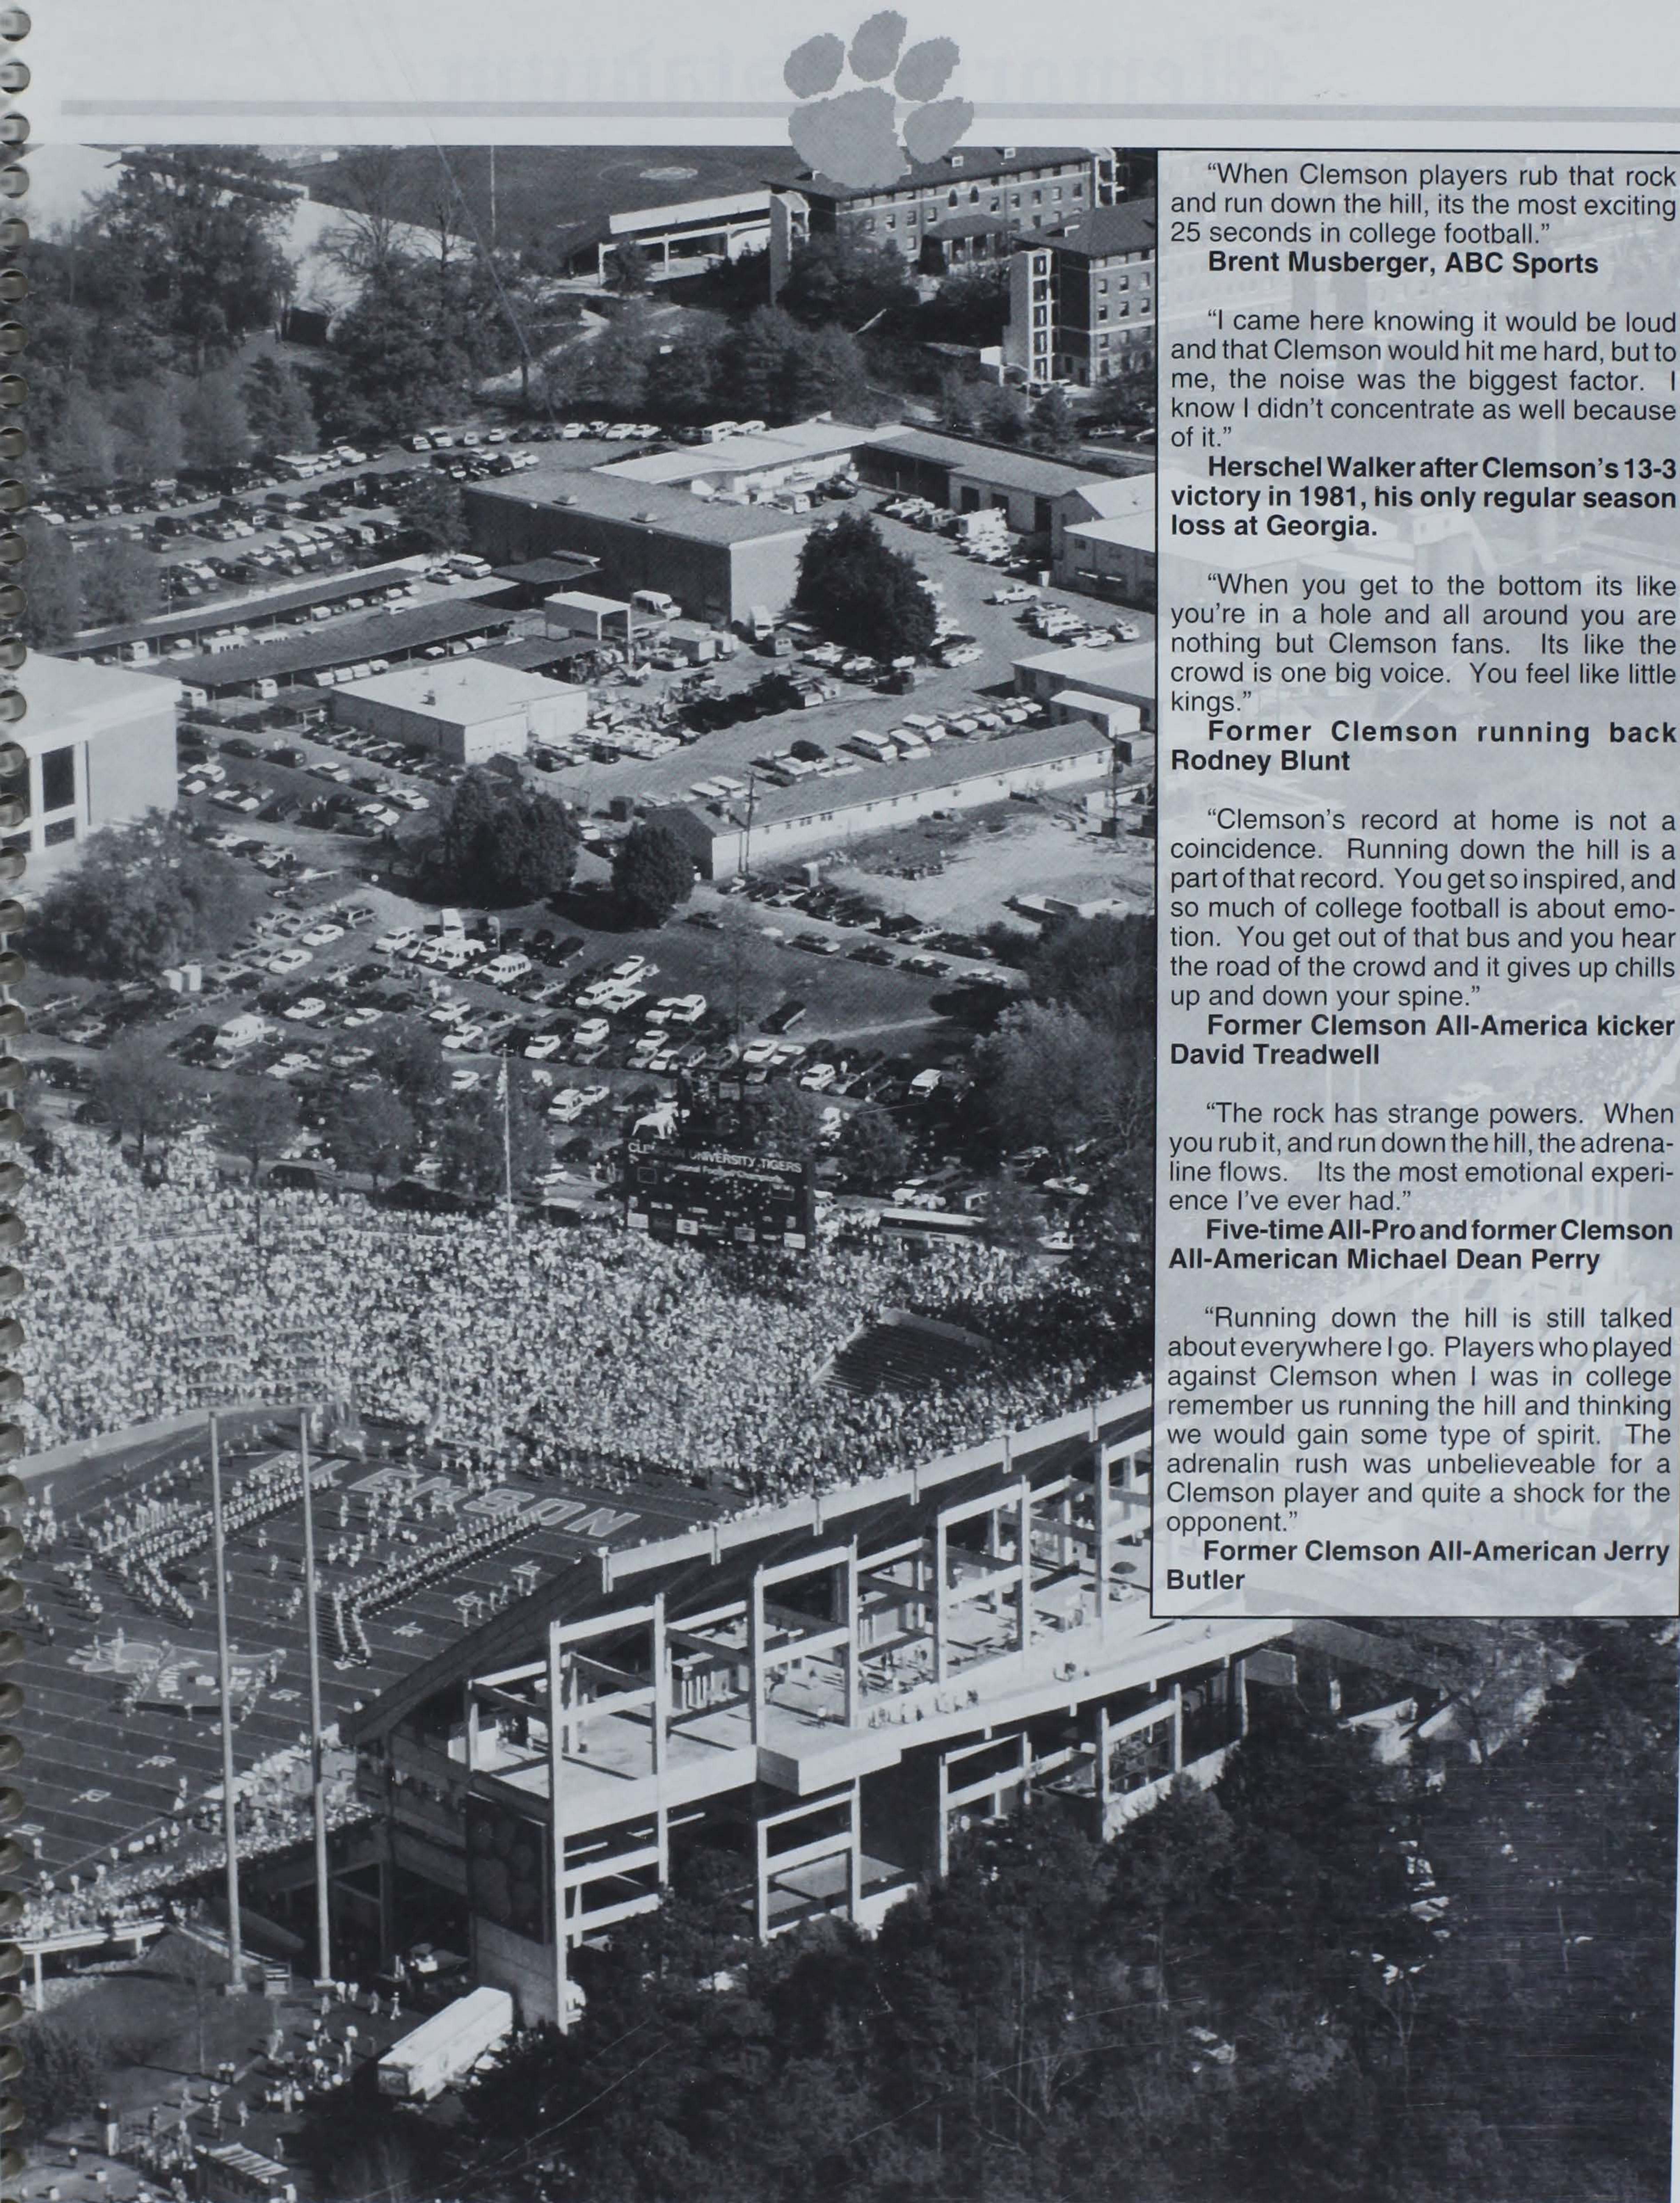

North Carolina All-American Marcus Jones

"There is no place louder or picturesque than Death Valley. There, where Clemson folks see magic in a hill and a rock, orange gets more respect than anywhere this side of Gainesville, FL."

Terence Moore, Atlanta Constitution

"I remember being nervous before the game because there were 80,000 people dressed in orange. It's intimidating. I even threw up before the game. It's the only time I've ever done that."

Former Duke Quarterback Dave Brown

"When Clemson players rub that rock and run down the hill, its the most exciting 25 seconds in college football."

Brent Musberger, ABC Sports

"I came here knowing it would be loud and that Clemson would hit me hard, but to me, the noise was the biggest factor. I know I didn't concentrate as well because of it."

Herschel Walker after Clemson's 13-3 victory in 1981, his only regular season loss at Georgia.

Former Clemson running back Rodney Blunt

"Clemson's record at home is not a coincidence. Running down the hill is a part of that record. You get so inspired, and so much of college football is about emotion. You get out of that bus and you hear the roar of the crowd and it gives up chills up and down your spine."

Former Clemson All-America kicker David Treadwell

"The rock has strange powers. When you rub it, and run down the hill, the adrenaline flows. Its the most emotional experience I've ever had."

Five-time All-Pro and former Clemson All-American Michael Dean Perry

"Running down the hill is still talked about everywhere I go. Players who played against Clemson when I was in college remember us running the hill and thinking we would gain some type of spirit. The adrenalin rush was unbelievable for a Clemson player and quite a shock for the opponent."

Former Clemson All-American Jerry Butler

Memorial Stadium

In 1991, two very special anniversaries in the Clemson football tradition were observed. Not only did the 1991 season mark the 10th anniversary of Clemson's National Championship season, but it also marked the 50th birthday of the place where the Tigers won six games that season: Memorial Stadium.

In the first 54 years of Memorial Stadium, Clemson has a record of 187-70-7, including a 29-8-1 ledger over the last six seasons. Clemson had a 16-game unbeaten streak at home between 1990-92 and has a career winning ratio of 72.0 percent.

The stadium has definitely been good to the Tigers who call it home, but the stadium was constructed against the advice of at least one Clemson coach. Just before head coach Jess Neely left for Rice University after the 1939 season, he gave Clemson a message. "Don't ever let them talk you into building a big stadium," he said. "Put about 10,000 seats behind the Y.M.C.A. That's all you'll ever need".

Instead of following Coach Neely's advice, however, Clemson officials decided to build the new stadium in a valley on the western part of campus. The place would take some clearing—there were many trees, but luckily there were no hedges.

The crews went to work: clearing, cutting, pouring, and forming. Finally, on September 19, 1942, Clemson Memorial Stadium opened with the Tiger football team thrashing Presbyterian College, 32-13. Those 20,000 seats installed for Opening Day would soon grow; and grow and grow. This year Clemson celebrates its 55th year in this outstanding facility.

When the original part of the stadium was built in the early 40's, much of the work was done by scholarship athletes, including many football players. The first staking out of the stadium was done by two members of the football team, A.N. Cameron and Hugh Webb. Webb returned to Clemson years later to be an architecture professor, and Cameron went on to become a civil engineer in Louisiana.

The building of the stadium did not proceed without a few problems. One day during the clearing of the land, one young football player proudly announced that he was not allergic to poison oak. He then commenced to attack the poison oak with a swing blade, throwing the plants to and fro. The next day, however, the boy was swollen twice his size and had to be put in the hospital.

There are many other stories about the stadium including one stating that Frank Howard put a chew of tobacco in each corner of the stadium as the concrete poured.

Howard says that the seeding of the grass caused a few problems. "About 40 people and I laid sod on the field," he says. "After three weeks, on July 15, we had only gotten halfway through.

"I told them that it had taken us three weeks to get that far, and I would give them three more week's pay for however long it took. I also told them we would have 50 gallons of ice cream when we got through. After that it took them three days to do the rest of the field. Then we sat down in the middle of the field and ate up that whole 50 gallons."

Howard says that on the day of the first game in the stadium, "the gates were hung at 1:00 pm and we played at 2:00 pm." But that would be all of the construction for a while. Then in 1958, 18,000 sideline seats were added and, in 1960, a total of 5,658 West end zone seats were added in response to increasing attendance. With the large end zone, "Green Grass" section, this expansion increased capacity to about 53,000.

Later, upper decks were added to each side of the stadium as crowds swelled—the first one in 1978 and the second in 1983. This increased capacity to over 80,000 which makes it one of the 10 largest on-campus stadiums in the country.

The effect spiraling inflation has had in this century can be dramatically seen in the differences in stadium construction. The original part of the stadium was built at a cost of $125,000 or at $6.25 a seat. The newest upper deck was finished in 1983 at a cost of $13.5 million, or $866 a seat.

Through the years, Memorial Stadium has become known as "Death Valley." It was tagged this by the late Presbyterian coach, Lonnie McMillan. After bringing his P.C. teams to Clemson for years and getting whipped, McMillan said the place was like Death Valley. A few years later the name stuck.

On November 16, 1974 the playing surface was named Frank Howard Field for the legendary coach because of his long service and dedication to the University.

Luckily, the stadium wasn't built behind the Y.

Clemson has had 25 crowds over 80,000 in Death Valley, including the 1995 Georgia game that kicked off the Centennial of Clemson football.

(Note: Tie game is half game won, half game lost.)

The Clemson home lockerroom is one of the largest in the South.

Memorial Stadium has more luxury boxes than any other on-campus stadium in the nation.

Death Valley served as the home of the Carolina Panthers in their inaugural season in the NFL.

Strength Training

Clemson fans look forward to seeing tough, hard-nosed football when they come to Death Valley or travel to other schools to watch their Tigers in action. But some of the Tigers' most intense competition and action doesn't take place on autumn Saturday's and it doesn't take place on a field. Take a peek into the Clemson Strength Training Room at almost any time of day, almost any day of the week, at any time of the year, and you will see the Tigers building the foundation for their pursuit of a championship.

With years of experience on the professional and college level, Head Strength Coach Gary Wade knows what it takes to get a team in the physical shape needed to play. Wade and Clemson administrators have developed a facility that provides Clemson athletes with the very best in equipment, supervision and atmosphere, as he knows that success in the area of strength training will mean success on the football field.

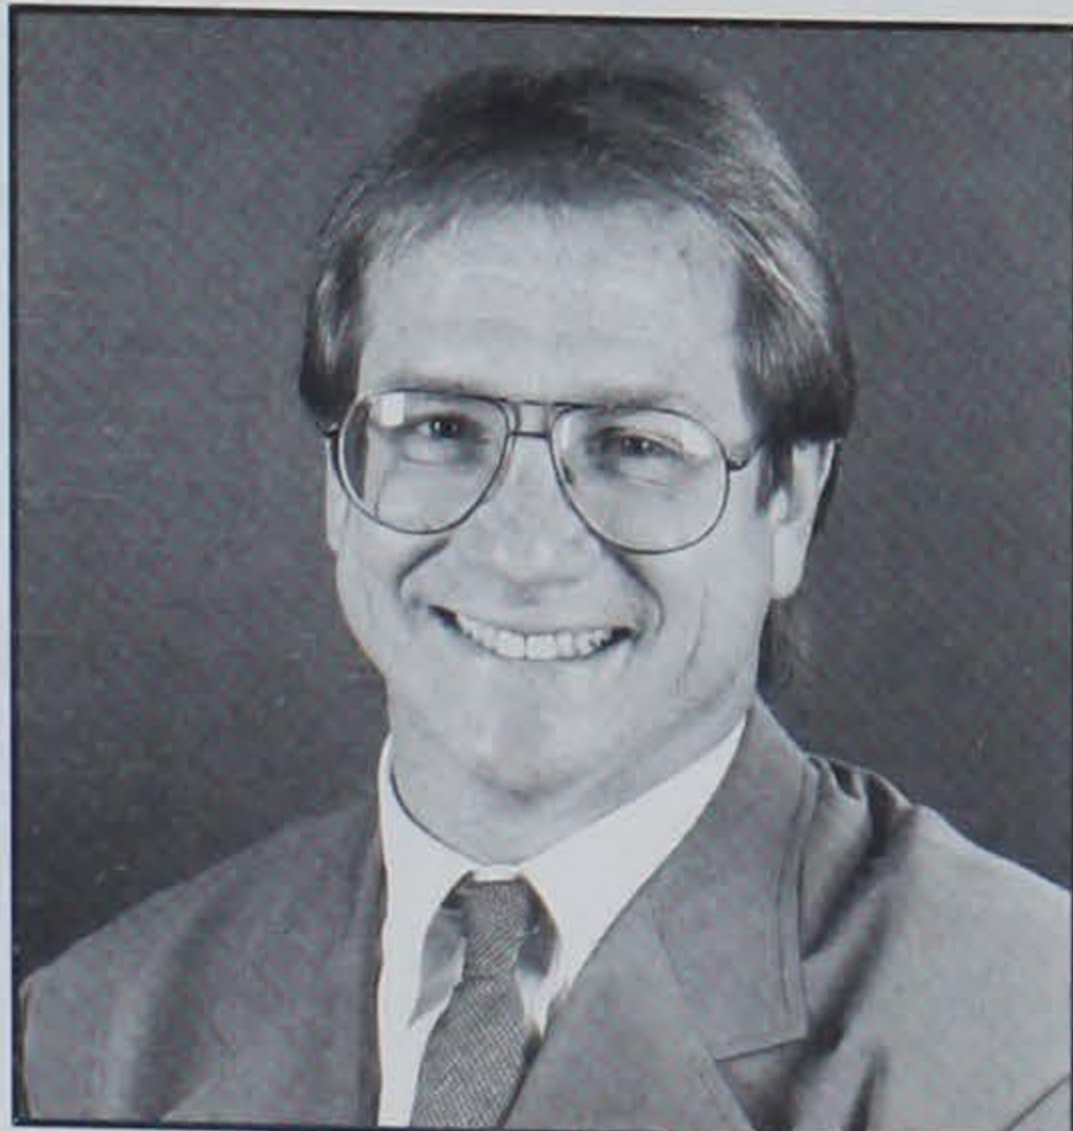

Wade and his staff work constantly to ensure that their facility and their program is one of the nation's best. Several renovations made over the last several years have ensured that it is among the best, on the collegiate and professional levels. It is no accident that the Tigers have posted a 91-26-3 record, won four ACC Championships, had 17 first or second-team All-Americans, and 52 first-team all-conference selections since Wade joined the Clemson staff in 1985.

Perhaps the most impressive characteristic of the facility is its size. Several years ago, it was enlarged to an astounding 11,000 square feet, making it one of the largest in the nation. Last year, it was expanded to 14,000 square feet. The facility boasts two full lines of Nautilus machines and over 12 tons of weights. The large number of machines and free weights allows the weight room to be used by athletes from several different sports at the same time, without anyone having to

The plush atmosphere provides an interesting contrast to the physical exertion that takes place in the facility. When an athlete enters the etched glass doors, he is greeted by plush, wall-to-wall carpeting, walls lined with mirrors, ceiling fans, and music from a 26-speaker sound system - a worthy backdrop for well over $500,000 worth of state-of-the-art equipment.

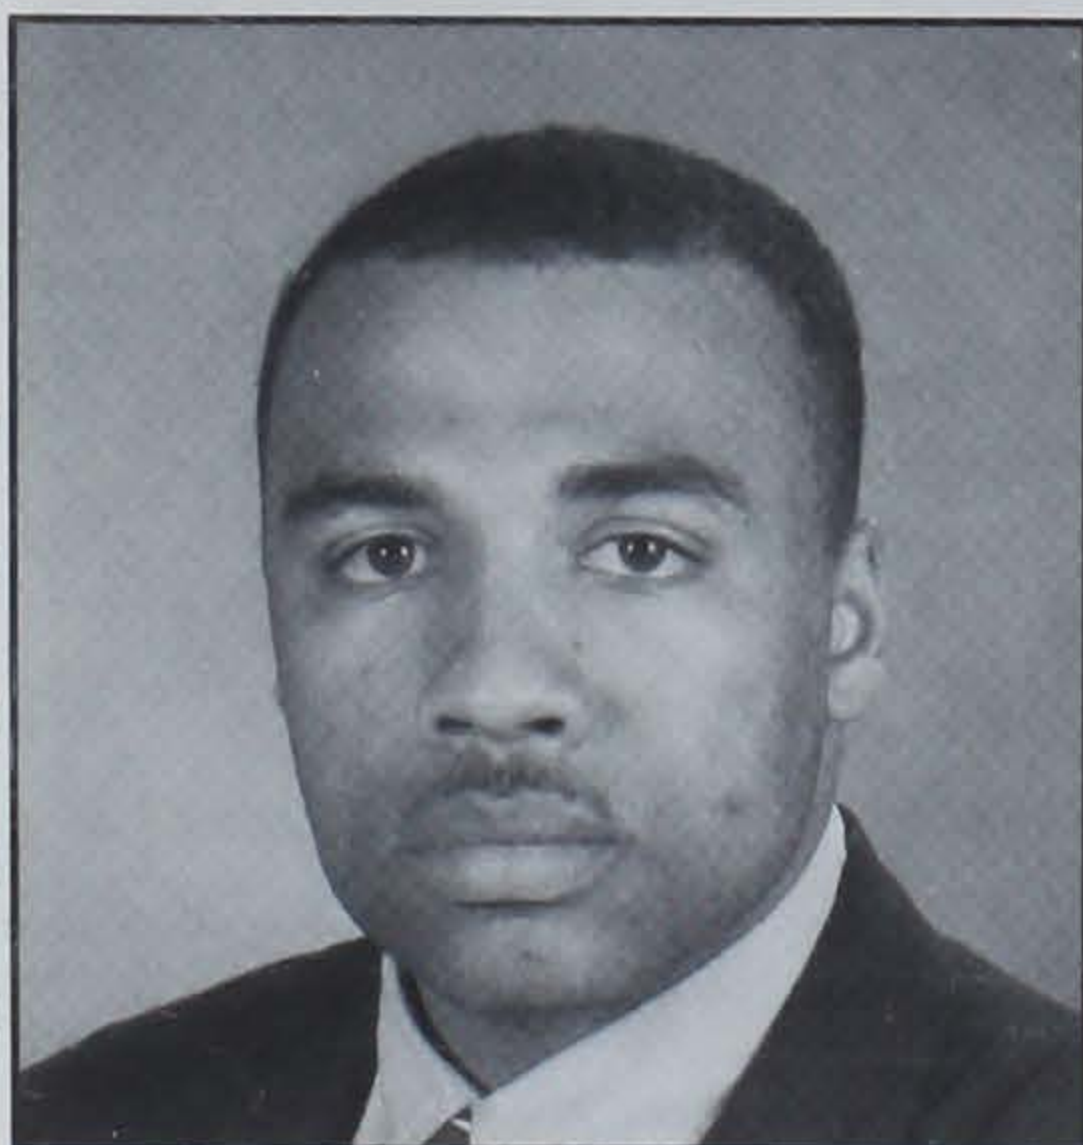

Four color television monitors are also positioned throughout the facility. These monitors are used for training and instruction, as Tiger strength coaches film the athletes and work with them on form correction. When not in use for this purpose, the televisions, which are hooked into the sound system provide atmosphere, as most Tiger student-athletes enjoy working out to the tune of the latest music videos.

Wade, full-time assistant Warren Forney, and his assistants, Wes Osswald, Andre Dreher, Todd Wright, Larry Greenlee, Ryan Cole, and Brandon Hourigan personally supervise the individual weight programs of hundreds of athletes. The strength training staff spends long hours working around the various schedules of each sport and even takes the facility on the road when the Tiger football team plays in a bowl game.

Recently, the operation of the strength training facility was enhanced by the addition of a new computerized program. Tiger strength coaches are now able to enter all the current strength data on an athlete, and the computer will generate a 10-week conditioning program that will help the athlete reach optimum results. Wade also prints a yearly update on the improvement's made by each member of the team, as well as updated records in all the strength training categories.

Clemson Facilities

Athletes at Clemson have the opportunity to be the best they can be because few universities have better facilities. The dedicated athlete can excel at Clemson because the facilities make him a better player.

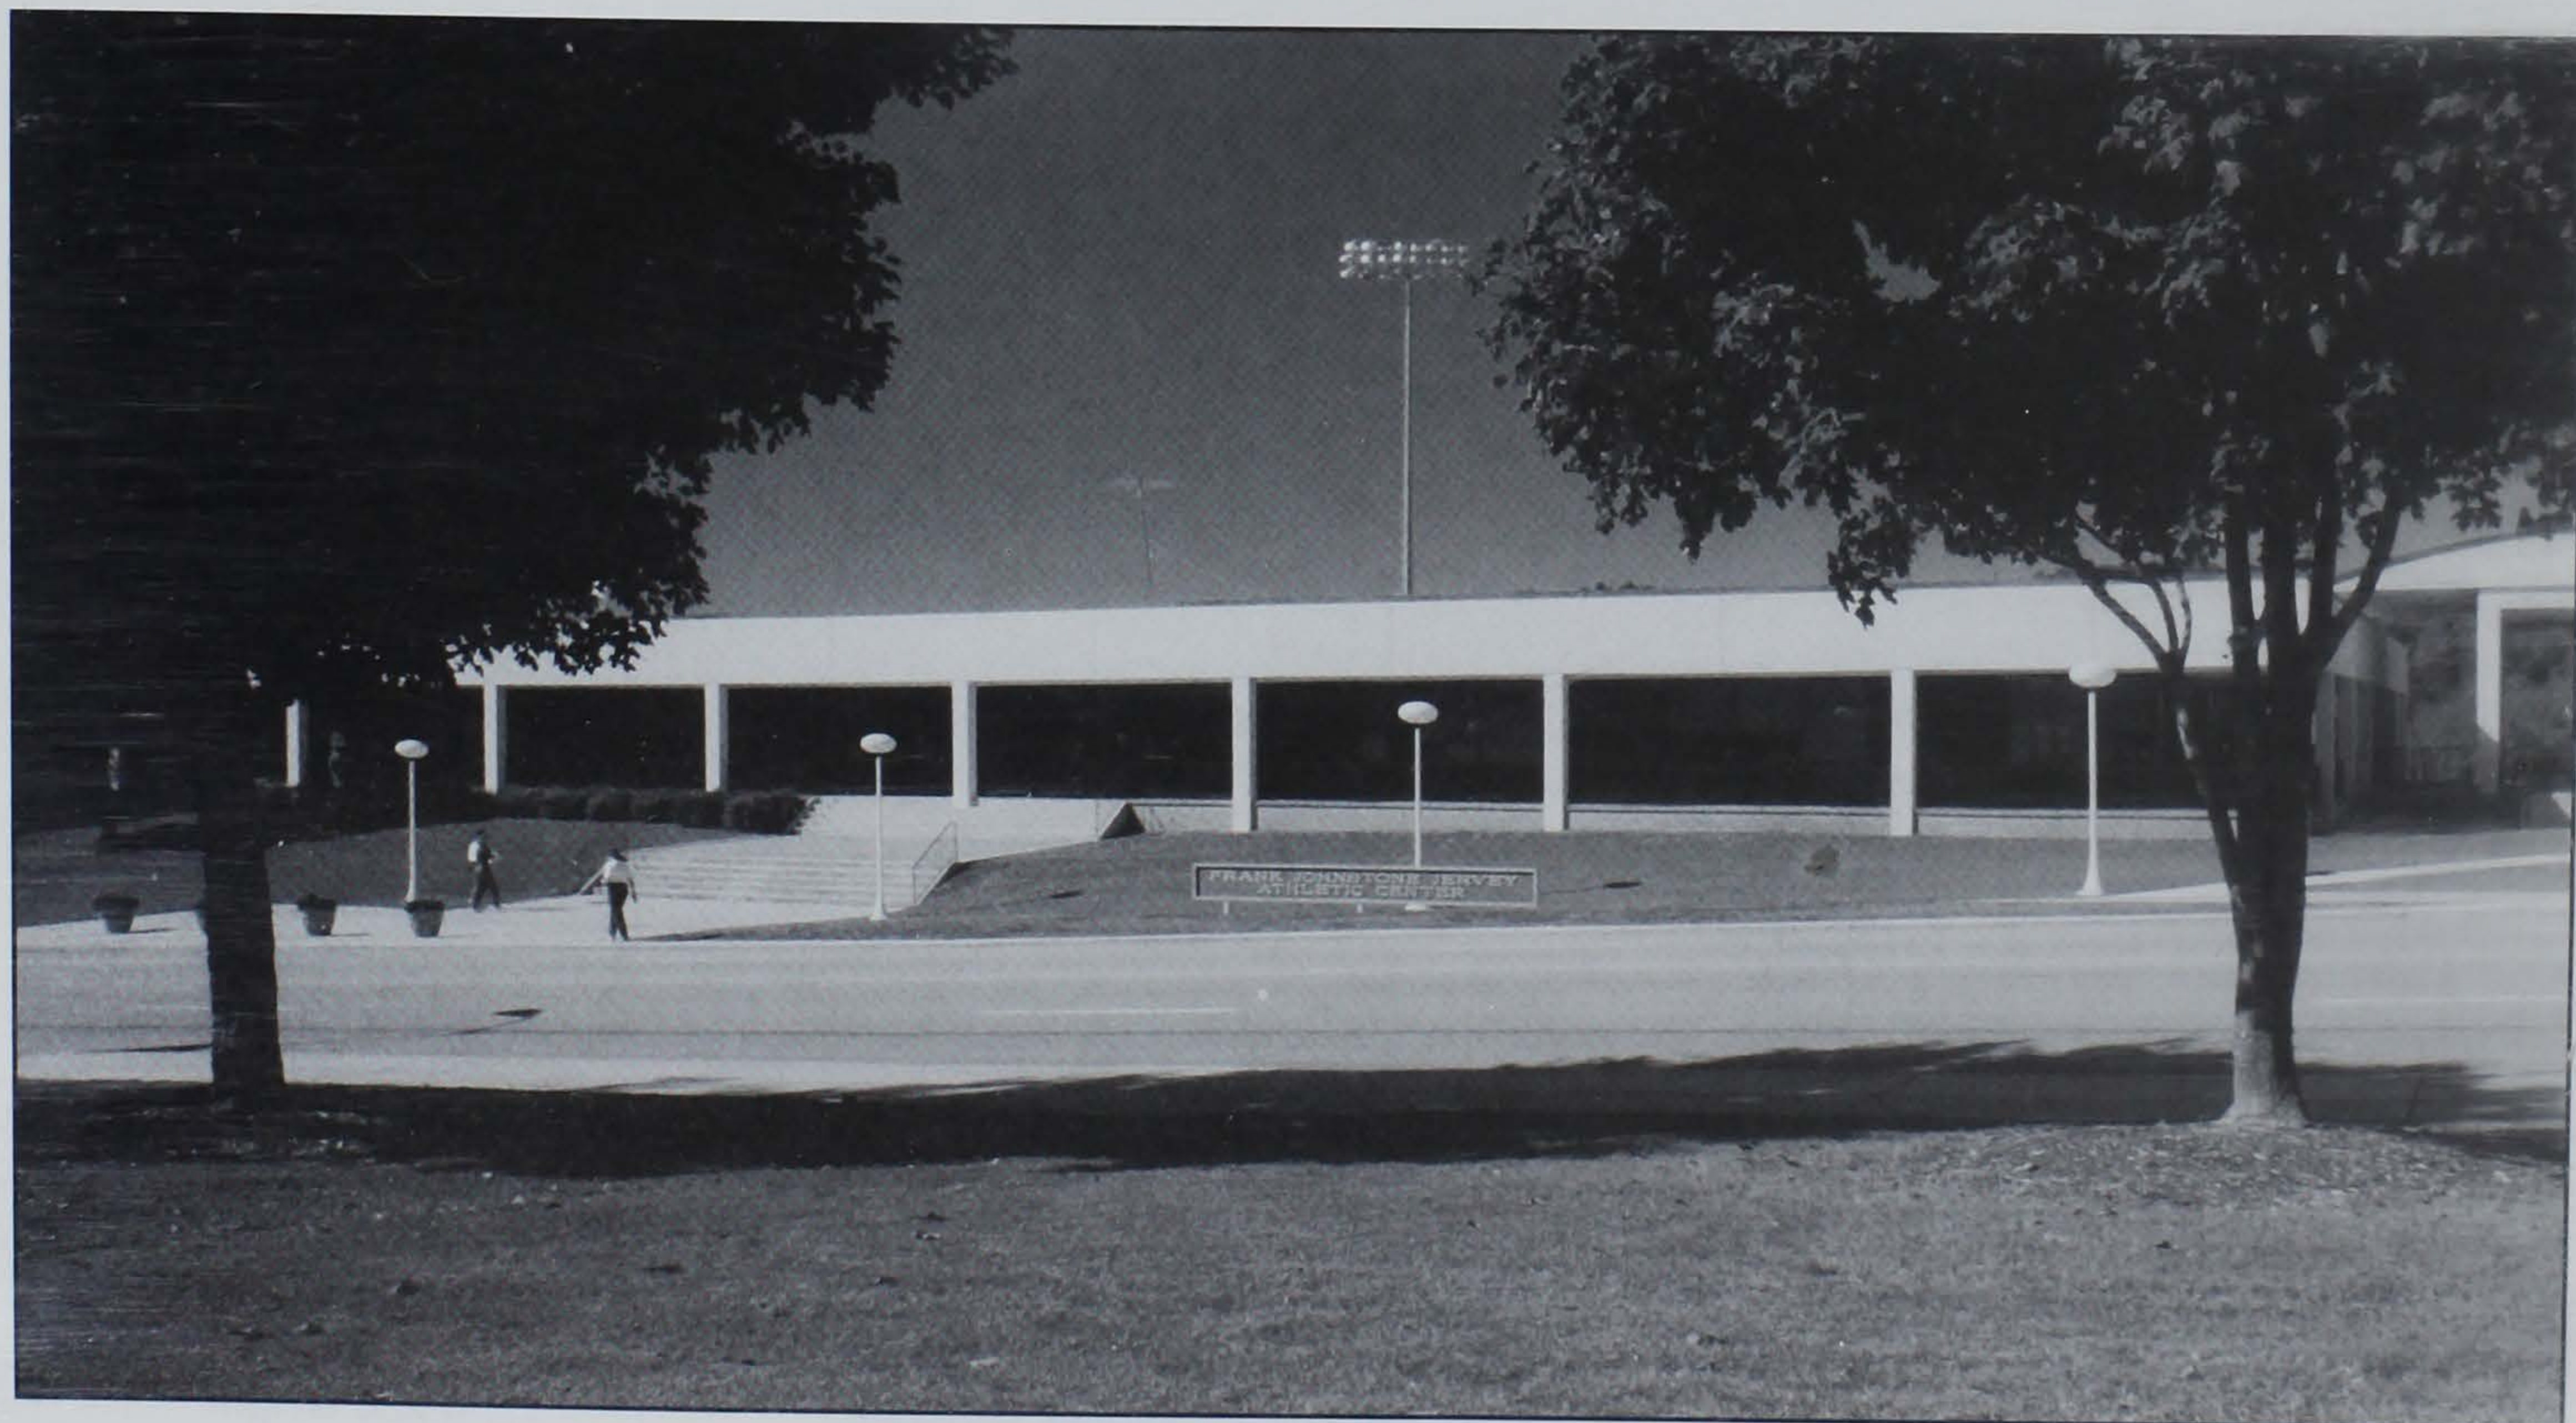

The Jervy Athletic Center and the Banks McFadden Building serve as the focal point of Clemson athletics as it houses the strength training room, the varsity locker rooms and all administrative offices. Everything is within walking distance and easily accessible from all other facilities.

The training room is one of the fine facilities in the Jervy Athletic Center. It is run by Fred Hoover, a national Hall of Fame trainer, and it houses all of the latest training equipment. Hoover heads up a staff of four full-time individuals with over 50 years of experience. This professional staff and 17 student and graduate student trainers give an athlete the best possible care.

The training room has six whirlpools, a cybex machine, numerous stationary bikes, an upper-body exerciser, a Stairmaster, and all the latest devices for all kinds of treatment. The large sauna and steam bath are also welcome sites after a tough practice. A doctor has an office in the training room itself. He is in the training room from 2:00 p.m. until closing and is of course available at all hours for special situations.

Fred Hoover is in his 37th year supervising Clemson's athletic training program.

The McFadden Building

The Clemson Athletic Department continued its commitment to provide its student-athletes with the best facilities when it completed the Banks McFadden Building at the Jervy Athletic Center in 1995. The dedication of this 20,000-square-foot facility was the cornerstone of the Jervy Athletic Center renovation project that was completed in 1996. It is designed to give all Clemson gridgers the most modern and comfortable facilities in the nation.

The McFadden Building houses all the coaching offices and meeting rooms for Clemson's football team. The facility has meeting rooms for all nine position areas, so players are no longer forced to view film and discuss key strategy in a coach's cramped office. Each meeting room is equipped with "state of the art" video equipment.

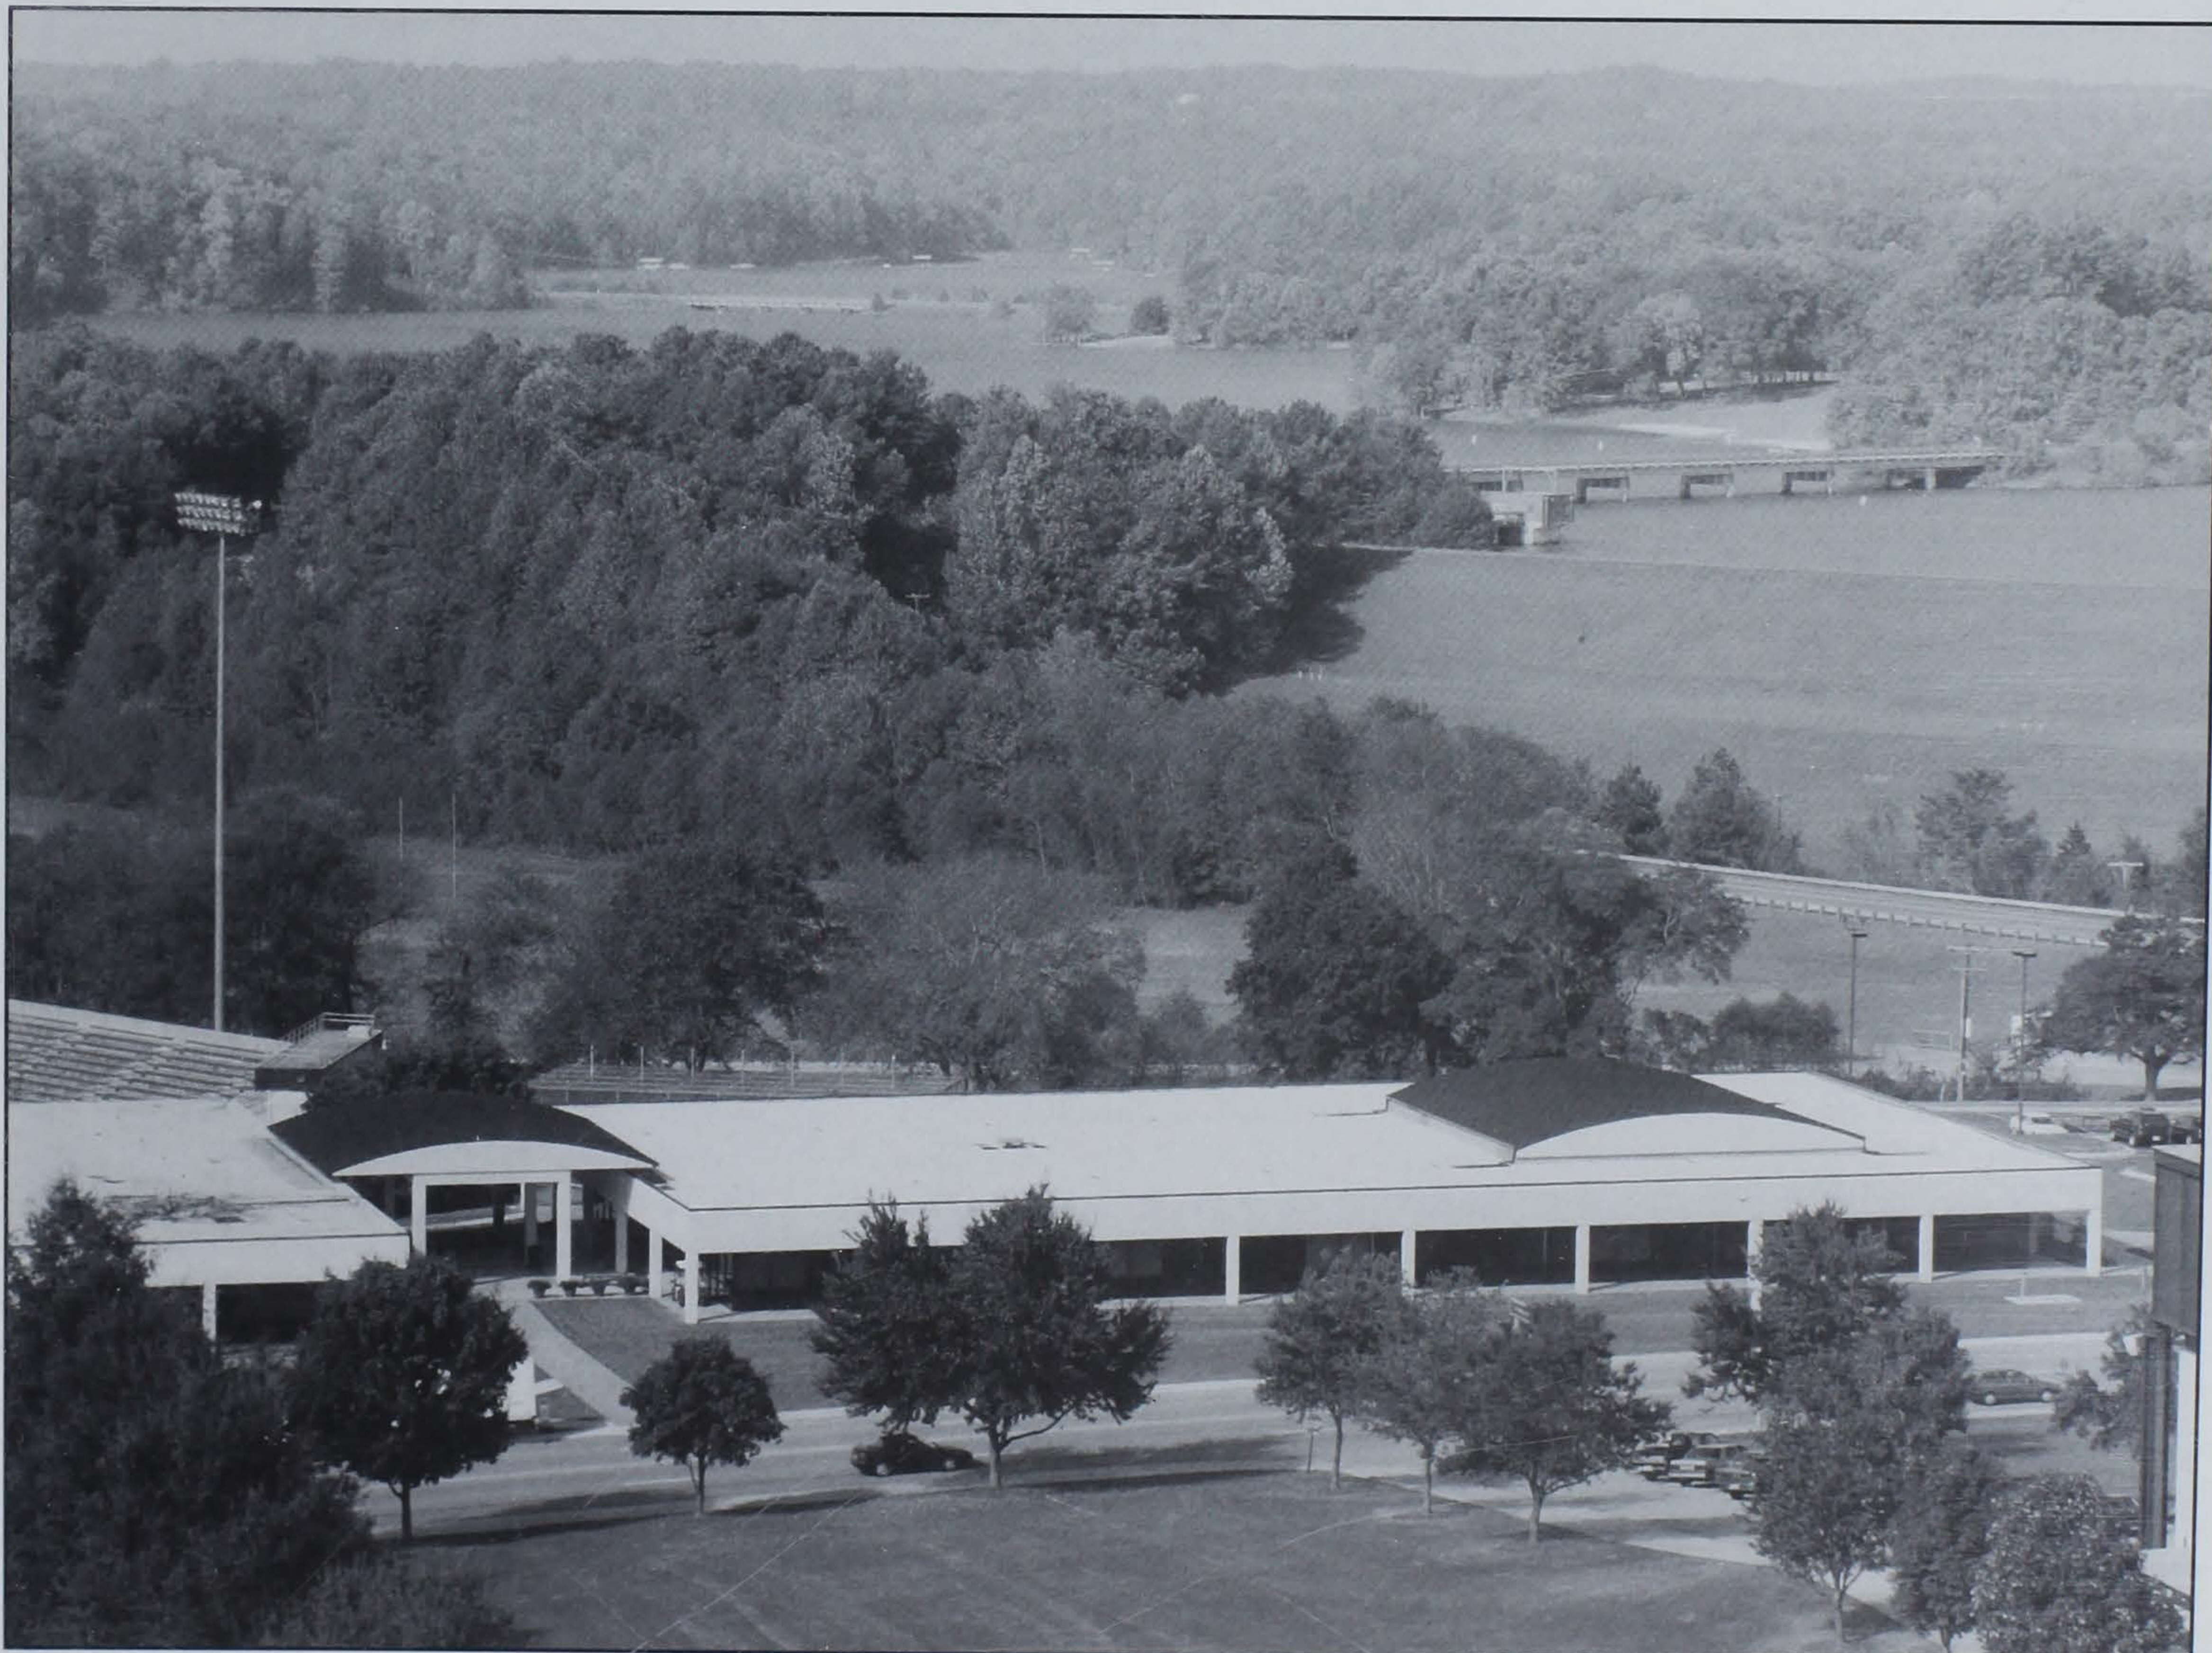

There is also an auditorium that holds as many as 180 people and is used for team meetings and press conferences. Additionally, there are private rooms for interviews with the media, a lounge, and even a pro scout facility that allows NFL representatives to view film of current Tigers in air-conditioned comfort.

The facility also houses a trophy and memorabilia area at its entrance. Much of the area is devoted to Banks McFadden, the former Clemson All-American and coach who perhaps had as much an impact on Clemson athletic history as anyone.

The construction of the McFadden building was one of the final stages of the overall renovation of the Jervy Athletic Center. Last summer the Tiger football team came back to a new and expanded locker room with fresh paint, new carpeting, new lockers, and more space. The training room was also expanded and a player lounge area, complete with video games and televisions, was constructed. The weight room below the Jervy Athletic Center has increased in size to an incredible 14,000 square feet.

"The completion of the McFadden building gives us outstanding facilities in every area," said Head Coach Tommy West. "We now have a stadium that is second to none as far as its appearance, tradition and ability to accomodate large crowds in a pleasant and unique setting. We have a new, modern and spacious locker room, team area and training facilities. And, the meeting and office areas are comfortable places to learn and work."

The McFadden Building is the home of all football related activities at Clemson University.

Running Down the Hill

What has been described as, "the most exciting 25 seconds in college football from a color and pageantry standpoint," actually started out as a matter-of-fact entrance, mainly because of necessity.

The first 20,000 seats in Clemson Memorial Stadium were built and ready for use before the 1942 season. Less than a year before Pearl Harbor was bombed and the United States was at war.

The shortest entry into the stadium was a walk down Williamson Road from Fike Field House's dressing rooms to a gate at the top of the hill behind the east end zone. There were no dressing facilities in the west end zone—only a big clock where the hands turned, and a scoreboard which was operated by hand.

The team would dress at Fike, walk down Williamson Road, come in the gate underneath where the big scoreboard now stands and jog down the hill for its warmup exercises. There was no fanfare, no cannon shot fired, no tiger paw flag, no Tiger Rag played...just the team making its entrance and lining up to do the side straddle hop.

That's pretty much the way things went for the next 25 years.

Either in 1964 or 1965, S.C. Jones, a member of the Clemson class of 1919, made a trip to California. He stopped at a spot in Death Valley, CA, and picked up this white flint rock. He presented it to Coach Frank Howard as being from Death Valley, CA, to Death Valley, South Carolina."

The rock laid on the floor in Howard's office in Fike for a year or more. One day Howard was cleaning up his office and he told Gene Willimon, who was the executive secretary of IPTAY, to, "take this rock and throw it over the fence, or out in the ditch...do something with it, but get it out of my office."

Willimon didn't think that was the way a rock should be treated. After all, it had been brought 3000 miles by a very sincere Tiger fan.

By the mid-sixties, Memorial Stadium was pretty well living up to its moniker, Death Valley, because of the number of victories that had been recorded there. Actually, the name was first used by the late Lonnie McMillian, head coach at Presbyterian College in Clinton in the 1940s.

McMillian and the other Blue Hose coaches before him used to open the season each year by coming to Clemson. Seldom scoring (24 shut outs in 39 games) and with only three wins and four ties to show for it, his teams were getting killed by the Tigers regularly. In 1948 McMillian made the comment to the press that he was taking his team to play Clemson in Death Valley.

An occasional reference to Memorial stadium by that name could be heard for the next three or four years, but when Howard started calling it 'Death Valley' in the 1950's, the name took off like wildfire. The Tigers celebrated the 50th season in the 'valley' in 1991.

But getting back to Howard's rock.

The rock was mounted on a pedestal at the top of the hill. It was unveiled September 24, 1966, on a day when Clemson played Virginia. The Tigers were down 18 points with 17 minutes to play and came back to win (40-35) on a 65-yard pass play from Jimmy Addison to Jacky Jackson in the fourth period. That was quite a spectacular debut for that rock.

The team members started rubbing the rock prior to running down the hill September 23, 1967, a day when Clemson defeated Wake Forest, 23-6. Prior to running down the hill that day, Howard told his players: "If you're going to give me 110 percent, you can rub that rock. If you're not, keep your filthy hands off it." Howard told of the incident the next day on his Sunday television show and the story became legend.

When Hootie Ingram succeeded Howard as head coach prior to the 1970 season, Ingram decided that the team would make its final entrance on the field out of the dressing room in the west end zone. In all home games in 1970 and 1971 and the first four of 1972 when the Tigers did not run down the hill, their record was 6-9. The team decided it wanted to come down the hill once prior to the South Carolina game in 1972. The result, in a cold, freezing rain, was a 7-6 victory when Jimmy Williamson knocked down a two-point conversion attempt which preserved the win.

The Tigers have made the entrance for every home game since 1942, except for the seasons mentioned above—243 times heading into the 1996 season.

After Clemson's final warm-up, the team goes back into its dressing room under the west stands for final game instructions. About 10 minutes before kickoff the team boards two buses, rides around behind the north stands to the east end zone and debarks to the top of the hill behind Howard's Rock.

At the appointed time, the cannon booms and led by a high-flying tiger paw flag, the band forms two lines for the team to run between and strikes up 'Tiger Rag' and the frenzy starts in all sincerity...and usually lasts two and a half to three hours.

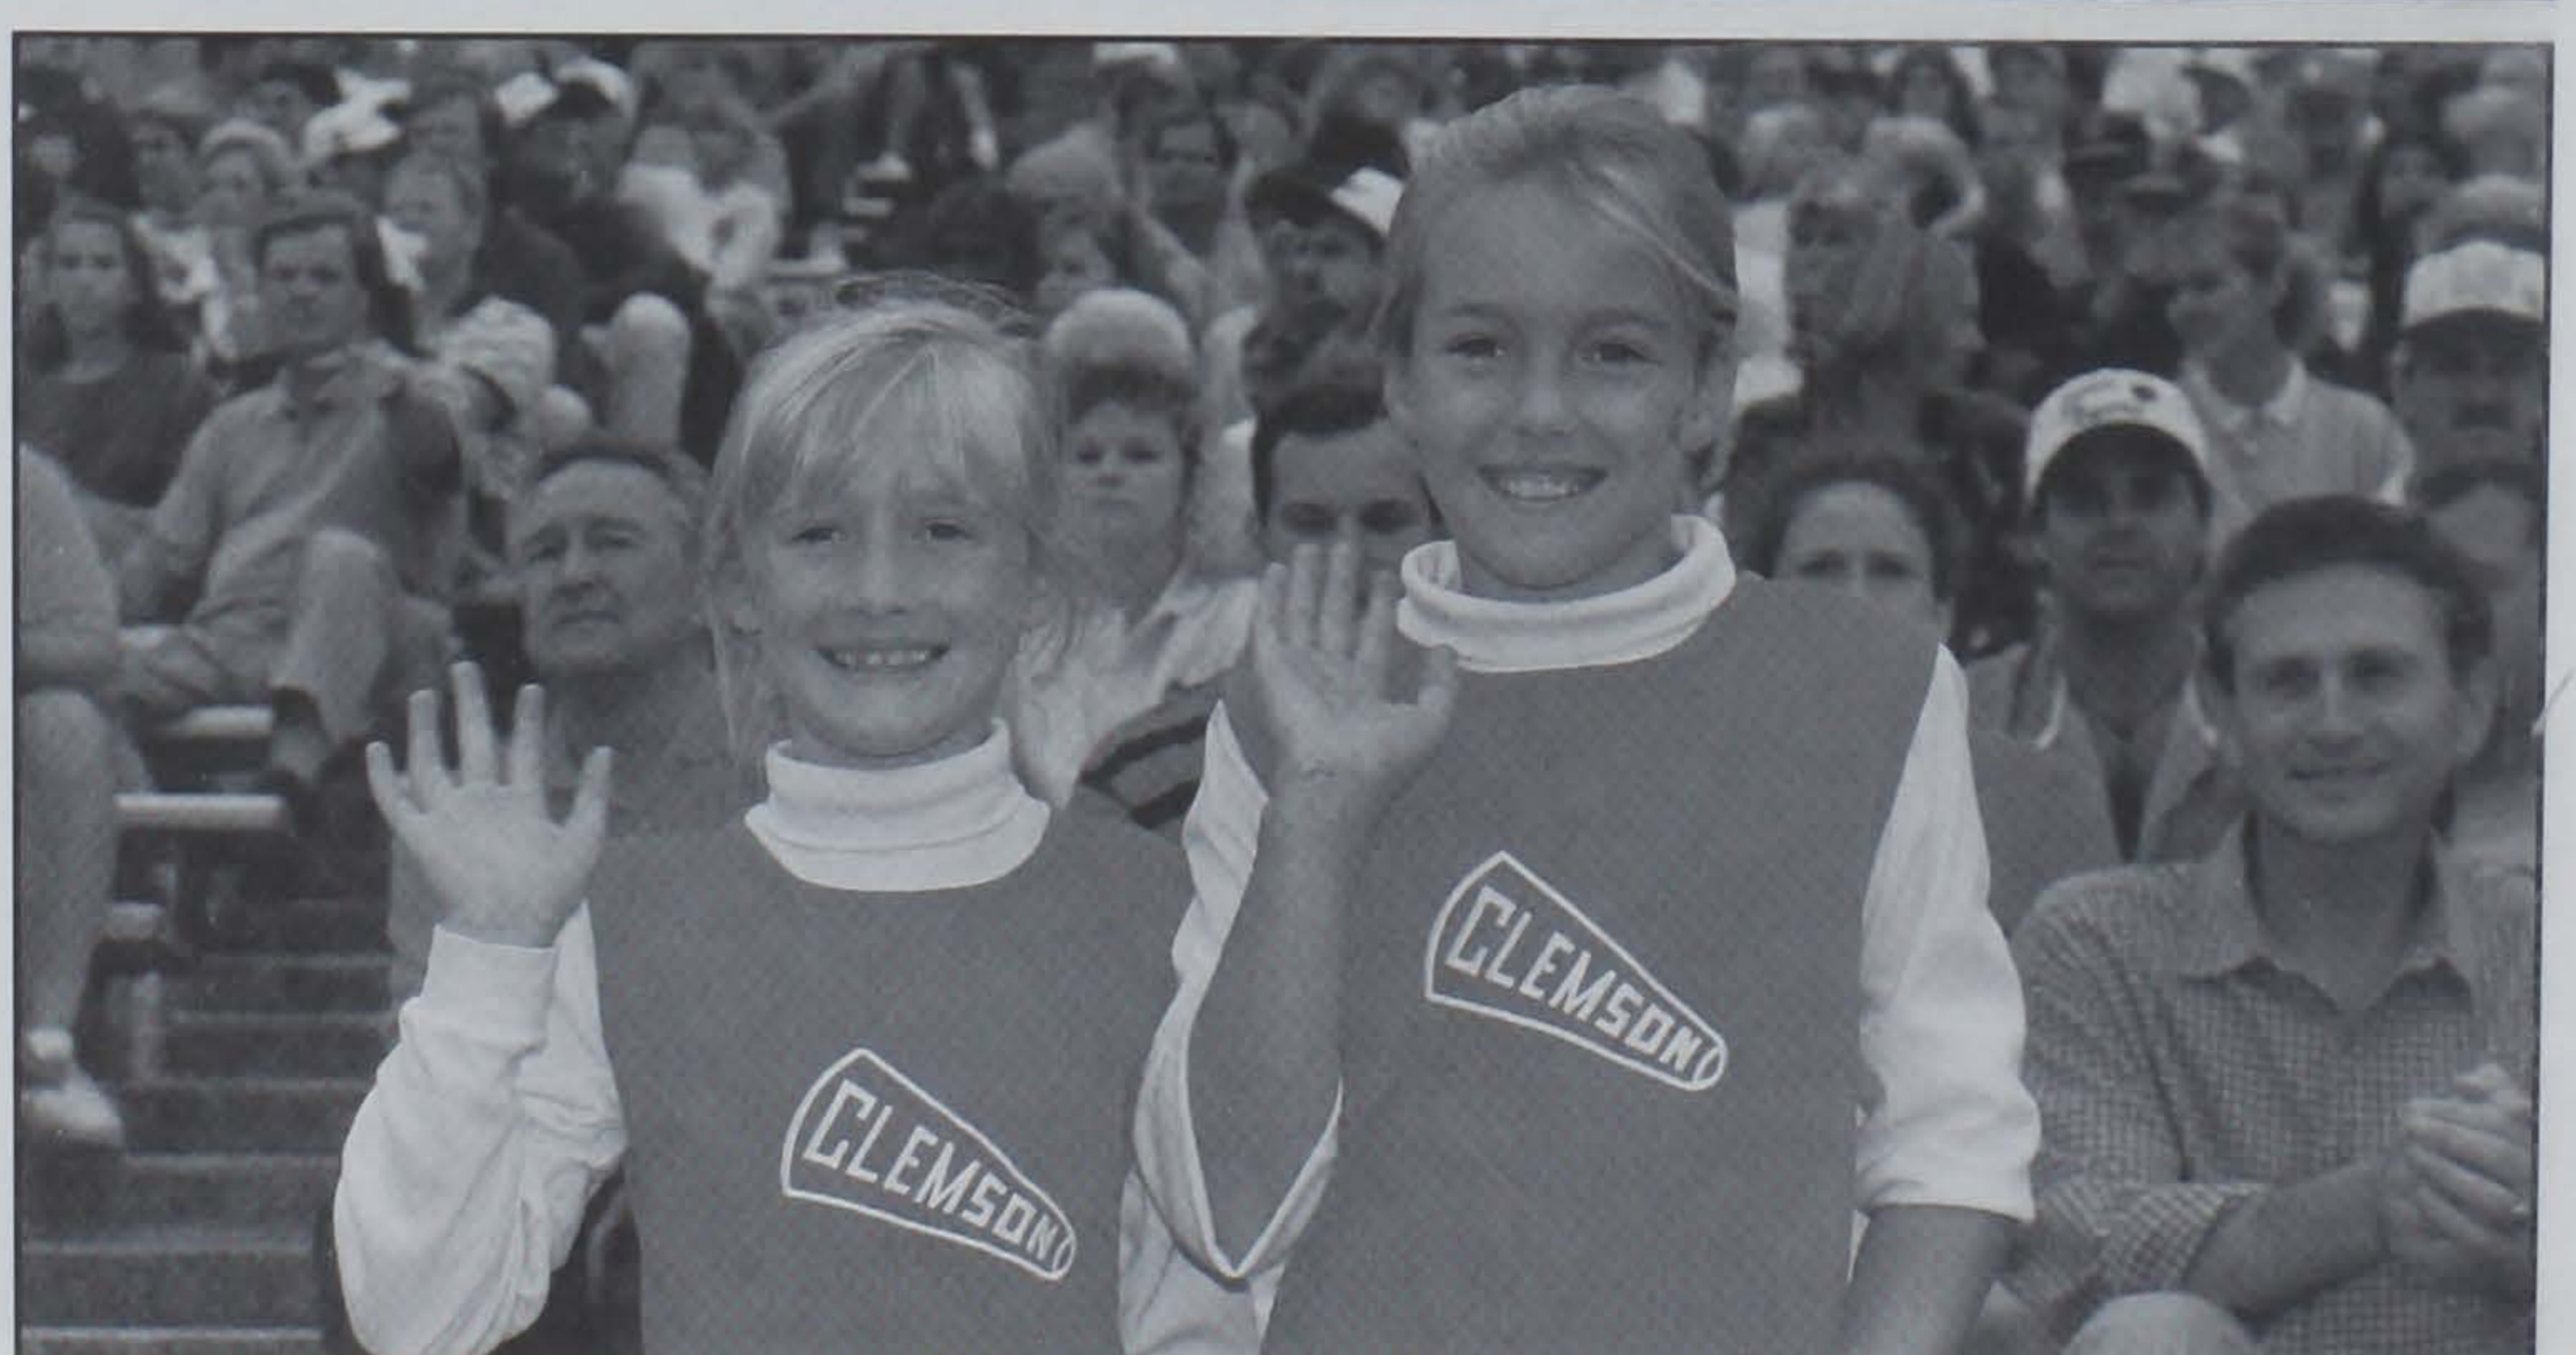

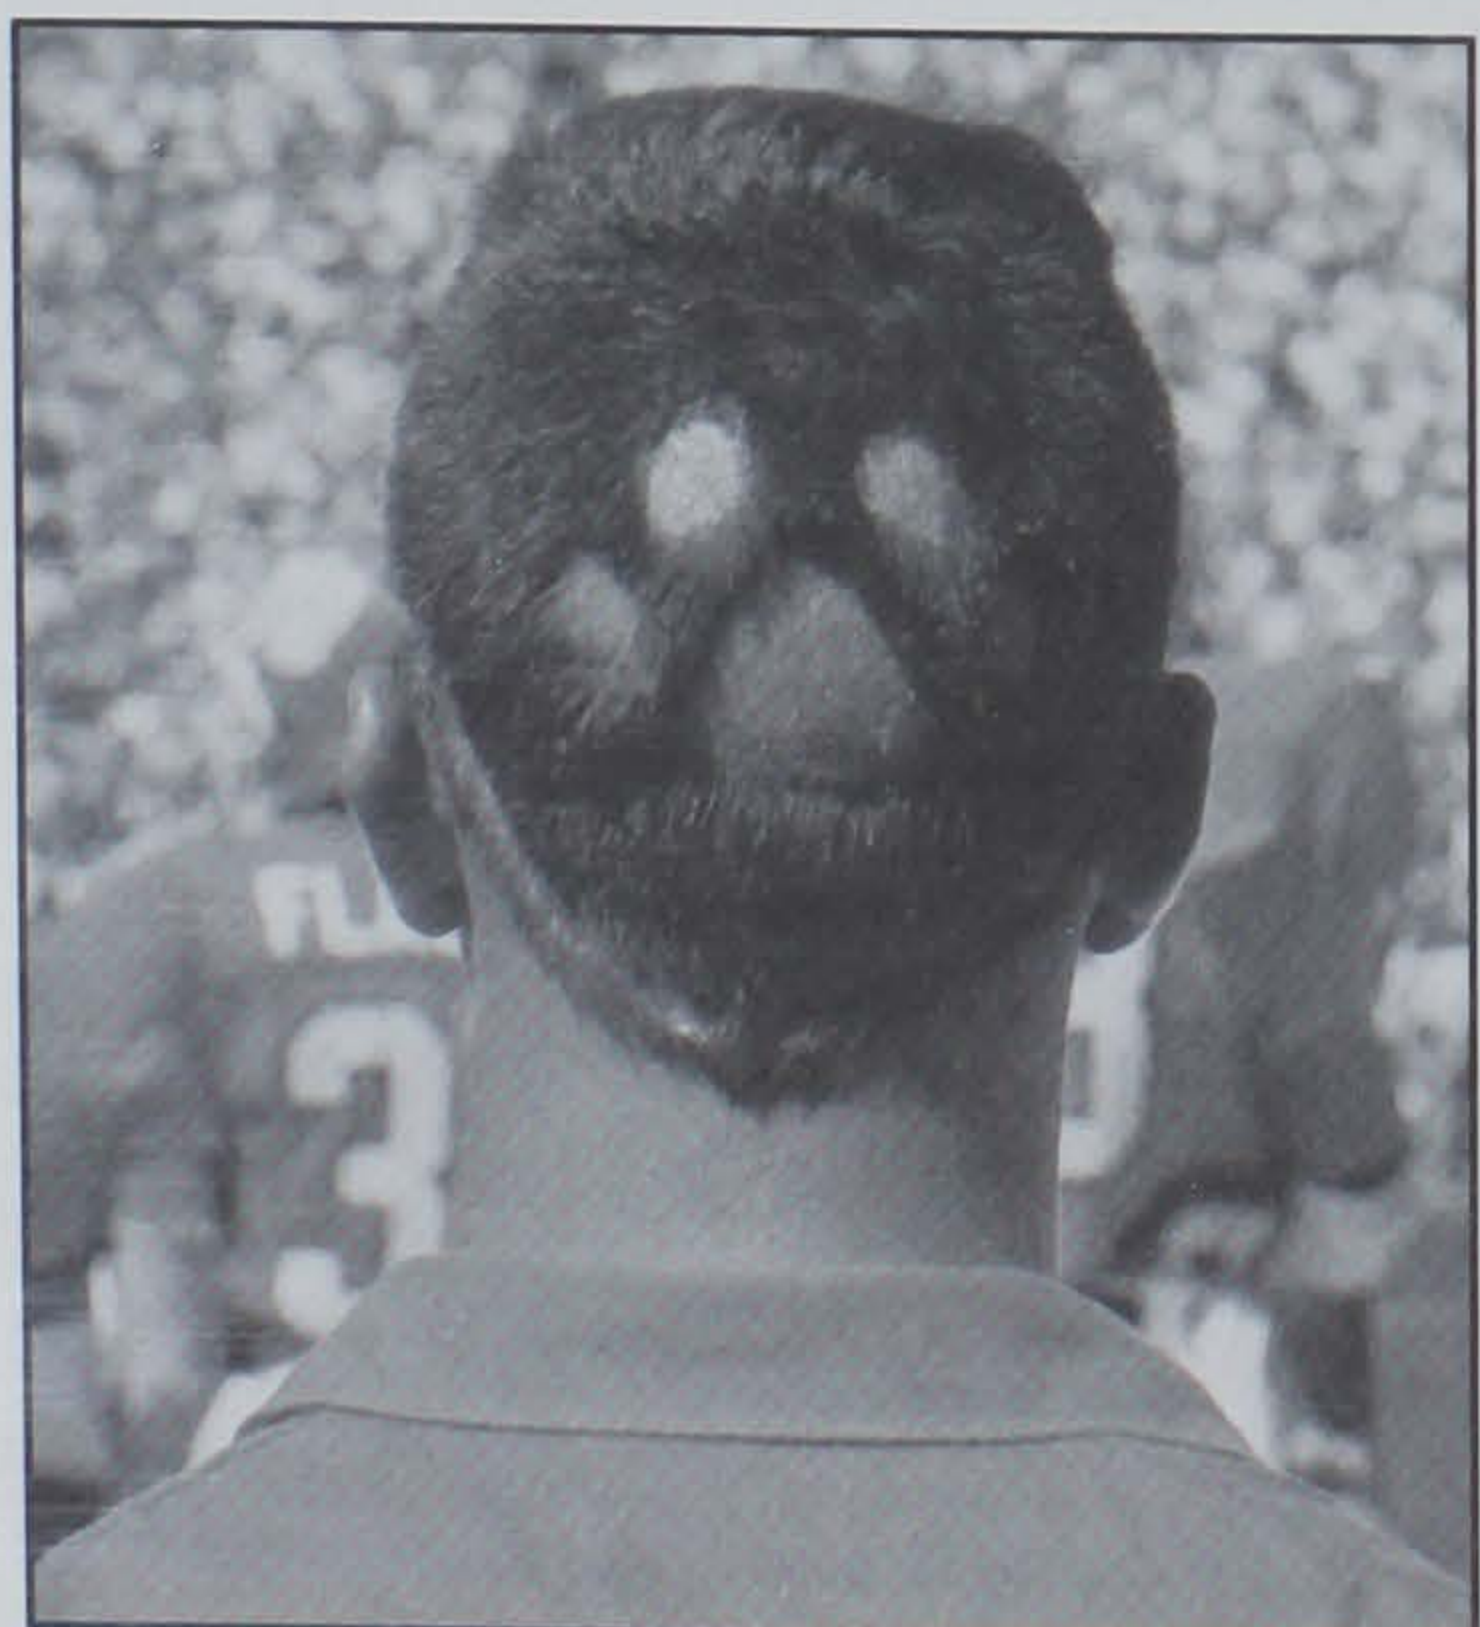

It is a tradition that has inspired Clemson players for many years.

Clemson Spirit

Clemson Football Is...

TE...6-4...240...*So.
Pemberton, NJ...Pemberton

Ellis Fact: Ranked as the 14th best football player in New Jersey by SuperPrep coming out of high school.

Fall Depth Chart Position: Tight End

In 1995: Played two games at the tight-end slot in 1995...opened in the season opener against Western Carolina and was in against NC State...did not get his hands on the ball during spring drills...should get some playing time at the TE and special teams position in 1996...In 1994: Red-shirted his freshman year with the Tigers...expected to see significant action as the backup tight end to Lamont Hall...has the size and blocking ability to be a significant contributor for the Tigers this season.

In High School: A 1994 SuperPrep All-Northeast Team...member of the All-East team by Prep Football Report...all-conference in high school...named most improved player for each of the last three seasons...second-team Liberty Division All-Star tight end...coached by William McDowell...majoring in marketing...born 8-22-76.

Andy Ford

CB...5-11...178...Sr.
Sumter, SC...Sumter

Andy Ford Fact: Became first Clemson player in six years to score a touchdown on a blocked punt return when he went 26 yards for score in 1995 opener against Western Carolina.

Fall Depth Chart Position: Second-team cornerback

Bowl Experience: In for 13 snaps as a backup cornerback in the '93 Peach Bowl. In for 15 snaps as the second-team cornerback in the '96 Gator Bowl and had two tackles.

Years Lettered: 1993, 1994, 1995

Teams with his twin brother to give Clemson outstanding cornerback combination....Peter and Andy Ford are first twin brothers to letter in football in Clemson history...will see significant action as nickel back and reserve cornerback in 1995...has gone back and forth as a starter, trading assignments with his twin brother the last two years...started three games as a sophomore and has eight starts in his 29 career games played....

In 1995: Started the first five games of the '95 season at cornerback, a sprained ankle at N.C. State gave his twin brother Peter a shot at the starting lineup...despite the injury, missed only one game all year, the Georgia contest... really missed the N.C. State game because he was hurt early in the first quarter, he played just two snaps...did not start over the last seven games, but averaged 28 plays per contest over the last three games of the regular season...had a season high five tackles against Florida State ...had three PBUs for the season, one each against Western Carolina, Maryland and Duke...played about half as much as his brother Peter over the last three years...has half the tackle total (77-38) and half the play total (1185-562)...has one career interception, it was against North Carolina in 1995...Andy and Peter each had an interception in the first half of the North Carolina game, first time twins have done that in a Clemson game, perhaps in any game in college football history...Andy's theft came just 5:36 after Peter's...had his only career touchdown on a 26-yard blocked punt return against Western Carolina...fifth on the Clemson team in power ratio (8.81), also sixth best time in the 40 at 4.48, ninth best vertical jump on the team at 32.5 inches and eighth in the broad jump at 116 inches.

In 1994: Started first three games of the season at cornerback opposite his twin brother Peter....tallied eight stops for the season with a high of two in 18 plays at Georgia...had one broken up pass for the season, it came against Maryland, and the PBU saved

Clemson's shutout of the normally high scoring Terps...it was the second straight year he has saved a shutout against Maryland, he did it via a tackle in 1993 win over Terps...was in for 47 plays during the N.C. State game, his most action of the season...played in the secondary in 10 of the 11 games that year, the Virginia game was the only contest in which he failed to see action in the secondary, but he was on special teams... averaged 40 plays per game the first two contests of the season, then 14 plays per game the rest of the season.

In 1993: Speedy cornerback who gained experience on special teams early in the season and saw increasing action from scrimmage as the season progressed ...in for 68 snaps for the season, including a high of 25 plays versus ETSU...played at cornerback opposite Peter for about 15 snaps...had a touchdown-saving tackle in the fourth period that preserved the shutout against Maryland...all four of his tackles in 1993 were first hits or solo stops.

In High School: Ranked as the 21st-best player in South Carolina by Max Emfinger's January 15th issue...a three-year starter for Tom Lewis at Sumter High School, playing in the same backfield as his twin brother Peter...played in three state championship games...selected to play in the North-South All-Star game...earned all-state honors from the Associated Press and The State newspaper...an all-region and all-area performer...named to the WBTW (Florence, SC) all-star team...in 1992, had 53 tackles, including 40 solo stops despite missing four games with an ankle injury...also intercepted three passes, caused a pair of fumbles and recovered two other fumbles...has #43 tattooed on his arm...has had injuries in his career, but has missed just one game in the last two seasons...missed four games as a senior in high school when he was nearly paralyzed...majoring in management...born 2-3-75 in Seoul, Korea.

Peter Ford

CB...5-11...178...Sr.
Sumter, SC...Sumter

Peter Ford Fact: Has nine career interceptions, tied for 13th in Clemson history.

Fall Depth Chart Position: First-team cornerback

Best All-Around Game: Had eight tackles and two interceptions for five yards in victory over North Carolina.

Bowl Experience: In for 53 snaps as a starting cornerback versus Kentucky in the '93 Peach Bowl, he had five tackles. In for 60 snaps as the starting cornerback against Syracuse in the '95 Gator Bowl, he had three tackles, two were solo stops. MVP of the 1996 Gator Bowl

Years as a Starter: 1993, 1995

Clemson MVP at the Gator Bowl, he had an interception, a pass broken up, and three tackles...has best power ratio on the Clemson team at 8.57, meaning he is the strongest Tiger pound for pound...also second on the team in the 40 with a 4.44 time, he is eighth in the vertical jump, which he showed on his interception in the Gator Bowl...only cornerback in Clemson history to register two tackles for loss in one game, he did it against Wake Forest in 1993...In 1995: Took over for twin brother Andy at starting cornerback position and Tiger secondary never missed a beat...started the last seven games of the season, Clemson was 5-2 with him in the starting lineup...Exxon Tiger of the Game as chosen by the Clemson Radio Network for his performance against

North Carolina when he had a season high eight tackles and two interceptions...played a season high 76 snaps at N.C. State, had five tackles and three passes broken up, his career high...had at least one tackle in nine of the 12 games and had 31 stops over the last seven games...had season high nine tackles against Georgia in his 62 snaps, six were first hits...had the two interceptions against North Carolina and one against Georgia Tech...has nine career interceptions and 10 career takeaways in his three seasons...his nine career interceptions rank tied for first among active Tigers and 13th in Clemson history... started at least five games in each of the last three years...one of the few cornerbacks in Clemson history who has recorded a sack...In 1994: All-ACC Honorable Mention in 1994 even though he played in just six games and was not considered a starter for the course of the year...started five of six games he played in...hampered in the middle of the season by a foot injury that kept him out of five games...saw four plays of action in the secondary against South Carolina, but that was his only action over the last six games of the season...ranked 10th in the nation in interceptions on October 8...finished the season third on the team and tied for sixth in the ACC with three interceptions for 41 yards...had his three interceptions in just six games so he averaged 0.5 per game...had an interception against Furman, one at Virginia and one against Maryland...he had a career best 41-yard return on the theft against the Terps...had his best game against the Cavaliers when he posted four solo stops, broke up a pass, and recovered a fumble... in for the most plays of his season against N.C. State when he saw action on 75 plays...had four tackles each against N.C. State, Virginia and Maryland...started the last six games of 1993 and the first five of 1994, giving him a streak of 11 straight starts over two seasons, but he is considered a starter for just 1993 and 1995...Dexter McCleon started one more game than Ford in 1994, so he is considered starter for 1994...In 1993: Starting cornerback for the last six games of the season after not playing in three of the first four games of 1993...played in only 22 plays from scrimmage (not counting special teams plays) in the first five games of the season, he was called into action in the first half of the Wake Forest game when starter Dexter McCleon went down with an ankle injury...in for 42 snaps in that contest, he had six tackles, including two tackles for loss and a one yard sack...became the first cornerback in Clemson history to register two tackles for loss in a game, never mind it being his first game...that tackle total was his best of the season...named the Exxon Tiger-of-the-Game for his performance against the Demon Deacons...earned the starting nod at corner for the rest of the season, as McCleon moved over to offense...had two interceptions for the season, his pickoff at South Carolina set up the score that brought the Tigers from behind to tie the game...his theft versus ETSU also set up a Tiger score...had five stops in the Peach Bowl win over Kentucky, while in for 53 snaps...in for more snaps than any other true freshman Tiger in 1993, a total of 398.

In High School: Ranked as the 22nd-best player in the state by Max Emfinger in his January 15th issue...a three-year starter along with his brother Andy for Tom Lewis at Sumter High School...played in three state championship games...played in the 1992 Shrine Bowl...named to the Greenville News all-state squad...also an all-area and all-region performer...a member of the the WBTW (Florence, SC) all-star team...had 75 tackles in 1992, 59 were solo stops...also returned punts for Sumter, he had 15 returns for 132 yards...also had four receptions as a wide receiver for a gain of 88 yards and two touchdowns...had his uniform #29 tattooed on his arm, brother Andy did the same with #43...Peter is married, Andy is not...majoring in management...born 2-3-75 in Seoul, Korea.

Greene Fact: Number-two in Clemson history in career pass completion percentage (.564)

Fall Depth Chart Position: First-team quarterback

Best All-Around Game: Completed 18 of 25 passes for 239 yards at Wake Forest in 1995. He also gained 35 yards on the ground and had career high 274 yards of total offense.

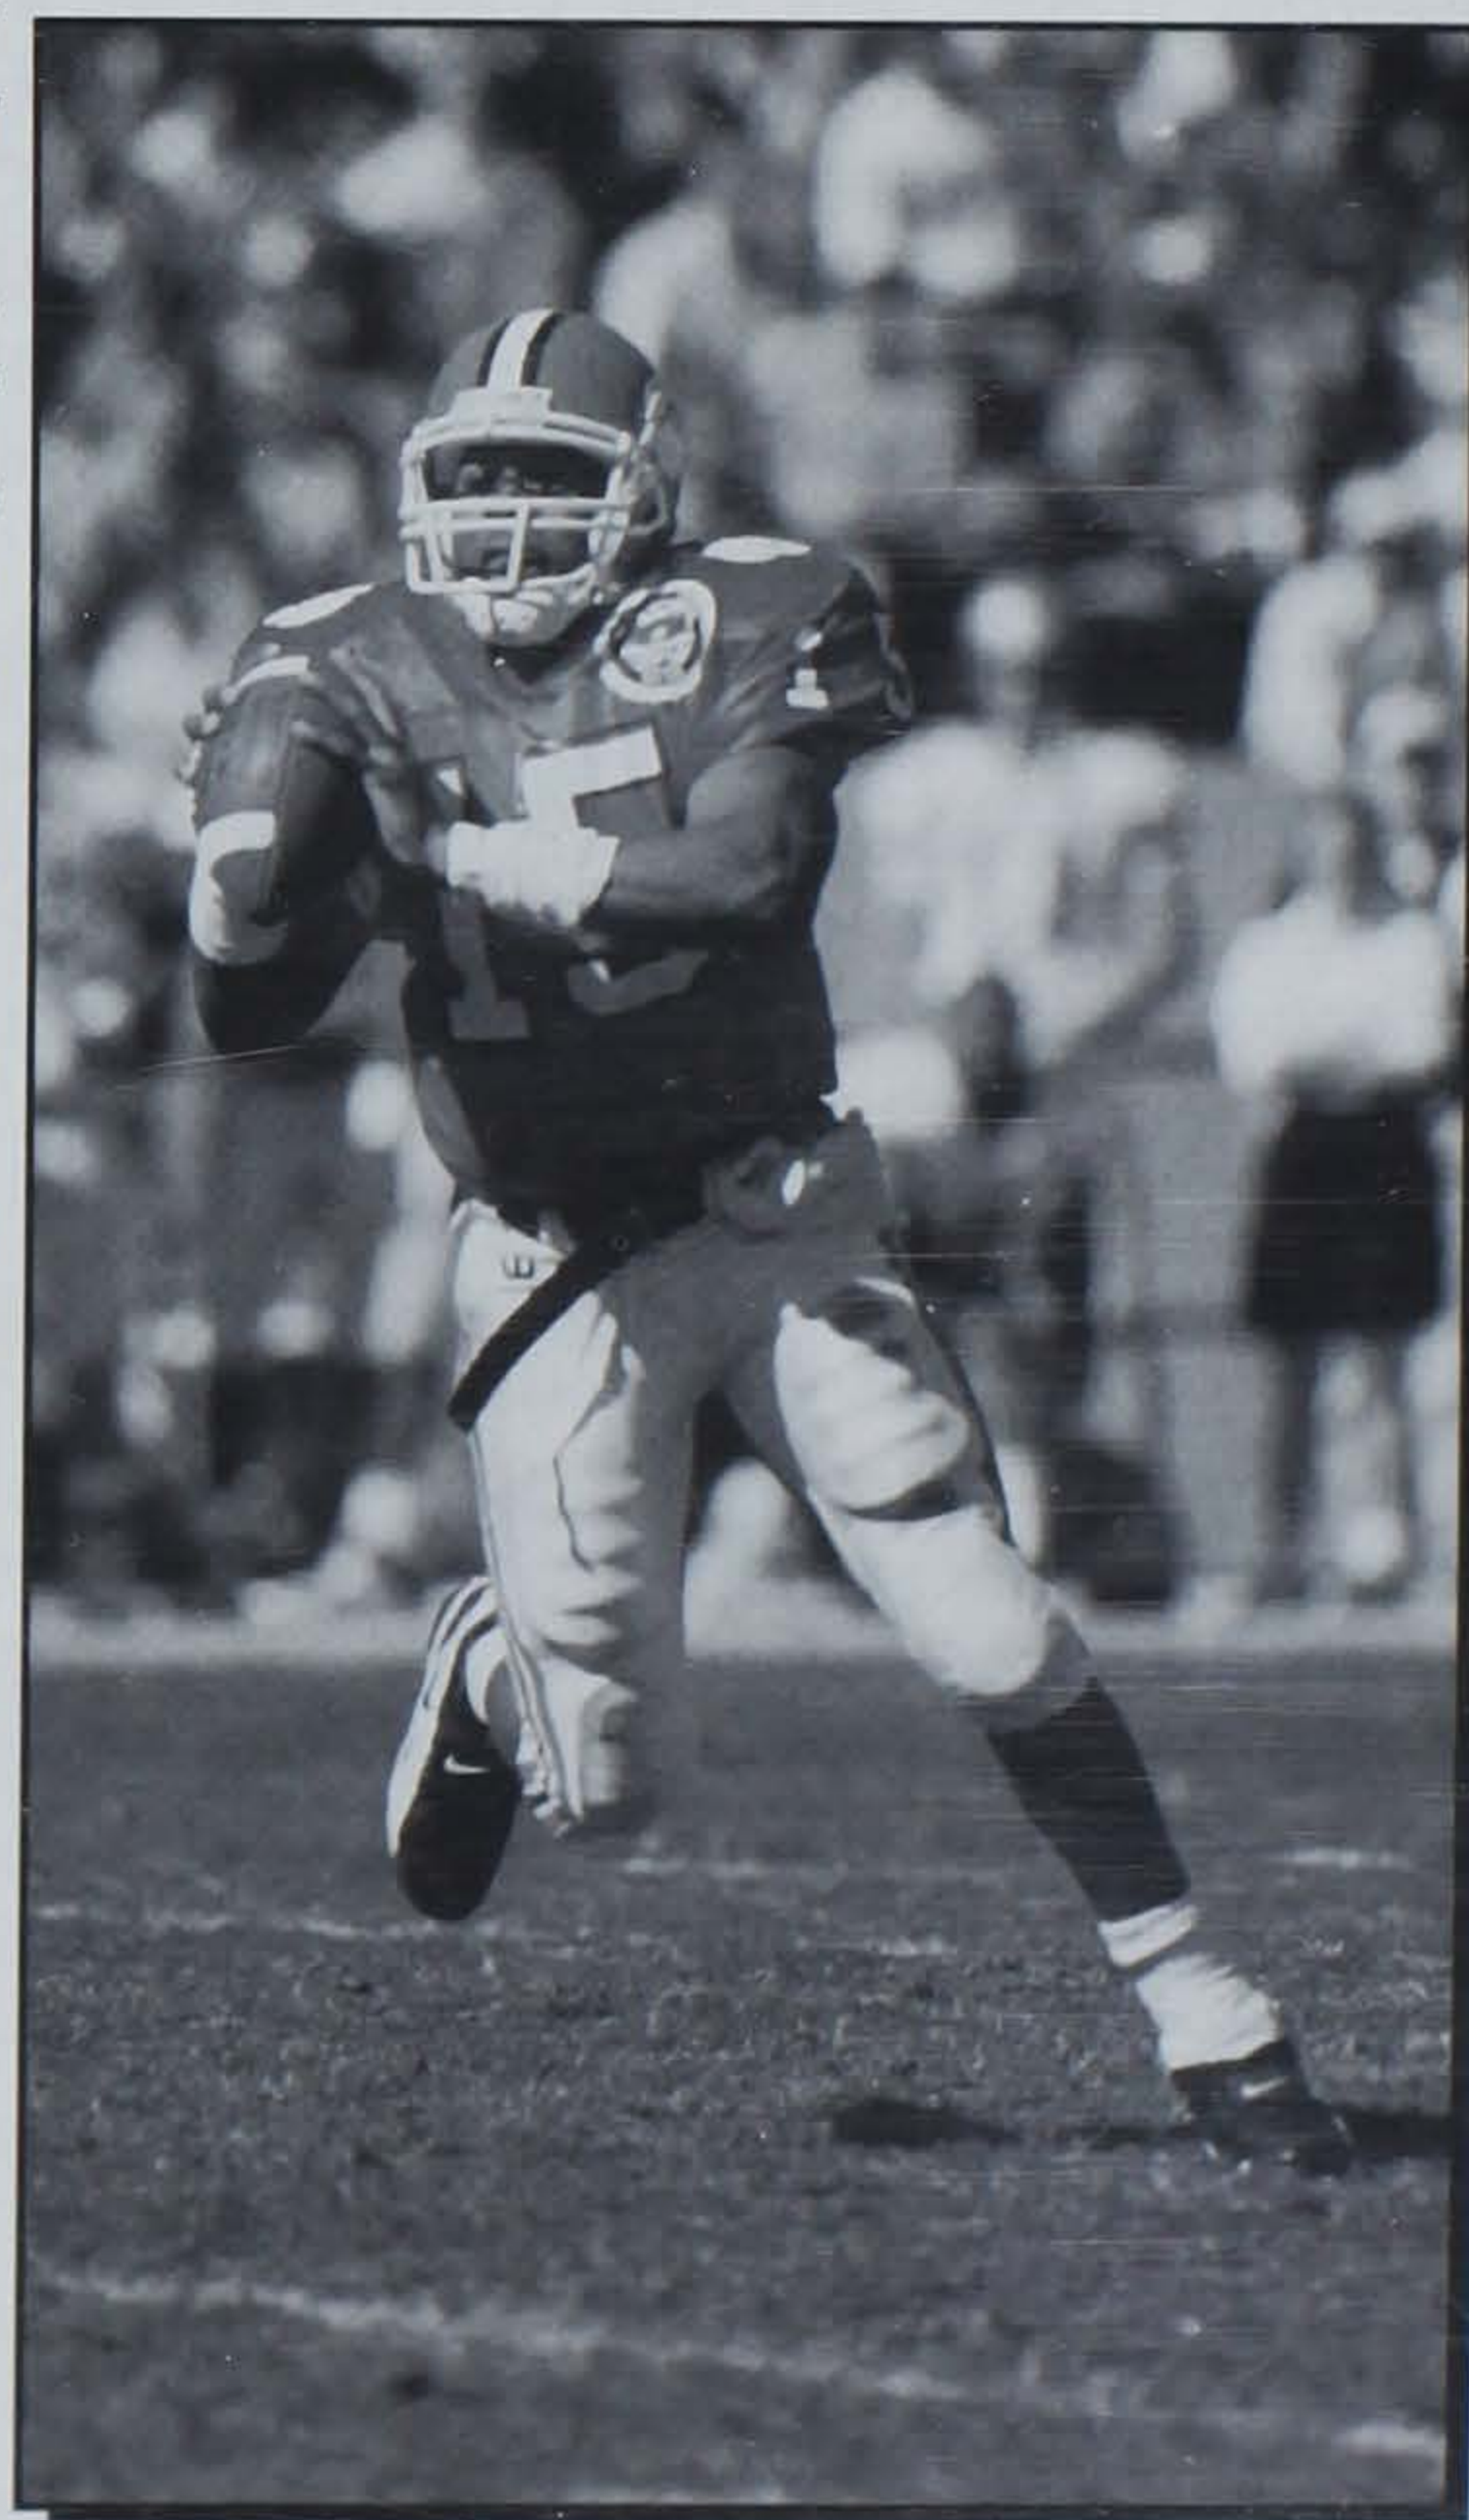

Bowl Experience: Was the starting quarterback for the Tigers in the 1995 Gator Bowl against the Syracuse Orangemen.

Years Lettered: 1994, 1995

Years Started: 1994, 1995

Ranked as the #9 option quarterback in the nation by Sporting News 1996 preseason issue...preseason first-team All-ACC by Athlon, College & Pro football newsweekly...already ranks in the top 10 in many Clemson career passing categories...reached the 2000-yard mark in the Gator Bowl, his 2061 total is already 13th best in Clemson history...in addition to his number-two ranking in completion percentage in Clemson history and #3 standing in interception avoidance, Greene is eighth in total completions with 167, ninth in yards per attempt with 7.21, eighth in passing efficiency (121.1) and tied for 13th in touchdown passes with 11...moved ahead of former teammate Patrick Sapp into 15th place in Clemson history in total offense,

Greene now has 2592 yards, same total Harvey White had in three years...only returning starting quarterback in the ACC...In 1995: Clemson's career pass completion percentage leader entering his junior year...that was enhanced by a .574 percentage last year, which is fourth best in Clemson history for a single season given minimum of 100 attempts...also third in Clemson history in interception avoidance, he throws an interception just 3.04 percent of the time...Clemson's first top 25 passing efficiency quarterback since 1984 when Mike Eppley finished 25th in the nation...Greene ranked 22nd last year with 137.6 rating points for the regular season...had the greatest sophomore quarterback season in Clemson history...grabbed Clemson sophomore record for pass completion percentage and passing yardage...led the ACC in yards per pass attempt with 8.05 figure and he ranked second in the ACC in passing efficiency...entering '95 there had been just 14 games in which a Clemson quarterback had over a 200 efficiency rating for a game, giving a minimum of 10 attempts...Greene had four games of 200 or more in 1995, more than any other quarterback in Clemson history in a season and for a career...was over the 200 efficiency mark against Western Carolina, N.C. State, Georgia Tech and South Carolina...had a 248.8 efficiency against the Pack, hitting 8-11 for 152 yards and two scores and that rating is third best in Clemson history...also had a 237.2 against Western Carolina, 235.6 at Georgia Tech and 205 against South Carolina...also had outstanding game against Wake Forest, hitting 18-25 for 239 yards, a career high in terms of passing yards and his 274 total offense yards was also a career high...had season high 95 yards rushing in 10 attempts against Duke...had three touchdown passes against Western Carolina, first Tiger quarterback to do that since 1984...entering 1996 has thrown 139 consecutive passes on the road without an interception for his career, all of his interceptions have come in Death Valley or at neutral sites...had much better stats on the road than at home in 1995, he was 48-69 (.696) on the road and had an efficiency of 182 for the last five regular season games...had outstanding 10-13 passing for 167 yards and two scores against Georgia Tech, leading Clemson to a three-touchdown victory...played 768 plays in 1995, second on the Clemson team...under center for 89 percent of Clemson's plays in 1995...played Pee Wee football with current Maryland quarterback Brian Cummings...Cummings was the QB and Greene the tailback...seventh on Clemson team in chinups with 23, sixth in situps with 82 in 60 seconds.

In 1994: Started Clemson's last three games and five of the last six of 1994...completed 54.3 percent of his passes as a first-year freshman, second best among first year freshmen and 10th best for a single season in Clemson history... set a Clemson record for consecutive passes without an interception at the start of a career when he threw his first 90 passes of 1994 without an interception...streak was broken in the South Carolina game at the end of the season...Greene handled the ball well, the Clemson offense went 317 consecutive plays without a turnover with Greene at the controls prior to the South Carolina interception...just the second first-year freshman to start at quarterback for the Tigers in the last 19 seasons, Patrick Sapp was the other (1992)...probably had his best game of the season in win over North Carolina, he hit 9-12 passes for 104 yards...named ACC Rookie-of-the-Week for his performance against the Georgia Bulldogs when he connected on 13 of 19 passes for 102 yards and a touchdown...that was Greene's first start and it was quite a performance for the first-year freshman in front of over 86,000 hostile fans...he played before an average crowd of 250 in high school...his completion total and percentage rank as the best in Clemson history for a quarterback's debut...completed 16 of 30 passes at Duke in his first career start for 172 yards, he also posted 32 yards rushing at Duke for a 200-yard total offense game...named the JP/Burger King Player-of-the-Game at Duke...suffered a mild shoulder separation of his throwing shoulder in the first half of the Florida State game which caused him limited action in that game and the win over Wake Forest...Exxon Tiger-of-the-Game for his performance versus Georgia Tech when he rushed for 111 yards in 19 carries and scored a pair of touchdowns...missed the second half of the South Carolina game due to a shoulder injury, Clemson trailed just 14-7 when he went out...recruited to Clemson by Rich Bisaccia, current Clemson running backs coach, who is from Yonkers, NY...Bisaccia originally recruited Greene to go to South Carolina, as that is where Bisaccia was coaching at the beginning of Greene's senior year of high school...appeared in the September, 1995 issue of Reader's Digest.

In High School: Rated the number-three quarterback in the eastern region of the United States by Bluechip Illustrated...as a senior, he passed for 1,050 yards with 13 TDs...led Lincoln High School to its first bowl game victory in history...played his high school football for Anthony Fiorelli, who was a New York truck driver by day and football coach by night...he also rushed for 906 yards and scored 10 TDs...member of the 1994 SuperPrep All-Northeast team...the number-10 option quarterback in the nation by Tom Lemming's Prep Football Report...rated third-best player in New York by SuperPrep...member of the All-East team by Prep Football Report...majoring in secondary education...born 3-13-76.

Hall Fact: Clemson's leader in special teams tackles in 1994 with 13.

Will continue to be a factor at tight end and on special teams in 1996...did not catch a pass in 1995, he was the intended receiver just once in 1044 plays by the Tiger offense, and that came in the Gator Bowl on a fourth-down play....caught one pass in the 1996 Orange & White contest for 11 yards, the third straight Spring Game he has caught at least one pass...still looking for his first reception in a regular season game...should be involved in more pass catching activities this year based on spring scrimmages, had as many as four in some scrimmages in Spring 1996...In 1995: First-team tight end in 1995...started only two games, the Tigers played three wide receivers for a majority of the plays...played in every game, he was in for 20 snaps in four games, Western Carolina, Wake Forest, N.C. State and Georgia Tech...in for 15 snaps against South Carolina...in for just two snaps against Florida State, North Carolina and Duke, but he played special teams in those games...had nine knockdown blocks in his 157 plays for the season...has appeared in 23 straight games, two as a starter...fine special teams player, he had three special teams tackles in 1995 to go with 13 as a freshman...caused a fumble and recovered it on a punt return at Wake Forest...had his two starts against Western Carolina and Georgia Tech...second strongest Tiger in terms of the power clean with a 322-pound lift.

In 1994: Saw the most action on special teams in 1994 where he compiled 13 tackles, first on the Clemson team...many of his tackles were in punt coverage...appeared in all 11 games on special teams and at the tight end position...in for 106 plays for the season, third among Clemson players, as the Tigers rotated three tight ends...split time with Ed Glenn (173 plays) and Stephon Wynn (151 plays)...had most successful game when the Tigers took on the Seminoles and he posted four tackles, three of which were solo stops...did not have a reception, he was a solid blocker with fine performances in Clemson's wins over North Carolina and Georgia Tech...also had four tackles against the Yellow Jackets, two of which were solo stops.

In 1993: Talented young tight end who showed great progress in '94 spring drills after red-shirting the '93 season...the only player to catch a pass for White team in the '94 Orange and White game, he had two for 10 yards.

In High School: The 28th-best player in South Carolina according to SuperPrep...rated as the seventh-best tight end prospect in the nation by Max Emfinger...an all-conference and all-region performer at tight end in 1992...had 15 receptions for 219 yards and a touchdown...also played on the defensive side of the ball, where he posted 80 solo tackles, 47 assists and recovered two fumbles for Coach Butch Windell...named to the Rock Hill Herald's All-Area team...the leading scorer and rebounder on his Lake Wylie High School basketball team that was ranked fourth in the state...as a junior, averaged 19 points and 11 rebounds per game...school's career scoring leader in basketball, he broke the 20-year record formerly held by current Clemson associate AD and ticket manager Van Hilderbrand...a 3A all-state performer in basketball...named the Student Athlete-of-the-Week by Kanahwa Insurance...majoring in secondary education...born 11-16-74 in Gastonia, NC.

Fall Depth Chart Position: First-team split end

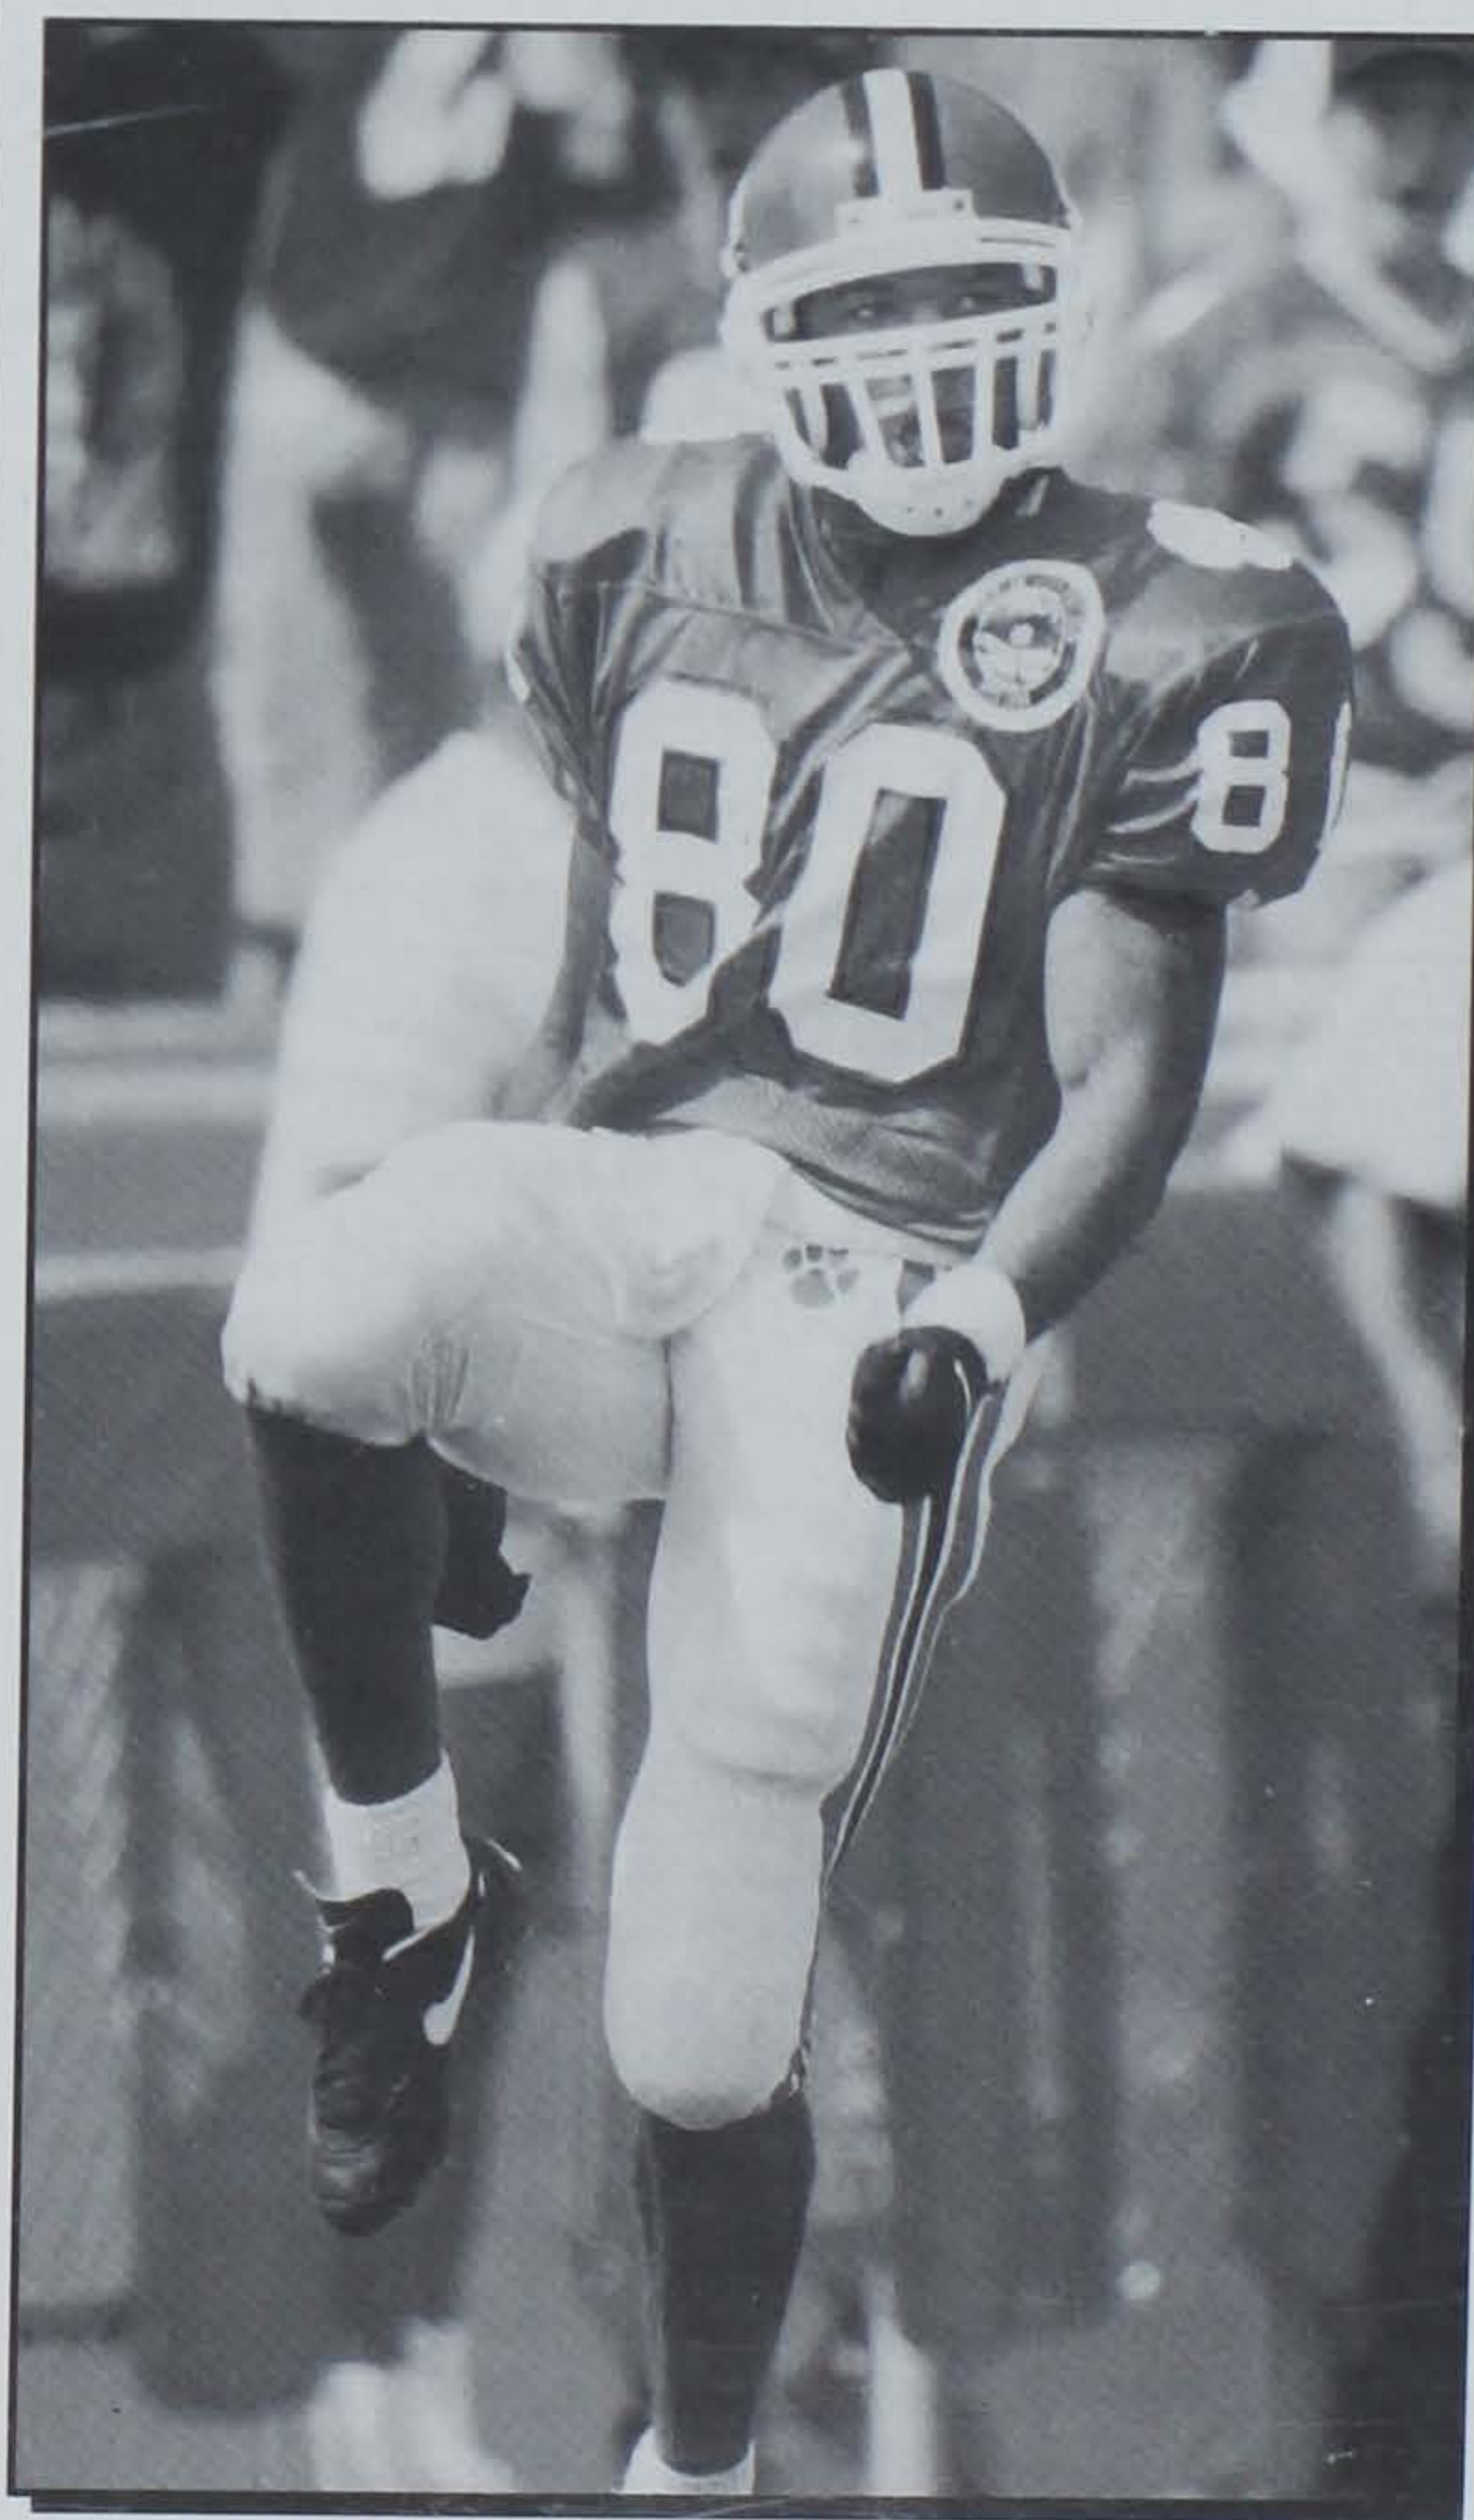

Best All-Around Game: Had three catches for 83 yards and two scores at N.C. State in 1995.

Bowl Experience: Grabbed a 15 yard pass from Nealon Greene in the Gator Bowl when the Tigers took on Syracuse in 1995.

Years Started: 1995

Reliable big play receiver who works hard in the shadow of other receivers last year...should become Clemson's top deep threat this year... averaged team best 19.5 yards per catch in 1995 and he has a 16.8 average for his career, among the best in Clemson history....competed for the '96 Clemson indoor track team and had an appearance in the triple jump during the indoor season...In 1995: Second leading receiver on the Clemson team...more than tripled his receiving stats in sophomore year as compared to his freshman season...started all 12 games as a sophomore, first sophomore wide receiver to start every game since 1991 when Terry Smith did it...deep threat in '95, something that was established in the second game of the season when he had a 56-yard touchdown reception against Florida State...had three catches for 72 yards and that score against the Seminoles...had career high four catches for 71 yards at Wake Forest...had a career high 83 yards receiving against N.C. State and two TD passes...caught at least one pass in every game but the North Carolina contest...averaged 51.8 plays per game in 1995 and had a season high 73 plays against Florida State and Virginia...one of the top blocking wide receivers in the ACC, he led the team in knockdown blocks in three games...had career high 10 knockdowns against Maryland, most by a Clemson wide receiver that year...led the team with nine against Florida State and seven against Duke...had 50 knockdowns for the season, more than any other Clemson player regardless of position...had three TD catches to rank second on the Clemson team behind Antwuan Wyatt...had three games in which he averaged over 20 yards per reception, Florida State, Virginia and N.C. State...named Exxon Tiger of the Game by the Clemson radio network for the N.C. State game.

In 1994: Participated in all 11 games during '95 as a wide receiver...had seven receptions for 56 yards, fourth on the team in total receptions...averaged 8.0 yards per catch and had one touch-down, a six-yarder against Wake Forest that put the Tigers ahead to stay...caught one other pass in that game for 11 yards...also had two receptions in the win over Georgia Tech...was a member of the Tiger track team in the off-season as a hurdler...had an outstanding spring, he had 10 receptions for 192 yards and three touchdowns in the four scrimmages, including 6-90 in the first scrimmage on March 5 and 3-73 and two scores in the Orange-White game...caught TD passes of four and 40 yards in the 1995 Spring Game from Nealon Greene.

In High School: From the same high school as former Clemson receiver and former Seattle Seahawk Doug Thomas...state champion in the 110m high hurdles...holds the school record in the 110m high hurdles with a time of 13.53...all-conference and all-region the last two seasons in track...also named to the all-state team in track in 1993-94...co-MVP on 1992-93 track team...an all-conference selection in football his last two years in high school...Player-of-the-Year in the conference junior and senior years in high school...named team MVP his senior season...led the team in rushing and receiving during his senior year...averaged over 90 yards rushing a game and 6.7 yards a carry his last year in high school...a running back in high school who caught only 10 passes in four years...earned three letters in track and football...majoring in business...born 3-21-76 in Montgomery Co., NC.

Jones Fact: Second on the 1995 Clemson team in plays per tackle

Fall Depth Chart Position: Second-team inside linebacker

Bowl Experience: Garnered four tackles and one tackle-for-loss in the 1995 Gator Bowl when the Tigers took on the Syracuse Orangemen.

Best Game: Had six tackles, including a tackle for loss in 21 plays against Maryland in 1995.

Years Lettered: 1995

Had an impressive outing versus Syracuse in the Gator Bowl, posted four tackles in 20 plays and one tackle for loss in the game...should have ample playing time with the absence of Patrick Sapp and Andy McCrorey at the linebacker positions...listed as second team heading into the Fall, but he will see as much time as starters Mond Wilson and Anthony Simmons...In 1995: Second on the Clemson team in plays per tackle, he had a tackle for every 3.68 plays in 1995...only class-mate Anthony Simmons was better... one of five first-year freshmen to appear in every game and one of just three to play on scrimmage plays in every game...did not start a game, but averaged 15 plays per game...played at least nine plays in every game and a high of 25 in the opener against Western Carolina when he had a season high seven tackles...seventh on the Clemson team last year in total tackles with 50, five of which were on special teams...had six tackles at Maryland in just 21 plays...had most productive game against Virginia with six tackles in 16 games...had at least one tackle in every game, he and Simmons were only freshmen to do that...had four tackles for loss for the season and one pass deflection...had five tackles in just 11 plays in win over North Carolina.

In High School: Better known as a running back in high school, he had 1400 yards rushing his senior year at Monroe Area High School in Georgia...had 329 yards rushing on 15 attempts vs. Loganville High in 1994...four-year high school starter for Mark Whitley...majoring in pre-physical therapy...born 9-30-76.

Fall Depth Chart Position: Starting punter

Bowl Experience: 1995 Gator Bowl

Pooch punter for the Tigers in 1995, he played in six of the 12 games in that capacity...was the primary punter in the 1996 Spring Game, had eight punts for 324 yards, an average of 40.5 yards per punt, much improved from the '95 season...had a long punt of 48 yards in the Spring Game...In 1995: Had three of his nine punts killed inside the 20 last year, one each against Maryland, Georgia Tech and South Carolina...his 30-yard average is a result of him never punting with the ball in Clemson territory all year...had 38-yard punt killed inside the 20 against Maryland in his first ACC action...had at least one punt in the last five regular season games after not punting for five consecutive weeks...made his first appearance against Western Carolina...had his long punt of the year at Georgia Tech, a 38-yarder...has a 7.67 power ratio (total weight lifted divided by body weight), most by a Clemson kicker in 11 years.

In 1994: Red-shirted the 1994 season and gained valuable knowledge of the kicking game from teammates Jeff Sauve and Nelson Welch...only scholarship punter on the Clemson team for 1995.

In High School: The 24th and last signee for Tommy West's first recruiting class, he was the only kicker...originally committed to Notre Dame...two-year starter as a punter and placekicker at Brandon High for coach Wally Bumpas...Brandon had an 8-4 record and reached the state playoffs where it was eliminated in the first round by the eventual state champion his final season...Laird was an All-Metro selection in 1993 when he averaged 40 yards a punt...played in just seven games due to a pulled quad muscle...converted 4-6 field goals, the leg injury curtailed his ability to kick field goals...during a healthy junior season, Laird averaged 42.4 yards a punt....also is a three-year starter as a back on the Brandon High School soccer team...majoring in veterinary medicine...born 6/14/76 in Hattiesburg, MS.

Landry Fact: Has played in 23 consecutive games during his career with the Tigers.

Reserve offensive tackle who gained both experience and playing time in 1995...took spring practice and worked to find his way toward a starting position for the '96 season...has played in 23 straight games over two years and has played 125 snaps from scrimmage...has six career knockdown blocks, three in each season...In 1995: Reserve offensive tackle who came into the Clemson lineup when the Tigers went into the "Wham Right" formation...also a capable snapper for the Tigers, he did some snapping on field goals in 1994...played 81 snaps for the year with a high of 26 against Western Carolina in the season opener...his 81 snaps ranked third among second-team Tiger offensive linemen...had his only knockdown blocks against Western Carolina, N.C. State and Duke...effective in the Wham Right formation, a reason Emory Smith had 14 rushing TDs last year...had 12 plays of action against N.C. State and Duke...he played on scrimmage plays in all but one game.

In 1994: In for 44 total plays in '94 and many more as the short snapper...one of the reasons Clemson had such outstanding field goal stats that year, there was not a bad snap on a field goal attempt all year and Nelson Welch did not have a blocked field goal or extra point all season...his brother, Mike Landry, played for South Carolina before graduating in 1993...first brother combination to play for both schools in 14 years (Paul and Toney Williams in 1979-80 era)...his father played football at Houston...Mark was one of just seven players from New Hampshire to play for a Division I Football Program in 1994...his family now lives in Atlanta, GA.

In High School: Ranked as the 16th best offensive tackle in the nation by Max Emfinger's (1-15-94) report...A Street & Smith Top 300 selection prior to his senior year...a Boston Globe Top 100 pick each of the last two years...all-state selection on offense and defense as a junior and senior...attended high school in New Hampshire, then spent 1993 season at Milford Academy Prep School in Connecticut...that school now has four Tigers on the current Clemson team...also an all-state selection in Lacrosse as a senior in high school...played in the New Hampshire-Vermont Shrine Bowl, he has also played in the state high school all-star game of lacrosse...lettered one year in basketball and four years each in football and lacrosse...has experience as a long snapper...member of the 1994 SuperPrep All-American team, he was ranked as the 29th best offensive lineman in the nation...member of All-Atlantic team by SuperPrep...majoring in business ...born 9-18-75.

Returns for his senior season as one of the top fullbacks in the nation, he is ranked as high as second in the nation among fullbacks by the Lindy's Sporting News preseason issue...combined with Raymond Priester to become the most prolific backfield combination in Clemson history...his 712 yards rushing rank third best in Clemson history for a single season by a fullback...In 1995: Led the Tigers in touchdowns and scoring in 1995...had 15 touchdowns and 90 total points, the touchdown total tied for second best in Clemson history and most by a Tiger since 1978 when Lester Brown had a record 17 touchdowns...ranked 20th in the nation in scoring...had four touchdowns in victory at Wake Forest, most rushing touchdowns by a Tiger since 1950 when Fred Cone had four in a game...also had three touchdowns against Duke and two against South Carolina...first in the ACC in touchdowns per game, his brother Emmitt led the NFL in total touchdowns and touchdowns per game...ranked ninth in the ACC in rushing yards per game with a 62-yard average...Emory had one of his best games at Georgia Tech when he had 26-100 rushing and a touchdown, as Emmitt watched from the sidelines....needs just 11 touchdowns in 1996 to set Clemson career touchdown record...had 101 yards rushing on 12 attempts and two touchdowns at South Carolina in final regular season game, one of two 100-yard games for Smith last year...named Jefferson Pilot Player-of-the-Game for his efforts against South Carolina...winner of the Clemson "Take No Prisoners Award" for his warrior effort against the Gamecocks, that included a 54-yard run when he dragged a South Carolina defender for over 10 yards on the game's clinching drive...had two 100-yard games and two other games with 97 or 98 yards, so he was close to four 100-yard games for the season...scored at least one TD in seven of the 12 games...had

8-97 rushing against Florida State, he had a 48-yard run that led to a Tiger TD...named Clemson's Player of the Game by ABC Sports for that Florida State game...had 18-75 in outstanding effort against N.C. State, then had 12-60 against Georgia and scored a pair of touchdowns, Clemson's only two TDs of the game...played 598 plays and started nine games, his play total was a high mark for a Clemson running back...had 18-98 at Maryland, he also had a season high six knock-down blocks...his 712 rushing yards was most by a Clemson fullback since 1983 when Kevin Mack gained 862 yards on the ground, the Clemson single season fullback rushing record...has 20 career touchdowns, one of just 13 Tigers to have as many as 20 six-pointers in a career...has an 11.3 yard average on 11 career receptions, including a career best 57-yard reception against Kentucky in the 1993 Peach Bowl.

In 1994: Started two games at his fullback position in '94, but appeared in all 11 games...carried the ball 44 times for 145 yards and garnered three touchdowns in the process...ranked eighth on the team in total offense with 145 yards and an average of 3.3 yards per play...tied for second on the team with Raymond Priester in scoring with 18 points...tied for the team lead in touchdowns with three...had his best game of the year in the season opener against Furman when he had 59 yards and scored two touchdowns in just 10 rushing attempts...had a solid game in the win over Wake Forest when he scored late touchdown and had nine carries for 28 yards...carried the ball just 10 times between game two and game six.

In 1993: The Tigers' starting fullback in eight games, he ended the season with his top three performances...named the Offensive MVP in the Peach Bowl win over Kentucky, he gained 45 yards on eight carries and scored one of two Tiger touchdowns in that one-point Clemson win...also set up the winning touchdown in that game when he caught a screen pass from Patrick Sapp and rumbled 57 yards...one of two Smiths to win MVP honors in the Georgia Dome within a month's span, his brother Emmitt was named the MVP of the Super Bowl for the Dallas Cowboys...led the team in rushing in the win at South Carolina, gaining 84 yards on 15 carries...named the Exxon Tiger-of-the-Game and the ACC Rookie-of-the-Week for that performance...led all running backs in rushing in the win over Virginia with 113 yards, he had runs of over 40 yards in each of the last two games of the regular season, then the 57-yard reception in the Peach Bowl...had 242 of his 387 rushing yards in the last three games of the season...also did a fine job blocking versus UVA, tallying season-high seven knockdown blocks...averaged over four yards per carry for 1993, he was the Tigers' second-leading rusher for the season...in for a season-high 59 snaps in the win over Georgia Tech he had five knockdown blocks in that contest.

In 1992: Red-shirted the 1992 season at fullback, but earned experience in preseason workouts...the Tiger coaches wanted to have him ready to play due to Rudy Harris's three-game suspension and Howard Hall's injuries...the Tigers' third-leading rusher in 1993 spring workouts, he gained 169 yards on 30 carries for the five spring scrimmages...also scored three touchdowns for the spring.

In High School: Ranked as the seventh-best fullback in the nation by Max Emfinger...a first-team all-state selection in Florida at the linebacker position...wore #22 in high school, the same number as Emmitt...22 was not available when he came to Clemson...averaged 10 tackles per game, while rushing for 1,001 yards and 13 touchdowns as a senior at Escambia High School where he was coached by Dwight Thomas...named the Pensacola (FL) area's defensive Player-of-the-Year...chosen to play in the Florida-Georgia all-star game...majoring in marketing...born 5-21-74 in Pensacola, FL.

JIM BUNDREN

What aspects of Clemson drew you all the way from Delaware?

"I really did not know anything about Clemson until I came down for a visit and I just really liked it. The tradition had a lot to do with my decision. Clemson has everything I wanted... good area, good campus, good people around town."

What are some of your career goals? Do you plan on staying with football or did you want to do something with your major- sports management?

"I hope to do something sports related whether it be as an athletic director, coach, or sports information. My goal is to play in the NFL, but if that does not work out then something else. Sports has always been a big part of my life and I enjoy it. So, why not do something you enjoy."

What are your goals for this season? Are you preparing for it any differently than last season?

"I am trying to get stronger and faster. I just work on my different techniques and stuff like that in the off season. I think I am in the best shape I have been in entering this August practice."

This season you are going to be in a leadership type role that you have not had in the past two seasons. Do you feel any extra pressure?

"I think there is a little bit more pressure and a lot of the guys are turning to me just like I did when I was younger. They are asking questions and such, just like I did two years ago when I moved from defense. So, yeah there is a little added pressure, but I have been through a lot of games and feel I have the experience to help them out."

Who is someone that you have admired or looked up to throughout your life?

"My parents have always supported me. They have always come to all the games, even when I was little. Even now they drive 10 hours from Delaware and come to all the games. If I am having a rough day or whatever I always call them, it is great to have that support. On the field, I looked up to Will Young. We played together the last two years and he was someone who helped me make the switch from defense to offense. That was a tough time and Will really helped me out."

What do you hope to accomplish before you leave Clemson?

"I want to be known for someone who always played hard and gave all he had and was here to help other people out. Also, I want to be known as someone who did things outside of sports around the area and the community."

What can Clemson fans expect from the offensive line this year?

"I think we are going to have a good offensive line, we just need a little more chemistry. Last year we had chemistry. This year we have a couple of new guys who are young and have not had a lot of experience, so we just need to get the new guys confident and we will do just fine."

NEALON GREENE

What are your goals for this season?

"Off the field, I want to get stronger in the weight room. I think that will make me a better quarterback in all phases. On the field, I hope to lead this team to the ACC Championship."

Have you seen any major changes in the offense with the arrival of Coach Moody?

"We are going to get the tight end involved more than in the past. The receivers are getting involved more and are running a few different patterns. But, I don't see a great deal of difference. We have a good running game with Raymond and Emory, so we will still run the ball. It is our job to take advantage of what the defense gives us."

What are your career goals?

"Primarily, I want to come out of Clemson with a degree and make my family proud. I will be one of the few people in my family with a college degree. Hopefully, if I can, I would like to further my career in football."

How do you explain your personal success on the road?

"I take it as a challenge to go into somebody else's territory, in front of their fans, in their atmosphere and prove to them that I can give my team the opportunity to win. It is a great motivator for me."

Who have been the most inspirational people in your life?

"I would say that my whole family has been. They have given me a lot of support during the years. When I win they're behind me, and when I lose they're behind me. I think that is the strongest support and inspiration I can have."

What does it feel like to run down the hill?

"That is the greatest feeling I have ever felt since playing football. I get asked about it every time I go home. When you are at the top of the hill, for that small amount of time, it gets you focused on what you have to do. When I used to play high school football, it would take a couple of plays to get rid of the butterflies, but once I get down the hill here, the butterflies are gone."

What is the difference in playing in front of high school and college crowds?

"I don't see a big difference and maybe that is why I play well on the road. I looked forward to playing in front of a big crowd my entire life. When I first got into the Georgia game (1994), there were about 86,000 people and it was their home field. You just have to block it out. The butterflies are no different, I would get them regardless of how many people were watching."

ANDY AND PETER FORD

Is there competition between you?

Peter: "Yes, more now than when we first came here. We keep it between ourselves, but it helps us improve our game."

Andy: "It's not a fierce competition of trying to outdo one another. We try to push each other to do better. When I see Pete doing well, I want to do well and the same for him with me. It's more of a friendly competition to get better. We're not trying to outdo each other or to make each other look bad. We're not trying to take each other's spot. We're real close and just like to see each other succeed. In other words, it's a healthy competition."

It appears that Andy has been the stronger starter and Peter is the stronger finisher? Is that true?

Andy: "Throughout our careers I've always been in the right place at the right time. Basically, I've always had the real quick chances to play, and Pete had to sort of sit back and wait his turn a little bit. I have had injuries throughout my career. In a way I think that's good because it gave Pete a chance to play. I hope to stay out there this year without an injury."

I don't think of myself as a starter over Pete or better than Pete. We're just two players. Unfortunately, there's only two positions and right now there's three of us fighting for those positions—me, Pete, and Dex (Dexter McCleon). All three of us can play, so we'll just see what happens. We all feel like we're the seniors. We're the starters, and that's our secondary out there.

Pete: "I feel about the same way. Andy's had injuries and we're trying to keep him healthy this year. He likes to see me play; I like to see him play, but we prefer to do it from the middle of the field. I'm still going to root for him no matter what. I'm still going to hope he does well, and I'm still going to go out there and do my best. If he plays in front of me that's fine. All that really matters is that we're both having fun and playing football."

Do you think you could both be at the top of your game this year?

Pete: "Yes, this is our senior year and we've got to go out there and prove we can play. We've been working hard this summer. We're really focused on what we have to do this year. We've got a lot of expectations for ourselves and the team. We've just got to live up to them."

Andy: "I think this is going to be one of our better years. You can see it in the players' eyes. They want to do well. Individually, we sat down and talked about our goals, and I think it's going to be one of our better years, individually and as a team."

What are your goals (team and personal) for the upcoming season?

Pete: "We came off a great regular season last year with a disappointing loss in the Gator Bowl. We want to use the momentum we had after the regular season and use it toward this year. We want to remember the loss in the Gator Bowl and use it as incentive to get better and get back to a January 1 bowl. Instead of what happened last year, we want to move on and go further and win a major bowl game. I think that's what this team is working for."

It can be accomplished. Individually, we're going to do what we can. We want to help lead the team and guide it in the right direction from a leadership standpoint."

Andy: "We've got to go out and continue to gain respect in the ACC and in the nation. I don't have any specific goals, other than to help this team be the best it can because this team has all of the potential in the world. We've just got to go out and play and have fun."

For Andy:

How have you coped with constant ankle injuries throughout your career?

"It's been hard. My senior year in high school I had that paralyzing foot injury in my ankle. Ever since then it's really bothered me. It's been rough, but I have a family that supports me. My brother supports me. I have a girlfriend who supports me. All of my teammates support me. They never let me get my head down. The coaches talk to me all the time. That's basically how I deal with it. I feed off of their support."

How does it affect your game?

"I've realized it's not all a physical game. A lot of it is mental because when I went down with my injuries a lot of my athletic abilities went, so I had to rely on my mental aspect to out-think an opponent. I had to watch a lot of films to get an extra little step on them so I can see if they're giving away a pattern or a run read. I had to think a lot more about my game instead of just relying on my athletic ability."

What kind of regime do you put yourself through to mentally overcome this?

"A lot of times I go off by myself and just sit there and try to calm myself down and just know that tomorrow will be another day and I've got to work hard. Every time I go on the field I've got something to prove, that I can come back from any injury and that's how I take it. I go out there every day with something to prove to everybody, that I'm back and that I can play."

Peter and Andy Ford

For Peter:
How did it feel to be MVP of the Gator Bowl?

"It was a shock to me. Actually, I didn't really know until I got into the locker room that they had named me MVP. It was tough to lose like that, but winning MVP made me feel better. It was one of the greatest honors I've had so far in my career, besides being named to the Shrine Bowl out of high school."

How has being married affected your life on and off the field?

"It's great. It makes you have to grow up a lot. On the field it's helped me because it keeps me from being hot-headed. I use to be hot-headed and had a short temper and I'd blow up and lose focus. Being married has helped me grow up and realize you've got to take things in stride and take them as they come."

Off the field it's great! My wife helps me when I come home and I've had a bad day. I'll sit down and talk to her and it just helps me to get over it. She'll listen and tell me things will be better. I can go home after a hard practice or a hard game and spend time with my wife and play with my daughter, and it just helps me to get over things."

"It helps me as far as going to school and being an athlete. That's one of the toughest jobs to do. People might not realize how hard it is to go to school and be an athlete at the same time. You get a lot of stress, and it's a strain on you. There are times you don't want to study. Having a wife who I can come home to every day and who'll listen gives me motivation to study and go on."

RAYMOND PRIESTER

With few seniors, have you assumed the role of a leader on this year's team?

"I'm ready to live up to that challenge if it is brought upon me. I think that it shows the respect your teammates have for you. I am going to give them the same respect that they give me. I don't think that this is the type of team to have one specific leader. If I see them out there needing to be picked up, then I'll try my best to, and if I need picking up, then I hope that they will try to help me. It's really going to be a give-and-take situation."

With all of the media attention you received last year, how did your friends treat you when you went home this summer?

"Everyone back home seems to be happy for me, and they just want to see me do my best. I don't go home looking to be praised, I go back looking for the same friends I had when I left. How they view me is up to them, but I am going to be the same person."

How has your family reacted to your success?

"They were also happy for me, but my mother also makes sure that I keep a level head. The talent that has been given to me is a gift and I am happy for it, but I have got to continue to work hard on it and improve. She says, 'That's great what they say (the media), but work on the books, the books, the books!'"

How has Vickery Hall helped you improve as a student?

"Last year, I probably did not spend as much time in Vickery as I should have. There are qualified people there who can and will help you, but it all starts with yourself. You have to be strong enough to say I need help in this area and go and get it. Clemson gives you all the facilities and support to succeed, but you have to take advantage of it."

What are your personal goals and expectations for this year?

"I see being listed as a starter as something for the public. Pre-fall practices are a chance for everyone to earn a spot. I don't feel that anybody has a spot already, you have to come out with the same mentality that you did the year before. Everybody is equal, you have to start all over again, and you have to practice just as hard and work just as hard to earn your spot."

Why didn't you allow the offensive line to carry you off the field after you broke the single game rushing record last year?

"Gaining all that yardage was a team accomplishment. I got the 263 yards rushing in my column, but the offensive line created the holes, Nealon made the right calls, the fullbacks and the wide receivers made the blocks. I didn't need to be singled out in that way."

GLENN ROUNTREE

Describe your interest in farming?

"I have been around a farm all my life. I have never thought about doing anything else. After my playing days are over I plan to get involved with agriculture. My dad has owned our farm since I was born. I started driving a tractor when I was six-years-old. Whenever I get a chance to go home, I try to help out any way I can."

How will you be a leader in '96?

"I really want to be one of the leaders on the team this year. The key is to go out and do it (lead), not just say it. There are many players who talk a lot and do not show their leadership on the field. I feel that the players who do what the coaches ask of them are the best leaders, and that is how I plan to lead. I started as a freshman and looked up to the older offensive linemen. Now I have to be in that role."

Who is your role model?

"My dad has been by biggest role model in my life. I have always admired the way he works. I think that if I could work as hard as he works, there would not be any limit to where I could go or what I could do with my life. I am lucky to have that example, motivation in my life."

What are your goals for the '96 season?

"The team goal is to win the ACC championship and go to one of the Alliance bowls. I truly believe with all of my heart that we can make it to one of the three bowls. Last year we had a great team, but we want to build on last year and be better. Individually, I am not concerned with how I do or if I make any post-season teams as much as going to a major bowl."

ANTHONY SIMMONS

How does it feel to win a prestigious award such as UPI Freshman of the Year?

"It feels pretty good. It was a surprise really because when I first came to Clemson I just wanted to play in the games and be a part of a great Clemson team. I never dreamed I would win that award when I first came to Clemson."

Has your 1995 success put any pressure on you for this coming season?

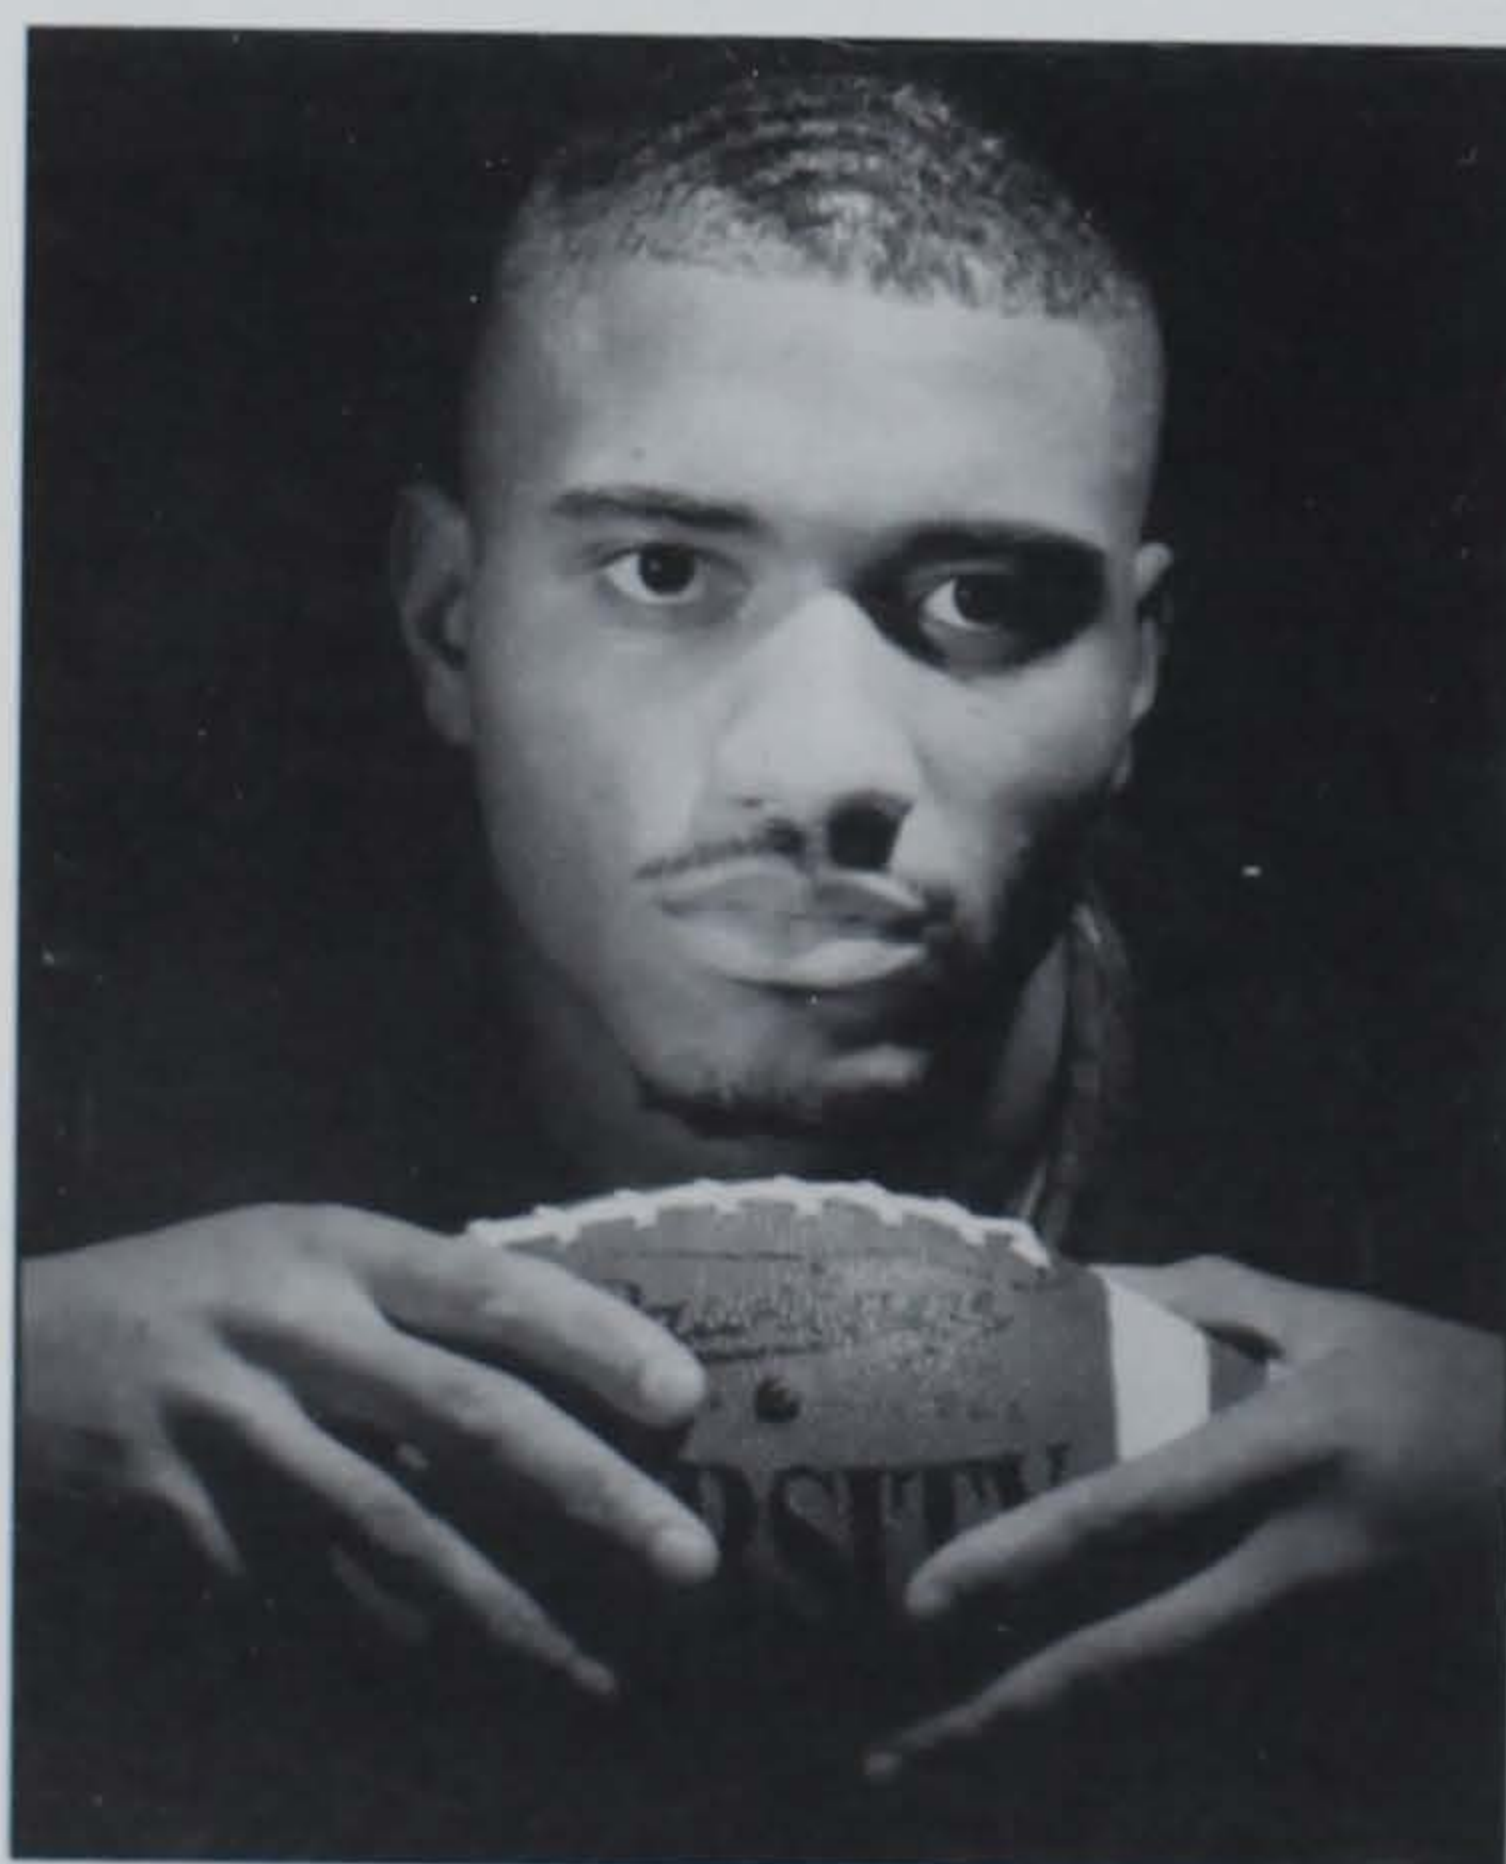

"It's not really putting any pressure on me, but it is making me feel that I have to work harder because I have to get better. A lot of people think I can't make more improvement, but until I have that perfect game I will always see room for improvement. Because I did some things like leading the team in tackles last year I will be more of a marked man by the other team, so I will have to step it up to another level."

What are your goals for this season? How are you preparing for it?

"My main goal is to take steps forward because you can't have any steps back. To continue to move forward I have to get bigger and stronger. I have worked hard on the weights, hoping to get better without losing any speed. Speed, size and strength are the combination you look for in a linebacker."

Last year there was an article about how close of friends you and Andye McCrorey are. Is there anything that he has helped you with as far as playing or any advice that he has given you?

"I think as far as him helping me and me helping him it is the communication. For example, anytime we saw the other doing something wrong we talked about it and what we had to do to correct it. It helped both of us and we became a good inside linebacker combination. I will miss Andye, but we have some other linebackers who are going to be very good players. They will not be as experienced as Andye and we will miss that early in the season."

Is there anyone who you have admired as a child and now?

"As far as someone I admire it would have to be Mr. Duey Tellis. He comes to all the games and he has been supporting me since high school. He has been there for me and anytime I have a problem I know

I can talk to him. He is like a father to me."

As far as players, is there anyone that inspires you?

"My senior year in high school we would always watch film on different players and I always enjoyed watching Dick Butkus. After watching films on him I always thought in the back of my mind that I would like to play like him. That would be the ultimate compliment, to be compared to him."

How do you see Clemson football for this coming year? "I see really exciting things coming up for Clemson football this year. Everyone is working hard and getting bigger and stronger. The work ethic in the weight room has been very good and that usually carries over to the field in the fall."

EMORY SMITH

How did the '95 season effect you in terms of how your teammates and different people view you?

"People are now noticing me as Emory and not as Emmitt's little brother. I have really tried to make a name for myself and I think I have accomplished that. My teammates see me as a leader because I am a senior. I hope to lead the players who are looking for someone to follow."

What will it take in order to be successful in '96?

"For the most part, it will take the same hard work that it took in '95. I will have to be dedicated to the hard work that it takes to be successful on the field. I have tried to do extra drills and run extra sprints to better my physical skills this summer. I will also need backing from my family and friends along with having confidence in myself."

What individual do you look up to the most?

"The one person I look up to the most is my mom. She has been through the hard times with me, while never giving up and has fought with me through thick and thin. She loves me and I love her very much."

Which game has had the most significance towards your progress at fullback?

"The Florida State game in '95 was a breakthrough game for me even though we lost. I played very well against an outstanding Seminole team, not only running the ball, but blocking as well. Doing that against the number-one team in the nation boosted my confidence to a higher level for the rest of the season."

Describe your goals for this season.

"In whatever I do, I want to improve myself to be the best that I can possibly be. If I do my best, I can pass those experiences along to other people. I want to be one of the few if not the first fullback in a long time to be named first-team All-ACC and for the team to be atop of the ACC at the end of the season."

JAMIE TRIMBLE

How do you feel about the leadership role you are put in this year?

"For me personally, being a senior and a starter this year puts me into a leadership role whether I like it or not. I've never really pictured myself as a leader. If my actions set a good example for someone then I'm glad for it. With younger kids, I try to help them if they need the help, and I try to be there for them, but I don't go ahead and say I'm the one in charge."

How do you fill the shoes of Trevor Putnam?

"Trevor is an excellent athlete. He did a lot of great things at the position. Trevor showed me a lot of things. He set a lot of expectations that I'm going to have to live up to this year, but I don't look at it as living in anybody's shadow. He was here for five years. I'm here for five years. I just hope I can do as much for the team as he has."

"I just hope I can be as good as Trevor and do as well as Trevor did. I'm going to do my best. I do think of what a great athlete Trevor was, and I am trying to be just as good of an athlete, maybe a little bit better, but that's such a tough job. I'm not sitting here saying I've got to be another Trevor Putnam. I don't try to immitate anybody. I hope when this season is over people can say, 'wow, he was a terrific athlete. He really filled Trevor's shoes well.'"

What is the most important thing you are doing now to prepare yourself for next season?

"I'm working out and running. I'm pushing myself as hard as I can in the weight room. I'm eating a lot trying to gain weight. I'm just really focusing and thinking about August 31 when we play UNC at Chapel Hill. Opening up our season away against a conference team is something Clemson hasn't done in a very long time. That's basically what I'm concentrating on. I'm just thinking about when we get to UNC because they've got some big defensive linemen. I'm just concentrating on getting stronger so I can go to war against them."

What are your plans once you leave Clemson?

"I've got a lot of different plans. I'm thinking about being a graduate assistant coach, but that'll fall into place if it happens. I've also been talking to some people about investing in a business. First and foremost, if I get a shot to play football on the next level I'm going to do that, whether it be the NFL or the Canadian League or World League."

"Right now, my first plan is to play football this season. Then, I'm graduating in May with my degree in Human Resources Development. Also, I've already put together a proposal for opening up a nightclub in the area. I've talked with the investors and they're all for it."

What has been your best memory of Clemson football?

Without a doubt, running down the hill. Actually, I have two memories that are about the same. Running down the hill—there's nothing like it. There's no better high in this world than seeing 80,000 people just screaming and yelling, then walking out, rubbing Howard's rock and running down the hill!

"Then, the Georgia Tech game in the 1994 season is another great moment. It was our second to last game and Trevor went down at the beginning of the second quarter with a knee injury, and we were down 7-3. I had to go in and play the rest of the game. That's the first time I'd ever been in a serious game when we weren't up by 17 points in the fourth quarter with five minutes left. I went in and played pretty decently, and we ended up beating Georgia Tech 20-10. That was the first time I'd been thrown in the middle of it all, and I came out on top. That was a big thrill to me and I'll always remember that."

RAYMOND WHITE

You have worked with seven guys in the past two years who went on to play in the NFL. Have they inspired you to want to achieve that goal also?

"You could say that. Looking at their work habits, even if I don't go to the NFL, as long as I'm at Clemson I'm going to try to give it all I've got. I don't really see it in my future right now, but possibly after I graduate."

Emory Smith

How do you feel about being in a leadership role as a junior?

"It's kind of different. I'm use to the bigger guys like Warren Forney trying to lead me on, but now the tables are turned. So, I'll have to try to fill their shoes and do what they've done in the past. But, I have played with some very good leaders, so I have had the guidance."

Does this put more pressure on you?

"I wouldn't say more pressure, but I will have to step up my game and play harder than I have in the past and be the leader that they were. We will be younger in terms of experience in the defensive line, but we have some talented athletes to take the place of guys like Lamarick, Warren and Carlos."

How is it going to feel changing positions?

"Kind of different. I was use to the outside, but defense is defense. So, if I'm inside or outside, it still doesn't matter. I mean it's just head-nosed football."

Do you feel comfortable with changing positions?

"Actually, I do. I played middle guard my freshman year, and I played last year off and on at nose during the middle of games. So, that worked me into it, and it's not that bad. You don't have as much room to maneuver."

Did you learn anything from Carlos Curry? If so, what?

"Carlos—actually, Carlos took me under his wing. He's been the man here for the last four years at middle guard. Basically, he's showed me how to try to hold your ground down there because playing nose, people are coming at you from every direction. You just basically have to play tough."

Who is the biggest influence in your life?

"The biggest influence in my life would have to be my mom and dad. Without them I wouldn't be here today. They have set a good example for me and continue to motivate me. My dad always pushed me to go all out and do what I am capable of doing. My mom, she's done the same thing. Both of them have always been there for me. Regardless of what happens, I always feel that they will be there."

What can Clemson fans expect from the defense in the upcoming season?

"I would say the same thing they have expected from us in the past. It will be no different. We don't have as much experience coming back, but everyone in those positions has played. We have Brett Williams, he played ever since he's been here. He's going back to the outside defensive end, and we have Eric Bradford. Everybody is stepping up. So...I feel we will be able to handle anything that comes our way."

Jamie Trimble

BRETT WILLIAMS

How do you think this year's defensive unit will be compared to last year?

"I think that we can be just as good, if not better than last year's team. There are a lot of players on the second team that are just as good as the ones on the first team, which gives us good depth on the defensive side. That depth evens things out and makes it better for the whole team."

Being a fifth-year senior, how do you plan on being a leader?

"First and foremost I do what is asked of me. Secondly, I try to take things to another level, because when other players see that I am working hard they will follow suit and work hard too. I am a fifth-year player, I've been around so the younger players, especially all these freshmen, will be looking for guidance. I've got to supply that.

What has been your biggest thrill at Clemson?

"Just being able to play at Clemson has been my biggest thrill. A lot of people have not had the opportunity to play football in college and to be in the position that I have been in. Hearing the fans has been my favorite part of playing football. Also, working hard from the first game to the end and seeing the hard work pay off in a bowl game has been special."

What are your goals for the '96 season?

"We want to work together as one unit. The team is only as strong as its weakest link. So we want to get everyone at the same high level so that we can progress on the field."

What has changed the most since your freshman year?

"The biggest change is the need to be the best that I can be and push others around me to do better. If I do more of what is asked of me, then good things will come my way. There is more of a sense of urgency because it is my last year."

How has Vickery Hall helped you with your academics?

"The tutors at Vickery Hall have helped me the most. Even when I was sure I knew about a subject, I still went to them just to learn more about a subject. The people in Vickery not only want to help you but they make you help yourself to get better. I am thankful that they pushed me in those early years and am looking forward to graduating. I believe that all of us need someone to push us in life."

Radio Network

The Clemson Sports Network is regarded as one of the most innovative radio networks in the country and keeps Clemson fans informed with over 8 1/2 hours of programming on gamedays... featuring a tailgate show, the game broadcast and a post-game scoreboard show, all of which can be heard throughout South Carolina by radio and around the world via the Internet or pay-to-listen telephone dial-up.

The game broadcast features Clemson Hall of Famer Jim Phillips, who is in his 29th year as the "Voice-of-the-Tigers." Synonymous with Clemson athletics since the late 1960's, Phillips is one of the most respected play-by-play men in the country and a main reason for the network's popularity. A native of Youngstown, Ohio, Jim has described 324 Clemson football games and 820 men's basketball games in his career and is now the dean of all broadcasters in the ACC. Phillips also provides the play-by-play for baseball and women's basketball in addition to his work on football and men's basketball.

He has been chosen South Carolina Sportscaster-of-the-Year five times and in 1992 was honored with the "Master's Award," the highest award offered by the South Carolina Broadcaster's Association. The "Master's Award" recognizes lifetime achievement and had only been bestowed twice prior to Jim's presentation. He was also inducted into the Clemson Athletic Hall of Fame in 1992, his 25th year as the Voice-of-the-Tigers. Joining Phillips on the broadcast team is another Clemson Athletic Hall of Famer, Mike Eppley, who is entering his seventh year as the Clemson Sports Network's football color analyst. A native of Charlotte, N.C., Mike is Clemson's number three ranked passer in terms of efficiency rating. He guided Clemson to 21 victories as the starting quarterback between 1982 and 1984, and also holds the career record for TD passes with 28.

Rodney Williams, another Clemson football great, is the third member of the broadcast team. Williams led Clemson to 32 wins as the starting quarterback between 1985-88, an all-time Clemson record. Williams provides a unique brand of color commentary during the game from the side-line and broadcasts from the locker room after the game with interviews from Clemson players and coaches.

One of the most popular aspects of the Clemson Sports Network is the Tiger Tailgate Show, a program that gets Clemson fans ready for the action beginning three hours prior to kickoff. The Tiger Tailgate Show proudly announces the return of the talented radio team of Bill Love and Howard Hudson. The "Love & Hudson" radio show has won the cheers of upstate South Carolina who have made the duo the #1 morning radio personalities for the past four years! They will once again bring their popular humor to the Clemson Stage, to be joined by Tiger Tailgate Show veteran Joe Erwin who returns for his 13th season as the show's co-host. As a former head cheerleader and long-time Clemson Network broadcaster, Joe's perspective on Clemson's sports history, traditions, and legends brings a dimension to the Tiger Tailgate Show that makes it a "must-listen" before each game, home and away!

Returning for a Tiger Tailgate Show encore performance is men's head Basketball coach Rick Barnes. Coach Barnes will once again be on "Paw Patrol" in "Tailgate 1," the Tiger Tailgate Show's golf-cart broadcast vehicle.

Concluding each broadcast Saturday for the 18th season is the The Fifth Quarter Show, a two-hour award-winning college scoreboard show. Hosted for the third year by respected sportscaster Don Munson, The Fifth Quarter Show provides a rundown of the games from across the nation with up-to-the-minute "live" reports and scores from eyewitness reporters.

Clemson University fans who do not have radio or television coverage of Tiger game broadcasts in their area will be able to hear every Clemson Sports Network radio broadcast this fall by listening over the telephone. The Clemson Sports Network has contracted with TRZ Communication Services of Akron, Ohio to provide a pay-to-listen service, which they call TEAMLINE. By dialing 1-800-846-4700 from any phone in the United States and entering the Clemson University team code (0665) fans with a VISA or Mastercard account can be connected directly to the live radio play-by-play of the game broadcast!

In addition to the radio network TEAMLINE service, the Clemson Sports Network will also have their entire schedule of broadcasts available worldwide on the Internet, live and in real time. In association with AudioNet, a Dallas based company, the Clemson Sports Network will now provide computer users who have a sound card and Internet access the ability to listen to Clemson university sporting events anywhere in the world! Clemson Sports Network broadcasts may be accessed through AudioNet's Internet home page at <http://www.audionet.com>.

Clemson 55, Western Carolina 9

Clemson won its home opener for the ninth straight season, as the Tigers amassed their highest point total, 55, since the home opener against Long Beach State in 1990. The victory was also the 31st consecutive victory over a Southern Conference opponent. It was also the first time the Tigers had gained over 200 yards rushing and passing since 1992.

The Tigers opened the scoring as Emory Smith caught a nine-yard touchdown pass on a swing pass from Nealon Greene. The Catamounts answered with an eight-play, 80-yard drive that ended on a Chad Greene 31-yard touchdown pass to David Patten. It was the first touchdown by a Southern Conference team against Clemson since 1984.

Clemson proceeded to score 41 unanswered points, highlighted by Antwuan Wyatt's catch and run for a dazzling touchdown just before the half. Wyatt had an outstanding day as he tallied four receptions for 87 yards, a career high at the time for the junior receiver.

Nealon Greene had an outstanding day as he threw for 191 yards on 12 of 16 passing and three touchdowns. His pass efficiency rating of 237.2 was the fifth highest for a single game in Clemson history at the time.

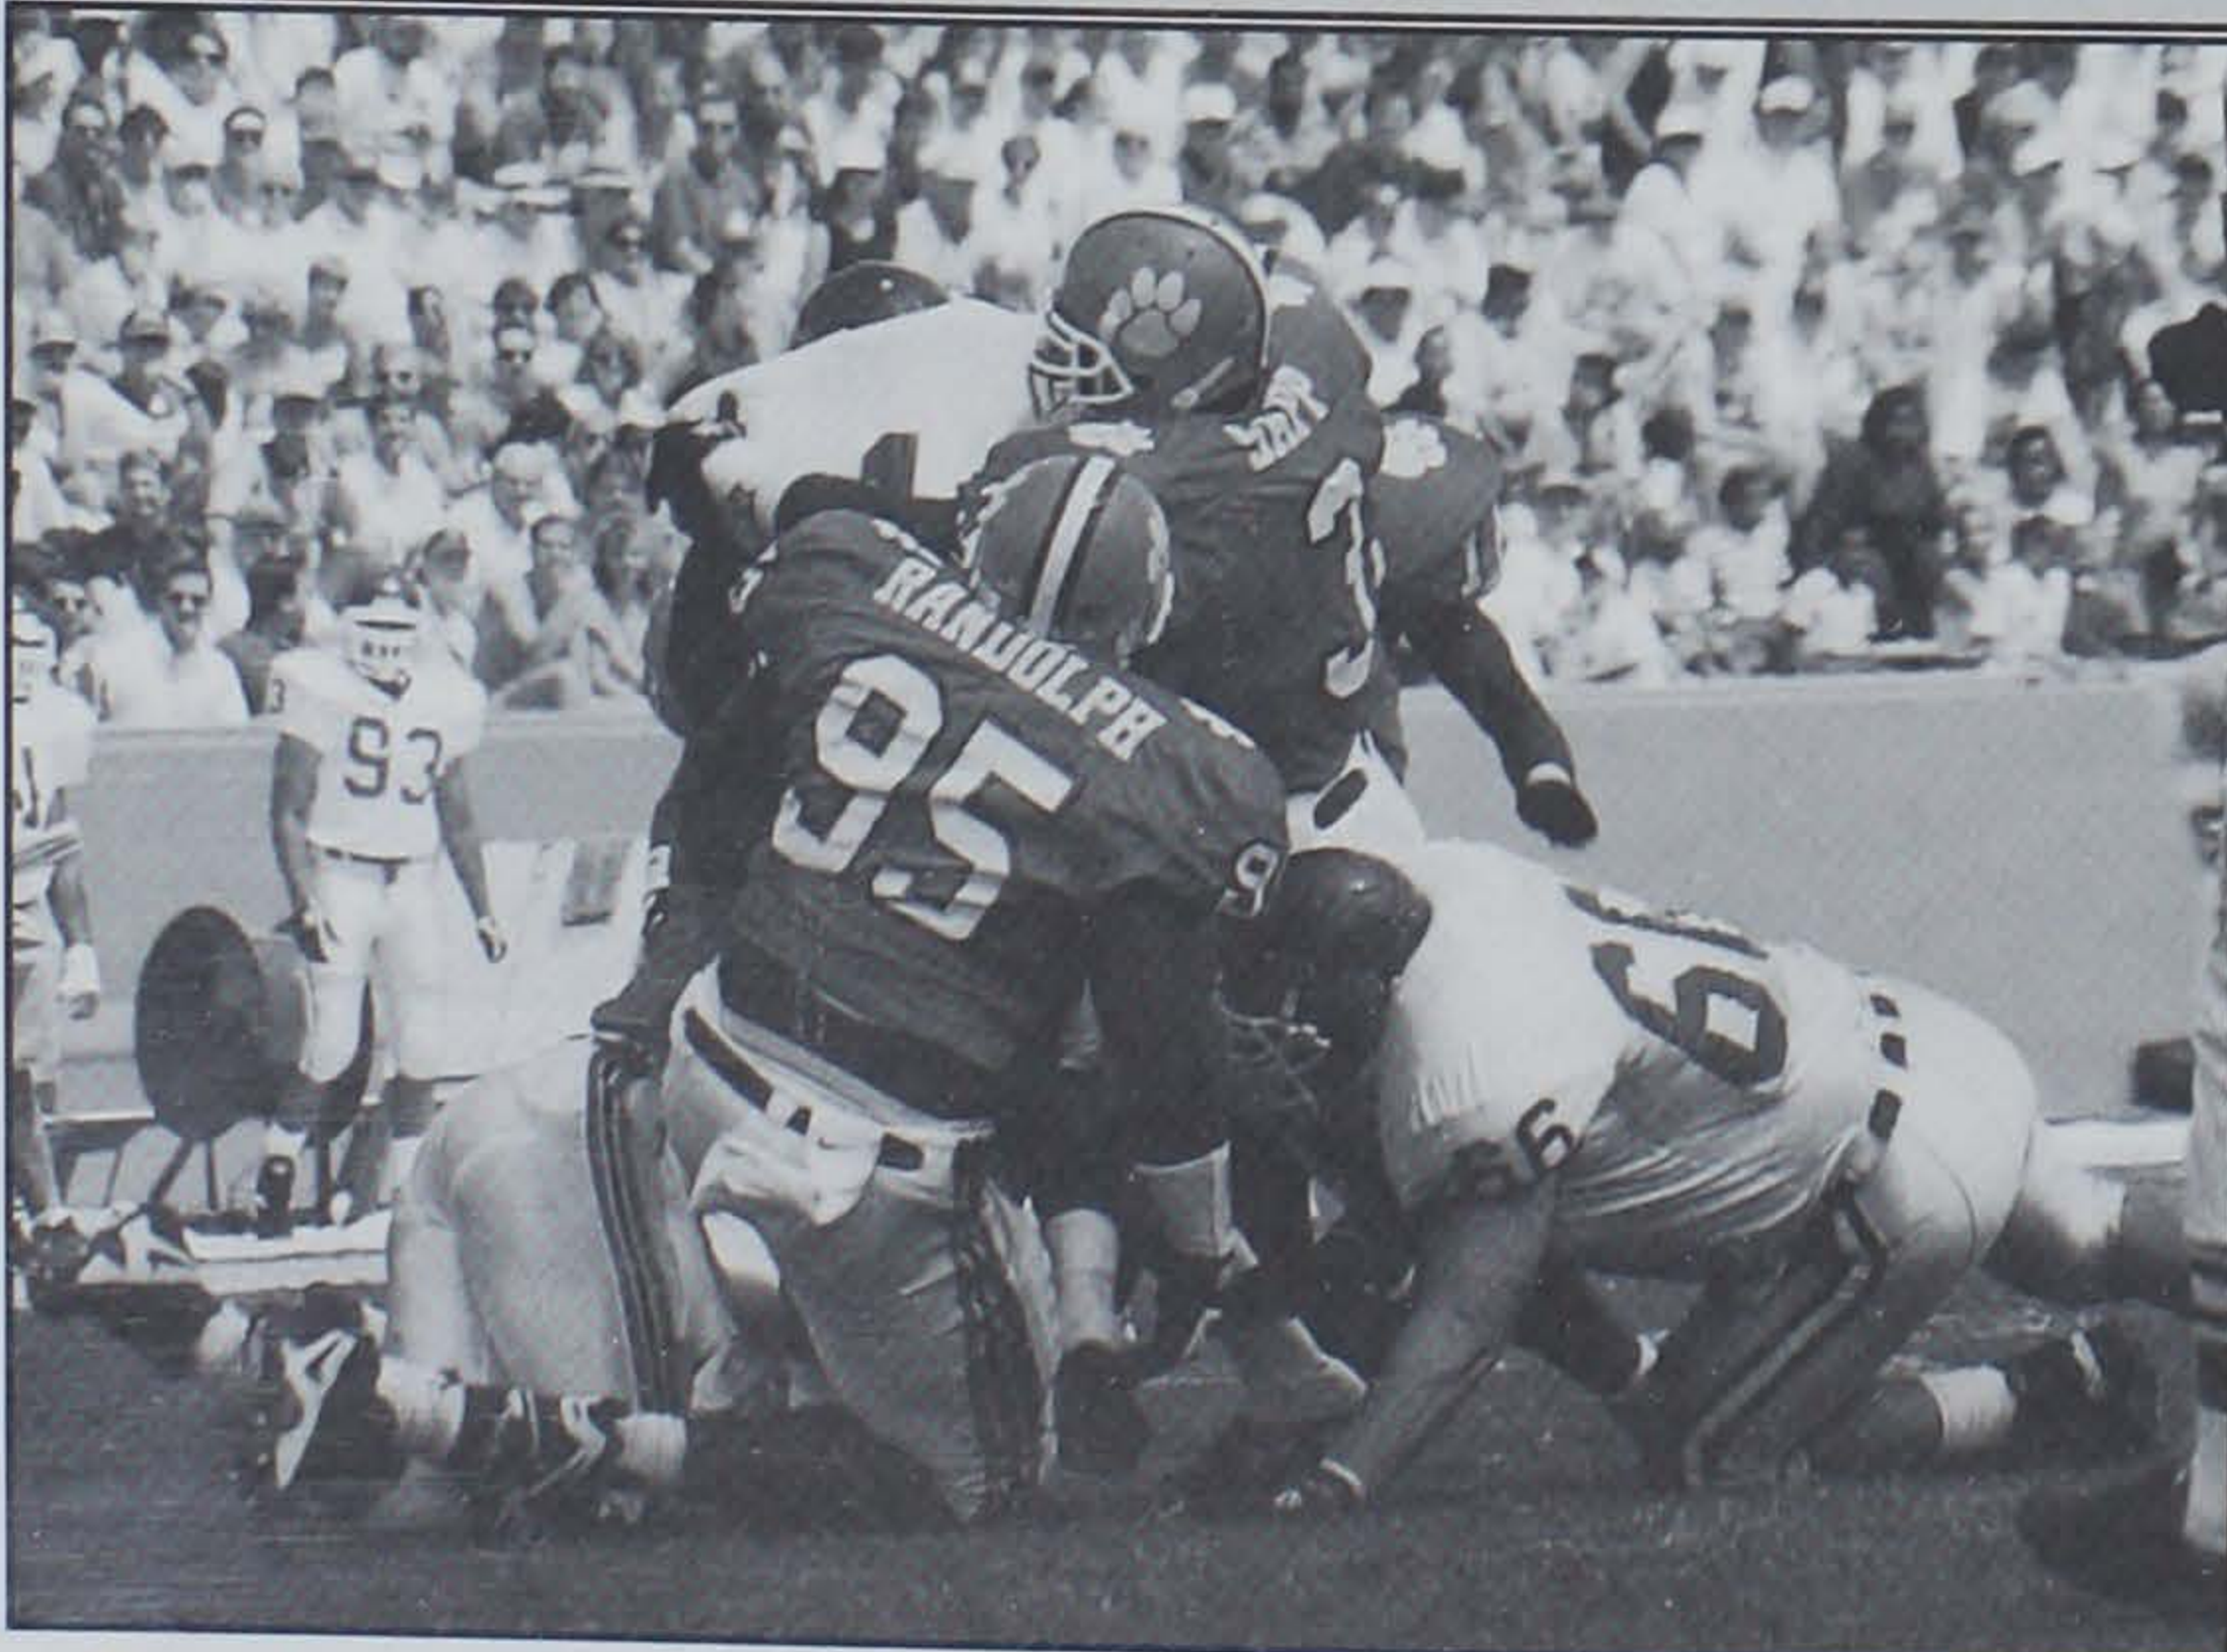

On defense, the Tigers shut down both the passing and running attack of Western Carolina as the Catamounts could only manage 38 yards rushing on 28 carries. In the air, the Catamounts completed only eight passes in 28 attempts for 84 yards. Besides Western Carolina's touchdown scoring drive, the Tigers held the Catamounts to 42 yards of total offense and 0.88 yards per play.

Anthony Simmons, a true freshman, started for the Tigers at inside linebacker and led the team in tackles with 10. Simmons was the first first-year freshman linebacker to start an opening game since John Johnson in 1987.

Florida State 45, Clemson 26

Clemson fans greeted the number-one team in the nation for the first time ever when Florida State came to Clemson in Week II. Florida State kept its perfect record at Death Valley with a 45-26 victory.

Clemson gained much confidence from the game, however, as the Tigers, who had been shutout by FSU the two previous years, scored 26 points, tying for the most by an FSU opponent since the Seminoles had entered the ACC. Clemson also rushed for 321 yards, the most by any team against Florida State since 1990. Clemson had 428 yards of total offense against the Seminoles.

Florida State started its scoring right away as Pooh Bear Williams scored on the first and fourth possessions on runs of two and six yards. Clemson answered when Raymond Priester broke free and ran 21 yards to cut the Seminole lead to seven.

Two other Tiger running backs had good games as Emory Smith ran for 97 yards on only 8 carries and a touchdown, including a 48-yard march and two-yard touchdown run that capped the game's scoring.

Nealon Greene completed only eight of 21 passes. But, he did have a long touchdown pass of 56 yards to Tony Horne, which was the longest reception of Horne's career. That score put Clemson within 31-20 in the fourth period. But, Clemson could not get any closer.

On defense, Clemson held senior quarterback Danny Kanell to 170 passing yards on 13 of 27 and he was sacked twice, once by former quarterback Patrick Sapp. Anthony Simmons continued his exceptional play despite his inexperience as he once again led the team in tackles with 14.

Clemson 29, Wake Forest 14

Emory Smith scored four touchdowns, all of them coming from three yards or less, as Clemson defeated the Demon Deacons in a monsoon at Groves Stadium. The game also marked the debut of "Wham Right," a goal-line running play that features Glenn Rountree in the backfield offset from the fullback to provide an extra blocker at the point of attack. Clemson had a balanced attack in Winston Salem as the Tigers accumulated 234 yards rushing and 239 yards through the air.

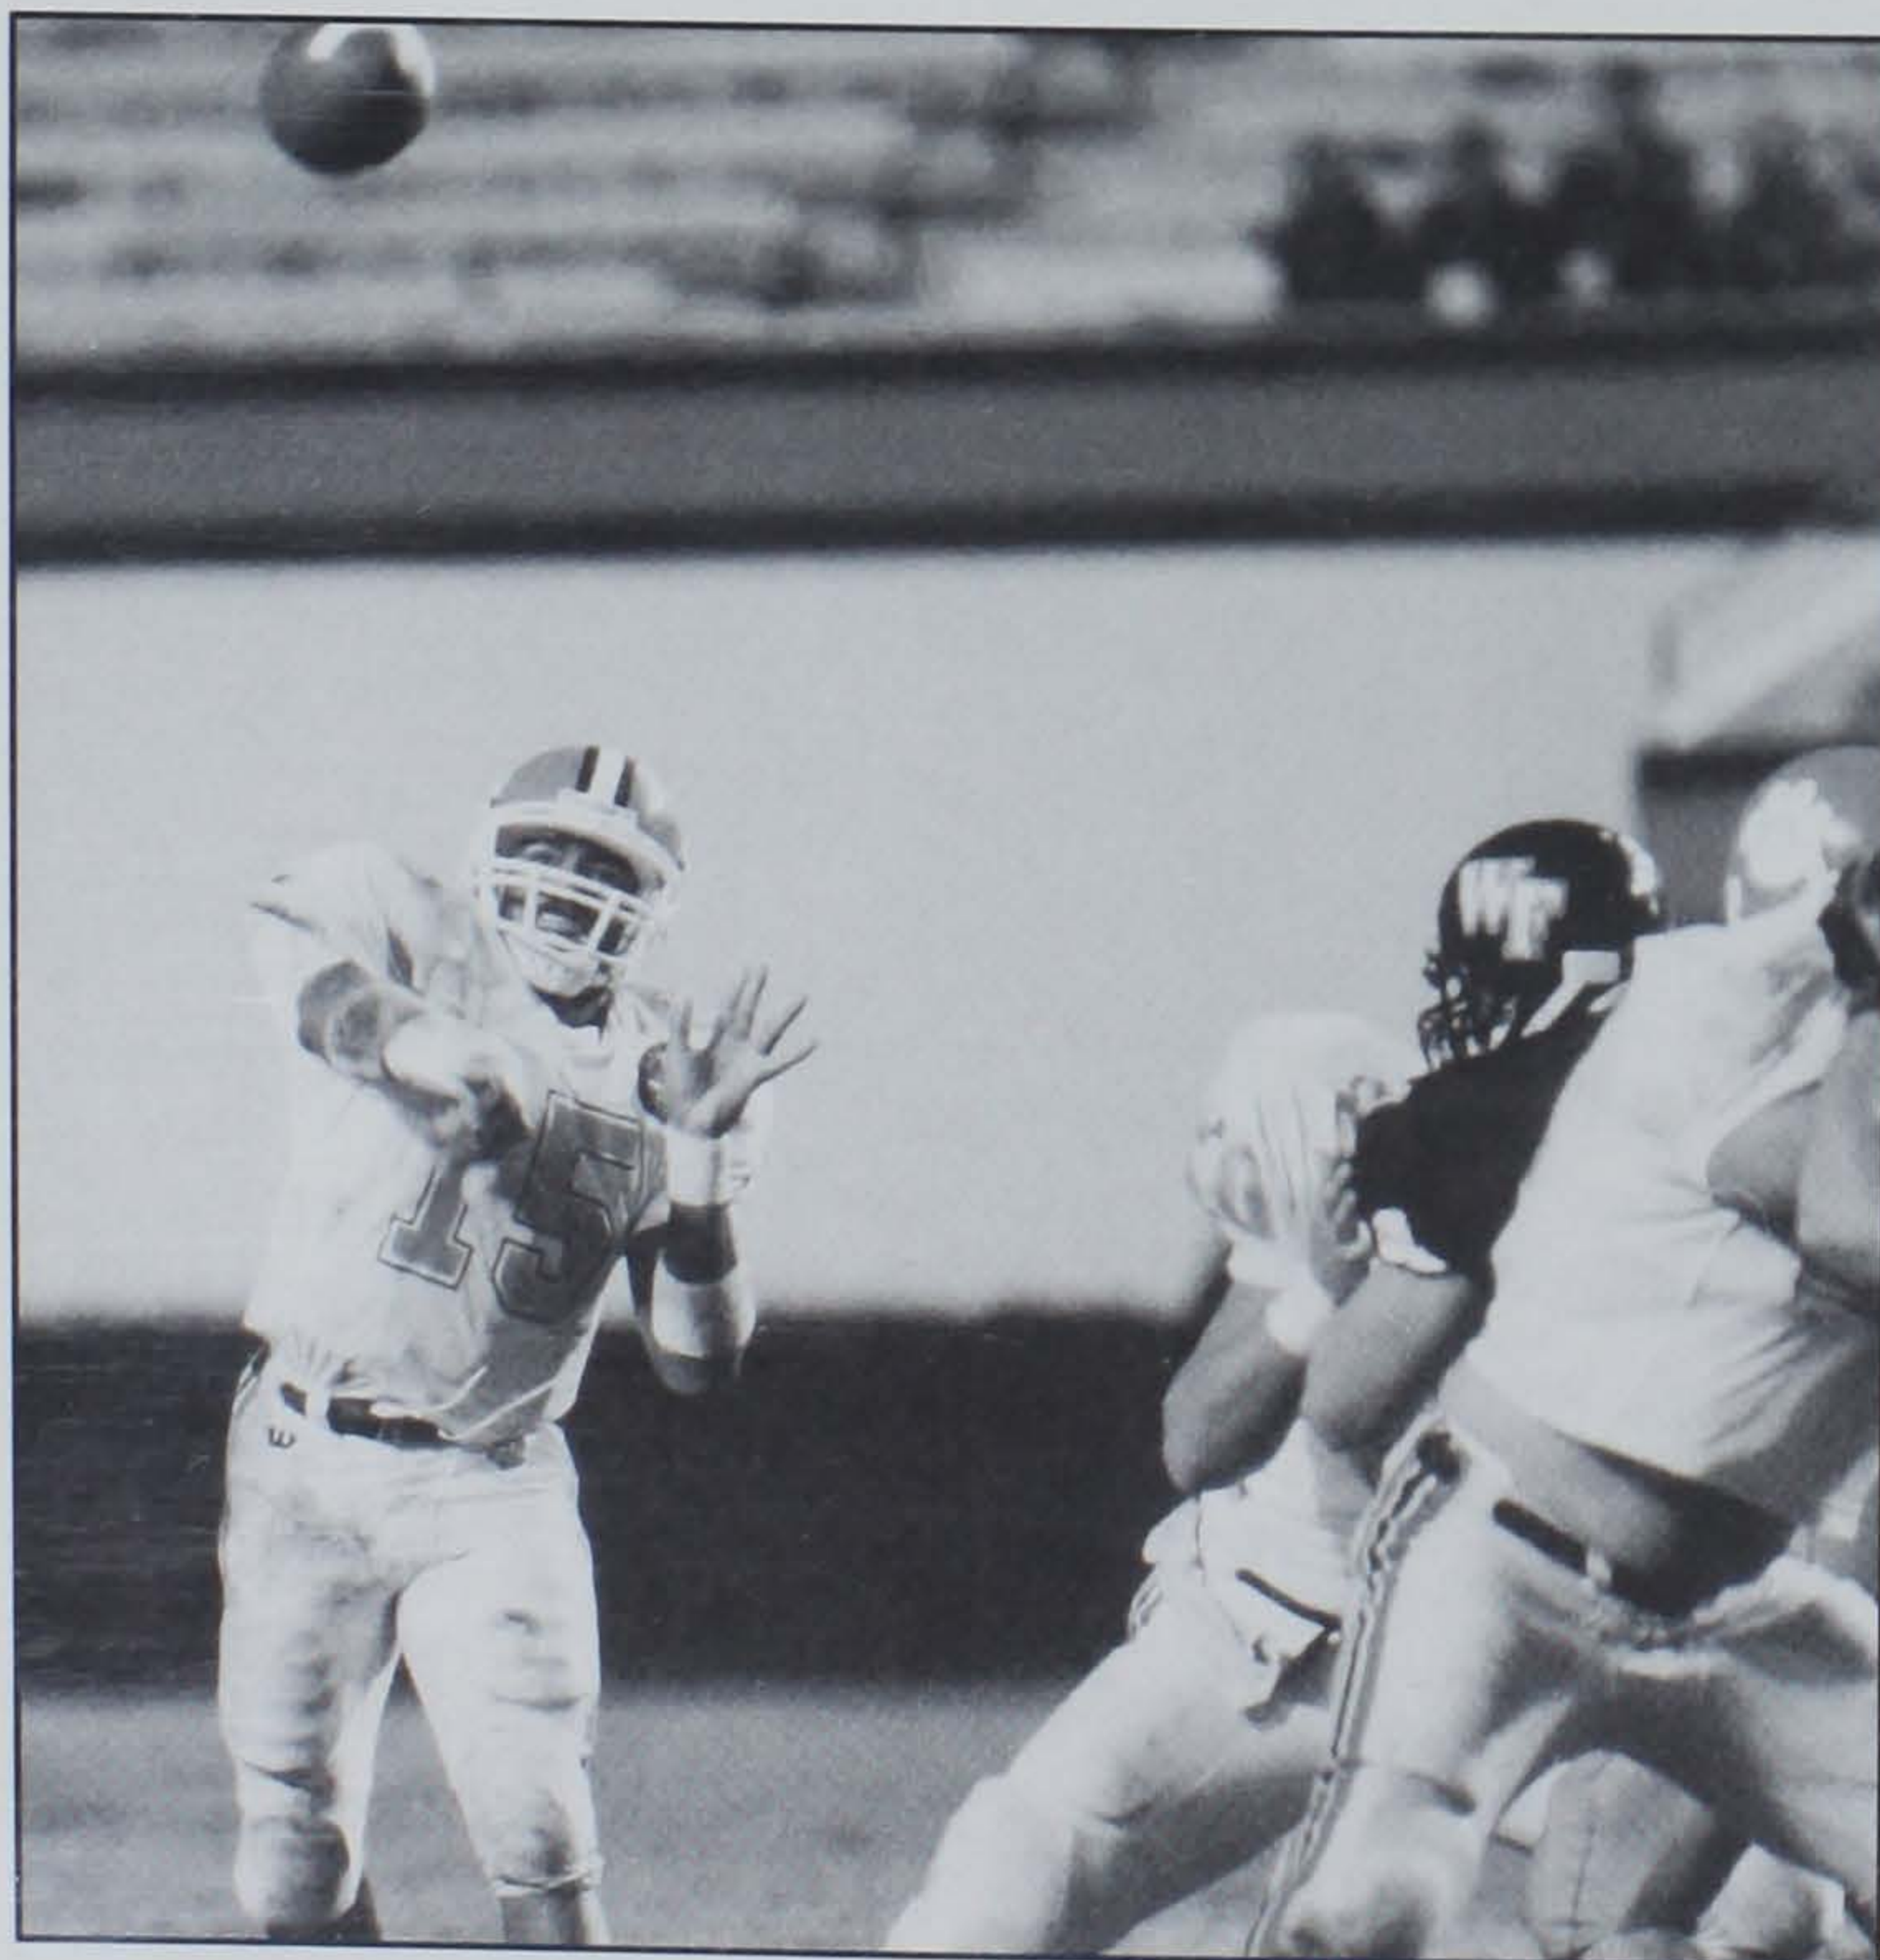

The game did not start off promising for the Tigers as Rusty LaRue found Thabiti Davis free in the secondary for a 25-yard touchdown with 3:22 remaining in the first quarter, and followed it up with a surprise two-point conversion. Clemson finally answered and tied the score at eight with a two-yard touchdown rush by Emory Smith and a two-point conversion by Nealon Greene at the 3:08 mark. The 80-yard drive was highlighted by a 43-yard pass to Antwuan Wyatt that sparked the Tiger offense. The game marked the first time in Clemson history that Clemson had a 200 yard passer (Greene) and 150 yard rusher (Raymond Priester) in the same game.

In the second half, Clemson scored three more touchdowns on runs by Emory Smith of one, two, and three yards. Smith's four touchdowns were the most scored by a player since 1986 when Terrence Flagler had four touchdowns, also against Wake Forest. It was the first time since 1950 that a Tiger had rushed for four touchdowns in a single game.

But Raymond Priester was the star of the game for the Tigers as he bruised his way to 154 rushing yards on 27 carries. Priester's longest run was only 14 yards and he broke 13 tackles in the game.

In the victory Nealon Greene posted two career highs, 239 passing yards and his 274 yards of total offense. The passing yards were also the most by a Tiger since Patrick Sapp threw for 273 yards against Maryland in 1992.

On defense, Anthony Simmons continued his remarkable play by leading the team in tackles with 12 stops and he became the first freshman in Clemson history to lead the team in tackles for his first three games. Converted defensive back and line-backer Andy McCrorey added 12 tackles as Clemson held the Deacons to 291 yards of total offense. Brian Dawkins also had one of his best games as he posted nine tackles, including eight first hits, a pass broken up, a sack for a loss of nine yards, and a caused fumble.

Greene set career highs in completions and yardage in the win at Wake Forest.

Virginia 22, Clemson 3

The 11th ranked Virginia Cavaliers came out of the game with their first ever victory in Death Valley amidst another rain storm. Virginia's defense held the Tigers to a single field goal, despite being outgained in total offense, 393-303. Virginia converted just 1-12 third downs, yet won by 19. Cavalier running back Tiki Barber led the way as he totalled 111 rushing yards on 27 carries, including a stop-and-go run where he eluded most of the Clemson defense for an 11-yard TD.

Clemson was led by Raymond Priester, who had his third consecutive game over 100 yards as he amassed 111 yards on 27 carries. Nealon Greene completed 19 of 36 passes for 213 yards. But his two interceptions proved costly as Virginia gained momentum after both thefts. Jeff Sauve gave Clemson its only points on the day as he kicked a 27-yard field goal with 6:13 to go in the third quarter. Another bright spot for the Tigers was Antwuan Wyatt. Wyatt had six catches for 82 yards and Tony Horne added 77 yards on three catches.

The turning point of the game came at 2:34 of the second quarter when Clemson had first-and-goal at the Virginia five-yard line. The Tigers ran "Wham Right" four consecutive times and were not able to cut the Cavalier lead in half. The Virginia defense stopped Raymond Priester on the one-foot line on fourth down.

With Clemson still in reach, Mike Groh hit Patrick Jeffers deep along the sideline on third-and-14 for a 76-yard touchdown to all but eliminate the Tigers from the ACC race. But, this would be Clemson's last league loss of the season.

On defense, the Tigers were led in tackles by senior free safety Leomont Evans, who earlier had been moved to line-backer in the off-season. Dexter McCleon added an interception for a return of 19 yards. Brett Williams had two tackles for loss.

Clemson failed to score a touchdown for the first time in Death Valley in 10 years, but not without its chances. The Tiger offense had possession six times inside the Cavalier 20 and four times inside the 10-yard line, coming away with only three points.

Clemson 43, N.C. State 22

Clemson scored its most points ever against the Wolfpack and Nealon Greene hooked up with Tony Horne twice for 29 and 38 yard touchdown pass plays leading Clemson to a three-touchdown win at N.C. State.

The Tigers answered both of North Carolina State's first quarter scores with touchdowns of their own then scored 26 unanswered points. Raymond Priester rushed for two touchdowns and Emory Smith added a one-yard touchdown run to pace the Tigers to 266 yards passing. Leomont Evans tied a Clemson record by intercepting three passes in the game and returned the thefts for 91 yards. Evans also had 11 tackles, including nine first hits. The Tiger defense had a total of six interceptions on the day tying the single game record.

North Carolina State started the scoring when Terry Harvey hit Tremayne Stephens, a native of Greenville, SC, on a screen pass. Stephens tip-toed his way down the sideline for a 20-yard touchdown reception. Clemson answered on its next possession when Nealon Greene hit Tony Horne on a post pattern that tied the score at seven.

After a Terry Harvey to Rod Brown 13-yard touchdown pass, Clemson answered again when Raymond Priester scored on a three-yard touchdown rush to tie the game a 14. The Tigers went ahead on their next possession when Greene hit Horne on another post pattern for a 38-yard touchdown.

The Tigers came out strong in the second half as Emory Smith scored on a one-yard plunge with 7:49 remaining in the third quarter. The Wolfpack cut the lead to 11 on a Harvey to Grissett eight-yard touchdown pass with 7:49 remaining in the fourth quarter. But that was as close as they would get as Raymond Priester proceeded to run 31 yards for a touchdown on the next possession.

Despite being outgained in total offense 509-418, Clemson averaged half a yard more per play than the Wolfpack. Chris McNally had a productive day as he punted four times for an average of 46.3 yards.

On defense, Patrick Sapp recorded his first career interception and Brian Dawkins and Andye McCrorey also added interceptions. Dexter McCleon had a career high 10 tackles and Anthony Simmons once again led the team in tackles with 14.

Evans tied a Clemson single-game interception record, three of six thefts by the Tiger secondary.

Georgia 19, Clemson 17

Clemson celebrated its 100th year of football by donning turn-back-the-clock uniforms from Clemson's first bowl team, the 1940 Cotton Bowl champions, the first time in college football history a school had worn complete "turn back the clock uniforms."

But Georgia came away with a hard-fought victory by the score of 19-17 as this long-standing rivalry came to an end in front of 81,670 fans in Death Valley. True-freshman Torin Kirtsey rushed his way to a career high 195 yards as he rushed for the most yards against a Tiger team in 11 years.

Emory Smith opened the scoring on a one-yard run with 2:39 left in the first quarter. The scoring drive elapsed 7:57, one of the 10 longest drives in Clemson history in terms of time, and travelled 73 yards. Smith ended the game with two touchdowns and 60 yards rushing.

Georgia answered the Tiger score midway through the second quarter as Selma Calloway scored off a six-yard touchdown rush. Jeff Sauve's 47 (career best) yard field goal put the Tigers on top 10-7. Then, with just six seconds remaining, Kanon Parkman hit a 25-yard field goal to even the score at halftime.

In the second half, Georgia stormed its way to a 19-10 lead on a Brian Smith to Juan Daniels 29-yard touchdown pass and a 42-yard Parkman field goal. Georgia's second touchdown PAT was blocked by Leomont Evans, and two field goal attempts were blocked in the game by Brian Dawkins and Tony Plantin.

Clemson battled its way back as Emory Smith cut the Bulldog lead to two on a six-yard run with 13:53 remaining in the fourth quarter. But, The Tigers could only manage one more possession. Brian Smith hit Brice Hunter on a 37-yard bomb to give the Bulldogs favorable field position late in the game, and Clemson never got back into Georgia territory.

On defense, the Tigers were led by senior free safety Leomont Evans as he finished with a career high 18 tackles, the most tackles in Clemson history by a defensive back. Andye McCrorey had his career best game as he finished with 14 tackles and Anthony Simmons had 17.

Clemson 17, Maryland 0

Louis Solomon once again proved himself to be Clemson's ultimate backup quarterback, as he starred in the Tigers' 17-0 victory over a 5-1 Maryland team at Byrd Stadium. The Tiger's took advantage of Terrapin mistakes and used a ball control offense and a punishing defense to shut out the Terrapins for the third straight year.

Leading 7-0 off of a 4-yard Raymond Priester touchdown run, the Tigers' found themselves at the Maryland 32-yard line with three seconds remaining in the first half. Rather than attempting a long field goal into a gusting wind, the Tiger's decided to go for six. Solomon, who was in for the injured quarterback Nealon Greene, lofted a "Hail Mary" pass to the three-yard line, where the ball was tipped into the endzone by Tony Horne and caught by Antwuan Wyatt. It is believed to be the first "Hail Mary" touchdown pass in Clemson history.

With a 14-point cushion and Solomon in, the Tigers' used ball control offense and an impenetrable defense in the second half to salt the game away. Priester led the Tigers' ground oriented attack with 163 yards on 22 carries. Priester's backfield mate Emory Smith also chipped in 98 yards on 18 carries. Solomon, who only threw two second-half passes, finished the game with 43 yards rushing on 11 carries and 3-5 passing for 47 yards and one touchdown.

Clemson's defense came through with a total team effort in shutting out the Terrapins for the third consecutive year. The shutout marked the first time since 1959-61 that the Tigers have recorded three straight shutouts over a conference opponent. Lamarick Simpson and Carlos Curry anchored a defensive line that gave up only 36 yards rushing and registered six sacks. Curry had a career high two sacks and a caused fumble. Patrick Sapp stopped a second quarter drive with an interception and a 19-yard return of a Brian Cummings pass. Brian Dawkins also picked up his second interception of the year when he wrestled a Cummings pass away from Terrapin receiver Mancel Johnson inside the Clemson 10 in the fourth quarter.

Clemson's first touchdown was set up by an Andre Carter fumble recovery at the Maryland 27-yard line. The Tiger offense responded with a four-play 1:23 drive that culminated in Raymond Priester's fourth touchdown of the season.

Wyatt caught Solomon's desperation pass on the final play of the first half, a first in Clemson history.

Clemson 24, Georgia Tech 3

For the second week in a row, the Clemson offense bolted out to a big lead in the first half and played ball control offense in the second half to defeat a conference foe on the road. After jumping out to a 21-3 halftime lead over the Yellow Jackets, the Tigers turned the game over to the defense and came away with a 24-3 victory in a regionally-televised ACC game.

Georgia Tech opened the scoring on their Homecoming with a 46-yard first-quarter field goal from Dave Frakes. The Clemson offense, however, responded. The Tigers took the ensuing kickoff and marched 65 yards in 14 plays on a drive that culminated in a three-yard touchdown run by Emory Smith, much to the delight of his brother, Emmitt Smith, who viewed the game from the Clemson sidelines.

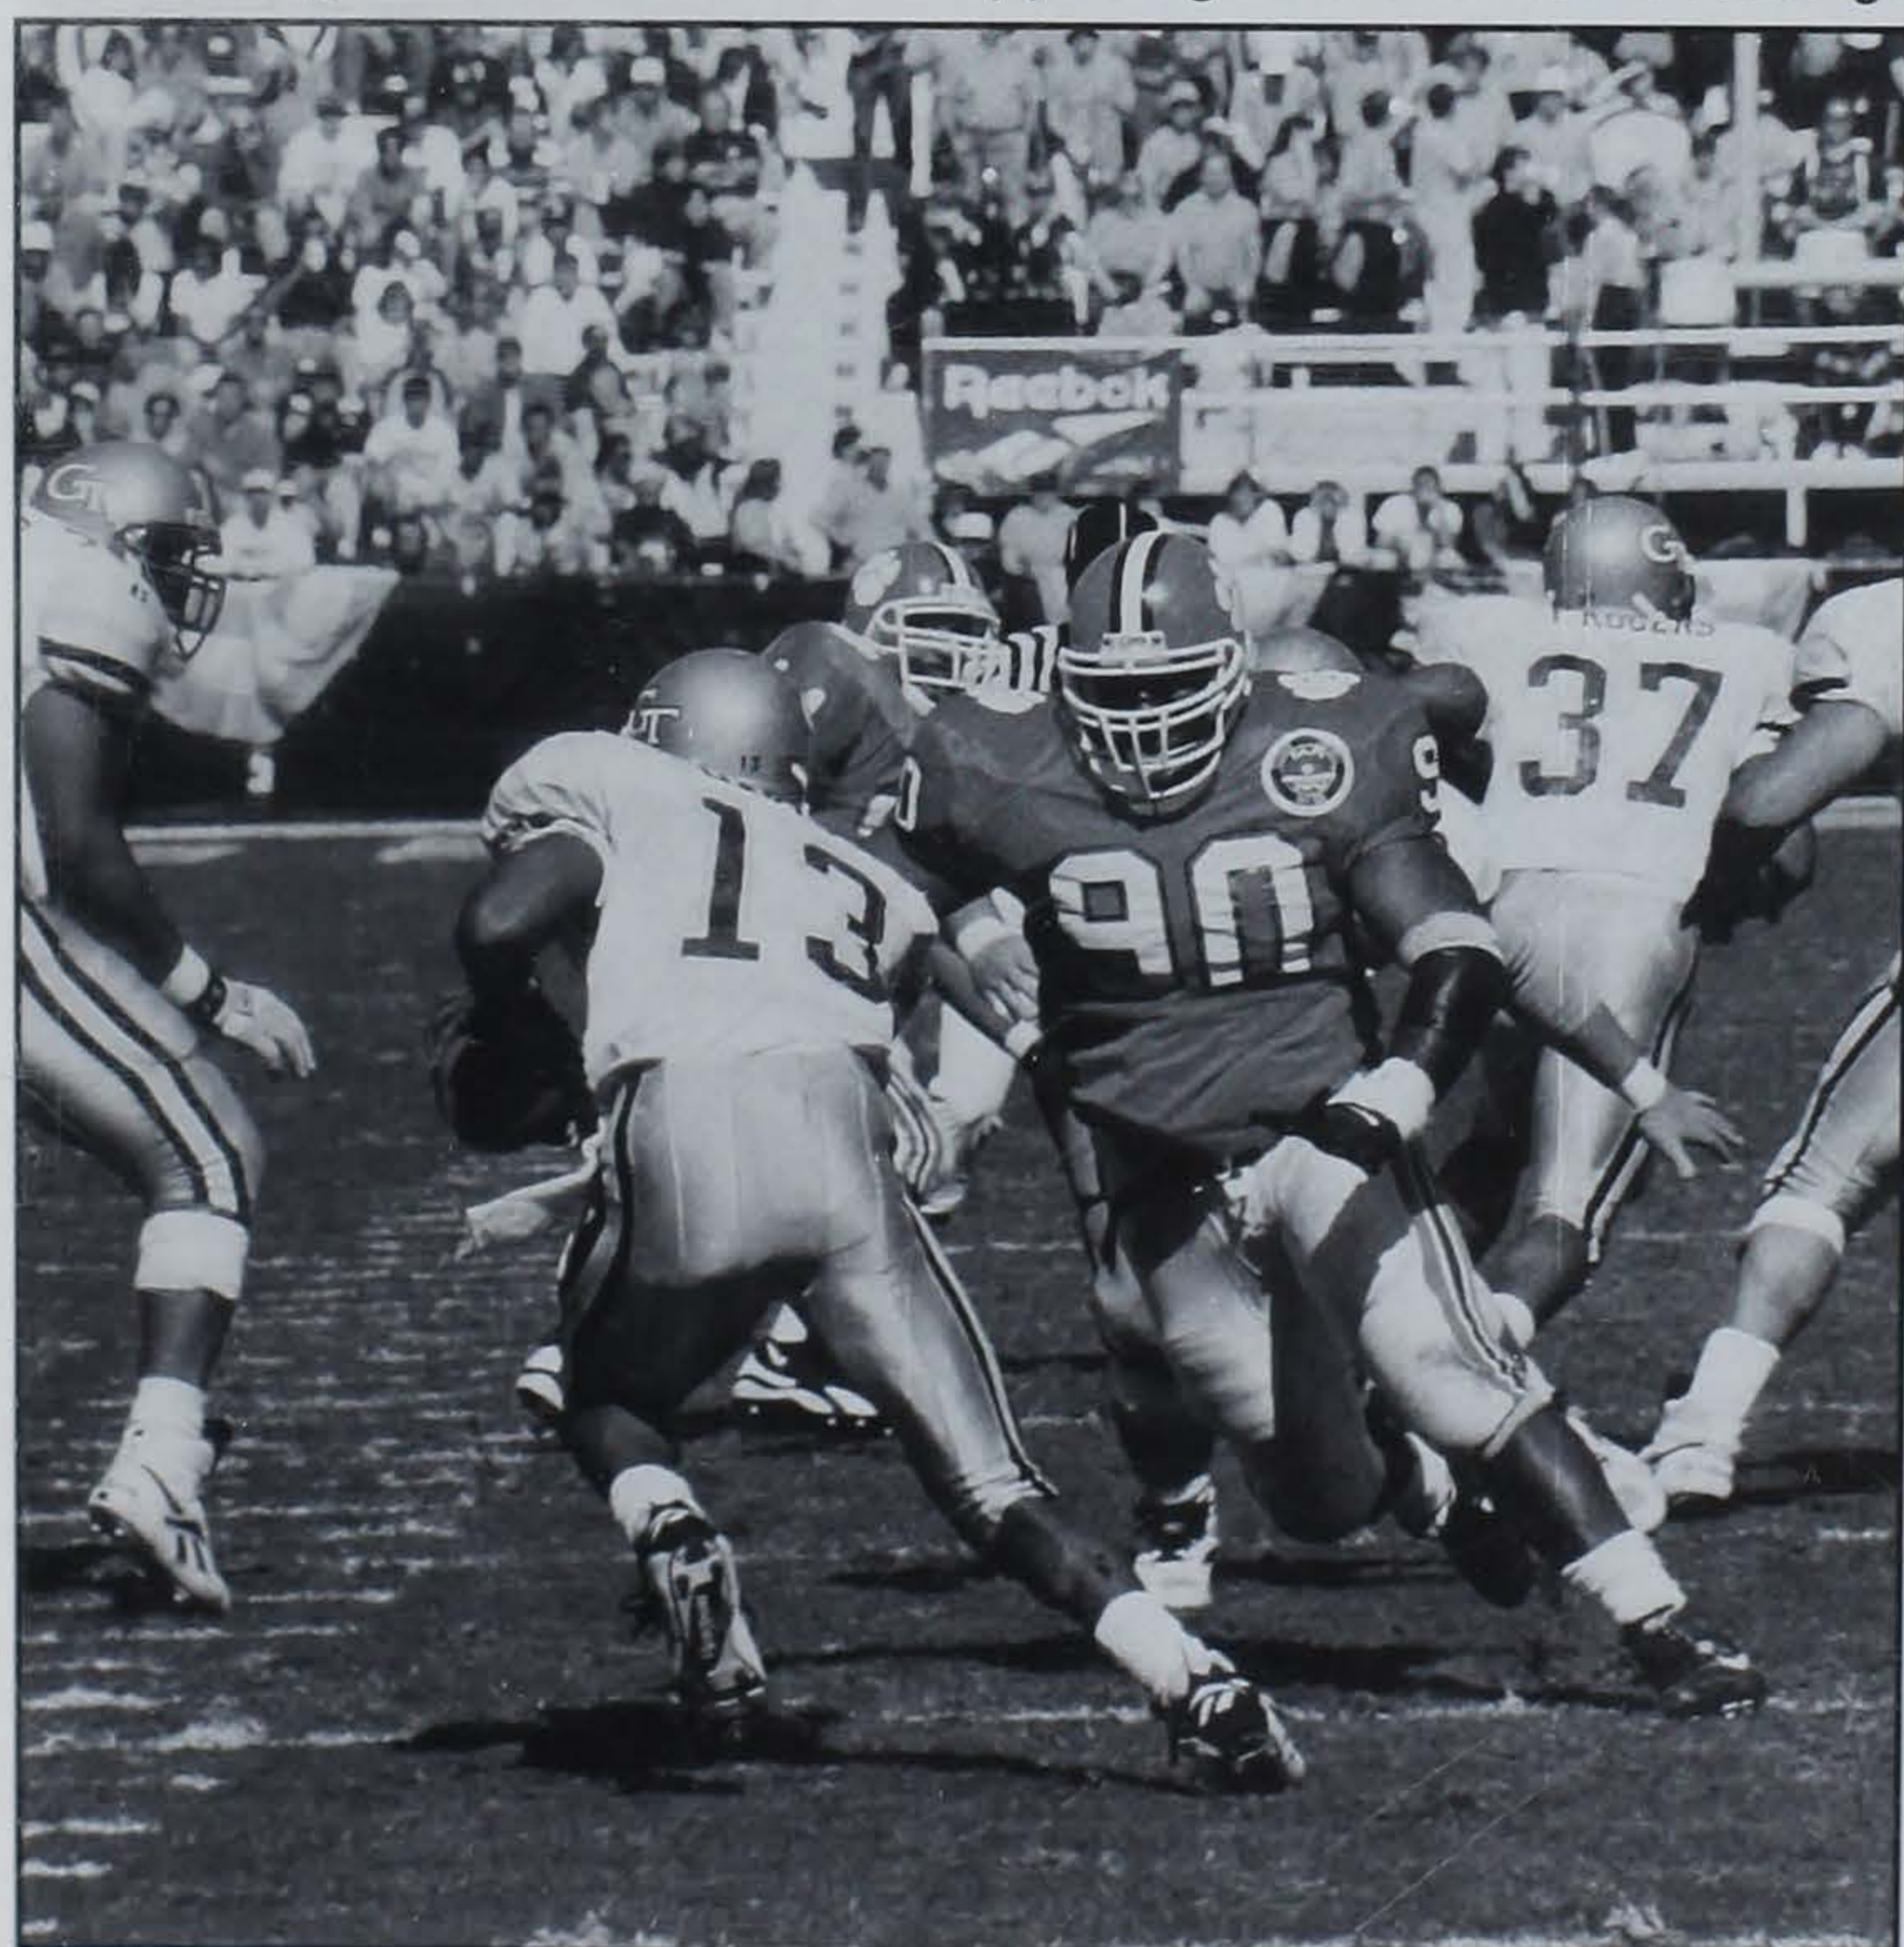

The Tigers' next drive began at their own 28 following a missed Tech field goal. After three consecutive running plays, Nealon Greene connected with Antwuan Wyatt on a play action pass for a 61-yard touchdown.

The next time that Clemson's offense touched the ball, it went 56 yards in nine plays for a third touchdown. Greene again connected with Wyatt for a 12-yard touchdown, and the Tigers found themselves in control with a 21-3 halftime lead.

The Tigers' passed the ball only three times in the second half while controlling the clock for 20:14. Emory Smith finished with 100 yards rushing on 26 carries against a Tech defense that was ranked number-one in the nation against the rush entering the game. Nealon Greene finished 10 of 13 passing for 167 yards and two touchdowns. His main target on the day was Antwuan Wyatt, who had 6 catches for a career high 123 yards and two scores.

The Clemson defense also rose to the occasion for the second week in a row. The Yellow Jackets, who came into the day averaging 236.6 yards rushing, were limited to 76 yards on 30 attempts. The Tiger defense, led by Anthony Simmons with 13 tackles, held C.J. Williams to 31 yards rushing. This mark was over 90 yards below his average coming in to the game. Donnie Davis, who was sacked five times on the afternoon, completed only 13 of 32 passes for 174 yards and one interception.

The road win was Clemson's fifth straight, marking the school's longest road winning streak since the 1981 National Championship season. It also was the second week in a row that the Tiger's had wrecked an opposing school's Homecoming.

Pressure from Warren Forney and the Clemson defense allowed Georgia Tech just three points all day.

Clemson 17, North Carolina 10

Clemson returned home for the first time in nearly a month to face conference foe North Carolina. The Homecoming crowd of 72, 103 saw the Tigers jump out to a 17-0 lead after three quarters, and then hang on in the fourth to come away with a 17-10 victory.

Quarterback Nealon Greene continued his late season surge with an 11 for 17 performance for 131 yards and one touchdown, but it was an interception return for a score by Brian Dawkins that provided the big play.

Clemson's third consecutive win featured the magical orange pants, and left the Tigers needing only one win in their final two games to clinch a bowl bid. Clemson improved its record to 29-6 in orange pants over the years.

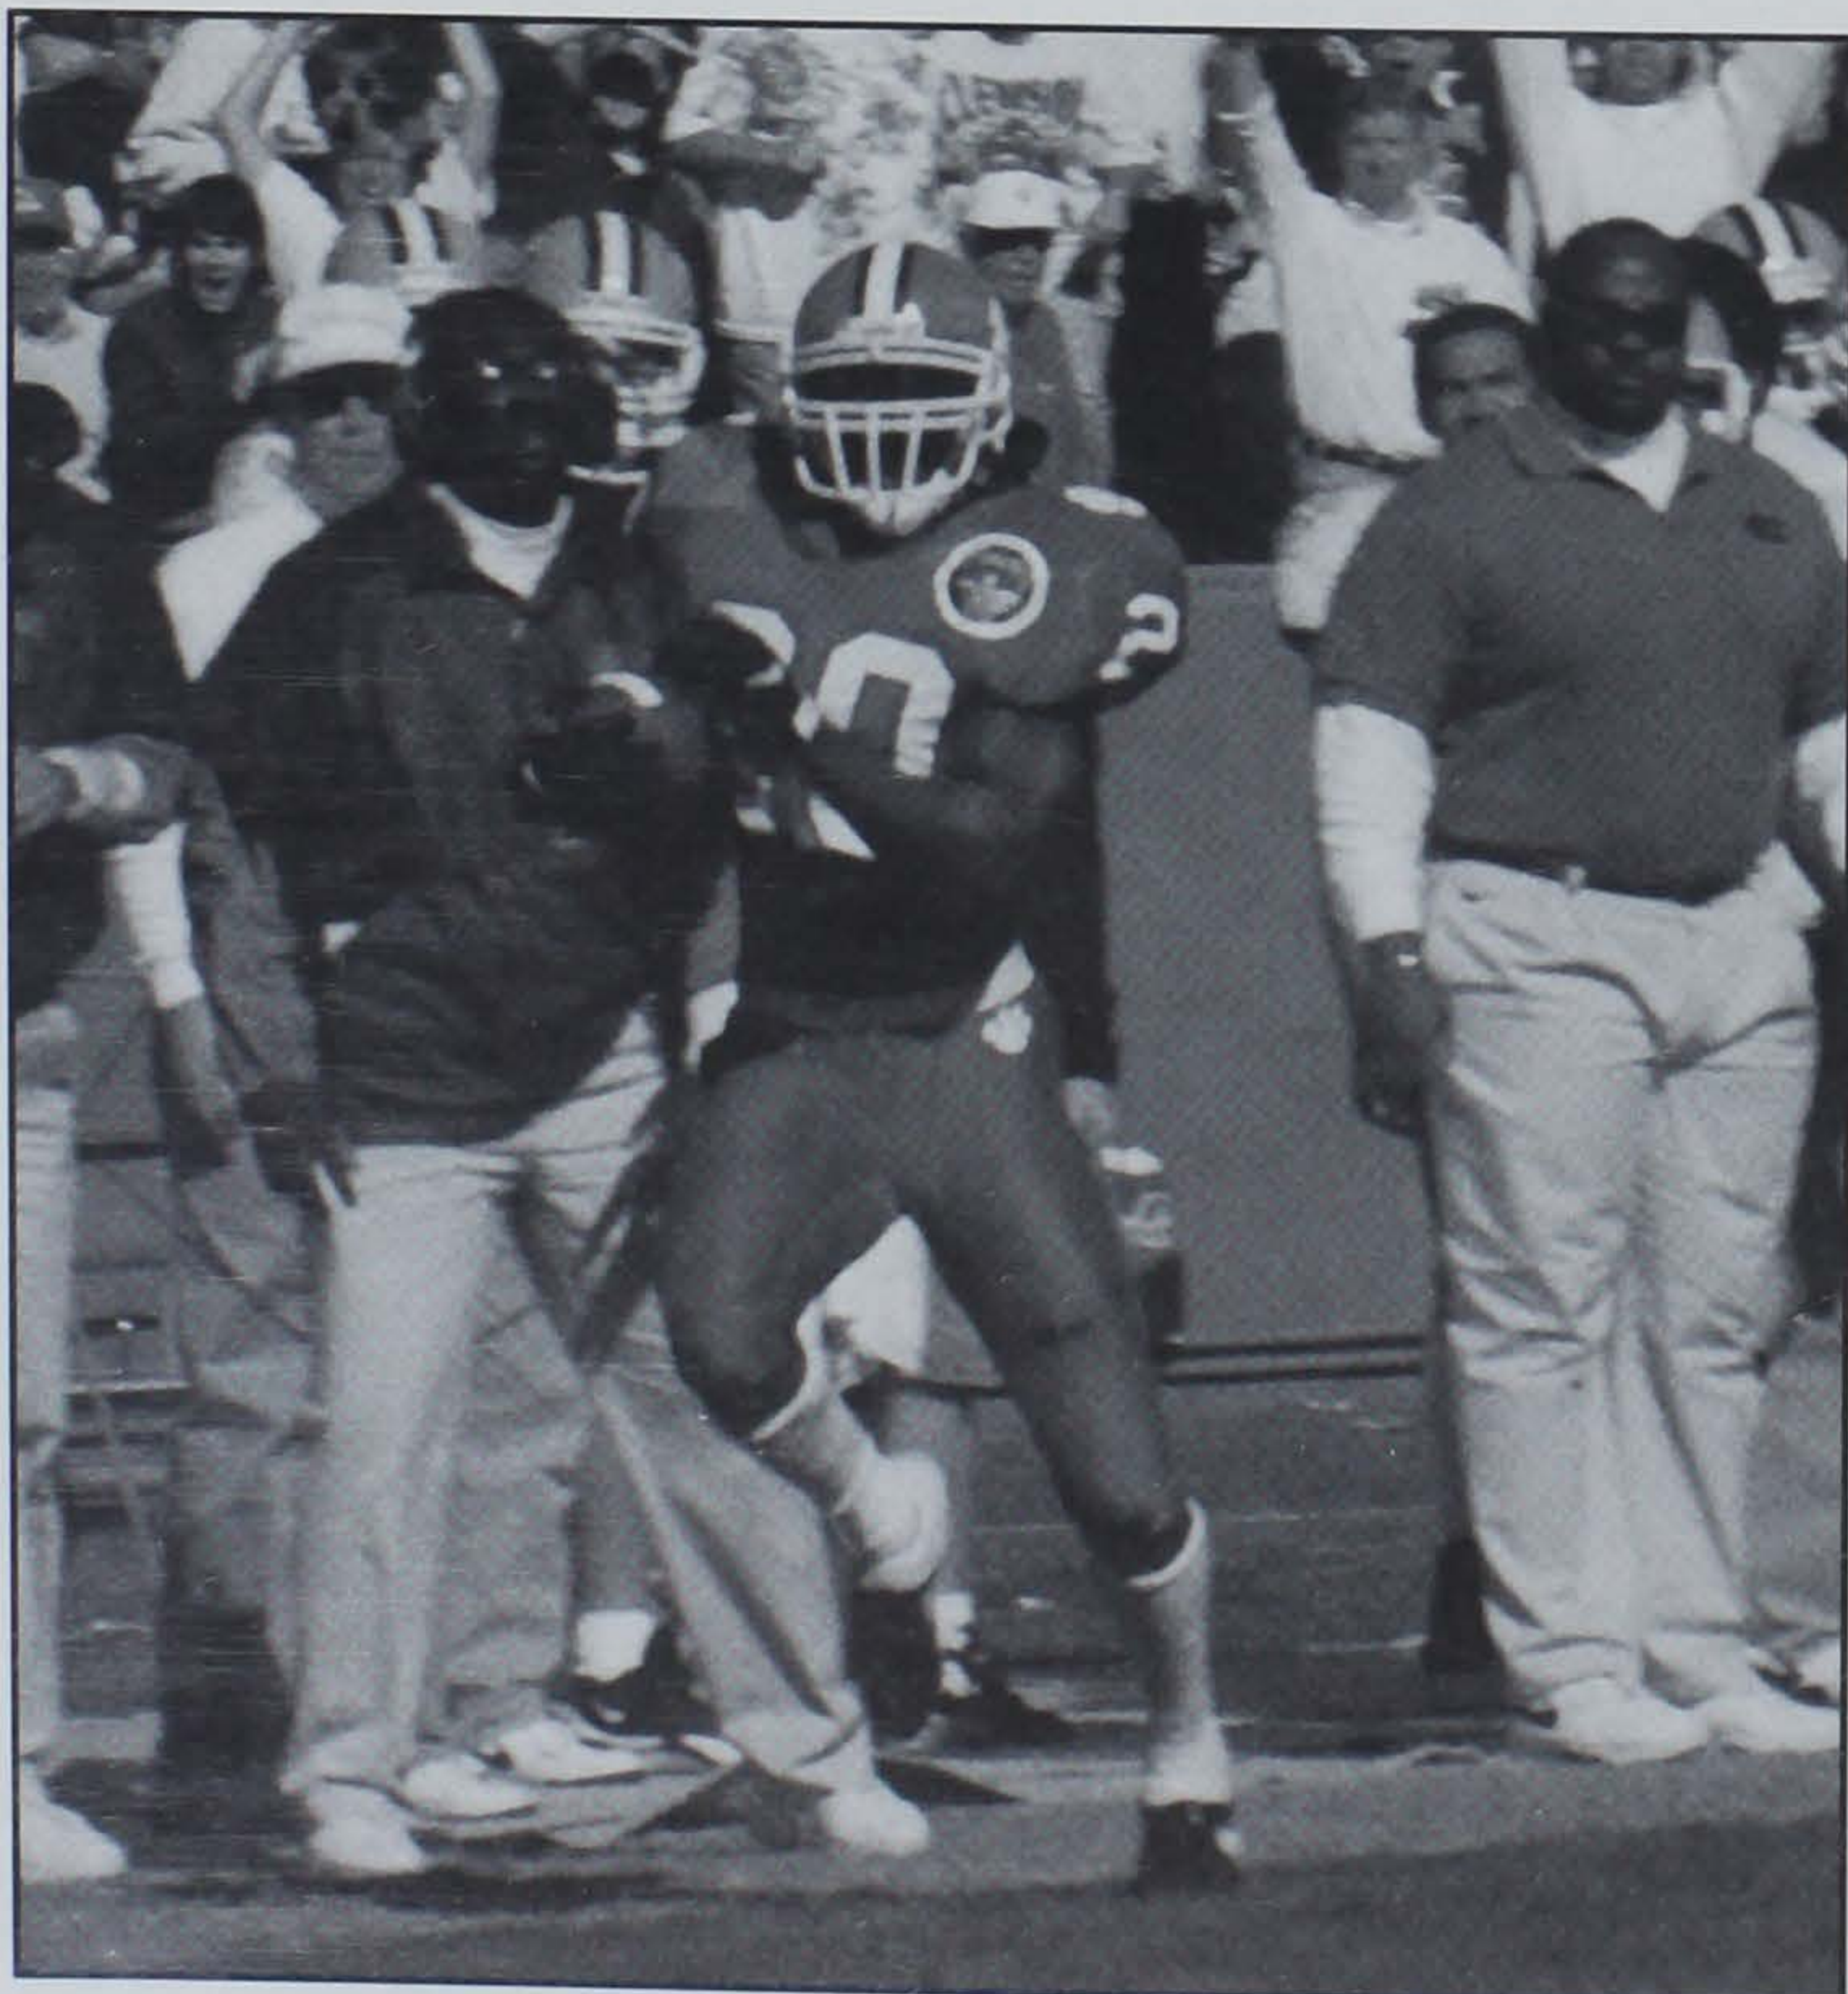

Mack Brown's Tar Heels attempted to seize control of the game early with a fake field goal. With 2:36 remaining in the first quarter, Oscar Davenport took the snap from center and rolled right, where Patrick Sapp met him with a three-yard sack.

The game remained scoreless until the 9:29 mark of the second quarter when Nealon Greene connected with junior transfer Joe Woods for a 30-yard touchdown. The touchdown was the first of Woods' career, and capped a 12-play 73-yard drive. The drive was set up by the first of two interceptions by cornerback Peter Ford. This would be the only score of the opening half.

The Tiger secondary reared its head once again to open the second half as Brian Dawkins picked off a Mike Thomas pass and scampered 49 yards for the touchdown. It was one of five interceptions on the day for the Clemson defense. Dexter McCleon had the final theft on North Carolina's last possession, clinching Clemson's eighth straight win over the Tar Heels in Death Valley.

Other defensive stars for the Tigers included Mond Wilson and Anthony Simmons. Wilson, who came in for the injured Andy McCrorey, finished with 16 tackles, two tackles for loss and a sack. He had never had more than 5 tackles in a game prior to this game.

Simmons continued his quest for ACC Rookie of the Year with a 19-tackle performance. His 19 tackles were a season high and the second highest total in Clemson history by a Freshman.

Dawkins 49-yard interception return for a touchdown changed the momentum of the game, giving Clemson its seventh straight win over the Tar Heels in Death Valley.

Clemson 34, Duke 17

Clemson clinched its second bowl bid in three years and its ninth in 11 years with a 34-17 win over Duke. Raymond Priester set a single game Clemson rushing record with 263 yards on 32 carries, and in the process became Clemson's first 1,000-yard rusher in the 1990's. Clemson's 433 yards rushing were the most by a Tiger team against an ACC team since 1981.

Brian Dawkins tied a school record for interceptions in a game when he picked off three Spence Fischer passes in the first quarter and was named Sports Illustrated's National Defensive Player-of-the-Week.

Clemson got on the board first with a two-yard plunge by Emory Smith at the 8:42 mark of the first quarter. The run capped a 9-play 67-yard drive that was set up by Brian Dawkins first interception. The key play of the drive came on a 37-yard scamper by Nealon Greene down to the two-yard line.

Smith again scored from two yards out with 12:46 to go in the first half to run the Tigers lead to 14-0. The drive, which was again set up by a Dawkins interception, took only 2:50 and covered 37 yards in six plays.

The second half looked entirely different. A driving rain storm had turned into sunny skies, and the Duke offense looked ready to play. After the Clemson lead was upped to 24-0 on a 43-yard jaunt by Priester at the midpoint of the third quarter, Duke came on strong. The Blue Devil offense struck for two touchdowns in a four minute span to cut the lead to 24-14.

The Tigers, however, would not let their opportunity to clinch a bowl bid slip away. They answered Duke's second touchdown with a five-play 49-yard drive that was highlighted by three Priester runs of over 10 yards.

From that point, the Tiger defense took over, only allowing the Devils in Tiger territory once more. Lamarick Simpson led the defensive line that gave up only 103 yards rushing. Simpson had six tackles, including two for loss, and was named ACC Defensive Lineman of the Week. Priester's 263 yards rushing broke the record of 260 set by Cliff Austin against Duke in 1982.

Priester broke the Clemson single-game rushing record with 263 yards on 32 carries, including this 43-yard touchdown run.

Clemson 38, South Carolina 17

A 21-point outburst in the fourth quarter helped Clemson to a 38-17 win in front of 74,990 fans at South Carolina's Williams-Brice Stadium. It marked the fourth straight Tiger win in Columbia, and capped off a perfect 5-0 road season for the Tigers, just the second perfect road season for the Tigers since 1948.

South Carolina started the scoring in the first quarter with a seven-yard touchdown pass from Steve Taneyhill to Monty Means at the 10:08 mark. The scoring drive came on the Gamecock's opening possession and covered 90 yards on 11 plays.

The Tigers answered the score with a first quarter score of their own. Emory Smith bulled his way over from the one on fourth-down at the 3:29 mark of the first quarter. The drive was set up by a 22-yard punt return from Antwuan Wyatt that gave the Tigers possession at the USC 26 yard line.

The Tiger defense came up big in the second quarter when they stuffed Stanley Pritchett on four straight carries inside the three. South Carolina, however, got the ball back with 1:09 to go in the half, and were able to strike for a Reid Morton field goal, and a 10-7 halftime advantage.

After a Jeff Sauve field goal, and a Pritchett touchdown, and a Clemson fumble in their own territory, the Gamecocks looked to be in control. But, South Carolina couldn't capitalize and the momentum began to shift in Clemson's favor.

Raymond Priester, who had suffered a hamstring injury in the first half when he had just seven yards rushing in four attempts, reentered the game and provided a spark for the Tigers. Antwuan Wyatt turned a five-yard Nealon Greene pass into a touchdown by eluding most of the Gamecock secondary and darting 56 yards for a touchdown. The touchdown was the first of four straight TDs for the Clemson offense.

Priester scored from six yards out on the Tigers' next possession, giving them their first lead of the day at 24-17. Priester set the Clemson single season rushing record on the drive and ended the day with 1286 yards rushing.

Greene carried the next touchdown in for Clemson from the two, capping off a 46-yard drive that gave the Tigers a commanding 31-17 half way through the fourth quarter.

Leomont Evans set up the last touchdown with a 24-yard return of an interception of Steve Taneyhill's last collegiate pass. After a 15-yard unsportsmanlike conduct call on the Gamecocks, Smith rambed 54 yards to the USC 7. Smith would end the scoring on the day four plays later with his second touchdown.

Anthony Simmons led the Tiger defense with 19 tackles and 1.5 sacks. Andy McCrorey chipped in with nine stops for the defense that gave up only 90 yards rushing on the day.

Clemson's defensive front held Steve Taneyhill without a point over the game's final 22 minutes, while the Tiger offense put 28 points on the board.

1996 Gator Bowl

Clemson entered the 1996 Gator Bowl fresh off of five consecutive victories, including an emotional 38-17 win over arch-rival South Carolina. The Tigers had won six consecutive games away from Death Valley; but the streak ended there at the hands of Syracuse. The Orangemen handed Clemson its worst bowl defeat in its 20-game bowl history, 41-0.

In front of a rain-soaked crowd of mostly Tiger fans, freshman quarterback Donovan McNabb ran, passed, and beat the Tiger defense. McNabb, the MVP of the Gator Bowl, was unstoppable, as he threw three touchdown passes and ran for another. He completed 13 of 23 passes for 309 yards. Wide receiver Marvin Harrison was on the other end of many McNabb passes as he grabbed seven for 173 yards.

Malcolm Thomas scored less than two minutes into the contest on a one-yard run. On their next possession, McNabb led a 12-play, 62-yard drive that ended in a McNabb five-yard keeper for six. After a Kevin Abrams interception late in the first quarter, McNabb found Harrison wide open for a 38-yard touchdown reception.

In the second quarter, the Orangemen defense thwarted Clemson's best drive of the day. After Clemson had gone 53 yards on 11 plays down to Syracuse's six-yard-line, Clemson faced a crucial fourth-and-two situation. Down by 20 points, Clemson called a play action pass that was just out of the diving hands of tight end Lamont Hall.

The homecoming for Jacksonville natives and childhood teammates Brian Dawkins and Patrick Sapp was a bitter-sweet one, although Sapp did register a sack for a nine-yard loss. The Tigers, who entered the game with the nation's fourth best rushing attack could only manage 90 yards on 34 attempts. The Orangemen held Raymond Priester, the ACC's leading rusher, to just 36 yards on 15 carries.

Syracuse added two more touchdowns in the third quarter to put the game out of reach. After a 57 yard pass to Sir Mawn Wilson, Thomas ran two yards to the right for his second touchdown of the game. Thomas, a Jacksonville native, rushed for 71 yards on 14 carries. Each team traded prodigious third period punts, including a 73-yard effort by Sean Reali. The one bright spot for Clemson was senior punter Chris McNally, who averaged 49.3 yards on six punts. The Orangemen had their second one-play drive as McNabb hit Harrison over the middle for a 56-yard touchdown.

In the fourth quarter, Syracuse put the finishing touches on a brilliant performance as McNabb hit Kaseem Sinceno on third down in the right side of the end zone for a 15-yard touchdown reception. Syracuse ended the day 12 of 19 on third down and held the ball 10 minutes longer than the Tigers.

Clemson had 13 tackles for loss against Syracuse, but it was not enough against Donovan McNabb and the Orangemen offense.

August 31 Clemson at North Carolina Series: Clemson leads 29-14-1

This will be the earliest season opener in Clemson history, obviously Clemson's first ever game in the month of August...Clemson has a 13-6-1 record in Kenan Stadium, including victories in seven of the last nine trips to Orange County...North Carolina has not won at Clemson since 1980, Lawrence Taylor's senior year...Clemson offensive coordinator Darrell Moody was an assistant coach for the Tar Heels between 1988-95...Clemson Assistant Head coach Les Herrin was a North Carolina assistant in 1988...the Tigers have won nine of the last 10 and 13 of the last 15 in the series...Clemson upset #12 North Carolina by a 28-17 margin in Chapel Hill the last time Clemson went to North Carolina...Nealon Greene connected on 9-12 passes to lead the Clemson offense in 1994 and is now 20-29 passing for 235 yards against the Tar Heels in two games....North Carolina has gained over 260 yards in total offense against Clemson just three times since 1987, but one of them was last year when UNC had 321 yards....the Tar Heels have scored over 17 points against Clemson just once in the last 10 years (24 in 1993 at Chapel Hill)...current Clemson defensive back Peter Ford had two interceptions and eight tackles in the win last year at Clemson...starting Clemson linebackers Anthony Simmons and Mond Wilson combined for 35 tackles in last year's game and both were honored by the ACC...Brett Williams has five tackles for loss in three games against North Carolina...Clemson has an 8-4 record on November 4, and is 2-1 against North Carolina...Clemson has a 75-17-8 record in season openers over the years and has won 12 of its last 13 with the only loss coming to Virginia Tech in 1986...this will be the first time Clemson has opened on the road since 1985 (20-17 win at Virginia Tech), just the second time in the last 21 years that Clemson has opened away from Death Valley...Clemson lost at Georgia (also on ABC) in the 1982 season opener...this is Clemson's first opener against a conference foe since 1977 vs. Maryland.

Sept. 7 Furman at Clemson Series: Clemson leads 37-10-4

This will be the 100-year anniversary of the first Clemson football game, as the Tigers met Furman in their opening game in history in 1896 (on October 31st that year)...Clemson won that game 14-6...Clemson has won 25 straight games against Furman dating to a 12-0 Paladin win at Clemson in 1936...the two teams have met just four times since 1964 and Clemson has outscored the Paladins 208-18 in the last seven meetings...Furman has not scored a touchdown against Clemson since 1961...Clemson has won 31 in a row over Southern Conference teams since a 6-0 loss to South Carolina in 1952...Clemson has won 40 games in a row over teams currently in the Southern Conference...Nine of the last 10 Southern Conference teams to play the Tigers have failed to score a touchdown, Western Carolina scored nine points, including a touchdown, last season....Tommy West is 2-0 against Furman in his coaching career, 1-0 at Clemson and 1-0 in his season at UT-Chattanooga when his club won a 45-42 thriller in the season finale...this is first meeting between Clemson and Furman since 1994 when Tigers won West's first regular season game as Clemson head coach, 27-6...Emory Smith scored two touchdowns for the Tigers in that game...Furman is coached by former Clemson player Bobby Johnson and he is 0-1 vs. the Tigers...Johnson was Clemson defensive coordinator in 1993 under Ken Hatfield...Furman had just 99 yards total offense against Clemson in 1994, best defensive game by the Tigers since West has been head coach...Clemson has a 1-0 all-time record on September 7.

Sept. 21 Clemson at Missouri Series: Clemson leads 2-0

First meeting between the two teams since 1950 when Clemson won in Columbia, MO 34-0...Clemson also won the other game in the short series, 24-23 in the January 1, 1949 Gator Bowl, a victory that completed a perfect 11-0 season for Frank Howard's Tigers...Clemson was 10th ranked in the nation heading into the 1949 Gator Bowl, Missouri was unranked...Jack Miller booted a 32-yard field goal in the fourth quarter for what proved to be the winning points...Missouri scored a late TD to come within two points, then booted the extra point to come within one point...two-point conversion was not in college football yet...win gave Clemson the only perfect season in college football for the 1948 season, but Michigan won the National Championship and there was no post-bowl poll in those days...Clemson's Frank Howard and Missouri's Don Faurot were the competing head coaches in 1948 and 1950 and later served as recruiters for the annual Blue Gray game...the playing fields at the schools are named after the respective legendary coaches (in fact both Stadiums are named Memorial Stadium and the schools do have the same mascot)...Missouri has played Clemson in two of its greatest seasons ever, as the 1950 Tigers, who gained their second win of the season over Missouri, posted a 9-0-1 ledger and defeated Miami in the Orange Bowl...last time Clemson and Missouri played the Tigers used a relentless ground attack, gaining 420 yards on the ground in just 57 attempts...Clemson had three backs gain over 100 yards, the second straight week they had done it, but one of just four times in Clemson history it has been accomplished...Jackie Calvert led the way with 175 (including 81 for a score on Clemson's first possession), while Ray Mathews had 120 and Fred Cone 111 yards and two touchdowns...Clemson scored in every quarter and held the Missouri Tigers to 239 yards total offense compared to 525 for Clemson...Missouri was ranked 18th in the AP preseason poll that year...Clemson has a 6-3-1 record on September 21 over the years.

Sept. 28 Wake Forest at Clemson Series: Clemson leads 47-13-1

Bowl Alliance

The Bowl Alliance was formed in 1995 to create a mechanism for providing college football fans with the best possible bowl games, including a game between the two top-ranked college football teams, when possible, and to maximize the number of opportunities for a variety of high quality bowl game matchups.

The FedEx Orange, Nokia Sugar, and Tostitos Fiesta bowls have joined with the Atlantic Coast, Big East, Big 12, Big 10, Pacific 10, and Southeastern conferences, along with the University of Notre Dame to form the Alliance.

The champions of the Atlantic Coast, Big East, Big 12, and Southeastern conferences will appear in one of the aforementioned bowl games following the 1996 regular season. The remaining two at-large positions may be filled by any Division I-A college football team eligible for postseason competition, excluding the Big 10 and Pacific 10 Champions, that meets any one of the following requirements:

1) has won at least eight college football games during the most recently completed regular season; not to include wins in either the Pigskin and/or Kickoff Classic.

2) is ranked among the Top 12 bowl eligible teams in either the AP or the CNN/USA Today final regular season polls.

3) is ranked no lower in either the AP or the CNN/USA Today Poll than the lowest ranked team selected by a Bowl from the Conference Champions.

In event that two or more teams tie for the championship of the Atlantic Coast or the Big East conferences, the conference tie-breaking procedures will be followed.

Team selection shall occur no later than Sunday, December 8, 1996. The selection order shall be as follows:

Selections 1 and 2.....Nokia Sugar
Selections 3 and 5.....Tostitos Fiesta
Selections 4 and 6.....FedEx Orange

Mandatory 1 vs. 2 Pairing

The Nokia Sugar Bowl shall select any team ranked No. 1 in the AP Poll and any team ranked No. 1 in the CNN/USA Today Poll if the teams so ranked are different and two such teams are available. In any other case, the Nokia Sugar Bowl shall select any team ranked No. 1 in either the AP Poll or the CNN/USA Today Poll and any team ranked No. 2 in either the AP Poll or the CNN/USA Today Poll if two teams so ranked are available. All other team selections shall come from the pool of teams specified above and will be at the discretion of the participating bowls.

#1 ACC Team—The Bowl Alliance will take the ACC Champion.

#2 ACC Team— The Gator Bowl will take the #2 team from the ACC against the #2 team from the Big East. Should two ACC teams be chosen for the Alliance, the Gator Bowl has the option of selecting Notre Dame in place of an ACC team. The Gator

Bowl shall have the right to select any team in the conference so long as they have achieved within one win of any other conference team available. The Gator Bowl payout is $1.3 million.

*#3 ACC Team—The Peach Bowl will have the #3 ACC team against the #4 SEC team. The Peach Bowl will have the second pick of the ACC teams after the Alliance. It has a minimum payout of $750,000.

*#4 ACC Team—The Carquest Bowl will have the #4 ACC team against the #3 Big East team. The Carquest Bowl has the third pick of ACC teams after the Alliance Selections. The minimum payout is $750,000.

*Remaining Bowl Options—The Poulan/Weedeater Independence Bowl is open on both sides, while the St. Jude Liberty Bowl has one slot open vs. the Champion of the Midwest Alliance.

Ring of Honor

The Clemson Ring of Honor is in its third year of existence in Clemson Memorial Stadium. On September 3, 1994, during ceremonies prior to the Clemson vs. Furman football game, Frank Howard, Steve Fuller and Banks McFadden were inducted into the Clemson Ring of Honor. On September 2, 1995, Jeff Davis was added to the Clemson Ring of Honor.

The Ring of Honor is the highest honor a Clemson football player can receive. A recipient must first be a member of the Clemson Hall of Fame, earn at least an undergraduate degree, and make a significant contribution to the heritage of Clemson athletics. Honorees will have their jersey retired.

Howard was Clemson's head coach between 1940-69 and he guided Clemson to eight conference championships, six bowl games and six Top 25 seasons. He was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1989 and is the second winningest coach in ACC history. He had 165 wins when he retired, most in ACC history.

McFadden was named the Nation's most versatile athlete in 1939. He was an All-American in football and basketball, the only Clemson athlete in history to do that. McFadden led Clemson to its first bowl bid ever, a 6-3 win over Boston College in the 1940 Cotton Bowl. He was the number-three pick of the 1940 NFL draft, the highest draft selection in Clemson history.

Fuller is the only football player in Clemson history to be chosen an All-American on the field and in the classroom. Fuller was a first-team Academic All-American in 1977 and 1978 and was a third-team AP All-American in 1978. Fuller, who was ACC MVP on two occasions, is still Clemson's all-time leader in total offense. He was an NCAA Top Five Award winner in 1979, the only Clemson athlete to win the award.

Davis, captain of Clemson's 1981 National Championship team was a first-team All-American that year when he led the Tigers in tackles with 175, the highest total in Clemson history. Davis was also named the MVP of the ACC and was the Defensive MVP of the Orange Bowl victory over Nebraska, the game that clinched the national championship for the Tigers.

RING OF HONOR GUIDELINES

Purpose: The charge of the Ring of Honor committee is to bestow the highest athletic award presented by the Clemson Athletic Department on deserving candidates. The committee will examine the careers of candidates in all Clemson sports.

Nominations: Nominations are made by any member of IPTAY, a member of the faculty or a relative of a worthy nominee, and are accepted up to 30 days prior to the committee meeting. The committee will meet once every two years in the month of April to vote on the nominations.

Nominations will be made in the form of a letter with a complete list of accomplishments and submitted to the chair of the committee, currently Clemson

Sports Information Director Tim Bourret, who will retain an active file of nominations. Letters of support may also be submitted. All nominations will remain on file for a period of three voting committee meetings (five years). The Chair of the Committee will screen all nominations to make sure they meet eligibility requirements.

Eligibility: This committee will recognize individuals who have demonstrated consistent and unique national excellence in their sport during their Clemson career. Their accomplishments must be significant on an individual and team basis. Their statistical accomplishments must be noteworthy, but they should also have an outstanding record in terms of leadership. In general, they must have made a noteworthy contribution to the history of the Clemson Athletic Program.

Athletic accomplishments after their Clemson career are not a primary consideration in the nomination, but they must retain an unblemished record of citizenship after they leave Clemson.

A candidate must be a member of the Clemson Hall of Fame and must hold a baccalaureate degree from an accredited four-year University or college.

Financial contributions to Clemson University will not be a consideration when evaluating the candidates.

For a coach to be nominated he or she must be retired from coaching that sport at the college level.

Selection Process: Each member of the 11-person selection committee will cast one vote per sport. An honoree must obtain at least seven votes to be selected. There will be just one ballot. The committee does not have to select any honorees at its meeting. There shall be no more than one honoree in a sport for every two years.

Conferring: In the sport of football, the honoree will have his name, number, years participated and helmet enshrined in the Ring of Honor at Clemson Memorial Stadium. In the sport of basketball, the honoree's jersey will be hung from the rafters of Littlejohn Coliseum. In the sport of baseball a jersey replica will be hung from the fence of Tiger Field. Other sports will establish appropriate sites at the home facility.

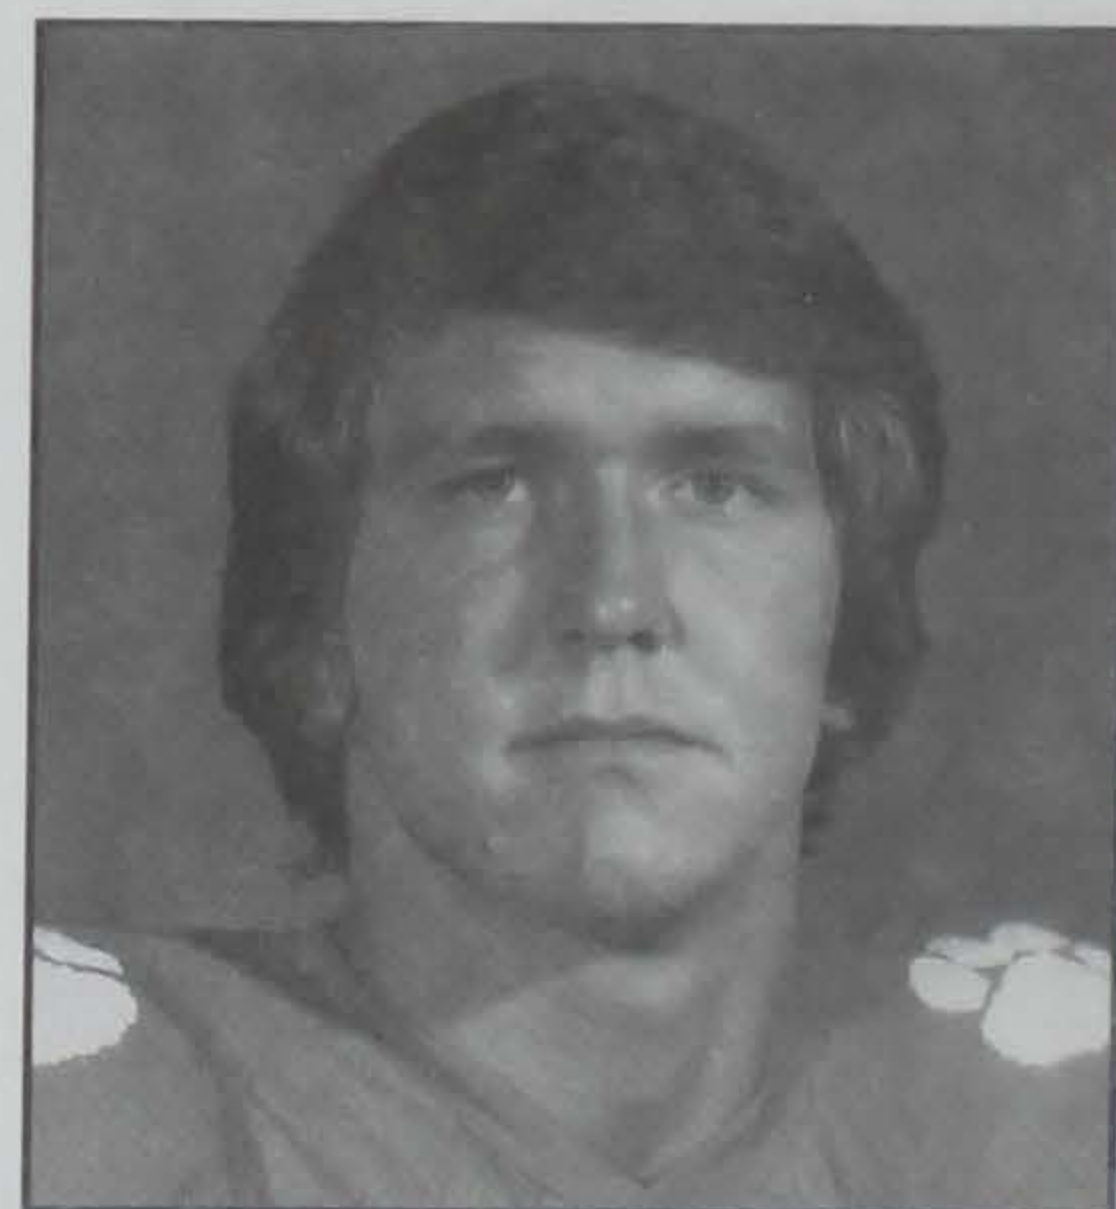

When a student-athlete is selected the person's jersey is honored, but the jersey number may be worn in the future. However, it is encouraged that the number be issued only on special occasions. These occasions are determined by the head coach and athletic director. The ceremony honoring the recipient will be determined from a meeting between the honoree, the athletic director, the committee chair and the head coach of the sport involved.

Former Head Coaches

Walter Riggs

WALTER RIGGS, 1896, 1899

Walter Riggs could easily be called the father of Clemson Football. He coached the football program at Clemson, not only because he had football experience, but he was also one of only two people on the Clemson campus to have ever seen a football game when the sport started in 1896. (The other person was Frank Thompkins who played in the backfield on Clemson's first team in 1896).

On September 30, 1896, a small crowd gathered in one of the barrack's rooms and the group discussed the feasibility of organizing a football association. A committee of three was appointed to consult Professor Riggs as to management of a football team and to ask his aid as coach.

When the Tigers traveled to Furman for their first game on October 28, 1896, it was the first time that many of the players had ever seen a full-sized regulation football field.

Riggs stepped down as football coach after the first season because the players wanted him to devote all of his time to being a professor in the engineering department.

Clemson athletics and Riggs, however, could not be split. Although not given the title, Riggs also was the equivalent of an athletic director, managing money and making contracts with other teams.

Riggs could easily be called a loyal man, as he answered the need of the Clemson football team again in 1899. The Clemson Athletic Association was low on money and could not afford to hire a coach. So Riggs once again answered the call of the school and became the coach of the 1899 team for free.

Riggs originally came to Clemson from Auburn. He graduated with top honors in 1892 with a B.S. degree in electrical and mechanical engineering. At Auburn, he was captain and catcher of the baseball team as well as the manager and left end of the football team. He also served as class president and was the director of the Glee Club.

Upon his graduation at Auburn, he was assistant to the president of the college until 1896, then he made his trek to Clemson.

Riggs later became president of Clemson on March 7, 1911 and in 1915, a new football stadium with other athletic facilities was named in his honor as Riggs Field. It is currently the home of the Tiger soccer team. In two years of coaching, Riggs guided the Tigers to a career record of 6-3 overall.

W. M. WILLIAMS, 1897

Clemson's second coach, W.M. Williams, was a native of West Point, GA. He played at Auburn on the teams of '94, '95, and '96, under the coaching of John Heisman. He was considered the best blocking halfback in the south.

Williams led Clemson to the state championship and to a 2-2 season. During his time as coach, Clemson played two games in a matter of three days. Clemson was victorious over the Charlotte Y on October 23, but lost to North Carolina 28-0, on October 25.

JOHN PENTON, 1898

The Tigers' third coach, J.A. Penton of Alabama, was captain and starting guard on the University of Virginia teams of '93, '94, and '95. Penton also played fullback at Auburn in '97 under Heisman's coaching. Under Penton, Clemson won 55-0 over Bingham in its first home game, as W.C. Forsythe kicked every point after touchdown (11). In his only season at Clemson, Penton guided Clemson to a 3-1 record and the state championship.

JOHN HEISMAN, 1900-1903

Probably one of the most famous football coaches in America, John Heisman, coached at Clemson from 1900 to 1903. Heisman turned Clemson from virtually an unknown college to a southern powerhouse at the turn of the century.

Heisman attended Brown University, taking the two-year law course offered at that time, and was a center on the football team. In the fall of 1889, he transferred to the University of Pennsylvania. He lettered in football at both schools and graduated from Pennsylvania in 1893.

In the spring of 1894, Walter Riggs was a graduate manager for the football team at Auburn. It fell on his shoulders to find a coach for the season of 1895. Riggs wrote to Carl Williams, the Pennsylvania captain of 1894, asking him to suggest a suitable coach. He replied recommending J.W. Heisman, an ex-Penn player, and his coach at Oberlin.

After several weeks, Riggs finally found Heisman in Texas, where he was engaged in raising tomatoes. Having sunk about all of his capital into the tomato venture, he was glad to go back to his old love and he readily went to coach at Auburn for $500.00 a year.

His coaching career began at Oberlin in 1892 and lasted 36 years. It included positions at Akron, Auburn, Clemson, Georgia Tech, Penn, Washington and Jefferson, and Rice University. He had an overall career record of 185 wins, 70 losses, and 17 ties.

John Heisman invented the hidden ball trick, the handoff, the double lateral, and the "flea flicker." He pioneered the forward pass, arguing that it would scatter the mob. Coach Heisman also originated the center snap and the word hike (previously the center used to roll the ball on the ground to the quarterback).

Heisman guided Clemson to its first "bowl game" in 1903, when Clemson and Cumberland met on November 26, for the championship of the South. Cumberland, who had earlier defeated Auburn, Alabama, and Vanderbilt, was considered to be champion of the southern states of Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Tennessee, and Kentucky. The game was played on a neutral site, Montgomery, Al. Cumberland and Clemson fought to an 11-11 tie. After the news got back to Clemson that the game ended in a tie, the students and the local townspeople built a bonfire and paraded around the campus.

Overall, Heisman took Clemson to a 19-3-2 record in his four seasons at Clemson. His .833 winning percentage is still the best in Clemson history. He was also the Clemson baseball coach in 1901-1904.

SHACK SHEALY, 1904

Shack Shealy holds the distinction of being the only Clemson player to have coached his alma mater. Shealy lettered at Clemson in 1896, 97, 98, and 99 and later played two years at Iowa State. Shealy was a four-year starter playing right guard, end, and in his senior year, he played in the backfield. Shealy only coached Clemson one year in 1904, and guided the Tigers to a 3-3-1 record overall, which included wins over Alabama, Georgia, and Tennessee.

ED COCHEMS, 1905

Ed Cochems lettered at the University of Wisconsin in 1899, 1900, and 1901. Cochems was described as a great half-back or end on the strong Wisconsin teams at the turn of the century, including the undefeated team of 1901. During his playing career, he had a 100-yard kickoff return in a 35-0 win over Chicago in 1901, and had four touchdowns in a game against Notre Dame in 1900. After his playing days, he immediately went into coaching. He was the head coach of North Dakota in 1902 and 1903 and served briefly as an assistant with former teammate, Art Curtis at Wisconsin in 1904.

Cochems led Clemson to a 3-2-1 record overall, including wins over Georgia and Auburn. After his Clemson career, he was head coach and athletic director at St. Louis University in 1906. After the forward pass was legalized in 1906, Cochems did something with the pass at once in his first year at St. Louis, while other coaches stuck with the running game. He taught his players not to throw the ball end-over-end, but instead like a projectile - a spiral. He called this new weapon a projectile pass.

In 1906, St. Louis went undefeated rolling up 407 points while allowing its opponents only 11.

Historians credit Cochems as being the first coach to use and perfect the first legal pass in a game. The first studied refinements in throwing the ball, which led to the spiral, occurred in 1906 under Cochems. Brad Robinson of St. Louis University threw the first forward pass to Jack Schneider in a game played Sept. 5, 1906 in Waukensha against Carroll College.

BOB WILLIAMS, 1906, 1909, 1913-1915

Bob Williams is probably the only coach in the country to have coached football at two schools that are involved in rivalry. Williams coached football at both Clemson and South Carolina. Before coming to

Frank Dobson

Clemson, he coached at Davidson in 1905. He coached at South Carolina for two years and guided the Gamecocks to a 6-1 record in 1902 and an 8-2 slate in 1903.

During his South Carolina career, he administered the most unexpected defeat of Clemson, as he beat a heavily favored John Heisman team, 12-6 in 1902.

Williams served the Tigers as head coach a total of three terms 1906, 1909, and 1913-15. Between the years of 1915 and 1926, Williams practiced law in Roanoke, VA, and was the city's mayor.

One of the highlights of his Clemson career included leading the 1906 Tigers to an undefeated season (4-0-3), which included wins over Georgia, Auburn, Tennessee, and a Heisman-coached Georgia Tech team.

FRANK SHAUGHNESSY, 1907

Frank Shaughnessy was known for his ability as an administrator in sports as he served many positions, from a professional hockey coach to the commissioner of the International Baseball (Triple A) League.

A graduate in law at Notre Dame, he was captain of the baseball and football teams his junior and senior seasons. After his graduation in 1905, he coached baseball at Notre Dame. The summer before coming to Clemson he played for Ottawa of the Eastern League. That summer, he played left field and had a .352 batting average. He also played with Washington and the Philadelphia A's.

At Clemson he coached the baseball teams in 1907 and 1908, and was head football mentor in 1907, posting a 4-4 record.

During his lifetime, Shaughnessy made his name in baseball, but he took part in many other sports. Besides being a sports legend at Notre Dame, he managed the Ottawa Senators of a professional hockey league and coached football teams at Clemson, Washington and Lee and McGill University. He retired as the president of the International Baseball league.

During his football playing days, in a game against Kansas, Shaughnessy raced 107 yards for the only Irish touchdown as

Bob Williams

Kansas won, 24-5. Football fields were 110 yards back then and touchdowns were five points. This is still a Notre Dame record.

JOHN STONE, 1908

John Stone is one of three coaches to have graduated from Vanderbilt and later become a Clemson head football coach. At Vanderbilt, he was a member of the All-Southern Football team for four seasons. He was a big man for his time, standing 6'2". Clemson was 1-6 in 1908, but the Tigers lost many of their star players and substitutes from 1907 due to a college prank that saw as many as 306 students expelled from school.

FRANK DOBSON, 1910-12

Frank Dobson was a professional baseball player before coming to Clemson as he was the property of the Pittsburgh Nationals. Walter Riggs, President of the Clemson Athletic Association, thought it was unfair to keep shuffling coaches year after year. Riggs offered Dobson a three-year contract, which was the first contract offered and signed by a Clemson coach.

At Clemson, he coached football, basketball and baseball. He was Clemson's first basketball coach, leading Clemson to its only undefeated season in history in the inaugural season 1911-12, (4-0). In 1912-13, Clemson finished the basketball season with a 9-5 record. He was head baseball coach in 1911-1913.

WAYNE HART, 1916

Wayne Hart coached Clemson in 1916 and led Clemson to a 3-6 finish. Under Hart, the Tigers defeated state rivals Furman and South Carolina.

Hart played three years at tackle for Georgetown. He also played one year at George Washington. He was a member of the All-South Atlantic team for four years. He was also an assistant coach at Georgetown. In 1913, he coached the Washington Vigilants, a professional football team, and did not lose a game. The last two seasons before arriving at Clemson, he coached various sports at Technical High School in Washington, D. C.

EDWARD DONAHUE, 1917-20

Edward Donahue had to be one of the most organized men in the country. During the 1918-19 school year, Donahue was head coach of four Clemson sports: football, basketball, baseball, and track. During his four-year career at Clemson, he was basketball and baseball coach for two seasons, and head track coach for one season.

Donahue was an outstanding athlete at Washington and Lee as he played in the backfield on the football team and played catcher on the baseball team. Upon graduation, Donahue was an assistant coach in football and was the head coach in baseball and basketball.

E. J. STEWART, 1921-22

E. J. Stewart was head football coach for two years at Clemson, 1921-22. However, he coached more than one sport during his stay at Tigertown. In the spring of 1921, Stewart coached the baseball and track teams while conducting spring football practice. In the fall, Stewart's football team went 1-6-2, but he improved to a 5-4 slate in 1922. He went on to coach the track teams in 1922 and 1923.

Stewart played football, baseball, basketball and ran track at Western Reserve University in Ohio. Upon his graduation, he played, organized and served as head coach in Ohio of the Massillon, Ohio Professional football team.

He also coached at Nebraska and the University of Texas. At Nebraska, he led the Cornhuskers to a combined record of 11-4 in 1916-1917. They also won the Missouri Valley Conference title both seasons. After leaving the University of Nebraska, he entered the automobile business as President and Treasurer of the Stewart Motor Co. Because of the economic conditions at the time, he decided to go back into coaching.

BUD SAUNDERS, 1923-26

Bud Saunders graduated from Missouri in 1911, with a bachelors degree in Law. At Missouri, he played football and basketball. He wanted to play two other sports, but a conference rule at the time forbid an athlete from participating in more than two sports.

Saunders was football coach at Knox College before coming to Clemson. In football, Saunders coached for four seasons, 1923-1926. He also coached the basketball teams in 1924 and 1925. His best season in football came in 1923, as he led the Tigers to a 5-2-1 slate.

JOSH CODY, 1927-1930

Josh Cody, fondly known as "big man," will always be a favorite to Clemson fans. Cody, a big man in stature at 6-2, 220 pounds, led Clemson to victories over South Carolina for four straight years. He is the only coach in Clemson history who has been around more than two years who never lost a football game to South Carolina. He also defeated Furman three straight years. Cody had a 13-0-1 record in home games and had a 72 percent winning mark overall, fourth best in Clemson history.

After a 5-3-1 start in 1927, Cody guided Clemson to two 8-3 seasons in 1928 and 1929. On May 6, 1929, to show appreciation to Cody, he was presented with a new buick by the alumni, student body and faculty. This presentation took place in front of Tillman Hall.

In his final season, 1930, the Tigers finished with an 8-2 record. Cody also coached basketball at Clemson for five years and guided Clemson to a 16-9 slate in 1930. During the 1928-30 seasons, he guided Clemson to a 22-4 mark at home.

JESS NEELY, 1931-39

Clemson played in its first bowl game under Jess Neely in the 1940 Cotton Bowl. The Tigers, unknown at the time, became a household word after beating heavily-favored Boston College 6-3 in the Cotton Bowl Classic. Neely came to Clemson in 1931 and his recruitment of Banks McFadden brought Clemson to another level of competition. In 1938, Neely had Clemson at second place in the Southern Conference with a 7-1-1 record. In 1939, Banks McFadden became Clemson's first All-American, and the team concluded the season with a trip to Dallas for the Cotton Bowl. Neely left Clemson that spring and moved on to Rice, where he took that school to new heights. Neely is a member of the College Football Hall of Fame.

FRANK HOWARD, 1940-69

Frank Howard succeeded Jess Neely in 1940 when Neely moved on to Rice. Howard got the job when he seconded his own nomination during a meeting of the president and athletic council. Howard signed a one-year contract, then lost the document, and never had another in his 30 years as head coach.

Howard graduated from Alabama in 1931 where he was a football star lineman. He played in the 1930 Rose Bowl, then started his coaching career under Neely at Clemson in 1931, and was a part of a rebirth of Clemson football in the late 1930s. He was an assistant coach on Clemson's 1939 team that posted a 9-1 mark and beat Boston College 6-3 in the Tigers' first bowl game.

In 1940, he began his head coaching career with a bang as he won the Southern Conference championship, the first of eight conference titles Howard won in his coaching career.

Howard had his most successful season in 1948 when he took Clemson to an 11-0 record, the Tigers' first perfect season since 1900. The campaign included a Southern Conference championship, a Gator Bowl win over Missouri, and a number-11 final ranking. He nearly duplicated the feat in 1950 when he guided Clemson to a number 10 AP final ranking, a 9-0-1 finish and a 15-14 win over Miami (FL) in the Orange Bowl.

When he retired in 1969, Howard was the fifth winningest coach in the nation with 165 victories. He had 96 wins as an ACC coach, now second in conference history, and he captured six (five outright and one co-championship) ACC titles, more than any other coach. His teams appeared in six bowl games, 63 of his players were drafted by the NFL and 37 played in the league.

Howard, a native of Barlow Bend, AL, had six Top 20 seasons, won eight conference titles (two Southern and six ACC), won an even 100 conference games and was a two-time ACC Coach-of-the-Year. He coached 25 academic All-ACC selections and five Academic All-Americans. Eleven of his players were chosen on-the-field All-Americans. Howard was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1989.

HOOTIE INGRAM, 1970-1972

Hootie Ingram will be best remembered as the coach who made the Tiger Paw famous. Before his first year as head coach in the summer of 1970, Clemson introduced the Tiger Paw as the official logo of Clemson University's Athletic teams.

Ingram graduated from the University of Alabama in 1955. He also received his master's in school administration from Alabama.

The native of Tuscaloosa, AL was an All-Southeastern Conference defensive back for the Crimson Tide his senior year.

Ingram had his best year at Clemson during the 1971 campaign with a 5-6 overall record. He also finished second in the ACC with a 4-2 league mark in 1971.

RED PARKER, 1973-76

Red Parker coached at Clemson for four years. His 1974 team lived up to the theme "Excitement Galore, Clemson Football '74." It finished the season with a 7-4 record (6-0 at home), with wins over Georgia, Georgia Tech and South Carolina.

Before arriving at Clemson, Red Parker spent seven years at The Citadel from 1966 through 1972. During this time, he guided the Bulldogs to a fine 8-3 finish in 1971.

Parker earned a BA degree in Physical Education from Arkansas A&M in 1953. Prior to his graduation, he earned three letters each in football, basketball and track, as a running back-defensive back, second baseman-shortstop, and sprinter.

CHARLEY PELL, 1977-78

Charley Pell authored college football's Cinderella story in 1977.

The Albertville, AL product took a Clemson team that was 3-6-2 in 1976, and led the '77 Tigers to a sparkling 8-2-1 regular season mark and a berth in the Gator Bowl. It was Clemson's first final Top 20 season since 1959. He coached Clemson to a 10-1 regular season in 1978 before he left to become head coach at Florida. Clemson's 1978 team beat Ohio State in the Gator Bowl and finished sixth in the final AP poll in only his second year as head coach of Clemson.

He was a near unanimous choice as ACC Coach-of-the-Year in 1977 and 1978, the first coach, regardless of sport, to win ACC Coach-of-the-Year honors in each of his first two years. A two-way starter and three-year letterwinner at Alabama, Pell was a member of the Crimson Tide's 1961 National Championship team.

He came to Clemson in 1976 and served as assistant head coach and defensive coordinator that year.

DANNY FORD, 1979-89

Danny Ford had an auspicious beginning to his head coaching career. He gained a 17-15 win over Ohio State in the 1978 Gator Bowl in a game shown on national television. The 30-year-old coach, youngest in Division I at the time, also defeated a college football legend in a contest that truly put Clemson football on the map as he beat Woody Hayes in the latter's last game. Ford had taken over the coaching reigns on December 10, 1978 when Charley Pell resigned to become head coach at Florida.

Ford kept things going in 1979 with wins over Georgia and Notre Dame and another trip to a bowl, this time the Peach Bowl. In 1981, he helped Clemson reach the summit of college football by winning the National Championship. His Tigers downed three top 10 teams during the course of the 12-0 season that concluded with a 22-15 victory over Nebraska in the Orange Bowl. Ford was named National Coach-of-the-Year.

The victories continued in 1982 and 1983 as Clemson had consecutive 9-1-1 seasons. The Tigers finished in the top 12 in both seasons, and thus had a 30-2-2 record over a three-year period, best in the nation.

Clemson won three straight ACC titles under his guidance between 1986 and 1988. In 1989, Clemson registered a 10-2 season and top 12 national ranking, the fourth straight season Clemson finished in the final AP top 20. He closed his career with a 27-7 win over West Virginia in the Gator Bowl, his sixth bowl win in eight tries and his fourth in succession.

Ford was the third winningest active coach in the nation on a percentage basis at the end of the 1989 season. He finished with a 96-29-4 career ledger at Clemson and remains the only coach in ACC history with over a 70 percent winning mark (min. five years). He finished with a 76 percent winning percentage and five ACC titles, second only to Frank Howard's six crowns.

The 1969 Alabama graduate is still the youngest coach to win the national title, as he was just 33-years-old when the Tigers shocked the college football world in 1981. He coached 71 first-team All ACC selections and 26 All-Americans. Forty-two of his former Tigers were drafted by the NFL, and he earned 18 wins over Associated Press top 20 teams during his career, more than any other ACC coach. Additionally, eight of his former players won Super Bowl Championship rings. At one stretch his teams were ranked in the AP top 20 for 41 consecutive polls, a Clemson record.

Ford was an All-SEC selection and was also an All-SEC Academic choice at Alabama. He attended Alabama initially on a basketball/football scholarship but played only football after his freshman year. He played in three bowl games for Alabama. He is now the head coach at Arkansas.

KEN HATFIELD, 1990-93

Ken Hatfield led the Tigers to a 32-13-1 record over his four year tenure, led the squad to three bowl appearances and an ACC Championship. With a victory over Illinois in the 1991 Hall of Fame Bowl, Hatfield became the first Clemson coach to win 10 games in his first year and his .833 winning percentage was the best for a first-year Clemson coach since 1900, when John Heisman was 6-0. That season included six wins over teams with winning records, more than any other team that year with the exception of National Champion Georgia Tech.

Hatfield was also just the eighth coach in the previous 13 years to take a team to a Top 10 AP final ranking in his first year with the program, as the Tigers finished the season ranked ninth in the AP poll. The Helena, AR, native would also lead the 1991 and 1993 teams to top 25-rankings. Clemson became the third school that Hatfield had coached to a Top-20 ranking, as his 1983 Air Force team ranked 15th and he led four Arkansas teams to top-20 rankings. Only six coaches in NCAA history have accomplished that feat.

Arkansas won back-to-back conference championships in 1988 and 1989 under Hatfield's guidance. He was named the Southwest Conference Coach-of-the-Decade by the Houston Post.

Hatfield played for three years at Arkansas (1962-64) and was a starter on the National Championship team of 1964. A defensive back, he earned his fame as the nation's top punt returner in 1963 and 1964. He still ranks as the only college football player ever to finish in the top two in the nation in punt returns three straight seasons, as he finished second nationally in 1962. He is now the head coach at Rice University.

Streak Records

Consecutive Games Played:

48 by Rodney Williams (1985-88), Mark Drag (1985-88), Jeff Bak (1985-88), Otis Moore (1986-89), Stacy Fields (1987-90), Jerome Henderson (1987-90), John Johnson (1987-90), Jeb Flesch (1988-91), Levon Kirkland (1988-91), Ed McDaniel (1988-91).

Consecutive Games Started:

46 by Nelson Welch, PK, 1991-94
Note: Welch never missed a start at placekicker and also started as a punter in 29 games in his career.

Consecutive Starts by Non-kicker:

45 by Jeb Flesch, OG, 1988-91
Note: Flesch did not start the first three games of 1988, then started the last 45 games of his career.

Consecutive Starts by a Quarterback:

32 by Tommy Kendrick, 1969-71

Consecutive 100-yard Rushing Games:

5 by Kenny Flowers, 1985
Note: Streak covered last five games of 1985 season and included career high 148 yards against Minnesota in the Independence Bowl. But, that bowl game was Flowers's last 100-yard game, as he never reached the 100-yard mark as a senior.

Consecutive 100-yard Receiving Games:

3 by Charlie Waters, 1969
Note: Streak covered first three games of Waters senior year.

Consecutive 200-yard Passing Games:

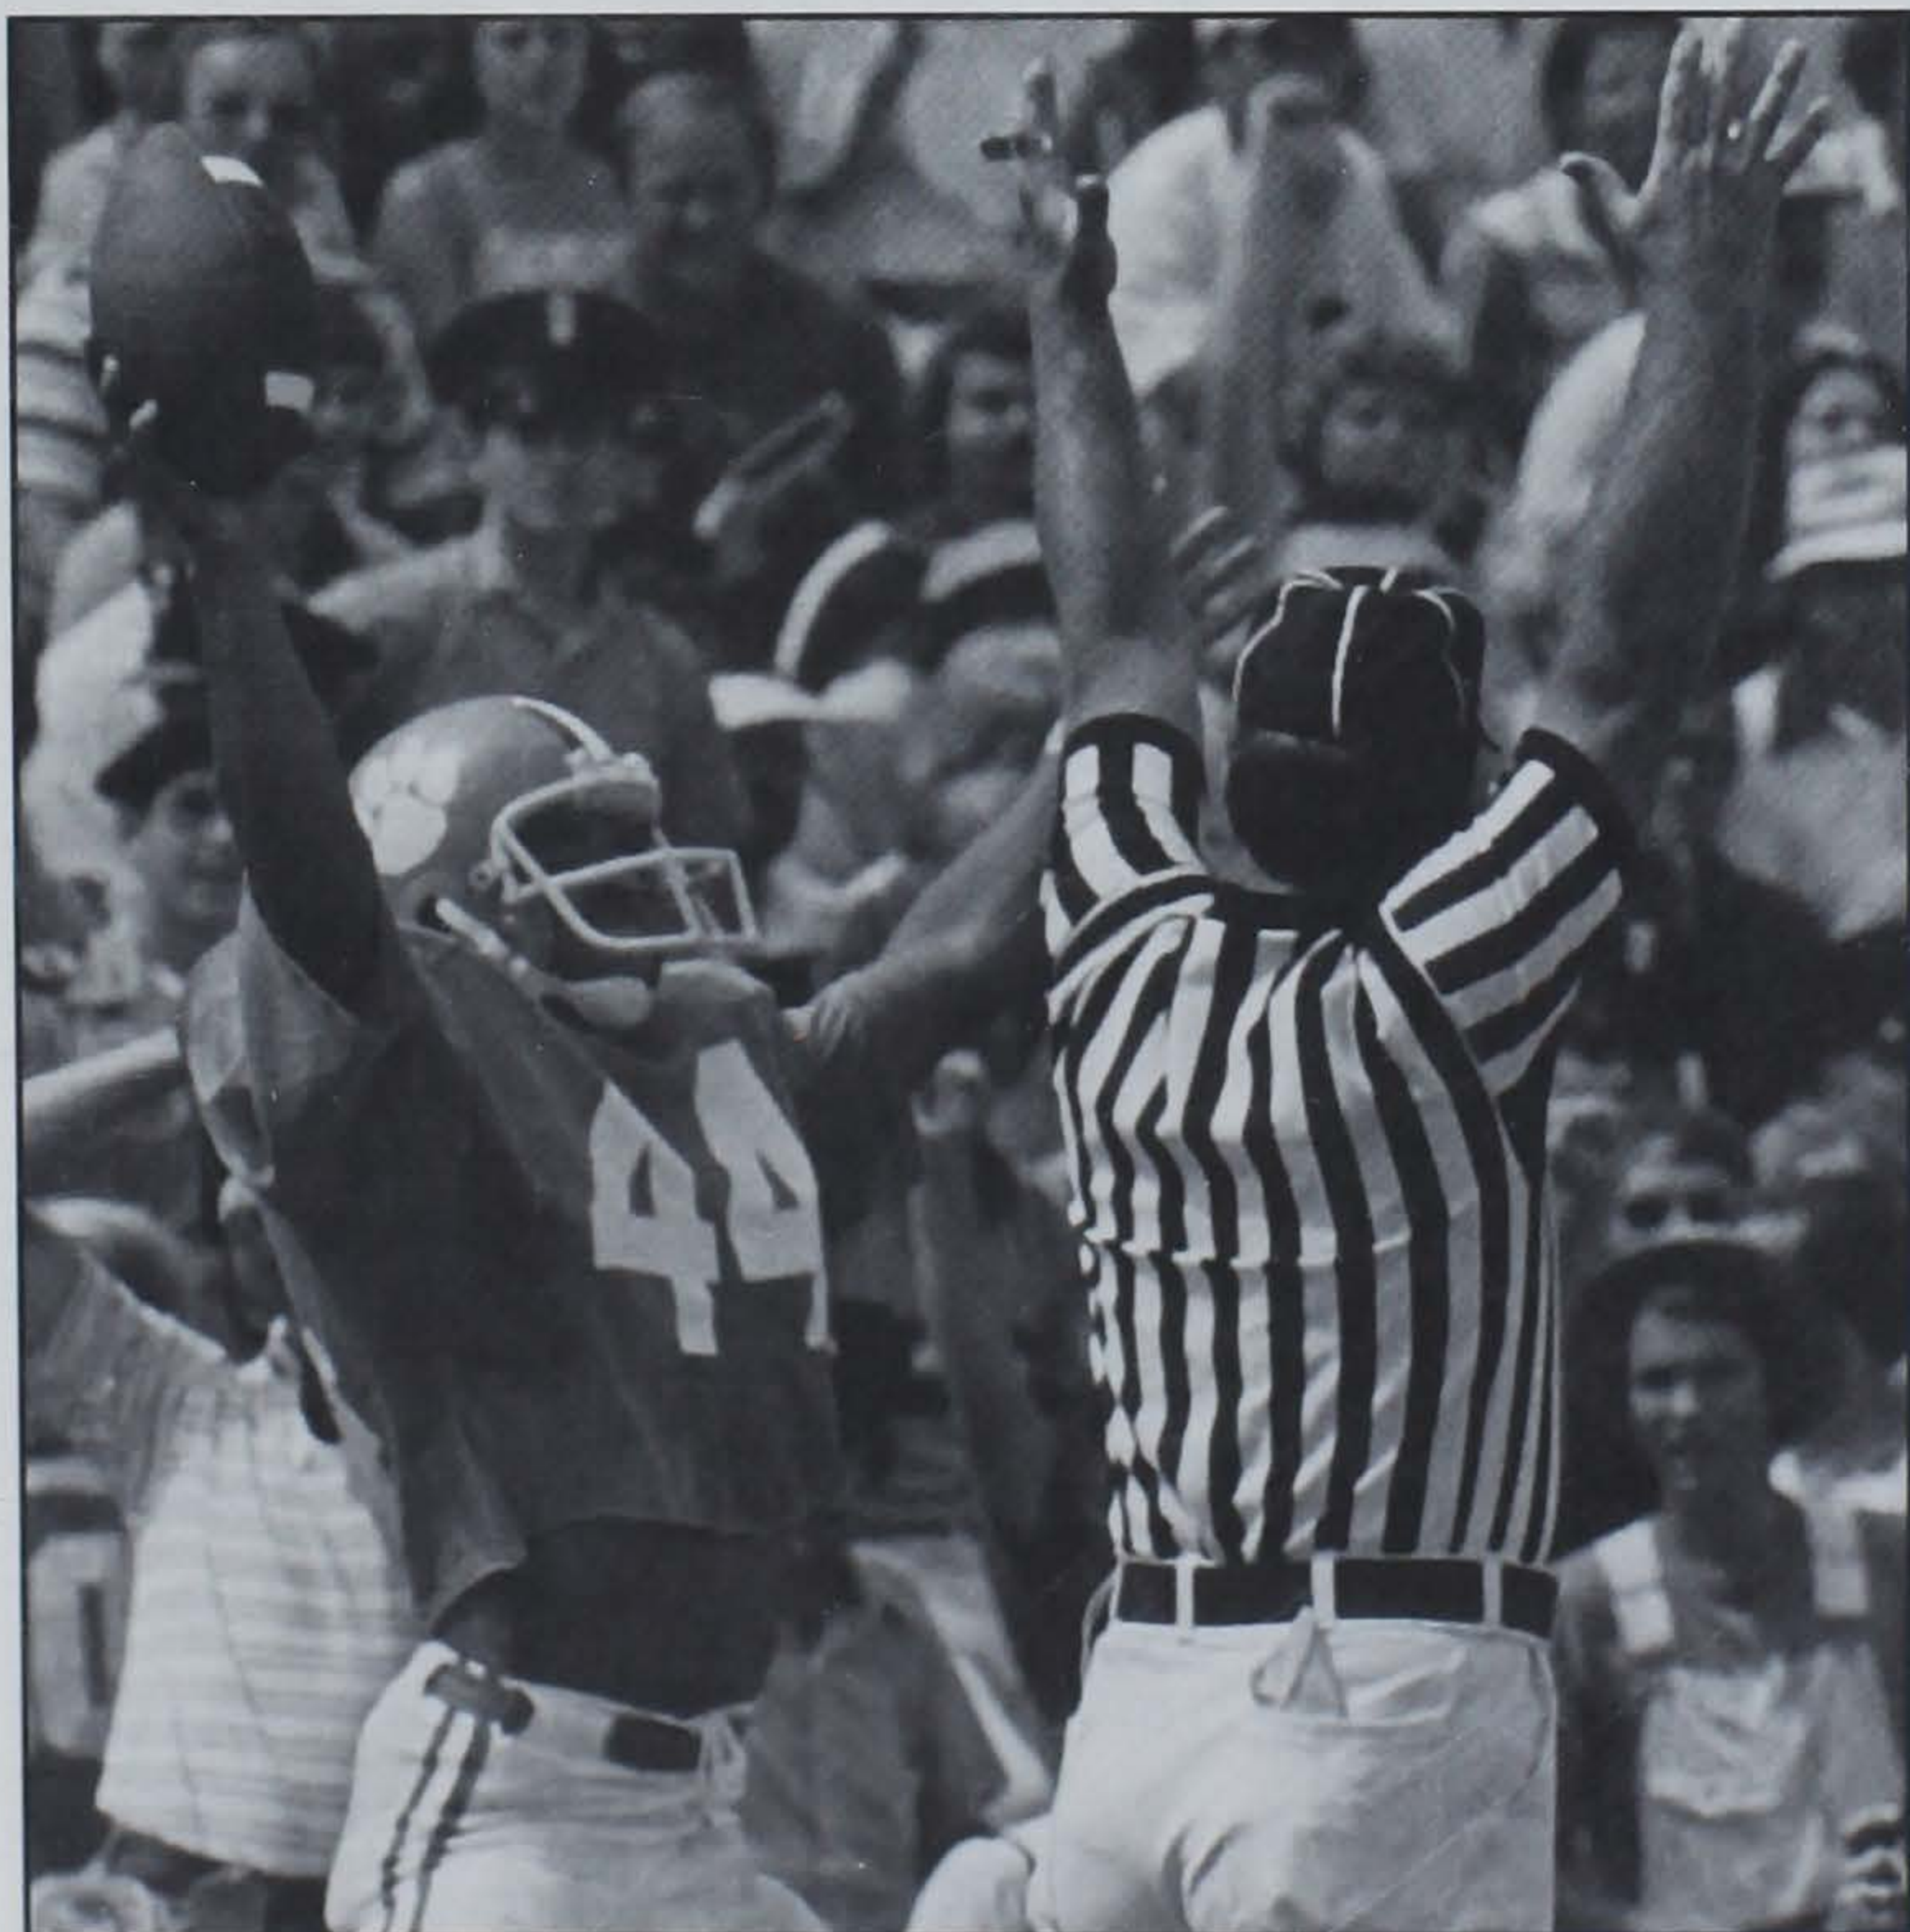

2 by DeChane Cameron, 1991; 2 by Patrick Sapp, 1992; 2 by Tommy Kendrick, 1970; 2 by Nealon Greene, 1995.

Consecutive Games Scoring a Point:

35 by David Treadwell, 1985-87
Note: Treadwell scored in every game he played in his career. He missed the 1987 N.C. State game however, as Clemson did not attempt a kicking extra point, nor a field goal in that bizarre 30-28 game.

Consecutive Games Scoring a Touchdown:

9 by Lester Brown, 1978; 9 by Terry Allen, 1988-89
Note: Brown's streak was stopped by Ohio State in the Gator Bowl.

Lester Brown scored a touchdown in nine straight games in 1978.

Consecutive Games Catching a TD Pass:

4 by K.D. Dunn, 1983
Note: Ironical that a tight end holds this record, because Clemson has historically not been a team that throws to the tight end.

Consecutive Games Throwing a Touchdown Pass:

6 by Mike Eppley, 1984
Note: Even though Dunn's streak took place in 1983, Eppley's TD pass streak was in 1984.

Consecutive Passes without an Interception:

122 by Rodney Williams, 1988

Consecutive Passes without an Interception at Start of a Career:

92 by Nealon Greene, 1994
Note: Greene did not throw an interception until the South Carolina game that year. In fact, that was the only turnover Clemson had with Greene under center all year.

Consecutive Completions:

9 by Steve Fuller vs. The Citadel, 1978
Note: Fuller was a perfect 9-9 for the game before going to the bench early in the third period in a 58-3 Clemson victory.

Consecutive Games Completing a Pass:

46 by Rodney Williams, 1985-88

Consecutive Games 200 Yards Total Offense:

3 by Patrick Sapp, 1992
Note: This might be the most unusual streak of all. Clemson's 1995 starting outside linebacker and number-50 pick of the NFL draft did something Steve Fuller, Homer Jordan, Rodney Williams, Mike Eppley or Bobby Gage never accomplished as a Clemson signal caller. Sapp's streak took place against Wake Forest (211), North Carolina (227) and Maryland (283).

Consecutive Games Catching a Pass:

35 by Jerry Butler, 1976-78
Note: Streak covered every game over his last three years.

Consecutive Plays Rushing the Ball:

8 by Stacy Driver vs. Wake Forest, 1983

Consecutive Games Sacking the Quarterback:

5 by Chester McGlockton, 1989-90

Consecutive Games Intercepting a Pass:

4 by Dexter Davis, 1990; 4 by Bobby Gage, 1948, 4 by Terry Kinard, 1980-81

Consecutive Double Figure Tackle Games:

19 by Jeff Davis, 1980-81

Consecutive Games with a Tackle:

48 by Levon Kirkland and Ed McDaniel, 1988-91
Note: Kirkland and McDaniel, both All-Americans in 1991, never missed making at least one tackle in a game. Ironically, each player had a career low one tackle in one game over their career.

Consecutive Extra Points:

72 by Chris Gardocki, 1988-90
Note: Gardocki was a perfect 72-72 on extra points in his career.

Consecutive games 40-yard punting Average:

12 by Dale Hatcher, 1983-84
Note: Hatcher had streak of 12 games in a row broken with a 39.6 average in his last game.

Consecutive Field Goals Made:

14 by Obed Ariri, 1980
Note: This was a national record at the time.

Consecutive Games Making a Field Goal:

15 by Obed Ariri, 1979-80
15 by Chris Gardocki, 1988-89

1940 Cotton Bowl

Jess Neely's last Clemson team won eight games in the regular season with just one loss to Tulane. The 8-1 Tigers were rewarded with an invitation to play Boston College in the fourth Cotton Bowl, but Clemson first had to get permission from the Southern Conference, which they immediately granted. The 1939 season not only resulted in Clemson's first bowl appearance, but also the Tigers' first first-team All-American, Banks McFadden.

On the last play of the first quarter, Bru Trexler punted to BC's Charlie O'Rourke, who fielded the punt on the Clemson 40 and returned it to the 13. Two running plays lost 10 yards, but on third down Frank Davis gained six. Alex Lukachik then kicked a 34-yard field goal to put the Eagles up, 3-0.

Clemson's scoring drive began when McFadden returned an Eagle punt to the 33. Charlie Timmons rushed for 15 yards in two plays, and two plays after that, McFadden hit Wister Jackson with a 16-yard pass to the Eagle 20. Timmons ran the final 20 yards in three carries, but Shad Bryant missed the extra point.

Later in the period, a 51-yard punt by McFadden started Boston College at its 20. The Eagles fumbled on first down and Clemson's George Fritts recovered at the 24. The Tigers could do nothing with the gift, however, as Joe Blalock fumbled after a short pass.

Stars of the Game

Charlie Timmons rushed for 115 of Clemson's 204 yards and scored the game's only touchdown. It is still the third highest rushing game in Clemson history in a bowl game.

Banks McFadden averaged 44 yards a punt on 11 punts and had four pass deflections from the secondary in another superb all-around performance in his All-America season.

The game turned into a defensive struggle in the second half, although Boston College did penetrate deep into Clemson territory on two occasions. The Eagles took the opening kickoff to the Clemson 19, but a holding penalty and an incomplete pass ended the threat and BC was forced to punt.

Late in the game, the Eagles drove to the Clemson 11, but Bryant and McFadden each broke up two passes and Clemson took over on downs.

McFadden effectively bottled up the Eagles other than those drives with his punting. His 44-yard average on nine kicks, including two boots for 51 and 55 yards in the second half, prevented Boston College from getting good field position, and the Clemson defense made the 6-3 score stand.

Charlie Timmons rushed for 115 yards and the game's only touchdown in Clemson's first bowl appearance.

1949 Gator Bowl

Clemson opened the 1948 season with a 53-0 shutout of Presbyterian in the Tigers' first-ever night home game and they closed the regular season with a 20-0 blanking of The Citadel in the first game played at the Bulldogs' Johnson Hagood Stadium. In between, the Tigers shut out three more opponents and beat five others on the way to a 10-0 record, a ninth-place ranking in the polls, and an invitation to play Missouri in the fourth Gator Bowl.

Clemson kicked off, but three plays later Missouri fumbled and Clemson's Bob Martin recovered at the 19. A pass interference call gave the Tigers the ball at the one, and Fred Cone scored from there. Jack Miller added the point after and Clemson led, 7-0.

Ray Mathews recovered a Missouri fumble later in the quarter to give Clemson the ball at its 35. Mathews took the next play for 26 yards and five plays later Bobby Gage passed to Martin for 19 more. Cone scored for the second time from the one, and Miller's conversion gave the Southern Conference champs a 14-0 lead.

After a kickoff, Missouri launched an 80-yard drive to score its first touchdown. Harold Entsminger capped the 13-play

Stars of the Game

Bobby Gage was named the game's MVP thanks to his outstanding quarterbacking and 137 yards in total offense. It was the culmination of a brilliant four-year career for Gage, who was an All-American that season.

Sophomore Fred Cone rushed for 72 yards and scored two touchdowns in the first half.

march with a quarterback sneak from the two. Robertson Dawson added the seventh point.

Gage was intercepted on the next Clemson drive and Wilbur Volz returned the theft to the Missouri 46. Missouri kept the ball on the ground and Entsminger carried over from the one for the score. Dawson added his second point after and the game was tied up at 14.

Clemson took the second-half kickoff and used up six minutes of clock on the way to its third touchdown. Gage ran and passed for 19 yards on two separate plays and the Tigers scored on a flea-flicker pass from Cone to Gage to John Poulos in the end zone. Miller completed the 80-yard drive with his third PAT.

A Missouri punt rolled dead at the Clemson one, and after an incomplete pass, Gage threw a pass that hit the ground in the end zone and was ruled a safety. Clemson's lead was then cut to 21-16.

Clemson then launched an 11-play surge to the Missouri 12. With fourth-and-10, Miller kicked a 32-yard field goal that would prove to be the winning points.

Dave Ashley returned the kickoff to the Missouri 40, and seven plays later, half-back Richard Braznell passed to Kenneth Bounds for a 20-yard touchdown. Dawson added the point to bring Missouri within one point with five minutes left. (Two-point conversions were not a part of the game yet). Clemson took the kickoff and ran out the clock to preserve the win.

Jack Miller, with Jim Miller (no relation) holding, gave Clemson a 24-23 win over Missouri in the 1949 Gator Bowl. It was Clemson's only field goal of the season and gave the Tigers a perfect 11-0 record.

1951 Orange Bowl

Clemson's bid for a repeat of the 1948 perfect season ended when the Tigers had to rely on the toe of Charlie Radcliff to tie South Carolina after three season-opening shutouts. Clemson regrouped, however, with a 13-12 win at Wake Forest and then won the remaining four games by convincing margins. The Tigers' 8-0-1 mark and second-place finish in the Southern Conference earned them a bid to play Miami, who was also undefeated at 9-0-1, in the 17th Orange Bowl.

After a scoreless first quarter, Clemson got on track with a 45-yard pass from Billy Hair to Bob Hudson that put the Tigers at the Miami one. Fred Cone capped the 76-yard drive on third down with a sweep for the score and Radcliff tacked on the extra point.

Clemson mounted a six-play, 70-yard drive in the third quarter for its second touchdown. Hair threw a 31-yard pass to Ray Mathews, who, as the papers said, "made a circus catch with two men on his back," to move the Tigers to the Miami 28. Hair tossed a pass to Glenn Smith at the Miami seven and Smith scrambled in for the score. Radcliff's extra point try was blocked.

Miami caught fire two minutes later when Jack Delbello intercepted a pass in the Clemson end zone and returned it to the 40, and then a 10-yard penalty was assessed the Tigers for unnecessary roughness. On the next play, Frank Smith ran a reverse for 45 yards to move to the Clemson five. Harry Mallios took a pitch from quarterback Bob Schneidenbach in for the score and Gordon Watson added the conversion.

Stars of the Game

Sterling Smith made what is believed to be the most famous defensive play in Clemson history when he tackled Miami's Frank Smith for a safety with just a few minutes remaining.

Don Wade was another defensive demon for Clemson as he had two interceptions, including the final Miami play of the game that iced Clemson's third straight bowl victory.

second score. Ed Lutes caught a pass at midfield and rambled down to the Clemson 17 before he was stopped. On fourth down, Jack Hackett threw to Frank Smith for the score and Watson's point put Miami in the lead for the first time, 14-13.

Mallios' 80-yard punt return was called back and two clipping infractions and one unnecessary roughness penalty put Miami in a deep hole with six minutes left in the game. Frank Smith took a pitch-out from Hackett, but before Smith could get out of the end zone, Sterling Smith, a second-team defensive guard for Clemson, tripped him up for a safety, and Clemson led 15-14. Don Wade ended the last Miami threat with an interception, his second of the game, and Clemson ran out the clock for the win.

Sterling Smith's tackle of Miami's Frank Smith made Frank Howard a winner in his third straight bowl victory.

1952 Gator Bowl

Clemson won the first three games of the 1951 season as well as the last four. In between, however, the Tigers dropped games to Pacific and South Carolina on the road. The Gator Bowl Committee invited Clemson with its 7-2 record to play Miami (FL) in a rematch of the 1951 Orange Bowl, but the Southern Conference had decided to ban its teams from any bowl competition that season. Clemson and Maryland accepted bowl bids anyway, and were prohibited from playing any other conference team except each other the next year.

The Tigers opened the game with a bang as Billy Hair took Elmer Tremont's kickoff and returned it 72 yards to the Miami 26, but Clemson could only make six yards in four downs and the Tigers turned the ball over.

After an exchange of punts, Miami mounted an 82-yard drive to score the game's first touchdown. The drive was highlighted by quarterback Jack Hackett's only two passes of the game - a 15-yarder to Frank McDonald and a 40-yard throw to Ed Lutes. Two plays later, fullback Harry Mallios took the pitch and ran 11 yards for the score. Tremont added the extra point and Miami led, 7-0.

Miami defensive back Jim Dooley intercepted the first of four passes to kill the Clemson drive at the Miami 15. Clemson got the ball back after a punt, but on fourth down, defensive end Leo Martin blocked Hair's punt at the Clemson 32. Mallios

Billy Hair had 72 yards in kickoff returns, 88 yards passing, and 35 yards rushing, but it was not enough against the Hurricanes, who won behind four interceptions by Jim Dooley, still a Clemson opponent record.

Tom Barton and Don Wade were standouts for the Clemson defense that limited Miami to but five first downs and 174 yards of total offense.

converted twice on fourth down to keep the drive going, and he scored from two yards out. Tremont converted again and Miami had all the points it needed.

The Clemson defense turned stingy in the second half, as the Tigers did not allow Miami to penetrate their 35 and the Hurricanes did not gain another first down. The Clemson offense moved well, but a fumble at the Miami 18 and three Dooley interceptions inside the 20 kept Clemson off the scoreboard as Miami handed the Tigers their first bowl loss in four tries.

1957 Orange Bowl

Clemson claimed its first Atlantic Coast Conference championship in 1956 on the strength of a 4-0-1 league mark. The Tigers were 7-1-2 overall and were a surprise choice to participate in the 22nd Orange Bowl, as only three weeks before their selection, the Tigers had been shut out by Miami, 21-0, in the same stadium. Colorado, which was 7-2-1 and the Big-Seven runnerup, was chosen as Clemson's opponent.

After a scoreless first quarter, Colorado got on track with a seven-play, 75-yard drive. The Buffaloes' catalyst was a 26-yard run by Bob Stransky that moved the ball to the Clemson 23. Four plays later, John "The Beast" Bayuk scored from the two. Ellwin Indorf added the point after.

Stransky intercepted an errant Charlie Bussey pass at the Clemson 46 and returned it to the 10 to spark Colorado's second score. Boyd Dowler, who later starred with the Packers, scored from six yards out two plays later. Howard Cook added the conversion and Colorado led 14-0.

Colorado's Frank Clarke partially blocked Horace Turbeville's punt on the next Clemson drive and the Buffaloes recovered on the Clemson 26. Cook then went wide right and scored on the next play, but he missed the extra point.

Clemson came out of the locker room and marched 69 yards in 15 plays to score on Joel Wells's three-yard run. Bussey's

After a Colorado punt, Clemson moved to the 29 on Bob Spooner's two runs. Three plays later, Wells ran 58 yards on a counter trap off the belly series for the Tigers' second score. Bussey's point after made the score 20-14 Colorado.

Clemson recovered the ensuing onside kick, but the Tigers were forced to punt four plays later. Colorado then fumbled at its 11 and Tommy Sease recovered for the Tigers at the 10. Spooner, who had been the workhorse on the first scoring drive, carried the ball over from the one, and with Bussey's third extra point, Clemson led for the first time at 21-20, with 11:22 to go.

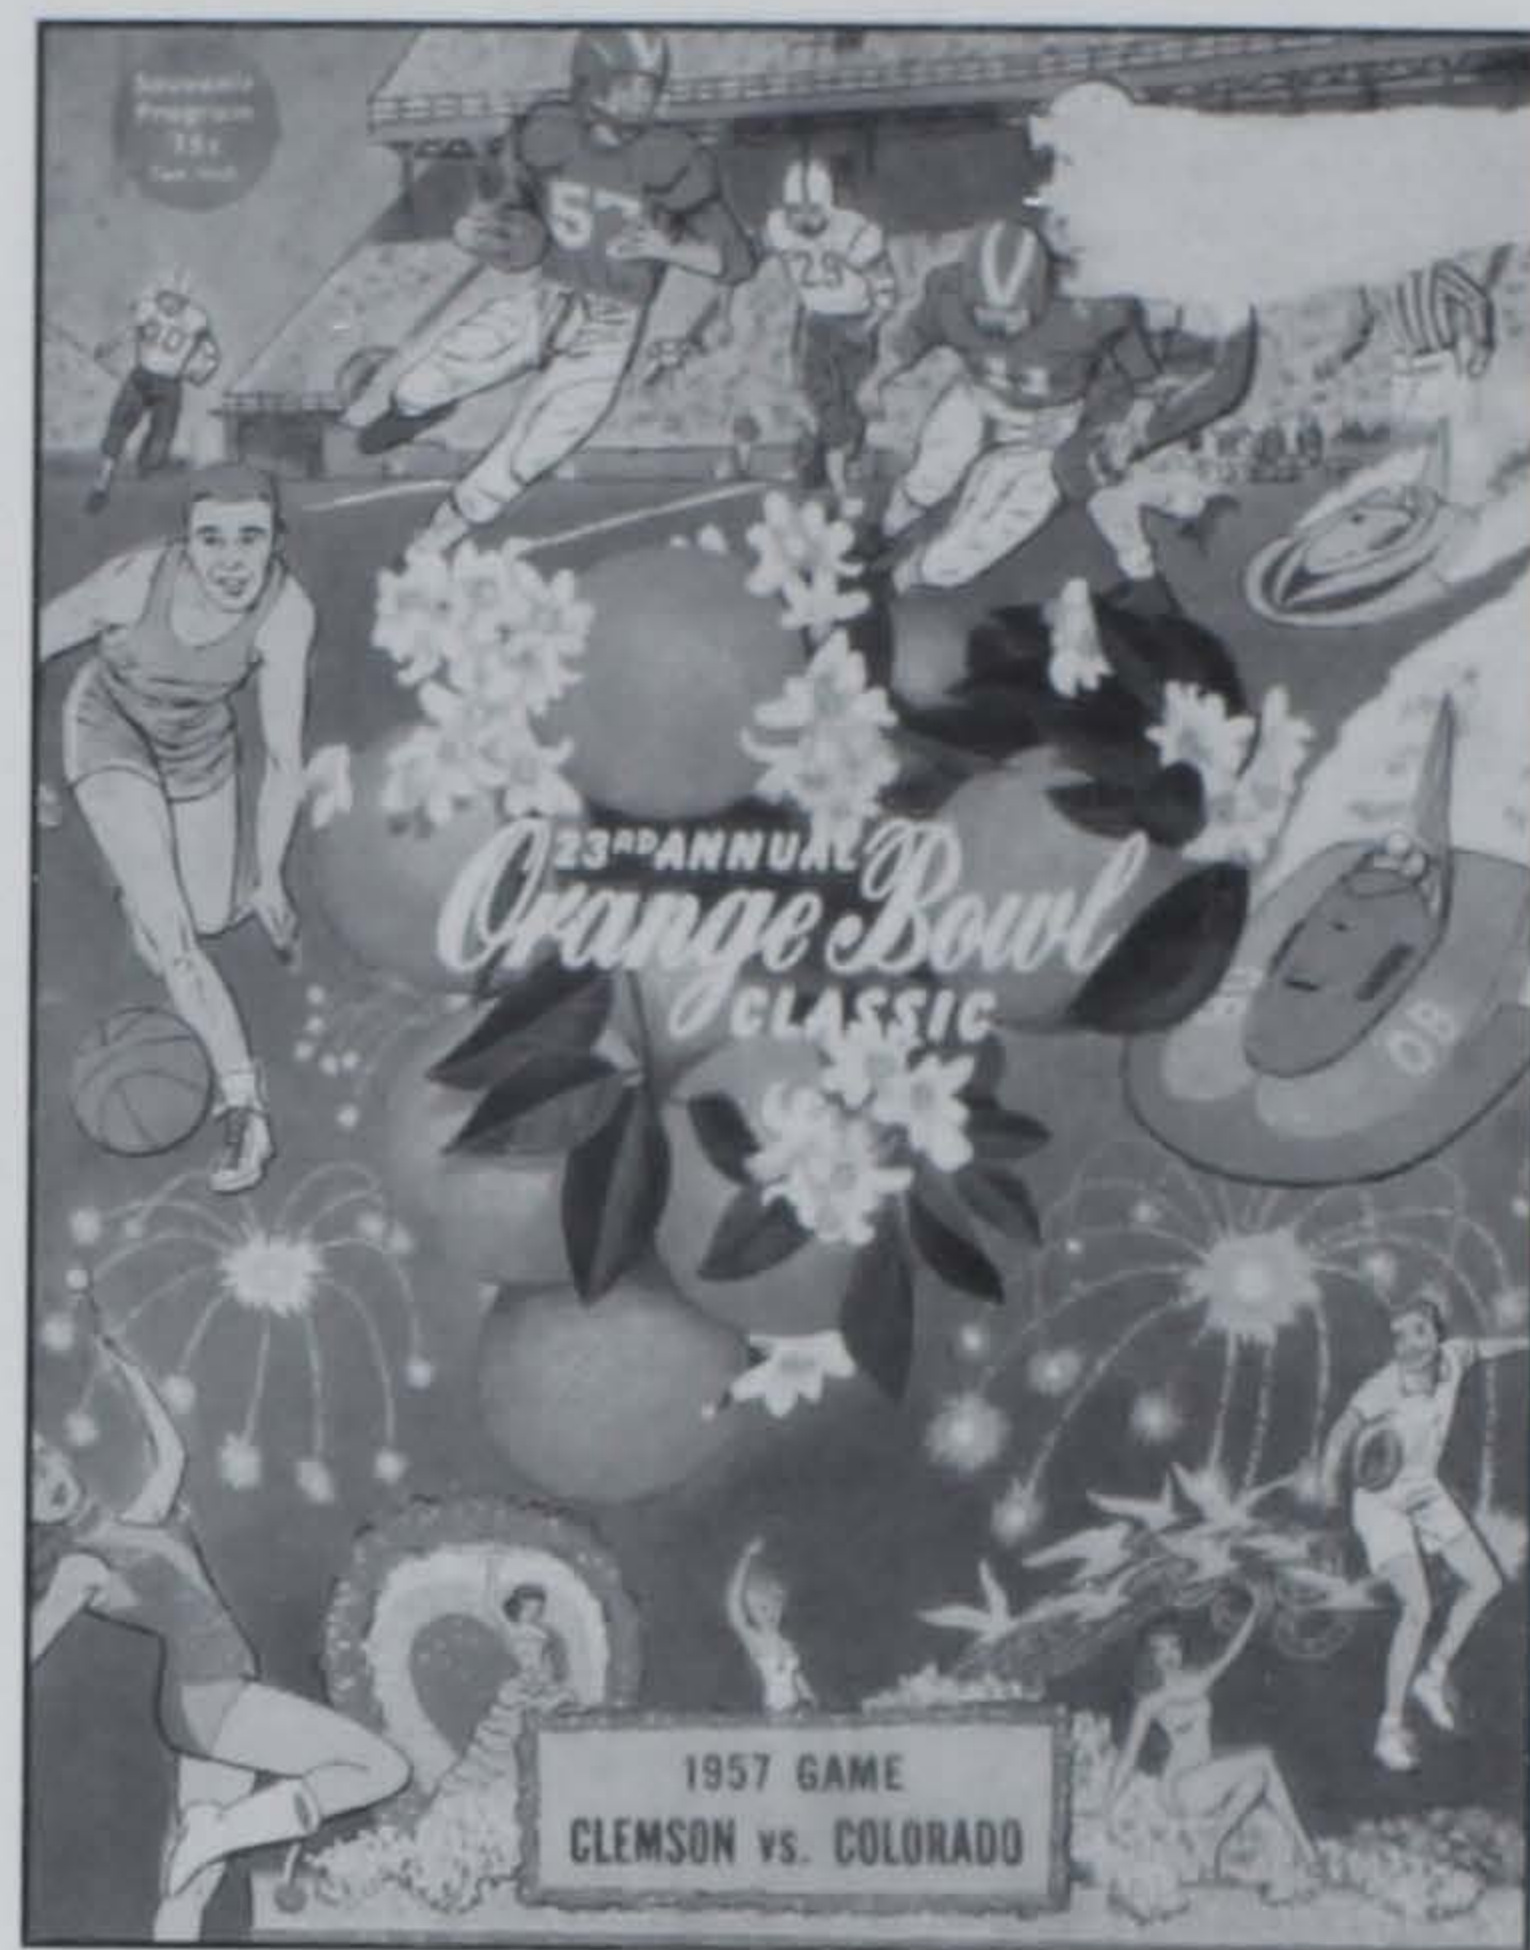

Although leading, Bussey attempted a second onside kick. Colorado recovered and marched 53 yards in eight plays to go ahead for good on Bayuk's one-yard plunge. Indorf kicked the extra point and the Buffaloes led, 27-21. The two teams traded turnovers, and Colorado ran out the clock.

Frank Howard's threatened resignation during intermission inspired Clemson's comeback in the second half.

"I told them I was going to resign if they didn't play better in the second half. I told them I didn't want to be associated with any team that played like they did in the first half."

When Howard met Dal Ward, Colorado's Head Coach, at midfield, Ward asked him what was the matter with his team. Howard replied "I just don't know."

Later Howard explained that the Tigers just refused to block in the first half, but in the second half they got down to business. He had words of praise for John Bayuk, Colorado's big fullback, and said he was as good as any fullback that Clemson had faced all year.

1959 Sugar Bowl

South Carolina, who had been shut out by Clemson the previous two years, scored 20 second half points to take a 26-6 win over Frank Howard's 1958 team. The only other blemish on the ACC Champions' 8-2 regular season record was a 13-0 loss at Georgia Tech. For their efforts, the Tigers were invited to play the nation's number-one team, Louisiana State, in the 25th Sugar Bowl.

LSU drove deep into Clemson territory three times in the first half, but two fumbles and a thwarted fake field goal killed the drives. Clemson could do no better, though, as none of its first six drives went past midfield.

Clemson moved to the LSU 27 on its first drive of the second half, but a fumble gave the ball back to the other set of Tigers. On Clemson's next possession, however, LSU got the break it had been looking for. On fourth down, the ball slipped out of snapper Paul Snyder's hands and hit up-man Doug Cline in the leg and Duane Leopard recovered for LSU at the Clemson 11.

LSU picked up two yards on its first three tries, but on fourth down halfback Billy Cannon hit tight end Mickey Mangham in the corner of the end zone for the only score of the game. Cannon kicked the extra point and LSU led 7-0.

Clemson had one last chance late in the fourth quarter. The Tigers started at their 17 and 17 plays later were on the LSU 28, but Harvey White's fourth-down pass to George Usry was incomplete. LSU took over on downs and ran out the clock.

George Usry had eight tackles, including five unassisted, to pace the Clemson defense that limited the 1958 National Champions to 182 yards and just seven points.

In his usual relaxed way, Coach Frank Howard of Clemson said he was pleased with his team.

"Hell! I think we'd have beat them if that boy had held onto that little screen pass," Howard said. "I was going for those two points and beat them."

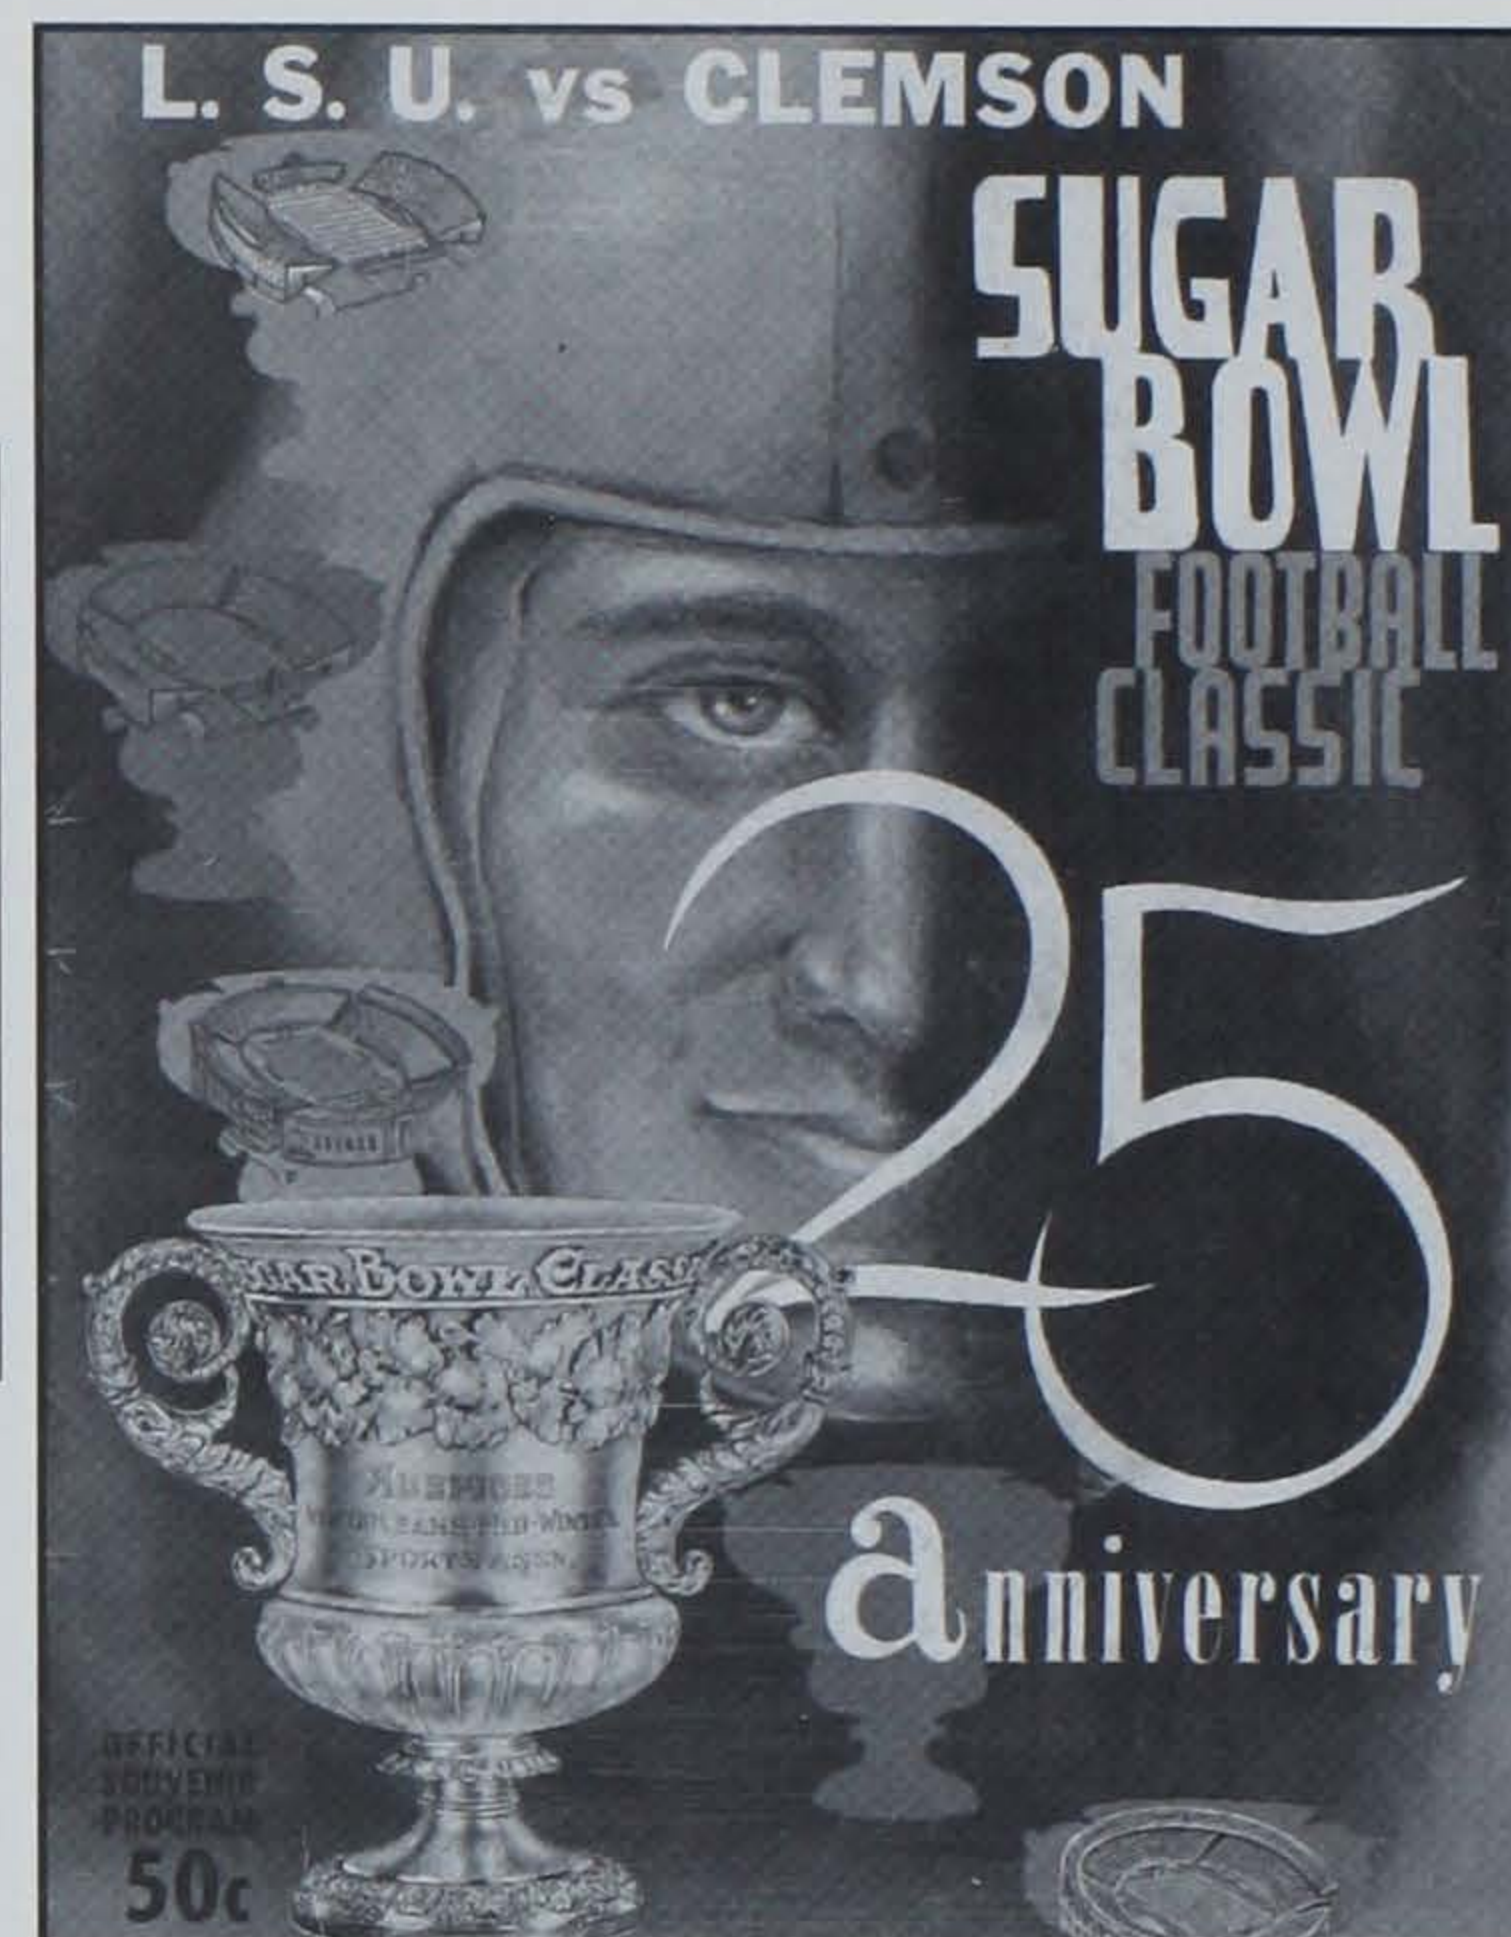

"I didn't think we would hold them to one touchdown, but I didn't think they would shut us out, either."

"LSU has a good team, they rate the No. 1 spot in the nation.

"Cannon is quite a boy. Deserves his All-American rating."

"It was a wonderful victory. They're just as fine when you win 'em, 7-0 as 30-0. I'm very happy that we won," said LSU Coach Paul Dietzel, who won the national championship at age 34.

"Clemson proved tougher than most people figured. But we knew we would have to play at our top peak to beat them. They were a good team."

1959 Bluebonnet Bowl

The 1959 season was one of firsts, lasts, and other milestones. Clemson won the last "Big Thursday" game with archrival South Carolina, 27-0, one of five opponents the Tigers would whitewash, the second-highest shutout total in a Clemson season. The 9-2 team was Clemson's third ACC Championship unit, and Frank Howard's last bowl team. After the season-ending win over Furman, Clemson was invited to play Texas Christian in the inaugural Bluebonnet Bowl, which would be the Tigers' second post-season appearance in the calendar year of 1959. The 23-7 win over the Horned Frogs was Clemson's 300th football victory.

Alternate quarterback Lowndes Shingler guided Clemson on a 12-play, 63-yard drive to the TCU five, but the Tigers stalled. Lon Armstrong hit on a 22-yard field goal as the second quarter started, to put Clemson up, 3-0.

Not to be outdone, TCU second-stringer Donald George moved his team on a 12-play, 63-yard drive to the Clemson end zone. The Horned Frogs scored the go-ahead touchdown on a 19-yard halfback pass from Jack Reding to Harry Moreland.

Neither team scored in the third quarter, but Clemson did drive to the TCU 29 midway through the period. Harvey White's fourth-down pass to George Usry was just one yard short of the needed first down and TCU took over.

minutes and scored two touchdowns for a comfortable lead. With a third-and-18 situation at the Clemson 32, White threw to end Gary Barnes who caught the ball at midfield and sprinted in for a score. After an interception, Shingler threw to Tommy King coming across the middle for a 23-yard touchdown, but Shingler's point after was wide, and Clemson led, 16-7.

Clemson returned to its running game for its final scoring drive late in the quarter. Shingler, Doug Daigneault, and Ron Scrudato moved the Tigers from their 37 to the TCU one and Scrudato ran off right tackle for the score. Armstrong's kick put the game out of TCU's reach and it capped a 20-point fourth quarter for the Tigers.

1977 Gator Bowl

Clemson resurfaced in the national spotlight in 1977 after winning eight games and making its first bowl appearance in 18 years. First-year coach Charley Pell guided his team to a 7-6 win at Georgia, a near-upset of eventual National Champion Notre Dame at home, and had come within an extra point of claiming the ACC Championship. After Jerry Butler's twisting, diving catch in the end zone beat South Carolina, Clemson accepted the invitation to play defending National Champion Pittsburgh in the 33rd annual Gator Bowl.

Clemson won the opening coin toss, but that was to be the only thing the Tigers would win that night as the Matt Cavanaugh-led Panthers scored six of the 12 times they had the ball, set seven Gator Bowl records, and handed the Tigers one of their 25 worst defeats in history with a 34-3 score.

Cavanaugh threw four touchdown passes (three to fullback Elliott Walker), passed for a Clemson opponent record 387 yards and accounted for 402 yards in total offense. Pitt set a Gator Bowl team record for passing yards and first downs, while Cavanaugh set the individual mark for passing yardage. If that was not enough, the Pitt defense stymied the Clemson offense all night by keeping Steve Fuller & Company bottled up or causing turnovers when the Tigers' offense did get on track.

Pitt was leading 17-0 when the Tigers began their only scoring drive early in the second quarter. Fuller mixed passes to Anthony King and Butler with runs by Ken Callicutt to move to the Pitt 32. The drive bogged down and Obed Ariri hit on a 49-yard field goal which set the Gator Bowl record for distance.

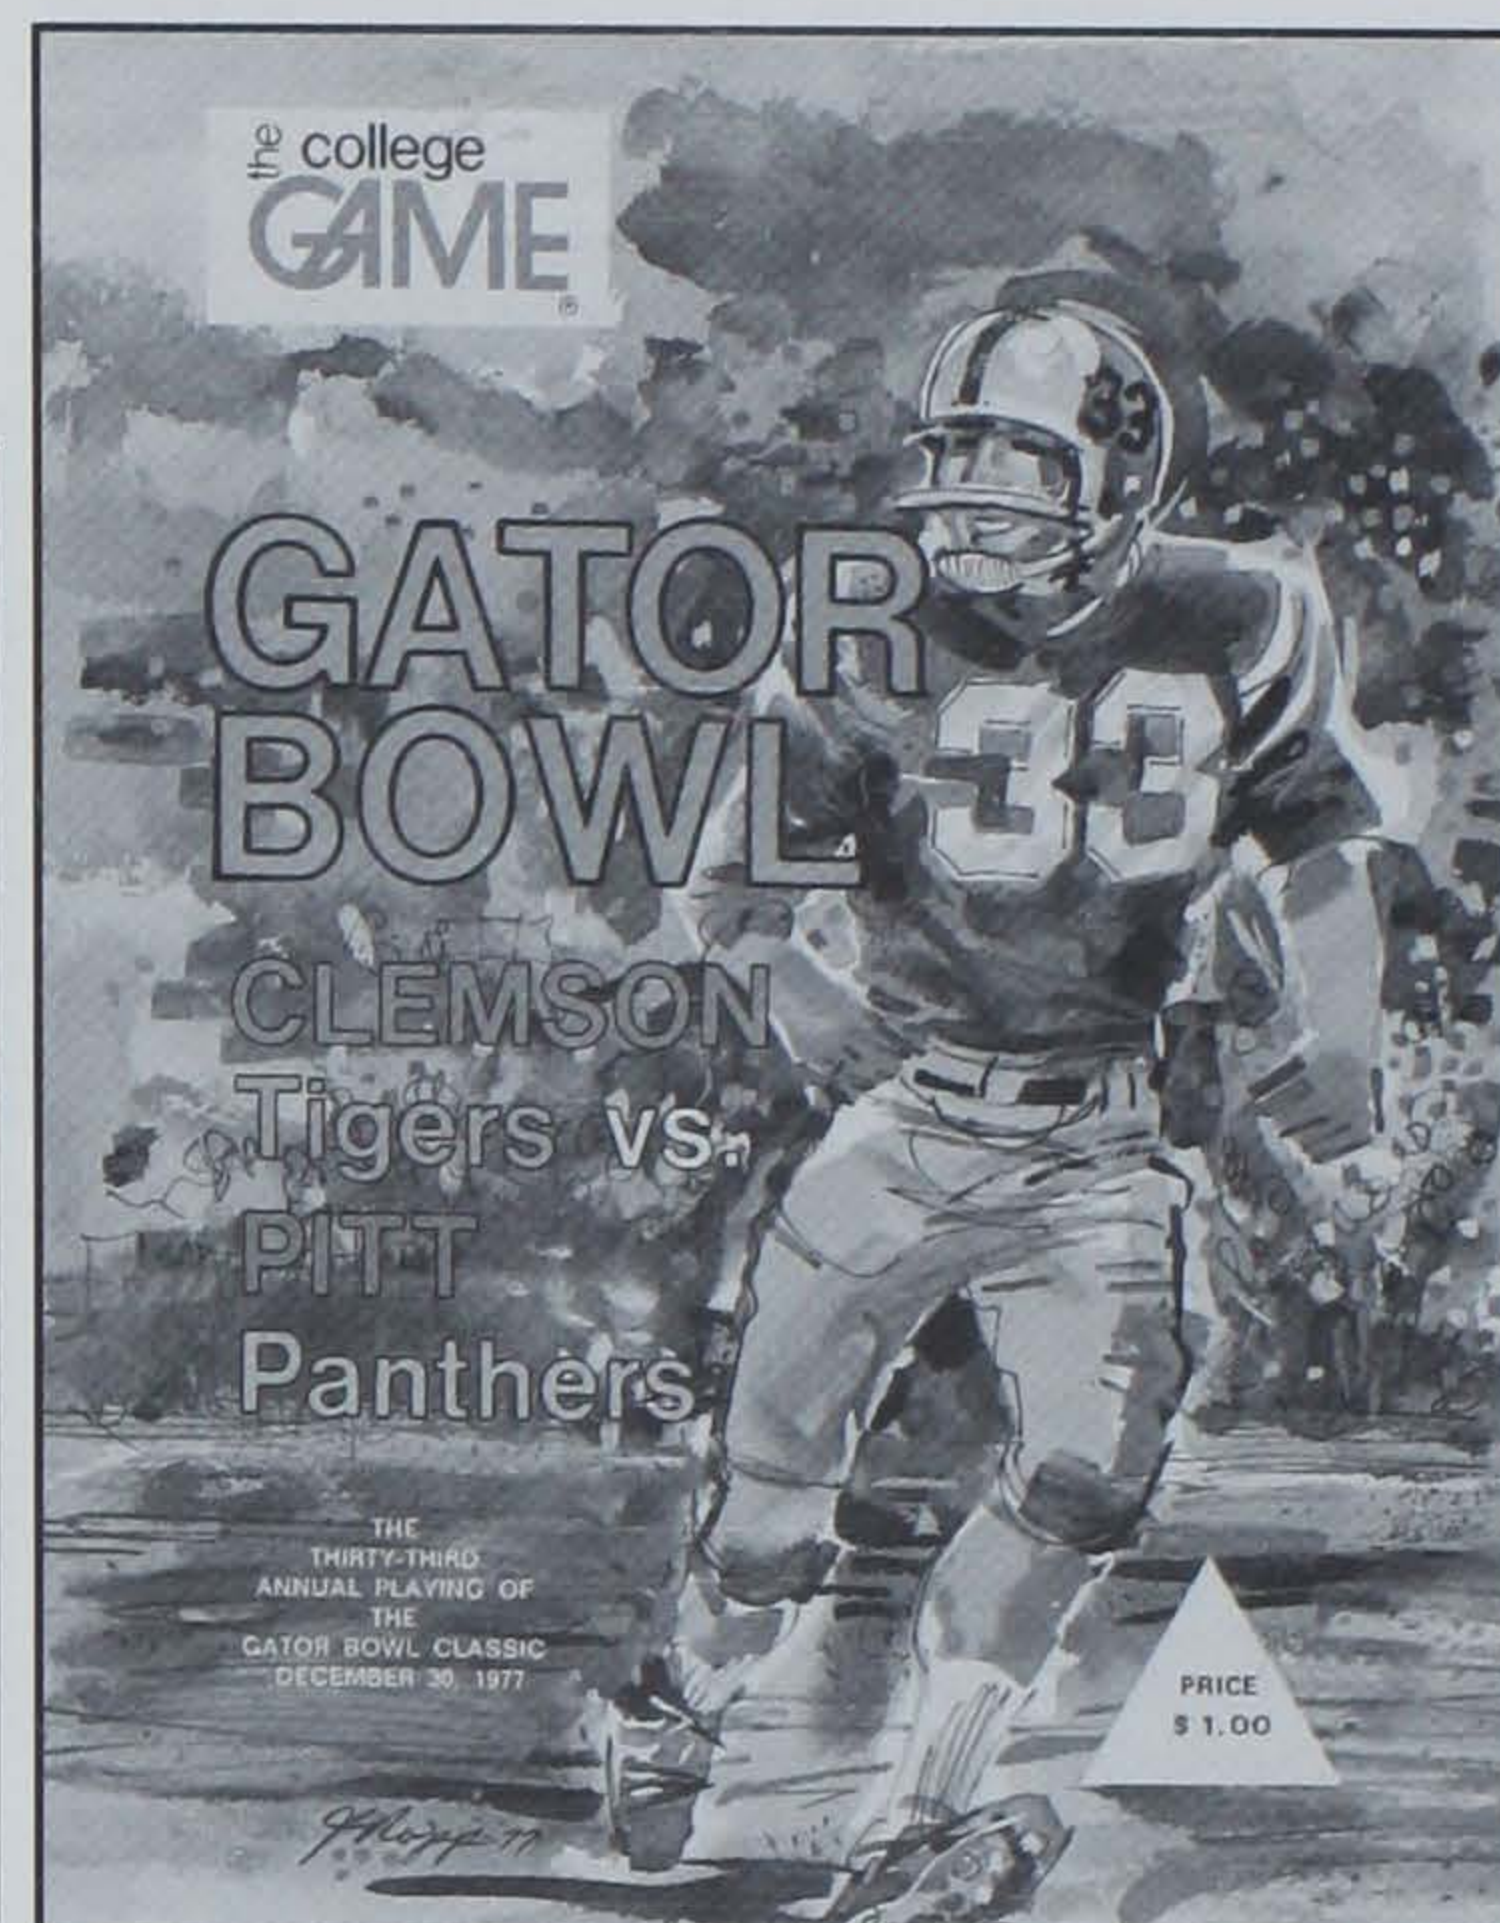

Although the Tigers were out-classed by Pittsburgh, the 1977 appearance in the Gator Bowl was the start of a new era of football pride for Clemson.

1978 Gator Bowl

The Clemson team of 1978 was notable for many reasons, and not the least of which was a 17-15 victory over Ohio State in the Gator Bowl. The '78 team won 11 games (eight by convincing margins), had the nation's longest winning streak after the bowl game, changed head coaches 19 days before the Gator Bowl, and ended the coaching career of Woody Hayes.

The first quarter of new Clemson coach Danny Ford's first game was scoreless, although Ohio State had been stopped at the Clemson one-yard line on a fourth-down play.

The second quarter was unusual in that there were four possessions in the stanza and each team scored twice. Ohio State drove to the Clemson nine on the passing of Art Schlichter, but the Buckeyes had to settle for Bob Atha's 27-yard field goal.

Clemson quarterback Steve Fuller engineered an impressive 80-yard, 15-play drive after the kickoff. Staying mostly on the ground, Fuller himself ran around left end from four yards out to give Clemson the lead. Obed Ariri's point after made the score 7-3.

Schlichter duplicated Fuller's feat nine plays later, but Clemson right end Steve Gibbs blocked Vlade Janakiewski's extra point try, leaving Ohio State in the lead, 9-7.

Clemson got the ball back with 1:15 remaining in the quarter and Fuller passed his way to the Buckeye 30. With only five seconds left, Ariri hit a 47-yard field goal that gave the Tigers a 10-9 lead at halftime.

Clemson scored the only points of the third quarter as the running combination of Fuller, Marvin Sims, and Warren Ratchford ground out 83 yards in 18 plays. Cliff Austin went the final yard for the score, and Ariri's conversion gave Clemson a 17-9 cushion.

With 8:11 left in the game, Schlichter scored his second touchdown to bring Ohio State within two points. Jim Stuckey tackled Schlichter on a sweep to prevent the two-point play, and Clemson still led at 17-

Ohio State mounted one final drive. Faced with third-and-five at the Clemson 24, an interception by second-team middle guard Charlie Bauman (the only theft of his four-year career) killed the drive. Bauman was run out-of-bounds on the Ohio State sideline, and Buckeye coach Woody Hayes swung at the Clemson player. Consecutive unsportsmanlike conduct penalties gave Clemson excellent field position, and Fuller was able to run out the clock, giving Clemson its first win over a Big Ten team.

Bubba Brown had 22 tackles against Ohio State, still the second highest single game figure in Clemson history.

1979 Peach Bowl

Clemson made its third consecutive bowl appearance in 1979 after an 8-3 season. The year included a 19-10 win over Gator Bowl-bound North Carolina and a dramatic, come-from-behind 16-10 victory at Notre Dame. The 1979 season was also Danny Ford's first full campaign as head coach.

The Tigers got on the board first with an eight-play, 66-yard drive highlighted by Billy Lott's 27-yard pass to Lester Brown. Brown scored two plays later on a one-yard dive over the middle and Obed Ariri's point after made the score 7-0 midway through the first period.

Baylor took the lead on two second-quarter touchdown passes from Mike Brannon to Bo Taylor and Robert Holt. Robert Bledsoe converted after both scores and the Southwest Conference representatives led 14-7 at intermission.

Clemson took the second half kickoff and a combination of runs by Lott, Brown, and Tracy Perry took the Tigers to the Baylor 22. The drive stalled there and Ariri's 40-yard field goal narrowed the margin to 14-10.

Quarterback Mickey Elam led Baylor on a 64-yard field goal drive after the kickoff, and he later threw a seven-yard touch-

Mike Singletary (future All-Pro with the Chicago Bears), led the Baylor defense with 20 tackles. He was a major reason Clemson gained a season low 67 yards rushing in 51 attempts.

Andy Headen began Clemson's furious comeback with a blocked punt that was recovered by James Robinson at the Headen recovered the ensuing onside kick, and Lott completed a 30-yard pass to Perry Tuttle to move the Tigers to the Baylor 33. An interception killed the winning touchdown drive, however, and Baylor ran out the remaining seconds for the win.

1982 Orange Bowl

After 86 years of playing football, Clemson claimed its first National Championship with a 22-15 win over perennial Big Eight power Nebraska in the 48th Orange Bowl. After a 13-3 win over 1980 National Champion Georgia at home, the Tigers worked their way to the number-one ranking in both wire service polls by season's end. The win over the Cornhuskers gave Clemson the national title and its third perfect season in history.

Nebraska took the kickoff, but three plays later, Tiger middle guard William Devane recovered a Mark Mauer fumble at the Nebraska 33. Quarterback Homer Jordan drove Clemson to the Nebraska 24 before the drive stalled, and Donald Igwebuike drilled a 41-yard field goal to put the ACC Champions up, 3-0.

Nebraska came right back, however, as the Big Eight title holder drove 69 yards in eight plays to score on a 25-yard half-back pass from Mike Rozier to Anthony Steels. Kevin Seibel's extra point gave Nebraska the lead at 7-3 with 6:43 to go in the first quarter.

After an exchange of punts, the Clemson offense moved from the Nebraska 42 to the 21 to set up Igwebuike's second field goal. The 37-yard boot narrowed the score to 7-6.

A second-quarter Phil Bates fumble gave Clemson the ball at the Nebraska 27, and the running combination of Jordan, Kevin Mack, and Cliff Austin moved the ball to the Cornhusker two. Austin, who had been stuck in the hotel elevator for two hours earlier in the day, scampered in for the score that gave Clemson a lead it would not relinquish.

On its second possession of the second half, Clemson drove 75 yards in 12 plays to score its final touchdown of the night, a 13-yard pass from Jordan to All-American receiver Perry Tuttle in the corner of the end zone. For Tuttle, it was his eighth touchdown grab of the season, which set a school record. Bob Paulling's extra point put the Tigers ahead, 19-7.

After Billy Davis's 47-yard punt return, Jordan moved the Tigers to the Nebraska 20, where Igwebuike kicked a 36-yard field goal, his third of the evening, to put Clemson ahead 22-7 with two-and-a-half minutes left in the third stanza.

Nebraska was down but not out, though. After a near-interception by Johnny Rembert, Mauer engineered an eight-play, 69-yard drive that was capped by a 26-yard run by Roger Craig. After a penalty, Craig ran in the two-point conversion from eight yards out to close the gap to 22-15 with nine minutes to play.

The Clemson defense shut down the Big Red on their final extended drive, then Jeff Davis won defensive MVP honors for his 14 tackles and one fumble recovery. He was a major reason a Nebraska offense that featured future Heisman Award winner Mike Rozier and future NFL All-Pro Roger Craig, gained just 256 yards of total offense.

Homer Jordan won offensive MVP honors as he threw for 134 yards and was Clemson's second leading rusher with 46 yards. His running on Clemson's last possession allowed the Tigers to ice the game.

the offense held on to the ball for nearly five-and-a-half minutes to run down the clock to six seconds. Andy Headen deflected Mauer's desperation pass to preserve the win and the championship for Clemson.

Jordan passed for a score and gained 180 yards total offense in the national championship win over Nebraska

1985 Independence Bowl

Clemson met a Big 10 school for only the second time in history when it faced Minnesota in the Independence Bowl. It was an interesting matchup of teams that enjoyed moving the ball on the ground, as both clubs gained over 200 rushing yards in the contest. The team with the higher rushing total prevailed, a fact that was easily predictable, as the Gophers churned out 257 yards rushing in a 20-13 Minnesota win.

Clemson held a 13-10 lead heading into the fourth quarter, but for the fifth time in the last 13 games the Tigers could not hold the fourth-period lead. Valdez Baylor scored on a one-yard run with 4:56 left to give Minnesota a final ledger of 7-5. Clemson mounted a final drive in the last few minutes and advanced to the Minnesota 31, but a fourth-down pass for Ray Williams was overthrown.

Kenny Flowers had another outstanding day for the Tigers with a career high 148 yards, including a 32-yard run. It was his seventh 100-yard day of the year, his sixth century game in the last seven contests. Ray Williams caught five passes for 58 yards, while Terrance Roulhac had 63 yards in receptions and 90 yards in kickoff returns. Another wide receiver, Keith Jennings, scored Clemson's only touchdown when he caught a three-yard pass from Stacey Driver in the third period.

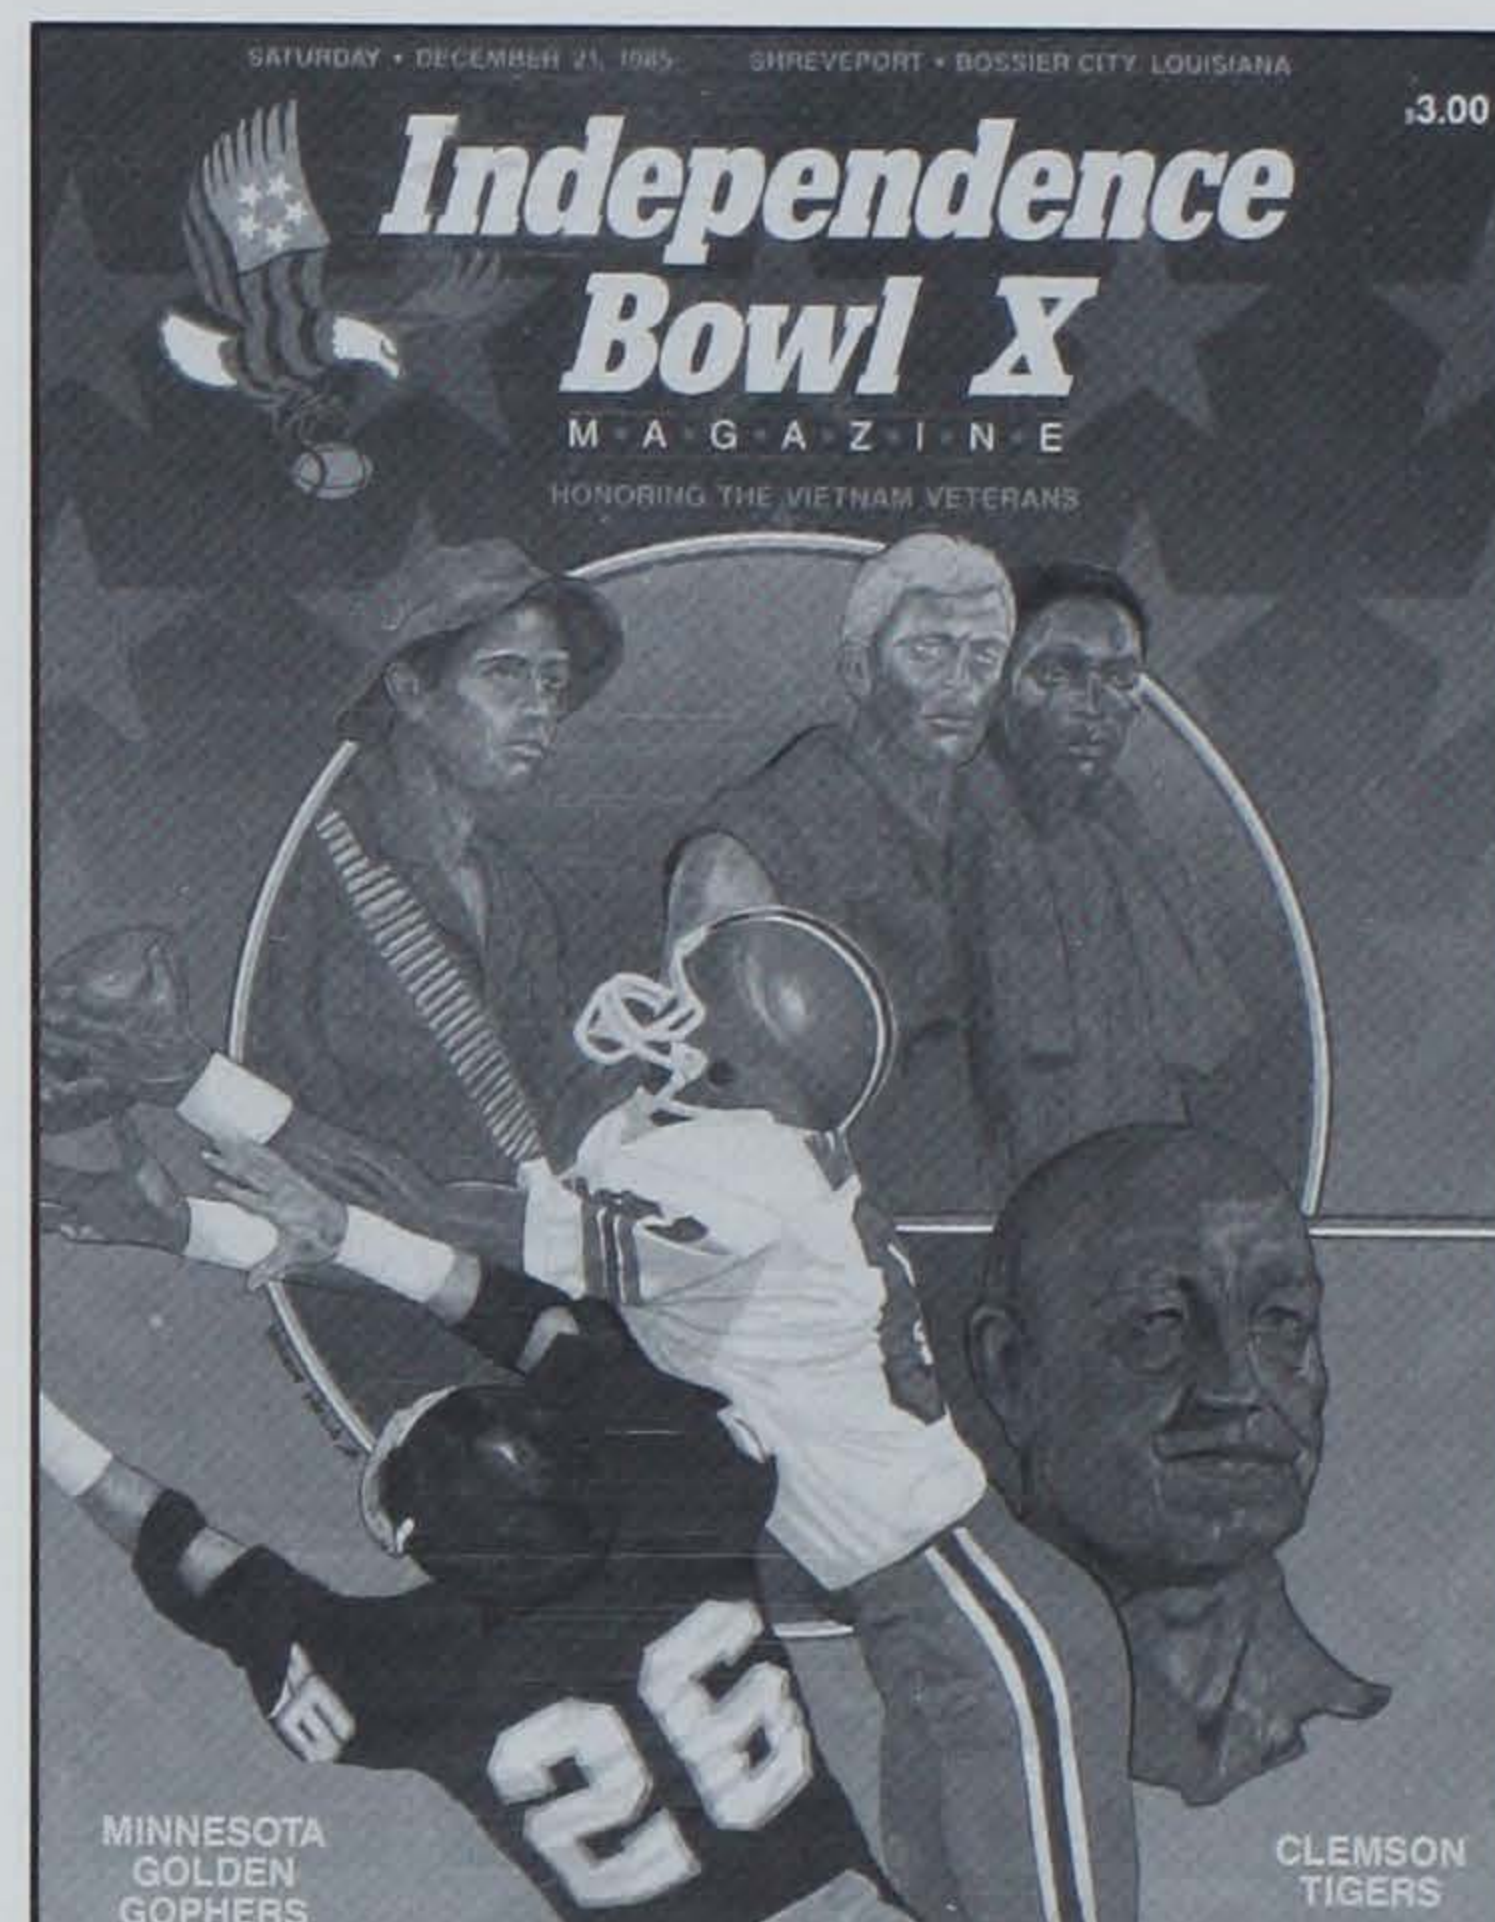

Henry Walls led Clemson defensively with 13 tackles, while A.J. Johnson was outstanding in the secondary with seven stops. Dwayne Meadows established a career high with 13 stops from his defensive line position.

Christmas came two days late for the Tigers as they won their first bowl since the 1982 Orange Bowl. After a brilliant first half display of offense and defense, Clemson managed to hold off a second-half Stanford rally and go on to defeat the 17th-ranked Cardinal, 27-21. Before a Gator Bowl crowd of 80,104, the Tigers scored 27 unanswered points in the first half and appeared to be on the way to a rout. But the second half was a different ball game as Stanford came out strong and put up 21 unanswered points of its own.

Gator Bowl MVP Rodney Williams completed 8 of 11 passes in the first half for the Tigers, but it was his execution of the option that helped Clemson gain a 27-0 halftime lead. After punting on their first possession, the Tigers scored on their next five. With the score 17-0 in the second quarter, Reggie Harris knocked the ball loose on a Stanford kickoff return and the Tigers recovered on Stanford's 16-yard line. Two plays later, Ray Williams took a reverse in for a 14 yard touchdown, his first of the season. David Treadwell added his longest field goal of the year on Clemson's next possession, putting the Tigers up 27-0 at the intermission.

But the Cardinal came back from half-time a different team. Kodak All-American tailback Brad Muster rushed for a touchdown and caught two scoring passes while the Clemson offense came to a standstill. With 1:43 left to play in the game Clemson was forced to punt to the Cardinal with only a touchdown's lead. But the Tiger defense rose to the occasion, as Stanford gained only six yards on the next four downs. The offense fell on the ball to run the clock out and the Tigers emerged victorious.

Tailbacks Terrence Flagler and Kenny Flowers combined for 149 yards. Sophomore Ricardo Hooper led the receiving corps with two catches for 44 yards. Terrance Roulhac and Flagler each had three catches with 22 and 23 yards, respectively. Rodney Williams rushed 16 times for 18 yards and one touchdown.

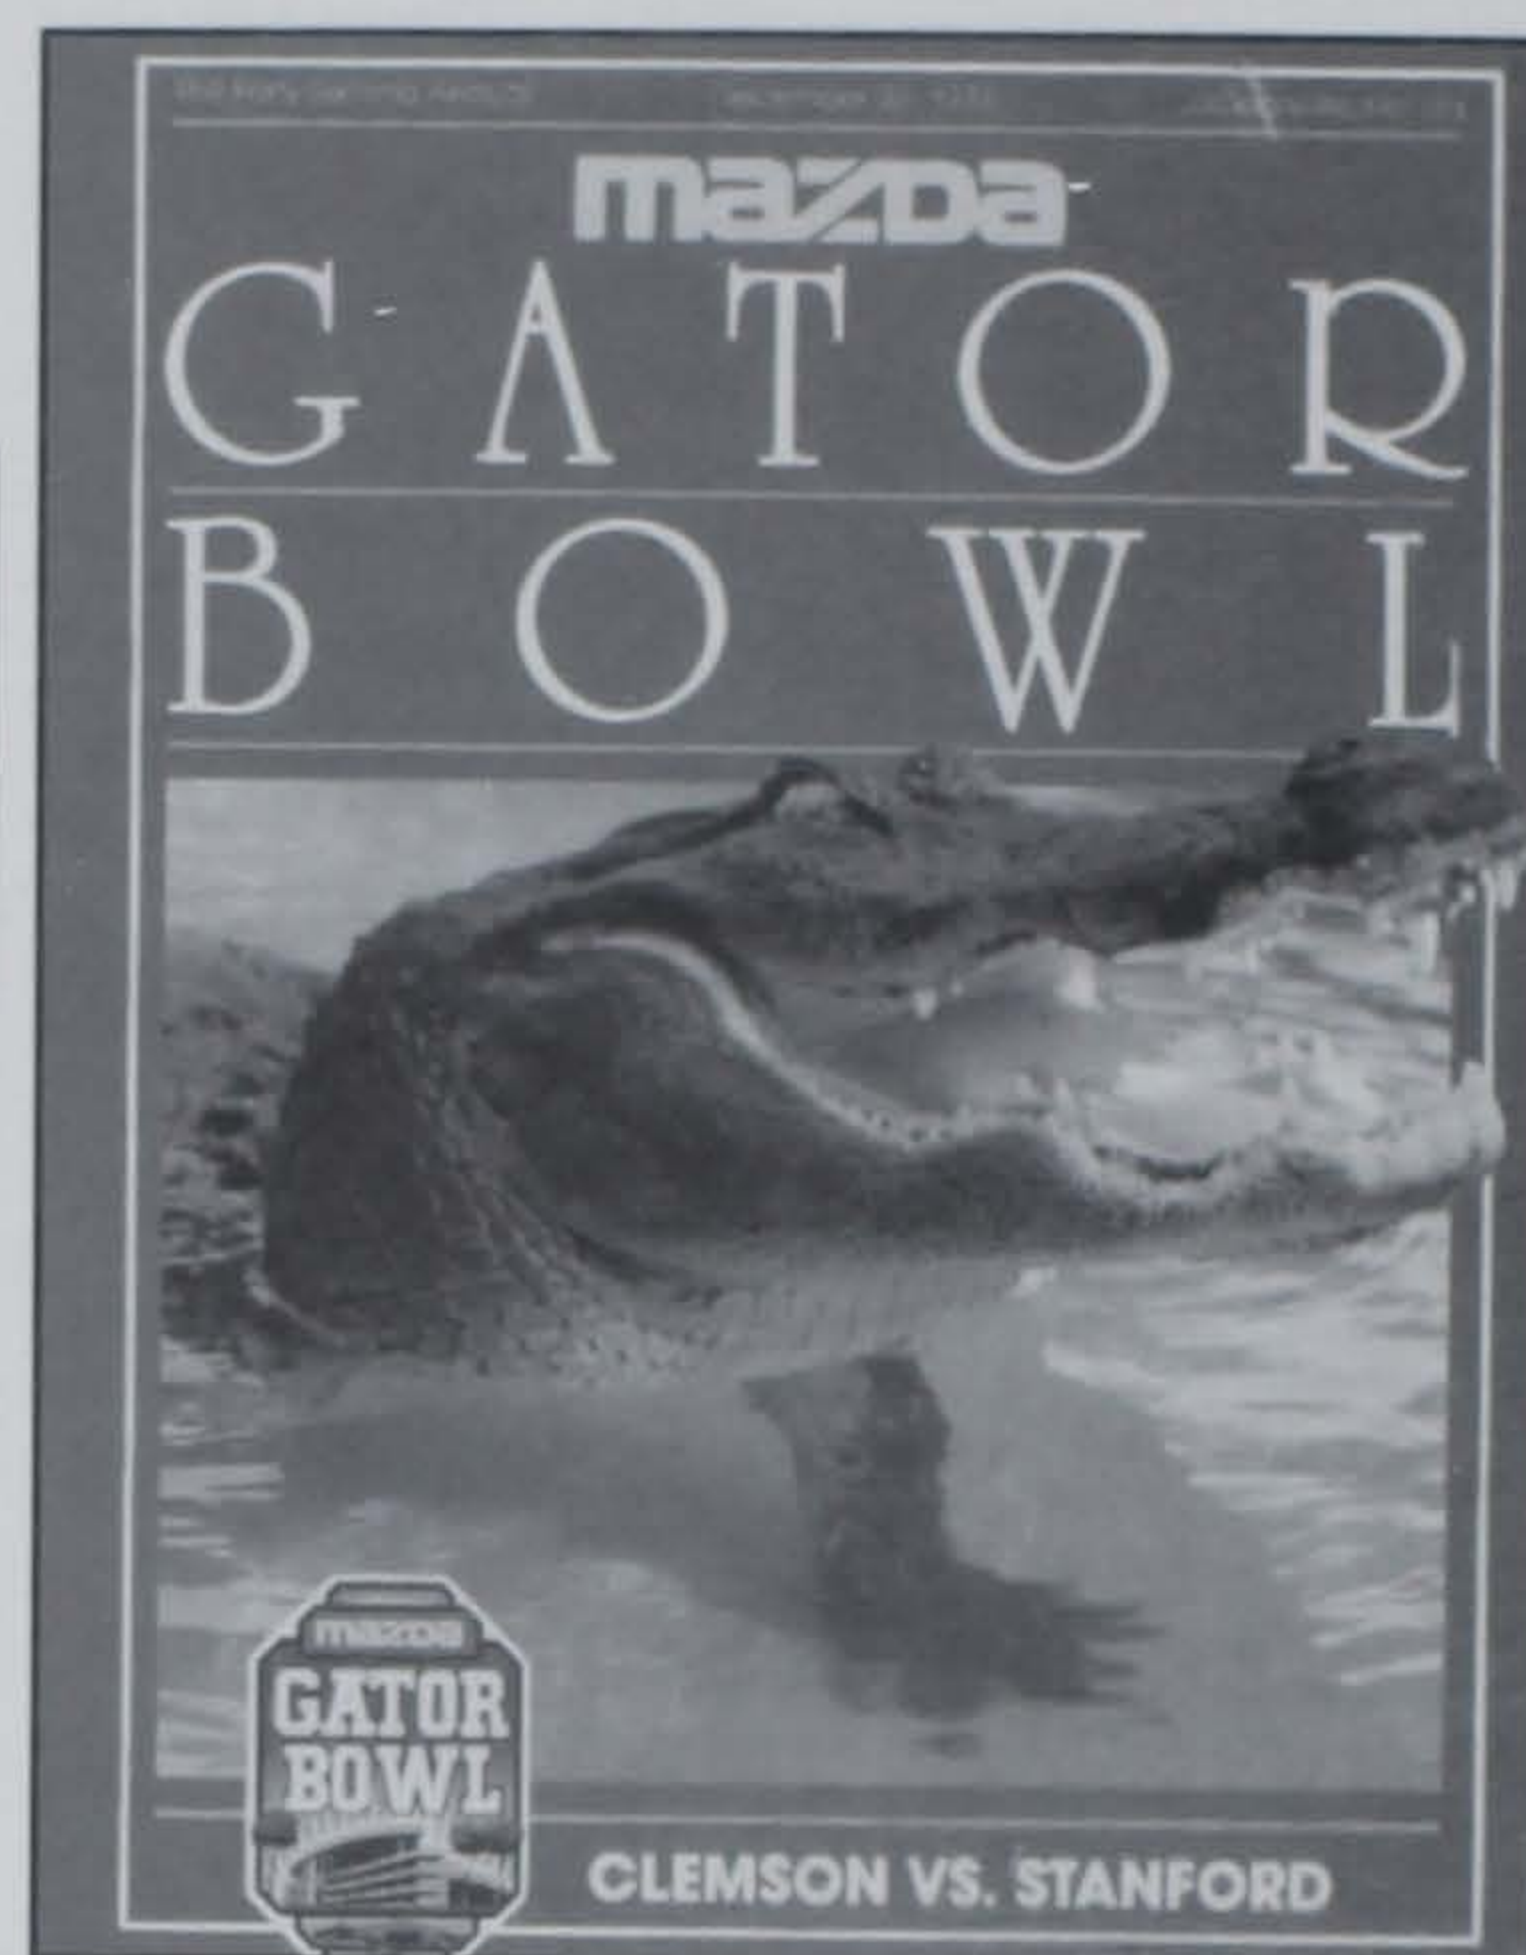

Defensively, the Tigers were led by linebacker Henry Carter who recorded a career high 13 tackles. Gene Beasley added seven tackles and broke up two passes. The game also marked Michael Dean Perry's offensive debut, as he was put in as a blocking back on a goal-line situation in the first half.

1988 Citrus Bowl

Everything went the Tigers way in sunny Florida as Clemson soundly defeated Joe Paterno's Penn State team, 35-10. Rodney Williams was selected the Citrus Bowl's Most Valuable Player as he led the Tigers in a brilliant air attack that took the Nittany Lions by complete surprise, and complemented it with a solid ground game.

The win was Danny Ford's fourth bowl victory in only nine seasons as Clemson's head coach. It also marked Rodney Williams' second bowl victory in his three-year playing career at Clemson and the second consecutive year that he was named the MVP of a postseason bowl. In 1986, Williams won the honor as the Tigers defeated Stanford in the Gator Bowl.

Williams, who was also named the Offensive Player-of-the-Game, completed 14 of 24 passes for 214 yards. His primary target was wide receiver Keith Jennings who hauled in seven passes for 110 yards, his best career performance. Gary Cooper also had four receptions for 56 yards against Penn State.

The Tigers rushed for 285 yards against Penn State. Terry Allen was the leading rusher with 105 yards and one touchdown. Fullback Tracy Johnson ran for 88 yards and three touchdowns. Joe Henderson added 54 yards and another touchdown.

For the second straight year, Rodney Williams was named the MVP of a bowl game. Against Joe Paterno's Penn State team, Williams connected on 15-24 passes for 214 yards. His passing was a key reason Clemson had nearly 500 yards total offense.

Dorian Mariable won defensive MVP honors. The sophomore had five tackles, a tackle-for-loss, and a 46-yard interception return from the Clemson endzone that broke the spirit of the Nittany Lions.

Defensively, Clemson was led by cornerback James Lott's eight tackles. Safety Richard Smith also had seven tackles and one pass broken up. Strong safety Gene Beasley and linebacker Doug Brewster both had six tackles. Linebacker Dorian Mariable was selected the Citrus Bowl's Defensive Player-of-the-Game with his five tackles, including one for a loss. He also intercepted a pass in the endzone and returned it 46 yards in the third quarter.

Tracy Johnson scored three TDs in Clemson's 35-10 win over Penn State, still the Lions worst bowl defeat in history.

1989 Citrus Bowl

The Tigers rang in the New Year in fine fashion with a 13-6 victory over the Oklahoma Sooners, moving into the top-10 of the final AP poll for the first time since 1982 with a ninth-place ranking. The victory also gave Danny Ford a victory over the winningest active coach in Division I, Barry Switzer. Ford defeated the top-three winningest active coaches this decade with wins over Switzer, Tom Osborne of Nebraska and Joe Paterno of Penn State.

Although the Tigers faced a wishbone offense for the first time since Ford became head coach, the Clemson defense came through with flying colors, holding the Sooners to only 116 yards, and zero touchdowns.

The first five series of the first quarter ended in punts for both teams. Late in the period, the Sooners drove down to the Clemson one-yardline, and the Tigers defense faced a first-and-goal situation. Outside linebacker Levon Kirkland stopped the ballcarrier for no gain on first down. On second down Jesse Hatcher sacked Jamelle Holieway at the 19. After an incomplete pass, the Sooners were forced to settle on a field goal and moved up 3-0.

Doug Brewster intercepted a Holieway pass early in the second quarter to set up the Tigers' first score, a 20-yard field goal by Chris Gardocki. With time running out in the first half, Gardocki put the Tigers up with another kick, this time a 46-yarder.

A Clemson fumble in the third quarter gave the Sooners the opportunity to take the lead, but the Clemson defense held and R.D. Lashar hit again from 30 yards. The Tigers responded on the next series, driving 80 yards in 15 plays for the game's only touchdown, as Terry Allen scored on a four-yard run. Allen, the game's Most

Terry Allen was the offensive MVP with 53 yards rushing and a career-high 47 yards receiving for 100 all-purpose yards in this defensive struggle. His four-yard touchdown run proved to be the game winner.

Jessie Hatcher was the defensive player of the game. He had nine tackles, a sack, two pass deflections and a quarterback pressure on the last play of the game that led to a thrilling pass deflection by Dexter Davis.

Valuable Player, rushed for 25 yards and caught two passes for 17 yards on the drive.

Defensive MVP Jesse Hatcher caused and recovered a fumble on the Sooners' next drive, but the Sooners would have one more opportunity to score before the final horn sounded. After the Tigers punted, Oklahoma drove from its own 20 to the Clemson 14, as Holieway put the Tiger secondary to the test by putting the ball in the air. On the last play of the game, freshman Dexter Davis knocked down a pass in the endzone to seal the Tiger

Terry Allen was named the Citrus Bowl MVP for his performance. Allen rushed for only 53 yards, his season low, but scored the game's only touchdown and caught four passes to lead all Clemson receivers. Bandit end Jesse Hatcher was named Defensive MVP for what was his best career performance as he racked up nine tackles, had two tackles for a loss of 33 yards, including an 18-yard sack, broke up two passes, caused and recovered a fumble, and had four quarterback pressures.

Jesse Hatcher had the best game of his career in his final game as a Tiger.

1989 Gator Bowl

The Tigers closed out the 1989 season with a stylish victory over West Virginia and Heisman Trophy finalist Major Harris, as a dominant Clemson defense held the high-powered Mountaineer offense to only 237 yards in total offense. The win gave Clemson's senior class the ACC record for victories as they became the first class in conference history to record 38 wins and the first Clemson team ever to win four straight bowl games.

WVU quarterback Major Harris came into the game ranked eighth nationally in total offense and ninth in passing efficiency but the Clemson defense, led by outside linebacker Levon Kirkland, enabled the shifty Harris to gain only 17 yards on the ground and 119 yards in the air on an 11-21 passing effort. Kirkland was named MVP for his efforts, as he had nine tackles, a five-yard sack, caused a key fumble, broke up a Mountaineer pass, and recorded three quarterback pressures.

The fourth quarter was all Clemson, as the Tigers moved the ball 47 yards on the ground to set up a four-yard Joe Henderson touchdown. Vince Taylor recovered a second Harris fumble and after a Clemson punt, freshman defensive tackle Chester McGlockton, the ACC sack leader, knocked the ball loose from Harris once again and fell on it in the endzone for a Tiger touchdown, upping the score to 24-7 in favor of Clemson. As the final seconds ticked off the clock, DeChane Cameron came in at quarterback

Chris Morocco was his normal efficient self at quarterback, hitting 5-9 passes for 57 yards and rushing for 65 yards in 11 attempts. He left the final drive of the game with a concussion. Clemson gained 21 first downs and had just one turnover in the performance.

Sophomore Levon Kirkland had nine tackles, caused a fumble, registered a sack, and a pass deflection as he continually harrassed Major Harris and the West Virginia defense. He was named the game's MVP.

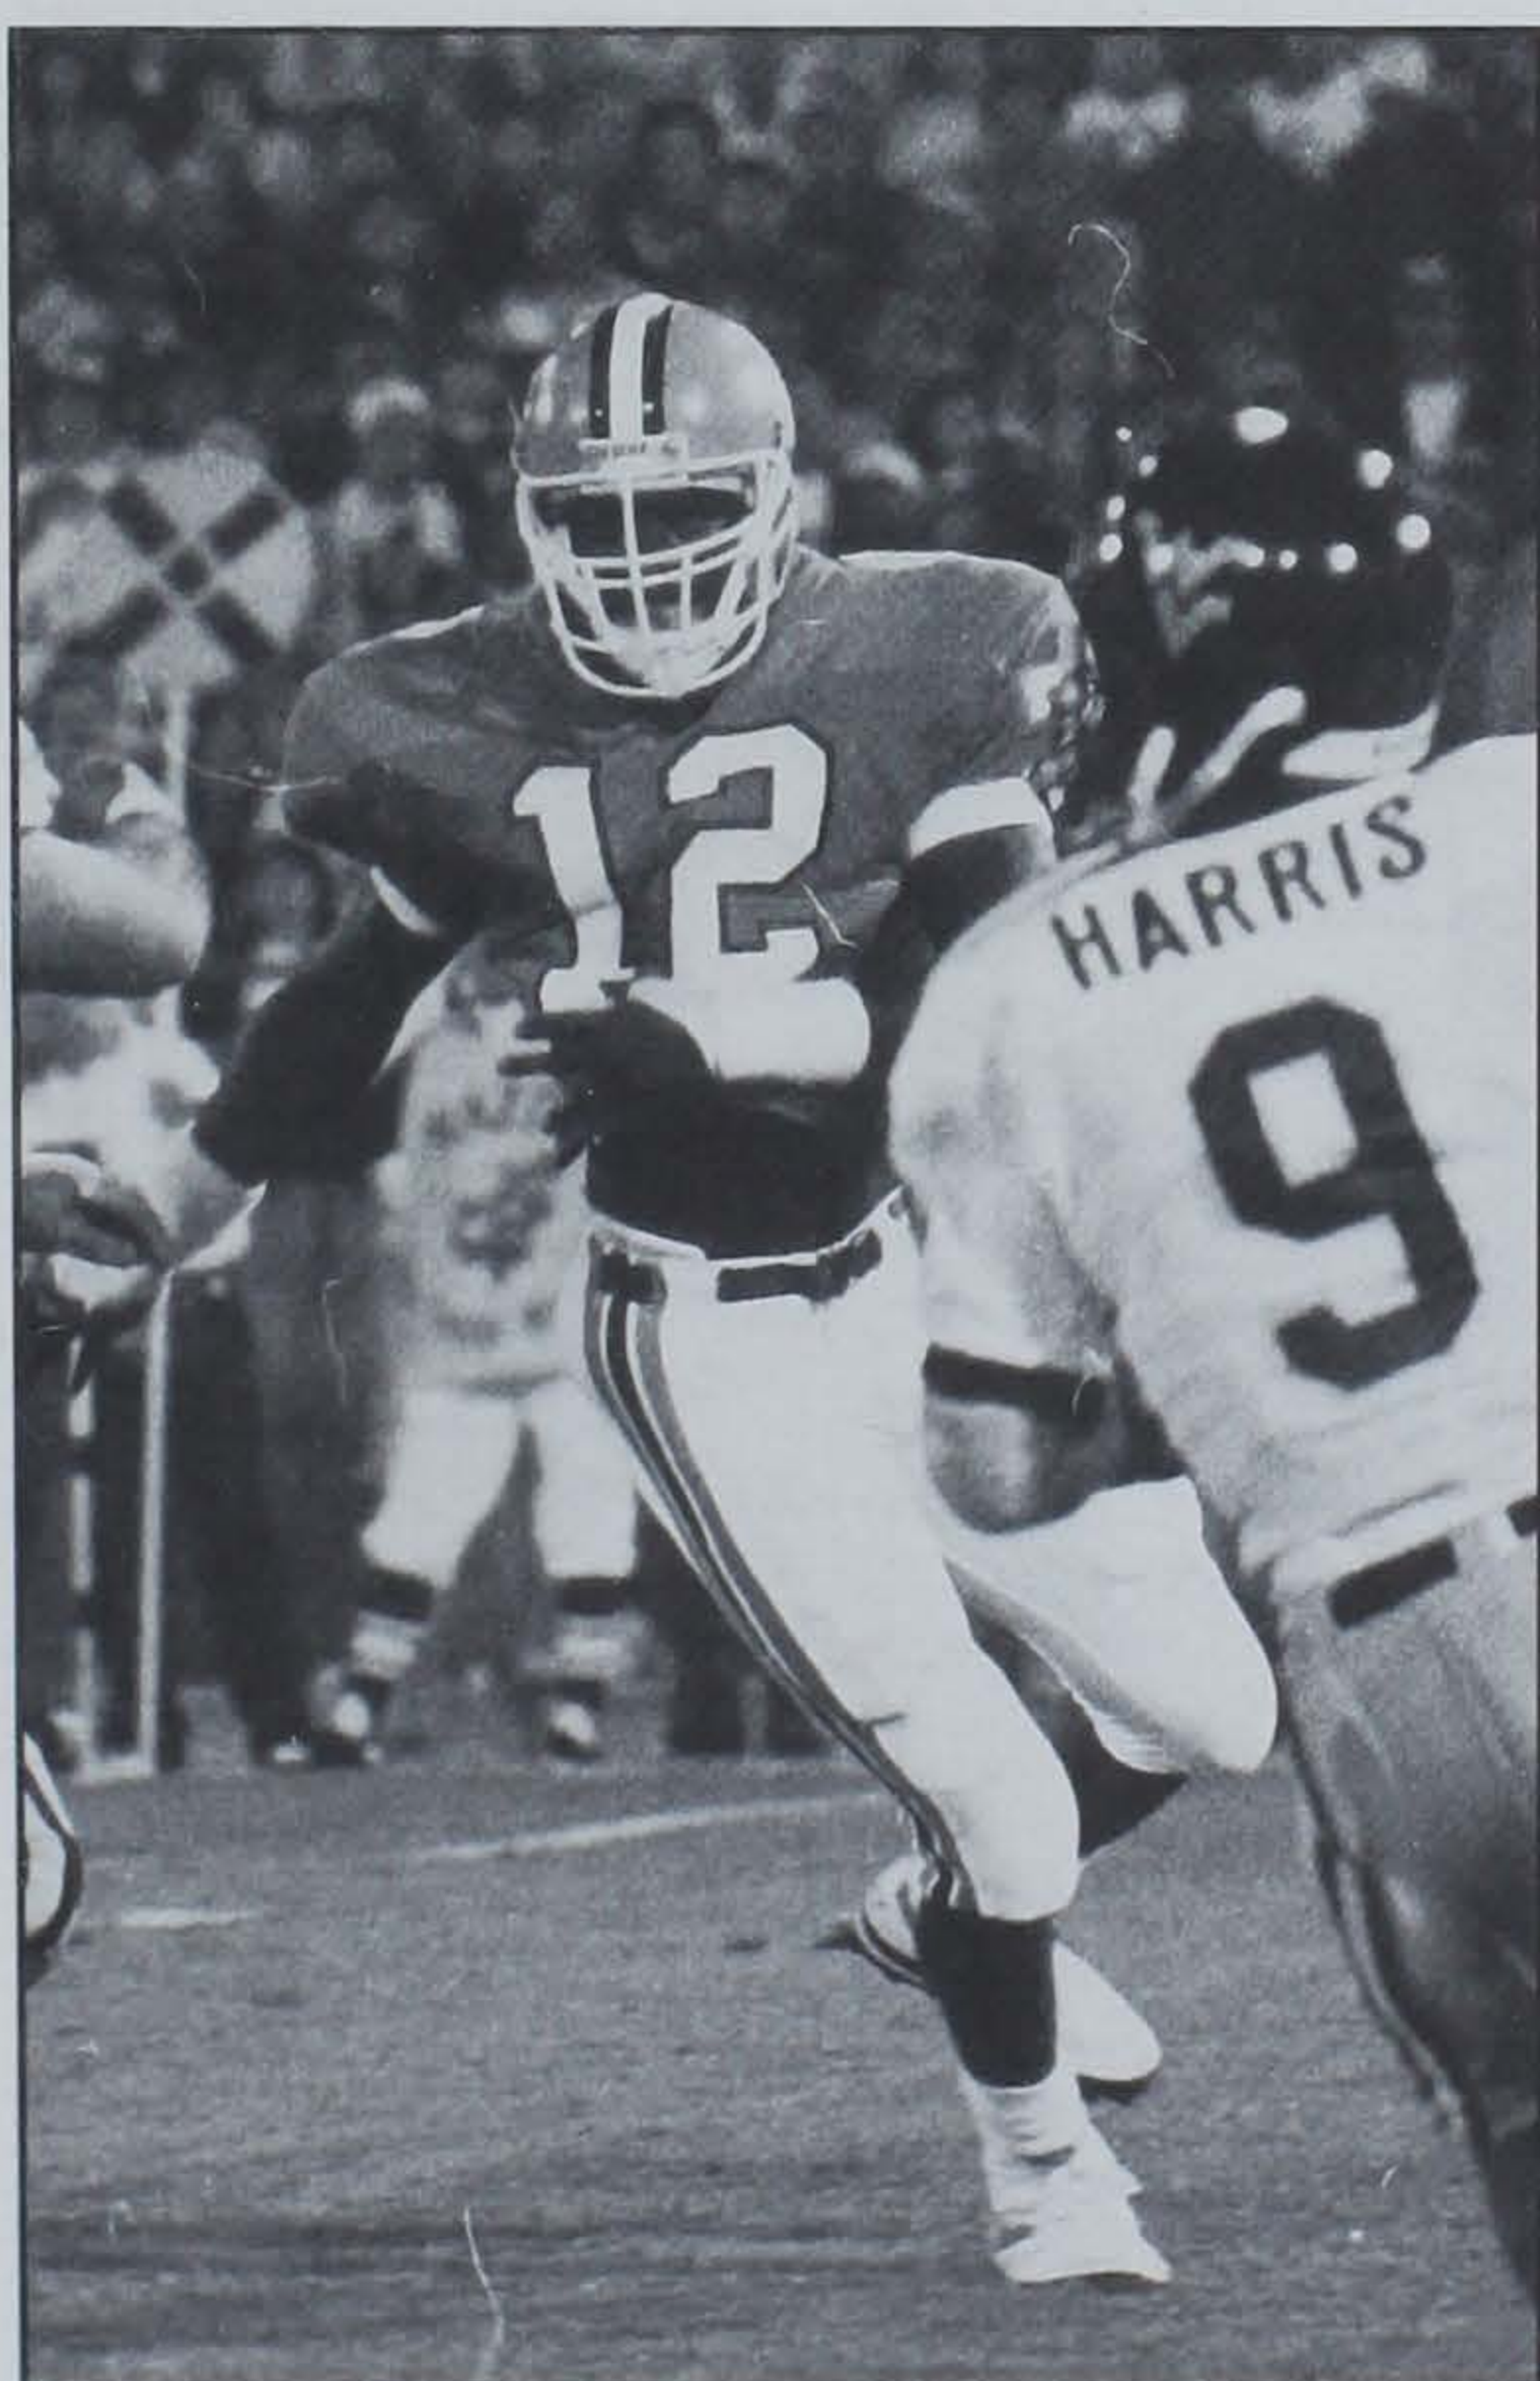

for the Tigers and hit Rodney Fletcher over the middle for a 34-yard gain to set up a 24-yard Chris Gardocki field goal, putting the final score at 27-7.

Senior tailback Joe Henderson led the Tigers in rushing with 92 yards on 22 carries and one touchdown, while Chris Morocco, who was shaken up late in the game, gained 65 yards on 11 carries. Rodney Fletcher was the leading receiver as he pulled down three catches for 66 yards.

Chris Gardocki kept the Tigers in excellent field position as he posted a 46-yard average on four punts, including a long kick of 63 yards. Defensively, inside linebacker Doug Brewster led the team in tackles with 10, followed by Kirkland's nine and strong safety Arlington Nunn and inside linebacker Ed McDaniel, who had seven stops each.

John Johnson was one of four Tiger linebackers who put relentless pressure on Major Harris.

1991 Hall of Fame Bowl

After a separation of 22 years, two coaches found themselves once again on the same football field. This time, however, they were on opposite sidelines. Ken Hatfield and John Mackovic, who had been graduate assistants together at Army in the 1960's, were reunited in the 1991 Hall of Fame Bowl.

The Clemson defense dominated the line by holding Illinois to 247 yards, 150 yards under their season average. The Clemson offense surprised the Illini defense with an unexpected aerial assault. Tiger quarterback and game MVP DeChane Cameron, who was less than a 50 percent passer in the regular season, completed 14 of 19 passes for a Hall of Fame Bowl record 73 percent.

Cameron's passing yardage totalled 141 yards and he completed TD passes to Doug Thomas and Howard Hall. It was the first TD reception for both players in their respective careers. Thomas caught five passes on the day for 57 yards, career highs for both categories for the senior in his last game as a Tiger.

Clemson took its opening possession 71 yards to the Illinois two where Chris Gardocki tapped in any easy three. After Illinois fumbled on its first offensive play of the game, Clemson scored a touchdown with a 14-yard pass from Cameron to Thomas. Clemson had not scored a passing touchdown in any of its four previous bowl victories.

In the second quarter, the Tigers would score two more touchdowns. The first was the result of a 17-yard Cameron pass to fullback Howard Hall. It was just the third TD

Stars of the Game

DeChane Cameron was named game MVP as he connected on 14-19 passes for 141 yards and two scores. His performance set a record for completion percentage in the Hall of Fame Bowl.

John Johnson had seven tackles, including a pair of sacks to lead a Clemson defense that shutout Illinois and held John Mackovic's team to just 247 yards of total offense, 59 on the ground.

pass to a Clemson fullback in the last 18 years. Clemson then put the contest out of reach just three plays later when Arlington Nunn scored on a 34-yard interception return. It was the senior's third TD on an interception return in 1990, a Clemson record.

The Clemson defense continued to hold Illinois throughout the remainder of the game. John Johnson led the Tiger pass defense as he picked up two sacks to lead a Clemson point prevention unit that had five sacks on the day. Illinois reached the Clemson eight-yard line in the fourth quarter, but the Tiger defense forced a fumble which Ed McDaniel picked up. Illinois had the ball in Clemson territory just three times all day.

The Clemson defense earned its third shutout of the year. This was the first shutout at a Hall of Fame Bowl game and Clemson's third bowl shutout in 17 bowl appearances. The 30-0 triumph was a Tiger record for victory margin in a bowl game.

Arlington Nunn's interception return for a touchdown iced the victory for Clemson's #1 ranked defense.

Clemson's bowl game victory streak ended at five as the Tigers left the state of Florida with their first bowl loss since 1985, and their worst defeat since 1986, when the 14th-ranked Golden Bears of California defeated 13th-ranked Clemson 37-13 in the Florida Citrus Bowl. Also, for the first time since the 1988 season, the Clemson defense, which led the nation in rushing defense in 1991, allowed an opposing running back to rush for over 100 yards, as Cal's Russell White crossed the century mark with 103 yards.

The Golden Bears scored early and often in the first half, taking the opening kickoff 76 yards for a touchdown and adding a 31 yard field goal on their third possession. The Tigers were unable to gain a first down after the ensuing kickoff and were forced to punt. Although Chuck Lynch hit a 49-yard boot, California's Brian Treggs eluded the Tiger special forces unit and went the distance for a 72-yard touchdown. Clemson got on the boards for the first time with time running out in the first quarter as Nelson Welch connected on a 32 yard field goal on a drive highlighted by a 43-yard run by fullback Rudy Harris.

The highlight of the game for the Tigers came with just under five minutes remaining in the first half as quarterback DeChane Cameron broke loose for a 62-yard scoring romp. That play marked the longest run from scrimmage for a Clemson quarterback in 13 years, but also marked the only touchdown that Clemson would score

Stars of the Game

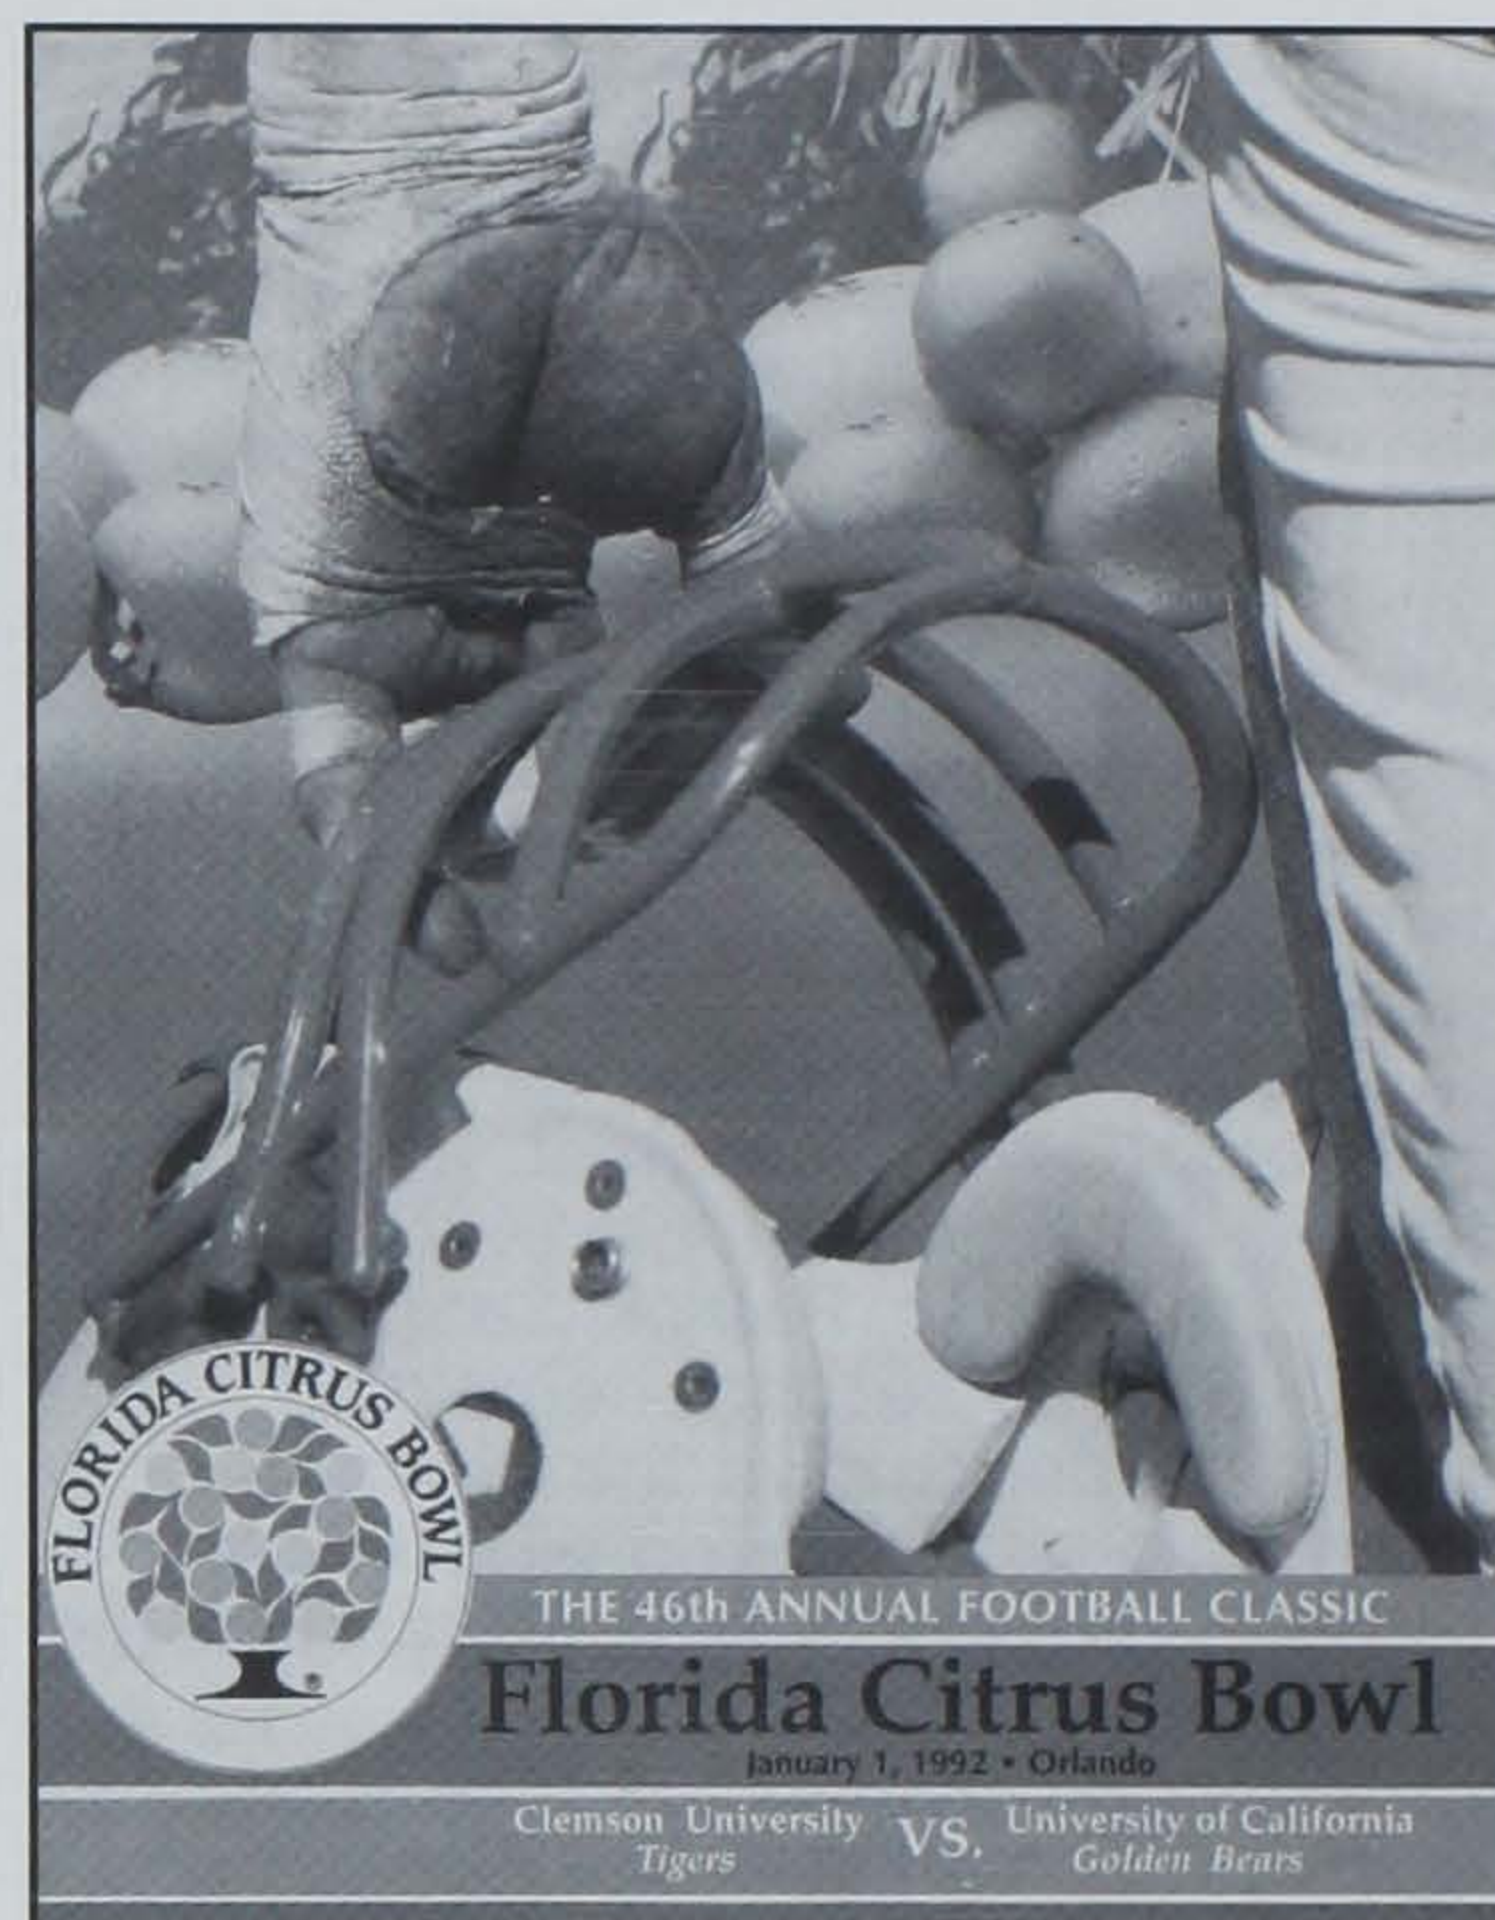

DeChane Cameron had 189 yards in total offense, including a 62-yard touchdown run that is the second longest touchdown run by a Clemson quarterback in history.

Chester McGlockton, playing in his final game at Clemson, had six tackles, including three tackles for loss and 1.5 sacks.

The only score for Clemson in the second half was a 36-yard field goal by Welch in the third period, while the Golden Bears would add a field goal and a touchdown on a 23-yard pass play. The Tiger defense managed to hold Cal scoreless through the fourth quarter, but Clemson could not put up any points, as they turned the ball over three times on interceptions and once on downs.

Two Tigers who were playing in their last game in Clemson uniform were named team MVPs in the loss. Defensive tackle Chester McGlockton, who had six tackles for the game, including three tackles for loss and one-and-a-half sacks, was named the Tigers' defensive MVP, while quarterback DeChane Cameron was named the Clemson's Most Valuable Offensive Performer, after he scored Clemson's only touchdown and had 189 yards in total offense.

1993 Peach Bowl

Heading into the Peach Bowl contest with Kentucky, Clemson owned the seventh-best bowl winning percentage in college football history with a .611 mark. The Tigers upped that percentage in an exciting way with a 14-13 victory over Kentucky, putting Clemson's overall bowl record at 12-7. On the way to the victory, Tommy West became the first coach in NCAA history to win his first game for a school in a bowl game without serving as an assistant coach in that program during the regular season.

West's first game as Tiger head coach did not lack for excitement, as Clemson sealed the victory with a 21-yard touchdown pass from Patrick Sapp to Terry Smith with 20-seconds remaining in the fourth quarter to give the Tigers a one-point victory. Smith led all Clemson receivers with four grabs for 56 yards for the contest.

A tandem of running backs who hailed from Pensacola, FL, led the Clemson rushing attack, as starting tailback Rodney Blunt rushed for a season-high 58 yards on 15 carries to lead the team. But, it was red-shirt freshman Emory Smith who was named the Tigers' Offensive MVP, as he rambled for 45 yards from his fullback position, including a two-yard touchdown run. Smith also helped set up the winning score on a 57-yard pass reception late in the fourth quarter.

Kentucky took the opening kickoff and drove 79-yards to the Clemson one, before linebacker Mike Barber forced a fumble that was recovered by LB Tim Jones. Clemson took over at the two, and starting QB Dexter McCleon engineered a 98-yard scoring drive that culminated in a one-yard run by Emory Smith.

The Wildcats drove back down the field on their next possession, this time reaching the Clemson one again, where they decided to go for it on fourth down. The Clemson defense held once again, as Emory Smith rushed for 45 yards and a touchdown and caught a key 57-yard pass on the final drive of the game to lead the Tiger offense.

Brentson Buckner was named defensive player of the game. He had a career high tying 12 tackles and three tackles for loss as Clemson held Kentucky to 293 yards of total offense and just one touchdown.

defensive tackle Brentson Buckner stopped the UK ball carrier for no gain. Buckner was named the game's Defensive MVP after tallying a dozen tackles, including three tackles for loss, and pressured the Wildcat quarterback three times. Buckner became just the fourth Tiger defensive lineman in the last eight years to record at least a dozen tackles in a game.

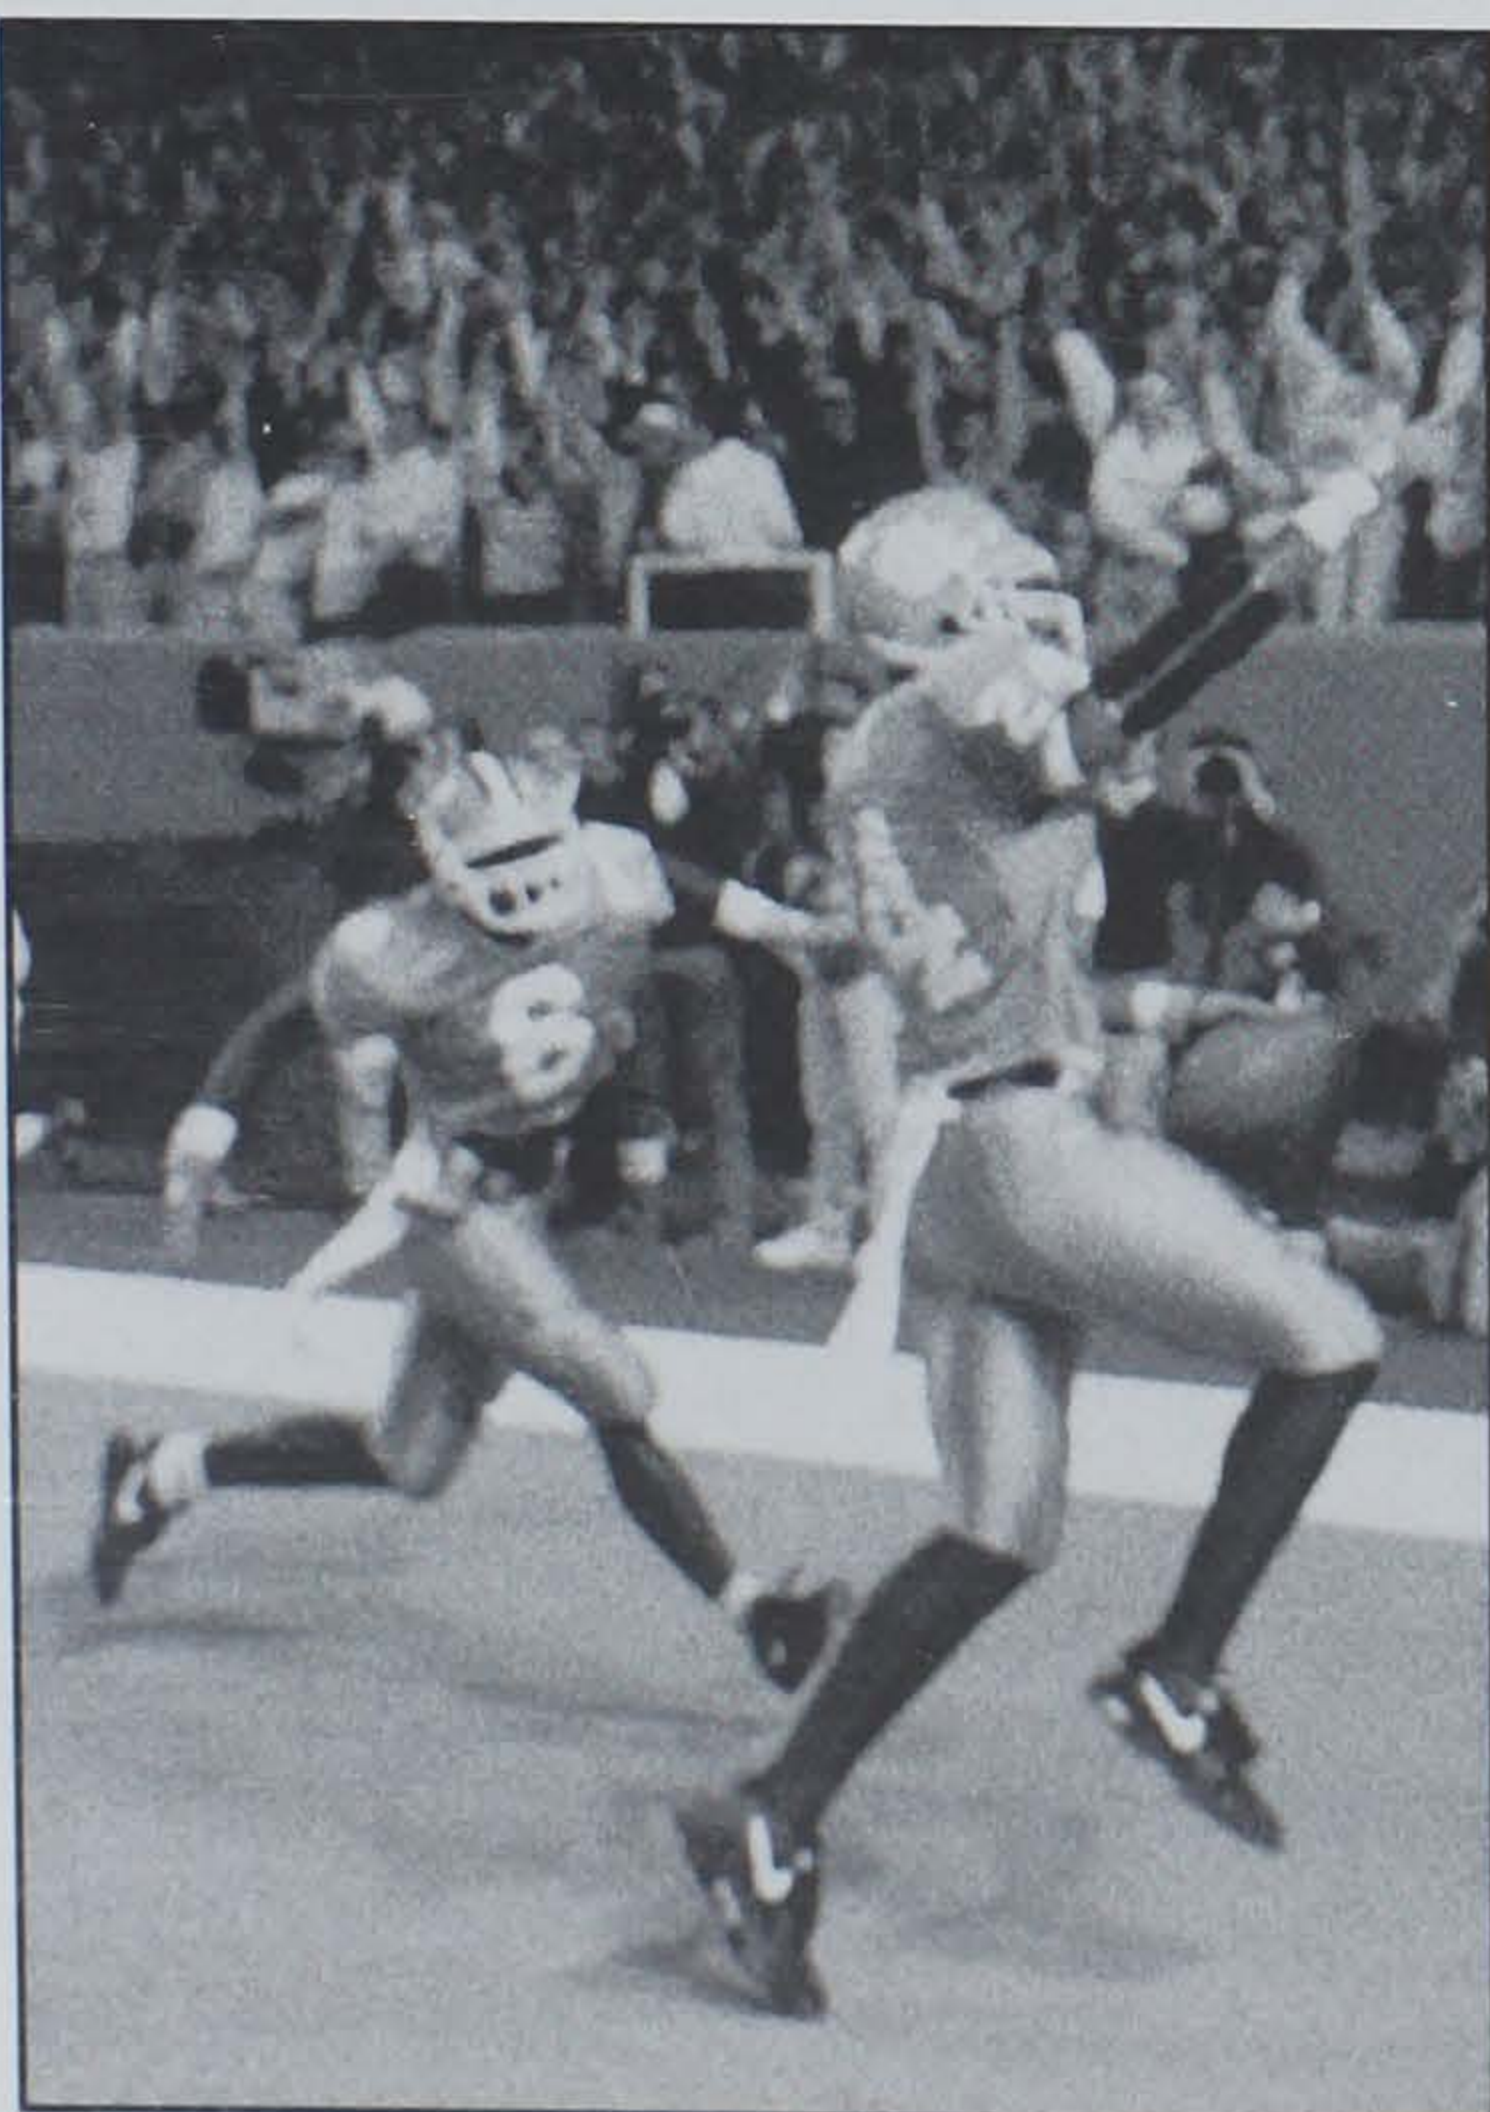

The Tigers were forced to punt after taking over at the one and Kentucky got on the scoreboard with a 17-yard field goal by Nicky Nickles. The score heading into the half stood at 7-3.

Neither squad scored in the third quarter, and barely into the fourth period, Kentucky took the lead with a 46-yard touchdown drive. On Clemson's next possession, McCleon was intercepted by Kentucky's Willie Cannon, and the Wilcats upped their lead to 13-7 on a 43 yard scoring drive, culminating in another Nickles field goal, this one from 26-yards.

With time running down in the fourth quarter, QB Patrick Sapp came off the bench after playing sparingly in the first half. The two teams exchanged punts before the Tigers got the ball at their own 18 with 3:50 left. On the first play of the drive, Sapp threw a screen to Emory Smith for 57 yards. With under a minute left, Kentucky linebacker Marty Moore intercepted a Sapp pass. But, on the return Stacy Seegars jarred the ball loose and Brent LeJeune recovered. With 20 seconds left in the game, Sapp connected with Terry Smith on a 21-yard TD and Nelson Welch hit the PAT to give the Tigers a one-point victory.

Clemson's swarming defense and a 130-yard rushing effort by Terry Allen were keys to Clemson's 34-23 win at Florida State in 1989.

The Seminoles ended the year ranked third in the final AP poll.
